The W. M. French Hose Co. Entertained

The members of the Washington M. French Hose Co. Association were entertained Saturday night by William John Tilley, who recently became an honorary member of the association. The entertainment took the form of a clam chowder which was served at Mr. Tilley's cottage on Great Hill, Houghs Neck.

The invitation was generally accepted and a large number of the boys, who years ago ran with the old hose reel, were present. Chief Engineer Litchfield, President Piper of the City Council, Councilman Stone chairman of the Committee on Fire Department, and Capt. Ross of Combination No. 3 were among the invited guests present.

An excellent chowder was served by Norteman, following which there were a few impromptu remarks by the gentlemen present.

Some Progress At High School

Nine rooms at the High school building have now been plastered and seven more are all lathed. Two of the rooms have been skim-coated. Most of the upper hallway in the old part of the building is also plastered. Progress has also been made on the sanitaries in the basement.

In the new part the roof toward Hancock street is now slated, and as fast as the roof is closed in it is being slated. The gable on the rear of the building is also partly built, and all the building should be roofed in next week.

Republican Club Dinner.

The first large political gathering following the state conventions will be the annual dinner of the Republican club of Massachusetts in Symphony hall on Monday evening, Oct. 8. The principal speakers outside of Massachusetts men, will be Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana and Congressman Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, and possibly Congressman Charles E. Littlefield of Maine.

Dinner tickets will be sold at the headquarters of the club, 19 Milk street, exclusively to members until Wednesday. On that date they will be offered to the general public. Each dinner ticket will entitle the holder to two tickets for seats in the balcony. The Salem Cadet band will furnish music. The dinner is at 6 o'clock and the speaking at 7. The balcony will be reserved for holders of tickets until 6.50, after which the doors will be open to the general public.

Quincy Coliseum.

The first week of skating has proved a thoroughly successful one and the attendance was a record breaker last Saturday night; an unusually large number of ladies being present. There were many prominent lovers of the sport during its popularity several years ago, and the manner in which they sped over the floor showed that they had not forgotten how to propel themselves along on the skates around the outer edges of the surface.

Several fancy skaters gave exibitions of their skill in the center, and glided about to the enlivening strains of the Military band under the leadership of Prof. Amers Castellucci, who has arranged special music for the skaters, that is enjoyed by everybody.

The management has provided competent as well as courteous instructors to look after the welfare of the ladies and children visiting the rink afternoons, and if you are looking for an evening's pleasure visit the Coliseum any afternoon or evening this week, and you will be well paid for time and money expended.

Whist Tournament.

The Wollaston Whist club played Saturday evening and the result was as follows:

Death of Granite Manufacturer

John Joss, a member of the well known granite manufacturing firm of Joss Bros. Co., died Sunday at his home on Garfield street in his 67th year.

Mr. Joss was born in Scotland, where he learned the trade of a granite cutter. Coming to this country he continued to follow his trade for a number of years. Then with his brother James he formed a partnership under the firm name of Joss Bros. The firm was later incorporated under the name of Joss Bros. Co., which exists today.

Mr. Joss was identified with the Water Street Presbyterian church, but being of a more quiet disposition he did not take the active interest in church affairs as did his brother.

He leaves a widow, one son and three daughters. One of his daughters, Miss Alice F. Joss, is a teacher at the Coddington school.

Assault With Dangerous Weapon

There was a lively row in the Italian boarding house on Adams street, near the foot of Common street, early this morning. The row took place about 1.30 although it was nearly three hours later before information reached the police.

It was during the progress of the rumpus that it is alleged Domenico Falutano drew a razor and cut Natal Satori in the abdomen.

From what could be learned Domenico came out from Boston on a late train and soon after his arrival at the shanty he retired to his bunk.

Satori and another man made so much noise that Domenico says he could not sleep, and he got up and remonstrated with the two disturbers. Words followed, and it is alleged that Domenico drew a razor and made a slash at Satori, who received a cut in the abdomen.

Sometime latter one of the other boarders ran toward Milton meeting a Milton officer he told him of the trouble. He telephoned the Quincy police station, and the wagon with Officers Cahill, Holloran, Kelliher and Milford was sent to the scene.

When the police arrived at the house Domenico was placed under arrest and Sotari was taken to the residence of City Physician Hallowell where his wound was dressed.

Domenico was arraigned in court for assault with a dangerous weapon, and was held in $200 until Friday.

Black Knights Conduct Services

The funeral of J. Frank Tinney was held Sunday afternoon from his late residence on Centre street. The services were largely attended and there was a profusion of flowers from friends and from the several organizations with which he was affiliated. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. N. J. Sproule of the Water Street Presbyterian church. The remains were then escorted to Mt. Wollaston cemetery by the local Commandery of Black Knights, Orangemen's lodges and Granite lodge, Sons of St. George. At the grave the burial service of the Black Knights was performed by officers of the Grand Commandery.

Most Valuable Of Institutions

Publication Committee,
Quincy City Hospital.

As a patient in the Hospital, where I had undergone an operation for appendicitis, I appreciated the services rendered me by the doctors and nurses for one month. I feel honored to recommend the hospital and its value as one of the most valuable of institutions in the city of Quincy. Its appearance inside and out also adds to the pleasantness shown by the nurses to the patients at all times. Hoping this will continue, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
William T. Warner.

Young Miss Will Christen Octopus

Miss Frances Webster, the 12-year-old daughter of Edwin S. Webster, and the granddaughter of Frank G. Webster of Kidder, Peabody & Co., will christen the U. S. submarine boat Octopus, to be launched on Thursday, at 12 M., at the Fore River shipyard.

A special car for the guests of the company will be attached to the train leaving Boston 10.45 A. M., the day of the launching. There will be luncheon after the launching and the special car for the return of the guests will be attached to the 1.50 P. M. train at East Braintree, reaching Boston at 2.17.

The invited guests will include a large number of navy officials and gentlemen prominent in public life, with their ladies.

The Octopus is the largest of the fleet of four being built for the Electric Boat Company by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company. Trials of the Cuttlefish and Octopus will soon be held off Peddocks island.

Airship Sails Over Brockton

Airship flights promise to be more successful at the Brockton fair this week than in past years. On Sunday, A. Roy Knabenshue made a trial trip, covering about three miles, ascending at 4.30 and sailing down Belmont street over the city, then south of Forest avenue and returning to the fair grounds. He fought a head breeze on the way back. In attempting to land, the airship was blown back several times by the wind, and Knabenshue had to throw out a rope and be hauled down. There were about 12,000 sightseers on the grounds.

Price of Milk Advanced

At a meeting of the principal milk dealers held Saturday it was decided that under the present conditions of the business, the price of milk for the winter should be advanced. For the present the price of milk to families will be 8 cents, and 50 cents per can to stores. The new rates took effect today.

Close of Fair.

The three days' fair of the ladies of the Swedish Lutheran church closed Saturday night. The attendance that night was very large as interest centered in the award of the articles sold by book. There was no entertainment the closing night the entire evening being given up to the drawing of prizes. The fair has been a great success and a good sum has been netted.

—The Brockton fair this year will cost more than $60,000. The total expense last year was $58,042.29. The receipts were nearly $90,000.

DISEASED CATTLE

Shipped on the Hoof From Vermont to Massachusetts

A REPORT TO GOVERNOR

Condemned Cattle Billed to the Slaughter Houses Along With Healthy Animals--Gross Negligence Is Alleged

Burlington, Vt., Oct. 1.—Gross negligence on the part of the cattle commission of Vermont in failing to safeguard the interests of the state in the disposal of diseased cattle is charged in a report submitted to Governor Bell by Attorney General Fitts. Fitts explains at the opening of his report that the cattle commission have construed the law of 1904, which amends the law of 1902, as giving them the authority to dispose of a condemned animal whether alive or dead, but Fitts doubts the authority of the commission to dispose of any condemned animal before it is slaughtered. The report says in part:

"The cattle commission of Vermont, it appears, did not strictly follow the law of 1902, which requires that the carcasses of condemned animals shall be buried, and in several instances it has appeared that the commission took the condemned animals to the slaughter house of the Burlington Rendering company and had them slaughtered there and disposed of the carcasses for fertilizing purposes." When the law of 1904 went into effect, the report says that the cattle commission construed it as empowering them to have condemned live animals shipped out of the state by some drover to the plant of the New England Dressed Meat and Wool company at Somerville, Mass., and there slaughtered and disposed of in the same way that the company handles stock for anybody else. This slaughter house is under United States government inspection. The report says that condemned animals have been mixed with shipments of the drovers in many instances and that the commissioners have understood this and have consented to it.

The consignments to the New England company at Somerville have always been in the name of the drover, and returns made direct to the drover.

"No attempt," says the report, "has been made by our cattle commission to keep a record of the different herds, of where they were disposed of, or of what returns were received from them. It is not possible to know from any records the commission have whether the animals were sold for purposes of food or disposed of for fertilizer. There is no evidence to show that the matter has not been honestly and correctly handled, but there is nothing which the cattle commission have done to give us light upon this question one way or the other."

The attorney general directs attention to the sale in October or November, 1905, of over 200 cows condemned in two herds to a drover who offered $11 a head for them to Commissioner Spear. The report says: "Commissioner Spear must have understood that Rowell (the drover) was buying cattle with the expectation of using a considerable portion of them at least for food purposes, for they were not worth anything like the sum paid if they were to be used only for fertilizer."

One carload of 27 head of these cattle mixed with some belonging to the drover were sent to Haverhill, Mass., according to the report. "These were of the poorer stock. It does not definitely appear as to just what purpose this stock was expected to be put other than that they were shipped to the slaughter house at Haverhill, which is a market for cattle called 'canners,' a term meaning poor stock used for canned beef. It is supposed that this stock was subject to the inspection of the Massachusetts state officer, but there is no evidence to show what became of the herd.

"The other 174 head which Rowell purchased he shipped to the New England company at Somerville. I am unable to find just how much Rowell received for this stock. He testifies that he cannot himself tell exactly, except that he made a good profit on it. He has furnished me with one return covering 50 of the cattle. Of these one animal was used for fertilizer and the other 49 were used for food purposes, prices varying from 2 3-4 to 3 1-4 cents a pound. Rowell testified that of the 174 head taken to the New England company, not more than 20 were put into fertilizer, the remainder being sold for food."

The report says that the commission afterward shipped some condemned cattle which had failed to pass the tuberculin test to the Burlington Rendering company at Burlington, and that the only protection the state had in the transaction and the final disposal of the cattle was the integrity of the rendering company, there being no records kept and no supervision exercised by the cattle commission.

"It is apparent from all that has developed," says the report, "that the tuberculin test is by no means sure, and that many cattle have been condemned under it which have afterwards passed the United States government inspection and the post mortem inspection of the state commission and been used for food purposes."

The attorney general suggests in the report that an expert accountant be employed to go over the books of the cattle commission and investigate and audit all the transactions. He adds that among other amendments obviously necessary to the existing state law is one repealing the six months' limitation on prosecutions under the act. "There would seem to be no reason," says the report, "why the crime of selling diseased meat should not be treated as other offenses, and the statute of limitations be the same, to wit: three years."

An Undisturbed Prize Fight

Kansas City, Oct. 1.—Joe Wolcott of Boston and Billy Rhoades of this city fought a 20-round draw Sunday on a sand island in the Missouri river 12 miles below Kansas City, 2000 men standing around the ropes to see the contest. The island being uninhabited and unassigned to either of the neighboring counties, neither sheriff concerned himself about the fight. Both men were in good condition at the end of the scheduled 20 rounds. The fight was announced to be for the world's welterweight championship, which Wolcott claims.

ON A WAR BASIS

Military Department Is In Close Touch With Cuba

TROOPS ARE MOBILIZING

Six Thousand Will Be Landed In the Island as Precautionary Measure--Five Thousand Marines and Bluejackets Already In Cuban Waters

Washington, Oct. 1.—American troops now are moving toward Cuba. Mobilization of the forces will be at Newport News, Va., for the most part, although a part of the first expeditionary force will be sent from New York and Tampa, Fla.

Advices to the government indicate that all is quiet in Cuba and that the insurgents intend to lay down their arms. The probability is that the United States forces in the island will be landed only as a precautionary measure. So far as officials of the government here are advised, no trouble of a serious kind is anticipated, but in accordance with instructions from President Roosevelt hurried preparations are being made for the sending of an expeditionary force.

The first American troops will be landed at Havana next Saturday. Meantime the marines and bluejackets from the American fleet in Cuban waters will protect American interests and support Secretary Taft, Cuba's provisional governor.

How long intervention may continue it is impossible to foretell, but the nature of the intervention and the preparations for it indicate a supervision of Cuban affairs on the part of the American government for an indefinite period. Arrangements have been concluded not only for the first expeditionary force of about 5000 men, but for a second force of equal number. No orders for the mobilization of the second force have been issued, but if the men are needed all arrangements have been completed for hurrying the men to Cuba. Developments during the next two weeks will determine whether additional troops shall be sent. It is certain, however, that a sufficient force of American troops will be maintained in Cuba to support the provisional government and to insure security to life and property pending the establishment of a stable government by the Cubans.

Operations in all departments of the military establishment are on a war basis. The acting secretaries and chiefs of all bureaus are at their desks and every office is humming with activity. Scores of clerks are on duty.

Secretary Taft, as the head of the president's special commission to Cuba, has available nearly 5000 marines and bluejackets, who could be landed on Cuban soil in a few hours in case of emergency. Other marines are en route to Cuba and will be available in two or three days.

No time is being lost in hurrying troops to the point of mobilization—Newport News. The order of President Roosevelt, received at 10:55 o'clock Saturday night at the war department, was imperative. Its text was as follows: "Arrange for 6000 troops to start for Cuba as soon as possible."

The troops to go to Cuba on the transport Sumner are two battalions of infantry from Plattsburg (N. Y.) barracks, and a battalion of engineers from Washington barracks. Accompanying them will be some officers and men of the medical corps and hospital corps, and, perhaps, of the signal corps.

The Sumner now is loading at New York. She will carry commissary supplies for the first expedition for 30 days. It is likely that the troops to sail on the Sumner will be concentrated in New York tomorrow. The commissary department is getting together a second 30-day supply of commissary stores to be sent to Cuba by a merchant liner after the first supplies are off. One week later a third supply for 30 days will be forwarded. The object of sending the supplies so rapidly is to get them into the depots at Havana and have them handled without confusion.

Some cases of yellow fever have developed in Havana and Secretary Taft is concerned lest the disease attack the troops which are to be assembled there. Major Kean of the medical corps, who has had extensive experience in Cuba and the Philippines, left for Havana last night.

Cuban Minister Resigns

Washington, Oct. 1.—Senor Quesada, the minister of Cuba, has tendered his resignation to the provisional government of Cuba. It is stated that Quesada has not taken this step as an evidence of any ill-feeling toward the American administration, but that he considers it his duty to do so in order to facilitate the execution of the president's policy toward Cuba. Quesada was appointed by President Palma to represent Cuba as minister to Washington in June, 1902, being the first minister assigned by the government of the republic to a foreign post, thus making him the senior of the diplomatic corps of Cuba.

Foreign Powers Not Notified

Washington, Oct. 1.—Notice of American intervention in Cuba has not yet been officially sent to the foreign powers. It is expected that the president, who will return from Oyster Bay today, and Secretary Root, who returned to Washington yesterday, will consider today whatever action is to be taken in that direction.

TAFT IN CONTROL

Intervention In Cuba Now an Accomplished Fact

THE MASSES SATISFIED

Disarmament of Revolutionary Forces Will Be Smooth and Rapid--Will Not Receive Payment For Their Arms.

Havana, Oct. 1.—With far less ostentation than accompanies the accession of a new municipal administration, the government of Cuba was formally taken over by William H. Taft, secretary of war of the United States, who, in a proclamation couched in a kindly and diplomatic tone, indicative of the policy he would pursue, declared himself provisional governor of the island.

Governor Taft, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and Captain McCoy, Taft's aide-de-camp, called officially at the palace and paid their respects to the retiring president. Taft spoke kindly to Palma, whom he said the people of Cuba owed an unquestionable debt of gratitude. Palma's brief reply was devoted entirely to an expression of relief for the opportunity of shifting the burden of guiding the tempestuous republic to the representatives of a nation strong enough to enforce control over it.

The fact that the government changed hands from a position of absolute independence to the restraint of a temporary protectorate was received by the masses with utter indifference. Most of the thoughtful Cubans, while they feel a certain sensitiveness over the loss of the island's sovereignty, are inclined to hope that the United States protectorate will be brief.

Governor Taft was careful in taking up his new duties and abstained from any act that might have been construed by the Cuban as humiliating. His decision not to lower the flag of the republic was taken on his own responsibility. He felt certain, however, that President Roosevelt's friendship for Cuba would prompt him to approve this act of courtesy to the broken republic.

The work of disposing peacefully of the revolutionary forces in arms against the Cuban government is already practically under way. General Funston, chairman of the disarmament committee, had two amicable conferences yesterday with Generals Guerra and Castillo and arranged a program perfectly satisfactory to all concerned. Funston says that the windup will be so smooth and rapid that it will take much less time than had been anticipated.

The first landing of any considerable number of Americans took place last night, when 450 marines came ashore from the squadron in the harbor. This force proceeded for Cienfuegos on a special train. It is expected that this movement is not made on account of any actual trouble in Cienfuegos, but for the purpose of exerting a calming influence on the local situation, which contains some possibility of a conflict by reason of the tense feeling existing between the government volunteers and the insurgents.

Sunday at the palace passed quietly and rather gloomily. There are as yet no signs of Secretary Taft's actual occupancy of that edifice, which is the scene of a number of farewells to Palma and his family. The members of the diplomatic corps and the foreign consuls called in a body to say goodbye.

Mr. Taft sent a letter to Palma, saying he desired to escort him to the railroad station and show him every courtesy due his position. The ex-president thanked Taft cordially, but said he wished to leave quietly and without public ceremony.

The disarmament commission has decided that the rebels shall not receive payment for their arms, but each man will be given transportation and subsistence until he reaches home. The program of disarmament is simply that one member of the commission, accompanied by one or more representatives of the revolutionists, will visit each command. The arms will be deposited with the battalion commander, who will turn them over to the commission. The rebels will take their horses home, the animals which have been stolen to be returned later to the owners on proper identification. When disarmament is completed Funston will take command of all the United States troops in Cuba.

General Guerra expresses the belief that the stability of the government is now assured, and predicts that never again will there be a revolution in Cuba, thanks largely to the United States government for the stand it has taken. Asked whether his men shared his contentment with the proposition to return quietly to their homes, Guerra said: "The men under our commands will obey us. The revolution is ended and we have won, so we are supremely content."

The story published in the United States that a number of American marines had been killed by insurgents is declared by Governor Taft and the rebel commanders to be without foundation.

O'Connor's Prediction For Ireland

New York, Oct. 1.—T. P. O'Connor was given a reception last night by the municipal council of the United Irish league of New York. "I believe that in a quarter of a century Ireland will have all the rights that have been accorded Canada and Australia," he said in a speech.

PURSUED BY ELDERS

Woman Who Tired of Shiloh Colony Succeeds In Escaping

Lisbon Falls, Me., Oct. 1.—Separated from husband and father by the will of Rev. Frank W. Sandford, the self-styled "Elijah" of Shiloh, Mrs. Bert Killiot and her children have succeeded in escaping from the colony house and are sheltered by Lisbon Falls people. The husband, Bert Killiot, is on a mission to Jerusalem on one of Sandford's gospel ships.

The escape of Mrs. Killiot with her children and what there is left of her baggage was attended with considerable excitement, two of the elders following her and alternately pleading and threatening everlasting condemnation. The men who secured her baggage had a conflict with several of the men of the colony of Shiloh.

Six years ago the Killiot family were happy in Tacoma, Wash., Killiot being a plumber. He sold his property and turned over the money, some $10,000, to the organization. They came to the colony to live.

After he had been there a while he wanted to take his family away, but as he had no money and was opposed by the elders each time he finally found it impossible to strike out again. Then Sandford sent him to Jerusalem, whence many of the followers of Sandford never return.

When her husband had gone Mrs. Killiot claims she sometimes did not have enough to eat and had to undergo all sorts of indignities.

Young Roosevelt Blameless

Boston, Oct. 1.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., against whom it was said the police were to issue a warrant on the charge of disorderly conduct, had a private hearing before Judge Sullivan, who allowed him to go. Roosevelt made it clear that although he was in the crowd of students last Thursday night when a patrolman suffered a broken nose, the part he played in it was an innocent one, and he had nothing to do with the more serious end of the affair, when the patrolman was assaulted. The trouble grew out of a prank that the students were playing on one of their own number, and Roosevelt admits being concerned in that.

Newsboy Goes to Harvard

Boston, Oct. 1.—At a gathering in Ford hall, attended by many interested in the welfare of the newsboys of the city, President Eliot of Harvard university announced that the scholarship founded by the Boston Newsboys' union had been awarded to Meyer Heller, 17 years of age. Heller was graduated from the English high school last June. Eliot was presented with a check for $2567.17 as the nucelus of a proposed fund with which to establish a permanent newsboy scholarship at Harvard.

Visitors at Boston Knocked Out

Boston, Oct. 1.—James Dolan of Brockton was stabbed in the abdomen during a street fight here last evening. Dolan was dangerously wounded. His assailant escaped. Oscar Gustafson of Quincy was assaulted and robbed by two unknown men in the North End district. He was struck over the head with a blackjack and his face was slashed with a knife. The robbers escaped with a watch and a small sum of money.

Check Said to Be Bad

Manchester, Vt., Oct. 1.—A charge of attempting to pass a forged check has been made against a couple giving the names of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith and claiming to represent a Boston firm engaged in the purchase of country produce, and the two have been placed under arrest. They have been living at a hotel in Arlington for some days. Neither the man nor the woman would talk about the matter after their arrest.

President Dines With Jackies

Barnstable, Mass., Oct. 1.—President Roosevelt visited the North Atlantic fleet off Cape Cod, and left with enthusiastic praise for the officers and crews of the fleet. The crew of the Missouri, on which the president had spent the day, cheered themselves hoarse as he left the ship, for the president and his guests sat down to dinner with the jackies. This feature of the trip was a surprise to both the officers and men.

Little One Fatally Burned

Newton, Mass., Oct. 1.—Celia Bunazonia, aged 5 years, died last night from burns received when her younger sister accidentally set fire to Celia's dress with a lighted match. Celia ran into the front yard of her home with her clothing blazing and Thomas Ryan, aged 14, made a heroic effort to extinguish the fire, but the child had received fatal burns.

Cent More a Quart For Milk

Season For Deer Hunting

Portland, Me., Oct. 1.—Open time on deer in the eastern and northern parts of Maine began at midnight and will continue until Dec. 15. Open time on moose begins Oct. 15 and ends Dec. 1. Deer are reported to be very plentiful, but moose are said to be scarcer than usual.

Held For Alleged Murder

Boston, Oct. 1.—George Mack, aged 29, wanted in Bronxville, N. Y., for the alleged murder of his wife, was arrested by Boston police as a fugitive from justice and is held for the New York authorities. The man was found at the home of his parents on Amory street.

Why Adulterated Paint is Dear

A maker of adulterated white lead sneered "Why should paint be pure? No one eats it."

True, but when white lead is adulterated with barytes, sublimed lead, gypsum, whiting, etc., it loses the qualities which make pure white lead the best paint pigment.

And when these imitations are sold as white lead, the consumer is deceived into paying white lead prices for worthless substitutes.

Salem Pure White Lead

(Made by the Old Dutch Process

contains no adulteration whatever, and when mixed with Pure Linseed Oil lasts as no paint made of cheap imitations can.

DEATH LIST OF 120

Damage by Storm Will Reach $8,000,000 Around Mobile

Louisville, Oct. 1.—The first news by telegram out of the stricken city of Mobile was received in Louisville by a correspondent who sent a dispatch in a roundabout way from an improvised office in the swamps just on the edge of the city.

The information is that the loss of life in Mobile and vicinity from the great storm of Thursday will probably reach 120, although the death list in the city itself will not be large. The greatest number of lives lost is at a place known as San Souci, a summer resort near Mobile, where 39 bodies are reported to have been recovered.

The property loss in Mobile and along Mobile bay will probably approximate $8,000,000.

The people living on Dauphin island are suffering for food and they have only the clothes they are wearing. Nearly all the houses of the fishermen were swept away.

Great Damage at Pensacola

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 1.—It is difficult to give any adequate idea of the magnitude of the storm devastation here. The entire waterfront is a mass of tangled wreckage. Several fishing schooners are on the beach and some of them are broken up. The tugs Monarch and Mary Lee are high and dry in Pine street. Fourteen ocean-going craft are hard aground. It is estimated that 300 people are homeless and in want.

President Leaves Oyster Bay

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 1.—President Roosevelt and his family left Sagamore Hill for Washington at 9 o'clock this morning. The work of the "summer capital" came to an end last night. The executive staff with the office paraphernalia went to Washington with the president. Two cars were loaded with the president's horses and such household effects as are needed in Washington and will reach the capital today.

Another Typhoon at Hong Kong

London, Oct. 1.—A dispatch from Hong Kong says: The observatory signals gave warning of an approaching typhoon and by midnight a terrific storm was raging. The violent gale was accompanied by a phenomenal rainfall. The devastation of the typhoon of Sept. 18 has been completed. The repairs effected on wharves and storehouses has been undone. The entire waterfront is again heaped with wreckage.

Interesting Balloon Contest

Paris, Oct. 1.—Sixteen balloons, representing seven countries, sailed away from the heart of Paris yesterday afternoon in the first competition for the Gordon Bennett cup for international aeronauts. The contest was primarily a long distance race. Unfortunately the wind was light, hardly more than eight miles an hour, blowing from the east, thus making the shores of the Atlantic the limit of distance.

Supply Base at Newport News

Newport News, Va., Oct. 1.—Arriving here yesterday from Washington, Major Mann of the general staff of the United States army assumed charge of this place as the base of supplies for troops going to Cuba. A site just above the city has been secured for the encampment and arrangements are now being made for storage warehouses.

Murderer Loses His Reason

Denver, Oct. 1.—Advices have reached Denver, The Times says, that Harry Orchard, self-confessed murderer of former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho, whose confession implicated the officers of the Western Federation of Miners, has become a maniac and is now confined in the hospital ward of the Idaho penitentiary at Boise.

Pensioners Are Dropping Off

Washington, Oct. 1.—The net decrease in the pension roll of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30 amounted to $12,470. The number of pensioners dropped from the roll during the year was 47,444, leaving the number of pensioners on June 30 at 985,971.

Russian Military Scandal

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—There is good reason to anticipate the disclosure of a grave military scandal, a colonel of engineers having been arrested for alleged connection with the sale of important frontier plans to the agents of a foreign power.

A Permanent Knockout

Everett, Wash., Oct. 1.—John Crowe, a prize fighter, died from the effects of a knockout blow to the stomach received in a fight before the Everett Athletic club. His opponent, Bill Snallham, was arrested.

In a ten-inning game on Saturday at South Weymouth the South Quincys were defeated by the Norfolks 3 to 2. The visitors excelled at bat with 10 safe hits to 3 for the Norfolk. Two of these were two baggers by Duffy and Galvin. No one was out when the Norfolks made the winning run in the tenth.

The score by innings was:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

Runs made—By Linberg, Jones, Spillane Galvin, 2. Two-base hits—Duffy, Galvin, Linberg. Stolen bases, Jones, O'Dowd, Duggan, Galvin. Base on balls—Off Crowley, off Driscoll, 2. Struck out—By Crowley, 10; by Driscoll, 7. Sacrifice hit—Collins. Double play—Collins to Birnie to Duffy. Hit by pitched ball—Jones. Passed balls—Murray, 4. Umpire—Mahon. Time—1h. 55m.

Ended in Dispute.

One of the most interesting games of the season was played at Ward Two playground Saturday between the Bigelows and the Washington Social club, the great rivals of the Point district.

The game ended at the beginning of the ninth inning owing to the failure of the Bigelows to abide by a decision of umpire Caldwell when he called one of their men out at third base when he was deliberately pushed off of the base before he was tagged. The Bigelows had started a batting rally and had men on second and third with none out and only two runs behind when umpire Caldwell made the decision.

Fore Rivers' And McGregors Win

Both the Fore Rivers and the McGregors, the two Quincy teams, won on Saturday in the Association football league.

The Fore Rivers played the Buntings at Lowell and had it all their own way, the score being 9 to 0. Five of the goals were made by Elliot who played at centre, and two each by the McDonalds, one playing right forward and the other left forward. In the Fore River line-up were Collins, Artis, Crichton, Lyons, Connor, Chaplin, McAllister, D. McDonald, Elliot, Nuttal and J. McDonald. Two 45 minute halves were played. Referee, Connors of Andover, Linesmen, Kendrick and Burt.

The McGregors went to Lynn and played the Lynn second team at Glenmere park. The score was 4 to 1 in favor of the visitors who showed up in better form. McDonald made two of the goals for the McGregors and Robertson and Drysdale one each. The single goal for Lynn was made by Booth. Hunt was referee, and the linesmen were Raleigh and Esmond.

High School Practice Game

Quincy High school opened their foot ball season, at Merrymount Park Saturday afternoon, with Medford High school. The Medford eleven worked together and showed a more advanced style of play than the home team, scoring a touchdown in each half. It was Quincy's first game while Medford had the advantage of playing Dorchester [illegible] to 0 game a week before.

Capt. Nichols, of Quincy, has been working hard for the past two weeks with a squad of thirty candidates. The work has been light and no attempt was made to perfect team play, and little time has been spent on defensive work. H. F. Miller, last years coach, who is trying for Harvard varsity this year, has been on the field but four days, and the lack of a regular coach is a great handicap to the progress of the team.

Medford won by clean hard football and introduced nothing in the line of new football, with the exception of a quarterback kick from regular formation.

They gained constantly through Quincy's tackles and around left-end. The visitors also used a delayed pass and the quarter-back to carry the ball.

Gourlie, at right end played in his old time form for Quincy, making several fine tackles; while Duncan at full-back played a strong game from start to finish.

Mansfield and Lacey deserve great credit for their work as inexperienced guards. With the wealth of material, this year's eleven should develop nto a team equal to any around Boston and will without doubt furnish good clean sport for those interested in the new game of football. The lineup:

QUINCY.		MEDFORD.
Gourley	R. E.	Oxnard
Luplon	R. T.	Bentley
Lacey (Badger)	R. G.	Cushman
Badger (Marden)	C.	Charnock
Mansfield	L. G.	Blaikie
Sprague	L. T.	Richert
Flahive (Bonney),	L. E.	Saulmann
Murray, (Claflin),	Q. B.	Smith
Nichols,	R. H. B.	Pray
Tupper, (Mellen),	L. H. B.	Emerson
Duncan,	F. B.	Hall

The score was 11 to 0 in favor of Medford.

For Medford long runs were made by Bentley and Saulsman, good tackles by Smith, while Pray excelled in all round play.

There was an attendance of 400 at the park, including about 50 who accompanied the visiting team.

It is said that there will be no choice on the first ballot this evening at the Republican Senatorial convention, which is held in Boston at Wesleyan hall. There will be votes for R. R. Freeman of Quincy, Charles F. Jenney of Hyde Park and Fred M. French of Randolph. The Quincy candidate will lead on the first ballot, but is not expected to win.

Must Pay or Go to Jail

James Mellen, Henry Parker and James A. Parker attempted to run things their own way on the 9.27 outward train Saturday night. They started a row with a fellow passenger and when Quincy was reached all three were put under arrest.

In court they were fined $25 each for creating a disturbance on the train, and $5 each for drunkenness. They asked the court for time to raise their fine, but Judge Avery said no, they must pay or go to jail.

A Soldier's Vindication

[Original.]

Bob Hazard was a good natured, devil may care sort of fellow, whom everybody loved. His hair was flax, his eye was robin's egg blue, and he wore a perpetual smile on his lips. He looked so good that butter wouldn't melt in his mouth.

When the Spanish-American war broke out, Bob, who was a member of the national guard of his state, went with his regiment to Cuba and fought through the battles that resulted in the capture of Santiago. He seemed insensible to fear, and his companions said of him that he was too lazy to worry about getting shot.

Bob didn't get shot, but with that luck which comes to reckless people who rather deserve punishment he received a wound just severe enough to enable him to show the scars of a war veteran. A Mauser bullet went through the biceps of his right arm, giving what might pass for two wounds, one where it went in and one where it went out.

Hazard, not being able to handle a musket during this time, had abundant leisure for mischief. Removing two balls from cartridges, he sent one to his best girl, with a letter in which he said that to her and her alone he gave the Spanish bullet with which he had been shot. The other he sent to his other best girl, with a similar message. He enjoined each to keep the secret of his preference, since he didn't wish to appear to attach any importance to his wound.

Now, the recipients, Miss Edith Spencer and Miss Della Marsh, were extremely feminine young ladies. While neither were in love with the young soldier, both were proud of the preference. Each knew that the other counted on Private Hazard as one of her especial friends at the front in those exciting days when not to have an especial friend at the war made a girl feel and appear like a "wallflower" at a ball. The next time Miss Spencer met Miss Marsh after the receipt of her bullet she asked, with a triumphant sparkle in the eye and toss of the head:

"Heard from Bob Hazard lately?"

The response was doubtless influenced by the questioner's manner. "Yes; the poor fellow has been severely wounded."

"I know," replied the other, with an air of superiority. "He wrote me all about it."

"So he did me, and sent me a keepsake."

"He sent me the bullet that struck him."

Miss Marsh gasped for breath. "I have that bullet," she said, "in my escritoire."

"And I have it in my jewel box."

This was the preliminary part of a conversation that led to the exhibition of two bullets, each with a polished surface, which is never found on one that has been fired from a gun, to say nothing of being sent through a man's arm. Had the girls been disinterested they would have smiled. As it was they vowed that when Private Robert Hazard returned he should explain this strange proceeding and pronounce upon the genuineness of the ball that had wounded him.

When the war ended, it virtually began for Bob Hazard. An enemy awaited him which would have stricken terror into any man of less bravery. His regiment marched through the city from which it had departed with flying colors and martial music. The first communication he received after being mustered out was a note from Miss Spencer asking him to come and see how she had mounted the keepsake he had sent her. He called that evening and found Miss Spencer and Miss Marsh together. On the table was an open jewel box that had held a pair of solitaire earrings, and in place of the earrings were two bullets. The expression on the faces of the girls was ominous.

"Will you please," said Miss Spencer, "tell us which of these two bullets wounded you?"

Bob looked at the leaden missiles. Their polished surfaces should have brought the blush of shame to his face, but they did not. Indeed he took no note of anything, he was thinking how to wiggle out of the scrape he had brought upon himself. Finally, with an injured air he asked permission to take off his coat, which was granted. Removing the coat and a pair of gold sleeve links, he rolled up his shirt sleeve.

"This wound," he said, pointing to the scar where the missile that had really struck him on the inner surface of the arm, "was made by the bullet on the right. This," pointing to the scar where the original missile had left his arm, "was made by the bullet on the left."

The girls looked at each other.

"You two young ladies," he continued, "as especial friends of mine, I thought might like to have a bullet that had struck a simple soldier of the Spanish war. Having a bullet for each wound, I was enabled to send one to each of you."

Again the girls looked at each other.

"I told you," began Miss Spencer.

"And I told you," interrupted Miss Marsh, "that there was some"—

"That you were very unjust."

"Do you mean"— flashed Miss Marsh.

"Girls," said the soldier, "I am really at fault. I should not have made so much of so trifling a matter."

The victory was with the villain. Neither girl had loved him till his fraudulent vindication, his display of modesty. Then both loved him—while he—he loved them both.

SEWER VETO

Not to be Compulsory Requirement To Enter

A regular meeting of the City Council was held Monday evening. Although in session but thirty minutes a large amount of business was transacted. Every member was present.

A communication was received from the Mayor returning without his approval, the order amending the Sewer ordinance so as to compel all abutters to connect with the public sewer within three years after such sewers is built. His reasons for vetoing the order were as follows:

"The installation of a system of sewerage in a community is for the purpose of removing unsanitary conditions, which may be prejudical and detrimental to public health.

"Where a sewer has been constructed in our city it has been availed of considerably by abutting property owners voluntarily, they being actuated, no doubt, by a desire to improve the sanitary conditions of their premises, and the final disposition, for all time, of its sewage.

"Where premises involuntarily have been connected with the sewer it has been by order of the Board of Health, who have adjudged said premises as unsanitary and a menace to public health, under authority conferred by the laws of the Commonwealth, and whose orders are enforcible under penalties, as therein prescribed.

"This amendment now proposed to the ordinance is not clearly drawn, being open to divers constructions and in my opinion does no fully cover what was intended; neither is it enforcible as no penalties are attached. The authority to compel premises to connect with the sewer still remaining in the Board of Health, the amendment is therefore no gain in that respect.

"Further I wish to call attention of the Council to the fact that in my correspondence with ten cities in the Metropolitan Sewerage District I find that in eight of them no ordinance or regulation of a compulsory kind exists, other than now vested by the statutes in Boards of Health."

The Council sustained the Mayor's veto.

HYDE PARK

Candidate Is Nominated For Senator On First Ballot

Just how many votes R. R. Freeman received from Quincy at the Republican Senatorial convention on Monday evening has not been figured out to the full satisfaction of his supporters. There were 16 delegates from Quincy and Mr. Freeman received but 21 votes out of 45 in the convention. Some of these came from Weymouth and some from Randolph were secured at the eleventh hour.

However, that may be, Charles F. Jenney of Hyde Park received the nomination on the first ballot amid much enthusiasm.

Quincy took a prominent part in the proceedings of the convention as will be seen, and there were several present from this city who were not delegates.

In the absence of Chairman Gallagher of the District Committee ex-Senator F. W. Darling of Hyde Park called the convention to order. On motion of ex-Mayor Charles M. Bryant, Representative George L. Barnes of Weymouth was elected temporary chairman, and on motion of Daniel McGrath, Selectman Jesse Baxter of Milton was elected temporary secretary.

Mr. Darling moved that a committee be appointed on credentials.

Mr. Bryant enquired, how many?

Mr. Darling was willing to leave with the chairman; he understood it was all fixed. (Laughter).

The motion prevailed and the chair appointed S. F. Copeland of Quincy, L. P. Winchendaugh of Hyde Park and J. P. Southworth of Holbrook.

The committee reported 44 of the 45 delegates present, Weymouth being one shy.

Voted to allow Weymouth to fill vacancy and Representative E. J. Sandberg of Quincy was elected.

The temporary organization was made permanent.

Mr. Bryant moved that a committee on ballot be appointed.

The same committee was appointed, and it was voted to proceed to ballot for candidate for senator.

The committee reported as follows:

Number of votes cast	45
Necessary for choice	23
R. R. Freeman had	21
C. F. Jenney had	24

And Mr. Jenney was declared the nominee.

Upon motion of Daniel McGrath of Quincy the nomination of Mr. Jenney was made unanimous.

H. C. Gallagher was reelected a member of the Republican State Committee.

Messrs. Darling of Hyde Park, Pierce of Milton and Wilson of Braintree were appointed a committee to wait on the candidate and request his presence.

Senatorial committee was authorized to fill any vacancy.

A vote of thanks was given to E. B. Nevins of Weymouth, the retiring senator.

A district committee was appointed to include the member of State committee and the chairmen of the city and town committees.

Candidate Jenney was enthusiastically welcomed, and introduced as the next Senator.

It goes without saying, said Mr. Jenney, that I appreciate the honor. My heart is too full now to make a speech. I will try to represent the district faithfully and to uphold the party. I thank you and assure you I appreciate the honor more than words can express. (Applause.)

The delegates and all present were invited to lunch at Young's. Candidate Jenney received in the parlor. At the banquet Chairman Barnes was toastmaster, with Candidate Jenney on his right and Mr. Freeman on his left. A full course dinner was served.

Speeches were made by the toastmaster and the candidate, and also by R. R. Freeman, ex-Representative Pierce of Milton, County Commissioner Foster, ex-Senator Darling, Representative Sandberg, Henry A. Belcher of Randolph, David W. Murray, a Democrat of Hyde Park, and City Solicitor Thomas.

Mr. Freeman pledged support and promised to do all he could to elect Mr. Jenney. Messrs. Darling and Murray spoke in very eulogistic terms of their neighbor. He was well known as a lawyer in Metropolitan Boston, was intimately associated with town affairs and those who know him thoroughly honor and revere him. He has great ability; a man of character and honesty, a man of many parts and liberal ideas, yet conservative. He will represent wisely and well. Mr. Murray congratulated the Republicans upon having drafted such a man, and hoped to see him soon a justice of the supreme court.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Grover Cleveland might at least break the silence long enough to tell us that he is out of politics. We might not believe him, but we would pretend to.

The Philadelphia manicurist who is to marry a millionaire brewer, must have had enough experience at the game, to know when she is holding a good hand.

Even the prospect of having the Panama canal job left on his hands, is not likely to affect the willingness of Mr. Fairbanks to serve a term or two as President.

Mme. Patti is said to possess an old doll that was presented to her at the age of seven for singing nicely. Perhaps she also possesses some of the old dollars she has been presented with, since, for the same reason.

It will be Senator Jenney from Hyde Park in 1907, and the First Norfolk district will have a representative of whom it may be proud, and at the same time do justice to the staunch Republican town of Hyde Park. Probably he is the ablest man that Norfolk county has sent to the Senate for many years, but best of all he is above petty politics, and is respected by all, Democrats as well as Republican. He was not a self seeking candidate, but just such a man as the voters at large appreciate.

WON'T TAKE CUBA

President Wants the Island to Remain a Republic

HARD PROBLEMS COMING

Public Opinion Would Not Back Congress In Any Effort Toward Annexation--Transport Sumner Gets Away In Record Time

Washington, Oct. 2.—President Roosevelt last night had a long conference with Secretary of State Root and Attorney General Moody. Both cabinet officials declined to comment on the nature of the discussion. Just before their arrival the president received Mr. Quesada, the Cuban minister, with whom he had a brief talk regarding Cuba. Upon leaving the White House Quesada stated that he had called to thank the president for his letter to him, for Secretary Taft's "kindly" proclamation and for the efforts that the president is making for the people of Cuba.

At the conference between the president and the two officials who represent the diplomatic and the law departments of the government in the cabinet it is believed that not only Cuba, but some other important questions engrossing the attention of the government were discussed.

Many difficult problems connected with intervention in Cuba must be solved. Unquestionably the public clamor here at Washington is that the United States shall so shape its policy as to be prepared to annex Cuba within the next six months. The first few meetings of the cabinet will indicate what the administration's policy is to be.

Unless indications are misleading, the members of the cabinet will stand out firmly against any move looking toward annexation. Secretary Root is prepared to oppose the annexation doctrine. He maintains that annexation cannot honorably come in the face of the Teller amendment and President McKinley's declarations, except it be eventually shown that the Cubans cannot govern themselves. To favor annexation would also be to oppose the policy which Secretary Root espoused during his recent trip through Central and South America.

A good deal of talk is current here to the effect that the administration is likely to be embarrassed in its effort to set up a new government in Cuba by the declarations of prominent Republicans that the United States has gone into the island to stay. Some of the president's advisors intend to suggest to him that he call off these preachers of the annexation doctrine.

It seems to be a settled fact that the administration intends to proceed on the theory that the island is not to be annexed. Of course it will be possible for congress at the coming session to direct that another policy be pursued, but the prevailing sentiment here is that the public will not back congress in any effort to thwart the plans of the administration.

Mr. Quesada yesterday conferred with Secretary Root regarding the situation in Cuba. Quesada expressed full confidence in the friendly attitude of this government toward Cuba. Assistant Secretary of State Adee was in frequent conference during the day with Secretary Root, advising him of the details of Cuban affairs.

The transport Sumner, which sailed last night from New York for Havana, carried the first detachment of troops for the Cuban expedition, consisting of two battalions of infantry from the Plattsburg, N. Y., barracks, and one battalion of engineers from the Washington barracks, 900 men in all. In addition to the troops, the Sumner is loaded with a large consignment of commissary stores. The sailing of the Sumner was within 48 hours from the issuance of the orders for the movement of the troops. Practically the first bit of information conveyed to President Roosevelt after his arrival here was that respecting the Sumner's readiness to proceed. He expressed gratification at the expedition shown.

CONFIDENT OF RESULT

But Bay State Republicans See a Hard Contest Ahead

Boston, Oct. 2.—The arrangement for the Republican state convention on Thursday next, at which the present state officers will probably be renominated, were practically perfected at a meeting of nearly the entire membership of the state committee. Only the make-up of the committee on resolutions was announced, leaving the balance of the convention officers to be made public on the eve of the convention.

Five members-at-large of the platform committee, headed by Attorney General Moody, were selected some weeks ago. Yesterday the committee was completed with 14 additional members, one from each congressional district. The advocates of tariff reform and Canadian reciprocity have but few supporters on the committee, and a platform opposed to any revision is anticipated.

The committee was in session the greater part of the day. Governor Guild and Lieutenant Governor Draper both made speeches, as did Senator Lodge. Guild defended his administration and said that he would stand on his record. Lodge, while he predicted a hard contest, said he felt confident of the result. Draper said that recent developments had shown clearly that Hearst was supporting Moran and that every effort should be made to defeat the latter in Massachusetts.

Mobile Stores Flooded by Rain

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 2.—The business houses of the city sustained almost as much financial loss yesterday from a heavy rainstorm as from the recent disaster. There is scarcely a building in the business section of the city which has a roof capable of keeping out the rain. During the storm yesterday, in which four inches of rain fell, the water poured down through elevator shafts, leaking roofs and upon unprotected upper floors, ruining all manner of merchandise.

Heresy Charges Preferred

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Hinckley G. Mitchell, formerly professor of Hebrew literature in the Boston university school of theology, will be tried on charges of heresy before the Central New York Methodist Episcopal conference, which opens at Penn Yan today. Chicago, Oct. 2.—The National Association of Meat Packers was formed here, coincident with the going into effect of the government's meat inspection law throughout the country. Michael Ryan, president of the Cincinnati Abbatoir company, was chosen president.

Pittsburg, Oct. 2.—Patrick Coyne threw his 3-year-old son over a bridge into the Monongahela river and followed him in an evident attempt at suicide. The boy was drowned, but the father was rescued in an unconscious condition. Upon his regaining his senses the only thing he would say concerning the murder of his son was that he was drunk and remembered nothing of the occurrence.

The Sheridan In Bad Plight

A BOY MURDERER

Bay State Police Think They Have One In Custody

WAS SECRETLY INDICTED

Edgar Meikle of Lynn, 15 Years Old, Believed to Have Murdered His Father Last November--Result of Long Inquiry

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 2.—After an investigation lasting many months, Edgar W. Meikle, 15 years old, was arrested by Captain Proctor of the state police last night, charged with the murder of his father, Charles D. S. Meikle, on Nov. 6, 1905.

Although the death of Meikle was at first supposed to be a case of suicide and the medical examiner returned a verdict of suicide, members of the state police have refused to accept this verdict and have continued their investigation of the case with the result that the grand jury which met in Lawrence in September returned an indictment against young Meikle. The indictment was secret and was not made known until the arrest last night.

Charles Meikle was an employe of the General Electric company. He lived with his son at 23 Congress street, in this city, and as he had been in poor health for some time and had frequently expressed to fellow workmen and other friends a desire to end his life, the announcement that he had been found dead from a revolver shot at his home was received with no great surprise, and the verdict of Medical Examiner Pinkham that it was a case of suicide was generally accepted.

The bullet which killed Meikle entered the right side of the head, back of the ear. A revolver of 32 calibre was found on an ice chest in the kitchen where the body lay. Edgar Meikle, the son, told the officers when the body was discovered that when he went home that day his father said that he was tired of life and that he was going to end it. Then, according to the boy, the elder Meikle fired the fatal shot, and the boy afterward took the revolver and laid it on the ice-chest.

In his investigation of the case, Deputy Chief Neal of the state police discovered that, while the bullet which killed Meikle entered the right side of his head, the man was left-handed, and this led to a suspicion that there was foul play in connection with the case. Further investigation showed that there was no singeing of the hair, as might have been the case had the revolver been held close to the head, and that there had been frequent quarrels between the boy and his father because of Edgar's refusal to go to school. According to the state police, there was a quarrel between the two on the afternoon of the tragedy.

The inquest, which was held before Judge Berry of the Lynn police court, was continued for several months for various causes, the last session having been held in August. When the grand jury met at Lawrence in September an indictment against young Meikle was returned secretly.

Thirty-Three Deaths at Pensacola

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 2.—A feeling of cheerfulness, after days of gloom, prevails in stricken Pensacola. The destroyed portions of the city, wharves and mills will be rebuilt on a larger scale. The death list is 33. Relief expeditions were sent along the coast last night. No aid will be asked from the outside. The Louisville and Nashville railroad has learned that two solid trains loaded with freight and the engines have been lost.

Produce Stakes Easily Won

New York, Oct. 2.—J. C. Van Ness' Electioneer, winner of this year's futurity, won the $11,000 colt's half of the Produce stakes, six furlongs, at Brighton beach. He was practically neglected in the betting. The time was 1:12 3-5. The filly's half of the Produce stakes, six furlongs, and worth $10,000 to the winner, resulted in an easy victory for the 1 to 3 favorite, Court Dress, belonging to James R. Keene.

Strike of Steamboat Officers

Baltimore, Oct. 2.—The fight of the licensed officers of the steamboats of tht Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic and the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway companies for higher pay is fairly on. Four boats sailed, while four others that were to have sailed remain tied to their wharves. Many of the boats expected to be involved in the difficulty are now on their routes.

Sultan Still Procrastinates

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—Ambassador Leishman's audience of the sultan, which was to have taken place Oct. 2 after a number of postponements, has again been postponed. The ambassador has been informed that in view of the fact that the sultan's birthday is celebrated Oct. 2, and is always succeeded by a religious festival, his reception must be put off until Oct. 5.

TAFT "MAKES GOOD"

His Actions Earn Gratitude of the Cuban People

MODERATES' MANIFESTO

Blames American Commission For Intervention and Denies Responsibility For Revolution and Its Subsequent Results

Havana, Oct. 2.—Governor Taft's actions have gone far to win him a warm place in the hearts of the people whose destinies have been placed in his hands. Presiding yesterday at the opening exercises of the University of Havana, he declared his mission here was solely for the purpose of uplifting the fallen republic and restoring it to the path of prosperity, an announcement which was received with demonstrations of delight by an audience representative of the highest society in Havana.

Following this it became known that Governor Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon had cabled for their wives to join them here, a step which will strongly cement the bonds of affection between the Cuban people and the American provisional administration.

Still another act of Governor Taft is warmly commended as illustrative of his thoughtful consideration of the humbler classes. Learning that many poor families occupying the temporarily disused barracks at Camp Columbia were about to be summarily evicted in preparation for the occupation by the American marines, Taft directed that these people remain undisturbed for 15 days. In the meanwhile a portion of the marines will remain under canvas. He personally visited the families and explained that he had not been aware of the conditions. He left the camp amid cheers and warm expressions of gratitude. These evidences of American goodwill have earned such general favorable comment that the landing of the battalion of marines which will constitute the garrison here caused hardly a ripple of excitement.

Much of the governor's time Monday was occupied in receiving officials of the various departments and judges of the courts. With the members of the supreme court Taft held a prolonged conference concerning the drafting of a proclamation of general amnesty. This decree is of the most importance, in view of the fact that at many points on the island, notably Cienfuegos, many persons are in jail awaiting the disposition of political charges. The governor also appointed Major Ladd and Alexander Gonzales a committee to audit the accounts of the treasury.

The executive committee of the Moderate party has issued a manifesto strongly inferring that the American commission is to blame for the intervention. It summarizes the attitude of the party, eulogizes ex-President Palma and his actions, reiterates the legality of the last elections and denies all responsibility for the revolution and the results thereof. The manifesto asserts that the bases presented by President Roosevelt's commissioners were practically the same as those submitted by the Liberals.

In justification of their action in deserting congress the Moderate leaders say that intervention was then already an accomplished fact. They considered the intimation of the American commissioners that the retention of the presidency by Palma was the only possible solution bringing a result other than intervention impossible, and they declare furthermore that they were not able to assist in a congress whose powers had been declared illegitimate.

The document says also that the American commissioners, in order to back their erroneous interpretation of the situation, sent a letter to the speaker of the house stating positively certain conditions as essential for the person eligible to the presidency. The Moderate party could not act without liberty of action, and it therefore resolved not to return to congress. The manifesto says in conclusion that the party will always sustain social order and those same principles which will eventually restore to Cuba the integrity of her institutions.

The first anti-American demonstration occurred in Havana last evening at 7 o'clock, when 150 academy students and other youths straggled through some of the down-town streets shouting: "Viva the Cuba republic! Down with American control!" This demonstration was not treated seriously. The crowd received few accessions.

Check on Hungry Revolutionists

Santiago, Cuba, Oct. 2.—The arrival here yesterday afternoon of the American cruiser Des Moines relieved a serious situation. Fully 4000 armed revolutionists were encircling the city within three miles. They were undisciplined, badly organized, without shelter and hungry. There had been constant rains, discontent was rife and they were threatening to raid the city. The government forces concentrated inside Santiago were not sufficient to drive the besiegers away.

Must Fight Yellow Fever

Havana, Oct. 2.—The sanitary situation is receiving very serious consideration at the hands of the provisional government. In addition to the five cases of yellow fever here, there are several suspected cases at Cienfuegos and elsewhere in Santa Clara province. More rigid measures for general sanitation and the extermination of mosquitoes are under way.

SOCIALIST TICKET NAMED

Carey Is Again Nominated For Governor of Massachusetts

Boston, Oct. 2.—The Socialist convention nominated a state ticket, with former Representative James F. Carey of Haverhill again being the party's choice for governor. The convention also renominated Ambrose Mills for secretary of state and J. W. Sherman for attorney general. J. F. Mullen was nominated for lieutenant governor, G. B. Cushman for state treasurer and F. L. Johnson for auditor.

The platform declares fidelity to the International Socialist party and invites all laborers to join the party in this state. The platform also declares that the recent life insurance investigation showed that both Republican and Democratic parties were mixed up in wrong doing and that even the Massachusetts legislature adjourned without clearing itself of the bribery charges.

The party nominee for governor last year polled a trifle over 3 percent of the total vote, which gives it the right to appear on the official ballot this year without having its candidate indorsed by nomination papers.

Objection to Marine Band

Boston, Oct. 2.—A resolution protesting against the employment of the United States Marine band of Washington by members of the Food Fair, which opened here yesterday, was adopted at a meeting of the board of aldermen. The resolution was offered by Alderman Bromberg, who said that he did not think it fair for the government to allow its bands to enter into free competition with civilian bands. The mayor was asked to request the secretary of the navy to withdraw the band from Boston.

Thome complied, but at once summoned aid. The men had been arrested on suspicion of having shot a calf which Thome was leading into a barn.

Boston, Oct. 2.—The Suffolk county Democrats at a convention last evening renominated three of the present county officers, John Noble, clerk of the supreme court, J. P. A Uric-O Treatment Will in All Cases Remove the Cause.

Paralysis is a disease whose cause is shrouded in mystery. If you were to investigate carefully all cases of Paralysis you would find that at some time previous to the attack, the patient suffered from some form of rheumatism. Possibly like so many others, he thought it was only a slight matter of temporary inconvenience and paid no further attention to it. Rheumatism is not to be neglected with impunity. The Uric and poisonous Rheumatic Acid must be neutralized and driven from the system as soon as they put in an appearance. Do this with Uric-O.

It is a harmless vegetable preparation and does not contain a single drop of alcohol. It operates by its action upon the blood, muscles and kidneys and cures Rheumatism to stay cured. We might give you testimonials from thousands of people in all parts of the country, but we would rather have you talk with some one whom you know and can believe. Next time you are down town, just drop into the store of E. J. Murphy, Quincy's popular druggist, and ask him about Uric-O. We won't predict what he will say, but we have confidence enough in the remedy to leave it to him.

Uric-O is not a cathartic, nor does it affect or distress the stomach in any way. Uric-O is a cure for Rheumatism and for Rheumatism only. That is why it is such a great success. It does one thing and does that one thing perfectly. Most druggists sell Uric-O at 75c and $1.00 the bottle, but you can have a sample bottle free if you cut out this advertisement and send it with your name and address to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Sometimes they send an order on your druggist for a 75c bottle free of charge in reply to those requests for a sample.

COSSACK ATROCITIES

Innocent Peasants Slaughtered and Brutally Mutilated

Khirson, Oct. 2.—Ninety-seven peasants were tried here on the charge of having devastated the estate of M. Krivoshein, ex-minister of railroads. Sixty-three were sentenced to imprisonment, while 34 were acquitted.

The trial brought out a recital of the horrible atrocities committed by the authorities upon the accused. The chief of the district, accompanied by a detachment of Cossacks, reached the estate soon after the devastation. All the peasants were gathered in. No investigation was made. The chief invited priests to administer the last sacrament to the prisoners and then ordered the Cossacks to beat them all to death. The butchery lasted for four hours. Twenty-three peasants were killed and 130 were mutilated.

The Cossacks, then thoroughly tired out, compelled the peasants to continue flogging each other, and men had to beat their own brothers, sons and fathers. The victims of this slaughter were innocent, those really guilty having escaped. In spite of these revelations the court found sentences as related above.

Promises to Mohammedans

Simla, India, Oct. 2.—The most influential body of Mohammedans that has ever approached the Indian government presented an address to Viceroy Minto, setting forth the grievances and aspirations of the Mohammedans of India, and especially their claim for a fair share in any modified system of representation that might be contemplated. Minto promised all reasonable aid to the desires of the deputation and promised that in any attempted modification of their religious beliefs the national traditions would be respected.

Record-Breaking Coal Product

Washington, Oct. 2.—The geological survey has made public statistics on the production of coal in the United States in 1905. From these it appears that both in quantity and value the production surpassed all previous records in this country. The output amounted to 392,919,341 short tons, which had a value at the mines of $476,756,963. The total production in this country last year was nearly 50 percent larger than that of Great Britain, which until 1899 was the leading coal producing country in the world.

Mormonism's Leader Arrested

Salt Lake City, Oct. 2.—President Joseph F. Smith of the Mormon church was arrested and bound over to the district court here on the charge of living unlawfully with five wives. Smith was arraigned immediately after his arrest and waived preliminary hearing. He was released on his own recognizance. Smith reached here two days ago on his return from Europe. He then learned that an attempt had been made to secure his arrest for a statutory offense in connection with the birth of his 43rd child.

Amassed Fortune From Poor

New York, Oct. 2.—"Al" Adams, policy king, bucketshop gambler, Sing Sing convict, former millionaire, ended his career by looking upon his gray face and grizzled head in a mirror, placing a revolver at his temple and sending a bullet into his brain. Despondency over the loss of his large fortune, taken for the most part from the hands of the very poor, who were his policy victims, is given as the reason for the act. He was 65 years old.

American Wins Balloon Race

Paris, Oct. 2.—A semi-official announcement of the result of the competition for the Bennett cup for international aeronauts was given out as follows: Winner, Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm of America; second, Signor Von Willer of Italy; third, Count de la Vaulx of France. Lahm was in the air for 23 hours, and landed in Flyingdale, near London.

American Mission Reaches Fez

Tangier, Oct. 2.—Upon the arrival at Fez of the American mission to the sultan, under Minister Gummere, an imposing military force gathered outside the capital and accorded a brilliant reception to the members of the mission. The Moors are in a state of great perplexity over the object of the mission, which is the first American official visit to the capital.

Suicide of Newspaper Artist

New York, Oct. 2.—John C. Baker, 38 years old, head of the art department of the New York Herald for several years past, committed suicide last night in his apartment by shooting. The suicide was due to extreme nervousness, immediately induced because his apartments were in a state of disorder owing to painters being at work there.

The Roosevelts In Washington

Washington, Oct. 2.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt and three of their children, Ethel and Archie and Quentin, returned to Washington yesterday afternoon from their summer home at Oyster Bay. The president looked the picture of health as he stepped from the train. The family were driven to the White House.

Butting Into American Politics

New York, Oct. 2.—Maxim Gorky, the Russian revolutionist, who has been in this city for several months, has issued an address to the Russian voters in the Ninth New York congressional district, urging them to vote for the Socialist candidate for congress.

Two Lodges As Guests

On Monday evening the Men's club of Christ church began its winter's session of monthly meetings. The club this year has adopted the policy of entertaining some of the benefit orders of the city, with the intention of showing them that the church is interested in the work that they do. On this evening the Bay View and Quincy lodges of Orangemen were the special guests. Nearly a hundred men accepted the invitation, and the lodges arrived in a body a few minutes past eight o'clock.

In the absence of the president of the club, W. L. Thomas, the Vice President, J. Smith, Jr., received the guests. The masters of the two lodges, Angus D. Martin and Andrew Stewart occupied seats on the platform, and responded to the formal welcome of Vice President Smith.

The speaker of the evening was the rector Rev. W. E. Gardner, and his subject was "Two Months in the New Hampshire Forests." At the close of the address William A. Smith, chairman of the entertainment committee, presented a program that was greatly enjoyed; during the entertainment lunch was served.

Words of Kindness For Our Hospital

Editors Quincy Daily Ledger:

In responce to a notice in the Quincy Daily Ledger, I take pleasure in giving my testimony to the good work accomplished in the Hospital in this city. My experience there, although limited to a few weeks, enables me to write intelligently of the value to the community of this institution. The children who were brought to the Hospital for treatment during my stay there, were most tenderly cared for, and appeared to be very happy. There is great need of more private rooms, and I sincerely hope that people of means will give liberally toward supplying this need. I have only words of kindness for our Quincy City Hospital.

Miss Mary F. Cutler.

Timely Arrival of The Des Moines

A Santiago dispatch of Monday concerns a Quincy built warship. It says the arrival here this afternoon of the American cruiser Des Moines relieved a serious situation. Fully 4000 armed revolutionists were encircling the city within three miles. They were undisciplined, badly organized, without shelter and hungry. There had been constant rains, discontent was rife and they were threatening to raid the city. The government forces concentrated inside Santiago were not sufficient to drive the besigers away.

All the official Cupan flags had been lowered when the Des Moines entered the harbor. Commander Culver says he has no instructions to change the present government and that his mission here is solely for the preservation of order. Demetrio Castillio is expected here tonight. He will proceed at once with the work of disarming the revolutionists. With the exception of the lifting of cattle and horses and the seizing of provisions there has been no outlawry. Commander Culver will not land marines unless such action becomes necessary.

Y. M. C. A. Open House.

The annual opening reception of the Y. M. C. A. will be held tomorrow evening between the hours of 7.30 and 10 in the evening, at the Association building, No. 61 Washington street. This occasion will assume the nature of an open house, where all, whether members or non-members will be made heartily welcome.

Orchestral music in the parlors, free use of the pool table and bowling alleys, class and basket ball games in the gymnasium,—together with plenty to eat and drink,—are some of the features which give promise of making this affair a pleasant one for all who all who attend.

The fall class work in the gymnasium begins this week, and many new members are coming in every day. Some difficulty is being experienced in arranging the classes for the High school students, but within a few days it is expected that everything will be running smoothly.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Dynamite Caps Stolen at Depot

Two boxes of dynamite caps, left at the Quincy Adams freight house for shipment, were stolen from the platform of the freight house Monday afternoon.

The loss was soon discovered and Chief Burrell and Officer Lyons began a hunt to locate the property before any damage could be done by an explosion.

The caps were located in the house of Pasqualie Salarno on Water street near the depot, having been stolen by his 7 year old son Salvatori Salarno. The little fellow had loaded the boxes into his cart and taken them home.

Mystery About Safe Robbery

The store of G. G. Grant on Hancock street, Norfolk Downs, was entered by burglars Monday night and a leather bag containing $75 taken from the safe. Just how the safe was opened is a mystery. The conclusion of the police, however, is that the safe was left unlocked or was opened by some one who knew the combination. Entrance to the store was obtained by forcing a rear window.

—Maine's corporation business for the month of September marked the ending of the first three-quarters of the year, which was the largest nine months' business in the way of receipts of fees at the office of the State Treasurer since the corporation law was enacted, the total amount received being nearly $120,000.

Martin Pfaffmann Passes Away

Martin Pfaffman, a long and well known resident of Quincy, passed away early this morning at his residence on Clay street.

Mr. Pfaffman for a number of years has been engaged in the nursery and milk business, but some time ago, owing to failing health, he practically gave up the nursery part of his business.

He has been in poor health for the past year and last spring had quite a serious illness. He recovered from this however, and was able to be about until recently when he was again taken ill. He continued to fail until he passed away.

He was 78 years of age and leaves a widow, two sons and four daughters. Of his sons George F. Pfaffmann is a member of the local board of Park Commissioners.

Attendance Larger At Brockton Fair

Thousands of children helped to make Tuesday, the opening day of the Brockton fair, a grand success, and fair weather was another element. The total attendance was 17,000.

It is the same old Brockton fair with all the old attractions, and as usual some new ones.

Two exhibitions of aerial sailing were given by A. Roy Knabenshue, to the amazement of all. Each time he ran to the south end of the grounds 400 feet in the air came around in front of the grand stand, circled about several times, went off to the north of the grounds and back again, and then returned and alighted. Mlle. D'Arci did not take her daring trip in an automobile down the incline, but the auto was sent down to test the apparatus.

There were all kinds of contests for the children. At football Brockton High defeated Middleboro High 4 to 0. At basket ball Brockton Y. M. C. A. won from Taunton Y. M. C. A. 8 to 4.

On the track the 2.40 trot, 2.21 pace, and 2.25 trot were run, being won by The Peer, Foeman and Altona S. The best time was 2.20.

The exhibits, the midway, the show horses, and other features all have great attractions as usual.

Today is Governor's day and Gov. Guild will be in attendance. The horse show will be a feature and there will be a great trotting card. Boston day tomorrow.

C. E. Union.

Over 100 attended the meeting of the Norfolk C. E. Union on Monday evening at the Wollaston Baptist church, the banner for attendance going to the East Milton society for the fourth consecutive time.

Rev. E. D. Webber led in prayer. The Rev. N. J. Sproul, of the First Presbyterian church spoke of the Rescue Mission work in New York city. There was singing by a volunteer chorus, and a duet.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The Junior Friday club opens its season of 1906-07 on Monday afternoon, October 8th, at the home of Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Adams street, president of the club, with Miss Abbie Wood in charge of the afternoon's program.

Mothers' meetings were resumed in Bethany chapel this afternoon with a large attendance. An interesting program was followed by an informal reception to mothers and children.

First church Women's Alliance will this year make Liberal Religion the subject of the meetings, taking that of India and Japan, England, America, Holland, Germany, Hungary and Switzerland.

Members of the Shakespeare club of Atlantic are looking forward with most pleasant anticipations to the Darrach recital, which is to be given under the auspices of the club in Atlantic Music hall on Nov. 24th.

The State Society of the Daughters of the Revolution hold a meeting on Friday afternoon at hotel Vendome, Boston, with business meeting at two followed by an entertainment of music and an interesting paper.

Women's clubs and Quincy club women in particular should concern themselves with the pure food problem, which is now the subject of intense interest as result of investigations by the health boards during the summer. It is the duty of the woman and housekeeper to see that her household supplies are pure and that her grocer and marketman carry only the pure articles. Here her power is greater than any man's.

The regular meeting of the Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters will be held at the home of Mrs. M. O. Thompson, 7 Berlin street, Wollaston, on Monday, Oct. 8th.

The committee to arrange the program for the Quincy Women's Alliance has been very fortunate in its speaker for the opening afternoon on Monday, Oct. 8, having secured Rev. C. Wendte of Brighton who will speak on "Liberal Thinkers and Workers in Foreign Countries." Mr. Wendte's services are in such demand that it has been decided to make the afternoon into a neighborhood meeting inviting other Alliances, which could not otherwise have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Wendte. The meeting will be in the parlor of First church as usual at three o'clock.

The annual banquet of the Social and Benevolent society of the Baptist church, Wollaston, has been arranged for tomorrow evening.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

On Tuesday afternoon the Quincy Women's club enters upon its second year with renewed zeal. Last year the Philanthropic Committee raised by subscription $500 for establishing and maintaining a Visiting Nurse, to which the club added a nicely furnished suite of rooms at the club house on Goffe street for the Nurse's use, installing a telephone, heat and light. The Educational Committee raised over $200 and has maintained summer sewing schools and gave $20 in prizes for children's flower and vegetable gardens. The Civic Betterment Committee has beautified the grounds about the Quincy station; the railroad and Mr. Henry M. Faxon co-operating. The Arts and Crafts Committee has two rooms at the club house and have set up a hand loom. It is expected this committee will do considerable work this year and maintain several classes in various industries. The Art and Literature Committee are planning for literary classes. The Music Committee is also making plans for good work this winter and will be heard from frequently. Last year the Special House Committee put the first floor of the club house in good shape and this year the second floor and side hall have received attention, so that the club house is now practically in useable shape. During the summer the property has been connected with the sewer and everything put in shape by the House Committee for the opening meeting. The result of the good work done by the Program Committee will show at each meeting as the various entertainments are given. It is an exceptionally fine club program. Again the club will be handicapped financially from widening its scope of outside work, except what is done by committees, as the larger part of the receipts will have to go toward the house, renovation, running expenses; and club afternoons.

HOSPITAL AID ASSOCIATION.

The regular meetings of the Hospital Aid association were resumed on Thursday, Sept. 27th, and in spite of the wet weather there was a good attendance.

The president, Mrs. Joseph C. Morse of 215 Goffe street, has offered her house for a fair in aid of the fund for a Nurses home. It was voted to hold this fair on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, November 14th. It is hoped that all will be interested to contribute and to attend in order that a substantial sum may be realized for this worthy object.

ADAMS CHAPTER D. R.

Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution resumed meetings on Monday afternoon, meeting at the birthplace of President John Adams at three o'clock. The regent Mrs. Nelson V. Titus was in the chair. The usual reports were read, the treasury showing a good surplus. Mrs. Antoinette Paige of Wollaston was welcomed into membership. A letter from Mrs. Titus was read announcing her resignation as regent of the chapter. She has served the chapter over ten years and her other obligations make it necessary at this time to give up active work in the chapter. The resignation was not accepted but referred for action until the November meeting. After the business meeting an interesting paper on "Colonial Gossip" was read by Mrs. Frank Granger of Randolph. The afternoon closed with an informal reception to the new member, Mrs. Paige.

NEIGHBORING WOMEN'S CLUB.

The Metaphysical club of Boston opened its fall work with a lecture Tuesday evening by W. C. Douglas of New York, at the club rooms, Huntington Chambers. On each succeeding Tuesday evening a free clinic will be held with Mrs. Mary A. Chapin, teacher, and Mrs. Katherine B. Pryde as healer.

Heptorian club of Somerville holds its first regular meeting of the season on Saturday afternoon Oct. 13. There will be be reports of the State and General Federations followed by an orchestral recital. The other October meeting will be, "The Courtship of Myles Standish," illustrated. A good season's program has been prepared and there will be the usual current events classes.

The first meeting of the Monday club

GOOD AFTERNOON.

The Boston Advertiser says Mr. Freeman got 15 out of 16 Quincy delegates, and the Post puts it 14 out of 16. It may be necessary to guess again.

More pay for firemen, more policemen, more street lights, are all very well, and often needed, but the city's wants are numerous and must be curtailed.

If three years is too short a time in which to make connection with the public sewer, let's make it five years. Everybody should enter their estates within five years. This would be more charitable than to force some people to enter within ten days as ordered by the Board of Health. This has caused a great hardship on some, as it entails a big expense.

Editor Moseley of the Hyde Park Gazette is said to be pleased over the result of the Republican Senatorial convention, and well he may be. It was the Gazette which first suggested Mr. Jenney as a candidate, and the town and the district endorsed the choice all within a month. The best of it is, that the candidate is in every way worthy. A candidate seldom has a better endorsement than was given Mr. Jenney on the evening of his nomination by Messrs. Darling and Murray.

SHOT FIVE TIMES

Negro Instantly Killed on Crowded Station Platform

SPECTATORS IN A PANIC

Slayer Immediately Arrested--Is Said to Have Been Jealous of His Wife, Who Is Known as a Beauty Among Her Race

Boston, Oct. 3.—Charles F. Queen, a negro living at 11 Irvington street, was shot and instantly killed yesterday afternoon in the Park street station of the subway. The man who did the shooting, Henry A. Brown of Springfield, Mass., also a negro, 35 years old, is now locked up.

The two men, accompanied by two negresses, left an elevated train in the Park street station and started down the steps leading to the lower level where the surface cars stop. As they reached the lower step Brown suddenly drew a revolver and fired five shots at Queen, who fell unconscious and lay motionless on the station floor.

Immediately there was a panic in the station. The platforms were crowded and there were scores of women shoppers in the throng. All hastened to get out of range of the shots, which rapidly succeeded each other. Nearest to the murderer of any of the station employes was the ticket chopper at the northern entrance, but it would have been folly for him to have attempted to intervene, and Brown had full sway of the station for the moment.

Satisfied that he had accomplished his purpose, he dashed for the southern exit, about 50 feet distant. He reached it and ran up the stairs. By this time some of the unwilling spectators of the crime had regained their composure enough to give chase, and Brown had only time to gain the top of the stairs before he was caught by Fred C. Hemenway, who held him for the police.

Several women in the crowd in the station fainted, and there were ungrounded fears that others besides Queen had become targets for the weapon so recklessly used. Ambulances were summoned from the hospitals, but there was no need for them. Queen had been killed instantly.

The quartet of negroes had entered the elevated train at the Scollay square station, having visited the court house in Pemberton square for the purpose of obtaining a warrant against someone for assault and battery. They were excited and attracted the attention of passengers by their vehement conversation during the ride between there and Park street.

It is rumored that the affair is attributable to a jealous husband. Brown's wife, who was a Washington girl, is known as a beauty among her race, and acquaintances say that Brown had frequently remarked that Queen was trying to break up his home. A few weeks ago Brown figured in the municipal court, where he was brought by his wife on a charge of non-support. The complaint was dismissed. Besides a wife Brown has a small daughter.

He is the first white man to be named for office in the islands. The Republicans nominated Prince Kalanianaole, present incumbent. The Home Rule candidate is Charles Notley, part Hawaiian.

Trains Collided on Trestle

New York, Oct. 3.—More than a score of persons were more or less seriously injured, though none fatally, in a rear-end collision between two trains at the Broad Channel station on the trestle over Jamaica bay at Far Rockaway last night. An electric train was blocked near the station when a rapidly moving express appeared around a sharp curve and struck the rear of the electric train.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—All the big Chicago packers have become members of the newly organized American Meat Packers' association. Members of the executive committee of the organization called on the heads of the various concerns, explained the project and submitted a copy of the constitution and by-laws. As a result, the Chicago packers joined.

DR COOK'S GREAT FEAT

Reaches Summit of Mt Mckinley After Repeated Failures

New York, Oct. 3.—Satisfying a long cherished ambition, Dr. Fred A. Cook of Brooklyn has reached the summit of Mt. McKinley, which, towering 20,464 feet above the Pacific ocean, is believed to be the highest point of the North American continent. Cook's feat is particularly notable, as his is the first ascent of the mountain on record and followed repeated failures. News of his success was brought to friends here last night in the following telegram from Cook to H. L. Bridgman of the Brooklyn Standard Union, from Tyonek, Alaska:

"We have reached the summit of Mt. McKinley by a new route from the north and have mapped 3000 miles of country. Return to Seattle by next steamer."

Cook's persistent efforts to climb Mt. McKinley have attracted wide attention not only from an adventuresome standpoint, but because of the practical value attached to the success of such an expedition. Cook has been able, apparently, to add considerably to the geographical records of Alaska.

Cook left here last May for his second attempt. Professor Parker of Columbia university, who accompanied him, later returned and said that two ineffectual attempts to reach the mountain's top had been made and that he had left Cook to make still another. In his expedition Cook had with him Russell W. Porter, a photographer, and a half dozen servants and guides.

Al Adams Perhaps Murdered

New York, Oct. 3.—While evidence in connection with the finding of the dead body of Al Adams in his apartments tends toward proving that he committed suicide, there are many of his friends who believe that he was murdered. They say it was common belief that Adams had many enemies who hated him with bitter intensity, and since the recent crash of the bucket-shop enterprise in which he was interested their number has been increased by the many small speculators who lost by the failure. Both the police and the coroner's office will continue their investigation. It is difficult to give an estimate of the wealth left by Adams. It has been placed as high as $10,000,000, and as low as half that sum.

Crew Cowed by Officers

New York, Oct. 3.—A mutiny aboard the British bark Port Stanley, in which the rebellious crew were beaten into submission, is reported by Captain Howe of the tug William J. McCallin, which towed the vessel to sea. The crew of 25 rebelled while the ship was awaiting favorable weather to proceed to Melbourne. They took exception to the manner of the officers in giving orders, and to the quality of the food Captain Easson, armed with a revolver, and his officers with belaying pins, after a fight drove the men below decks, and nailed down the hatches. An offer to tow the ship to port was refused, Easson replying that he had the crew under control and intended to make the sailors work.

Mobile In Working Condition

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 3.—With telegraph wires working in sufficient numbers to carry all business, and all railroads in operation except the New Orleans division of the Louisville and Nashville, business conditions are now almost normal. Dealers in perishable goods yesterday supplied their first orders and trade generally is all that can be expected. Telephone service is restored and street cars are running on all lines except the interurban roads. Prominent insurance men are positive that the loss will not amount to over $1,000,000. Reductions are made in the reports of losses in other places.

Lynching Likely to Follow

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 3.—Roy Hoyle, a special railroad officer, was fatally shot, and Alderman Sidney Lyon was slightly wounded last night during a fight at the county jail between deputy sheriffs and a crowd of men, determined to capture Dick Robinson, a negro, aged 17. The mob is still hunting the negro and will lynch him if he is caught. Robinson had attacked Ruth Sosaman, 12 years old.

Taft May Be Supreme Justice

Washington, Oct. 3.—The president will not make any appointment to fill the vacancy on the bench of the supreme court of the United States until the reassembling of congress in December. Secretary Taft has been offered the position, and has had the question of accepting or declining it under consideration for some time.

Millionaire's Wife Gets Divorce

INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams St., Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

THE
Young Men's Christian Association
OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title – Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

ANOTHER CHANCE

Cuba to Have a Second Trial of Self-Government

NO ANNEXATION MOTIVE

Magoon Will Be Provisional Governor and Funston Will Command Troops--Eleven Transports Already Chartered

Washington, Oct. 3.—President Roosevelt discussed freely with his cabinet and individual callers the present situation in Cuba. The president reiterated to the cabinet and to others that the action of the American government was destined solely for the benefit of the people of the island with a view to the complete restoration of order there and the protection of all interests. He declared that he had no such motive in view as possible annexation by the United States. What he wanted now was that the Cubans should be given another chance at self-government.

Unless extraordinary conditions arise no extra session of congress will be called to deal with the Cuban situation, as the president considers he has ample authority to proceed in the matter.

It seems to be well settled that former Governor Magoon of the Panama canal zone will be appointed provisional governor of Cuba in succession to Secretary Taft. Both the president and Taft had in view the designation of Governor Winthrop of Porto Rico, but the president has expressed the belief that he can better spare Magoon from his duties in the Philippine islands, where he has been appointed a member of the Philippine commission and vice governor general of the islands, than he can the services of Winthrop for the several months during which he expects the provisional governorship of Cuba will continue. The president expects Taft to return to Washington in a fortnight or less.

Secretary Taft cabled to the war department requesting that Brigadier General Funston be designated to command the American troops in Cuba and the military secretary immediately issued an order to that effect. Brigadier General Wint, commander of the department of Missouri, reached here late yesterday and left last night for Newport News, where he will be in charge of the embarkation of the first expedition. His orders show that the expedition is to be known as the first expeditionary brigade.

Quartermaster General Humphrey has concluded the charters of 11 vessels which will be used for the transportation of animals from this country to Havana. One of them, the Andes, will sail from Tampa with the horses and mules of the light battery of the Fourteenth artillery. The other 10 transports will sail from Newport News. A vessel is now en route to Havana with 100,000 feet of lumber to be used for camp purposes.

Long Chase For Faithless Wife

New York, Oct. 3.—In pursuit of his wife and the man with whom she fled from St. Petersburg, General Cuchacoff of the Russian army arrived in this city only to find that the fleeing couple had eluded him and were now approaching the shores of France. Gabriel Essipoff and the wife of Cuchacoff arrived from Europe last Thursday, but within an hour were on board the La Savoie en route for Havre. The general is accompanied by a friend who said he would not like to be in Essipoff's place if the general ever catches up with him.

Pair of Frauds Captured

Racine, Wis., Oct. 3.—Fred C. Stocking and H. D. Miller were arrested in Milwaukee on a charge of trying to extort $20,000 from Mrs. Richard T. Robinson of this city. They were brought here from Milwaukee and are in jail. Their arrest was accomplished through a clue given the police by the First National bank of Chicago. A letter to Mrs. Robinson directed that the money which it was sought to extort be deposited in that bank. A trap was set for the conspirators.

Steamboat Officers May Win

Baltimore, Oct. 3.—In the fight of the licensed officers of the steamboats of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic, and the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway companies for increased pay, the advantage seems decidedly on the side of the men. Any considerable continuance of present conditions will cause grave trouble in places which depend upon these steamboats for supplies.

Governor Pardons a Forger

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 3.—After serving a little over three years of a state prison sentence of six years, Dr. Waldo R. Harkness of this city, who was charged with forgery and convicted in 1903, has been pardoned by Governor Bell. Harkness forged the names of Burlington men to certain notes on which he had secured $2000. Bell made no statement in granting the pardon.

Mariners Without Guidance

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 3.—Major Craighill of the corps of engineers, U. S. A., who is in charge of the Mobile lighthouse district, has returned from a tour of inspection of that part of the coast on which the storm was heaviest. The damage is so extensive that many months will be necessary to restore the light service.

MARINES ON GUARD

Pinar Del Rio Region Occupied by Our Forces

"OUNCE OF PREVENTION"

Will Insure Tranquility When Former Rebels Lay Down Their Arms--Palma Departs From Havana and Gives Good Advice to Malcontents

Havana, Oct. 3.—The attitude of the authorities of the United States in Cuba regarding the possibilities of the present situation seemed favorably expressed when Colonel Waller, commanding the marines, remarked that an ounce of prevention was worth a pound of cure. The remark was called forth by preparations that were going on at Camp Columbia to transport 450 marines from the encampment westward for the purpose of having them in adjacent towns when the first instalments of General Guerra's disbanded men reached these places.

While no disorder is anticipated when the former revolutionists reach their homes, the provisional government and the military authorities consider the actual military occupation of the Pinar del Rio region quite as essential as the occupation of other portions of the island and deemed it best to have an American force there to insure the preservation of tranquility. This battalion of marines, which will be the first to occupy Pinar del Rio, was the force sent forward last night by special train. The orders came from Governor Taft at 6 o'clock and half an hour later the battalion had boarded a train for the west.

One thousand of Guerra's followers will go to Pinar del Rio in special trains, while 1800 others will start to march to their homes, taking with them their horses and extra mounts. It is the purpose eventually to restore all horses to their rightful owners.

It is believed that all the revolutionists in the vicinity of Havana will have been peacefully dispersed in three days. Generals Guerra and Del Castillo are actively co-operating to this end. Together with Guzman, the commander-in-chief of the rebels in Santa Clara province, they called at the American legation yesterday and renewed their promises of assistance. They also thanked Governor Taft for his courtesies. The fact that Guzman is acting in sincere co-operation is believed to preclude trouble of any consequence in the work of disarming the rebels in Santa Clara province, and no fears of disorders in other sections are entertained.

While the departure yesterday from Havana of ex-President Palma was an important event, Palma left the capital so quietly that the public did not realize he had gone until the news was given out in the afternoon papers. Only his cabinet ministers and a few intimate friends accompanied the ex-president and his family to the railroad station. Some of these friends went with the family fo Matanzas and did not return to Havana until they had seen the Palma family safe in the home of their friends in that city.

On the way from Havana to Matanzas Palma's special train stopped at two stations where the government volunteer forces were preparing to disarm and disband. When Colonel Rego, in command of the battalion at Campo Florido, boarded the private car and informed Palma what he was doing, the ex-president expressed his gratification and said that disarmament was in accordance with patriotic duty. At Jaruco Colonel Lima told Palma he had ordered his force to be mustered out, and that this would be his last act as an officer. Palma said to Lima that he had full confidence in the good faith of the United States and that he believed the American government intended to restore Cuban independence. He advised all to be patient and await the outcome, which he felt sure would be entirely acceptable.

Moody and Shaw to Leave Cabinet

Washington, Oct. 3.—Two retirements from the president's cabinet are slated for the coming winter. They are those of Attorney General Moody and Secretary of the Treasury Shaw. For one of the vacancies to be created the president will nominate Mr. Meyer, American ambassador to Russia, but for the other he is not yet ready to announce a successor.

CAMPAIGN BOOK OUT

Democrats Say That Panic Will Follow Present Boom

Washington, Oct. 3.—Bearing the motto "Equal Rights to All, Special Privileges to None," on its title page, the Democratic congressional campaign book has been issued. It contains 243 pages and a vast amount of matter designed to combat the claims and policies of the Republican party, while at the same time it upholds all the principles for which Democracy contends. Tariff, trusts and combines, corruption and scandals, the attitude of Democracy towards organized labor, the wage question, extravagance of Republican appropriations and other questions are discussed.

It is asserted that all the panics in this country have occurred under Republican auspices and with the highest protective tariff, and that "the present boom will be followed by a panic is only a question of time."

Numerous instances of Republican tariff changes are quoted, from which the deduction is made that in 45 years the Republicans have changed or revised the tariff law 48 times.

With relation to their attitude toward organized labor, the book asserts that the Democrats were the first to give it recognition. Taking up President Roosevelt's position on the question, it is declared that his "hostility to the labor element is no secret. He has expressed it in his books, in his official utterances and by his acts."

Labor Division on Politics

London, Oct. 3.—The labor movement in Great Britain is at present passing through an interesting phase. The Liberal section in parliament is led by John Burns and the Socialist section by James K. Hardie. The Federation of Miners took a ballot which is understood to have decided against joining the Hardie section. On the other hand, the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants passed a resolution in favor of adhesion to the Hardie section.

Futile Efforts to Wreck Trains

Geneva, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Three attempts were made within a few hours to wreck trains near this place. On each occasion ties, rails and planks were placed on the track at Clark's bridge. Each time the obstruction was discovered in time to prevent a collision. It was the evident purpose of the would-be wreckers to throw the trains off the bridge, which spans a small stream 30 feet below.

Democratic Convention Plans

Boston, Oct. 3.—While the permanent chairman of the Democratic state convention has not yet been selected by the party, John Cummings of Fall River has been agreed upon as chairman of the committee on resolutions and J. P. Feeney of Woburn as temporary chairman. George F. Williams will make the speech nominating John B. Moran for governor.

Death Relieved Awful Suffering

Vincennes, Ind., Oct. 3.—Literally cooked alive in a boiler into which steam was turned by mistake, Gustav F. Friend, a boilermaker, 40 years old, lived five hours with his flesh dropping from him in chunks. He remained conscious and arranged all his worldly affairs, bade his people goodbye and then prayed with his pastor till death came.

City Guards Thoroughly Armed

Odessa, Oct. 3.—The local theatre, where the Jewish company played, has been burned. A professor and two students perished in the flames. Police patrols and convoys are now supplied with rifles, in addition to revolvers and sabres. Guards on duty at public buildings have been ordered to have their rifles always loaded.

Seal Poachers' Ships Confiscated

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 3.—News was received by the steamer Bellerophon, from the Orient, of the seizure of the Japanese sealing schooners Taifuku and Daihan Tai Yo, owned by the company whose schooners raided St. Paul rookery. They were captured off Cooper island by a Russian warship and confiscated.

Found Bomb Makers' Nest

Kharkov, Oct. 3.—The police have discovered a bomb factory in the outskirts of the city. They took possession of more than 60 bombs and a quantity of other explosives and secured information leading to the discovery of other laboratories, where four more bombs were seized. Two arrests were made.

Thirty-Three Dead at Pensacola

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 3.—All Pensacola has joined in the work of rebuilding what the storm destroyed in one night and much progress has been made. Every large plant and manufacturing company has announced its intention of rebuilding at once. The list of known dead stands at 33.

Meikle Pleads Not Guilty

Salem, Mass., Oct. 3.—Edgar Meikle, the 15-year-old son of Charles S. G. Meikle, who was killed at Lynn on Nov. 6, 1905, was arraigned here before Judge De Courcey, charged with the murder of his father. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded to jail to await trial.

Sweden Fires Out Finns

Stockholm, Oct. 3.—The government has banished a number of Finnish students as vagrants and persons dangerous to society. Their return to Sweden is absolutely prohibited.

Cannot Speak too Highly of It

Editors of Quincy Daily Ledger:

I being an inmate of the Quincy City Hospital from April 24, 1906, until June 9, 1906, I think it my duty to write these few lines.

I cannot speak too highly of the Quincy City Hospital as I owe my life to it. I had a large operation performed of which I could not have recovered only from the best of care and kind treatment I received from the nurses and doctors.

Sincerely yours,
MARGARET FARRELL,
14 Filbert street, West Quincy.

Demonstration Lectures.

Quincy women will doubtless be glad to know that one of the famous women of New Enland is coming to their city and that they will have an opportunity of seeing her and hearing her speak. Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln will give a course of demonstration lectures on cookery in Brasse hall, Wollaston, on Monday afternoon beginning October eighth and each successive Monday for six weeks.

The people of Wollaston will be particularly anxious to greet Mrs. Lincoln for she has many friends there. She was one of the pioneers of Wollaston and made her home there from 1872 to 1894. It was at her suggestion that the Wollaston Literary club was started, which has changed its name and is now running as the Elliot club.

Mrs. Lincoln's activities however, were not long confined to Wollaston. In 1879 she became the first principal of the Boston Cooking School where she worked faithfully for six years until she resigned. Since then she has gained a world wide reputation as a writer and lecturer on domestic science. She wrote the "School Kitchen Text Book" and the "Boston Cook Book" of which over 100,000 copies have been sold. For ten years she was editor of a culinary magazine besides writing numberless articles for other magazines and papers. She has given nearly a thousand lectures on cookery in more than 300 towns and cities from Maine to California.

The lectures which she is now to give in Wollaston are for the benefit of the Wollaston Free Kindergarten. This object is a worthy one and will appeal especially to mothers but it would seem that without regard to the object every housekeeper ought to be interested in Mrs. Lincoln and her lectures. It is not often that a woman so celebrated is in our midst.

—James L. Smith of Roxbury, a Boston harbor pilot for 25 years, died on Tuesday, aged 56 years.

—Edward A. Kimball, C. S. D., of Chicago, will give a free lecture on Christian Science at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, at Braintree, Friday evening, Oct. 12.

of Weymouth for 1906—1907 was held in Odd Fellows's Opera house, East Weymouth on Monday afternoon. The directors were very fortunate in again securing Prof. Edward S. Morse, who spoke on "Household Art in Japan." There was music and a club social.

The Milton Woman's club held its first meeting of the season at the First Parish parlors on Monday afternoon at three o'clock. The meeting took the form of a reception to the new members by the officers, and was in charge of the hospitality committee.

The Old Colony club of Weymouth opens the club season on October 11th with a lecture-recital. Mr. Frederick W. Bancroft will speak on "Irish songs and Song Writers." The afternoon will close with a social tea with Mrs. Edward McBride as hostess.

The Brockton Woman's club intends this season to give one afternoon to each committee, the committees being: reception, hospitality, educational, art and travel, home, dramatic and social service.

The Philergians of Braintree opened the season Tuesday afternoon at the Cochato club. Rev. Frederick R. Griffin of All Souls church was the first speaker, and he was followed by Mr. Joseph Lee of Boston, vice president of Civic League, who spoke in the absence of Dr. Fairbanks the speaker advertised for the after noon, who was unable to be present.

CLUB NOTES.

Barbara Galpin says in the club column of the Somerville Journal: "In club life, as in home life, learn to stop helping before you get to the hindering line." This would be hard on some women who are great workers, but at the same time it is good common sense if rightly interpreted.

The autumn meeting of the state federation, to be held in Peabody on Wednesday, Nov. 7, will be devoted to reports of the St. Paul biennial, and an address on "Forestry," by Mr. Enos A. Mills of Colorado.

One of the most unique clubs in this vicinity is the Wintergreen club of Boston, in which to become eligible for membership one must have reached the age of fifty years.

Year after year club life runs along in nearly the same lines, bringing about reforms in such a quiet way that one hardly realizes how much has been accomplished. Quincy has been one of the cities in which a great deal of educational and philanthropic work has been done and without any excitement. The Quincy Women's club propose to continue the good work and enlarge the scope each year.

On Oct. 18th the seventh triennial convention of the World's W. C. T. U., is to be held at Tremont Temple, Boston, with the Massachusetts C. T. U. as hostesses. The union is organized in 58 separate countries and representatives will be in attendance from all parts of the world. Hospitalities will continue for the week beginning Thursday, Oct. 18. The formal programme will open with a banquet with Hon. John D. Long as toastmaster. Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson, President of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Massachusetts, is the General Chairman of the World's Convention Committee. Mrs. Stevenson has the assistance of strong committees, and a notable convention may be confidently expected.

In the recent address by Mrs. Sarah S. Platt Decker she said:—

"People say the clubs takes women away from home. My dear friends, we stayed away from home before there were any clubs. We stayed away for bargain sales, for parties, for theatres, for the circus. The club is to teach us to stay away from home with some good result. We have found the poor unkempt child; we have found the sad, abused child,—oh, the things we have found because we have joined hands to walk through the field of life! We are not hear to play, to dream, but to work with the heads, hands, and heart, to make conditions better."

Prof. Graham Taylor of Chicago said in a recent address, "I believe there is no place in Chicago where the interests of the city are better looked after than at the women's clubs."

The following appeal has been sent out by members of the Mass. State Federation: To All Out-of-Door Advertisers;—You are urged to co-operate in the widespread movement which is developing our parkways, public squares and private grounds. The abuse of billboard advertising now constitutes such a disfigurement in our cities, towns and country that it is a discredit to the advertisers and a menace to all public improvements. Instead of being favorably influenced by such advertising, we regard it with resentment, and ask every advertiser to show his good citizenship by refraining from all billboard advertising.

O'Connell Gains On Recount

A recount of the votes cast at the recent Democratic caucuses for Congressmen was held Tuesday night, by the Registrars, who used one of the rooms in the basement of City Hall. Both O'Connell and Logan were represented. Not a great while was consumed as there were but comparatively few votes to count.

The recount was held on the petition of Mr. Logan who hoped to find errors enough in his favor to carry the city. The result however gave Logan two votes less and O'Connell two more, a net gain of four for O'Connell.

Eating Carelessly

frequently causes stomach troubles, but careful eating will never right them. When your stomach is out of condition, it needs help that no food can supply. It must be thoroughly cleansed, settled and strengthened. Food never does this.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

are the greatest stomach medicine human skill ever compounded. Don't attempt to cure your stomach by dieting. You will half starve and get little benefit. Give Beecham's Pills a chance and you will again know the pleasures of a sound digestion. Appetite will return and the stomach again work without any discomfort. The skin will clear, the face plump out, while people will remark "How well you're looking." These are facts, not fancies. Prove it yourself.

A Blessing for People of Quincy

Publication Committee:

Dear Sirs:—I have nothing but words of praise for the Quincy City Hospital, and consider it a blessing for the people of Quincy. One cannot appreciate the good it is doing unless they have been a patient there. I was taken to the Hospital the first of April and operated on for appendicitis.

The treatment I received from the matron and nurses I cannot speak too highly of, and they should be shown respect by all.

Yours truly,
Frank L. Carlton.

Words Fail to Express Gratitude

Daily Ledger:

Early last spring I was taken to the Quincy City Hospital, being very sick, and words fail to express my gratitude for the care and kind treatment I received from the doctor, matron and nurses, and I sincerely hope that the collection during Hospital Week may be a grand success.

Two Hundred Pounder.

In Charles F. Jenney of Hyde Park the senate of 1907 will have a lawyer of high calibre, and a two hundred pounder physically. But though a heavyweight, and portly, Mr. Jenney is modest, and not given to long speeches. It is an odd coincidence that there should be a second Hyde Park lawyer named Jenney, who has been urged as a candidate for the superior bench.—Record.

OCTOPUS LAUNCHED

Japanese and United States Navies Are Represented

Another launching, the fourth within a few weeks, was held at the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. this morning. The boat launched was the second of the four submarines being built by The Electric Boat Co. for the United States Navy, and was christened "Octopus."

Noon was given out as the time for the launching and many who reached the scene before twelve o'clock were disappointed, because the dip was taken at 11.37.

The launch today was a private one, being limited to a few invited guests who were admitted by ticket to the yard and building in which the submarines are built. The shores of Weymouth Fore river are open to the public however, and many witnessed the launch from the shores and from sailing craft in the river.

The greatest secrecy has been maintained in the building of these boats, and no one outside of the workmen and officials has been allowed to enter the building where they are. For this reason no description of the boats has been given out, other than the Octopus is 105 feet long, and the largest in the fleet.

When the first of these boats, the Cuttlefish, was launched Sept. 1, there was a little hitch, owing to her getting stuck on the ways, just as she was about to enter the water. This time, however, there was no hitch, and she took to the water as gracefully as a duck.

As she slid off the ways into the water her bow went down and it looked for a minute as though she would be submerged. She quickly righted herself, however, and rode gracefully on the water. She was immediately taken in tow and taken to the fitting out dock, where she will be made ready for her trials which will be held in a few weeks off Peddocks Island.

A special car for the invited guests was attached to the train leaving Boston at 10.45. This was run over the company's private track from East Braintree to the yard arriving there at 11.30. The guests quickly entered the building where the boats were, and were given admission to the launching stand, that had been built about the bow of the boat.

This stand was decorated with the National colors while the international code flags were suspended over the Octopus from bow to stern. In the little tower on the top of the boat were two men who are to accompany the boat on its maiden trip.

Preparations to launch the boat were immediately commenced and at 11.37 she was seen to move. As she started down the ways little Miss Frances Webster, the 12 year old daughter of Edwin S. Webster of Boston, pulled the string which drew a sharp knife over a rope.

The severing of the rope allowed a bottle of wine to fall against the bow of the boat. As it struck the steel plates of the boat it was smashed into a thousand pieces and Miss Webster in a clear voice said, "I christen thee, Octopus."

The shrill whistles in the yard and from the craft in the river, as well as cheers from the guests and workmen gathered about, announced to the world that another sailing craft had been added to the war fleet of Uncle Sam.

Immediately after the launch the guests at the launch were entertained at lunch by the builders, and at a little after 1 o'clock the special car was taken back to East Braintree and attached to the 1.50 train for Boston.

Miss Webster who was sponser for the Octopus was accompanied by twenty young misses.

Among the invited guests present were the following:

Commander E. H. Scribner
Commander John L. Gow
Naval Constructor R. M. Watt
Lieut. W. B. Tardy
Lieut. Ernest R. Pollock
Lieut. H. L. Brinsner

Express Agent And Money Missing

A C. O. D. package from Jordan, Marsh & Co., valued at $81, and consigned to H. G. Smith, was stolen early Wednesday morning from the Hancock street office of the Austin-Winslow and Gallagher Express Co.

That same morning a young man called at Mr. Smith's residence and delivered the package and collected the money.

From circumstances surrounding the case the police believe the guilty party to have been Arthur H. Mulligan, who had been working for the express company for two days. On Tuesday he delivered an express package at Mr. Smith's residence and Mrs. Smith says that the man who delivered the package Tuesday and the man who collected the C. O. D. on Wednesday are the same party.

The police have learned that Mulligan went to Boston Wednesday morning, since which time he has not been seen. He purchased two tickets and was accompanied by another young fellow supposed to be William Melaney, who has been employed at Brooks market.

They traced Mulligan to Seigel's store, where they lost track of him. At this store Mulligan purchased a suit of clothes, paying $15 for them. These he put on and then shipped his old suit to Quincy by the Austin-Winslow and Gallagher Express Co.

The bundle of old clothes arrived all right, but up to this morning had not been claimed, and no word has been heard of the whereabouts of Mulligan or his supposed companion.

The $1 Deposit At Evening School

The question has been asked why it was that the School Committee turned down the proposition to have all who register for the evening schools deposit $1, to be returned at the end of the session to those who have attended fifty per cent. of the sessions and return all city property in good condition.

A member of the School Committee, when interviewed, said that while he did not wish to be quoted on the matter, the proposition was turned down for legal reasons.

The laws of the Commonwealth compel school attendance, and also compel the establishment of evening schools, and in the opinion of the board it could not legally compel those who registered to make a deposit of $1.

Old Folks' Association.

The ushers were R. M. Lothrop and Arthur Smith, both of Dorchester.

The bride wore an embroidered lawn, and carried white roses, and the bridesmaid who wore a white Swiss muslin also carried a bouquet of roses.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Charles F. Jenney, the candidate for Senator was 46 years old Sept. 16. He was graduated from the Boston University and also from the Law school. He has for 22 years been a lecturer at the law school, also town attorney for Hyde Park and attorney for Norfolk county. He has been prominently mentioned for the Superior bench and his friends say he will go higher.

H. D. Humphrey, the candidate for county treasurer, can depend on Quincy for hearty Republican support. The Quincy delegates made his nomination unanimous, and propose to work for him. His experience as chairman of the boards of selectmen and assessors of Dedham, and also in the Legislature, and his high standing as a citizen, make him a very desirable candidate for the office. He is already acquainted with the county officials and affairs at the court house, and his election is assured.

For the young people of Quincy who are anxious to succeed in life and earn larger salaries there are many opportunities. After leaving the day schools there are the Plymouth business school, the free evening schools of the city, the evening classes of the Quincy Y. M. C. A., and also the classes at the Boston Y. M. C. A. and the Boston Y. M. C. U. Members of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. are privileged to attend the institute of the Boston Y. M. C. A., and should investigate the numerous courses offered in law, in finance, in commerce, in preparatory school, and special studies under competent instructors.

Eight cents per quart for milk is really little enough, especially in winter when cows must be fed indoors, and when milkmen must travel about before daylight in the morning or after dark at night in all kinds of weather. Mt. Wollaston farm and many others have given up milk business because it did not pay. Farmers about the state who send their milk to Boston and who are at the mercy of the wholesalers, are even worse off and it is not surprising that many farmers make butter instead. The enforcement of health laws may have something to do with the price of milk. It is better to pay a little more and get pure milk.

The demand of the Brookline delegates at the Republican county convention, that Brookline should because of its wealth name the candidates for county treasurer, and the bombastic way the demand was presented, caused a smile by the delegates, and there was applause when the gentleman who presented the name of Mr. Richardson said he would say no more. Government by the rich has received some hard knocks this year. If the laws of taxation were just, Brookline would not be the favored community which it is. If the Metropolitan park, water and sewer assessments were levied equitably upon valuation, her assessments would be larger, and the burden upon Quincy and other towns would be lifted.

Here and There About the City

The Wollaston Social Club will give another party next Wednesday evening at Brasee's hall.

The Brockton fair has power to dispell heavy fogs as well as rain, and thus far the weather has been perfect.

All who heard Rev. Sumner R. Vinton's lecture last June will be pleased to know that he will give his lecture on "Ko San Ye and His Work" Sunday evening in the Baptist church, Wollaston.

All of the staging on the Hancock street front of the new High school building has been removed and the building now presents quite an imposing appearance. When completed it will be quite a grand building.

DEFEAT OF MORAN

Former Friends Are Endeavoring to Accomplish It

TROUBLE OVER PLATFORM

"Regulars" Make Strong Effort to Retain Control of Party Organization, but Moran Declares That It Will Be Otherwise

Boston, Oct. 4.—For the first time in many years the gathering of delegates for the Democratic state convention found arrangements far from complete, with the platform committee at odds over certain resolutions and scarcely any of the convention officers selected.

The supporters of John B. Moran for the nomination for governor announced that John P. Feeney of Woburn would be made temporary chairman of the convention and that a program conforming to the wishes of the candidate would, if need be, be jammed through despite any opposition.

Until within the past few days it was generally believed that with a large majority of the delegates pledged to, or at least favoring, the candidacy of Moran, there would be scarcely a breath of opposition to him in the convention. But rumors of a strenuous effort to defeat the Boston district attorney are heard at the Revere house, where, as usual, the delegates met to exchange their credentials for tickets to the convention.

The leaders of the Moran movement scoff at any such opposition, but, nevertheless, they are circumspect as to what their program may be, and refuse to name their candidate for permanent chairman of the convention and also decline to intimate the features of the platform.

The first intimation of any opposition to Moran came a few days ago in the resignation of Joseph A. Dennison, the first assistant district attorney, and the placing of an advertisement in the local papers advocating the election of Moran as governor and William R. Hearst as president.

Mr. Moran repudiated the advertisement and it was found that it had been inserted by Timothy W. Coakley, a brother-in-law of Dennison. The tension between Moran and his former friends at once became strained, and has ever since been rapidly growing more intense, with Mayor Fitzgerald looming up as a factor in the opposition against Moran.

Incidentally Moran has summoned a number of persons connected with city hall, including reporters of the daily papers, to testify before the grand jury on a charge that the newspaper owned by Mayor Fitzgerald had tried to influence or intimidate voters at the primaries.

The opposition to Moran is still in evidence and there is every indication of a bitter fight in the convention.

The opponents of Moran made a strong effort last evening to retain control of the party organization. Moran and his followers refused to yield any of the fruits won at the primaries last month.

During the evening, at a meeting of the state committee, Chairman Quincy tendered his resignation, which was laid on the table. The committee also appointed a sub-committee to draft a resolution for the convention endorsing Bryan for president.

The fight to retain control of the state committee was made by Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, Josiah Quincy and James H. Vahey. Moran was represented at the conference by John P. Feeney. Fitzgerald offered to abstain from any fight in the convention and turn over the entire organization of that body to the Moran leaders, provided that he would choose the seven Boston members of the state committee which would have given the present party leaders control over the organization for at least two years. The conference lasted far into the night and ended with Feeney's ultimatum from Moran in which the district attorney declared his intention of taking full control of the party in this state.

Mayor Fitzgerald refused to state whether he would carry the contest to the floor of the convention. As Moran practically swept the state in the late primaries, it is difficult to understand how the minority in today's convention can defeat his efforts to reap the entire fruits of his victory.

War on the Bosses

Providence, Oct. 4.—At a harmonious convention of delegates representing the Democrats of Rhode Island the following state ticket was nominated: For governor, J. H. Higgins, Pawtucket; lieutenant governor, Charles Sisson, Providence; secretary of state, William Palmer, East Providence; attorney general, E. M. Sullivan, Cranston; state treasurer, J. H. Archambault, Warwick. The platform adopted dealt almost entirely with state questions, calling for constitutional revision, the overthrow of so-called "bossism" and the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Nominee Hearst Accepts

New York, Oct. 4.—The Independence League, which nominated William R. Hearst for governor, has received from Hearst the letter accepting the league's nomination. The letter says that the object of the Independence League is to resist the attacks upon human liberty; upon government of the people menaced by corporation rule and to resist the attacks upon general prosperity by those same corporations and by dishonest financial agencies.

Decent Government the Issue

New York, Oct. 4.—With the declaration that the issue in the forthcoming campaign in this state is not to be one of Republican principles or of Democratic principles, or a partisan issue at all, but the vital issue of decent government, Charles E. Hughes last night formally accepted the nomination for governor, which was brought to him by a committee from the Republican state convention recently held at Saratoga.

Hoke Smith an Easy Winner

Atlanta, Oct. 4.—Returns from the election indicate that a light vote has been polled over the state. The Democratic ticket, headed by Hoke Smith for governor, has been elected by the usual majority, there being no opposition except the Socialists, headed by J. B. Osborne.

Will Try Box Car Oratory

New York, Oct. 4.—The State and Municipal Ownership party held a convention and nominated a full state ticket headed by Joseph W. Cody of New York city for governor. It was announced that Cody would make a whirlwind campaign in a box car, following closely in the wake of Hearst.

MISSING FOR A YEAR

Woman Fears Nihilists Have Enticed Husband From Home

Medford, Mass., Oct. 4.—The disappearance of John McGowan of this city, over a year ago, which has not been made public by his wife until within a day or two, was attended with such suspicious circumstances that Mrs. McGowan believes that he was enticed away by some Russian society whose meetings he was wont to attend quite frequently.

She fears that he may have met with foul play, or else has become so strongly imbued with nihilist or principles of similar nature, that he has forsaken his wife and family to associate himself with that movement.

McGowan, who is the father of six children, disappeared from his home on the morning of July 18, 1905. He was a first-class machinist.

Mr. and Mrs. McGowan came to America from England about 14 years ago. Up to the time he became acquainted with his Russian associates, one of whom seemed to exert a great influence over him, he was never known to leave his home at night.

His wife, who did not wish to make the fact of his disappearance public because she thought that he would return home any day, has come to the conclusion that he was either inveigled away or else has met with foul play.

Dreadnought Has Made Good

London, Oct. 4.—The battleship Dreadnought has started on a 30-hour consecutive steam trial. In several preliminary short trials she has proved a distinct success from the point of view of handiness in maneuvering. As the Dreadnought is the first example of the use of turbine engines in a warship intended to maneuver and fight in company with other units of corresponding power, her success is regarded with great satisfaction in naval circles and attributed entirely to her double rudders.

Americans In German Trust

Berlin, Oct. 4.—The Deutsche Fleischer Zeitung, the organ of the German Butchers' association, publishes a sensational letter from a member of the agrarian party to General Von Podbielski, the Prussian minister of agriculture, in which it is declared that the agrarians have received an offer to monopolize the meat supply of Germany with the aid of American capital.

A Dishonest City Father

Pittsburg, Oct. 4.—The first of the sensational "graft" cases against three councilmen and other citizens was finished last evening when the jury found Councilman Max Friedman guilty of having aided and abetted in the maintenance of a house for immoral purposes.

Has Poor Opinion of Stolypin

London, Oct. 4.—A cablegram from St. Petersburg to The Morning Press says that the French ambassador to Russia, M. Bompard, according to report, will be recalled because he has expressed himself in strong terms against the regime of Premier Stolypin.

A MINE EXPLOSION

Hundred Men May Possibly Have Been Entombed

DIFFICULTY IN RESCUING

Disaster Occurred Two and a Half Miles From Mine's Mouth --Difinite Results of Disaster Not Yet Known

Bluefield, W. Va., Oct. 4.—As the result of an explosion at the West Fork mines of the Pocahontas Collieries company, where the explosion of 1902 occurred, in which Superintendent O'Mally and 16 others lost their lives, many men are supposed to be entombed. Two rescue parties have entered the mines and two men named Dolbert and Godash have been rescued and revived.

The mine is reported to be on fire and the work of rescue is retarded. The cause of the explosion is not determined. Great excitement prevails in the neighborhood of the mines. Crowds of men, women and children remain around the drift mouth anxiously awaiting news of relatives and friends among the missing.

The explosion took place in what is known as the St. Paul entry of the mine. Reports of the number entombed men vary from 60 to 100 men. The lack of brattice cloth helps to retard the rescue work and a carload of it is being hurried forward on a special train from Bluefield. The definite results of the explosion will not be known for perhaps 12 hours.

The force of the explosion was hardly noticeable at the mines' mouth, as the entry in which it occurred is two and a half miles in the mountains. A number of men in the south mines were almost suffocated before they were rescued.

Boy Kidnapped For Ransom

New York, Oct. 4.—Willie Labarbera, the 5-year-old son of the proprietor of a delicatessen store here, is believed by his parents to be in the hands of kidnappers who are holding him for a ransom. The child has been missing since Sept. 21. The night of his disappearance a letter was received by the father, saying: "Do not look for your son, as we have him. If you do look for him, harm is likely to come to him. We will write again."

Made Fortune From Nothing

New York, Oct. 4.—Edward B. Wesley, 95 years old, said to be the oldest active banker in New York, died in his country home in Portchester. He was employed as a carpenter's helper near Boston. After years of toil he started to walk to this city. When he arrived he had $2.31. He secured a position as office boy and worked himself up to the high position which he held in the affairs of Wall street until his death.

To Build the Canal by Contract

Washington, Oct. 4.—A tentative decision has been reached by Chairman Shonts of the isthmian canal committee that the Panama canal be built by contract. It is understood that President Roosevelt has not abandoned his contemplated trip to Panama and will not unless the Cuban situation or some other question should become so acute as to require his presence in Washington.

Wrangle Over Purse Seines

St. Johns, Oct. 4.—The colonial government is actively preparing to enforce the fisheries laws against American vessels seining herring on the west coast. The cabinet here is yet awaiting a final declaration by the imperial authorities respecting the American claim that the use of purse seines is permissable, which is the principal issue in dispute.

TALK OF JINGOES

It Is Causing Embarrassment to President Roosevelt

WILL BE NO ANNEXATION

Final Decision to Make Magoon Provisional Governor of Cuba --Disarming of Rebels Is Proceeding Quietly

Washington, Oct. 4.—Republican orators who are going about declaring that the Americans have gone into Cuba to stay will have to revise their speeches or find themselves at variance with the president and his cabinet. The formal announcement that the president is strenuously opposed to annexation was accompanied with an intimation that those Republicans who are preaching annexation are embarrassing the president and his subordinates who are setting about to restore an independent government in Cuba.

Under the policy the president and his cabinet have adopted only one condition can bring about the annexation of the island—the determination of the Cubans themselves not to attempt to maintain a government of their own. The president does not expect any such condition to arise. He has faith to believe that there is enough patriotism among the Cuban people to support an honest effort on the part of the United States to restore home rule. The policy was adopted by the administration without any discussion. Every member of the cabinet here stands at the president's back.

The president and his advisers believe that any other course would be in controvention of the spirit of the Platt amendment and an upsetting of the policy which Secretary Root outlined in many speeches in South America and Central America. Unquestionably the administration is aware that the annexationists in both this country and in Cuba propose to do all they can to embarrass the effort to restore an independent government and withdraw as soon as possible, but the hope is expressed by the administration that Republican members of congress will see the wisdom of ceasing to declare that the United States has gone into the island to stay.

It is the expectation that the determined stand of the president and his cabinet on the question of annexation will silence the jingoes throughout the country, who have been trying to make it appear that the administration had an ulterior motive in intervening in the island.

The president had reached his intention late yesterday not to send Governor Magoon to Cuba, as announced earlier in the day, because of advices then in hand from Secretary Taft intimating that the arrangements made for Governor Winthrop assuming the duties of provisional governor had gone too far to be changed conveniently. A later dispatch from the secretary, however, put the matter in a different light, and indicated that the secretary was willing that Winthrop should remain in Porto Rico.

President Roosevelt, who has all along been anxious to have Magoon go to Cuba, acted promptly on Taft's dispatch and immediately announced the appointment of Magoon. This decision leaves Winthrop to finish important work which he has in hand in Porto Rico and will delay for but a few months Magoon's departure for the Philippines.

WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Former Rebels Are Surrendering Their Arms to Americans

Havana, Oct. 4.—The willing alacrity with which the rebels are laying down their arms to the commission appointed to superintend that important phase of the termination of the revolution is the greatest surprise the provisional government has yet encountered in its smooth working program.

This operation is now well under way in the vicinity of Havana, 700 of Guerra's men, with their horses, having already been entrained for Pinar del Rio, while one brigade marched to Gunajay without a sign of disorder.

Hundreds of persons from Havana went out to Santiago de Las Vigas to view the disarmament. They were disappointed at not seeing the rebels actually surrender their guns, but nevertheless they witnessed an interesting sight. As a concession to the men General Funston and Major Ladd permitted them to take their arms to Pinar del Rio, where most of the men joined the insurgent army. The rifles, however, were first counted by officers of marine under the direction of Ladd, and the men will be required to surrender them before leaving the train at Pinar del Rio.

The speech delivered by Governor Taft before the University of Havana has been received with great satisfaction by both the revolutionists and the government party in Santa Clara province.

Governor Taft now occupies the office in which the affairs of Cuba have been administered successively by the Spanish governors of the island, General Wood and President Palma. He established himself in these quarters yesterday afternoon. He will take up his residence in the palace in a few days.

Colonel Crowder, judge advocate, says that the continuance of the status of the Cuban republic without change obviates practically every legal difficulty which might otherwise have been caused by the establishment of a provisional government.

Alger Was For Taking Cuba

Detroit, Oct. 4.—Senator Alger, former secretary of war, commenting on the Cuban situation, said: "I was in favor of taking over Cuba at the time we took over Porto Rico, but President McKinley and some of the others in the cabinet did not agree with me. I have always entertained serious doubts as to the success of self-government in Cuba, but it may be that the action of the American government in this crisis will bring home to the Cubans the full sense of their responsibility to themselves and point the way more clearly to them in the work of taking care of themselves. I personally would prefer to see Cuba develop into a strong independent republic than to have it annexed to the United States just now, for I think we have enough to do as it is."

Buying Mules For Use In Cuba

East St. Louis, Ills., Oct. 4.—Two carloads of mules were inspected by a corps of government inspectors and shipped to Newport News, Va., making the first official move in filling the rush order placed by the government for 1600 mules and horses to be used by the soldiers in Cuba. The 1600 animals must be in Newport News within 15 days and will be shipped from there directly to Cuba.

Hemenway's Prediction

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—In a speech delivered at Evansville, United States Senator Hemenway predicted that the United States flag has been raised in Cuba to stay, and that it will never be hauled down. "Again," he said, "a question confronts us that will require the greatest intellect and statesmanship of a great party."

Cienfuegos Militia Disarmed

Cienfuegos, Oct. 4.—The militia of this city was disarmed quietly, and General Machado's rebels at Santa Clara and Placetas are being disarmed under the direction of their commanders. All is quiet at Cienfuegos and in central and southern Santa Clara. Governor Taft's diplomacy is lauded on all sides.

Plea For Home Merchant Marine

Cleveland, Oct. 4.—The Merchant Marine League of the United States, through President Goulder of this city, has issued a statement in connection with the Cuban situation and deploring the necessity of the employment of European steamships for the transportation of troops.

Bold Bank Robbery and Murder

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—Two robbers entered the Kimmon Kinko, a Japanese bank, also known as the Golden Gate bank, at noon, and, after fatally beating S. Urakata, the manager of the bank, and seriously injuring A. Nassaki, a clerk, with a piece of gas pipe, escaped with $5000 in gold. Urakata died two hours later from his injuries. Urakata was acting as teller of the bank. It is thought that the robbers are the same men who recently killed two merchants in their stores in this city.

Alleged Passer of Bad Checks

Boston, Oct. 4.—Clement H. Reed, 36 years old, was arrested by State Officers Smith and Grady, who charge him with the wholesale uttering of worthless checks. Reed worked for the Hawes Manufacturing company of Boston up to a few weeks ago and since that time, the police say, he has been visiting customers and inducing them to cash checks drawn in the name of the company. His peculations amount, the police say, to about $1000.

Mobile Business Almost Normal

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 4.—The work of clearing away the wreckage has progressed so far that some semblance of the lower portion of the city has been restored and business is assuming normal conditions. The saloons were allowed to be opened today under restrictions for the first time since last Wednesday night. Street cars are being operated.

Brown Pleads Not Guilty

Boston, Oct. 4.—Henry A. Brown, the negro who shot Charles F. Queen, also a negro, at the Park street station of the subway, was arraigned for a hearing in the municipal criminal court. He pleaded not guilty and was held without bail for another hearing on Oct. 12. Immediately after the hearing he was taken to jail.

Strike Hampers Mail Carriage

Baltimore, Oct. 4.—Apparently the licensed officers of bay steamboats are winning the fight for increased pay which they are waging against the railway companies. Twenty-one vessels are tied up. The carriage of United States mails is now disarranged.

Big Purse Goes to Siliko

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—Siliko, bay son of Moko and Silikon, won the $14,000 Kentucky futurity at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeder association's track from the best field of 3-year-olds that have faced the starter this year.

INJUNCTIONS SOUGHT

Merger Legislation Echoed In Action Against Railroad

Boston, Oct. 4.—Attorney General Malone has filed an information in the supreme court against the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, the allegation being that the railroad has directly and indirectly subscribed for the stock and bonds of certain domestic railways. In other words, the attorney general charges that the railroad is engaged in a kind of business not authorized by its charter, and injunctions in restraint thereof are sought.

This action came as an echo of the merger legislation agitation that filled with excitement the closing hours of the last session of the legislature. When the general court failed to pass the anti-merger bill urged by Governor Guild, the latter addressed himself to the railroad commissioners, calling attention to the New York, New Haven and Hartford's street railway holdings. The railroad board, on the governor's initiative, investigated the situation and made a report to the attorney general.

Although it has been published that the New Haven road has practically given up its street railway holdings as a corporation, the attorney general still believes there are important legal questions involved on which the supreme court ought to pass, hence the filing of proceedings against the road in the supreme judicial court.

A Public Horsewhipping

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 4.—Because he had slandered her, as she claims, Mrs. William Rowan severely horsewhipped James H. McDougall, a railroad brakeman, at the Union depot. The stout whalebone whip was plied with vigor by the angry woman, while her husband and his brother stood by, ready to defend her if need be. Mrs. Rowan stopped only when McDougall broke away and ran to cover. Later McDougall applied for police protection, as he feared further trouble. He refused, however, to swear out a warrant against Mrs. Rowan.

Judge Connected With Suits

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 4.—Judge Rugg, the newly-appointed justice of the Massachusetts supreme court, was found to be disqualified in so many of the cases called in the supreme court in this city, on account of his having been connected at some time or other with them that Judge Loring, who was sitting in Boston, was sent for and presided here in his stead. On this account it is not expected that Rugg will act in his official capacity in his own county for some time to come.

Kelley Held For Trial

Boston, Oct. 4.—Shaun Kelley, the companion of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., in last Thursday night's escapade on the common, was arraigned in the municipal criminal court. He was accompanied by his counsel. The charge against him is of assault and battery on Lawrence Fraher, no mention being made in the complaint that the latter is a police officer. Kelley pleaded not guilty, and was held for a trial on Oct. 10, the bail being fixed at $200, which was furnished.

Long Journey to Make Arrest

Bellows Falls, Vt., Oct. 4.—With a warrant for the arrest on a charge of embezzlement of Eugene A. Norwood, a former hardware dealer of Bellows Falls, who is now engaged in the cultivation of oranges in Redlands, Cal., Sheriff Thompson is journeying to California. In two civil suits brought by G. A. Weston as administrator of the estate of the late Hannah W. Towns, it is alleged that Norwood has held back funds of the estate amounting to $12,000.

"May Die Any Moment"

Taunton, Mass., Oct. 4.—"That Jane Toppan continues still alive is a much discussed wonder here. She may die any moment," said a physician connected with the Taunton insane asylum, when asked concerning the condition of the notorious murderess. The wonder is how Jane Toppan continues to exist on the small amount of food it is found possible to persuade her to eat. She believes everyone about her is trying to poison her.

Collision In Railroad Yard

Bennington, Vt., Oct. 4.—Passengers on a south-bound flyer from Rutland to New York were delayed for more than three hours by the collision of their train with a freight in the railroad yard here. None of the passengers were injured and as the trains were proceeding at a reduced rate of speed many of the passengers hardly knew that an accident had occurred. Both engines were badly damaged.

Weds Chum of His Daughter

Brookline, Mass., Oct. 4.—Samuel Williams, the millionaire woolen manufacturer and mill owner, was quietly married to Miss Marion Seaverns at the Seaverns home in this town. Williams is about 65 years old and a widower, and his bride is about 33. She was an intimate friend of Williams' daughter and they attended the same school.

Vermont Legislature Organizes

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 4.—Both branches of the Vermont legislature have organized for the 19th biennial session. Committees to canvass the vote cast in the recent state election were appointed, and the drawing of seats took place. The organization of the senate and house was effected with entire harmony of action.

Steamer Bumped Into Bridge

Hartford, Oct. 4.—While coming up the Connecticut river steamer Hartford bumped her nose against one of the piers of the new railroad bridge at Lyme, in course of construction, and was badly damaged. The vessel will have to go into drydock for repairs.

Dismissed on Payment of Costs

The continued case of George Johnson, for assault on Henry Raynor at Quincy, was heard before Judge Avery in the district court this morning.

The alleged assault took place last August at a quarry at West Quincy. It was one noon while Raynor was asleep that it is alleged that Johnson in a spirit of fun rubbed a lot of oil on Raynor's face. Raynor was taken to the hospital and lost the use of one eye.

When the case was called this morning John D. McKay appeared as counsel for Johnson. The trial had not proceeded far, however, before Lawyer McKay, becoming provoked with the court, withdrew from the case.

The evidence of a doctor from the Eye and Ear Infirmary was that the loss of Raynor's eye was due to other causes than the oil.

The court dismissed the case upon the payment by Johnson of the costs amounting to $10.20.

Sudden Death.

Malachi Kane, aged 37 years, and unmarried dropped dead at the Fore River yards on Wednesday. Kane boarded at 33 Winter street, although his home was in Roxbury, where the body was taken this morning. Heart trouble is given as the cause of his death.

The Norfolk County Republican convention did not think thirteen an unlucky number. It nominated the following as a district committee: Charles H. Pearson of Brookline, J. H. Soliday of Dedham, W. B. Thurber of Milton, E. B. Nevin of Weymouth, E. R. Stone of Quincy, L. E. Flye of Holbrook, F. S. Katzman of Hyde Park, Ephraim Snow, Jr., of Cohasset, H. T. Child of Needham, O. T. Mason of Medway and Fred L. Fisher of Norwood.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

BEFORE GRAND JURY

President Roosevelt's Son Must Testify In Assault Case

Boston, Oct. 3.—Theodore Roosevelt Jr., and several of his fellow students at Harvard, together with two police officers from station 4, have been summoned before the Suffolk county grand jury in connection with the investigation by that body of assault upon one of the officers on Boston common last Thursday evening.

At the time of the assault Roosevelt and several other Harvard students were taken to station 4, but afterwards released. The next day Police Commissioner O'Meara issued a statement to the effect that the case would be more fully investigated and an attempt made to obtain a warrant for Roosevelt's arrest. The son of the president, accompanied by his counsel, appeared before Judge Sullivan of the municipal court on Saturday and after an explanation of the episode the warrant was refused and it was believed that the affair had been closed. The whole matter will now be reopened by the action of the grand jury.

Shaun Kelley of Fitchburg, roommate of Roosevelt and president of the sophomore class of Harvard, was arrested last night on a warrant issued by the municipal court of this city charging an unknown person with an assault upon a police officer. He was taken to the Cambridge police station, where he furnished bail, and will appear in the municipal court of this city for a hearing.

Delay In Waterman Case

Guildhall, Vt., Oct. 3.—It was stated here that in all probability the Waterman poisoning case will not be considered by the Essex county court, which opened its sessions here yesterday. More than a year ago Robert Waterman of Victory was indicted for murder in the first degree. This procedure followed the investigation into the sudden death of the prisoner's 3-year-old daughter, Lilla. It was alleged that two wives of the prisoner and four of the children had died suddenly and under suspicious circumstances within a few years.

Mistake In Drawing Indictment

Boston, Oct. 3.—Alderman David White of Chelsea was found not guilty and discharged by the jury which had been hearing the evidence in his case. The feature of the trial was the admission by Assistant District Attorney Dennison that the indictment against White had been drawn under the wrong law, the "common law" being followed, instead of the statutes. White was charged with soliciting a contribution of $100 for his vote from Hudson L. Hall, candidate for election as city auditor.

Roosevelt Backs Sailor's Suit

Newport, R. I., Oct. 3.—The suit brought by Chief Yeoman Buenzle against the Newport Amusement company for refusing him admission, while in uniform, to a dance hall controlled by that organization, has been assigned for a jury trial in the superior court. Buenzle sued the company for $5000, and President Roosevelt and Rear Admiral Thomas both have contributed to the yeoman's expenses of the trial, making the matter a test case for the honor of the American uniform.

Mysterious Poisoning Case

Boston, Oct. 3.—The death of Thomas F. Shaughnessy of Everett at the emergency hospital from poisoning has been made the subject of police investigation and an autopsy on the body has been arranged. Shaughnessy became violently ill in a Boston drug store after he had drunk a quantity of rhubarb and limewater, and he continued to grow worse at the hospital until his death. Men who were with Shaughnessy also became ill, although they afterwards recovered.

Warning Against Mad Dogs

Hartford, Oct. 3.—H. O. Averill commissioner on domestic animals, is sending to town officials throughout the state a letter calling attention to the necessity of protection from mad dogs. The letter emphasizes the fact that the towns are responsible for the care of canines and says that "the belief that rabies prevails only in dog days, or during warm weather, is not warranted by facts."

Alleged Embezzler Denies Guilt

Salem, Mass., Oct. 3.—James V Felker, former city treasurer of Newburyport, under indictment for embezzlement of the city's funds, was taken from jail and arraigned in the superior court. He pleaded not guilty to the 16 counts of the indictment and was taken back to jail. No date was set for his trial. The amount of the alleged embezzlement was between $80,000 and $100,000.

Escaped With Singed Hair

Danbury, Conn., Oct. 3.—As Mrs. J. M. Cuneo was driving a large steam car in the automobile race at the Danbury fair the machine suddenly burst into fire, the flames shooting up above the car to a height of 10 feet. Mrs. Cuneo brought the machine to a standstill and was snatched over the side by a policeman. Her hair was singed, but aside from this she suffered little injury.

Mayor Will Keep Hands Off

Boston, Oct. 3.—Mayor Fitzgerald announces that he will not interfere with the arrangements made by the Food Fair with the United States Marine band, which was engaged to furnish music during the exhibit in this city. The board of aldermen had voted to have Fitzgerald protest against the engagement of the band on the ground that it was a non-union organization.

Trial Trip of The Cuttlefish

The submarine Cuttlefisb, launched at the Fore River shipyard Sept. 1, went out Wednesday under her own power for a limbering up spin. She was accompanied by a tender. The Cuttlefish scooted about the island this side of Hull but made no attempt to dive. She was the observed of all observers along the shore and among the fishermen in the harbor.

Paid Ten Dollars For a Lantern

The next time Michael Proctor starts for the Brockton fair he will probably supply himself with a lantern before he starts and not depend upon those placed on open street trenches.

Proctor started from Cambridge with a hand engine for Brockton. As the team passed through Quincy early this morning, Proctor helped himself to a lantern placed on a trench at the corner of Hancock street and Merrymount road. When he took the lantern his vision was dimmed by the fog and his eye did not see Officer Milford, who stood near by.

The result was that Proctor's trip to Brockton was interrupted, and he spent the night with Sargeant Barry at the police station. This morning Judge Avery said $10 would settle the damages.

Bible Class.

The Saturday afternoon Bible class in Boston, under the leadership of Rev. Wm. T. McElveen, Ph.D., pastor of Shawmut Congregational church, is interdenominational and interurban, an institution for greater Boston. For the last few years, it has met in Park St. church; but hereafter, beginning Oct. 6, at 2.30 P. M., it will meet in Lorimer hall, Tremont Temple.

The Evangelistic association for the fourth year has engaged Dr. McElveen to conduct the class and to teach the International Sunday School lessons. The class is intended primarily for Sunday School teachers; but it is also for all who are interested in Bible study.

Mr. Lewis E. Smith, the evangelistic singer of the association, will conduct the music.

Dr. McElveen is regarded as a worthy successor of previous leaders of the class, inclusive of Dr. R. R. Meredith, Smith Baker and James M. Gray.

Republican Reception.

Several Quincy gentlemen attended the Republican reception on Thursday evening at the American House, including ex-Senator Eugene H. Sprague, ex-Representative E. W. Sheppard, City Solicitor W. R. Thomas, ex-Councilman E. F. DeNormandie, Rollin H. Newcomb, Ward Whitcher, Hon. John Shaw and many others.

In the receiving line were Gov. Guild, Lieut. Gov. Draper, Sec. Olin, Treasurer Chapin, Auditor Turner, Attorney General Malone, Attorney General Moody of President Roosevelt's cabinet, Senators Lodge and Crane, and Congressmen Weeks, Greene, Tirrell, Lawrence Gillette and Ames. Frank F. Prescott served on the reception committee which was kept very busy for an hour.

Boston Day at Brockton Fair.

Thursday was the biggest day yet at the Brockton fair, there being an attendance of 74,000 It was known as Boston day. The airship made three successful flights. The parachute performance was a great feature. The horse show was a centre of interest. The best time on the track was made by Conway in the 2.15 pace, 2.12 1-4.

There was a serious accident in the oval in the afternoon when a telephone pole fell. Among the injured were John B. Eaton, aged 83, of Braintree, and Miss Katherine Comefry of Cohasset.

Today, the last of the fair, is firemen's day and a muster is the great card.

Dedication Service at Germantown.

Under the direction of Capt. and Mrs. Howes, the chapel at Sailors' Snug Harbor has been undergoing thorough repairs, the past summer. On Sunday at 3 o'clock, special services are to be held there. The chaplain, Rev. A. R. Atwood, is to be assisted by the Rev. L. P. Atwood of South Weymouth, who will make the address of the afternoon. Special music will be rendered.

Boy Thrown from Wagon.

A Boston paper reports that William Redington, 18 years of age, living at 46 Copeland street, Quincy, was thrown from a wagon which he was driving at the junction of Dorchester avenue and Dorchester street late Thursday afternoon. At the City hospital it was found that he was suffering from a severe scalp wound and concussion of the brain.

Clothing Stolen.

Clothing valued at $50 was stolen sometime Thursday from the Yule House at Quincy Point. James McBeath lost a suit of clothes valued at $25, and Albert Stutzke a raglan coat valued at $25. The marks of the maker were on the clothing.

Ex Senator Bemis For Councillor

The Republican Councillor convention for this district was held on Thursday at Wesleyan hall, Boston, and Albion F. Bemis of Brookline was unanimously nominated to succeed Col. Sidney O. Bigney, who did not seek a reelection. Mr. Bemis was recently a resident of Foxboro, and was a leader in the House and Senate, serving one year as chairman of the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. He will bring to the office a thorough knowledge of the duties and responsibilities of a councillor.

Scott C. Bickford of Brookline was chairman of the convention, and Charles Sturtevant of Hyde Park, secretary.

The following district committee was appointed for 1907: Walter Carter of Taunton, Scott C. Bickford of Brookline, F. M. Salles of Boston, Irving P. Vose of Boston and Wallace Wilson of Braintree.

Wish Hospital Week A Great Success

Editors of Daily Ledger:

When I was taken sick I did not go to the Quincy City Hospital because I thought I could get better treatment there, but because it was nearer my home and I could get as good treatment there as in Boston.

Now, after having spent four weeks there, I think that the nurses and doctors cannot be praised too highly. In my opinion a patient cannot be better cared for even in the large Boston hospitals than in the City Hospital of Quincy, and if I were ill again I would not hesitate.

I thank the Publication Committee for giving me the opportunity of telling what I think of the Hospital and I wish the Hospital week a great success.

Yours truly,
HARRY G. STARR
Linfield street, Holbrook.

Good Work And Noble Work

Editors Quincy Daily Ledger:

As a patient in the Quincy Hospital for some weeks, I feel it a duty to do all I can which will in any way help, or assist the good and noble work which the Hospital has done, and will do in the future for the people of Quincy.

I will always remember with the greatest pleasure the kindly sympathy and care which I received from the matron and the corps of nurses, who always perform their arduous duties cheerfully and willingly, often under the most trying circumstances.

I think that Quincy should take great pride in an institution which does so much for the public good.

Yours sincerely,
FREDERICK S. SHEPHERD.

A. T. U. S. Whist.

A very enjoyable whist party was held in Colonial hall last evening under the auspices of the A. T. U. S. of Quincy. The eight souvenirs for the highest scores were very pretty and of considerable value. Mrs. W. C. Hart making the highest score for ladies and taking a chocolate pot and six cups and saucers of German china. Mr. A. C. Merritt with highest score for gentlemen received a dainty etching in a handsome gilt frame.

These parties are to be continued under the same management throughout the season on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month.

—The three masted schooner Herbert May was launched on Wednesday at Bath. It is 140 feet long.

Why Launching Was Ahead of Time

The reason the launch of the Octopus was ahead of time on Thursday was because of the tide. The official launching party from Boston had arrived, and the tide was rising so rapidly that it would have been too high if the launch had been postponed until noon.

General Manager Smith then decided that the only thing was to let her go. The signal was given and the soul pieces were sawed, and the launch was on.

The building where the submarines are built is close to the water's edge, and the tide made into the building.

As the launching party came away from the building quite a crowd were met coming through the yard toward the building where it was held. They were naturally disappointed.

MILTON.

John Keegan, superintendent of the East Milton post office, is having a two weeks' vacation.

The morning services at the Mission church will be resumed on Sunday. They will be under the direction of Robert Johnson, a lay reader. The evening services will commence at 7 o'clock, instead of 7.30.

The Milton Woman's club announce the following dates for the current event lectures by Mrs. May Alden Ward: Oct. 15, Nov. 19, Dec. 17, Jan. 21, Feb. 18, March 18, April 15, May 20. The lectures will be given in Assembly hall at the High school.

Rev. Mr. Crittiford, the new pastor of the East Milton Congregational church, was given a reception on Wednesday at the church, which was prettily decorated with potted plants and cut flowers for the occasion. It proved to be an enjoyable affair. Light refreshments were served.

A pleasing vocal and instrumental entertainment was given at the Baptist church at East Milton on Tuesday evening.

The semi-annual meeting of the Thursday Evening club was held this week.

Many East Milton people have attended the Brockton fair this week.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

The Boston Herald in its report of the Norfolk County Republican convention says: "Both nominations are the outcome of warm contests in the county, in antagonism to what is known as the Quincy machine."

The Quincy machine is getting some hard raps these days. The defeat of ex-Mayor Bryant, who sought election as a delegate in Ward Five; the defeat of President Freeman of the City Committee, who sought the nomination of senator, and the defeat of County Treasurer Cunningham for renomination, show that the voters are opposed to machine politics, and are getting aroused. The Quincy voters should correct these evils at home, and not allow the city to get into disrepute in the different political districts of which it is a part.

At the Municipal caucus to be held next month the Republicans should elect as members of the Ward and City Committee gentlemen who will act as servants of the party, and for the best interests of the city, the county the State, and the Nation. Not men who desire all the offices and the plums. It is not too early to start today to seek out in each ward a list of seven gentlemen who will serve on the the Republican Committee. Some representative citizens are wanted. Many will not be anxious to serve, but some must be drafted. It should be accepted as a duty.

Those who go to the polls only on election day do not do their full duty. They must even get busy before the caucuses. See that candidates are nominated for the caucuses, and then rally at the caucuses in the support of good government. It is usually too late after the nominations are made.

Here and There About the City

An eight-page Daily Ledger tomorrow.

The days have decreased nearly four hours.

All Hallows eve the last day of this month.

Mrs. A. R. Atwood and children are visiting in Asheville, N. C.

Services of the First church will be resumed on Sunday in the chapel at 10.30 A. M.

Several availing themselves of the special offer of the Telephone company for free service for three months.

The Registrars of Voters meet in the Quincy Point ward at the Hose house tonight to add names to the voting lists.

Six bosses and four men were looking after the underground telephone conduit on Merrymount road this morning.

The next launching at the Fore River yards will be another of the steamships for the Brunswick, Ga., line. It will be within a few weeks.

Lieut. H. L. Brinser was detailed on Thursday by the Navy department to duty as inspector of equipment at the works of the Fore River Ship Building company at Quincy.

The Point church has been undergoing repairs for two months. The new carpet has arrived and on Sunday, Oct. 7, the morning service is to be held up stairs in the auditorium.

The job of yard physician at the Fore River yards is no easy berth, as from ten to forty accident cases are treated every day. The majority of these cases are minor cuts and bruises, but some are more serious.

Tomorrow there will be two league games of association football in this city, the McGregors playing on the Ward Three playgrounds against the Bunting team of Lowell, while at Quincy Point the Fore Rivers will line up against the Riverdales.

Democrats Name Moran as Head of Their Ticket

ENDORSEMENT OF BRYAN

Platform Also Approves Hearst, but Wild Protest Is Made--Resolutions Call For Reforms and Many New Laws

Boston, Oct. 5.—A new era for the Massachusetts Democracy was inaugurated at the state convention of that party when, after a turbulent and curious struggle over endorsing W. J. Bryan and W. R. Hearst, John B. Moran, district attorney for Suffolk county, who was already the nominee of the Prohibition party and the Independence League, was nominated for governor by acclamation.

Save in one possible particular Moran dominated the convention absolutely and completely, and his so-called radical wing of the party, of which he is the sponsor and the active leader, was strikingly and undisputably in control. The old time factors, Josiah Quincy, Congressman Sullivan, Congressman McNary and the element represented by such Democrats as former Governor Douglas and Henry W. Whitney, were utterly powerless. The Moran sentiment which these men had vainly sought to stem before the primaries swept everything before it.

The possible exception to undoubted dominance was in the endorsement of Bryan for the Democratic nomination for president in 1908, for, though G. F. Williams, chief of Moran's political staff, proposed his endorsement at the last moment, another of Moran's lieutenants denounced the move as treachery, and intimated that if Moran's wishes were known they would not be in favor of Bryan, but of Hearst. The convention had previously lauded in its platform the Democracy of both Bryan and Hearst, though the approval of Hearst was not carried without a wild and tumultous protest. The ticket nominated follows:

Governor, John B. Moran of Boston; lieutenant governor, E. G. Brown of Brockton; secretary of state, C. C. Paine of Hyannis; attorney general, J. W. Cummings of Fall River; auditor, T. L. Hisgen of West Springfield; treasurer and receiver general, G. M. Harrigan of Lowell.

Two of the above besides Moran are already endorsed by the Independence League, Brown for lieutenant governor and Hisgen for auditor.

Mr. Williams spoke at length in placing Moran's name before the convention and eulogized the candidate freely. He estimated Moran as one "who hates corruption with a mortal hatred, who has a heart for mercy and a determination for justice, who will not trade or compromise and whom money and honors cannot buy." Then Moran and the rest of the ticket were nominated by acclamation.

The delegates were disappointed by the non-appearance of Moran at the hall, but it was announced that he was prostrated at his home from overwork and could not come to express his acceptance and his gratitude.

The platform adopted was prolific in demands for reform and centered largely in those changes in the law which have been strongly favored by Moran during his service as district attorney and in his declaration of his principles when he announced his candidacy for governor. The resolutions hold that it is Democracy's duty to "wrest the government from the grasp of powerful hypocrites, who have posed as custodians of the national honor and who have drained mighty fortunes through the vile channels of their monopoly, frauds, thefts and violence."

They favor the public ownership and operation of public utilities, the right to trial of facts by jury in equity cases involving labor injunctions, taxation which shall obtain full contributions from wealth and success, and bear lightly upon labor, reciprocity and tariff revision, free hides, coal, lumber, iron and wood pulp, the prevention of child murder by more effective abortion laws, the abolishment of capital punishment "that we may no longer be barbarians," the enactment of laws making lobbying a crime, with the penalties imprisonment only, and the repeal of the legislative immunity act, so that criminals may no longer bribe and be bribed with legal immunity. Finally the platform endorses the leadership and Democracy of both Bryan and Hearst.

FOSS AND RECIPROCITY

May Be the Cause of Possible Jar Among Republicans

Boston, Oct. 5.—Whatever jar there may be in the machinery of the Republican state convention, when Governor Guild will be nominated for a second term, together with the balance of the state officers, is looked for in the direction of an effort to insert a tariff reform plank in the platform. The platform has been constructed on lines which members of the Home Market club, an organization strongly opposed to any change in the tariff, declared to be acceptable.

Eugene Foss is therefore looked upon as the only stumbling block to a harmonious convention, but even he is undecided as to what he or his followers may do in an effort to obtain the insertion of a tariff reform plank in the platform.

What Foss and his supporters, if the results of the primaries can be counted upon, will do in the convention is a subject of some discussion and much speculation. It is stated in his behalf that, if the platform does not conform to his wishes, he may offer his planks. It is also stated that Foss will be satisfied if the convention readopts the platform of a year ago. Several of the delegates wonder if Guild, in view of his recent expressions in favor of a revision of the tariff, will accept any platform which does not advocate such a procedure. The action of the convention on the platform is, therefore, awaited with interest.

Believes In Capital Punishment

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 5.—Governor Bell spoke his farewell words to the legislature yesterday and Governor Proctor was sworn in. The retiring governor had this to say on the subject of capital punishment; "I have been deeply impressed with the fact that Vermont has more regard for the dignity of law than for sickly sentimentality. I am more firmly convinced than ever before that, as a safeguard against violence and as a protection to society in general, the law making capital punishment, in some form, the extreme penalty for crime should be retained on our statute books."

New Candidate For Governor

Boston, Oct. 5.—Gamaliel Bradford has made the following official announcement of his candidacy for governor: "The necessary legal requirements having been provided for, the name of Gamaliel Bradford will appear, barring accidents, on the official ballot as a citizen's candidate for the governorship, on a platform of state government reform."

McCarren's Threat to Hearst

New York, Oct. 5.—Senator McCarren, the leader of the Kings county Democratic organization, has issued an ultimatum and a defiance to W. R. Hearst. In a letter to Hearst, McCarren declares that if the nominee for governor and his followers put up a third ticket in Brooklyn he will give Hughes a majority of 75,000 in Kings county.

Tammany Will Stick to Hearst

New York, Oct. 5.—"No matter what Mr. Hearst does, we are going to support him," said C. F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, when asked in the course of an interview what attitude Tammany Hall would assume in case the Independence League nominated candidates in this city for the various judicial, senatorial and assembly offices.

Roosevelt Speeches In Rain

Harrisburg, Oct. 5.—President Roosevelt made a flying trip to Harrisburg and York and in each city he made a speech in the rain. At Harrisburg the president delivered the oration at the dedication of the new state capitol, completed at a cost of $13,000,000. He spoke for just treatment of labor and capital and said that wise legislation and law enforcement were strong agencies, but much depends on the individual citizen.

THE FUTURE CUBA

Sentiment For Measure of American Control

GENERAL ASBERT BALKY

Backed by Mayor of Guines In Refusal to Disarm His Army--A Compromise Arrangement With Funston Finally Accepted

Havana, Oct. 5.—Now that the disarmament of the revolutionists and the government volunteers is progressing steadily, the thoughtful portions of the public of all nationalities are again intimately discussing the possibilities of Cuba's future form of government. The desire for annexation is now voiced openly, and the wish that the United States retain some measure of actual control in Cuban affairs is heard more insistently than ever.

Representatives of leading elements, both Cuban and foreign, have been asked to attend a meeting next Sunday to discuss the feasibility of holding some sort of plebiscite by which all classes of the population would be enabled to express their ideas on what the future form of government should be.

Reports of the disarmament operations show considerable delay and confusion, but no real opposition. It appears that General Asbert's agreement to disarm and disband was conditional on the surrender and disarmament also of all the policemen in the town of Guines. Generals Funston and Agramonte went to Guines to straighten out the matter. Upon their arrival Mayor Ayala of Guines absolutely refused to discharge the police. Funston declared that unless the mayor agreed to the conditions an armed force would be sent to disarm Asbert's army, which numbers 1100 men, and that this would possibly result in bloodshed.

Argument had no effect on the mayor until he was told that he could retain the police payroll and reinstate his men after quiet had been restored. Funston further suggested the sending of marines to police the town temporarily and this plan was accepted. Asbert agreed to this compromise. Asbert's men will begin to move toward Guines today and the actual surrender of arms probably will take place tomorrow.

Coincident with the occupation of the palace yesterday by Governor Taft the garrison of rural guardsmen, which has been maintained there since the beginning of the trouble, was sent elsewhere.

The first batch of claims for damage resulting from acts committed by the insurgents has been presented to the provisional government by the French charge d'affaires.

Ex-Rebels Create Excitement

Havana, Oct. 5.—A disturbance occurred last evening as the result of the conspicuous riding through the streets of this city of former insurgents. The chief of police had just telephoned an order to all the police stations to take the small arms from all insurgents throughout the city when Damaso Castillo, an ex-insurgent, was seized by the police while riding past a precinct station. Castillo resisted and in the melee which followed his arm was cut with his own machete. As soon as he was overpowered he was taken to jail, followed by a crowd of several hundred persons, including a number of mounted ex-rebels.

This crowd surrounded the jail and the excitement was growing when Alfredo Zayas, the Liberal leader, arrived on the scene. After a long parley he procured the release of Castillo, after the man had surrendered his revolver to the police. Forty mounted policemen charged and dispersed a crowd yesterday afternoon which was following a dozen mounted ex-rebels.

Quesada Will Remain In Office

Washington, Oct. 5.—The text of the letter written by Mr. Quesada, Cuban minister to this country, to Secretary Root, in which he announces that he will remain at his post here as the diplomatic representative of Cuba, was made public last night. Quesada, having tendered his resignation upon the intervention in Cuba by the United States, was requested to remain. His reply says in part:

"Your American patriotism has appealed to my Cuban patriotism and, confident, as I am, that Cuba will come out of this severe trial stronger, and the United States with still greater glory by her just and unselfish guidance and aid, I shall remain in my post while I can serve Cuba and while I can assist in promoting her relations of confidence and mutual trust with her sponsor before the world, the United States of America. For myself, Mr. Secretary, and for the people of Cuba, I thank you for your cordial letter; it is the honest voice, the noble pledge of the great American nation."

Will Not Succeed Meyer

Washington, Oct. 5.—It is reported in diplomatic circles that Truman H. Newberry, assistant secretary of the navy, is to succeed Mr. Meyer as ambassador at St. Petersburg. When Newberry's attention was called to the report he said: "The place has not been offered me, and if it should be offered I would have to decline it."

Jockey Miller Knocked Out

Pullman Cars Smashed to Kindling In a Collision

WRECK ON EMBANKMENT

Military Train Crashes Into Rear of Passenger Train and Five Persons Are Killed Outright--Bride Among the Dead

Lansingburg, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Five passengers were killed outright and a score were more or less seriously injured in a rear-end collision between a regular passenger train from Boston for Albany and a military special on the Boston and Maine railroad, three miles north of Troy, shortly before 5 o'clock last evening.

The wreck occurred directly in front of the Lansingburg station, three miles from Troy, and on a steep grade. The elevation is about 20 feet, with a steep embankment, where the collision took place. The passenger train consisted of a baggage car, smoker, day coach and two parlor cars. As near as can be ascertained the train was about one hour late when it pulled up in front of the Lansingburg station to wait for a chance to get into the Troy depot.

Some of the railroad men say that as soon as the train stopped a flagman was sent to the rear to signal approaching trains. Nothing definite can be learned on this point. There is a sharp curve a short distance above the scene of the collision. The noise of a locomotive just around the curve was the first intimation of the approaching "special," which came thundering along with 18 cars on the steep grade and in the fraction of a second had crashed into the rear end of the passenger train, smashing the last two cars, which were Pullmans, like eggshells. Both these cars were swept from the track and rolled down the embankment into the back yards of tenement houses.

The engines of the special kept right on for a dozen yards and then turned turtle. There was a sudden hush and then rose the cries of the injured and dying. The special was drawing four troops of cavalry from Fort Ethan Allen to Newport News, where they are to embark for Cuba. The soldiers quickly got to work to rescue the injured, whose cries for help could be heard above the din.

Daylight facilitated the work and in a comparatively short time most of those pinned down by the wreckage were on their way to the hospital, which is located one block from the scene of the wreck. The dead were later taken to a neighboring undertaking establishment.

One man's grief was pitiable. His name was J. W. Dacey and he ran up and down the track crying for his wife. In a few minutes, when her lifeless form was identified by him, he collapsed completely and was taken to a nearby house. There he told his listeners that he had been married Wednesday night at Arlington, Mass. The couple had planned an extended wedding trip.

Engineer Thomas Holleran of the special immediately went to the police station in Lansingburg and surrendered himself. He was locked up and would make no statement. His fireman, whose name is said to be F. A. Brown, could not be found. It is said that the conductor of the special was J. Collins.

An enormous crowd from Troy, Albany and the surrounding country gathered about the wreck and remained until after midnight. Lieutenant Colonel Hardie, in command of the cavalrymen, established martial law in the vicinity of the wreck and the troopers aided the local police in keeping all the curious ones at a respectful distance. Picket lines were established and maintained during the night.

All of the dead as far as can be learned, were taken from the two Pullmans. These two cars were in the rear of the passenger train and received the full impact of the collision. They were smashed to kindling.

The special was made up of seven Pullmans and 11 horse cars, the latter being in the front of the train, directly behind the wrecked engine. There were four troops of cavalry, or about 850 men, and 400 horses. The fact that the men were in the rear of the train saved many lives, it is believed. Two horses, which were injured in the telescoped car directly back of the engine, were shot.

May Have Foundered In Hurricane

Boston, Oct. 5.—Nothing has been heard of the long overdue British steamer Edenhall, from Progreso, Mex., which was looked for at this port last Sunday. Grave fears are now entertained for the safety of the vessel and crew, who number nearly 30 men. It is believed that she has either foundered or that her engines have broken down, and that under sail she is endeavoring to reach the nearest port. Her cargo of 7000 bales of sisal, which is consigned to Henry W. Peabody & Co. of this city, is valued at about $200,000.

Bold Ruse to Escape From Prison

Providence, Oct. 5.—While out on the prisoners' noonday walk, Arthur Webster, a member of the notorious Portsmouth car barn robbers, who is confined at the state prison at Cranston, held a wooden revolver, stained to resemble a "bulldog," which he had made in his cell, to the head of Jailer Woodbury, and demanded to be released. The jailer grappled with the prisoner and with the help of several guards finally overpowered Webster. During the scramble Webster all but reached the real revolver carried by Woodbury.

Used Glass to Cut Throat

Salem, Mass., Oct. 5.—Using the jagged edges of a broken bottle, Patrick Howley, awaiting trial in jail here on the charge of murder, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat. When found by the jail officials he was bleeding badly, but after his wound had been sewed up the physicians said that his injuries were not serious. The prisoner was recently indicted for murdering his son-in-law, Herman J. Haas, at North Beverly.

Supposed Wreck a Dead Whale

Boston, Oct. 5.—Steaming north on the way to this port from Jamaica, steamer Bound Brook sighted an object about eight miles south of Nantucket South Shoal lightship, which appeared to be a capsized vessel. As the steamer approached the floating object it was made out to be the dead body of a monster whale, over which hundreds of sea birds were hovering.

Dropped by Mutual Life

New York, Oct. 5.—Colonel Bisco Hindman of Louisville, general agent for the Mutual Life Insurance company for Tennessee and Kentucky, has been dismissed from the service of that company. It is understood that the failure of Hindman to support the "administration" ticket of the Mutual Life was the cause of his dismissal. The Mutual Life has recently dismissed four of its general agents because, it is asserted, they refused to consent to support the "administration" ticket.

Chinese Boycott Almost Ended

Washington, Oct. 5.—Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, the Chinese minister, called on Secretary Root and talked briefly regarding tht Chinese boycott of American goods which threatened to assume serious proportions, but which has practically subsided. The minister called Root's attention to the fact that a contract for 17 freight cars for the Hankow-Canton railroad has been let to a Massachusetts firm. This is a trial order.

Trade's Sort of Brisk.

It is estimated that the world's international commerce will aggregate this year fully $25,000,000,000. In 1850 the commerce between all the nations amounted to only $4,000,000,000. The increase in the half century has been, therefore, over 600 per cent.

SIXTY COFFINS ORDERED

Bodies of Victims of Mine Explosion Not All Recovered

Pocahontas, Va., Oct. 5.—Eighteen known dead and from 30 to 40 more men entombed, and doubtless all dead, is the situation at the West Fork mines of the Pocahontas Collieries company, where the explosion occurred late Wednesday afternoon. The bodies of these men were recovered from the mines as the result of the heroic work of a band of 35 men constituting a rescue party that worked incessantly.

It was not until 7:30 o'clock last evening that the rescuers reached a point near the entry where the explosion occurred. The work of rescue was very slow, as the conditions confronting the party were difficult to surmount.

The authorities anticipated the fearful extent of the casualties by ordering a carload of coffins and burial supplies, which are now on the way. The order is being rushed at Bluefield and the burial supplies include 60 coffins.

Heresy Charges Fall Flat

Penn Yan, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The heresy trial of Professor H. G. Mitchell of Boston came before the central New York Methodist Episcopal conference and Bishop Fowler appointed a committee to make a preliminary examination as to the expediency of the conference entertaining the charges. The complainant, G. A. Cook of Brandon, Vt., made his charges and Dr. McConnell, counsel for Mitchell, gave testimony in rebuttal. It was declared that the charges were not drawn legally and that in their present form they could not be admitted. Cook then sought to withdraw the charges, but the conference voted that the charges should not be considered in their present form.

Will Have to Keep Moving

Paris, Oct. 5.—The fugitive Russian, Lieutenant Gabriel Essipoff, accompanied by the wife of General Ouchakoff, arrived here last evening from New York. They are flying from the vengeance of the husband and former friend of Essipoff. The runaways traveled under assumed names. In reply to inquiries Essipoff said: "I have nothing to say. We wish to be left alone. We are quite happy." The fugitives then took a cab to a hotel, but later changed their quarters several times and succeeded in hiding their tracks. It is believed they intend to take another ocean steamer.

The Taskers' Great Feat

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—"Crossed northern Labrador with wife from Hudson bay. All well." This telegram from Stephen P. M. Tasker, dated Domino, via Cape Race, N. F., Oct. 4, was the first intimation of the whereabouts of the sender and his young bride since last June, when they departed on their honeymoon. The message conveys the intelligence that the Taskers have performed the almost impossible feat of crossing the wastes of Labrador at Hudson bay. Tasker is 31 years of age and is a marine engineer in the United States navy.

Barred From the Turf

Louisville, Oct. 5.—Owner P. J. Perry and Jockey Willis Obert were ruled off the turf for life and the license of George Hall, a trainer, was revoked by the stewards of the American Turf association. Obert confessed that he pulled Coruscate at Latonia. Obert testified that Perry, who owns Coruscate, gave him $500 to do the job. Hall had the riding contract on Obert and the jockey testified that he pulled horses on the Canadian circuit.

Catholics Defy French Cabinet

Paris, Oct. 5.—The Catholics of Brittany have addressed an open letter to Interior Minister Clemenceau in which they say: "If you attempt to unite the Jacobins of '93; if you attempt to close the churches, proscribe our priests or prevent the celebration of our sainted religion, we will rise against the infamous tyranny and die with enthusiasm for God and the king of our fathers."

Death In Subway Explosion

New York, Oct. 5.—One man was killed and one fatally injured by an explosion of dynamite in the Belmont tunnel, immediately under a corner of the new Belmont hotel. Cyrenius Signer, who was in charge of the laborers, was arrested, charged with criminal carelessness. It is claimed that the explosion was caused by one of the men accidentally striking an unexploded charge of dynamite.

Child Killed and Dismembered

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—The dismembered body of a male child found in a trunk in the storeroom of the Young Women's Christian Association building is another murder mystery to puzzle the police. The remains give evidence of unusual brutality, as the victim was cut up alive. Detectives believe the child was not killed in the building.

Labor Law Must Be Obeyed

Washington, Oct. 5.—The department of justice has taken measures to enforce the eight-hour law and instructions have been sent to special agents of the department in various parts of the country to investigate the question as to whether there have been any violations of that law on the part of contractors engaged in public works.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Danderine
GREW THIS HAIR:
AND WE CAN PROVE IT

Testimonial No. 422.

MISS JEANETTE WALLICE,
343 W. 14TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

When the scalp throws off either dandruff or a gummy substance, it is an evidence of scalp disease, and no time should be lost in correcting it. You certainly would not hesitate to take treatment were you to look at this matter through a magnifying glass. When highly magnified it resembles a working mass of insects. These creatures absorb the nutriment or life-sap of the scalp causing the scalp to become dry and feverish, resulting in the loss of hair and finally baldness. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It thoroughly eradicates all trace of scalp bacteria and makes the hair grow unusually long, strong and beautiful. One 25 cent bottle is enough to show you that it will do all this and even more. NOW at all druggists, three sizes, 25c., 50c. & $1.00 per bottle.

MARK TWAIN'S JOY IN SIMPLE SPELLING

Pleads For Phonetic Form as a Saver of Piety.

WANTS A THREE MONTHS' TEST

Tells Editors at Banquet That the Infallible Result Would Be Victory All Down the Line—Still, Doesn't Care How He Spells So Long as He Keeps the Sabbath—Speakers Cartooned, So Were the Oysters.

At the recent dinner of the Associated Press in New York the quaint menu was in the form of a tiny book, with a cut like those reproduced here, illustrating every item in the feast and "taking off" every orator on the list. With each illustration went a verse. There were about 150 members present and about a dozen guests, including General Horace Porter and Mark Twain. The picture of the oyster, contemporary with "r" months and lowest temperature, was on one of the first pages of the little menu book—thus:

The bivalve is a funny bird;
For silence he's renowned,
But I have heard an Oyster Bay;
'Tis an odd Long Island sound!

When Mark Twain arose to make his humorous remarks about phonetic spelling, the diners, turning to page 13 of the menu, found there this picture and verse dealing with the gentle humorist:

His hobby was a hobbyhorse
With wings of driven snow,
And everywhere that Sammy went
His hobby, too, would go.

In the introductory of his speech Mr. Clemens said he came to the dinner to make an appeal to the nations in behalf of the simplified spelling. There are only two forces he claimed that could carry light to all parts of the earth—the sun and the Associated Press—to whom he appealed to adopt the simplified forms of spelling for three months as a test. Then, continuing, Mr. Clemens said:

The infallible result—victory, victory all down the line! For by that time all eyes here and above and below will have become adjusted to the change and in love with it, and the present clumsy and ragged forms will be grotesque to the eye and revolting to the soul. And we shall be rid of phthisis and phthisic and pneumonia and pneumatics and diphtheria and pteradactyl and all those other insane words which no man addicted to the simple Christian life can try to spell and not lose some of the bloom of his piety in the demoralizing attempt. Do not doubt it. We are chameleons, and our partialities and prejudices change places with an easy and blessed facility, and we are soon wonted to the change and happy in it. We do not regret our old yellow fangs and snags and tushes after we have worn nice fresh uniform store teeth awhile.

I have reached a time of life—seventy years and a half—where none of the concerns of this world have much interest for me personally. I think I can speak dispassionately upon this matter, because in the little while that I have got to remain here I can get along very well with these old fashioned forms, and I don't propose to make any trouble about it at all. I shall soon be where they won't care how I spell so long as I keep the Sabbath.

There are $2,000,000 of us people that use this orthography, and it ought to be simplified in our behalf, but it is kept in its present condition to satisfy 1,000,000 people who like to have their literature in the old form. That looks to me to be rather selfish, and we keep the forms as they are while we have got 1,000,000 people coming in here from foreign countries every month, and they have got to struggle with this orthography of ours, and it keeps them back and damages their citizenship for years until they learn to spell the language, if they ever do learn. This is merely sentimental argument.

People say it is the spelling of Chaucer and Spenser and Shakespeare and a lot of other people who did not know how to spell anyway, and it has been transmitted to us and we preserved it and wish to preserve it because of its ancient and hallowed associations.

Now, I don't see that there is any real argument about that. If that argument is good then it would be a good argument not to banish the flies and the cockroaches from hospitals because they have been there so long that the patients have got used to them and they feel a tenderness for them on account of associations.

Now you see before you the wreck and ruin of what was once a young person like yourselves. I am exhausted by the heat of the day. I must take what is left of this wreck and run out of your presence and carry it away to my home and spread it out there and sleep the sleep of the righteous. There is nothing much left of me but my age and my righteousness, but I leave with you my love and my blessing, and may you always keep your youth.

A NATION OF CRIPPLES RHEUMATISM BEYOND CONTROL

The Only Hope to Rheumatic Suffers is Uric-O Treatment.

If rheumatism continues to spread as it has in the past few years, it would seem as though we would before long become a nation of cripples. The terrible destructiveness of this disease is apparent on every side of us. Almost nine out of ten of the cripples one meets had their affliction brought on by Rheumatism. How many thousands more there are that are hopelessly bed-ridden and whom we never see. Rheumatism from the very nature of the disease, can never cure itself, and if neglected, is bound to grow worse rather than better. If you ever have any twinges of Rheumatism go to E. J. Murphy's drug store right here in Quincy, and get a bottle of Uric-O, the wonderful new Rheumatic Specific. It will cure you and it is the only treatment in the world that will cure you permanently and thoroughly. Uric-O cures by its direct action on the muscles, blood and kidneys. It seeks out the poisonous Uric and Rheumatic Acid and drives it from the system and it is only a treatment of such a nature that will ever cure Rheumatism. Liniments and plasters only serve to drive it from one spot to another. They never cure Rheumatism, because it is primarily a blood disease, and until the blood is cleared from the poison, a cure cannot take place.

There never was a case of Rheumatism that Uric-O could not cure and you should not put off taking it because it is in the end by far the cheapest method. You can test Uric-O free of charge if you wish. Just cut out this advertisement and send it to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y., and state that you have never used Uric-O and would like to try it. They will send you a free sample which you can test and try free of charge.

HER FORTUNE

[Original.]

They were sitting by the library table, a lamp swinging from above. She was playing solitaire.

"Can you tell fortunes with cards?" he asked.

"No. Can you?"

"I have a method of my own at card fortune telling. Shall I try yours?"

"Yes; do."

She passed him the cards, and, after shuffling, he turned over a card at a time till he came to the queen of hearts.

"That's you," he said.

"Oh, how flattering!"

"The six of clubs, the ten of spades, the three of clubs, the four of spades, the king of diamonds." He paused.

"Well?" she asked.

"That means a rich man is your suitor."

"I don't know any such."

"You're not supposed to know just who loves you till you are told."

"You think so?"

"I said not supposed to know."

"Oh!"

"The king of clubs," he went on, "the queen of spades. The queen of spades indicates that a dark girl wishes for herself some one who loves you. Look out for her. The nine of hearts, the three of diamonds, the jack of clubs. The jack is that little black—I mean a dark gentleman whom you met"—

"Don't get personal."

"The jack, falling between the jack of hearts and the queen of spades and directly under the queen of hearts, indicates that you prefer him and that the dark lady loves the jack of hearts, a blond man, who prefers you."

"And who is the jack of hearts?"

He sighed. Then he went on dealing. The next important cards were the ten of clubs, that fell under the jack of clubs, and the ace of hearts, that fell under the jack of hearts. He paused and looked serious.

"What's the matter?" she asked.

"A great deal. The dark gentleman has ten chances to the blond gentleman's one."

"He hasn't. I mean I prefer blond men to brunettes."

Two hearts fell, one on each side of the king of diamonds. "It looks," he said, "as if, after all, you would marry the rich suitor." The king of hearts fell under the king of diamonds. "Your father favors him."

"Papa doesn't."

"Oh, here comes the queen of diamonds, also in the line under the king of diamonds. That's it; your mother favors the rich suitor."

"How silly!"

"These hearts falling all about the jack of clubs indicate that the dark gentleman is far ahead of the rich one, notwithstanding your mother's influence."

"What's the blond gentleman doing all this while?" she asked softly, her eyes bent on the cards. He cast a sharp glance at her and without reply went on dealing till the jack of hearts was surrounded by cards of his own suit.

"Late in the game the blond gentleman seems to be finding more favor with the queen of hearts, but these clubs falling between it and the queen of spades indicate a complication between the dark girl and the blond gentleman."

"What possible complication can there be?" she asked sharply.

"Well, having been discouraged by the queen of hearts—that is, you—he might have gone so far with the dark lady as not to be able to withdraw."

"She can't have much pride to hold him if he doesn't want to be held." She spoke with a great deal of asperity.

"You shouldn't have discouraged the blond gentleman."

"How did I know"— She paused. He gave her time to frame what she had to say, but she failed to do so.

"The blond gentleman certainly made his feelings plain."

She stared at the cards without reply.

"Let's go one. Something may turn up," he added.

If there was any method in his dealing it could not be discovered. She did not seem interested in the method, only in the result. He dealt a number of the club suit about the jack of clubs.

"This is strange," he said. "The black little—I mean the dark gentleman seems to have found favor with the dark lady. It may be that she will not stand between the queen and jack of hearts after all. Choose one of the cards on the table, and it will indicate how the affair is coming out."

Reaching forward, she touched the five of hearts. He took her hand in his and placed it on the six of hearts, saying: "The five and the six of hearts make eleven, or the jack. In other words, you will make the blond little man happy, won't you?"

He waited some time for a reply, when he heard a faint "Yes."

There were footsteps in the hall, and in came several young men and women.

"What are you two doing?"

He had withdrawn his hand at the first sound and was dealing the cards vigorously. "I am telling her fortune by a process of my own."

He went on dealing, the others looking on, trying to discover his rules of procedure. He married her to a dark and a rich gentleman, whereupon they reminded him that a girl can't marry two men unless one dies or is divorced after she has married him. That stopped the fortune telling, and in a few minutes the fortune telling couple disappeared.

Hospital Week Collection

On Monday the Hospital Week Collection begins, and careful plans have been made for the house-to-house canvass throughout the whole city.

It is hoped that men, women and childen will be glad to give, and every gift, even a penny, is welcome, though it is earnestly hoped that everyone will give just as generously as possible, and particularly generously this year as this Hospital Week Collection should result not only in paying the balance of the running expenses, but in furnishing a "nest egg" for the forward movement; for now that the Hospital is free from debt the trustees are taking up vigorously the question of the urgently needed additions.

Last year the individual contributions were published in the local papers, but this year in conformity with the custom previous to last year, they will not be.

It is hoped that everyone will cooperate with the collectors so that the canvass may be completed as far as possible Hospital Week.

Each collector has a certificate duly signed by Mr. Timothy Reed, secretary of the board of trustees, and it is urged that whenever the collector is not personally known, the certificate be seen.

Here are the various chairmen:

General Chairman,—D. King.

Ward 1, Precinct 1,—George E. Adams.

Ward 1, Precinct 2, — George W. Abele.

Ward 2,—Joseph Dasha, Miss Freeman and T. B. Pollard.

The Elks' Home On Foster Street

The clubhouse of the Elks will not be on Chestnut street, but on Foster street near by. The Dr. England house was considered more desirable in many ways, but its close proximity to the church it was thought might be an objection, so the former residence of George H. Hitchcock on Foster street was selected. It is said the estate has been purchased. The house is a comparatively new one, and well built, in a pretty residential neighborhood and handy to all parts of the city.

The sale was made through the real estate office of Charles H. Burgess. The Elks will use the lower floor for club purposes and the second floor for a lodge room.

The winter schedules of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad will go into effect commencing Sunday, October 7, when important changes in train service will be made. Time tables showing the new schedules may be obtained at ticket offices in advance of the change.

When an item which you forward to the Daily Ledger fails to appear, it may be your own fault. Unless the editor knows who sent the item the Ledger will not publish it.

Gates Ordered For Crossings.

West Quincy people will be glad to learn that gates are to be placed at several of the crossings on the Granite branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad just as soon as they can be built.

The gates are the outcome of an order passed by the City Council at a recent meeting, appointing a committee to act with the Mayor in relation to placing gates at all the crossings in West Quincy.

The Mayor with the committee, Councilmen Ferguson and McGilvray, and City Solicitor Thomas, held a conference with the railroad officials yesterday. As soon as the need was presented the railroad officials promised to place gates at the following crossings: Willard street, Furnace avenue and Cross street. An order was immediately given for the gates and they will be placed in position at the earliest possible date.

Do You Want Me? And Many Did

People on Hancock street remarked at the unusual number of people of the male persuasion who were about the corner of Hancock and Granite street last evening. The most of them gathered in the vicinity of 8 o'clock. Carefully adjusting the hat to the right angle, smoothing down the coat, and puffing at a cigar, they would walk up to the window of Murphy's drug store, look in, and then turn about and walk away with a sickly smile.

The explanation of the phenomena was that they expected to see a young lady, calling herself Miss Dandro, lurking about the soda fountain.

It appears that yesterday morning's mail brought to a number of gentlemen letters written in a feminine hand on tinted note paper, and signed Miss Dandro.

The letters were all alike and read as follows:

Dear Mr:———

I know you will think me a very dreadful person, but I am going to yield to a sudden temptation and write you.

I saw you on the street yesterday, a mutual friend told me your name, and I found your address in the directory.

If you think you would care to meet me I will be at Murphy's Drug store this evening. Look in the left hand window at 8.15. I will surely be there. I hope you will not disappoint me.

Yours (if you want me)
Miss Dandro.

Of course the married men took the letter home and showed it to their wives. Oh, yes, of course they did!

Of course it was an advertising scheme, and some who received letters were on, as the saying goes, but there were others, and it was these others that looked in the window. What they saw was a sign reading,—"I am Miss Dandro, do you want me?" Was your husband home between 8 and 9?

Autoist Fined $50

Patrick Buckley was arrested in Milton last night for the reckless driving of an automobile. He had been to the Brockton fair and came through Milton in a reckless manner, endangering the lives of pedestrians and others. He collided with another machine before he was locked up. The court imposed the minimum fine in such a case, which was $50 and gave him until Dec. 6 to pay.

Champion of Pure Food

Side Lights on Dr. Harvey W. Wiley and His Tireless Crusade

Commander of the "Poison Squad" Is Somewhat of a Humorist, Who Says Americans Have the Worst Cooks and Get the Least Out of Their Foods — Has Ridden His Hobby For Twenty Years, Not to Death, but to a New Lease of Life

IF in the course of human events and under the benign influence of the new pure food law the people of the United States may eat and drink and be merry, giving no thought to the horrible probability of having taken into their systems various poisonous substances in their food and drink, the one man chiefly to be thanked for that delightful consummation is Dr. Harvey Washington Wiley. Officially Dr. Wiley is chief of the bureau of chemistry in the department of agriculture; unofficially he may be called commander in chief of the allied and amalgamated armies of the pure food crusade in America.

For twenty years Dr. Wiley has had a hobby and ridden it hard. At times this Pegasus of his has leaped over appalling precipices of human prejudice and tracked wearily through marshes of misunderstanding, but the doctor has ridden his hobby to a new lease of life rather than to death, for today he appears to have arrived very near the shining portals of success—the prevention by federal law of the use of poisonous substances as preservatives or colorings for food and drink, that is Dr. Wiley's hobby. By the passage of the measure known as the pure food law last June congress finally approved the efforts of Dr. Wiley and the thousands of other earnest workers in the cause of preserving the human stomach from premature decline.

Somewhat of a Humorist.

Dr. Wiley takes great joy in his work. Why not? It is something worth while to devote one's life to the protection of the health of 80,000,000 people. It is provocative of joy to succeed in inducing the enactment of legal measures calculated to tone up the multitudinous American stomach, casting out such devils as dyspepsia, indigestion, typhoid and other ills too numerous to mention. Among his intimate friends the good Dr. Wiley is known as something of a humorist, and this quality sometimes displays itself upon public occasions when he discusses his hobby. Once Dr. Wiley was dispensing his chemical wisdom before the committee on agriculture of the house of representatives when a rural congressman scornfully asked the distinguished chemist to deane a "scientific agriculturist."

"A scientific agriculturist," replied the doctor, "is a gentleman in the employ of the government who can make $2 grow on an appropriation bill where only $1 grew before."

Had not Dr. Wiley possessed a keen appreciation of humor he could not have run the gantlet of the joke makers during the four years of his "poison squad" boarding house in Washington and come forth fat and jolly, his usefulness unimpaired. If he had been one of those solemn and serious savants of the story books who fly into a rage or grind their teeth when anybody happens to take a jocular view of a highly important proposition the good Dr. Wiley long ere this must have succumbed to nervous prostration. As it was, he seemed thoroughly to enjoy the jests made at the expense of his unique gastronomic experiment, though he never permitted his sense of humor to interfere with his strict scientific observation of the results produced by the consumption of a certain quantity of "doped" food or drink by a certain member of his free boarding squad.

That remarkable experiment of Dr. Wiley's is no longer regarded as a joke, even by the most hopelessly jocular person. By years of patient, tireless observation the devoted chemist has proved what he set out to prove—that the use of substances such as boracic acid, salicylic acid and formaldehyde as preservatives for food or drink are positively injurious to the human system. By feeding his class of young men various kinds of food preserved or colored with the drugs employed by manufacturers he deduced scientific facts which, embodied in his official reports, had much weight in securing the pure food law.

Incidents of Food Reform.

Since Dr. Wiley first made himself a popular national figure by thus testing the actual results of the eating of drugged food and boiling those results down to a scientific certainty many events of importance in the matter of food reform have taken place in the United States. Quite recently we have had Upton Sinclair's expose of packing house horrors in "The Jungle," followed by the passage of the meat inspection law, which requires that after Oct. 1 the manufacturers of canned meats, hams and other packing house products on their labels must call a spade a spade and not deceive the public by sending out canned veal or pork with a picture of a spring chicken on the label.

Dr. Wiley's work has dissipated several misconceptions. For instance, he has shown that it is not necessarily the food adulterants, but the preservatives and colorings, which do the damage to the human stomach. The fact that frequently we buy and eat something sold under a certain name which is really something else in whole or in part because that something else is cheaper for the manufacturer than the thing he pretends to sell is disgusting, to be sure, but unless it looks like what we intend to buy we do not buy it, and right there is where the wily manufacturer gets in his devilish work. He colors it with aniline or coal tar dyes to make it look like the real thing, and that coloring matter does the damage. For a like purpose of deception certain drugs called preservatives are used. These serve to impress the innocent purchaser with the notion that he is buying wholesome meat, for instance, when as a matter of fact the stuff would be putrid but for the "embalming fluid" it contains.

DR. HARVEY W. WILEY.

Whisky In Five Minutes.

Dr. Wiley has stirred up not only those who eat food, but those who drink alcoholic liquors. One evening in Washington he was entertaining a party of friends, who began to discuss their favorite brands of whisky. Scotch whisky seemed to be the most popular.

"I never drink anything but the real Scotch," said two or three of the guests.

"Do you drink over bars?" asked the doctor, and they said they did.

"Then you never drink Scotch whisky at all. Not a bottle of Scotch whisky is to be had in this country except in clubs and private houses. Scotch is made of barley malt cured over a peat fire. In Great Britain I have seen so called Scotch made of Indian corn alcohol with a little dash of Scotch, which is sold to American dealers as real Scotch whisky by well known distillers."

The conversation turned to good old fourteen-year-old whisky, American brand.

"Humph!" said Dr. Wiley. "I'll make you some fourteen-year-old whisky in five minutes."

Turning to his chemical apparatus, the doctor took a bottle of alcohol, some burned sugar and other things and five minutes later had concocted a beautiful red liquor, which he passed around. All pronounced it fine old whisky.

"It isn't whisky at all," said Dr. Wiley. "It's the stuff that is often called whisky. By the use of what is known as 'ageing oil' the greater portion of the stuff labeled 'fourteen-year-old whisky' is made in less than fourteen minutes."

Hams Smoked While You Wait.

As a member of the government's pure food law commission, sitting at New York during the latter part of September, Dr. Wiley adduced the fact that hams may be smoked while you wait. One witness testified that his house used a "patent smoke" for making smoked hams. This is a sort of paint, with which the ham is smeared, giving it the appearance of having been cured in the dear old smokehouse at home, as your grandmother used to do it.

Directly as a result of Dr. Wiley's investigations some very astounding facts regarding the true identity of the stuff we put into our stomachs from day to day have been brought to light. Just one item will suffice here. Your stomach may be too weak to stand more. The patient and long suffering mule that pulls the garbage cart past your door is more important than he looks. Do not scorn him. Next year he may be silent, alas, in death, and you may be eating his hoofs metamorphosed—stupendous change!—into "pure apple jelly" or "pure peach marmalade." But the fact that you are eating the hoofs of the defunct mule is not the most serious part of the proposition. The coloring matter used to deceive you into mistaking prepared mule hoof for a peach or apple product is the serious thing. That is what does the damage.

Dr. Wiley has estimated and declared that about 90 per cent of the manufactured foods sold in America contain deleterious substances introduced for the purpose of deceiving the public as to the true character of the product. "Barnum made a colossal fortune," remarked Dr. Wiley on a recent occasion, "by acting on the principle that the American people like to be humbugged. To be cheated, fooled, bamboozled, cajoled, deceived, pettifogged, demagogued, hypnotized, manicured and chiropidized are privileges dear to us all."

Even the operation of the new food law, if rigidly enforced, will not rob the American people of their cherished privilege of being humbugged if they continue to believe the statements of some manufacturers that certain drugs are good for their health, but the law will reduce the humbuggery very appreciably by insisting upon the proper labeling of all products, so that if one wants pure apple jelly he may buy a jar so labeled and if he prefers mule hoof he may go around looking for a label to indicate the animal.

It should be remembered that the new law relates not only to food, but to liquors and medicines, so that there must be government inspection of everything that goes down the human gullet provided that it is sold from state to state and thereby comes under the head of interstate commerce.

Uniform Food Law.

Dr. Wiley worked as hard for this uniform food law as many estimable clergymen are working for a uniform divorce law. As a matter of fact, the situation regarding food is pretty much the same as that regarding divorce. Each state has its own laws relating to food and to divorce. There are forty-six states and forty-six variations in divorce possibilities. Until the passage of the federal food law the manufacturers of some food products were compelled to place a different label on their goods for every state to which shipment was made. When the national law gets into active working order one label will serve for each state, and that label, if the government inspectors do their duty, will tell exactly what the package contains.

The fight for a pure food law in congress lasted nearly twenty years. Dr. Wiley says the consumers started it, aided by the grangers. Then some of the honest manufacturers took it up and finally some state officials, who urged a federal law. Of course the proposed legislation was bitterly opposed by unscrupulous manufacturers of embalmed foods, doped medicines and prematurely aged whiskies, but the "awakened conscience" of the people along various lines at last brought about the enactment of the present law, which gives excellent promise of food reform after it goes into effect Jan. 1.

Dr. Wiley, who is a native of Indiana, in his sixty-second year, has never found time to get married. His life since early manhood has been devoted undividedly to chemistry. As a bachelor his remarks concerning cooks may be of interest to married people. Says Dr. Wiley: "We have the most abundant and best foods of the world, but we live more poorly than any other civilized nation. We have the worst cooks and know least how to get the most out of our foods. Cooking is looked down upon here. It should be considered one of the fine arts, and a cook should command a high salary. I know families in Washington who live at the rate of $5,000 or $10,000 a year and who nevertheless will get some ignorant woman to spoil their victuals. They will spend thousands of dollars on their tables and waste it all by skimping on the cook."

BABY CHICKS A NEW DISH

Served at Hotel Tables In the Place of Squabs.

INDUSTRY WITH BIG POSSIBILITIES

Tender and Delicious, the Demand For the Young Fowl Exceeds the Supply—Are Hatched In Incubators and Marketed When Six Weeks Old. Hotels Also Buy Them Alive.

If chickens could talk a great outcry of indignation might be heard from the poultry yards against a new industry recently begun in the east, says a Columbus (Mo.) correspondent of the Kansas City Star. They have good grounds for protest, for if the new industry succeeds and spreads over the country the lives of a vast majority of the chickens would be curtailed to the limit of about six weeks.

The industry is perhaps due to the fact that the present demand for squabs is ahead of the supply. A substitute was needed, and some one hit upon the idea of serving baby chickens in place of the latter. It is alleged that the consumer can't tell the difference, and it is even said that the young chickens are more tender and superior in flavor. Some declare them the greatest delicacy that ever tickled a human palate. Be this as it may, the new industry is gaining great headway and eastern hotel and restaurant men are offering high prices for baby chickens. At present the demand is far ahead of the supply for the simple reason that very few poultry breeders are aware that such a demand exists. Western poultry breeders are yet in ignorance of the new industry, which may in the end revolutionize the entire chicken business.

Whether it will interfere with the squab industry cannot yet be told. The very fact that chickens are being substituted for squabs shows how great is the demand for the latter. It may be remembered that the squab industry owes its origin to the scarcity of quails. When the quail supply failed squabs were substituted, and now when the demand for the latter is ahead of the supply baby chickens are pushed into the breach. If the new chicken business succeeds as well as the squabs there is no telling what may be used when a substitute for chicks is demanded.

The poultry yards where the baby chickens are raised for market resembles squab farms in the manner of construction. Woven wire fences are used and the whole business is conducted inside an inclosure of this kind, the chicks not being permitted to roam about in the old fashioned way. The feed is the same as that given to chickens destined to live a longer life, but is more plentiful, as the object is to fatten them as much as possible at an early age. All are raised in incubators and the hatching is so timed that a new brood is turned out every day in the month. This is made necessary by the market demand. The buyers demand that a certain number be furnished regularly every day and make contracts with the chicken raisers to this effect. The fact that it is rather difficult to furnish a given number daily owing to the possibility of disease, accidents or the like is one of the few drawbacks to the business.

As soon as the chicks are hatched they are taken from the incubator and carried to the pens or yards. Each group has a separate yard in which is a brood house kept warm by means of a lighted lamp inside. Each yard is surrounded by a woven wire fence which is so arranged that it may be thrown open when it is desired that all the chickens should run together. Around the small yards is a high wire fence surrounding all the pens to protect the chickens from danger of rats or prowling animals. When the chickens are large enough to grow feathers, or about six weeks old, they are put in boxes and sold alive to hotels and restaurants. It is usual for the owner to have a contract with a particular buyer who generally agrees to take all that he can produce. It can be seen that to supply even a single large hotel or restaurant is a big undertaking and it is often difficult to keep up with the demand. The general demand has been rapidly increasing, thanks to the ravenous appetite which the public seems to have developed for infant chickens, and the indications are that the new industry will soon spread over the entire country.

There are several advantages in the new method which should not be overlooked. The fact that the chickens are marketed at such an early age not only cuts down the expense of feeding to a figure far below the usual cost, but in an equal proportion curtails the danger of loss from accident or disease. There are other advantages so obvious as to need no mention, and, all things considered, it looks as if the new industry has big possibilities.

Union Law For Monkeys.

Monkeys are to have the time of their lives in Kenosha, Wis. Hereafter they will work but four hours a day. Any Italian who works his monkey overtime will be subjected to arrest and prosecution by the Humane society, says a Kenosha dispatch. There has been an influx of Italian organ grinders and monkeys to Kenosha during the last few weeks, and it was discovered by a member of the Humane society that the monkeys worked twelve and fourteen hours daily. A meeting was called, and it was decided their labor was too strenuous, so the hours were fixed at from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning and 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

FOSS NOT IN EVIDENCE

Platform Sticks Fast For Protective Tariff Principle, Even In a Revision--Against Government Railroad Ownership

Boston, Oct. 6.—A blow to immediate tariff revision and to the champions of more reciprocal trade schedules, led by Eugene N. Foss, was delivered at the Massachusetts Republican convention, which renominated by acclamation a state ticket composed entirely of men now in office, and adopted without a vestige of remonstrance a "standpat" platform, which called for such tariff changes as might be found necessary from time to time, with the understanding that they be applied to all sections of the country and to all industries.

CURTIS GUILD, JR.

Undisturbed harmony prevailed at the convention. Two voices raised in opposition to the renomination by acclamation of Lieutenant Governor Draper constituted the only note of friction in the entire proceedings. The ticket named was as follows:

Governor, Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston; lieutenant governor, E. S. Draper of Hopedale; secretary of state, W. M. Olin of Boston; treasurer and receiver general, A. B. Chapin of Holyoke; auditor, H. E. Turner of Malden; attorney general, Dana Malone of Greenfield.

The convention was harmonious, but at the same time it was enthusiastic. From the standpoint of individuality Attorney General Moody easily won the honors from the delegates. He was cheered repeatedly and heartily. As chairman of the committee on resolutions he occupied a prominent place in the proceedings, and the rest of the members of the platform committee took occasion to report a plank approving his national accomplishments, especially his efforts towards carrying out the provisions of the anti-trust and interstate commerce laws.

If any hostility to Governor Guild has existed, as alleged, in the party, none was manifested in the convention. He was given an ovation when he was conducted before the meeting. In his brief, but forceful, speech of acceptance he rejoiced, he said, that his renomination "had been deliberately given after open discussion, not only of my official acts, but of my personal convictions on public questions."

Mr. Foss took no part whatsoever in the proceedings. He had made his fight before the resolutions committee, but the best he could secure in behalf of reciprocity was the platform approval of the action of the Massachusetts representatives in congress in asking consideration of the tariff, with a view to revising them whenever the public interests demanded.

Mr. Foss had been a candidate for the nomination of lieutenant governor and made a contest in the recent primaries on reciprocity issues. He won, however, only about 100 delegates to the convention and then abandoned his fight for office, though not his struggle for reciprocity. The platform adopted is less favorable to pronounced tariff changing than the resolutions accepted at last year's convention, when approval was expressed of immediate action in the way of tariff readjustment.

Former Governor Bates was permanent chairman of the convention. He dwelt at length upon existing prosperity and declared that needed reforms could be best worked out through the Republican party. All the speakers were applauded freely, both by the delegates and by a large crowd of people.

Congressman Weeks nominated Governor Guild and Melvin O. Adams presented the name of Lieutenant Governor Draper. Adams scored the Democratic party and was particularly severe upon its convention. He uttered a warning, however, over the nomination of John B. Moran by the Democrats. Republicans might think, he stated, that the Democratic standard bearer possessed "a supply of nerve and braggadocia, but there are people who believe that he possesses moral courage and self-abnegation." He counseled watchfulness and work.

In naming State Treasurer Chapin, Herbert Parker also dealt with the Democratic ticket. "Lust for personal gain," he declared, "carries at its chariot wheels only servile men who serve it. If my geography is correct it is bound for that bourne where, we are told, there is perpetual fire." This reference to the Moran candidacy provoked loud applause.

Senator Lodge, in presenting the name of State Auditor Turner, predicted that the coming elections in New York and Massachusetts would be the Austerlitz of American politics, and expressed the opinion that these elections would decide whether the government in those states should be American or Cossack.

The convention platform expressed especial commendation of President Roosevelt, for his "courage, wisdom, honesty and patriotism," and greeted him as the man "who had exposed misconduct in public office without pity and punished it without mercy." The resolutions pointed out, also, that the president was a "potent influence for peace in the world, an inspiration for the uplifting of public and private ideals, and a wise and successful leader in wholesome legislation in the interest of the whole people."

The administration of Governor Guild was approved emphatically. The country was congratulated on the successful mission of Secretary of State Root to South America and congress commended for its progressive legislation. The public ownership of railroads was opposed strongly. Sympathy was expressed with the "suffering and outraged Jews in Poland and Russia, although with a sense of profound humiliation that our own garments are not free from the innocent blood of Americans of African descent." Further than that, the platform dealt pointedly with the disfranchisement of the negroes in the south. The enforcement of the Fifteenth amendment to the Constitution relating to the right to vote was urged as a sacred duty to the nation. The platform further says:

"The session of congress which has recently closed presented a record of constructive legislation unrivalled in importance and extent, conceived in the interest and for the protection of the people, and we give to them, as well as to the other legislation enacted by that congress, our hearty approval.

"We declare our unwavering adherence to the historic Republican policy of tariff protection to American industries and labor.

"Under the favoring conditions created by the protective tariff, the enterprise and skill of employer and employed have found abundant opportunity; our rich, natural resources have been developed; our industries have been diversified; our foreign and domestic trade has increased; capital and labor have obtained ready employment and fair return, and we rejoice in an average state of comfort and a general and widespread prosperity rarely attained by any people at any period of history.

EBEN S. DRAPER.

"But no tariff law ever has been or can be perfect in all its parts, and, moreover, schedules necessary and wise at the time of their adoption may become unnecessary and unwise by changes in industrial conditions, and the law, therefore, ought not to be deemed to be above criticism or beyond improvement. We approve the action of our representatives in both houses of congress at the last session in asking consideration of the tariff, believing it to be the duty of a Republican congress to examine with care at all times the operation of the tariff laws, and to amend or revise them whenever the public interests demand.

"In any amendment or revision of the tariff laws we believe that the principle of protection should be kept constantly in view, and applied impartially to all sections and all industries; that maximum and minimum tariffs to be applied under executive authority should be established as the surest method of securing just commercial relations with other nations, and that the schedules of duties should be so adjusted that they will especially foster trade with the other nations and dependencies on this hemisphere.

"We are opposed to the ownership of the railroads by this state or the national government. In our opinion under government ownership the service would lose in efficiency and economy, and there would be placed under the control of the dominant political party a powerful and widespread political agency. We believe that the evils which have been or may be developed in railroad management would often be intensified under public ownership, but that they can be corrected by a rigid public supervision and regulation, which we approve. In this, as in other respects, we favor reform and not revolution."

Would Be Carefully Considered

Washington, Oct. 6.—Regarding the declaration of the American Railway Mail Clerks' association for an eight-hour day, Postmaster General Cortelyou says that he has received nothing from the organization on the subject, but that should such a declaration come to him it would require very careful consideration.

Bondsmen Superseded

The personal bondsman is fast becoming obsolete; the risk to private fortune is too great.

The corporate bond is just as rapidly supplanting the old form; and, in time, men will marvel that they were ever called upon to incur the danger of personal suretyship.

In point of safety, convenience and propriety, there can be no comparison between the two; the one is just as weak and perilous as the other is strong and safe.

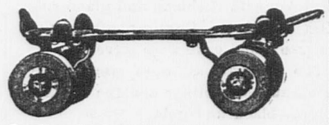

The time will be when it will be thought as reasonable to borrow the key of a friend's safe as to borrow his name for surety purposes.

DEATH LIST OF SEVENTY

Mourning In Many Homes In Mining Town of Pocahontas

Bluefield, W. Va., Oct. 6.—Twenty-nine bodies have been recovered from the Pocahontas Collieries company mine at Pocahontas and a conservative estimate places the total number of dead at 70. The rescuing party reached the scene of the explosion, but the immense amount of debris and wreckage has hampered the search for bodies.

The mining town of Pocahontas is plunged in mourning. In a score of homes relatives and friends are watching by the side of dead loved ones.

Half a score of men were put to work digging graves in the same cemetery and close to the spot where, in 1884, over 200 who had perished in a similar explosion were buried.

At the improvised morgue Hungarians, Italians and negroes thronged to identify the dead, and as fast as this was done the bodies were placed in coffins and removed to their homes. Enormous crowds gathered here from all over the vast coal field and all the saloons of the little town were closed. This prevented any trouble.

Indicted For Sensational Crime

Albany, Oct. 6.—After examining 572 men during a period of nearly two weeks, a jury was finally secured to try the case of John C. Hammond, accused of murdering his wife in this city last November. The body of Hammond's wife was found packed in a trunk at their home, with strong evidence that she had been murdered. Her husband could not be found. While the police of the entire country were searching for Hammond, several months later he walked into police headquarters in this city and surrendered himself, afterward making a complete confession.

Said Nothing of Polygamy

Salt Lake City, Oct. 6.—An address by President Smith was the principal event of the 77th semi-annual conference of the Mormon church here. Smith made no direct allusion to his own indictment for unlawful cohabitation with his five wives, but he said: "Let every man live such an exemplary life that there can be nothing to be said against him. Let him be true to his people; let him be true to Zion and pure in his ways, and the one God will uphold him whether he is deprived of his liberty or in prison cells."

Infernal Machine For Pennypacker

Harrisburg, Oct. 6.—A suspicious-looking package addressed to Governor Pennypacker and containing what appeared to be an infernal machine was found in the governor's mail at the executive mansion. Chief Clerk Lynch placed it in a bucket of water and let it soak for several hours. Upon being opened, it was found to contain a small case resembling a cartridge shell, surrounded by black powder, and was intended to be exploded by the removal of the lid. There is no clue to the sender.

An Offer of Arbitration

Baltimore, Oct. 6.—The state of Maryland intervened in the dispute over wages between the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic, and the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railroad companies, and their licensed deck officers when Chief Cox of the state bureau of statistics and information called upon the official representatives of both sides and offered his services as mediator in the controversy. The men accepted, but no statement has come from the affected lines.

Students Dropped From Bridge

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 6.—While a party of 25 students of Oconto, Wis., high school were standing on a footbridge at Oconto Falls, watching the falls, the structure collapsed, precipitating the whole party 40 feet into the stream. William Balou, aged 14, was killed, three others were seriously injured and several were slightly injured. The bridge is 200 feet long, but the water in the stream is only three feet deep.

Terrible Sight For Pedestrians

Cleveland, Oct. 6.—During an altercation, two young men, clutched in each other's arms, fell from a fourth-story window of an office building to their death on the pavement below. The dead men were J. V. Bunts and Harry Wilfred, both clerks in the Lake Shore railroad offices. Hundreds of pedestrians witnessed the tragedy.

Hudson Bay Steamer Missing

St. Johns, Oct. 6.—Uneasiness is beginning to be felt here because the sealing steamer Adventure, which sailed early in August for Hudson bay, is overdue. The vessel carried a Canadian government expedition. The Adventure was due here a fortnight ago. Her crew consists of 25 natives of this place.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Chow-chow, chili-sauce, catsup and and pickles are much in evidence and the careful housewife is exchanging the well tested recipes with her neighbor.

It is rumored that the Rice Huchins Company is to build a large shoe factory on the vacant land between the freight house and School street. It is hoped the rumor is correct for it will mean employment for hundreds of people and utilize some of the vacant land near the car tracks.

Quincy was about the only city in the commonwealth which did not have one of its citizens as a member of the permanent committees of the Republican State convention, or as a vice president. It cannot be because we are not a staunch Republican city, but probably because our leading citizens do not take an interest in city and State government.

Today, the real automobile race for the Vanderbilt cup will take place over the 297 mile circuit on Long Island. America has never yet won a big road race, although her builders have been trying to do so for years. Much depends upon the automobile. It must be safe, steady, reliable, easily managed economical in operation, in fact, perfect in every detail. With the splendid racing cars of France, Germany and Italy, against five American cars to represent our country, there is bound to be a hard fight for victory.

The new meat inspection law went into operation among the large business concerns in Boston, Monday. Many of the slaughter houses, packing houses, canning and salting establishments were obliged to rearrange their premises to be able to procure for their products the government tag, inspected and approved. All butchers doing a wholesale business are liable to inspection. The meat handlers are required to wear rubber coats or aprons, thus giving the appearance of unusual neatness to the entire market district. In these days of investigation, it is a relief to know, that this staple article of diet is absolutely above suspicion. We at least are seemingly safe for it is believed all in town butchers trade directly with the wholesale departments in Boston, because of the convenience.

Now that summer is nearly spent, the trolley season is practically ended. Statistics prove that this form of outing has greatly gained in popularity, because now, one can easily reach distant points, which years ago required several changes of cars. In proportion to the opportunities and possibilities for accident, it is remarkable to note the few fatalities which actually occur. Great care is shown by the different managers, and the lives and limbs of passengers are protected by numberless mechanical safe-guards. Of course, conditions of traffic in the streets, provides circumstances that make it quite impossible to avoid all accident, but oftentimes the negligence of both passengers and pedestrians account for the greatest number of mishaps. We should be proud to recognize our blessings and be grateful to street railway managers for our pleasant and healthful rides.

The sixteenth semi-annual convention of the Norfolk county association of the King's Daughter and Sons, will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building at Hyde Park, Thursday, October 11th, 1906. The trains leave South Station for Hyde Park at 9.15 and 10.15 A. M. A lunch is to be served by the Inasmuch circle at 25 cents per plate. It is hoped that a large delegation will attend as a most helpful program has been prepared.

About 2,000 invitations are being issued for the free lecture to be given on "Christian Science" by Edward A. Kimball, C. S. D., of Chicago, member of the Christian Science board of lectureship of the First church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, at First church of Christ, Scientist, Braintree, opposite the depot, on Friday, October 12, next, at 7.45 P. M. It will be a grand opportunity to hear the doctrine expounded.

City Hospital a Merciful Institution

Mr. Editor:

May I through the columns of your paper ask for the collectors for the City Hospital a cordial reception and a generous response as they make their tour of duty this coming week?

It has never been my fortune to meet a citizen of Quincy who does not believe that the Hospital is an absolute necessity in a city such as this. Cumulative evidence of this fact does not seem to me to be needed. It has demonstrated its right to be by its years of existence. The blessings which it has conferred upon the community have only been limited by its means, and the only valid criticism against it which I have heard is that it does not do enough.

The public intellectually knows but does not realize its duty in the maintenance of the Hospital. They tire of its annual appeals. Enthusiasm is easily aroused for some new thing, but self-sacrificing effort for an established charity is stirred with difficulty.

We laugh as we read that the people of Athens banished Aristides because they were tired of hearing him called the just. They had delighted in him, designated him chief citizen, wearied of him, and banished him. Equally fickle is the public of these days. If it were as easy to rouse the people to do their duty as to teach them to know it, the treasury of the Hospital would always be full.

If my advise could prevail the budget of every person's expenditure would contain an item for hospital support, as surely as for any other necessary expense. H. C. Hallowell, M. D.

Very Thankful For the Hospital

Daily Ledger:

I went to the hospital January 5, and came home March 5. I had two operations while I was at the hospital. I am better than I have been for years. I am so thankful they did so well for me. The matron was so very kind to me, and also the head nurse, that I never shall forget them. They did everything for me. It is a very nice place for any one sick, and I am very thankful for what they did for me.

Good Care And Nursing

Publication Committee:

Dear Sirs:—It gives me great pleasure to recommend the Quincy City Hospital to anyone in need of good care and nursing. I know that it was the good care and nursing that was given to me that brought me out of the sickness I had while there. The Matron and Nurses were kind and considerate to me and I cannot speak too highly of the Nurses that attended me as they gave me the best of care and attention.

I can thank them for getting well as quick as I did.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. J. V. ROBERTSON.
98 Pleasant street, Quincy Adams.

Citizens Should Do their Best

To the Publication Committee:

Just a few words about our dear Hospital in the City of Quincy. As to my personal knowledge I do not know where we could send our dear sick ones to be taken better care of as in our Hospital. Surely it is a home to our sick ones with its good and lofty rooms, tender Nurses and Doctors. Surely it is our duty as citizens of Quincy to do our best to support it.

Yours very truly,
Mrs. Lizy Kakkinen.

Martin Pfaffman.

Martin Pfaffmann died at his home Wednesday morning. About six months ago Mr. Pfaffmann was stricken with paralysis and never fully recovered. He was born in Bavaria, Germany, 78 years ago. For many years he was superintendent of the Webster farm at Marshfield, Mass., and had recollections of Daniel Webster.

He was owner of the Wollaston Park nursery, and also one of the pioneers of Wollaston, having lived there since 1870.

Mr. Pfaffmann had many warm friends who will greatly miss him, for he was possessed of a genial and kindly nature, and he was honorable in his dealings with all.

He is survived by a widow, four daughters, — Mrs. Edgar King, Miss Sybilla, Caroline and Lena Pfaffmann,— and two sons,—Philip and George E. Pfaffmann.

The funeral took place on Friday from his late home.

Lively Time On 9.27 Train

John A. Foster, said to hail from Boston, undertook to run things his own way on the 9.27 outward train from Boston last night. It is said that he was very much under the influence of liquor, and that he smashed the rear signal lights on the train, while it had stopped and that the train was delayed twenty minutes besides being in danger of being run into by another train before the rear brakeman could run back with a red light.

It is alleged that he was disorderly in the train and assaulted the brakeman. When the train reached Quincy the man was turned over to Officer Goodhue whom he struck a violent blow in the face.

This morning he was arraigned in court on four complaints. They charged him with tampering with train signals, disorderly conduct on a train, assault on William Good, and assault on Officer Goodhue. The cases were continued until Oct. 15. The bonds on the first complaint being $500 and in the other three complaints $100.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

The Location is the best of any hall in the city. The street cars pass the door with a turnout right in front of the Hall.

The Special Decorations which have just been put up are most effective, and add much to the appearance of the Hall.

The Floor is of selected maple laid with the greatest care, and is kept in perfect condition, being covered with canvas when not used for dancing.

The Ventilation—a most important consideration—is such as to keep the air pure with even a crowded hall and without causing any drafts.

The Hall is Lighted by electricity, brilliantly and pleasantly, and with a switchboard arranged so that all desired effects can be obtained in the Hall proper or on the stage. Gas is used as an auxiliary light.

The Heating is direct—indirect, ample, and giving the most healthful results.

The Stage has been designed with care, and is furnished with a particularly generous supply of attractive and appropriate scenery.

For Advertising, the Music Hall Billboards throughout the City are of very great value.

To Darken the Hall, there are special window fittings so that at noonday the Hall can be made as dark as at midnight.

In case of fire there are pails of water and chemical fire extinguishers throughout the Hall. There is an asbestos fire curtain by which the Stage can be instantly cut off from the Hall proper. There are ten (10) doors opening from the Hall and six (6) separate exits.

As a whole, Quincy Music Hall has been carefully planned to meet the requirements of those who wish a large and really first class Hall.

The attendance thus far at the Boston Food Fair, now being held at Mechanics Building, Boston, has exceeded that of any previous food fair.

The United States Marine Band of Washington has taken Boston by storm. The attendance the first two or three days exceeded 20,000 persons each day, everybody seeming anxious to hear the United States Marine Band and see the wonderful decorations, for the decorations at the Food Fair this year are far more beautiful than have ever been witnessed.

COZY HOMES.

The discovery of a new wick principle—so effective and yet so simple that it is a wonder no one thought of it before—has so revolutionized the manufacture of oil heaters and lamps that explosions, smoke and smell, caused by imperfect wick arrangement, may safely be regarded as things of the past.

This new wick attachment is to be found on the Perfection Oil Heater. Interesting tests show that, although the heater gives intense heat, the wick cannot be turned too high or too low—absolute safety thus being assured. One other feature which is worthy of mention is the smokeless device which prevents all smoke and odor. The portability of the heater also commends it for general household use. Heater is very light and can be easily carried about. Its simple operation, usefulness in heating water and warming cold rooms make it a most handy and useful article in any home. This heater is so far superior to other oil heaters, and is of such fair price that its universal adoption is but a matter of time.

The Rayo Lamp, which is made by the manufacturers of the Perfection Oil Heater, is without doubt the best lamp for all-round household use. Is equipped with the latest improved burner, and gives a bright steady light at small cost. Suitable for any room, whether library, dining-room, parlor, or bedroom.

The Perfection Oil Heater and the Rayo Lamp form a combination that for real home comfort cannot be equalled. When consideration is taken of the simple operation of both heater and lamp, their absolute safety, the intense heat generated by the one, and the bright and steady ligit given by the other—all without smoke or smell—their value in any home, large or small, can be somewhat appreciated. Sold by all good dealers.

BRAINTREE.

The High School Alumni association will hold a meeting in the Monatiquot School hall on Thursday evening, October 11th, at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that all graduates of the High school who are interested in any degree in this movement, will make an effort to be present as it is desirable to make plans for the winter's work.

Last Sunday, the order of Locomotive engineers held a union meeting in New York city. Among those who attended from this town were W. J. Tirrell, Jr., H. L. Tobey and L. H. Tirrell.

Wednesday evening, many attended the harvest supper in the chapel of the Congregational church. After partaking of the bountiful repast, the company repaired to the church, where an illustrated, stereopticon lecture, Vacation life in the Wild Woods of Maine, was given by D. W. Howard of Boston.

Monday evening, the members of the Matron's whist club were entertained by Mrs. H. W. Bosworth of Hancock street. The souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. M. A. Minchin, Mrs. H. W. Bosworth and Louise C. Gillette. It was the first meeting of the season, and plans were made for an enjoyable winter.

Next Wednesday evening, the quarterly conference of the M. E. church will be held in the chapel. Rev. Mr. Coultas, the presiding elder of this district, will take charge of the meeting.

Hon. James T. Stevens is resting comfortably at the Massachusetts General hospital, where he was taken for treatment, the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Caswell of Washington street have returned from a visit of two weeks, spent with relatives in New Hampshire.

Mrs. F. P. Luce of Middle street, was appointed a delegate to attend the meeting of the New England branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, which takes place next Tuesday and Wednesday at Springfield.

Mr. Williams, principal of the Noah Torrey school, with his family are occupying one of the tenements in Mr. E. C. Hall's new house on Central avenue.

A large gathering enjoyed the supper at the First Church, Wednesday evening. The supper was especially good being in charge of an able committee of ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston of Washington street are rejoicing in the birth of a little daughter, who came to their home Sunday evening.

Mr. Charles E. Arnold and wife of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Mr. William F. Arnold, wife and two daughters of Plainfield, New Jersey, have been the guests of their sister, Mrs. Mary L. Merritt.

Charles Brooks, the popular grocer of Front street, East Braintree, was married on Wednesday evening to a Quincy lady.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson of Franklin street, have returned from an extended vacation spent with friends and relatives in Nova Scotia.

The friends of N. Atherton Richards are glad to know of his location at New York. He is at the Y. M. C. A. rooms and enjoys all the privileges of swimming tank, gymnasium, social gatherings, religious services and reading-room. His work on the plans of the highest building in the world is of much interest. This structure will be higher than the Washington monument one hundred feet and be forty stories or floors.

The relatives and friends of Mrs. Fred Pelton of Washington street, will be very glad to learn that she is considered to be out of danger and although very weak indeed, there is hope of her ultimate recovery. Her immediate family feel that they owe her life to the skilful ministrations of Dr. F. W. Brett quite as much as to the efficient treatment received at the New England hospital.

The funeral services of George Lyman Shaw of East Braintree, were held at his home on Elmwood park on Sunday Rev. William Hyde, rector of Trinity Episcopal church officiated. Miss Bessie Bates sang appropriate selections in sympathetic contralto tones. The bearers were Mr. Alexander, Mr. Edward Hunt, Mr. John Bacon.

The social club connected with the Union church opened the season on Wednesday evening very successfully. A delicious supper was served under the direction of Mrs. C. D. Harlow and her assistants. This was followed by a "Scotch Evening." A quartette composed of Mrs. Albert Avery, Miss Helen Loud, Mr. Eugene Murphy and Mr. Ralph Loud, assisted by Mr. Stetson Avery, violinist, and Miss Cady, pianist, gave the following selections: "Annie Lawrie," "Blue Bells of Scotland," "Coming Thro' the Rye," "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," "Peasant's Wedding March" and "Sing Me To Sleep." The pastor, Rev. R. H. Cochrane, who lately returned from a summer spent in Scotland gave an intensely interesting talk on his trip, which was enjoyed by a very appreciative audience. The evening closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by all present.

Heavy Loss For Hack Driver

John J. Crotty, Norman Everson, Jeremiah Donovan, John Foy, John White and Thomas E. Connelly six Quincy fellows were arraigned in court this morning for the larceny of checks and money to the value of $329 from Michael J. McGrath.

McGrath, who runs a livery stable at Wollaston, took the party to the Brockton fair on Thursday in a hack. On the way home while in Holbrook it is claimed that the crowd in the hack were having trouble, and McGrath took White and Connelly on the seat with him.

It was not long after before McGrath, who sat on the edge of the seat, in some manner fell off. He struck on the side of his head and was rendered unconscious. The men brought him to the Quincy Hospital. Friday morning when he went home he missed his money.

Mr. McGrath claims that the money was in a roll, with two checks, one for $160 and the other for $34 on the outside, all being held together with a rubber band.

Later Friday the checks were returned by Crotty, who claims that while at the Hospital they dropped out of McGrath's pocket on to the floor.

Crotty first claimed that the matron picked them up and gave them to him. This the matron denied and then Crotty is alleged to have said that he picked them up himself. It has not been explained how the checks became separated from the money.

The loss was reported to the police, and last night the six men were gathered in by Lieut. McKay and Officer Goodhue.

They were arraigned in court and held in $200 each until Monday.

Day Nursery.

The October meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery Association was called to order by the president on Tuesday afternoon at the Women's club house. The attendance was good and all official reports stood approved.

Mrs. E. G. Pratt visiting director for the month found everything in a satisfactory condition at the Nursery. The attendance was small owing to whooping cough but five new members had been admitted.

Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth reported for the nominating committee. She said it had been a pleasure to go among the ladies and find so much enthusiasm and willingness to hold office the coming year.

The annual reports were presented and will appear in full in the Patriot and Advertiser.

The Association is grateful for the following donations: tomatoes and apples, Mrs. Stearns; apples, tomatoes, chilli sauce and elastic, Mrs. Ross; cereal, Mrs. Pratt; collection from Swedish Baptist church $2.31.

RUIN IN ITS WAKE

Triple Tornado Sweeps Portions of Louisiana

FIVE DEAD, MANY HURT

Damage Is Estimated at Over $1,000,000--Hundred Buildings Demolished In New Orleans--Narrow Path of Storm

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—This region was the centre of cyclonic disturbances, at least three of which were tornadoes, and caused the loss of five lives, with 10 persons fatally injured.

Heavy storms broke throughout the country within 100 miles west, north and east of this city. Reports of sugar cane and cotton crops blown down or sugar mills demolished are coming in from this entire section. The damage, including that done in New Orleans, is placed at over $1,000,000.

The worst tornado was north of New Orleans, where it devastated portions of three parishes. New Orleans was visited by another tornado, and another passed northward of Biloxi, on the gulf coast.

The first tornado struck west of Baton Rouge parish, killing Theodora Forel and daughter, Mrs. White. Two children in Mrs. Forel's house were fatally injured and five men were injured in the collapse of a sugar refinery on the St. Delphine plantation.

The city of Baton Rouge was slightly damaged. In St. James parish one woman, whose name was not learned, was killed, while Mrs. H. R. Webber and daughter and Mrs. John Meyer and also a negro were fatally injured. Fifteen buildings were blown down in this parish. At Ponchatoula George Hawes and son were killed in the collapse of their house and the two other children of Hawes were fatally injured. A dozen other persons were injured there.

Another tornado struck New Orleans and, while no lives were lost here, property damage reached $500,000 and about 50 persons were injured. Fully 100 buildings were demolished, about 75 of which were blown flat. Most of the demolished buildings were negro cabins, and it was here that nearly all the injuries occurred. The path of the tornado through the city was eight miles long.

In places the storm's path was about 30 feet wide and only at two or three points did it reach 100 feet in width. The tornado here appeared at a distance as a cloud sweeping along the surface of the earth. Its course was undulating, some buildings being skipped entirely as it bounded skyward. Frequently it demolished verandas and fences on one side of the street, while not an object on the other side was disturbed. The cloud occupied several minutes in crossing the city.

The saving of the Charity hospital from more than nominal damage was attributed to a big gas tank which stood between the hospital and the tornado. The tornado struck full against the tank, which withstood the shock, although its iron sides were dented by flying timbers. A curious fact is that the big tank marks the last place in the storm's pathway where serious damage was done, and many eye-witnesses say it went in the air and disappeared after striking this obstruction.

Editor Charged With Libel

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Frank E. Xavier, editor of the Yonkers Herald, was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of criminal libel entered by District Attorney Jerome of New York. He gave bond for trial at the next term of court. The article to which Jerome takes exception was an editorial intimating that Jerome entered into a conspiracy with life insurance officers in accordance with which he was not to prosecute them.

FROLIC ELUDES THEM

Revenue Cutters Search In Vain For Alleged Chinese Smuggler

Boston, Oct. 6.—The schooner yacht Frolic with its load of Chinese, which the government officials have been seeking for nearly two weeks in vain to capture, is generally believed to have changed her route.

The schooner is now a week overdue and, although reports of sighting her have repeatedly been made, government officials have discredited them all. The coast patrol, however, is maintained day and night by the revenue cutters Gresham and Dexter. No trace of the much-sought Frolic has as yet been reported officially.

It is said that the Frolic when she put out from Placentia on Sept. 22 was not provisioned for a long voyage, and must soon land if she has not already received a supply of provisions from friendly craft at sea. The simple rice diet of the Chinese, however, would enable the schooner to remain out longer than the more varied diet of white persons would permit.

Fog Ties Up Shipping

Boston, Oct. 6.—During a dense fog the ferryboat Governor Russell was in collision with a four-masted schooner on the East Boston side of the harbor at 1 o'clock this morning. There was considerable of a panic among the 100 or more passengers on board the ferryboat. The ferryboat also bumped into the end of a wharf and sustained serious damage. The fog during the night and early hours of the morning was so dense as to completely tie up the harbor shipping.

Six Months For Manslaughter

Boston, Oct. 6.—Six months in the house of correction was the sentence imposed by Judge Bond on John J. Halloran, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter in causing the death by shooting of his brother-in-law, James F. Mulkay. Judge Bond said that Halloran acted in self-defense and that if he had pleaded not guilty and had been given a trial before a jury he might have been acquitted.

Missing Steamer Limps Into Port

Boston, Oct. 6.—The long overdue steamer Edenhall limped into quarantine last night, six days overdue on a voyage from Progreso, Mex. Up to the time the steamer was sighted grave fears had been entertained for her safety, as it was presumed that she had encountered the disastrous storm which swept over Mobile and Pensacola. It is believed her machinery is disabled.

Bail Refused Alleged Murderer

Boston, Oct. 6.—After hearing six witnesses in the municipal court, in the case of Henry A. Brown, the negro who is accused of the murder of Charles F. Queen, also a negro, in the Park street subway station last Tuesday, Judge Wentworth found the prisoner probably guilty and bound him over for the November term of the grand jury. Bail was refused.

Rescuing parties have taken out four dead bodies. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Wreck Will Be Investigated

Albany, Oct. 6.—Mayor Mann of Troy has sent a petition to the state board of railroad commissioners, asking the board to investigate the accident at Lansingburg. SURRENDER ARMS

Cuban Rebels Following Advice of Commanders

A REVIVAL OF BUSINESS

Next Crisis May Come When New Government Deals Out Offices --Liberals After the Plums-- The Yellow Fever Situation

Havana, Oct. 6.—While the disarmament of the rebels will not be completed tonight, it is now confidently expected that the entire operation will be finished by Monday, with the exception of Puerto Principe province, which has been less affected than any other province by the rebellion, but which is now a favorite region for marauding bands, which should more correctly be called bandits than rebels.

Although the surrender of guns has not been made compulsory either by the provisional government or the disarming commission, the rebel commanders have all given their followers to understand that it was expected and that the laying down of their arms was a matter of duty. The result of this has been that the number of rifles surrendered is larger, in proportion to the number of men disbanded, than the government expected.

For instance, 800 rebels disbanded in Pinar del Rio province up to now have turned in 600 guns. Governor Taft regards this proportion rather better than the average, but reports from Santa Clara indicate that nearly all the guns of General Guzman's command have been surrendered. A great majority of the rebel rifles are old and poor and many dilapitated weapons have been turned in.

One of the indications that serious trouble is not expected at this time is the revival of business, which had stagnated during the continuance of the revolt and in the early days of intervention. Of course it is too much to hope that the outlaw element that always attaches itself to any movement of this kind that has just culminated in the interference of the United States will immediately cease to prowl the bush. It is likely to be held pretty well in check, however, by a wise distribution of American troops.

The next crisis in the affairs of the island is likely to come when the provisional government is ready to deal out the offices necessary under its administration. The Liberals contend that they have won every point in the controversy and point to the Palma correspondence to prove their case. The distribution of these places will be Mr. Magoon's first and most difficult task.

American Minister Morgan has received many claims from Americans for losses of animals and other damages.

Major Kean has reported to Governor Taft that he has carefully looked over the fever situation and that he does not regard it as especially serious.

General Pino Guerra, accompanied by his staff, rode through Havana yesterday and attracted much attention and applause. Guerra's contemplated trip for the disbandment of the forces under Montero has been abandoned, as Montero has personally agreed to the disbandment regulations.

Objected to Going to Cuba

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 6.—There have been many desertions from the Eleventh infantry at Fort D. A. Russell since the order was received for the regiment to go to Cuba, and one private, who was shot through the hip by a member of a squad of artillerymen who were rounding up deserters, is now in the hospital. The regiment left last evening for Newport News.

Troops Awaiting Transports

Newport News, Va., Oct. 6.—More than 2000 troops are now encamped above this city awaiting transports to take them to Cuba. The first transport, the Tampa, reported here last night, and sailed today with the Washington hospital corps and other troops.

Gas Explosion Kills Eight

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Eight men were killed and nearly two score of persons were injured by an explosion of illuminating gas in the Market street subway. High buildings were shaken by the force of the explosion and for a block on either side of the scene of the explosion nearly every window was shattered. The loss, it is believed, will exceed $300,000.

Lawyer Misunderstood Law

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 6.—James B. Dodson, a lawyer and politician, was fined $400 in the federal court for making false affidavits in entering government land. Judge Phillips said that the fine was made light because of Dodson's misunderstanding the law and because the land had not been lost to the government.

Deaths on Ocean Steamer

New York, Oct. 6.—Three deaths occurred on the trip of the French liner La Lorraine which ended here last night. On the third day out Mrs. Levi Schelling of San Francisco, 72 years of age, died. As the steamer was leaving Havre a sailor fell from a mast and was drowned. A day later a stoker died from heat.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

A New Shirt Waist Model—Odd Jewels at a Premium.

A mighty swagger lingerie shirt waist is made of alternate strips of rather wide valenciennes insertion and slightly gathered two inch puffs of handkerchief linen arranged horizontally. The sleeves are fashioned in the same way and finish just below the elbow with three tiny lace edged ruffles.

Garnets are very fashionable. Odd necklaces and pins of this becoming red stone are searched for in antique shops. A particularly original necklace was run to cover the other day consisting of small blocks of uncut garnets fastened together with invisible links.

Bracelets of all sorts are worn in extravagant numbers. Several narrow ones on the left arm are usually of "semi" as well as precious stones, set in all kinds of clever designs.

The pointed bodice is the newest thing in styles so far. Occasionally a girdle effect is the form it takes, but more often it is the waist itself, carefully shaped to fit without a wrinkle and slanting into a deep, graceful point directly in front. These waists are close fitting and well boned. There are few figures to which this bodice is not becoming, for anything that makes the waist look smaller is bound to look well on the stout and slim woman alike.

Shades running between brown and gray promise to be the leading colors of the season—such, for instance, as "smoked glass," "elephant's tail," etc.

The dress illustrated is a serviceable little frock for school wear. It is made of navy blue panama cloth trimmed with black braid. The gimp of all over embroidery softens the effect about the face, and, as it is detachable, a fresh one is easily substituted.

PHENOMENA OF HABIT.

The Importance of Correct Training For Young Children.

The most important years, the years that give the trend for life, are the early ones, when the little dimpled hands are outstretched, when the baby soul is reaching forth and receiving ideas and impressions, when manners are formed and habits have their beginnings. To leave the babies to irresponsible hired hands and lavish care and expense on half grown children is the blunder of those who are ignorant or inexperienced as to vital issues.

President King of Oberlin college, in his admirable treatise on "Rational Living," has this to say to young people, and I commend it to mothers:

"Nowhere are the psychical and physical so completely interwoven as in the phenomena of habit. The mind's initiative constantly comes in, but it is as constantly seconded by the nervous system. The time limit in habits is one of the strong evidences of the close connection of body and mind. It is a startling fact to face that a man's personal habits are largely fixed before he is twenty, the chief lines of his future growth and acquaintance before he is twenty-five and his professional habits before he is thirty. We are becoming bundles of habits. With every young person one must, therefore, continually urge: Are you willing to retain just the personal habits you have now? You cannot too quickly change them if you wish to make thorough work. From your early morning toilet, through the care of your clothing and the order of your room, table manners, breathing, tone of voice, manner of talking, pronunciation, gesture, motion, address, study, to your very way of sleeping at night—all your habits are setting like plaster of paris."—Margaret E. Sangster in Woman's Home Companion.

British Diving Record.

Lieutenant Damant and Gunner Catto, from H. M. S. Spanker, as the outcome of naval investigation of deep sea diving, recently descended, says the London Mail, in a Scottish loch in diving suits to a depth of thirty-five fathoms, or 210 feet, a record for the British isles and probably for the world, although greater depths are said to have been reached by the pearl divers of Australasia.

Rhodes Scholars In Oxford.

Twenty-eight new Rhodes scholars are expected to arrive in Oxford in the October term, says the London Chronicle. Last year's contingent numbered sixty-eight, but under the provisions of Mr. Rhodes' will none of the American states send candidates this year. The total number of Rhodes scholars in residence at Oxford next term will exceed 150.

BOSTON LETTER.

How Moran In His Fight Utilized the Reform Wave.

REAL REFORMERS AND FAKERS.

Strong Protest Among Democrats Against Moran.

The political situation on the Democratic side in Massachusetts has crystalized to such an extent that the nomination of John B. Moran as the candidate of that party for governor is now beyond question. The conservative Democrats are willing to turn over the management of the campaign to Mr. Moran and his friends and let them see what they can accomplish. The situation is a most peculiar one. A tremendously large element in the party does not desire Mr. Moran as their candidate for governor and many certainly will not vote for him.

A wave of reform has been sweeping over the country. It has become a fashion for the press to expose dishonesty in business and in political life. The people are beginning to realize that they may have good government and honest administration of large business interests if they choose to enforce their will, and measures looking towards improvement of conditions are being everywhere discussed. It is a hopeful sign, perhaps one of the most hopeful signs of our times. A few great leaders have appeared, men like Roosevelt and Folk, who have led in the fight for honest government and who have been wise enough to utilize the enthusiasm of the people for reform. All this is very encouraging and augurs well for the future of democratic institutions.

But a curious anomaly is beginning to be played. This new enthusiasm of the people for clean government is being utilized by unscrupulous men for their own purposes. The discontent with conditions as they are and the restlessness of the people under machine rule have been used by certain men now assuming importance in political life to further their own ambition. With the cry of "Down with the machine," they are attempting to smash existing political organizations and to substitute for them a machine of their own.

The Real and the False

Roosevelt and Folk are the type of the real reformers. Hearst and Moran are the type of those who masquerade as reformers in order to gain advantage for themselves.

Both Hearst and Moran have split their party in order to build up their own machines, and, knowing that they cannot carry their own party, they look about for issues which will bring them votes. The most favorable issues of the day are honest government, and some form of regulation of wealth, and these are in the main the issues that these two men pretend to stand for.

Is the movement sincere? Take, for instance, Hearst; does any one who knows the private and public life of Hearst for a moment suppose that he can represent the honest ideas of the American people? Can it be possible that a man who has derived his fortune from capitalistic enterprises, who draws a large income from them, and who uses his money as he has done, is sincere in denouncing capital?

In New York the reputable men of both parties have repudiated Hearst. In Massachusetts the Democrats whose names are most respected for honesty have repudiated Moran and his methods. It has never been charged that Mr. Moran has used money to obtain his ends. His method of procedure is quite different, though hardly likely to appeal any the more to the conscientious people of Massachusetts. Ask any man, Republican or Democrat, who knows the conditions, and he will tell you that Mr. Moran's procedure has been very much as follows:

Moran's Advertising Methods

Mr. Moran being a very clever man, and understanding thoroughly the public, and the tendency of the times, knew that the first thing necessary was to be spoken of. He came practically unknown to the office of district attorney. At the end of a short time his name was in the mouths of everyone, owing to his attack on all the large and reputable hotels in Boston. It was noted, however, by representatives of the temperance people in Massachusetts that saloons which maintained screens were left unmolested. There was no notoriety in enforcing the law against obscure saloons. Thus step No. 1, notoriety, was achieved. Step No. 2 was to give the general impression that all existing political organizations were dishonest. The district attorney therefore summoned before the grand jury, after a very cleverly advertised campaign against corruption in the legislature, every member of the general court, thereby planting in every town and hamlet in Massachusetts a feeling of distrust of their representative. The seed of distrust is sown, the matter goes no further, men have no opportunity to justify themselves, and the bad impression remains. The district attorney then summoned before the grand jury members of state committees, senators, congressmen, mayors, aldermen, with the object of giving the impression that all representatives of the people are dishonest.

This having been accomplished, he devotes himself to such matters as will strike public attention. The routine of the office is neglected and the part of the court house where the district attorney's quarters are situated becomes the centre of sensational news.

If the activity of the district attorney were directed towards the furtherance of good government, the people of Massachusetts might well rejoice, but those who are best qualified to know believe that Mr. Moran has been using his official position to the advance of personal political success.

Knows Democrats' Weaknesses

Under the guise of investigating into the public conduct of various public officials, he has managed to get a vast amount of information about men prominent in the Democratic party. It is well known that many prominent Democratic politicians are not without reproach, and that they perhaps sometimes have brought themselves within the range of the criminal law. If Mr. Moran were using this information for the purification of public life and for the punishment of criminals, the claim of his supporters that he is restoring to the grand jury one of its functions might be supported. But there is a strong suspicion among those who are best acquainted with conditions in Boston, a suspicion which more reputable Democratic leaders do not hesitate to declare openly to be a fact, that this information is being used by the district attorney as a club with which to frighten his enemies and compel them to support him.

Mr. Moran cannot carry his own party. He must, in order to be elected, win over Republican votes. Unless he has succeeded in deceiving the conscience of Massachusetts, unless he has been able to make the people at large believe in his honesty of purpose, he cannot win.

It is not too much to say that reputable and well informed people of both political parties repudiate Mr. Moran and his tactics. For the first time in the history of Massachusetts an officer of justice has misused his position. The men with whom Mr. Moran has connected himself politically do not bear an enviable reputation. Nothing could harm the commonwealth more than to have a man of Mr. Moran's character in the governor's chair.

Will Fire First Gun

The Republican state convention will be held in Boston on Oct. 5. The Republican club of Massachusetts will open the state campaign on Monday evening, Oct. 8, by a mammoth dinner and rally in Symphony hall, with United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, Congressman Theodore F. Burton of Ohio, chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, probably Congressman Charles E. Littlefield of Maine, and Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., as speakers. Provision has been made for seating 1200 people at the dining tables and the balcony will be filled by the general public.

Senator Beveridge is one of the most eloquent speakers in the country, and Congressman Burton is also a fine orator, and, as everybody knows, Mr. Littlefield is one of the ablest debaters on the Republican side in the lower house of congress. There is a tremendous interest in the campaign and it is intended to make this event the biggest and most successful of the entire canvass. Altogether, three or four thousand people will listen to these splendid speakers. The sale of tickets for the dinner is limited to members only, until Wednesday, Oct. 3, when the general public will have an opportunity to purchase them.

DRESS HINTS.

Simplicity of taste in dress is good taste.

In basting the skirt band to the skirt hold the skirt toward you and take care to match the center of the skirt to the center of the belt.

Plush goods and all articles dyed with aniline colors which have faded from exposure to the light will look as bright as new after sponging with chloroform.

A mixture of alcohol, one part, and water, three parts, wonderfully freshens black dresses and suits. They should be sponged all over on the right side, then pressed on the wrong side, while still damp.

It may seem superfluous to mention so simple a matter, yet not all dressmakers or professional seamstresses appreciate the importance of putting patches on with the twill or nap of the goods going the same way in patch and goods patched.

The Right Kind of a Girl.

Let a girl be ever so graceful in the dance, let her be ever so elegant of walk across a drawing room, ever so right in conversation, she must possess some other qualities to convince the great average run of young men that she can be a manager of his home. Frugality, woman instincts of love for home, an eye to the best interests of her husband and the careful training of her children—these are the traits which make the good wife of today and which young men look for in the girls they meet, says Woman's Life. Men may sometimes give the impression that they do not care for common sense in their sweethearts, but there is nothing they so unfailingly demand of their wives.

The Salamander.

Some housewives may not know what the salamander used in cooking is. It is a circular iron plate, to which is attached a long handle. When any article of food is to be browned the salamander is made red hot in the fire and then held over the article. An ordinary fire shovel may be used instead of a salamander, but it is not especially good for the shovel to be heated so intensely.

Blind as a Bat

By Martha McCulloch-Williams

Copyright, 1906, by Ruby Douglas

Eastbrook opened its eyes very wide and caught its breath over the Taunton girl when she swept through it riding cross saddle. To be sure, the town had been reading this long time about the divided skirt, but then the town was also not exactly sure in its mind that riding its streets even upon a proper sidesaddle was not rather bold.

Of course in the country it was different. The very best young women rode there. Moreover, it had come to be a sort of proverb among the plantation folk that the hardest and most reckless riders were town girl visitors. Very few of them had any mercy upon the beasts luckless enough to carry them—this not because they were hard-hearted, but from sheer ignorance and the pure animal delight of finding themselves unfettered for a time. They fretted not a little, these town bred riders, when the country folk checked speed at hills or insisted that a horse should have a chance to blow a bit after a hard gallop.

Possibly envy, the least touch, gave edge to their disapproval of Edith Taunton. Edith had a fortune and three fine saddle horses. As if that were not enough, Billy Drayton fell into a way of sharing her early gallops.

Until she came back to the old homestead Billy had not seen a sunrise once a year. It was provokingly significant, this change in him. He had been the despair of the town matchmakers. He was a governor's grandson, rich, good looking, good humored. Further, he was a squire of dames so nobly impartial nobody ever yet had been able to establish a claim to him. The people he regarded most and was readiest to serve were meek old ladies who had known his mother and very little girls.

Edith was, he insisted, only a big little girl, very lone and lorn in her big empty house. What he did not say was that he thought her coming back to it something so fine and brave he was bent on helping her fight down the loneliness and make her own social place.

This in the beginning—until the town gossips took to craning the neck, shaking the head and drawing aside the least bit when the girl came among them. Billy saw the head shaking, the drawing back, a long time before she did. She was open and unsuspicious as daylight and had no thought of treading on the corns of town propriety in anything she did. But, being also full of quick intuitions, after awhile she understood.

And then? Then only she really did set out to horrify the good gentlewomen. She drove tandem through the middle of the square, sitting up very straight, looking neither to right nor left, but pulling up at the corner by the bank to pick up Billy and take him away with her. Next week it was a card party—wholly masculine in composition, except for Edith herself and the colorless cousin who served as her companion. There were wine and cigars and a supper afterward—a very late supper.

The town thrilled with the horror of it. But not as it did a little later, when everybody knew that thereafter, upon Sunday evenings, Edith meant to be at home to her friends.

If Billy had known in time that never would have come to pass. But he had gone away for a fortnight right after the night at cards, first making Edith promise to have no more such assemblies until he was there to give her countenance and protection.

When he came back and found the mischief done, he was in a sad taking.

"I see just one way out of it—you have got to marry me, else you won't have a rag of reputation left," he said, pretending to shake her hard.

Edith made a mutinous mouth at him. "Suppose we try some other sacrificial lamb. Aren't you most too old and tough?" she asked, her eyes dancing wickedly.

Billy grinned cheerfully. "You can have carloads of 'em for the taking, nice white baa lambs, but I don't believe they'd be the least effectual," he said. "You see, what you need, really, is not a sacrifice, but a scapegoat. I'm strong enough to have your sins confessed over my head and thenceforth imputed to me."

"But scapegoats have to be sent away, out into the wilderness. I learned that much at Sunday school, and I can't have you go away," Edith protested. "Besides, I am not doing anything horrid. I shall go to church mornings just the same. As for the evenings, you know yourself other girls go to church then, mainly to have somebody see them home and stay all hours afterward making love to them. I really feel like a missionary—the boys can come here and rest or talk or do anything they please. As it is now, they have no choice at all—they must either mope at home or go out and court somebody—and that must be dreadfully wearing."

"It is," Billy said fervently, his eyes reminiscent. "But, my dear girl, you had better give it up. Get a telegram calling you away. I'll send it if your conscience is against fibbing"—

"My conscience is not against anything necessary, and you know fibs are necessary," Edith interrupted. "But I have much more conscience against backing out of anything just because I'm afraid of some old tabby cats and young ones."

"Tabby cats have claws," Billy said oracularly.

Edith looked at him doubtfully a minute. "I know. They try even to scratch you," she said. And then quickly, her eyes flaming, "They actually came here, three of them, to tell me about your past"—

"They did?" Billy's voice was deadly quiet. "And you?"

"I said it did not interest me to know about it; all I was concerned with was your future," Edith answered, her voice trembling a little, although her eyes were brave.

Billy got up and stretched himself.

"That settles it," he said. "Name the day, right off, so I can go order wedding cards."

* * * * * * *

Edith did name the day, but not until she had stood out against him a week. She might not have given in even then but for the ordeal at church. Not only was she cut right and left—the minister preached at her—not by name, of course, but in a fashion more than unmistakable.

Billy was there, across the aisle, glum and furious. After service he half led her out, and walked away with her, his head high. But even that did not hurt like the furtive yet swaggering airs of the three men who called in the evening. There was further something of patronage about them.

Altogether they made Edith hate them, but not as she hated herself. She was full of quick kindness and had not meant hurt or affront to anybody—at least not in the beginning. Dully she wondered why her townsfolk would not understand she had come back to them because her interest lay among them and had been eager to help in all good works if only she had been permitted.

But she held up her head and laughed and jested till the latest of her callers took himself away. Then silently she held out her hand to Billy. He understood and announced an early wedding day.

It was a church wedding, with the house jammed to the last inch. After it the newly married settled back into their old ways, going a pace that kept them the talk of the town.

They were very gay and desperately unhappy. Edith could not get away from a sense that Billy had married her wholly out of chivalry. Billy? Billy was old enough to know better, but he was proving the adage that love, which may make a fool a wise man, may likewise make a wise man a fool. He tormented himself with the thought that he had taken advantage of Edith's extremity. She must know he had loved her from their very first meeting, but she was shy and proud and high with him, notwithstanding she was his dutiful wife.

He left her much to herself and took pains to make her know that she was as free as ever. Edith resented the freedom. Billy ought to understand that she wanted to obey him—make him at least that poor recompense for his sacrifice.

Thus they ate out their hearts in cross purposes, cross miscomprehensions, until Ashbel Clare came to visit them. Ashbel was reputed a dangerous person—tall and slight and handsome, with deep seeing eyes. A glamour of romance hung about him. After the first day Billy wondered, with catching breath, if he had been quite wise to fling a man like Ashbel across Edith's path.

She was clearly fascinated by him. They were forever walking about the big, scrubby garden or along the strip of lawn in full sight of passersby and all the while absorbed in talk. Edith was brighter, too—quite her old, winsome self. Ashbel seemed equally captivated. He roused himself as Billy had not seen him since they were lads together.

So the days went by, mounting into weeks, at last into a month, and Billy was in torment. He had made a grim and mannerly third for the most part of the time. Still he was sure the two had some secret understanding. He had made up his mind to endure to the end. There was no danger of dishonor. Dishonor and Edith could not come together in his mind. But when he was quite sure—if he were quite sure—he would find a way out of it. His father had died of heart disease. There were ways of ending yourself without making a scandal. He would make an end of himself gladly if only that way lay Edith's happiness.

The first thing was to make his will. Ashbel Clare surprised him at it. Billy was glad. He wanted Ashbel to know, to understand how entirely he had trusted his wife and his friend. So he thrust the paper into Clare's hand, saying gruffly:

"Read that! You see I've some decent instincts if I am half a savage."

"I see. Everything, great or small, to your wife," Ashbel said, then, with a whimsical, half dreamy smile, "Do you know that she's the most fascinating creature alive?"

"Just what she says of you!" Billy growled, signing his name with a blurred flourish.

Ashbel bent over him, laughing softly.

"The perception does credit to her mind," he said. "As for her heart, Billy, you brute, that knows no better than to belong to you wholly, and you won't see it, you blind, blind bat!"

A soft, stifled sob, the patter of swift, light feet, sounded at the door. Billy followed them, caught his wife in his arms and said, with his lips on her forehead: "Darling! Darling! If you really do love me"—

"Hush!" Edith said, with her hand over his lips. "You were a blind bat. Even jealousy could not make you see."

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

At the present moment the name of Hall Caine looms large in the literary and dramatic world. During the past few years he has become one of the most popular of English novelists, and his stories have, almost without exception, been dramatized immediately upon their publication. "The Manxman," will be given next week at the Castle Square theatre. It has been played by Wilson Barrett with great success both in England and America, and it tells a remarkably entertaining story of love and suffering, interspersed with no little humor, among the people of The Isle of Man that Mr. Gaine knows so well.

BOSTON THEATRE.

Denman Thompson's always delightful and perennially popular "Old Homestead," has yet another week to run at the Boston Theatre, the engagement ending Saturday evening, October 13. Of this quaint, delightful old New England idyl, which, as usual, is attracting immense audiences nothing new can be written any more than of some the older classics, for the play is a classic though a New England one. It has no peer among American domestic dramas. It stands for what is good and wholesome, true and honest, in New England life, and it is bound to have perennial youth because it tells a true story of the human heart in a homely and sympathetic way. The singing of the double quartet is, as heretofore, a very attractive feature of the performance. There are Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, in buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Wise Wedding Gifts.

At a recent wedding among all the stereotyped cut glass and silver plate ware it was remarked that the nicest gift was a very attractive mahogany stand, the only out of the ordinary article there. There are hundreds of furniture pieces at this store that make ideal gifts for weddings or other occasions. They cost no more than the cut and dried presents that are generally made and are far more welcome to new beginners at housekeeping. These articles consist of Chairs, Pedestals, Stands, Umbrella Racks, Book Racks, Pictures, Clocks, Easy Chairs, Rugs, and of course the heavier articles. From $3.00 to $12.00 here in a present will delight you as well as others.

Met Demand With Loaded Gun

Joseph Sartarilli was arrested late Saturday night for assault with a dangerous weapon on Mrs. Orilla Beltonna at West Quincy. According to Mrs. Beltonna she went to the house at 157 Copeland street, where Sartarilli was, and demanded money she claimed was due her for board.

The woman says Sartarilli went into a bed room and brought out a double barrel gun. This he loaded and pointing it at her threatened to shoot her. She went out and the affair was reported to the police. Officer Johnson placed Sartarilli under arrest. In court he was arraigned for assault with a dangerous weapon. He was fined $15 and put under bonds of $200 to keep the peace for three months.

How a Rescuer Was Rescued

During the brisk nor'wester on Sunday a launch at Norfolk Downs belonging to John Stuart dragged her anchor and started down the bay. The services of other launches were at a premium and owners of sail boats preferred their snug mooring to the choppy sea.

Capt. Gross volunteered to take the Marguerite and put Mr. Stuart aboard of the drifting launch, which with the assistance of a willing crew he succeeded in doing. Just after Stuart had started his powerful engine and was on his way back to the Clubhouse the mast of the Marguerite, the largest cat-boat-mast in Boston Harbor, snapped at the deck. At this opportune moment another powerful launch "the Hush" appeared whose owner kindly towed the wreck to Harvey's. The Marguerite will be towed to Mausirs at Neponset today where she will be hauled up for the winter.

Vye---Scott.

The friends of Murvyn Wesley Vye of the purchasing department of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. presented him a solid oak dining set last week on the occasion of his marriage at Brockton to Miss Jennie Ethel Scott. He was attended by his brother Frank W. Vye, and the bride by Miss Ella B. Thacher of Brockton.

Mr. and Mrs. Vye will reside on Rawson road at Norfolk Downs and will be at home to friends after Nov. 1. The Randolph Register says of the couple: "Mrs. Vye has lived in Brockton all her life, was graduated from the High school with the class of 1900, and is well known in the city. She is an accomplished pianist, for several years having devoted herself to teaching music. She is a member of the First Congregational church and of the Y. P. S. C. E., and always took an active part in the various phases of church life. Mr. Vye is employed in the purchasing department of the Fore River Engine Co., plant at Quincy Point, holding a position of responsibility and trust. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity in Randolph, also of the Wampatuck Club."

Fore Rivers 6 Riverdales 0

The Fore Rivers proved more than a match for the Riverdales at football in the Merrimac Valley league game between these two teams on the Ward Two grounds Saturday afternoon. The home team played a fast game from start to finish, and the visitors were unable to score. Seldom during the game did the ball come anywhere near the Fore River goal, and the goal keeper had little to do.

On the other hand the ball was continually in the Riverdales goal territory and the goal keeper was kept constantly on the alert to keep the home team from scoring. He played a good game for the visitors, and made a number of good saves. But for his alertness the score would have been vastly different.

A fine rain just as the game started put the field in rather bad shape, as it made the grass slippery and treacherous. Tumbles were frequent and the wonder is that there were not more injuries. The only man knocked out was Jones of the Riverdales. Twice during the first period he received bad kicks in the shin. The first time made him limp a little, but he kept on playing. The second time was just before the end of the first period. Then he received a kick that made him groan, and which completely did him up. He recovered himself before the end of the game, however, and resumed play.

Fore River won the toss and kicked off against the wind. The game started a little sluggish, but the players soon warmed up to it and the play was fast. Several times the goal posts only prevented the home team from scoring, and the frequent corner kicks of the Fore Rivers did not net them anything.

The first goal for the home team was made on a header by Elliot after ten minutes play. J. McDonald scored the second goal on a kick from centre, and the third goal for the home team was made by J. Tighe of the visitors. It was during a scrimmage near the goal line that an accidental kick by Tighe sent the ball through the goal.

No more goals were made during the first period and half time sounded with the score 3 to 0 for the Fore Rivers.

The second half was practically a repetition of the first half. The visitors tried hard to score, but the Fore Rivers were too fast for them, and prevented their scoring, while they themselves added three more goals to their credit ending the game with a score of 6 to 0. The three goals in the second half were made by Elliot, who again demonstrated that he is star all-around player.

McGregors Win Ten to Two

The Buntings of Lowell won the first and third goals on Saturday in their league game of association football with the McGregors on the Ward Three playgrounds, but the home team made a grand rally in the last half and won 10 to 2.

The visitors were composed largely of light-weight sprinters and played a fast game at the start, but the McGregors always show up well in the second half as the score shows.

The visitors kicked off but McGregor got the best of it and rushed the ball to the Bunting goal. It went over, however, and the next minute it was near the McGregar goal. Thus it went for a while from one end of the field to the other. Good stops by Birtwotte and Malcolm, however, prevented any scoring, during the first ten minutes.

Then came a surprise for the McGregors when Hardman with almost a clear field made a goal. The home team quickly evened up the score on a goal by McKinley.

It was 25 minutes later when Hardman did the trick again for the visitors, but just before time was called Greene scored for McGregor, and the score was 2 to 2.

In the second half, after the first ten minutes, it was only a question of how big a score the home team would roll up against the visitors. R. Robertson made a goal at 4.32, McKinley at 4.34 and again at 4.46, Cadden at 4.48, Rowe at 4.58, Cadden at 5.02 and again at 5.06, and just before time was called McKinley made the tenth and the score was 10 to 2.

A fine rain which fell at the start of the game made the grounds slippery, and there were several falls. Rowe of the visitors was hurt and had to retire for a while.

What a Blessing Our Hospital Is

Editors Quincy Daily Ledger:

Caesar at one time said that humanity in its higher sense was nurtured by finance. In replying to the author of those words, I desire to say that he never contemplated or considered that 1,900 years after his death so comfortable and considerate a place would ever exist as the Quincy City Hospital, or that humanity and kindly consideration and unparalleled attention could reach the status that is shown to patients at that hospital. With the monetary consideration in the background, they offer an example that might profitably be copied by contemporaneous institutions.

My wife has been a patient in the hospital five weeks and I have visited the hospital nearly every day, and she tells me that everyone is so good and kind to all the sick. What a blessing that we have such a fine institution as the City Hospital of Quincy!

Very truly yours,
GEORGE MONK.
Washington street, Quincy.

Hearty Endorsement Of Our Hospital

Editors Quincy Daily Ledger:

If there is anything I can do or say that will endorse the Quincy City Hospital, it will not only be a pleasure but I think a duty.

One who has only seen the beautiful grounds about the Hospital or even the immaculate wards and perfect system of ventilation can little appreciate the part of this institution that makes it such a worthy work.

It is the accurate and regular attention of the best doctors of Quincy; seconded by the wise supervision of matron and head nurses, and the ever watchful and kind attention of the nurses, who by the way are the most praiseworthy class of women in the world. In fact they make illness almost a pleasure by their thoughtful care.

I will always in future illness or accident go to the Quincy Hospital, if possible, rather than become a burden and care to friends or relatives, and would advise anyone to do likewise.

Yours very truly,
RALPH P. HAYES.
64 Edison street, Quincy.

$300 from Granite Manufacturers

The Granite Manufacturers Association at their meeting last week unanmously voted to donate $300 to Our Hospital.

It is indeed gratifying at the beginning of the Hospital Week to be able to commend this generous action on their part. And last year, too, and for a number of preceding years, this same body has thus shown their sincere appreciation of the service that Our Hospital is rendering the Granite Industry and our city.

May other organizations be moved to make a similar expression!

Two Smelters Thrown into Water

J. A. Robson of Mattapan and Calvin Tibbetts of Malden had a narrow escape from drowning on Sunday off Houghs Neck. They visited the place early in the morning, and renting a boat went out after smelts. While fishing the boat began to leak. Suddenly, while bailing the boat, it fell apart, and the two men were thrown into the water. They were rescued by Capt. Augustus Kaler, George Benton, George Hodgkins and William McCloud and taken ashore at Grape Island.

We hope all who have heretofore attended these suppers will not fail to attend this one. Tickets for supper, sale and entertainment 25 cents. Entertainment 10 cents.

The Quincy Point Church Rejoices

It was a joyful day at the Quincy Point church on Sunday. For two months repairs and improvements of the edifice have been in progress. First, shingling, and repairs to belfry. But the greatest change has been in the auditorium. The walls have been frescoed gray with woodwork of a lighter shade, which harmonizes with the stained windows. The pulpit furniture has been revarnished, and the pews repainted. On the floor is a new carpet, so that everything is spic and span and attractive.

A large congregation assembled at the morning service, and the people, the pastor, and the choir, rejoiced. Chorister Pollard had a chorus choir of fifteen voices which rendered two beautiful anthems. The response to the prayer was a solo by Mrs. J. Forrest Hayden of Newfield, N. H.

The pastor, Rev. Alfred Ray Atwood, preached from the first verse of the 16th chapter of Matthew— "And the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and tempting him, asked him to show them a sign from heaven." He spoke of the progress of the church during the year he had been pastor, and of the encouraging outlook.

Just before the sermon the infant daughter of Mr. John William and Mrs. Mary Grant Ralston Hendry of Farnum street was christened Ina Gunn Farley Hendry in front of the altar by the pastor, who used a beautiful service.

A large congregation, mostly men, gathered at the evening service to hear the pastor speak on the topic, "Smuggling Chinamen into America, and winning men into the Kingdom of God." The pastor showed how that smuggling of any kind was disreputable, but winning men to the higher life through the preaching of the word, through the Christian Endeavor Society and Sunday school and church services, is of honored worth.

Astor Theatre.

Near the Times building, the skyscraper of New York, is the new Astor theatre, at the corner of 45th street. It opened its doors about two weeks ago and has two large audiences ever since to see Shakespeare's play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," presented with Miss Annie Russell as Puck. In the building of this theatre it was the purpose in view to avoid any attempt at architectural display, in order that the auditorium should serve merely as a frame for the picture, the picture itself being the stage representation beyond which the playgoer is but negatively interested. Mr. John Osborne, who until recently was with the Boston theatre in Boston, is the manager and treasurer, and we wish him success.

Oct. 22, Miss Viola Allen will appear at the Astor in a revival of Cymbeline. When in New York don't fail to attend the Astor and see Broadway by electric light.

GIRL'S STAMP FAD.

Indiana Miss Plans Unique Covering For Her Bedroom Walls.

The extraordinary task of papering her room with canceled postage stamps has been started by Miss Sadie Chambers of Anderson, Ind., at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Chambers, says an Anderson dispatch to the New York Herald.

The room is 15 by 24 feet and has a nine foot ceiling. The stamps of all nations are being pasted on the reverse or blank side of ordinary wall paper, and to cover one roll of paper twenty-four feet long and eighteen inches wide 6,336 stamps of the American two cent denomination will be required. For the entire room, if one design is followed, 186,912 stamps will be needed, while another way of covering the walls and ceiling with stamps will require 191,160.

A short time ago Miss Chambers had on hand 91,000 stamps, collected within two months, and she thinks she will be able to get 100,000 more within three months. If she can average three to five hours a day on her undertaking she will be able to complete it by house cleaning time next spring.

Her friends in Chicago, New York and Pittsburg are assisting her in collecting the stamps. Miss Chambers was through Kentucky recently visiting relatives and continued her trip south to Birmingham, Ala., and on her way home she will stop in Louisville. At each large city she will further carry on her campaign for canceled stamps.

Every morning at her home her first half hour is devoted to going through her daily receipt of postage stamps that come in bulging envelopes and parcels.

MOB VENGEANCE

Arkansas Negro Strung Up on a Telegraph Pole

POLICE NOT FAR AWAY

Reached Scene of Lynching After Victim Was Dead and Found Via Crowd of "Merely Onlookers" --Mobs In Other Places

Argenta, Ark., Oct. 8.—As a sequel to the killing of John Lindsay and wounding of his son, Policeman Milton Lindsay, here Saturday night, presumably by Garrett Colum and Charles Colum, negroes, H. Blackburn, a negro, was lynched last night at the corner of Sixth and Main streets.

The trouble originated on Sept. 12, when a white man named McDonald killed a negro named Wiley Shelby. Next day, at the inquest at the Colums' undertaking store, a difficulty arose in which Robert Colum was killed and Deputy Constable Ed Lindsay and Garrett Colum severely wounded. Policeman Milton Lindsay, a brother of Ed Lindsay, and his father were walking past the Colum store when they were fired upon from ambush. John Lindsay was killed and his son severely wounded.

When the police and citizens attempted to enter the store they were fired on. It is supposed Charles and Garrett Colum did the shooting. Later in the night, thinking the Colum brothers were still locked in the rear rooms of the store, the place was dynamited, but the negroes had escaped. Early Sunday Will Harding was halted on the street by persons unknown, whether black or white he could not tell in the darkness. He was asked if he was black or white. On replying that he was white he was told to go back and while leaving he was shot in the back.

Later James Mahoney, a contractor, and Al Belding, a reporter of the Little Rock Gazette, while going to see Harding, discovered a house on fire. Mahoney fired his pistol in the air to give the alarm and immediately the two men were fired on from the four different quarters with shotguns. Mahoney was painfully shot in the hand and Belding's clothes were pierced with birdshot.

H. Blackburn, 37 years old, a negro, who conducts a confectionery store in Argenta, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of being the man who fired on Mahoney and Belding.

Last night four masked men entered the police station from the rear and one covered the turnkey with a pistol while the others got his keys and quickly unlocked Blackburn's cell and took him out the back way. Not a shot was fired and there was no disturbance, so that Policeman Pratt and two deputies who were standing on the street two blocks away knew nothing of what was going on until they heard several pistol reports at Main and Sixth streets. They found Blackburn dead, hanged to a telegraph pole, while the crowd were apparently onlookers.

There was evidence that after the Lindsays were first fired on Blackburn ran out of a negro house adjoining and fired at John Lindsay and that later he delivered inflammatory speeches to crowds of negroes at several points.

Mob Breaks Into Georgia Jail

Macon, Ga., Oct. 8.—Charles Adams and William Solomon, young white men, were shot by a negro and seriously injured Saturday night at the fair grounds, where night shows were being given. Adams and Solomon were escorting two young women, when a negro forced his way between the couples, separating them. A remonstrance from the young men led to an encounter, when the negro opened fire on Adams and Solomon, both receiving wounds in the stomach. Adams was not seriously wounded, but Solomon's condition causes apprehension. The negro was promptly arrested and placed in jail. A mob soon formed and half of them went to the jail and the others to the barracks. The barracks were so well guarded that no effort was made to storm it, and this contingent of enraged citizens joined those at the jail, which was broken into, but the negro had been spirited to Atlanta for safe keeping.

Would-Be Lynchers Cheated of Prey

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 8.—Edward Jones, a negro, who Saturday night shot and instantly killed Alfred Stephens, a lunch-wagon man, was safely taken to jail at Indianapolis early Sunday. It was only by the determined efforts of the sheriff and his deputies that the excited men surrounding the jail were kept from battering the doors down. Finally a committee of three made a search of the jail and reported to the crowd outside that Jones was not within. The report of this committee failed to satisfy the crowd, and it was only after another committee made the rounds of the jail and again reported the search without avail that the excited people would be quieted and departed.

Two Mobile Negroes Lynched

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 8.—Fears of retaliation by the negroes for Saturday's lynchings of Thompson and Robinson, negroes charged with criminal assault, have disappeared, and the city is quiet.

Lynching In Mississippi

Basin, Miss., Oct. 8.—A negro attempted a criminal assault on Mrs. Ketchum of this town. He was followed by a posse and captured. After being identified he was lynched.

KILLED HIS FRIEND

Boy Tells Conflicting Stories of a Tragedy While Hunting

Conway, Mass., Oct. 8.—After remaining reticent for 12 hours over the tragic death in Conway woods Saturday noon of a hunting companion, Charles Pair, 17 years old, guided the officers to the body of Augustus Faille, 17 years old, which was found with an entire charge of birdshot in the breast. Pair was arrested Sunday and will be arraigned on a charge of murder.

The boy told several conflicting stories, but at last declared that the shooting was unintentional, and this statement was substantiated in a measure by the conclusion of Medical Examiner Canedy who, after performing an autopsy, decided that death was accidental.

The two lads, who worked in the same shop together, went hunting Saturday morning. Young Pair returned shortly after noon and worked in the shop for the balance of the day. The father of young Faille reported to the local authorities at night that his boy was missing and a hurried investigation led the officers to seek Pair. The boy said at first that he did not know where Faille was. He admitted to Deputy Sheriff Johnson that he went shooting with his friend and that he heard him shout just after they parted in the woods. The officer was not satisfied and persuaded Pair to take them to the woods. He led them to various places and finally to the spot where the body was found.

He told several stories and finally said that he was coming out of the woods with his gun over his shoulder and Faille jumped behind him when the weapon was discharged. He said he ran home and told his mother and she told him to keep his mouth shut, which he said was the reason that he did not let anyone know of the accident.

Sheriff's Son Kills a Crook

Macon, Mo., Oct. 8.—In a desperate effort to break jail here, William O'Brien, accused of highway robbery, was shot and killed by the sheriff's 13-year-old son, Milford Graves. W. T. Tate, also charged with highway robbery, escaped. As Sheriff Graves entered the jail he was attacked by Tate and O'Brien. O'Brien used a club and Tate a piece of lead pipe. Young Graves caught up a rifle and shot O'Brien through the heart.

Not Supplied With Favorite Food

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 8.—Ten Chinamen, composing the fireroom crew of the British steamer L. O. Saltmarsh, anchored at Tarragon wharf, revolted and made a desperate dash for liberty, fighting desperately with the officers. With the assistance of workmen on the wharf they were overpowered and placed in irons. The men are said to have mutinied because the cook had failed to provide them with chop suey.

Murder of Newspaper Man

Minneapolis, Oct. 8.—William A. Dowell, a prominent local newspaper man, was shot and killed by John Quirk because of attentions to his stepdaughter, Miss Bessie Squires. The shooting occurred at the Quirk residence just as Dowell and the young woman were entering the house. Quirk awaited the arrival of the officers and was taken into custody.

Coroner Juggled With Nitro-Glycerine

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 8.—From the body of a burglar who was shot and killed in this city Coroner Smith took a bottle of what he supposed was oil. He placed the bottle in his case and took it home, shaking it around unconcernedly. Investigation showed that the bottle contained enough nitroglycerine to have blown up a large building.

LONG HELD LEAD

Chicago National Leaguers Easily Land Baseball Pennant

AMERICANS ALSO VICTORS

Struggle With New York End In Favor of Windy City Players --Both Boston Teams Establish Records as Tail-Enders

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The baseball season of both major leagues ended yesterday with games at Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati. For the first time since the two big leagues have been organized both championships have come to one city. The Chicago National league team won first honors in that organization easily. Taking the lead early in June, and holding it to the end, it established a new major league record for number of games won. Of the 153 games played by the team, 116 were victories, the previous best record in this respect having been held by the New York club in the same league.

In the American league the Chicago team upset all calculations, made early in the season, by winning the pennant. The contest was not decided until last week, the New York team being within striking distance of the leaders until Oct. 3, when a defeat at Philadelphia put them out of the running.

An equally hard struggle for second place was not decided until two days later when Chicago defeated Cleveland and took away the Ohio club's last chance to overhaul New York. The fourth and fifth teams, Philadelphia and St. Louis, were within hailing distance throughout the season, Philadelphia, in fact, leading the league on three separate occasions, the last time Aug. 5. Washington and Boston dropped behind early in the race.

In the National league, outside of Chicago's work, the chief feature of the season was the hard struggle for second place between New York and Pittsburg. This lasted until the first week in September, when the latter team fell back. The other five clubs in the league occupied the same relative positions throughout most of the season, although Brooklyn and Cincinnati finished with but one game between them for fifth and sixth places respectively. St. Louis was never a contender, and the Boston club's record of 102 defeats was only exceeded by that of the same club in the American league.

Tenement Houses Destroyed

Albany, Oct. 8.—Twenty-four dwellings destroyed, 27 families practically homeless and a property damage of about $125,000, summarizes the results of a spectacular fire which visited Rensselaer. Only the combined efforts of the Rensselaer, Albany and Troy fire departments succeeded in staying the progress of the fire. The fire was discovered in a hay shed. A strong wind spread the flames to adjoining icehouses and tenement blocks.

Shipping Suffers From Gale

Parrsboro, N. S., Oct. 8.—Two vessels were wrecked yesterday in the 50-mile gale which has extended along the Nova Scotian coast. It is feared that shipping has suffered severely. Schooner Keewaydin, with a cargo of coal, was forced ashore near Long Island. The vessel is full of water and will probably prove a total loss. The schooner Alice was driven ashore at West Bay and will likely be a total loss. She was loaded with deals.

Elopers Still Dodging Pursuer

London, Oct. 8.—The Daily Mail declares that Gabriel Essipoff, accompanied by the wife of General Quickakoff, sailed from a British port last Saturday for a secret destination. Essipoff eloped with Mme. Ouichakoff from St. Petersburg several weeks ago and since then has been pursued by General Ouichakoff, who tracked them to various cities in Europe and to New York, but always a few days behind the elopers.

Long Period of Misery Ended

Easton, Pa., Oct. 8.—After having suffered at least 1800 strokes of paralysis during a period of two years, Samuel Yehl died at his home in Slatington. He was stricken two years ago while working on a railroad and it is asserted by physicians that he was never conscious for a longer period than 20 minutes at a time since the first stroke.

Murder on the Bowery

New York, Oct. 8.—William Wilson, 31 years old, a waiter, was stabbed to death on the Bowery in an altercation with a man whose identity was not learned. The man escaped. The police arrested Wilson's wife and another man and held them as witnesses.

PROMPT LANDING

Force of 1200 Men Under Canvas at Camp Columbia

TAFT MAY SOON LEAVE

Irritating Situation Caused by Ex-Rebels Who Try to Evade Surrendering Guns Unless Volunteers Are Disarmed

Havana, Oct. 8.—The first landing of American soldiers in the present occupation of Cuba was accomplished with marvelous promptness, and 500 men of the Fifth United States infantry and 350 men of the Second battalion of engineers are settled under canvas in Camp Columbia. The cruiser Brooklyn arrived here yesterday afternoon with 400 men on board, who will be sent out 400 men on board, who were sent out General Funston has established his headquarters at Marianao, convenient to his command. Colonel Waller, commanding the marines, has been ordered to report to Funston and the entire force of regulars and marines will be under Funston's command until the arrival here of General Bell, who will direct the distribution of the forces throughout the island.

Within an hour from the time that the transport Sumner came alongside the railroad wharf yesterday the disembarking had been completed and 850 men had been transported on street cars direct to the camp. Their equipage followed. The movement was so skilfully handled that the men prepared their mid-day meal from their own rations.

The disarming of former insurgents went on much better yesterday. Reports from members of the disarmament commission in various provinces indicate that the trouble which was threatened Saturday may be avoided, although ex-rebels and volunteers in a few towns in Santa Clara province are still disinclined to be the first to disarm and it is feared that American soldiers will have to be sent to back up the demands of the disarmament commission.

Governor Taft, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and General Funston are gratified at the situation, and believe that the difficulties in Santa Clara province will be overcome in a few days. So confident are they that Taft and Bacon say they believe they will be able to start for home next Saturday. Taft will spend the time after Tuesday in familiarizing his successor, Charles E. Magoon, with the situation. Magoon is expected here on that day.

The rebels on the north coast are reported still to be rather active. Havana province is fully pacified, with the exception of two commands of about 100 men, under two brothers of General Del Castillo, who are encamped near Guiria. These men, however, will be disarmed at once.

Commander Culver of the cruiser Des Moines, at Santiago, reports that both the volunteers and ex-rebels at Banes and Manzanillo have been disbanded, and that, as far as he knows, the entire province is quiet. Governor Taft, however, learned of slight trouble at Guantanamo occasioned by the demands of Liberals that the mayor of that place be removed. This Taft declined emphatically.

Dispatches from Sancti Spiritus, where the Santa Clara commission is working, indicate that the ex-rebels in that province are not yet entirely reconciled to disarmament, and General Machado has reported that volunteers fired on a rebel camp, causing a serious drawback to the operations.

The disarming at Sancti Spiritus is proceeding, but the usual difficulty is encountered, in that the ex-rebels seek to evade surrendering their guns while the volunteers still carry theirs. The situation there is especially irritating, as groups of volunteers with guns march up and down the streets and taunt the dispersed rebels. In a fight yesterday an ex-rebel killed a comrade and fled. The people of Sancti Spiritus are greatly dissatisfied with the mayor and police and have petitioned for their immediate removal.

Situation Satisfies Liberals

Havana, Oct. 8.—At a secret meeting held here yesterday afternoon the national Liberals discussed informally the reorganization of their party. Almost all the late conspirators who have been imprisoned were present. A general tone of satisfaction with the situation prevailed and there was manifested a desire to co-operate and cultivate the most friendly relations with the provisional government. A mass meeting has been planned to celebrate what they consider the victory of the party leaders.

Negroes Want Fifty Cents an Hour

Port Tampa, Fla., Oct. 8.—The work of getting the transport Andes loaded with Cuban expeditionary supplies has been slow because of difficulty in securing labor. The government allows only 20 cents an hour for this work, while many of the negroes here and in Tampa have positively refused to work for less than 50 cents an hour.

Transport Panama Sails

Newport News, Va., Oct. 8.—With two squadrons, headquarters and band of the Fifteenth cavalry aboard, the army transport Panama sailed yesterday for Havana. Assistant Paymaster General Whipple left on this ship, taking with him $27,000 to be used in paying off the soldiers now in Cuba.

WON'T GO TO MEXICO

Dowie Has a "Vision" Which Causes Him to Change His Mind

Chicago, Oct. 8.—John A. Dowie's plan for an American colony in Mexico was abandoned in obedience to a command received by Dowie in a vision which came to him Saturday night, according to an announcement made by Deacon Arrington, one of Dowie's followers. The scheme, Arrington said, was relinquished in favor of another that contemplates the raising of $1,000,000 in Chicago for the purpose of restoring Dowie's power and prestige.

All preparations for Dowie's departure for Mexico had been completed when, in a vision, Dowie declares he saw the Master and heard His voice. He was commanded, he said, to give up the Mexican project and seek the glory of Zion elsewhere. Dowie then commanded Deacon Arrington to come to Chicago and raise $1,000,000 "for God and Zion."

Over a Mile a Minute Clip

New York, Oct. 8.—France won the third international automobile road race for the William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., cup, completing a record of three straight victories in this event, which is run over the turnpikes of Long Island. Italy was second. France filled third and fourth positions, while Germany furnished the fifth car. The total distance of the race was 297.1 miles and Louis Wagner, driver of the winning car, made the distance in 290 minutes, 10 2-5 seconds.

Paris Bakers Did Not Strike

Paris, Oct. 8.—The threatened strike of the bakers of Paris, in consequence of the enforcement of the weekly rest day regulation, did not occur. Sunday passed without incident. Because of the presence throughout the day of 4000 special police and 800 of the republican guards, patrolling before the bakeries, as well as detachments of armed infantry posted at the various police stations, the city had more or less the appearance of being under military law.

Offenses In the Army

Washington, Oct. 8.—During the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of General Davis, judge advocate general of the army, 4596 trials by general court martial were held. Fifty of these trials were of commissioned officers, 42 of whom were convicted and eight acquitted. About 50 percent of the enlisted men convicted by general court martial received sentences involving dishonorable discharge.

Japan to Borrow $125,000,000

London, Oct. 8.—Korokiyo Takahashi, special financial agent of the Japanese government, has arrived here. He says he will remain in London until the 6 percent Japanese external loans are converted. The present moment seems unfavorable for this operation, therefore it is impossible to say when the intended issue of a loan of $125,000,000 for this purpose will be made.

Sultan Infatuated by Sorcerer

London, Oct. 8.—The Tangier correspondent of The Times says in a dispatch: "The recent assaults upon Europeans, including the German consular agent at Morocco City, were committed by followers of Mactain and are a direct result of the sultan's astounding infatuation for this uneducated and fanatical sorcerer, who hates everything European."

THE WAGES OF SIN

Married Man Shoots Widow He Loved and Kills Himself

Boston, Oct. 8.—Muffled sounds from room 503 in the Castle Square hotel attracted the attention of a chambermaid yesterday afternoon and upon entering the room a woman, who proved to be Mrs. Deborah Hill, a widow, residing in Malden, was found standing in the middle of the room with blood pouring from a bullet wound in her throat, while upon the floor a short distance away lay the body of Harry J. Slocomb of Everett, with a bullet through his brain. The woman was taken to the city hospital, where she is reported as in a critical condition.

The couple went to the hotel Saturday night, where they registered as Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Stover of Portland, Me., and nothing further was heard from them until yesterday afternoon.

To the police authorities Mrs. Hill said that the shooting was due to Slocomb's jealousy. He had been paying her attention for some time and yesterday he importuned her to marry him, saying that if she did not do so she would never marry anyone else. She refused and he drew his revolver and shot her in the throat. Then he turned the weapon upon himself and sent a bullet through his brain.

Slocomb was 35 years of age and was well known in this city, where he was employed as a floorwalker in one of the large department stores. He resided with his wife on Avon street, Everett. His body was taken to the city hospital morgue, where it was claimed last night by his wife, but its removal was refused by the medical examiner until after an autopsy had been performed.

Commoner O'Connor at Boston

Boston, Oct. 8.—T. P. O'Connor, member of the Irish parliamentary party in the British house of commons, was tendered a reception last night in the Boston theatre, under the auspices of the local branch of the United Irish League. O'Connor delivered an address upon the questions which are now agitating the Irish people. The Boston members of the league pledged themselves to raise $10,000 toward the Irish parliamentary fund, and before the meeting closed it was announced that nearly the entire amount had been secured.

Towns Without Electric Service

New Milford, Conn., Oct. 8.—Through the breaking away of about 100 feet of the mile of canal bank at Bulls bridge, used to convey water to the plant of the New Milford Power company, the power house was compelled to shut down and will probably not resume operations for several days. The plant supplies five cities and towns with electric power and light and they are left without electric light and power to run the trolley cars. The break, it is understood, was caused by a leak which had existed for some time.

Student Battles With Buck Elk

New Haven, Oct. 8.—Chauncey B. McCormick, a Yale senior, had a fierce tussle with an elk in a private park in Westville and after being severely but not dangerously gored, escaped by climbing a tree. He was walking through the park with a companion, F. H. Rebell, Jr., when the buck started after them. Rebell escaped, but the animal went for McCormick, who grasped its antlers, but was thrown to the ground. He was struck twice by the elk, receiving a wound in the side.

Fate and Tide Against Them

Boston, Oct. 8.—With a handkerchief fluttering as a signal of distress, Charles Jones and Herbert J. Hanson were picked up in Boston harbor, where they were drifting out to sea on an old raft upon which they had made their escape from the house of correction on Deer island. Their signal was seen by the captain of the tug Louise, who took the men aboard and landed them at Boston light, from which point they were returned to Deer island by the police boat.

Lottery Men Arrested

New Haven, Oct. 8.—A raid by United States officials upon a house at 107 Ashmun street brought about the arrest of John Marone and Demenico Emea, both Italians, on the charge of violation of the interstate commerce law and of the lottery law, it being claimed that they have been conducting a lottery ticket business. These arrests close up the campaign against Italians in several cities who have conducted a lottery.

Killed by Overhead Bridge

New London, Conn., Oct. 8.—The body of D. D. Potter of Everett, Mass., an electrician, was found on the top of a freight car at Midway, three miles east of here. Letters in his pocket indicated that he was beating his way from Everett to Rutland, Mass., where his wife is in a consumptives' hospital. It is supposed that an overhead bridge struck Potter.

Handled a Live Wire

Salem, Mass., Oct. 8.—John W. Cody, 13 years old, was electrocuted in front of his home last night by handling a live wire, supposed to have been an electric light wire. The boy, seeing a broken wire dangling from a pole, seized hold of it and was immediately knocked to the ground. He died without regaining consciousness.

Shooting Results Fatally

Providence, Oct. 8.—Eva M. Johnson, who was shot by George N. Miller in a fit of jealous rage, died yesterday. The body of Miss Johnson may be buried in the potters field unless word to the contrary is received from her former friends in Lewiston, Me. It is expected that Miller will be arraigned on a charge of murder.

LIFE IN WELLMAN CAMP

Indiana Doctor Tells How North Pole Seekers Are Faring.

ARCTIC HARDSHIPS NOT SO BAD

Member of Exploring Expedition Soon Discarded Surplus Clothing and Found Summer Flannels Comfortable—Live Air Chamber Induces Fresh but Warm Breezes In Sleeping Room—Menu Changed Daily.

Dr. W. N. Fowler of Bluffton, Ind., American physician with the Wellman north pole expedition, writes the following account of the "hardships" he and his fellow scientists are enduring while preparing for their expedition, which has been postponed until next year, says a Bluffton correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Their airship, in which the effort is to be made, could not be got in trim for a northward flight before frost, hence the postponement:

"Dane's Island, Spitzbergen, Camp Wellman, Aug. 4.—I am writing this that our Indiana and Ohio friends may know the privation and isolation we are undergoing for the sake of science and the discovery of the long sought pole. We are encamped in a frame house substantially built, consisting of a house within a house, large and commodious, with a fine dining room, which will accommodate twelve men.

"The living room within the house proper has a live air chamber within its walls, with a circulation of air warmed by the kitchen range and by natural draft brought warm and fresh into each bunk. Said bunks are arranged in tiers, one above the other, at the sides of the room, nine on one side, starting from the floor, and three on the opposite side, suspended from the ceiling. The bunks are equipped with good mattresses and pillows, sheets, pillow cases and wool blankets. They have large curtains sliding on large brass rods, so that each member of the staff has the privacy of his own bunk.

"The kitchen is equipped with a fine steel range and every necessity for good, clean cooking, a fine enameled sink at one end of the range for washing dishes and a sixty gallon copper tank for warm water at the other. This tank sits against the wall between the kitchen and lavatory, and a tap is placed in the lavatory for obtaining warm water for bath and washing. The luxury of a bathtub in a living house in the arctics is found for the first time in the house of our present abode.

"As most of you have doubtless settled opinions about our daily diet, thinking it possibly consists of bear's bosom, bread and bad coffee, of course, I am loath to disturb them, and to show my respect for these same opinions I will mention only a few of the things we have to eat in our simple life and will state that our bill of fare changes each day, so that we never tire of our diet. Breakfast consists of fruit, breakfast foods, ham, bacon, eggs, with buckwheat or wheat cakes, cookies, bread, butter and coffee in quantities.

"For dinner, soup, roast beef or boiled ham, with fresh potatoes and boiled onions, peas, corn, asparagus or tomatoes, bread and butter, apple or mince pie, with coffee or nuts. Meats and vegetables changed each day. Pickles, olives, tomatoes and all kinds of game, chocolate or gelatin puddings are on the table. We have tea at 2:30, at which tea, coffee or chocolate, with jam, cheeses and crackers are served. Then supper at 7:30, consisting of one hot meat and one hot vegetable, with frequently baking powder biscuits with maple sirup or honey or fruit. This is often changed to give variety, and from the articles mentioned you must see the great privations we undergo.

"Then, too, the intense cold of the arctics, from which I was going to perish, has compelled me to make many additions and then again as many subtractions to my body covering. When I left Tromso I put on two suits of underwear, two pairs of socks, a woolen shirt, sweater, winter coat and hunting boots and an oilskin suit. I was advised that as soon as I got to sea it would be very cold. Our boat is not a large one, and the weather was rough—so was the sea—and when I came to on the third day and we were among the floating ice I imagined I was nearly frozen to death. For two days I could not get rid of this horrible imagination, but when I did I began to peel off clothing until I got down to one suit of summer flannels, with ordinary woolen outer shirt, coat with no vest and ordinary trousers, bare handed and oftener bareheaded and always comfortable.

"Now as to the awful isolation. We had been here less than two weeks when the sister ship to the Frithjof, the Laura, chartered for the summer by Max Fleischmann of Cincinnati, dropped anchor in our little harbor on the evening of July 4. In his party were Fleischmann and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Holmes, also of Cincinnati, and a Mr. Llamonth, an Englishman. They stayed two days and then left for Greenland. Then on July 17 an excursion steamer, the Oohoma, a German boat with sixty-five tourists, was here for four or five hours. Then on July 18 a French tourist boat, the Ile de France, with 189 tourists on board, was here one whole day. The Prince of Morocco, with his yacht and a scientific expedition, was at anchor for several days in Virgo bay and made several short calls.

"I hope to be able to live through this 'terrible experience,' but if I am not successful please put in my obituary, 'He did his best.' Hope to be in Bluffton on Oct. 20."

HOW THEY GOT AHEAD OF THE OLD FOLKS

[Original.]

Miss Julia Wardwell had breakfasted and was attending to her canary when the postman arrived and left a letter for her.

"Good gracious!" she exclaimed. "Mamma 'to be married.' 'Sorry she can't come home quite as early as expected.' 'Mr. Arbuckle'. 'Hopes I'll not be naughty about it.' What in the world am I to do? I can't get used to a strange man in the house. I'll"—

A maid entered and handed her a card on which was written, "Henry Durand Arbuckle."

"Well, I declare," the girl went on with her soliloquy, after telling the maid to say that she would be down soon, "this is 'disaster following fast and following faster.' I hardly learn that I am to have a stepfather when I am called to face him. I wonder if mamma has gone and made a silly of herself by taking a young man. She always disliked old ones. So I suppose she's got a boy. Helgho! I wish I had some one to marry myself."

She prinked a little before the glass and then went down into the drawing room. A handsome young man of twenty-five arose as she entered. He looked rather embarrassed and stammered a few incoherent sentences.

"Beg pardon, Mrs. Arbuckle—I mean Miss—no, Mrs. Wardwell, for calling so early. I have but a few hours in the city, and"—

"You are quite excusable, Mr. Arbuckle. I received a letter this morning"—

"So did I. Quite charmed, I assure you, to find so young a person. I feared"—

"And I am quite surprised in you."

"I think I shall love you very much. My mother died when I was but four years old, and I have no remembrance of her."

Miss Wardwell looked surprised. "His mother!"

"I remember my father," she replied, "and I'm quite sure no other man can take his place, but"—

"You will not object to the love of a son?"

Miss Wardwell paused again. "The love of a son! Is mamma to marry a lunatic?"

Meanwhile Miss Wardwell had taken a seat on a sofa, and Mr. Arbuckle, who had taken a chair, got up and sat down beside her.

"You have no idea," he said, "how charmed I am in finding so agreeable a young person. I'm sure we shall get on famously. You will find me dutiful, obedient, loving."

"And I," she replied, "am equally pleased. Just before you called I made up my mind that I couldn't endure"—

"Same here. We have both felt alike. How delightful to have dissatisfaction turned to pleasure! Oh, mother, let us"—

"Mother!" she exclaimed, drawing back. "What do you mean?"

"I mean that father couldn't have chosen a more satisfactory stepmother for me."

"Stepmother! Why, I'm to be your stepdaughter."

"What do you take me for?"

"Mamma's new husband that is to be."

"Are you not Mrs. Wardwell?"

"I am Miss Julia Wardwell. Do I look old enough to be your stepmother?"

"This is very astonishing. I supposed I was calling on father's fiancee."

"And I supposed you were my mother's fiance."

"Father wrote me that Mrs. Wardwell would arrive in the city yesterday and, as I was passing through, asked me to call on her."

"I have just received a letter from mamma saying that she has been delayed. I supposed she had chosen a young man. She has never liked old ones."

"Well, well! Upon my word! And you're not to be my stepmother after all!"

"I should say not! And you're not to be my stepfather, and I'm to have an old man in the house! I'm disappointed."

"And I'm to have an old woman for a stepmother."

"I shall not live with them."

"Nor I."

"I shall take apartments and live alone, with a maid and other servants."

"You can't do that."

"Why not?"

"You're too young—and pretty."

"Oh, dear! I'm disgusted."

"So am I. I shall go into bachelor quarters."

"Why will parents make themselves happy by making their children miserable!"

"It's very selfish of them."

"They've had their fling and should defer to their offspring."

"I'd like to get ahead of the governor. It would serve him right."

"I'd marry a clown to get even with mamma."

"I wouldn't mind helping you out."

Miss Wardwell turned away her head. Her stepfather that was to have been moved closer.

"Do you know when our parents are to be married?" he asked.

"On the 1st of July, mother says. Your father has business in England in that month, and they are to sail as soon as married."

"Very well. We'll beat them by two weeks."

"Father's a fool."

"So is mother."

"They'll quarrel."

Kisses here interfered, and the dialogue became unintelligible.

HERE AND THERE.

A "Suit Yourself" Hat Season—Simplicity In Tailored Costumes.

All sorts of hats are fashionable, and one may wear what is most becoming or what appeals to one's fancy. Large and small hats have an equal following for precedence. Among the latter class is a delightful little toque formed entirely of pink roses with a splendid black algret placed directly in front.

Cream tints are apt to make the complexion look yellow, while dead white has much to commend it. Rose and all shades of pink continue popular, but there is no color that can be called a predominant fashion. It is quite a question of pleasing oneself, though it is observable that empire green is trying hard for a place in millinery.

Chiffon broadcloth continues to be the smart material for fall and winter costumes. It is rumored that tailored suits are to be less elaborate than they were last winter, but there is every possibility that charming trimmings will be seen on the tailored gown.

There is a new color—raven's wing blue—which is in realty nothing more than a very blue black.

Gray hats are to be all the rage for theater and restaurant wear. They are kept all in one tone.

Very simple and smart is the blouse seen in the illustration. It may be successfully developed in any of the soft woolen materials or in silk. Braid trimmed bands overlaid with motifs of the same braid is the only adornment. JUDIC CHOLLET.

A WOMAN'S CARES.

They Seem to Pursue Her Everywhere Through Life.

"I wish," said the matron, "that some way could be devised to give women vacations. Every summer we hear wails about the poor men who have to stay in the city while their wives flee to seashore and mountain, but really it is the women who never get any vacation. The dictionary defines a vacation as 'intermission of a stated employment.' Now, what intermission of her stated employment does the mother of a family ever get? She may change her environment, but the same old cares and worries are with her still. To a father the material cares of a country cottage may be only an interesting diversion. It is positively exhilarating to him to go walking or swimming or fishing with the children, of whom he sees comparatively little during his working days, but to the mother these things are merely the same old grind. The only way for her to secure an intermission of her stated employment is to get away from her children, and I have yet to learn how that can be accomplished. But it is not only mothers who cannot get any rest. A woman's cares, whether she be married or single, pursue her everywhere. There is no wilderness so wild as to let a woman escape altogether from the cares of the toilet. Neither can she escape unless she flees altogether from society the obligation to be agreeable and entertaining. But who expects a man to be agreeable when he is tired?" —New York Tribune.

Annual Fair of Grand Army

The annual fair of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., was successfully inaugurated at the Coliseum on Monday evening. There was a large crowd in attendance and good sales were reported at the several tables and booths. These were tastefully arranged about the sides of the hall and were in charge of ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies' Aid society and members of the Post.

Many of the larger articles were sold by books, and those who had these in charge lost no opportunity to collect all that was possible. Mayor Thompson proved an easy victim, and if there was a book in which his name does not appear it was a mistake.

Previous to the opening, the Post assembled at headquarters and at 7 o'clock under command of Commander John D. Williams and escorted by the Finn band, marched to the hall.

The opening exercises were held at 8 o'clock and were brief. Commander Williams presided, and the first speaker was Mayor Thompson. He spoke in a happy vein, and hoped that the fair would be a grand success.

Other speakers were: Assistant-Adjutant General Weatherbee; Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman, president of the Woman's Relief Corps; Mrs. Dexehimer, president of the Ladies' Aid society; and George A. Wardwell, past commander of the Spanish War Veterans.

The last speaker was Senior Vice Commander Gleason who formally opened the fair and wished it all success. During the evening music was furnished by the Finn band.

Fancy Pay for Bridge Commission

It is not surprising that many days were given to the Weymouth Fore river bridge hearings, and that there have been delays, etc. There was a hearing before Judge Crosby at Dedham Monday afternoon in the matter of the approval of the bill for services of the commission appointed to apportion the cost. The three members of the commission, Ernest H. Vaughn of Worcester, Judge Prescott Keyes of Concord, and Alden P. White of Boston, were all present.

The hearing lasted over an hour. Judge Crosby made a decree allowing the commissioners $100 each per day of actual sitting and $50 per day for services in making up the report.

The estate of the late Henry H. Moulton of Salem and Judge John J. Flaherty of Gloucester, who were members of the commission at the time of their death, will receive what is due for their services on the commission.

NURSES' HOME AT QUINCY CITY HOSPITAL

A Pressing Need Which the Trustees Hope May Be Met the Coming Years---Plans for Growth of the Institution.

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy, realizing the urgent need of enlargement, and feeling that with the debt all paid, immediate steps should be taken, called into consultation Kendall, Taylor, and Stevens, the well known firm of Boston architects who should be shortly forthcoming to enable the building of the Nurses' Home, and they believe that then the way will open up for the other requirements.

Cottage hospitals, so called, originated in England soon after the middle of the last century. The first small village or cottage hospital was build about the year 1855. Previous to that time there were comparatively few hospitals, and these were located in large cities, as it was not thought necessary to have hospitals convenient to the people. This cottage hospital idea grew very slowly in the old country and it was tals build in this country for some years after 1875. It was thought here that the half dozen, more or less, hospitals in the large cities of New England would answer the purpose very well, and if people were able they could be brought to the large hospitals for treatment, or they could have expensive expert surgeons come to them. If they were not able, they must get along as best they could. In the eighties a few hospitals of this type were incorporated; among them were hospitals in Cambridge and Newton, but the hospitals in New England outside of the cities built before 1890 could be counted on the fingers of both hands and possibly of one hand.

It was evident that though an Isolating or Contagious Department, a new ward, and a more adequate operating room were all immediate needs, that precedent to these, there must be a Nurses' Home, and there must be a central heating plant.

The architects were therefore asked to prepare plans for these, and in order that they might be properly located and designed with reference to the future, a careful study was made, and a ground plan made covering possible future developments.

The Trustees feel that with the splendid record of the Hospital, and the urgent need for its enlargement, funds some twenty years before they became at all common.

About this time (1875) the first cottage or suburban hospital was built in America. This was the House of Mercy in Pittsfield, and was the direct result of a study of the great good that was possible through their use in the old country. There were very few small hospi-

FIREMEN TO PARADE

All Apparatus Of the City To Be Called Out On Saturday

For the first time for several years the citizens will have an opportunity on Saturday to see the entire fire department on parade. The last time the department went out on view was at the time Quincy celebrated its centenial anniversary. Since that time several pieces of apparatus have been added to the department which the majority of our citizens have not seen.

Chief Litchfield's plan is to sound an alarm from Box 26 which will start the apparatus from all over the city toward City Square. This will be pulled at 2 o'clock. At the same time a relief wagon will start for Houghs Neck to cover that section during the absence of Combination No. 3.

Arriving in City Square the companies will form on Washington street for a street parade and review.

During this parade blue ribbons will be awarded for the best one, two and three horse hitches.

After the review the Central and Wollaston Ladder Companies will raise 45 foot ladders against time, and the West Quincy Co. will raise a 60 foot ladder against time.

Then the several Hose companies will lay lines of hose for a record.

It is also possible that the department may be put through some other manœuvres.

Special invitations to be present have been sent by Chief Litchfield to Mayor Thompson and members of the City Council.

Should Saturday prove stormy the parade and review will be postponed.

Burke's Machine.

The Herald in its report of the Republican county convention states that the nomination of Messrs. Humphrey for county treasurer, and Richardson for county commissioner was made "in antagonism to what is known as the Quincy machine!" Horrible suggestion! There was never a political machine in Quincy. In political activities it has the cleanest record of any town on the county map. The only "machine" in the only city in Norfolk county is Col. "Tom" Burke's patent street sprinkler, and it is doing good service irrespective of party.—Hyde Park Gazette.

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW

When children are cross, irritable and peevish it does not signify that they have bad tempers; it shows that there is something wrong with the child which it is not able to explain, and which the mother—If She Only Knew—could easily and quickly cure. Mothers, study your child's symptoms; if cross, peevish, nervous, grits the teeth, wets the bed, picks the nose, has variable appetite or bowels, suffers with wind-colic or headache, is irritable and restless, has furred tongue or offensive breath, you may be sure that child is troubled with worms, which cause nearly all the ills of childhood.

Don't delay—disease comes suddenly—a few doses of the wonderful old-time remedy—will give your children that vigorous health which is so important to their future happiness.

Dr. True's Elixir expels the worms, if there are any—if not it acts as a gentle laxative and tonic. It cleans out all waste matter from the stomach and bowels, tones and strengthens the entire system of adults as well as children. Dr. True's Elixir is a safe, pure, vegetable tonic and has been the standard household remedy for fifty-five long years.

Sold by all druggists, 35c., 50c., $1.00.

STRIFE AT CIENFUEGOS

Taft Sends Steinhart to Smooth Out the Political Differences—Disbandment Completed Except in Santa Clara

Havana, Oct. 9.—The notorious condition of factional ill-feeling which has existed at Cienfuegos since the presidential campaign of 1905 and which then resulted in the deaths of Congressman Villuendas and Chief of Police Illance increased during the recent revolution to such an extent that the return of the rebels from the field is now causing a dangerous condition, which the provisional government considers it is highly necessary to end.

With this in view, Governor Taft last night sent Consul General Steinhart to Cienfuegos with authority to take any action that he may deem advisable in the interest of a reconciliation of political differences there and inaugurating a fresh start toward a reasonable degree of mutual good will between the malcontents.

Governor Taft believes that it is particularly necessary that the vexed local situation in Cienfuegos shall be settled before the issuance of an amnesty decree, since he has determined to include in the amnesty all persons charged with connection in the Villuendas murder. He holds that if he yielded to the importunities of many residents of Cienfuegos and allowed those charged with the crime to be brought to trial, it would result, in the event of their acquittal by a judge belonging to the Moderate party, in reopening the quarrel over the incident in a more violent manner than ever.

Ever since the death of Villuendas a year ago last September his murder has been made the subject of heated discussions in congress and at political meetings. Members of the Moderate party have been charged with the crime and their trial repeatedly demanded, but the Cuban government regarded it unsafe to accede to these demands during the overheated state of the public mind.

Governor Taft has also decided to include in the general amnesty all persons alleged to have been connected with the Guanabacoa outrage last February, when several rural guardsmen were wantonly killed in their quarters by a gang of night marauders. He is unwilling to furnish any opportunity for the reopening of old sores in either of these matters, and will insist on the effectual closing now of all incidents which are an outgrowth of former political strife. Steinhart has received no definite instructions except to deal with all questions arising according to his best judgment.

The governors of all provinces, excepting Santa Clara, report that the disbandment of both volunteers and insurgents is complete and Santa Clara reports good progress.

Alfredo Zayas, the Liberal leader, called at the palace and invited Taft to attend the Liberal mass meeting on Oct. 14. Taft replied that he would probably sail for the United States on Oct. 13. Zayas then offered to hold the meeting before the governor's departure, but Taft intimated that he did not regard it wise to attend a party demonstration.

Messrs. Taft and Bacon have declined many invitations from Cubans, Americans and others to dinners and other social functions, pleading limited time. Although the American commissioners will leave Cuba this week, Captain McCoy, the military aide to the governor, will remain for another week to familiarize Charles E. Magoon, Taft's successor, with the situation.

Camp Columbia, the headquarters of the American soldiers and marines, is growing rapidly, and the men are settling down to routine life. The arrival of General Bell is awaited before the beginning of the distribution of the troops. A tentative plan is that large detachments be sent to each provincial capital and to Cienfuegos, to be subject to needs elsewhere. Telegraphic communication will be established between the different permanent camps.

Large Force of Mounted Infantry

Havana, Oct. 9.—After the arrival here of the 2000 horses contracted for in the United States, the provisional government will have a surplus of horses on hand. General Funston says that he probably will use considerable numbers of mounted infantry throughout the island. The provisional government has also accepted large quantities of arms and ammunition contracted for by the Cuban government.

Won't Perform Cuban Service

Washington, Oct. 9.—Secretary Taft having indicated that he had no further use for the battleships Indiana and Kentucky in Cuban waters at this time, these vessels have been ordered to join the Atlantic fleet off the coast of Massachusetts. These two warships were dispatched to Havana with a large force of marines.

Driven to Murder by Shame

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 9.—Bert and Mollie Kemp, aged 39 and 29, respectively, are under arrest here, charged with murdering their baby. The child was born one week after their marriage. The police say that Kemp confessed the crime, saying that shame drove him to it.

TO BUILD BY CONTRACT

Chinese Labor Will Be Employed on Panama Canal

Washington, Oct. 9.—It has been finally decided that the Panama canal will be completed by contract. In a few days the commission will make public a statement setting forth its reasons for favoring the contract system.

The change in the plan of building the canal will in no way affect the employment of Chinese labor. Proposals for furnishing the Chinese labor were made under such conditions that they can be transferred to contractors and the terms can be fulfilled in such a manner that the government can give the coolies just as much protection as it could if the government were the direct employer.

President Roosevelt still intends to visit the isthmus this fall, and unless there be some change for the worse in the Cuban situation, will probably leave for Colon in a short time after the election.

Alleged "Doctoring" of Hams

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—Warrants have been sworn out for the arrest of the Philadelphia managers of Armour & Co., charging the firm with the illegal use of boric acid in hams found in samples purchased at the branch houses. It is said that subpoenas will be issued for the heads of the firm of Armour & Co. in Chicago, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the "doctoring" of the meat is performed in Chicago or this city.

Insurance Company Must Settle

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—The Transatlantic Fire Insurance company was defeated in the first decision to be rendered in the superior court regarding the liability of companies which have refused a dollar for dollar settlement of losses due to the disaster that befell San Francisco last spring. The company has not a single excuse in law for repudiating the claims of its policyholders, according to the decision of the court.

Decision Against Gas Consumers

New York, Oct. 9.—Justice Bischoff, in the supreme court, denied applications made on behalf of 127 gas consumers for peremptory writs of mandamus commanding the Consolidated Gas company to furnish them with gas at the price of 80 cents per 1000 cubic feet, in accordance with the law passed by the legislature. Bischoff says that the statute in question is unconstitutional.

Lake Sailors Drowned

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 9.—A terrific rainstorm is raging on Lake Superior. The barge Pasadena, in tow of the steamer Gladstone, was blown on the rocks and is a total wreck. Three of her crew were drowned, while seven others reached shore after a hard battle with the sea. Much anxiety is felt for the safety of several vessels. The Gladstone made the harbor safely.

General Wounded by Bomb

Sebastopol, Oct. 9.—A bomb was thrown at Major General Dumbadze, commander of the troops, as he was driving to the barracks of the Brest regiment. The general, who was slightly wounded, fired on his assailant. The latter, after a struggle with some soldiers, escaped. It is believed that several persons were implicated in the attempt.

Franchot Gets the Nomination

Lockport, N. Y., Oct. 9.—As the finish of one of the hottest fights in the history of New York state politics, and after an almost continuous session of a week, S. P. Franchot of Niagara Falls was nominated for senator by the Republican senatorial convention in the Forty-Seventh district. The nomination was made on the 466th ballot.

Fire Truck Run Down by Train

Chicago, Oct. 9.—One fireman was killed, another probably fatally injured and several other firemen narrowly escaped being crushed to death last night when the Evanston "flyer" struck a fire truck at Estes avenue crossing. Going at full speed, the train crashed into the fire wagon just as the horses stepped on the tracks.

Patrick to Fight Out His Case

Albany, Oct. 9.—Governor Higgins states that he has received a letter from Albert T. Patrick requesting the governor not to entertain any applications for executive clemency unless that application is made by Patrick himself. No formal application for clemency in Patrick's behalf is now pending.

Father and Children Cremated

Steubenville, O., Oct. 9.—His home destroyed by flames and the dead bodies of his two small children and his aged father was the sight which met the eyes of Charles Zende, a farmer on McIntyre creek, when he returned home from a short trip. The cause of the fire is a mystery.

Croker Suing a Magazine

Dublin, Oct. 9.—The Evening Telegraph declares that Richard Croker is bringing an action for libel and claiming heavy damages against the proprietor of the London Magazine in connection with an article dealing with Croker's relations to Tammany Hall.

Policy King's Will Filed

New York, Oct. 9.—The last will of Albert J. Adams, the so-called "policy king," does not reveal upon its face the vast estate of the dead man, now conservatively estimated at from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000. Adams did not give one cent of his fortune to charity.

NEEDS AND IDEALS

Those of Massachussets Should Be Given Consideration

NO FAVORS ARE SOUGHT

State and National Affairs Discussed at Banquet Which Serves as Ratification of the Guild Ticket

Boston, Oct. 9.—The annual banquet of the Massachusetts Republican club was held last night in Symphony hall and served as a ratification meeting for Governor Guild, who last week received the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

The gathering brought together many men prominent in public life, among them being Senator Beveridge of Indiana, Senators Lodge and Crane of Massachusetts and other notables.

Representative Cushing presided and after a few preliminary remarks introduced Governor Guild as the first speaker. The governor opened his remarks by declaring that the Republican party was organized as the foe of local privilege and class legislation, and as the friend of equal rights and national progress. "We ask no favor for Massachusetts which is not for the general advantage of the United States. We have a right to demand in turn that in seeking that general advantage due consideration should be given alike to the needs and to the ideals of Massachusetts."

He pointed out that the state had become cosmopolitan and said: "Nor shall we appeal in vain if we make it clear to these new citizens that they have a welcome share in the fortunes of the commonwealth."

Governor Guild reviewed the labor legislature of the past session, the improvement in the child labor laws, the eight-hour law, and changes in the laws regarding the assignment of wages. In reference to corporations, the governor pointed out that the Republican party stands for the strict regulation of private enterprises in public interests. He attempted to show that the board of railroad commissioners had enforced a square deal between corporations and the people, while the great telegraph and telephone companies have for the first time been placed under state supervision. He said that the banking laws had been strengthened, education has been extended to the feeble-minded and a modification made in the laws regarding patent medicines in relation to the amount of alcohol in them.

Turning to national issues, he declared that those who promised a millenium in 1892 and 1896 were the same ones who were making similar promises today and Massachusetts is asked again in the state election to endorse that very element in the Democratic party.

In conclusion he said that the November elections in this state, as well as in New York, were national in importance, and these two states are to say whether the country is or is not so infected by the feverish falsehood of yellow journalism as to turn from the progressive leadership of Roosevelt to the same men who dominated congress from 1892 to 1896 and whose wild posturing sent panic into the counting house and hunger into the home.

Senator Lodge made a speech in which he said that he considered Bryan's declaration for government ownership of railroads as more serious in its larger aspects than anything now present in our politics. It showed, he stated, that Bryan believed that a large body of voters in his own party, and possibly in other parties, was turning to the principles involved in his declaration. The senator continued:

"The nomination of Mr. Hearst in New York and Mr. Moran in Massachusetts, which are identical in character and purpose, prove beyond a doubt that the radical element in the Democratic party, which aims at class legislation and strives to arouse class hatreds, tends also toward socialism and the destruction of private property. This element, which has been built up and fostered by Mr. Bryan in his two campaigns for the presidency as well as by the pitiable collapse of the "safe and sane" candidate in 1904, is now powerful enough to take possession of the Democratic organization in two great states.

"The condition into which the Democratic party has thus fallen is in itself a menace to the welfare of the country. I am not one of those who rejoice in it, for I think it is just as important that the party of opposition should not drive out all its conservative elements, abandon all its traditions, and give itself over to radicalism, violence and general indecency, as that the party in power should remain sound and wise and safe."

Senator Lodge dwelt at length upon the things which he said the Republican party stood for, and emphasized those things which President Roosevelt had accomplished. "We shall resist revolution," he said. "We shall fight to the end riot and violence and socialism, which breed a worse tyranny than any despot can devise."

In the Fight to Stay

Boston, Oct. 9.—Chairman Feeney of the Democratic state committee states that John B. Moran has no intention of declining the nomination, as had been reported. George Fred Williams also says that Moran has not the slightest intention of retiring from the contest.

ATTACK BY STRIKERS

They Get the Worst of It, Two Men Meeting Death

Buckingham, Que., Oct. 9.—Two men were killed and a dozen wounded in a conflict between striking millhands and provincial police at MacLaren's sawmills here. The drastic measures taken by the authorities to quell the riotous strikers has had its effect and no further trouble is expected. President Belanger of the Mill Workers' union and leader of the strikers was killed, as was Xavier Therieu, a millhand. Five of the wounded men are in a serious condition.

The strike at the mills began on Sept. 15. The workmen's strike fund and their small savings had vanished and they had begun to feel the effects. The announcement made yesterday that the millowners would import labor and start the mills put the men in a desperate mood. A meeting was called, at which incendiary speeches were made.

About the middle of the afternoon the men decided to clear out the strike-breakers. A mob of 200, armed with revolvers and other weapons, started for the mill. The millowners had posted 40 detectives and special policemen near their property. There was no parleying. The first rush of the strikers was met by a volley from the revolvers in the hands of the police, and a desultory fusillade was kept up for 15 minutes. It was apparently by mutual consent that hostilities were suspended while both sides removed their wounded. As there appeared to be a likelihood of a renewal of the trouble, an appeal was sent to Ottawa for troops. They arrived last night.

The strikers declare they will elect another leader and continue the strike. The MacLaren company is equally determined not to give in to the strikers.

German Miners Talking Strike

Berlin, Oct. 9.—The agitation for increased wages, with the alternative of a strike, has assumed serious dimensions in the Rhenish Westphalian coal district. The so-called Christian or Catholic association asserts that the wounds inflicted upon the miners by the great strike of January and February of 1905 have not yet healed, and that the miners lack resources with which to carry through another local strike.

Bullet Stopped at Undershirt

Louisville, Oct. 9.—During the races here Bookmaker Sam Stephens kicked Ed Alvey, a local bookmaker, under the chin. Alvey drew his pistol and fired at Stephens at close range. The bullet pierced Stephens' shirt and lodged in the clothing of Bob Winslow, Stephens' cashier. Winslow picked the bullet out of his undershirt, where it had lodged against the skin. He was uninjured save for a bruise.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Charles M. Schwab of the Bethlehem Steel company called on President Roosevelt in relation to personal matters. He afterward went over to the navy department, where he paid his respects to Admiral Mason, chief of the bureau of ordnance. Held For Killing Campanion

Greenfield, Mass., Oct. 9.—A charge of murder was preferred against Charles Pair, 18 years of age, who, it is claimed, shot and killed his 17-year-old chum, Augustine Faille, while the lads were hunting in the Conway woods, when Pair was arraigned in the district court here. Pair pleaded not guilty and a further hearing was set for Oct. 18. Bail was fixed at $2000, in default of which Pair was locked up. He admitted that Faille had been shot while the two were out gunning. The medical examiner gave his opinion that the shooting was accidental.

Golden Wedding At Wollaston

But very few couples united in marriage live to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, but more remarkable is it to have the officiating clergyman living at that pleasant occasion. On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. George F. Pinkham of Warren avenue, Wollaston, observed their 50th marriage anniversary informally, and Rev. William L. Brown of Wrentham, who married them in 1856 united in offering congratulations. He is 92 years old and was unable to be present because of the infirmities of years, but he sent a congratulatory letter and had many kind things to say of Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham.

Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham were pioneers at Wollaston, and have a very large acquaintance in the city. They were married in Watertown and lived for a while in Cambridge, but saw great possibilities at Wollaston, and as early as 1870 took up their residence there, and have lived to see their expectations realized in a remarkable degree.

Their pretty home on Warren avenue was decorated for the anniversary with autumn foliage and potted plants, and a large number of the older residents of Wollaston and relatives from a distance gathered to extend congratulations and good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham were assisted in receiving by their sons and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pinkham, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Pinkham and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Goodspeed.

Four who were at the wedding fifty years ago were present, Mrs. Pinkham's brother, Mr. A. G. Olney; her sisters, Mrs. Josiah Sparrow and Mrs. Frank Bryant, and also Miss Josephine Stone of Cambridge.

Refreshments were served by a Boston caterer.

There were numerous presents for the happy couple, including beautiful flowers.

Mr. Pinkham's interest in the municipal affairs of Quincy dates back to the town form of government. He was elected a member of the first city government in 1889, and often takes part in public hearings today. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham enjoy good health.

Evening Schools.

The free evening schools of the city opened Monday night, the common schools being at the Adams and Willard buildings and the drawing at the old High. The mechanical drawing school opens tonight. Sessions of the evening schools will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of each week.

ago. The original plan contemplated an Administration building and Service building, temporarily housing the Operating department, Nurses' Home and everything pertaining thereto, as well as the laundry, and two pavilions for the sick, one of which only was then constructed.

The general scheme of this Hospital, considering the early date of its designing, was remarkably good, and an examination shows that it was well constructed, and that it has been well taken care of. The persons who were responsible for purchasing the lot made a wise selection as it could scarcely be improved even today, it being high and airy, with beautiful views, very excessible, and yet removed from all noise and contamination of manufacturing.

The lot was of fair size, in fact ample for any possible use that was evident at the time, and has since been extended.

The location of the Hospital on the lot was not as happy as might have been possible and yet, considering the limited scope that seemed possible at that time, little fault can be found. In the orignal scheme pavilions for the sick projected towards the public streets. This location of the sick rooms is rather bad. They should be away from the public streets and away from all disturbing causes, so in studying for future development it has been thought wise to depart from the original scheme to a degree, especially as the entrance to the hospital, which cannot be changed, would be side of a pavilion if carried out on the original lines. This would be out of the question, as it brings the public in too close contact with the sick.

In studying the present population and possibilities of future growth of the city of Quincy, it was immediately evident to the architects that there was a necessity of arranging a scheme for future development with a chance for a proper sub-division and classification so devised as to make use of all the inherent advantages of the lot. The problem was an unusually difficult one and many different schemes were tried and discarded, but the one finally adopted seems to fulfill every requirement.

The first pressing need is for a Nurses' Home. This must be located where it will be convenient for the present and entirely out of the path of future growth. The next need is for an Isolating Pavilion or Contagious Ward and an enclosed area has been set aside for this where it will be most conveniently approached from the street and properly isolated from present and future hospital buildings.

The present heating plant now located in the basement, under the Operating room, cannot be added to in its present location and, as the room it occupies is much needed for storage, a new heating plant is arranged for under the laundry, giving proper isolation, room enough for additions for many years and a convenient coal delivery from the street.

It is obvious that the future additions of pavilions for patients must be made in such a way as to ensure the greatest amount of sun and air. This necessitates a corridor running northerly from the east end of the present corridor and the pavilions, built as required, projecting southeasterly as will be seen on the accompanying plan. These pavilions will be of brick of two stories in height to contain open wards, private rooms, and the necessary ward conveniences.

The present Administration building may answer until one or perhaps two of these pavilions are built, but a new Operating Department is surely needed now and before long the new Administration building should be built with a domestic wing, and a complete up-to-date Operating Department. If all cannot be built at once the Operating Department should be built first as the present facilities are inadequate.

A study of the block plan will show an almost ideal possibility of landscape architecture. A front driveway extending through the trees and sweeping up around a broad circle to the Administration building—all away from interference with or disturbance of the sick: a service and ambulance drive over the present driveway which works in admirably for this purpose: the grounds with their beautiful trees forming a most attractive setting and giving an impression of great breadth and expanse, opening up as they do to the extensive and beautiful view of Boston harbor. And all possible with a comparatively small expense for grading.

NURSES HOME.

The first building to be erected in following out the new scheme is the Nurses' Home. This will set the pace, and be typical of the new institution which it is hoped will be gradually developed. The materials are red brick with very simple trimmings of stone and a slate roof. The style is pure colonial of the most simple, classic, and refined type, dignified yet economical of construction and maintenance; fitting alike the purpose and the historic environment of this old colonial town. A reference to the plans will readily show the proposed interior arrangement.

A classic porch opens into the vestibule and thence into a fine large sitting room with a fireplace. This room opens out onto a large veranda, and is connected with a small study or lecture room and a tea kitchen that will be appreciated by the ladies. The rest of the first floor has six single bed rooms with large closets and a toilet and bath.

The second floor has a large room for the head nurse in charge, eight single bed rooms, a toilet and bath, linen room and slop hopper. The third floor has four single or double rooms and a toilet and bath, thus providing first class accommodation for a score of nurses. The basement has a trunk space and nurses' laundry.

BOILER HOUSE.

The boiler house is to go under the present laundry, thus bringing together all these engineering problems. A large, low pressure boiler is to be installed and the old high pressure boiler for laundry use retained. A man's room is to be built in the corner with toilet, etc., and a large coal pocket and autopsy under the drying platform. This plant will provide ample heat for the present Hospital, for the new Nurses' Home, and for the proposed Isolating Department. This is the most economical and convenient disposition of these necessities, and this arrangement will provide, with the addition of a new boiler, for many years to come.

Other drawings showing the floor plans of the Nurses' Home will appear in the Daily Ledger tomorrow.

Rheumatism Cannot Be Cured Unless Uric-O is Used

The Store of E. J. Murphy is the Home of Uric-O in Quincy.

The Rheumatic person is sceptical regarding the claims of almost any remedy advertised as a cure for Rheumatism and one can scarcely blame him for being so. All the plasters and liniments combined never actually cured a case of Rheumatism. They may relieve it one quarter, but it is sure to break out somewhere else. The only sure way to cure Rheumatism, is to drive it from the system, for as long as the Uric and Rheumatic Acid remains in the blood, one is never entirely free from the trouble. This is where the value of Uric-O as a permanent cure for Rheumatism comes in. It seeks out the Rheumatic poison in the blood, muscles and kindeys, renders it inert and harmless and drives it out of the system. That is why Uric-o is such an admirable and effective cure for Rheumatism.

The chief reason that Uric-o is such a wonderful cure for Rheumatism is, that it is designed and prepared to cure Rheumatism and Rheumatism only. It does not contain any alcohol or other so called tonics to make one "feel good" for the time being, but is composed of antidotes for the rheumatic acid poison in the system. That is the secret of its wonderful success. Rheumatism simply cannot exist in a person's system if Uric-O is used.

Uric-O is sold by E. J. Murphy, "The home of Uric-O" in Quincy, at 75c and $1.00 the bottle, but if you still feel skeptical about its efficacy you can test it free of charge by cutting out this advertisement and sending same together with your name and address to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y., and they will send you a sample bottle free. To persons who write and say they have never used Uric-O, want to test it thoroughly, and will agree to take it systematically according to directions, they frequently send a regular 75c bottle free.

—Brockton high and Abington high were unable to score on Monday in their football match.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, in buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

MAKING OVER DRESSES.

Getting a New Dress Out of an Old One is Not an Impossibility.

It is amazing what a skilful woman can do with a last season's dress and a little new trimming. Every woman can do the same if she will learn how. The way to learn how is to read the Household Department of the Boston Daily Globe, where making over gowns is explained by clever women whose brains are as good as money.

A. H. Holbrook of Norfolk Union lodge and Wor. G. W. S. Hyde of John Cutler lodge.

The grand officers were received with due honors and witnessed an exemplification of the Master Mason's degree. Refreshments were served after business of the evening.

Better Gas Supply For South Quincy

The Citizens Gas Co. commenced work Tuesday to lay a twelve inch gas main from Washington street through Revere Road, Bigelow and Elm streets to Hancock street. This will reinforce the companys mains supplying the south part of the city and insure that section a plentiful supply.

Up to the present time the company has laid this year about seventeen miles of street mains of various sizes. The company will keep on with its work laying mains as long as the weather holds good. It is probable, however, that it will not be possible to lay much more.

Work will be resumed as soon as spring opens and will be kept up until the whole city has been piped. Mr. Nichols, the local manager of the company, says that many applications for house connections have been received from Wollaston and Atlantic, and he has several gangs making these connections as fast as possible.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

Mrs. Walter E. Burke, president of the Junior Friday club was hostess for the opening meeting on Monday afternoon and Miss Wood had the literary program in charge. The club will this year continue the study of American history, writers, etc., making the third year on the subject. During the social hour songs were sung by Miss Fanny Ellsworth with Miss Randall at the piano, which were much enjoyed. Light refreshments were served by the hostess. The programs will be issued at the next meeting.

The Social Science and Literary club members held the first meeting of the club year with Mrs. E. L. Eastman, 357 Hancock street, Atlantic. Business, current events in their relation to social science and the study of King Henry VI was the work of the afternoon. The club meets Oct. 16 with Mrs. Turner, 463 Hancock street.

Rev. Ernest W. Hunt is to address the Wollaston Unitarian Alliance on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 17th in the church vestry, taking as his subject, "A Forward Movement."

QUINCY WOMEN'S ALLIANCE.

The opening meeting of the Quincy branch of the National Alliance of Unitarian and other liberal christian women was an overflow meeting, the parlor of First church being completely filled. Between one hundred and one hundred and twenty-five were present. It was partially a neighborhood meeting as other Alliance members had been invited to enjoy the address by Rev. C. Wendte, of Brighton.

A short devotional and business session was held with the president Mrs. Frank S. Davis in the chair, after which Mr. Wendte was introduced. He spoke for nearly an hour, his subject being "Liberal Thinkers and Workers in Foreign Countries." He is a most entertaining speaker, bits of humor being interwoven with deep spiritual thoughts.

He carried his listeners to England, Holland, France, Germany, Italy, in all of which countries there is a strong trend toward liberal christianity. He had attended the national liberal church conferences in these countries and told of the hearty welcome accorded every one; of the religious uplift and inspiration the meetings had been to him.

Next year the conference was to be held in Boston when it was expected there would be delegates from about twenty countries present. Already preparations were being made for the meetings as Tremont Temple, Symphony hall, and Saunders theatre had been engaged for meetings. Unitarians all around Boston were making arrangements to entertain the visiting delegates.

So interesting was Mr. Wendte that all would have been glad to listen to him another hour.

During the social hour cocoa and light refreshments were served and the visitors from out of town greeted. The opening meeting was full of pleasure and an inspiration for future meetings during the season, for which a fine program has been arranged.

Miss Edith Randall will be the speaker at the meeting on Oct. 22d speaking on Liberal Religion in India and Japan.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

The Women's club house on Goffe street was in festive array Tuesday afternoon for the opening of the club season. Autumn flowers, zinnias, dahlias, salvia, and hydrangeas were in profusion every where, the massive bouquet of zinnias in the centre of the tea table being strikingly effective as was the rustic basket of hydrangeas on the platform in the parlor. The seating capacity of the house was heavily taxed and it will be one of the future problems for the club to solve, to arrange the house to accommodate all club members so that they can hear and see and thereby enjoy the club programs.

A business session was held at half past two with the first vice president Mrs. Chandler W. Smith in the chair. Reports were given by the various officers and committee chairmen.

At three o'clock new members admitted during the summer were made welcome. After which a musical program was given, arranged by Mrs. Moore, chairman of the music committee. This was a delightful program of quartet singing by the Schubert

CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION

Review Work Of the Year And Elect Officers for 1907

The aunnual meeting of the Citizens' Association was held Tuesday evening at the rooms of the Granite Manufacturers Association. Althongh the weather was against a large attendance nearly fifty were present, including Mayor Thompson. Reports of the various officers for the year were read and accepted. These included the annual report of President H. L. Kincaide, which was as follows:—

Gentlemen: One year ago the Citizens Association of Quincy was formed by about a dozen gentlemen interested in the welfare of the city. Since the birth of this Association it has steadily grown until today its membership numbers over 135 of our representative and public spirited citizens from all parts of the city.

During the year much has been accomplished and among the leading topics which have been handled by the Association have been: The Granite Strike which was promptly settled.

A careful study of water meters and service with wise and conservative recommendations to the City Council.

Formulating a plan whereby the Boston Consolidated Gas Co. acquired possession of the Citizens Gas Light Co. and are today furnishing gas at a reduction of 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet with better, more liberal and satisfactory service to our citizens.

A careful study of Trolley Freight with urgent pressure on the city government not to give away a valuable franchise without restrictions and satisfactory rates assured in advance.

An effort to secure lower telephone rates.

Work on a set of building laws, which it is hoped will soon be passed by the City Council.

An effort to secure lower insurance rates.

An order from railroad commissioners regulating the whistling nuisance on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.

A midnight car from Dudley street.

Work on lower freight rates and better freight service.

Favorable action on the widening of Cottage avenue and Maple place.

Opposition to the proprosed cemetery in Wollaston.

Instituting an advertising campaign and causing to be distributed over 100,000 envelope inserts through the mail of our merchants and citizens with a view of creating a more favorable impression of the city on the outside as well as among our own residents,

Working up a gradual sentiment of patriotism among our thinking men with the thought of undertaking greater things the ensuing year and endeavoring to encourage conservative men who will work for the highest type of city government to take public office and to such men give our endorsement and support.

These and many other important subjects pertaining to the welfare of the city have received our attention, and at the present time our committees are working on many interesting subjects upon which reports will be made at an early date. Among these are the burying of wires on the main thoroughfare. The widening of Hancock street between Granite street and Revere road. The appointment of an inspector of wires and of buildings. A tree warden. Needed amendments to the City Charter. A bill to the Legislature regulating the present discrimination in carrying express packages by steam railroads. A plan to improve the present congested condition of street car traffic and needless transfer system now in vogue in City Square.

The ensuing year should be far more successful than the past, and as loyal citizens I appeal to you to work together for those interests so vital to the welfare to our city and home.

I urgently recommend that the committee on publicity arrange at once for a free monthly publication to be known as the Citizens' Bulletin through the columns of which our citizens may exchange views on public affairs, commend or criticise the acts of public officials, offer suggestions for the improvement of city affairs, and recommendations for the consideration of public service corporations as well as publishing the names and records of men well fitted to hold public office, and by our united efforts increase at once our membership and create a deeper interest and more patriotism in public and city affairs on broader and progressive lines.

Matters of general interest and for the welfare of the city were discussed in a general manner.

One of the important subjects taken up was the congested condition of City Square near the fountain, caused by the street car lines from the several sections ending here. A communication in relation to this matter will be forwarded to the Mayor and City Council.

It was also voted to appoint a committee to consist of two from each ward and three at large to examine into the qualifications of candidates for city office at the coming election.

An amendment was proposed to the by-laws which provided that regular meetings of the Association shall be held every two months instead of every three months as at present.

A general invitation was extended to all citizens to join the association and a rallying committee was appointed to solicit membership.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President,—Henry L. Kincaide.
Vice President,—Russell A. Sears.
Secretary,—Charles H. Burgess.
Treasurer, Nathan G. Nickerson.
Directors,—Herman F. McIntire and Dr. John F. Welch of Ward One; John W. McAnarney and H. Gerrish Smith of Ward Two; Henry McGrath and John L. Miller of Ward Three; James F. Burke and William T. Shea of Ward Four; A. L. Baker and Walter S. Pinkham of Ward Five; Crawford Harvie and Harry W. Read of Ward Six; E. H. Angier, Clarence Burgin and A. F. Schenkelberger at large.

Mr. Chapin will give the service in trying to dispose o these, and the cost of one in five sold, will be given to the Hospital Fund. Mrs. Faxon, Saville Avenue, will also sell what she has, at 25c., and give one fifth or 20 per cent received to the collector for Ward 1.

Ex-Councilman Loud Takes a Bride

On Tuesday evening Arthur W. Loud, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Loud, of this city, was united in marriage to one of Brockton's fair daughters, Miss Annis Louise Tyler, daughter of Mrs. Georgetta F. Tyler. The ceremony was solemnized at half after seven by the Rev. Dudley A. Ferrell of Unity church, Brockton, only the immediate families being present.

The bride was attended by Miss Mildred La Von Tyler of Brockton, and the groomsman was Harrison F. Loud of Quincy. Oscar Linfield Baker and Harry C. Howard of Brockton and William R. Thomas and Ernest V. Saunders of Quincy ushered.

The bride was very charming in gown of white crepe de chine, hand embroidered and trimmed with duchesse lace. The bridesmaid wore a blue and white grenadine with trimmings of renaissance lace and blue Liberty satin. The Misses Brandt of Worcester played the wedding march. Palms and autumn leaves and flowers made the house very attractive.

Following the ceremony a reception was held from eight until half after nine. In the receiving party were the bride and groom, Mrs. Tyler and the bridesmaid and best man. Guests were present from Chicago, Worcester, Springfield, Boston, Quincy, Brockton and nearby towns.

A wedding supper was served. The numerous and beautiful wedding gifts were testimonials of the popularity of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Loud left after the reception amid showers of confetti and good wishes. They have gone to Chicago and the west and will be away five or six weeks.

On their return they are to live at Wollaston, at 42 Brook street, where they will keep open house for all their friends. Mr. Loud was recently a member of the City Council, and is a member of the Granite City Club.

The Johnson Case.

The friends of George Johnson who was on trial at the district court in connection with the case of Henry Ramon, feel that an injustice has been done him.

At the time the affair happened it was given out that Johnson rubbed the oil on Ramon's face while the latter was asleep. It developed at the trial, however, that Ramon was not asleep but had just previous thrown water onto Johnson, who retaliated by rubbing his oily hands on Ramon's face in the spirit of fun.

It was at first supposed that the oil entering the eye caused the loss of its sight. The evidence, however, brought out the fact that the loss of the eye was brought about by other causes, and Johnson was discharged.

Johnson, who is a son of ex-Councilman John L. Johnson, was defended by Carl H. Johnson, while John D. McKay represented the government.

Cost of Paint

The difference between the cost of good paint and inferior paint is very little in comparison with the total outlay for painting a house.

The time and labor is the big item. Seems very foolish to spend a great deal of time and money putting on paint which will not last. It is much wiser to use old-fashioned "white lead and linseed oil.

Salem

is the standard white lead; is perfectly pure, and is made by the best method—the Old Dutch Process.

Paint pointers of value to the house owner are found in our booklet. Send for it.

OUR HOSPITAL
INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams St., Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

THE
Young Men's Christian Association
OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title – Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

The Massachusetts Board of Health, says the Boston Courier, is making a noteworthy attempt to have clean bakeries throughout the State. The multitude of people who buy their bread and pastry at the public bakeries certainly will second every effort of the Board to make clean and wholesome the sources of their daily food supply.

Through its own investigation the State Board of Health has secured a record of 247 bakeries in Massachusetts that are "distinctly bad." They are distributed as follows: Attleboro, 1; Boston, 54; Brockton, 3; Cambridge, 16; Chelsea, 4; Chicopee, 4; Clinton, 8; Fall River, 13; Fitchburg, 7; Framingham, 4; Gloucester, 3; Haverhill, 2; Holyoke, 13; Lawrence, 15; Lowell, 2; Lynn, 10; Malden, 5; Medford, 2; New Bedford, 10, Newburyport, 10; Quincy, 5; Salem, 7; Somerville, 14; Springfield, 9; Taunton, 2; Waltham, 2; Woburn, 3; Worcester, 19.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ I have no sympathy with men who attempt to array class against class. The Republican party has one method of curing national evils: the Democratic party has another. The Republican party uproots the corruption that is gnawing at the roots of the tree to save the tree. The Democratic party would cut down the tree, and the new one which is to grow up to take its place may be far from fulfilling the promise of the tree that is sacrificed.—Congressman Weeks.

☞ It occurred to us this week as we ran over our forty or fifty exchanges to note the moral tone of them. These papers are of all sizes and grades, from every variety of town, and are edited by practical men who are pretty well acquainted with the world, the flesh and the devil. In not one of them did we find a defense of immorality. In not one of them did we find a semblance of defence for whiskey. In not one of them was there a trace of vulgarity, and none taught or justified dishonesty. Neither could we find a sneer at purity, at religion, at the better things of life. In many of them were bits of excellent advice, little homely sermons on temperance, frugality and industry. All of them were loyal to the home town, and advocated honest principles in government and individuals. Wherever there was mention of the public school it was in terms of praise. To be sure here and there was some fun poked at shams, some scorn at pretence.

But the note in every one of these two score papers was for decency, progress, enlightenment, morality. And of these editors we know many personally, and of all those we know not one is a drinking man, not one a gambler not one is a libertine. Most of them are well read, most of them good judges of people and events. A pretty decent lot they are: in fact we doubt if any other profession can offer a higher—or even as high a—showing. Besides all this, the country editor is proverbially liberal, free-hearted in every way. No stray printer goes away hungry if he has a quarter. No public subscription list ever passes him without his mite. He gives freely of time and space to the public welfare. This is not an effort to throw a bouquet at our contemporaries, but, with Paul, we believe every man should magnify his calling, and we feel proud of ours.—Marce line (Mo.) Journal.

Taft Issues Decree Proclaiming Amnesty to Rebels

CLEARS WAY FOR MAGOON

Pardon For Political Offenders and Those Charged With Revolutionary Crimes--Duties of American Forces In Cuba

Havana, Oct. 10.—Charles E. Magoon, the newly appointed provisional governor of Cuba, has arrived in Havana. Coincident with his coming, Governor Taft gave out a general decree proclaiming amnesty not only to the rebels, but to all persons charged with political offenses or crimes in any way connected with the revolution. He also issued orders covering the attitude of the American marines and soldiers toward the people of Cuba. The much-discussed question of the ownership of the horses used by the revolutionists was covered in a special decree issued last night. It is expected that the amnesty proclamation will clear the way for greater freedom of action by Magoon, who will succeed Taft.

The Mascotte, with Magoon, General Bell, Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Bacon, entered Havana harbor yesterday afternoon. In the wake of the Mascotte came the battleship Texas with a detachment of 300 marines from Norfolk. Upon arriving at the palace Messrs. Taft, Bacon and Magoon had a long conference. Following this conference Magoon received the members of the press. He declined to discuss his plans for the future. He expressed himself as gratified at being in Cuba. He said he would take up his residence at the Quinta Hidalgo, the country seat of Minister Morgan, as the minister's guest, pending the departure of Governor Taft, and that he might continue to reside there if he found it convenient. Magoon left soon after for the Quinta Hidalgo at Mariano.

General Bell also will reside at the army headquarters in Marianao, occupied during the first period of American intervention by General Lee. General Funston will make his headquarters at Camp Columbia.

While the arrival of the new governor was not attended by any marked demonstration, the Cubans appear to be favorably impressed by his personality.

The order to General Funston, outlining the duties of the American forces in Cuba, instructs the officers of marines stationed in various localities that they are not expected to take part, in an active way, in the suppression of disorders unless extreme emergency arises in which it is absolutely necessary for them to protect life and property. The duties of the marines are generally limited to tendering their good offices between the conflicting elements and the prevention of that friction which, in the high state of tension between the political parties, is inevitable. The order concludes as follows:

"The President of the United States deems it of the utmost importance that the American forces do not engage in conflicts with Cubans, but that disorders by Cubans be suppressed by Cubans. It is also expected that the officers and men, both of the army and the marine corps, will exert every effort to show all courtesies possible to Cubans of all parties, and avoid in any way injuring their sensibilities."

The order makes it plain that the marines will remain in the island, for the present, as an adjunct to the infantry. Governor Taft says that practically all the American warships now in Cuban waters will soon be withdrawn.

Yellow Fever at Cienfuegos

Cienfuegos, Oct. 10.—Colonel Barnett has ordered the immediate removal of the American marines from this city on account of the appearance here of yellow fever. The marines were taken on board the ships. The yellow fever patient came from Cruces, where two other cases are reported.

Argenta, Ark., Oct. 10.—Alexander Champion, a negro bartender, was shot to death in a saloon last evening. Luther Lindsay, son of John B. He was later released that he might raise money to pay a $50 fine.

IS WAXING WROTH

Newfoundland Is Greatly Excited Over Fishery Agreement

USE OF PURSE SEINES

It Will Be Encouraged In Local Waters That Americans May Not Benefit by Modus Vivendi --Seizure of American Vessels For Slightest Offenses

St. Johns, Oct. 10.—The statements contained in a Washington dispatch to the effect that Newfoundland merchant fishermen controlled the government, had tried to prevent the Americans securing treaty rights, and had hampered the British government in assuring such rights to Americans, is denied in official circles.

On the contrary, officials declare that the British government strongly upheld every contention advanced by Newfoundland until a few weeks ago, when it suddenly abandoned the colony and surrendered to the Americans. In support of this the officials cite Congressman Gardner's letter to the Gloucester Board of Trade of July 7, 1906, wherein Gardner, speaking as the mouthpiece of the state department, said:

"The state department believes that Newfoundland has the right to prohibit its own citizens from engaging our crews unless they are inhabitants of the United States. Our rights to secure such crews by advertisement in Newfoundland newspapers would undoubtedly be contested by Great Britain."

Mr. Gardner was then warning American skippers to refrain from shipping men in British waters, Newfoundland having previously passed an act forbidding her men to go outside the three-mile limit to join American vessels. The modus vivendi now nullifies that law, it is argued, and grants Americans the right to ship men outside the limit, which proves that the British government has surrendered.

The colonial ministry has decided not to resign office and it intends to fight the matter to the bitter end. It will suspend the regulations prohibiting the local use of purse seines, thereby putting the colonies upon an equality with the American fishermen. It will dispatch the cruisers Fiona and Neptune to patrol the herring areas. All existing colonial laws will be rigidly enforced against the Americans and for the least offense American vessels will be confiscated instead of fined, as formerly. Every concession hitherto granted the Americans will be withdrawn. Local people will be encouraged to occupy the waters and drift other nets before the Americans arrive, thereby preventing the latter from enjoying the expected benefits of this arrangement.

The government has received assurances from leading clergymen of various creeds of their readiness to join Archbishop Howley in a public platform protest against the modus vivendi.

London Newspaper Comment

London, Oct. 10.—The publication of the text of the Newfoundland modus vivendi evokes strong editorial articles. The opposition newspapers condemn the government for overriding the wishes of the colony in order to conciliate the United States, and declare that the terms of the arrangement fully justify the intense indignation which is expressed throughout Newfoundland.

The Graphic describes the modus vivendi as a complete surrender to America and declares that to call such an agreement a "modus vivendi" is to abuse the term.

The Standard and The Morning Post also condemn the government for not consulting Newfoundland before concluding such a one-sided agreement, and The Morning Post is of the opinion that this should convince Newfoundland that the time has arrived to federate with Canada.

Bible Society to Get $750,000

New York, Oct. 10.—Bloodgood H. SECRETLY INDICTED

Two Crocker Jurors Held on Charge of Accepting Bribe

Boston, Oct. 10.—John F. Cronan and Matthew F. Killion, accused of accepting a bribe while serving as jurors in the Crocker will case, were arraigned in the superior criminal court before Judge Bond, after being rearrested upon their discharge by Judge Ely in the lower court. When their case was reached in the municipal court announcement was made that both the defendants had been secretly indicted by the grand jury. Cronan and Killion were held in the sum of $5000 each for trial in the superior criminal court.

The arrest of Cronan and Killion was ordered Sept. 22 by District Attorney Moran after he had seen the newspaper publication of their alleged confessions of having accepted bribe money while serving as jurors. No time has been set for their trial.

The specific charge against the two men is that they accepted money from William J. Hartnett for their votes in favor of breaking the will of Uriel H. Crocker, who left practically all of his estate, amounting to $800,000, to his widow. The will was contested by the three sons of the testator.

With the exception of Gardner, all the candidates were nominated by the Democrats.

Waltham Has Diphtheria Scare

Waltham, Mass., Oct. 10.—With 64 cases of diphtheria scattered through the town, a meeting of the board of health was held last evening to obtain a grant of $600 from the board of aldermen toward the support of a ward in the hospital for the cases that develop among the children of the poorer classes. Mayor Harvey discredited the existence of an epidemic, but is lending the board his support in obtaining the needed funds.

Thieves Made Off With $1000

Boston, Oct. 10.—Two thieves succeeded in robbing the Washington street ticket office of the Boston and Albany railroad of several stacks of bank notes, amounting to more than $1000. While one of the thieves engaged the attention of the only clerk on duty by calling him up on the telephone, the other walked into the office and carried away the money, which lay on a counter inside of the railing. The thieves escaped.

Jane Toppan Reduced to Skeleton

Taunton, Mass., Oct. 10.—Jane Toppan, the nurse who killed a dozen or more of her patients at various times, now in the Taunton insane hospital, for a year and a half has refused to eat, and nourishment has been administered artificially. She is unable to leave her bed and her weight has been reduced from 210 pounds to 80. The physicians say that the woman may live six months or may die within a short time.

Traffic Temporarily Stopped

Melrose, Mass., Oct. 10.—All lines of electrics in this city were practically tied up by a heavy electrical storm last evening. The downpour carried large amounts of gravel onto the tracks, covering them completely in various places. Lightning also caused much damage, extinguishing all the electric lights in the city, causing a mix-up of signals on the fire alarm, and affecting the telephone service seriously. No one was injured.

Officer and Prisoner In Hospital

Taunton, Mass., Oct. 10.—Richard Marley, who, the police say, had been drinking, attempted to kill Police Officer Grady with a baseball bat on the street because Grady arrested Marley last week. Weavers Object to New Looms

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 10.—Fifty weavers in the E. B. WIPES OUT OLD DEBT

American Board Succeeds In Raising a Million Dollars

North Adams, Mass., Oct. 10.—An announcement that the debt of $1,000,000 which has accumulated during the several years had been entirely wiped out through the generosity of some business men in making up the balance was an unexpected feature at the first session of the annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions held here.

A storm of applause from the 1000 delegates followed the announcement that the debt had been wiped out and after Rev. Henry Hopkins, D. D., had said a prayer of thanksgiving on account of the gift a white-haired man arose in the audience and started the "Doxology," every voice in the audience immediately joining him in singing the words "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." The scene was one of the most dramatic ever witnessed at a meeting of this character.

The New Haven's Acquisition

Hartford, Oct. 10.—It is reported in transportation circles here that the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad has taken over the Hartford and New York Transportation company. The transportation company has two steamers which make trips between Connecticut river points and New York on alternate days, owns six tugs and 22 barges and controls practically all the towing on the Connecticut river. It also has a shipyard here.

Hudson River Tubes Opened

New York, Oct. 10.—The second of the two tubes of the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel under the Hudson river was opened yesterday afternoon when the two ends were brought together under the middle of the river. The interior of the tube was decorated to signalize the finish of the digging. The tubes will not be ready for use for a year, as they must be lined with cement and supported by piles driven into the bed of the river.

Mistook Man For Moose

Gagetown, N. B., Oct. 10.—Stanley Fanjoy was last night found guilty of manslaughter, with strong recommendation for mercy. While moose hunting he shot William Kincaide dead, mistaking him for a moose. The crown believed it an accident, but contended there was negligence and Fanjoy was hunting without a license. Judge Landry sent him to jail from 8 o'clock last night till 2 p. m. today.

Probably Murdered For Money

New York, Oct. 10.—Coroner Pidcock states that a skeleton found 10 days ago on Asbury mountain is that of Frank L. Hopkins, a Newark contractor, who disappeared two months ago. The coroner believes the man was murdered and finds evidence to substantiate the theory that he was burned alive. Hopkins is believed to have had considerable money when he disappeared.

The storm was accompanied by heavy thunder and sharp lightning. Electric wires in several cities and towns in the eastern part of the state were disarranged.

Joke, Jealousy and Double Crime

Brooklyn, W. Va., Oct. 10.—As the result of a joke on his wife Charles Smith, mayor of this town, is believed to be dying and Mrs. Smith is also probably fatally wounded. CLUB NOTES

Ladies' quartet of Boston; contralto solos by Miss Whitcomb of the quartet, and piano solos by Mrs. John F. Hunt. Encores were frequent and appreciative. The Chalet Horn, by the quartet, was finely rendered as was also Mrs. Hunt's playing of one of Chaminade's delightful compositions, responses being given to each. Miss Whitcomb has a very deep voice; a voice that is particularly effective in quartet work. It was a good program and much enjoyed.

Social chat and greetings were exchanged for an hour or more at the close of the musical program. Tea was served by the house committee and officers of the club.

Club members all agreed that it was an auspicious opening and that the hospitality and good cheer which prevailed was but the forerunner of other club afternoons which were to follow during the season.

At the meeting on Oct. 23 Mrs. Seth Ellis Pope, so well known by her pen name, Florence Peltier, is to speak on Literature for Children.

The Civic Betterment committee works quietly but most effectively toward the improvement of our city. Further improvements are contemplated at the Quincy station, which, when completed will make it the most attractive on the line. A pleasant feature of the work is the hearty cooperation of the railroad officials and property owners in the vicinity. All the stations in the city are to receive attention as well as several unsightly spots as soon as the committee has funds enough to enlarge its field of action.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY.

Miss Isabella Whipple of Salem, president of the Massachusets Girls' Friendly society, gave a most interesting talk in the parish room of St. Chrysostom's church, Wollaston, Friday evening, October the fifth. She began by saying that the germ of the whole G. F. S. movement was contained in an idea which flashed through the mind of Mrs. Townsend, the foundress of the society in England.

Having obtained the sympathy of the Archbishop of Canterbury, by invitation Mrs. Townsend and four friends met at Lambeth palace in 1875, decided to organize and chose the name of The Girls' Friendly society. Thus from that seed thought and little group of church workers grew the mighty plant whose runners have taken root in the four quarters of the globe. In Massachusetts there are 6,000, America, 30,000 and in the world 300,000.

Miss Whipple spoke very instructively of objects of the society; to bind together,— mutual help,— sympathy,— purity of life,—thrift, etc., the G. F. S. prayer, the motto "Bear ye one another's burdens," and the three central rules especially emphasizing the third.

She earnestly implored each one to go into it not only to get, but to give. She also told in her charming way of the holiday houses, of the delightful vacations enjoyed by all. There are eleven such houses in the United States, the Massachusetts branch owning two in Milford, N. H.

By a vote of those present it was decided to organize a branch of this society in this parish and Mrs. Arthur Stanley of 18 Standish avenue has been appointed branch secretary.

Three associates have also been appointed. Miss Grace Storrs Hadley, Miss Louise Lummis and Mrs. Herbert L. Packard.

There will be a meeting of the society held in the parish room Friday evening at 7.45 when Mrs. Whittemore whose husband is the rector of All Saints church, Dorchester, will address the society.

CLUB NOTES.

The Dorchester Woman's club opened its fifteenth season Tuesday afternoon having an interesting session. The meeting was in charge of the social entertainment committee and a reception followed the program which consisted of "Echoes from the Biennial," by the president Mrs. Ricker, readings and music.

On Monday night Oct. 15th the Monday club of Weymouth will observe gentlemen's night. It will take the form of a reception and musicale under the direction of Mrs. George W. Baker.

The Milton Woman's club has admitted thirty new members who were made welcome at the opening meeting last week.

With the opening of the club season plans are being talked over for the next meeting of the biennial which is to be held in Boston. It is hoped every club will stand ready to assist the State Federation in making the occasion memorable and also a credit to the good old state of Massachusetts.

The first current events lecture by Mrs. May Alden Ward, under the auspices of the Milton Woman's club will be given on Monday afternoon in the Assembly hall at the High school.

Many well known lecturers have been engaged by the Brockton Woman's club. Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart will give readings from her own books on guest night, Jan. 21, while on President's day, Dec. 3, the club members, together with guests from other clubs in the State, will hear Mrs. Walter Stokes Irons of Providence tell of the "Women of Colonial Days." Other speakers are Mr. Paul Pearson, a lecture-recital on "The Leaven of Life," discussing typical American humor and humorists; Mr. Frederick Bancroft, "Irish Songs and Song Writers;" Miss Arabella Stuart Austin, "The Picturesque and Artistic of Fontainebleu," and others. The programme also includes a dramatic afternoon and a musicale. Six talks of current events will be given alternate Tuesdays by Professor William G. Ward. The committee in charge of the various classes, as household economics, arts and crafts, and music have laid out especially good work. The choral class will continue this year.

The regular meetings of the New England Wheaton Seminary club will be held the second Saturday, of each month from Oct. to Mar. inclusive, at the Vendome, Boston. The meetings begin at 1.30 P. M.; the business of the day being followed by the literary and musical program. Tea is served from 3.30 until 5 o'clock. All graduates, former students and teachers of the Seminary, who are not members of the club, are especially invited to be present at the first meeting of the season, Saturday, Oct. 13th, which will be a "Wheaton Day," with an address by Mrs. Estelle M. H. Merrill, one of the Seminary's most loyal daughters. Members of the more recent classes will find this a favorable opportunity for class reunions. If every member of the club will send this word to some Wheaton friend, whose name is not now on the club list, it will materially aid in extending the invitation.

The Dreadnaught's Performance

Spithead, Eng., Oct. 10.—The battleship Dreadnought anchored here after a full steam trial lasting eight hours in which she reached a speed of 22 1-4 knots, the mean average being 21½. Her horse-power, which is nominally 23,000 went as high as 28,000. These results were achieved in the face of increased load, resulting from preparations for a sea-going trip, which added two feet to her draught.

Floods Destroy Human Lives

Mexico City, Oct. 10.—Recent floods in the southern part of Jalisco and Colima have resulted in great destruction of property and loss of life. The number of fatalities from drowning along the Manzanillo extension of the Mexican Central railway is 123. Thousands of tons of earth and rocks descended in great landslides from the mountains. All the drowned persons were natives.

Municipal Ownership

The Wollaston Unitarian club opened the season auspiciously on Tuesday evening with a large attendance and an exceedingly interesting debate. The new president, Frank E. Parlin, presided, and was greeted with applause when he welcomed the members and guests. "Municpal Ownership" was the subject for debate, and the affirmative was championed by Levi H. Turner of this city, while the negative was taken by Representative Walter A. Webster of Boston. Other guests were Rev. E. D. Webber, pastor of the Baptist church, President Piper of the City Council, and ex-Councilman J. Q. A. Field, while among the members presents were: ex-Senator E. H. Sprague, ex-Mayor C. M. Bryant and Councilmen Chase and Polk.

An excellent hot supper was served by the young men of the church including a tenderloin roast, mashed potato, squash, celery, fruit, cracker and cheese. and coffee.

Mr. Turner, for the affirmative on "Municipal Ownership" said the greatest evil or danger today is lethargy. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Municipal ownership is a small question of many. There is a great difference between National ownership and Municipal ownership. National ownership is not public ownership unless the public own the government. Equal rights to all people are denied when a charter or special right is given to a corporation. Every agency which is in the nature of a monopoly should be assumed by the government. Otherwise children yet unborn will be born in slavery. The Declaration of Independence is not yet fully acknowledged by all people.

Representative Webster for the negative had a mass of statistics at his tongue's end and entered enthusiastically into his subject. At the outset he said one-fifth of the people are employed by corporators and changes should be carefully considered. I am an individualist not Socialist. Inventors have been stirred to success by individualism. The government did not usubly take over property until it had become a sucess, and he cited the railroad of Germany and other government ownerships which caused deterioration.

Freight rates in Germany were also higher than in America, where the railroads have been built up and operated by private ownership. If freight rates in America were reduced one-sixth of a cent per mile the profit would be wiped out. Dividends are not exhorbitant either.

He was not opposed to the municipal ownership of bridges, road, sewers, water, etc., but was opposed to taking business enterprises. Now men by ability and technical knowledge do advance to the top in big enterprises, which would not be the case under government ownership. Even the post-office department could be conducted better and cheaper under private ownership.

In some small places municipal ownership was a success but not in big cities.

Liberty of action has made this country what it is. We are in the forefront. Let us not turn our back on prosperity.

Both gentlemen were given a few minutes in rebuttal, and also to answer questions, which they did intelligently.

How to Make Good Salads

The first of Mrs. Lincoln's demonstration lectures on cookery was given Monday afternoon and was very well attended and highly apprecia ed. There were about eighty ladies present and each one expressed herself as very much pleased with the lecture.

Mrs. Lincoln made mayonnaise dressing, sour cream dressing, sweet cream dressing, and French dressing. At the third lecture of the course on, eggs, fish and meat substitutes, she will make a boiled dressing without oil.

With the mayonnaise dressing she made an apple, celery and nut salad. With the sweet cream dressing she made two fruit salads—one of peaches, shredded almonds and muscatel grapes, and another of pears, apples, preserved ginger and grated lemon peel. The sour cream dressing was put first with cauliflower and cucumbers, and then with tomatoes and cucumbers. The tomatoes were cut so as to look like tulips for individual salads. The French dressing was combined with cauliflower, celery and red peppers. All of these salads were passed around to be tasted and they seemed to be well liked by everybody.

The committee thought it wise to request each one to bring her own spoon and napkin to the following lectures.

Mrs. Lincoln not only showed the best way of making these salads but she gave many valuable hints about the care of cooking utensils, and the principles by which food elements are combined. Everyone thought these suggestions very helpful.

After the lecture there were for sale utensils which Mrs. Lincoln invented, also some of her books, and a sheet of recipes. As the committee get a commission on the sale of all these articles, they are very much gratified to have them sell so well.

The lecture was in every way a great success, but all though one change should be made—the time of beginning should be earlier. Future lectures will begin at 2.30 instead of 3 o'clock.

The largest attendance any month was 313 and the smallest 76, the small number that month being due to a prevalence of whooping cough.

Thanks are extended to all who have helped the association, and the faithful and untiring work of Mrs. Addison, the president is noted.

The report says the chief desire of the association now is, that it may have a permanent home for the nursery, with greater possibilities for good to all children and homes that come under its influence.

McKinley—Darragh Mine.

As an illustration of the enormous values contained in the property of the McKinley-Darragh mine, the following instance may be cited.

No. 3 vein is on the side of a hill. The vein has been worked for several hundred feet up the hill, two men doing the work in the trench. They were directed to cut into the side of the hill in order to make a platform from which to sink a shaft. No attempt was made to take out ore except that which was encountered in the carrying out of the plan above mentioned. These two men worked but one shift per day since August 8th, and mined enough ore to pay the entire expenses of the McKinley-Darragh Mine besides leaving a surplus of over $3,500.00. The Company is employing now between 50 and 60 hands and working night and day shifts in the shafts.

Wollaston Groom Brookline Bride

The wedding of Miss Mary Lizzie Morton of Boston to Herbert Wellington Marshall of Wollaston, at half after seven on Tuesday evening, at 43 Abbotsford road, Brookline, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Mellen True Bird, cousins of the bride, was one of the most charming affairs of the season.

Rev. Edward A. Chase of Wollaston was the officiating clergyman, and the bride was given away by her cousin, Mellen True Bird.

As an orchestra played the Lohengrin wedding march the bridal procession entered the drawing room, preceded by little Eleanor Hill and Roger Bird, very pretty, dainty children, scattering flowers in the pathway, and the ceremony was performed under a canopy of American Beauty roses and asparagus vines.

The bride wore a handsome white messaline gown, en princesse, with point lace bertha. Her sole ornament was the gift of the groom, a diamond and pearl pendant. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins of Wollaston, wore white crepe de chine, with short veil of tulle and carried Mermet roses.

The hostess, Mrs. Bird, was gowned in oyster white rajah silk, with Irish point lace and diamonds, and carried violets.

Mrs. Marshall, mother of the groom, was attired in black taffeta, en princesse and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

The house was beautifully decorated, the hall with white chrysanthemums and ferns, the drawing room with American Beauty roses, asparagus vines and palms, the library with yellow chrysanthemums, palms and asparagus fern, and the dining room with pink carnations.

The best man was Mr. Charles P. Hutchins of Wollaston and the ushers were Messrs. Henry Warren Bird and Henry Ward Bird of Boston.

A largely attended reception followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall left that night on a wedding trip and will be home after Nov. 7, at 299 Highland avenue, Wollaston.

An Appreciation Of Visiting Nurse

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

While so much is being said in acknowledgment of what our City Hospital has stood for to those who have in various ways felt the value of its ministrations, I want to turn the light of appreciation toward one who in her work as nurse at the Hospital and later in her capacity of visiting nurse carried to her daily routine a devotion that not only rendered her work of inestimable value in its technique, but which by its strong personal touch endeared her to all who came within the glow of its loving sympathy.

The knowledge of the trained nurse though ample, was subordinated to the vibrant kindliness of a tender woman, and her patients warmed with the sense that she came to love them out of their pain and trouble.

Though Mrs. Hatch has withdrawn from her place among us, she has left with us a presence that lingers like fragrance in the good deeds that she so quietly but continually set herself to do.

You and I may never know just what word or deed of hers causes the eye of one and another to kindle as her name is mentioned, but we may all rejoice that the committee of the Women's club were so fortunate in their choice of nurse as to have called as the first visiting nurse a woman who has been able to make such a splendid interpretation of the duties of her position.

Mrs. Frank Hutchings of North Grafton, who was Miss Lucy Spear of Quincy, was in town this week for the first time for many years. She called upon her cousin, Charles H. Spear of Franklin street, whom she had not seen for 42 years, and then visited Miss Julia Underwood at the Coddington school. It was 45 years ago that Mrs. Hutchings was a pupil at Miss Underwoods school. During her visit to the school Miss Underwood introduced her to her present pupils as one of her early pupils.

Harvest Festival At Quincy Point

The annual harvest festival of the Quincy Point church on Wednesday evening was the usual success. Nearly 100 assembled at 6.30 for the harvest supper, and there was a bountiful supply of baked beans, and brown bread, cold meats, relishes, Indian pudding, peas, doughnuts, cheese, coffee, etc.

The following persons contributed to fine exhibit of vegetables and fruits. These were tastefully displayed in one section of the vestry, and later in the evening sold to swell the receipts: Mr. Leban of East Braintree, Mr. Queeney of Glenrose farm at East Braintree, Mr. Joseph Spear of East Braintree, Supt. Howe of Sailors' Snug Harbor, (a big display,) Mr. Jerome Breen of Hingham, Mr. Solomon Food of North Weymouth, Mr. Bumford of Hingham, Mr. Joseph Lapham, Mr. William Chubbuck, Mrs. George Maybury, Mr. T. B. Thomas and Thomas Lincoln, Jr., of Quincy Point. The success of this feature was due to Mrs. E. R. Stone, Mrs. Webster Newcomb, Mrs. M. E. Wight and Mrs. Percy Holman.

A pleasing entertainment was presented, including a piano solo by Miss Esther Sidelinger, readings by Mrs. James Melville, and club swinging by Miss Margaret Shirley.

The committee on the festival were: Miss E. M. Freeman, Mrs. H. T. Bonney, Mrs. Ed Blanchard, Mrs. H. D. Adams, Mrs. E. H. Bushnell, Miss Grace Lapham, and Miss Etta Lapham. The festival was a financial as well as social success.

Surprise Party And Presentation

Early Wednesday evening a party of young people met at the new High school and at eight o'clock proceeded toward the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pitts on Hancock street.

Gathering very softly on the piazza, someone rang the door-bell. Mr. Pitts came to the door and when asked if his son Charles was in, disappeared to find him. Five minutes later the young man appeared at the door and with shouts and cheers all piled into the house, before he could recover from the shock. It was quickly noticed that Charles was not aware of their coming as he was in his working attire and rubber-boots.

There were about thirty couple in the party and as soon as they arrived, an orchestra started up, which put them in a cheerful mood. Games were immediately commenced and there were violin solos by William Pratt, and cornet solos by Chester Brown. Miss Crissie Mavers presided at the piano. There were also several vocal solos by members of the party.

In the midst of the gaiety all were hushed as one of the young ladies stepped forward and with a few well chosen words presented Charles with a beautiful signate ring on which his monogram was engraved.

At 10.45 o'clock the doors of the dining-room were thrown open and the happy party gathered into this room which had been decorated in secrecy, with red crepe paper, red candles and autumn foliage. The table was bountiful with all kinds of good things and each one helped themselves as ice cream and sherbet were passed.

Game were again resumed and continued until the early hours of the morning when with reluctance they separated for their homes having had a grand good time.

FAVORABLE TO BROUWER

Expert Testimony at Trial of Doctor For Murder of Wife

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 10.—The principal feature of the testimony at Tuesday's session of the trial of Dr. Frank Brouwer, accused of the murder of his wife by the administration of poison and ground glass, was the testimony of Professor Genth of Philadelphia, the expert chemist who analyzed the contents of digestive organs taken from Mrs. Brouwer's body.

A portion of Genth's testimony was looked upon by the friends of the prisoner as distinctly favorable to him. In testifying about the jars in which the organs were placed he admitted that particles of glass found by him on the outside of the stomach had undoubtedly been broken off the jar in putting on or taking off the cover. He had previously testified to the finding of a number of particles of glass in the intestines, but under cross-examination the fact that in one instance at least pieces of glass found had come from the jar containing the organ was brought out and this admission by the witness was considered of much importance.

Dr. Cattell, who made the autopsy, testified that Mrs. Brouwer's death might have resulted from arsenical poisoning. He said he had failed to find indications that death had resulted from natural causes.

Miss Una Dudley, one of the nurses who attended Mrs. Brouwer during her fatal illness, testified that she had not administered to the sick woman hypodermic injections prepared by Brouwer, but she was not allowed to tell why.

Appeal Touched Governor's Heart

Albany, Oct. 10.—The appeal of a 12-year-old child touched the heart of Governor Higgins and he cut four years from the sentence of John H. O'Rourke, who is serving an eight-year term in Sing Sing prison. O'Rourke will be liberated in December. The letter was written by Jennie O'Rourke, the prisoner's daughter, who resides with her mother in New York city, and recites in a childish way the difficulties which Mrs. O'Rourke has had to bring up her six children. O'Rourke was convicted of burning a stable containing a span of horses owned by him, upon which he carried insurance.

Railroads Profited by Great Error

Springfield, Ills., Oct. 10.—The assertion was made before the railroad commission state board of equalization by representatives of Corporation Counsel Lewis of Chicago that, through errors in methods of assessing railroad property by the state board of equalization, the state of Illinois has lost revenue in the past 30 years which would amount to hundreds of millions of dollars. The theory was that the board had failed to consider debts of the railroads as parts of their capital stock and franchise values.

Death of Actress Ristori

Rome, Oct. 10.—Marchesa Del Grillo, better known as Adelaide Ristori, the celebrated Italian actress, died of pneumonia. Mme. Ristori's parents were comedians, and she was almost literally born on the stage. That was in 1822 She made her debut behind the footlights when she was 3 months old, and continued to appear until she retired in 1885. She carried the later years of her life lightly. Her domestic life was most charming.

Addicks Men Cry "Treachery"

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 10.—The Union Republican state convention was held here last night. J. E. Addicks presided. The new state committee was chosen of which Addicks will be chairman. The platform says: "This convention views with loathing the treachery of J. Frank Allee, now United States senator from this state, towards his creator and benefactor (meaning Addicks). He merits and should receive the contempt of every man in the state, irrespective of party."

MAGOON AND BELL

Cuban Affairs Will Be Placed In Their Hands

FUNSTON COMING HOME

Moderates Say He Deserted Them In War to Throw Off Spanish Yoke--Will Return With Taft and Bacon Next Saturday

Havana, Oct. 11.—General Funston will not continue in command of the American forces in Cuba. Governor Taft announced last night that Funston will return home on Saturday on the battleship Louisiana with Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon. The affairs of Cuba will then be left in the hands of Governor Magoon and General Bell. In explaining this change of plans, Taft said:

"General Funston was summoned on a hurry call from the Pacific coast because he was well acquainted with many of the insurgent chiefs here and it was thought he could aid us, as he did greatly, in bringing the men in arms to an agreement. Funston was put temporarily in command of the troops in Cuba merely as a convenience until Bell should arrive."

Governor Taft's especial confidence in the chief of the general staff's ability to carry out the program the governor has initiated resulted in the decision to continue him in the island. Many Cubans of the faction to which Mendez Capote and others who organized the Moderate party belong were outspoken against Funston, alleging that he had deserted them in the war to throw off the yoke of Spain. Taft did not take cognizance of this bitterness, as he was familiar with the circumstances under which Funston, at that time, returned to the United States. Funston was then ill and he had the consent to return of General Garcia and other leaders, who appreciated the long service he had given their cause.

The party sailing on the Louisiana Saturday will touch at Key West, where Taft desires to stop in connection with a right of way across the military reservation for the railroad which is being constructed across the Florida Keys. Certain senators are anxious that Taft should facilitate this work by disposing of the government's interest and the secretary now sees the importance of the work, which will practically connect the United States and Cuba for a ferry service.

Twenty-five marines have been ordered to proceed to Sancti Spiritus and Trinidad. At the latter place they will settle the friction between ex-rebels and ex-militiamen who have recently been disarmed. The trouble appears to have been caused by Colonel Glynn of the militia, who is also collector of customs. The surrendered arms were stored in the custom house, and Glynn rearmed the militia after the departure of the disarmament commissioners. General Rodriguez, commander of the rural guards, telegraphed Glynn to disarm these men. This was done, but Glynn is reported still to have the guns in his possession and to be disposed to make trouble. If these reports are confirmed Taft will remove Glynn.

Two cases of yellow fever at Cruces, in addition to the recent death from yellow fever there, has decided Taft not to return the marines to the Cruces camp.

Sanitary Expert Called to Havana

Washington, Oct. 11.—At the telegraphic request of Secretary Taft, orders have been issued for Lieutenant Colonel Black, now in charge of river and harbor works in the vicinity of Portland, Me., to proceed at once to Havana. Black is a sanitary expert and it is assumed that he is summoned to Havana to assist the medical authorities in improving the sanitary condition of the city and prevent the introduction and spread of infectious or contagious diseases.

Volunteers Not Disarmed

Canaguani, Cuba, Oct. 11.—The progress of disarmament here is very unsatisfactory. The volunteers have not yet been disarmed and a proclamation issued by the mayor of the town prohibiting the gathering of four or more persons on the streets prevents the rural guards from going ahead with the work of disarming the volunteers.

Few Cases of Yellow Fever

Havana, Oct. 11.—Major Kean of the medical department said last night, concerning fever conditions in Cuba, that there was only one case of yellow fever in Havana, two in Cruces and none elsewhere.

Standard Oil Objections

Findlay, O., Oct. 11.—Much legal argument and little actual progress marked the second day of the trial of the Standard Oil company of Ohio, for conspiracy against trade. Attorneys for the Standard objected to the character of evidence sought to be placed before the jury by the prosecution. In every instance, however, the ruling of Judge Banker favored the prosecution.

Rich Brother and Sister Insane

New York, Oct. 11.—Miss Gabnielle De Nottbeck and her brother, Peter, children of Mrs. Cecilia L. De Nottbeck, who are heirs to property estimated to be worth $2,000,000, were declared insane and incompetent by a sheriff's jury at White Plains. Mrs. De Nottbeck died last August in a sanitarium, where her son and daughter are now patients.

FROLIC'S FREIGHT

Larger Part of Smuggled Chinamen Are at Liberty

EIGHTEEN UNDER ARREST

Capture of Long-Sought Yacht Reveals Gigantic Conspiracy--Canada Is a Way-Station for Mongolians Direct From China

Providence, Oct. 11.—Eighteen Chinamen arrested after the capture by the United States immigration authorities of the schooner yacht Frolic, for which revenue cutters have been searching along the New England coast for the last two weeks, were arraigned last evening before United States Commissioner Cross and were held for examination next Wednesday. Bail was fixed at $1000 in each case.

All the arrested men pleaded not guilty, and declared through an interpreter that they had been in the United States before, but that their certificates of residence had been lost, some in New York city and others in the fire in San Francisco. This declaration contradicted a statement alleged to have been made by John C. Lehneman of Boston, one of the men arrested for complicity in the smuggling operations, that the Chinamen brought by the Frolic from Canada came to that country direct from China.

Edward Junkins of Boston and William A. Duncan of Somerville, Mass., who were arrested as members of the crew of the Frolic, and Lehneman, who was captured on shore, where he is said to have been engaged in an effort to dispose of the smuggled Chinamen, were not arraigned.

Twenty-four of the Chinese passengers of the Frolic are believed to be in hiding in the Chinese quarter of this city, and immigration inspectors have been making a search of the quarter,

A gigantic conspiracy, engineered by an organized gang, among them two Boston men of some prominence, to smuggle Chinamen into the United States, is revealed in the capture of the Frolic. When asked how the smugglers had succeeded in so long evading the officials, Lehneman said: "That's easy. Most places in New England are fixed, and we don't have any trouble.

"Why, a ship went into Boston harbor not very long ago and landed 21 Chinamen," said Lehneman. "The man who had charge of the Boston end of the game met the Chinamen, put them on board a street car and took them across the city to Chinatown."

Painted black and rigged up to resemble a fisherman, the 50-foot vessel, with 42 Chinamen packed aboard which the captain wished to land in this country, ran into the Providence river.

All of the human freight was landed and but for an accidental discovery of 15 of the Chinamen in a party they would have escaped. The police are looking for Captain Colby.

John C. Lehneman of Boston, who was arrested for complicity in the smuggling, and who is said to be a brother of the agent of the Frolic, made this statement:

"I got a notice from my brother to come to Providence and register at the Narragansett hotel as J. C. Lehneman. I was not told what the job was to be or what would be expected of me. But I knew in a general way. I supposed that I was merely to come here and wait till someone came and gave me further instructions.

"I waited here till last Friday without hearing anything and thought I would go back to Boston. I stayed around, however, till Tuesday night, when I was accosted by a man who turned out to be Captain Colby. I had never seen him before, but he recognized me, he said, by my resemblance to my brother.

"Colby and I went to the Frolic and took ashore 12 Chinamen, each of us looking out for six of them. We got them ashore all right and left them in the Chinese quarter on Empire street.

"We returned to the Frolic in the darkness and started ashore again with a second batch of 12 Chinamen. Then things began to look bad. I did not like the way the Chinamen began to act. They seemed terrified.

"Right in the streets they would run up to any man we might meet and actually cling to him, jabbering away as though scared and wanting protection.

"We attracted more and more attention, even though it was dark and were keeping off the main streets. I suddenly made up my mind to get out and I did so. I left Colby and the 12 Chinamen in the street and hustled down the trolley tracks. It was raining then, but I walked as far as Lakewood in the rain. Then I took a trolley to Oakland Beach. By that time I had had a chance to think and had collected myself. I decided to get back to Boston as quickly and quietly as I could. I boarded a car for Providence, but was arrested the minute I landed there."

INSPECTOR TOO LATE

Arrived at Placentia the Day After Frolic Had Sailed

Boston, Oct. 11.—United States immigration authorities say that they received their first information concerning the Frolic about three weeks ago, when they received an anonymous letter saying that the yacht Frolic had gone to Newfoundland to take on board Chinamen who were to be smuggled into the United States through New England ports. The Frolic was located at Placentia and on Sept. 23 an inspector reached Placentia only to find that the Frolic had sailed the day before. Word was promptly sent to the United States and craft of the revenue service were given orders to capture the schooner.

Captain Herbert Colby's home is in South Boston and he is well known among yachtsmen. Mrs. Colby and her eight children live there. Mrs. Colby understood that the Frolic was on a pleasure trip, which, it was thought, would consume several weeks. Colby has been a seafaring man for years. Of late years, however, he has made a business of taking out pleasure excursions.

Edward H. Junkins also is well known among yachtsmen at South Boston. He lived with his parents here and is about 18 years old. It was understood that he had gone with Captain Colby as one of the crew of the Frolic on a long pleasure trip. Albert Ames, also one of the Frolic's crew, was well known among yachtsmen at City Point.

Hughes Talks to Buffalo People

Buffalo, Oct. 11.—Through a blinding snowstorm two large audiences gathered here last night to hear addresses by Charles E. Hughes, the Republican nominee for governor. At both gatherings Hughes repeated portions of his recent speeches. He referred again to his charge that the Hearst newspapers in New York are conducted by incorporated companies and that the advantages of the corporation laws had been called upon to shield his opponent from personal liability.

Decision Against Railway Lines

Baltimore, Oct. 11.—The decision of the state bureau of statistics and information as to the merits of the controversy between the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic, and the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia railway lines and the resigned captains of their steamboats is adverse to the companies and the Pennsylvania railroad, which controls them, and recommends that the governor compel the companies to perform their obligations as common carriers or vacate their charters.

Sensational Murder and Suicide

Cleveland, Oct. 11.—In the presence of 60 pupils in the South Euclid school, Harry Smith, 25 years old, shot and killed Miss Mary Shepard, a teacher, aged 22. Brought to bay behind the barn in the rear of his home in Warrensville, two hours later, Smith shot himself through the head, dying instantly. Four policemen, under cover of eight armed farmers, were about to rush on Smith when he ended his life. Disappointment in love is said to have been the motive of the crime.

Croker Sues London Magazine

Dublin, Oct. 11.—Richard Croker has formally inaugurated the libel suit which will bring to a definite issue the question whether he used his position as chief of Tammany Hall for purposes of financial profit. The suit is against a London magazine which publishes in its current number a scathing article against the growth of so-called "Tammanyism" in England, incidentally detailing in alleged chapters from New York the operations of Tweed and Croker.

Twelve Hundred White House Visitors

Washington, Oct. 11.—President Roosevelt received more than 1200 persons in the East room of the White House. They included delegates to the conventions of Old Time Telegraphers, the Spanish-American War Veterans and the National Wholesale Druggists' association, all of whom are holding their annual gatherings here. Many of the delegates were accompanied by ladies of their families. The president gave each of his callers a cordial shake of the hand.

Does Not Suit Hearst Men

New York, Oct. 11.—The Democracy of New York county last night nominated a judiciary ticket that was seemingly intended to be a compromise between the adherents of old-line Democrats and of candidates favored by the Independence League. The ticket, however, has not proved entirely satisfactory to the followers of Hearst and the league hints that the Tammany ticket may not be endorsed in full.

Plumbing Concerns Indicted

Lima, O., Oct. 11.—Sensational returns were made by the grand jury here in the indictment of 11 plumbing concerns on charges of "conspiracy against trade." The names of the indicted men are withheld, pending service by the sheriff and arrests.

Collectors Out Rivalry Among Wards

The Hospital Week collectors are abroad. Last year, Ward 2 made the largest gain over the previous year, and now we wonder which ward will make the biggest gain over last year. Of course there are many factors that enter into the questions, and the really important thing for the various chairmen and the various collectors is to see that every person in their district has the opportunity to give to Our Hospital. A special effort is being made this year to have the canvass a thorough one, and also to have it completed as nearly in Hospital Week as possible. It is also hoped that everyone will give with especial generosity.

Many copies of the little paper, "Our Hospital," have been issued, and the collectors are to distribute these with the envelopes. It is hoped that everyone will surely see a copy, as there are many interesting facts given therein, as well as a number of letters from those who have been at the Hospital this last year. To read this little paper will certainly give anyone a better idea of the splendid work which Our Hospital is doing.

Here is a complete list of the Hospital Week chairmen and collectors:

A Great Legacy For Quincy People

Editor of the Daily Ledger:

A rich man, on being asked to state the real advantage of the man of large means over those of limited resources, is said to have given this answer, after some thought:

"The only substantial advantage which I can think of is that the man possessed of surplus money may use it to help himself, or members of his family, in case of sickness, in ways not open to the man of restricted resources. He can supply surgical or medical attendence of the highest efficiency, can provide precisely the diet needed, and, if necessary, can secure the advantage of long or short residence in any desired climate."

It will be observed that the rich man did not mention steam yachts or automobiles, or any other of the expensive toys with which wealthy people amuse themselves. He knew them to be absolutely non-essential. But he was correct in expressing the advantage which abundant means gives in the treatment of disease.

It has seemed to me when thinking about our Hospital and its needs, that it stands toward the community much as if each person in that community were to be suddenly enriched; for, although the hospital cannot absolutely duplicate the services which any individual man of wealth might perform for his own kin, it comes very near indeed to accomplishing that result. Hence, it seems to me that the appeal for assistance to this institution should be met by every citizen with as much eagerness as if he were told that a great legacy had been left to him, which he could secure by the payment of but a trifling sum on his own part.

Indeed, the Hospital does not require even this, because it is understood that its services are free to those who are absolutely without means. Nevertheless, it seems logical and fair that those who can spare anything should give it gladly, and to the extent of their power.

When one is strong and well, physicians and hospitals seem to be elements remote from life; but when the day of illness comes, the good physician, with his helpful ministrations, and the hospital, with its welcoming open doors become, each of them, a very present help in time of trouble.

It is good to read the testimony of those who have had personal experience with the institutiou; but surely those others whose good fortune has thus far kept them from a near acquaintance with the hospital should not fail to remember the uncertainty of each day, and be all the more willing to give of their means from the very fact that they have thus far escaped the heavy hand of illness.

Very truly yours,
A. E. Sproul.

NEGROES' RIGHTS

Plan to Have Congress Act Upon the Subject

LYNCHING IN THE SOUTH

Misapprehension as to Causes Declared to Be Prodigious--Expressions of Opinion at the Afro-American Council

New York, Oct. 11.—At the session of the Afro-American council, which is meeting here, a resolution offered by Rev. Dr. H. J. Collis of Boston that the council appoint a committee to wait upon President Roosevelt to urge him to recommend to congress the appointment of a non-partisan committee to investigate the civil and political rights of citizens of the southern states and to report their findings to congress was adopted.

The session last night was devoted to the theme "Lynching and Its Remedy." Earnest and at times impassioned speeches were made. Mrs. Mary C. Terrell of Washington declared that the misapprehension on the subject of lynching in the south is prodigious and that she knew that 80 percent of the negroes who are lynched in that part of the country are not accused of the crime generally supposed to be responsible for the unlawful murders.

John E. Milholland, formerly connected with the New York Tribune, said: "The question is, shall the white man's government in the nation be the failure it is in the south?"

Joseph Smith, editor of the Boston Pilot, said that he was present in the interests of suffering humanity and added: "President Roosevelt has always been ready to come to the aid of sufferers of other countries. It is high time he did something for the citizens of the United States."

Ex-Representative Hanning of Alabama said that before every election in the southern states the negro question was resurrected with a view of killing the negro vote.

J. D. Wetmore, who is credited with having upset the "Jim Crow" laws in Florida, said he had recently been informed by a resident of Birmingham, Ala., that the better class of negroes of that city were ready to leave it at a moment's notice, fearing a repetition of recent outbreaks at Atlanta.

"Such men as Hoke Smith, John T. Greaves, Vardaman and Tillman ought never to be able to obtain any service from a colored man," said O. G. Villard, in an address before the council. He urged the negro to organize, to band together for his defense and to fight for his rights. "The time is ripe for serving notice on the country," he said, "that further efforts in any section of the land to degrade the negro to a servile position to create that impossible thing, a republic with millions of persons taxed but not represented, shall be fought from now on."

As Hoke Smith Would Have It

Lagrange, Ga., Oct. 11.—At the Georgia homecoming exercises here, Governor-elect Smith delivered an address on the race question in the south in which he said that the 14th amendment to the Constitution hinders the most intelligent mode of handling the subject.

"Our national government," Smith said, "has always legislated for the Indians, placing around them restrictions entirely different from those applied to white men. But for the 14th amendment to the Constitution we should follow the same plan in Georgia with reference to the negroes. The white man must accept full responsibility and control of the situation. This is the white man's country and it is the white man's burden. The negro should be encouraged to help. Kindly, but firmly, the large majority of negroes must be supervised and directed by the white man. The fact should be kept in mind that a very large number of negroes are irresponsible and when left in idleness are prone to crime. We must exhaust all legal means to save negroes from idleness."

Smith advised stricter vagrancy laws and arrest of loafing, wandering negroes as probable criminals.

Alleged Embezzler of Half a Million

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—According to a statement which The Public Ledger publishes on the authority of a member of the Wampole company, Henry K. Wampole, the drug manufacturer, whose body was found recently in the East river, New York, robbed his business partners systeamtically. The amount secured by Wampole is estimated at $500,000 and may be found to be considerably more.

Collision of Express Trains

Boston, Oct. 11.—Four passengers were slightly injured by a collision of two express trains at Somerville last evening. An incoming Portland express, while proceeding at a reduced rate of speed, ran into another train from Portland while the latter was at a standstill. The locomotive of the rear train badly damaged the last car of the stationary train.

Troops Beat Off Workmen

Ufa, Russia, Oct. 11.—While the police of this town were arresting an agitator in the Soemaki factory they were surrounded and attacked by a large number of workmen. After a fight the workmen were beaten off. Several guards were killed or wounded and the factory is now occupied by troops.

A $1,000,000 DEFALCATION

Causes Assignment of Bankers, With $3,000,000 Liabilities

New York, Oct. 11.—The assignment of J. M. Ceballos & Co., bankers and merchants, with liabilities between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, is announced in a statement by the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell. The statement declares that the failure was due to the defalcation and absconding of Manuel Silveira of Silveira & Co., Havana, agents of the New York company.

Silveira's defalcation is alleged to amount to about $1,000,000. He sailed from Havana on Oct. 2, ostensibly for New York city, to consult with the members of the Ceballos firm. Counsel for the assignees say that Silveira, instead of coming to New York, left on his own steamer, the Cermelina, for parts unknown, accompanied by his wife and children, and that every effort is being made to locate him.

The members of the firm of J. M. Ceballos & Co. are J. M. Ceballos, John S. Fiske and Anderson C. Wilson. The assignee is W. V. Rowe of the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell of this city. Rowe says that the assets of the firm are of a very substantial character, but from a hasty examination it is manifest that they will require careful husbanding. Accountants are now at work on the books of the company.

J. M. Ceballos & Co. was established about 50 years ago and has large interests in Cuba, chiefly in the development of railroads and sugar plantations. It operates a line of steamers between New York and Spanish ports and has connections in Spain, European centres and Spanish American cities.

Kelly's Case Not Settled

Boston, Oct. 11.—Shaun Kelly, roommate of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., at Harvard, and who, with the latter, is said to have been implicated in an alleged assault upon Patrolman Fraher of the Boston police two weeks ago, was placed on trial on the charge of assault and battery in the municipal court. Kelly testified that he thought the president's son was being attacked in a supposedly unwarranted manner by an unknown man; that he did push the officer, who was in citizens' clothes but did not trip him. Roosevelt corroborated Kelly's version of the affair Judge Wentworth wished to consider the case at greater length and took it under advisement.

Hugo's Defiant Attitude

Atlanta, Oct. 11.—After a bitter and at times sensational debate, the American Bottlers' Protective association by a large majority voted not to print the annual address of President Hugo of Boston, in which he denounced labor unions as at present conducted. The opposition contended that Hugo's views, if allowed to stand with the approval of the association, would result in great loss of business and that the association had no part in labor disputes. Hugo hotly denounced the delegates for their action and said he would have the address printed and circulated at his own expense.

Tammany Loses Old Supporter

New York, Oct. 11.—John B. McDonald, the contractor who built the subway in New York, and who for nearly 40 years has been a member of the general committee of Tammany Hall, has sent a check for $1000 to the Republican state committee for Republican campaign expenses and announcing his determination to support Charles T. Hughes for governor. McDonald has resigned his membership in the Tammany general committee.

Newfoundland Still Agitated

St. Johns, Oct. 11.—Popular agitation continues against the modus vivendi giving American fishermen privileges denied by the Newfoundland laws, the press denouncing what it terms the government's betrayal of the colony's interests. Archbishop Howley urges the immediate calling of meetings throughout the colony to protest against the measure.

Will Be Wonderful Ships

London, Oct. 11.—The Daily Telegraph says that three armored cruisers now under construction, about which much secrecy has been maintained by the admiralty, are in reality battleships of as heavy broadside fire as the Dreadnought, but very much faster. These vessels will, in fact, be the most wonderful ships ever built for any navy.

Cossacks Sold Arms to Rebels

Warsaw, Oct. 11.—The police in the suburb of Praga have discovered an arsenal from which the Cossacks had been selling government arms to the revolutionists.

Fort Hill Exchange.

A new telephone exchange was opened in the business heart of Boston early Friday, Oct. 12. It will be known as "Fort Hill" and has been made necessary by the extraordinary telephone growth of the city, which has filled to its full capacity the "Main" exchange that, less than five years ago, was expected to take care of the traffic of its district for many years to come.

"Fort Hill" will draw its business from exactly the same territory as "Main" and is practically an extension of the present exchange. For operating purposes, however, it must, obviously, have a distinctive name. The present huge switchboard in the Milk Street office, which is one of the largest pieces of apparatus of its type in use in this country, is as big as it can be made for giving efficient service.

For the time being, the switchboard of the new central will be located in the same building on Milk street, while the new building and the plant connected with it are being finished. When the time of removal comes it will be necessary, of course, for both plants to be in perfect working order so that the service may be transferred from one to the other without interruption.

Recovered with Interest.

A Boston paper reports that Matti Rintamaki, a quarryman of Quincy, was awarded a verdict of $536 against the Cunard Steamship Company by a jury in the third session of the Suffolk Superior court on Wednesday before Judge Bishop, it is said, for $450 with interest, which he left at its office on April 13, 1903, to be forwarded to his relative, Elias Sinkonen, in Finland. The plaintiff personally gave the money to one Carl Blomquist, who was employed in the office of the steamship company, and Blomquist gave him a receipt for it with his own name subscribed to it and the stamp of the company impressed upon it. Blomquist left the company's employ a few months later. Afterward the plaintiff learned the money had not been sent. The company had not received it for forwarding, and denied responsibility, claiming Blomquist had no authority to act for it in the matter as he did.

Enlargement Needed.

When it is remembered that since the Hospital was established 16 years ago, there have been practically no additions it is not surprising that it is now much too small to meet the demands upon it.

Continually patients are having to be refused admission, and even those that are admitted often have to wait.

A striking illustration of this condition was furnished only a few days ago, when in a single week of six applications for the women's ward, it was possible to admit only one, and even that one had to wait several days before a bed could be provided.

Field Day of Fire Department

All arrangements for the review and parade of the fire department on Saturday have been completed, and if the day proves pleasant there will be something doing in City square.

Chief Litchfield will pull Box 26 at 2 o'clock. This will be a signal for all of the apparatus to start for City square. Immediately on its arrival it will form on Washington street and proceed via Washington, Foster, Chestnut and Hancock streets to City square, where they will pass in review of the Mayor and City Council.

Blue ribbons will be awarded to the best one, two and three-horse-hitch during the parade.

The Hook and Ladder trucks of the Central and Wollaston stations will then raise 45-foot ladders to see which can do it in the best time. The West Quincy truck will then raise a 60-foot ladder against time.

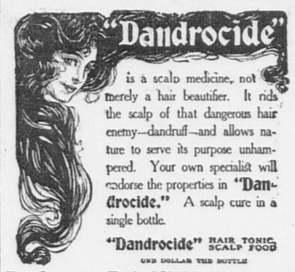

The several Hose Companies will then lay lines of hose, to see which can make the quickest time in getting water. There may be also some other stunts.

Golf Championship.

Miss Mary B. Adams of the Wollaston Golf club is one of the eight left in the tournament for the women's golf championship of country. On Wednesday she defeated Mrs. S. F. Lefferts of Englewood, N. J., 4 up and 3 to play. Wednesday also saw the defeat of such stars as Miss Pauline Mackay, the present champion, Miss Georgiana Bishop, the winner in 1904, and Miss Frances Osgood, the eastern champion. Today Miss Adams meets Miss Frances C. Griscom of Philadelphia.

Larger Profit.

The annual report of the American Shipbuilding Co. of New York for the year ending showed gross earnings of $2,443,217 against $1,549,450 in 1905, and $1,028,175 in 1904. The net earnings of $2,021,932 were also much larger.

Banquet of Benevolent Society

The annual banquet of the Social and Benevolent society of the Baptist church, Wollaston, was given in their chapel on Thursday and was a most enjoyable affair.

The decorations were autumn foliage and beautiful dahlias in unique holders on the tables:

The guests at the banquet were: Mr. Herbert B. Bailey of Wollaston, toast master; Mr. F. F. McLeod of Boston, speaker; Mrs. H. E. Harding of Wollaston, soloist; Mrs. E. E. Glomsted of Wollaston, accompanist.

The reports of the different committees were read and approved.

The names of the officers who were elected at the regular meeting in the afternoon were:

Vice President,—Mrs. Amos D. Albee.
Secretary,—Mrs. James P. Perry.
Treasurer,—Mrs. Frank Burgess.

The speaker, Mr. McLeod of Boston, well known on account of his connection with Tremont Temple and the "Fresh Air Fund," spoke very interestingly on "Victor Hugo and his pictures of French life." The Wollaston orchestra rendered several selections.

Quarrymen Strike.

Fifty quarrymen employed at the Bay View plant of the Rockport granite company at Gloucester struck Thursday because the company employed non-union men. The stone cutters and the paving cutters remained at work, while the quarrymen's places are being partially filled by the foremen. It is not expected that the strike will be of a serious character.

Thursday the sixteenth semi-annual Convention of the Norfolk County Association of the King's Daughters and Sons was held in the Y. M. C. A. building, Hyde Park. Many Wollaston people attended.

Eliot Memorial At Blue Hill

The coping for the Charles Eliot memorial bridge to be dedicated tomorrow at 2.30 is of Quincy granite.

The memorial is on the crest of Great Blue Hill, a few rods northeast of the observatory, near the main footpath from Canton avenue.

Around the brow of the hill has been built a footpath, some half mile in length, and where it crosses a small ravine the memorial bridge has been built. It is about 60 ft. long and of natural rock.

At one end of the bridge commanding a view of one of the prettiest parts of the reservation, is placed a big stone seat, which will provide a resting place for some half dozen people at a time. The back of the seat is the place chosen for a tablet, telling the purpose of the memorial.

The memorial is the work of friends of Mr. Eliot. The first formal action was taken by the Appalachian club, which voted to start the movement, which was later placed in the hands of the memorial committee.

The speakers at the dedication will be Charles S. Rackerman, Chairman de las Casas of the Metropolitan Park Commission, Henry W. Cunningham, and possibly others.

Sudden Deaths.

There have been three sudden deaths in Quincy during the past two days; all due to heart trouble.

Gastamo Seolamiero, who was found dead in the cellar of his house at 59 Trafford street; Major Jabez P. Dill, who died at his home at 294 Fayette street, Wollaston; and John H. Newcomb, who dropped dead at the Adams house.

Dropped Dead.

John H. Newcomb a long resident of Quincy dropped dead Thursday evening at the Adams house on Washington street, Quincy, where he had been living.

He was in his room at the time seated on the edge of the bed talking to some of the other boarders. Suddenly he toppled over and fell to the floor dead.

One of the men rushed out and notified Officer Goodhue who summoned Dr. Garey. The doctor was soon at the man's side but he was beyond medical skill. The medical examiner was then notified. Heart trouble was the cause of his death.

Mr. Newcomb was a carpenter by trade and for years has lived alone at 27 Quincy avenue. Of late, however, he has been living at the Adams house. He was about 45 years of age and unmarried.

Elmer E. Newcomb.

Elmer E. Newcomb of Elm place who has been employed at Packards foundry died Thursday morning at the City Hospital where he had been for some weeks. He was 45 years of age and while of a quiet unassuming nature had a host of friends.

MILTON.

The alarm from Box 172 at 7.52 Wednesday morning was for a fire in an oil stove in a Mattapan barber shop.

A largely attended whist party was held by the Thursday evening club this week. The club has reelected its old board of officers for another year.

Richard McKay, Jr., who graduated from Tech last June, has accepted a position as civil engineer in a Pennsylvania city.

Letter carrier L. W. Minot of the East Milton office has been transferred to the Dorchester station, and carrier Fred M. Richardson of the latter station comes to East Milton.

Charles H. Bearse for several years connected with the Ellsworth market has started a butcher wagon route.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Babcock and Miss M. A. Babcock go to New Orleans the first of the month to visit Paul Babcock.

Rev. Theodore I. Reese of the Mission of Our Saviour church will take for his subject at the Sunday evening meeting "What Confirmation Means."

The ladies of the Baptist and Congregational churches are planning for several church gatherings during the coming winter months.

The pastor of the Memorial Congregational church is giving a series of discourses Sunday evenings on the Life of Paul. The next in the series will be given Oct. 21. Subject "Misdirected power." All are invited.

Wollaston Woman Sued

Suit has been brought by Mrs. Lizzie C. Winslow of Brockton, through her attorney, H. C. Thorndike, against Mrs. Helen F. E. Cox of Wollaston corner Davis and Mason streets, a cousin of the plaintiff. The suit is one more step in the sensational case involving the custody and guardianship of the late mother and aunt respectively of Mrs. Winslow, Caroline W. Estabrook and Harriet Wilde Butters, whose deaths occurred a short time ago. It is alleged that certain moneys, amounting to something like $7000 belonging to Mrs. Butters, was taken by Mrs. Cox, and no accounting has been made by her, and suit is now brought by Mrs. Winslow, who was appointed guardian of Mrs. Butters to recover that amount.

The citation was served on Oct. 5, by George H. Field of Quincy, and is returnable on Oct. 22, when it is likely that the court will appoint a day for a hearing.—Brockton Enterprise.

Falutano Discharged.

Domenico Falutano the Italian arrested early on the morning, of Oct. 1 for assaulting Natal Satori with a dangerous weapon was discharged by the court this morning, as the principal witness had skipped and there was not sufficient evidence to hold Falutano for the higher court.

The row is said to have started because Falutano objected to the noise made by the other boarders in the house. Words followed and it is alleged Falutano cut Satori in the abdomen with a razor.

The injured man's wounds were dressed by Dr. Hallowell and the case continued by the court until such time as the injured man could appear in court. In the meantime he skipped and on Friday morning, when the case was called, he could not be found.

Two Inquests.

Judge Avery of the District court at Quincy has filed his report at Dedham on the inquest held on the deaths of Grover Merrill, a brakeman at Braintree; and David Work, killed by a train near the Quincy Adams station. He finds no one responsible for causing deaths.

"SPEAK UP, MR MORAN"

Mystery Concerning Reported Intention to Withdraw

Boston, Oct. 11.—The Post, in an editorial under the caption "Speak Up, Mr. Moran," says:

"In the interest of the Democratic party of Massachusetts, we demand that District Attorney John B. Moran shall without further delay either confirm or deny the repeated reports that he purposes to withdraw as candidate for governor from the Democratic state ticket.

"These reports are not mere campaign rumors. They do not originate with his opponents. They are based on his own insistent and definite statements to his closest political friends.

"Mr. Moran has no right to jeopardize the interests and demoralize the campaign of the Democracy of Massachusetts by allowing the present uncertainty to continue. The Democrats of this state surely are entitled to know at once whether or not they have a candidate for governor."

All day long yesterday efforts were made to get Moran to announce his position positively and definitely on the governorship, but they absolutely failed. The situation for the day ended with the Moran leaders being absolutely at sea.

Labor Men After Congressmen

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 11.—Resolutions condemning the action of nine Massachusetts congressmen in relation to child labor and the eight-hour bill were adopted at the convention of the Massachusetts branch of the American Federation of Labor. The convention also adopted resolutions against State Senator Lane of Boston, and voted to instruct the executive council to enter upon a campaign against Lieutenant Governor Draper's candidacy for re-election and against State Senator Hilton of Lowell because of their attitude on questions affecting labor interests. Edward Cohen of Lynn was elected president.

Celebration of a Great Event

Williamstown, Mass., Oct. 11.—Exercises in celebration of the centennial anniversary of the foreign mission movement in this country were held in Williamstown under the auspices of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. The occasion was known officially as "Haystack Centennial day," because of the fact that 100 years ago the foreign mission movement was started by a few Williams college students who had gathered for a prayer service beside a haystack in an open field. A memorial monument now stands in this field.

Mrs Andrade May Recover

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Mary Andrade, who was shot by an unknown man early yesterday, while they were conversing together on Hawthorn street in the outskirts of the city, is reported as comfortable at the hospital. It is believed she has a fair chance of recovery. Her assailant has not yet been captured, and the details of the assault have not yet been learned from the woman.

Wants Share of Uncle's Estate

Boston, Oct. 11.—Herbert A. Dunn of Thurlock, Cal., has instituted proceedings to break the will of Edward H. Dunn, president of the coporation of Boston university and a leading layman of the Methodist church in this state. The contestant, who is a nephew of the testator, was left a legacy of $100 in the will. Dunn had a large estate, and in his will $260,000 was bequeathed to public institutions.

Britain Tried to Satisfy Colony

London, Oct. 9.—Following the lead of the Newfoundland newspapers whose opinions on the modus vivendi have been cabled here, some of the papers here denounce the agreement as a "one-sided bargain" between the United States and Great Britain. The latter, however, it is pointed out here, made every effort to secure the colony's consent to an equitable arrangement. Great Britain was ready a fortnight ago to conclude the agreement as signed, believing it to be the fairest, but waited until the last moment for Newfoundland to accept the settlement, which was considered necessary in order to prevent trouble on the fishing grounds.

When Newfoundland objected to purse seining the United States proposed as an alternative to allow American boats to take on crews within the three-mile limit, but again Newfoundland objected, and Great Britain, finding it impossible to satisfy the demands of Newfoundland, agreed to the modus vivendi as now signed.

Ministry May Offer Resignations

St. Johns, Oct. 9.—It is reported that the ministry intends to resign as a protest against the temporary arrangement of Great Britain and the United States by the provisions of which American herring fishermen secure privileges contrary to the laws of Newfoundland. Both the ministers and assemblymen are bitterly discussing the most effective method of expressing the sentiment of hostility toward the agreement. It is declared here that the imperial government championed the colony's cause throughout the correspondence leading up to the modus vivendi, but abandoned its position when it came to giving practical effect to the colony's contentions.

Hughes Under No Obligations

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Music hall was filled last night and hundreds were turned away from the meeting and reception to Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate for governor. He declared that he was without any obligation to any man, without any political debt to pay, without anyone having a right to demand that he shall consult his wishes on his advantage, or any interest other than the interests of the people.

Captain Comley Blameless

Washington, Oct. 9.—Acting Secretary Newberry of the navy department has approved the findings of acquittal in the court martial in the case of Captain Comley, who was recently tried on charges growing out of the collision between the Alabama and Illinois on July 21. Comley was in command of the Alabama at the time.

Airbrakes Failed to Work

Bristol, Pa., Oct. 9.—The Bucks county coroner's jury, in the case of the railroad accident near Eddington in which three persons were killed and 40 hurt, rendered a verdict exonerating the crews of the two trains involved in the collision. The accident was due to airbrakes failing to work on one of the trains.

SHOT IN THE FACE

Farmer's Wife Meets With Almost Instant Death

LOOKED OUT A WINDOW

Was Met With Charge of Shot—Officials Seeking Brother-In-Law, Who Had Been Inmate of an Insane Asylum

Winchendon, Mass., Oct. 12.—While preparing supper last night for a party of friends who were visiting her, Mrs. Ira E. Wood, wife of a farmer living at Winchendon Center, was shot in the head by an unknown person who fired a charge of shot from outside through a window. Mrs. Wood lived but 10 minutes after the shot was fired. She had gone to the window to look out because some of her visitors had told her that they had heard a strange noise outside. As she reached the window and looked out a charge of shot struck her in the face.

As soon as possible Deputy Sheriff Callahan and Medical Examiner Sawyer were notified, and a posse of citizens was made up under the direction of Callahan to search for the murderer. Excitement in the village ran high and there were threats of lynching. The deputy sheriff went to the home of Harry Wood, a brother of Ira Wood, who occupies a farmhouse a short distance away from the scene of the shooting, but the man was not at home, and the efforts of Callahan and his assistants to locate him were not successful.

According to Callahan, Harry Wood hired a shotgun a short time ago from H. H. Hammond, who keeps a hardware store and lets firearms. Among his neighbors Harry Wood has been regarded as somewhat lacking mentally, and since the death of his father, who lived with him, not many months ago, it is said that he has been at times under the influence of liquor.

At the moment of the tragedy Ira Wood, the husband, was in his barn assisting in unharnessing a horse belonging to E. E. Hayden of Athol, a peddlar for a Springfield firm, who intended to stay at the Wood farmhouse for the night. On hearing the shot, Wood and Hayden rushed into the house and found Mrs. Wood lying on the floor of the dining room with the lower part of her face shot away.

One of Mrs. Wood's guests was Mrs. Clara Hobbs of Worcester, and Mrs. Hobbs was standing within a few feet of Mrs. Wood and close by the window when the shot was fired. She said that Mrs. Wood, attracted by a sound outside, stepped to the window, but had no time to see who was there when the shot was fired.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wood have been prominent socially and have been active in the affairs of the Baptist church. They had been married about eight years and have a daughter, Esther, aged 6. Mrs. Wood was about 35 years of age. She came to this town from Detroit.

Harry Wood had been an inmate of an insane asylum. The officers last night searched the dense woods in the vicinity of Harry Wood's home, believing that the man was hiding there. The search was discontinued about 10 o'clock and was resumed at daylight today.

Findings In Lansingburgh Disaster

Albany, Oct. 12.—The double tracking of the Troy branch of the Boston and Maine railroad and the installation of a first-class automatic block signal system are the recommendations which the railroad commissioners made as a result of their investigation of the collision on that line at Lansingburgh in which six passengers lost their lives and over a score were injured. The commission says that the conductors and enginemen of both trains contributed to the cause of the accident by not complying fully with the orders they had received.

Cold Snap Will Soon Pass

Washington, Oct. 12.—A cold wave swept over the east and south yesterday and broke all records for this season in many sections, but the weather bureau announces that while the temperature will rise "only slightly" today, there will be warmer weather Saturday, and by Sunday seasonal temperature will again prevail east and south. In many sections the severe cold snap was accompanied by snowfall.

Germany Flirting With Morocco

Tangier, Oct. 12.—Dr. Rosen, the German minister to Morocco, was given a private audience of the sultan at Fez and presented the sultan numerous gifts from Emperor William. The German mission was dressed in full uniform and Moorish troops lined the route from Rosen's residence to the palace. This unusual spectacle excited great curiosity among the population.

Possible Trace of Clerk White

Detroit, Oct. 12.—The Detroit police have been asked to search for John D. White, city clerk of Chicopee, Mass., who disappeared from his home Aug. 25 and has not been heard from since. White has a cousin in this city and she has notified the police that she has an intuition that White is in this city.

BACK TO ASYLUM

Tucker Tells How He Escaped and Why He Surrendered

Middletown, Conn., Oct. 12.—William H. Tucker, the Hartford wife murderer, who escaped Wednesday from the asylum for the insane at Middletown and who yesterday surrendered himself in New York city, was brought back here last night, arriving shortly before midnight. He was accompanied by Dr. Thomas of the hospital staff and was shackled to one of the asylum attendants.

Tucker said he had escaped through the use of keys which he had fashioned out of scrap metal. He walked to New Haven and there boarded a freight train, riding in a box car to New York. He said he was cold and hungry when he reached New York and gave himself up because he preferred warmth and food to liberty.

New Vessel May Be Wrecked

Rockland, Me., Oct. 12.—In a heavy northwest gale last night the new four-masted schooner Helen B. Crosby struck on Drunkard ledge, at the mouth of the Penobscot river, and will probably be a total loss. Captain Wallace and Mate Lang remained on board the vessel last night, but sent the members of the crew and the wife of the captain ashore. Wallace and Lang expect to be able to escape from the schooner in a small dory, should the condition of the vessel make it necessary. The schooner was launched last January.

Alleged Poisoner on Trial

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 12.—Roy Mullen, a young nurse, is on trial on a charge of murdering Fred Batchelder of Barre by administering arsenic. Mullen has been in the state insane asylum at Waterbury for observation as to his mental condition. Mullen pleaded not guilty to the indictment. The state claims that Batchelder died as the result of eating chocolate creams and sandwiches containing arsenic, said to have been given to him by Mullen. No motive has yet been advanced.

A "Spotless Town" Amendment

Boston, Oct. 12.—The protest of a Boston business man that he was forced by the police to discontinue feeding pigeons in the street under penalty of arrest, expressed to George T. Angell, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has resulted in Mayor Fitzgerald announcing an intention of asking the city council to amend the ordinance constituting the basis of Police Commissioner O'Meara's "spotless town" ruling.

Wreck of Freight Cars

Chester, Mass., Oct. 12.—Twelve freight cars were wrecked by a rear-end collision of two extra freight trains east-bound near Chester station last night. The leading freight had stopped to cool a hotbox on one of the trucks. The other train, in descending the long grade of Washington mountain, got beyond the control of the engineer through the failure of the air brakes to work properly, and crashed into the rear of the stationary train. No one was severely hurt.

Held Up by Gale

Ellsworth, Me., Oct. 12.—Albion and James Weed of this city, for whom parties have been searching in the belief that the young men met with disaster in their gasolene launch in the waters of Bluehill bay during the gale of last Tuesday, returned home last night. They had a trying experience during the gale, but managed to make Oak point and beach their launch. They remained there until the heavy seas in the bay went down.

Found Dead In Blast Furnace

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 12.—The body of Timothy O'Brien, aged 50, a furnace tender, was discovered partly roasted and with the clothing burned off in the cupola of a blast furnace at the works of the Hamblet Machine company. It is supposed that O'Brien, who was at work about the furnace, entered the top of it to place some clay about the interior and was overcome by gas.

Dreaded Lingering Death

Southbridge, Mass., Oct. 12.—Fearing an agonizing death by cancer, Merrick C. Brackett, aged 68, committed suicide. Brackett complained of illness during the night and while members of his household were busy preparing remedies he placed the muzzle of a 22-calibre rifle in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his foot. Death was instantaneous.

Biddeford, Me., Oct. 12.—In attempting to pull the stranded schooner William Booth off a mudbar in the Saco river, tug Joseph Baker struck a rock and sank. Baby Set Sister Afire

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 12.—While Mrs. Thomas Simpson of Oak Bridge was absent from home her 5-year-old daughter, Helen, was fatally burned by the child's brother, aged 3. The little fellow found a bunch of matches and accidentally ignited his sister's dress. The little girl died from her injuries. The other child was unharmed.

Schooner Lost, Captain Drowned

New London, Conn., Oct. 12.—During a heavy southeast gale schooner Ella Powell capsized and sank in The Race, and now lies in about 70 feet of water with only her topmast visible above the surface. Captain Clark was drowned, but the only other man aboard, Nelson Mack, was rescued by Captain Hunt in a wrecking tug.

A CHILD WITH CRAMPS

should have immediate attention, as cramps are positive proof that there is some foreign substance in the stomach or bowels that nature cannot get rid of unassisted, and in most cases the trouble proves to be worms. Worms are the cause, either directly or indirectly, of the majority of childhood ills, and in a great many cases adults are also sufferers.

DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR

the only safe, sure, entirely vegetable worm remedy ever compounded, has been working wonderful cures for over half a century, and stands without a peer in in all complaints of the stomach, liver or bowels—especially constipation and worms. The familiar symptoms of worms are disturbed health, deranged stomach, furred tongue, variable appetite and bowels, increased thirst, itching of the nostrils, bed-wetting, wind colic, irritability, restlessness, grinding of teeth, slow fever and often in children, convulsions.

When any of these symptoms are noticed, do not delay, but give Dr. True's Elixir at once and restore the patient to perfect, robust health. A few drops of the Elixir taken occasionally will guard against worms, and if present will expel them.

Sold by all dealers, 35c, 50c, $1.00. Write for free booklet, "Children and Their Diseases."

BELONGS TO CUBA

Status of Isle of Pines Cannot Be Interfered With Now

UNDER A CUBAN MAYOR

American Residents Are Taking Steps Toward Making the Isle American Territory--Our Warships Leaving Cuban Waters

Havana, Oct. 12.—The provisional government will have nothing to do with the question of the sovereignty of the Isle of Pines or with the separation of the government of the island from the rest of the Cuban republic. The executive authority of the United States already has declared that the Isle of Pines belongs to Cuba and has embodied that affirmation in a treaty conceding the sovereignty of the island to Cuba, and this treaty is now pending ratification in the American senate.

The entire matter being one for the adjudication of the state department, the provisional government, which is wholly under the war department, will not mix therein. The mode of government of the Isle of Pines as part of the Cuban republic may be altered or amended, but the desire of the Isle of Pines Americans for territorial or municipal government as part of the United States cannot be conceded by any act on the part of the provisional government of Cuba or the war department.

The president of the American Association of the Isle of Pines has not yet interviewed Governor Taft on this matter, but the most that is likely to be gained will be the placing of an American military officer as temporary governor of the Isle of Pines in lieu of the present Cuban mayor, whose relations with the American residents have not been pleasant. The American residents of the Isle of Pines have adopted a resolution exonerating Secretary of State Root and General Wood from all blame in connection with the turning over of the isle to Cuba, and they feel that this step ought to open the way to negotiations for making the isle American territory. They consider the present condition of affairs opportune for securing a settlement of the matter, which, they believe, may hang fire indefinitely in the American senate.

Governor Taft has decided that the pay of Cuban senators and congressmen be stopped from Oct. 1, when the Palma government ceased. He will decree the congress to be in recess until the question of its status is settled.

The battleship Louisiana will leave here Saturday afternoon for Norfolk via Key West with Governor Taft and his party on board. The Louisiana will be accompanied by the battleship Virginia, with General Funston on board. The battleship New Jersey and the cruiser Minneapolis will sail for the north today, followed shortly by the cruiser Newark. The cruiser Brooklyn and the battleship Texas will remain here. With the arrival in Cuba of additional army forces, the marines now here will be gradually withdrawn.

American Intervention Praised

Havana, Oct. 12.—An immense crowd of Liberals, mostly negroes, met returning ex-rebels at the terminus of the Western railroad last evening and escorted them across the city to Liberal headquarters, where there was a general jollification. Various addresses were made expressing satisfaction at the results of the revolution and lauding American intervention. Jose Castellanos said that the American commissioners must leave Cuba carrying no doubt of Cuba's affection for the nation and people who twice had freed the Cubans from the yoke of tyranny.

Need of National Defense

Washington, Oct. 12.—The Spanish war veterans attended a banquet here last night. The principal speaker was Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte. "Give us three months," he said, "in which to prepare and we need have no fear of the enmity of any power or any combination of powers. Given six months and there will be no danger at all. But we must have an army and a navy and a national defense which would enable us to ward off an enemy."

Railway Men May Strike

Pittsburg, Oct. 12.—By a referendum vote, the employes of the Pittsburg Railways company have decided to strike unless the company agrees to their demand for the reinstatement of Conductor Murray. No question of wages or hours is involved. The men claim that Murray was discharged because he was absent from duty for 20 days on account of sickness.

Declared For Tariff Revision

AMES SURRENDERS

Served as a Member of the Crew of the Smuggler Frolic

Boston, Oct. 12.—The chief development of yesterday in the Chinese smuggling case was the surrender of Alfred Ames, the South Boston boy, who shipped some weeks ago on the Frolic to go, as he supposed, according to his story, on a mineralogical expedition and pleasure trip.

Young Ames, like his colleagues, Duncan and Junkins, was most anxious to free himself of all responsibility in the wrongdoings of the smuggler gang by making a clean breast of everything that had taken place, and telling in detail his experiences at the hands of the fugitive skipper, Colby, and others.

The boy gave himself up twice, first going to police headquarters and then to the federal building, where he was brought before Commissioner Hayes and sent to jail. Ames declared that he did not know it was illegal to "smuggle" Chinamen into the United States.

A close lookout is being maintained for Captain Colby of the Frolic, and for John C. Lehnemann, who alone of the active workers in the scheme remain at large. Developments are expected today.

Man Hunt Checked by Fog

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 12.—One of the greatest man hunts ever inaugurated in the history of the state of Massachusetts was called off at 11 o'clock last night by Captain Jones of the New Bedford police, when he received reports that Louis Darte, the supposed assailant of Mrs. Mary Andrada, shot on the golf links, was practically at bay in the dense woods near Fall River. More than 200 men had been employed in the hunt, which was called off for the night because of the dense fog which set in over the bay, making it impracticable to continue the chase.

Brouwer Talked of Divorce

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 12.—That there had been quarrels between Dr. Frank Brouwer and his wife and that Brouwer had said that he intended to sue for a divorce, was the testimony given by Miss Elizabeth Hyde, sister of the woman for whose alleged murder the doctor is now on trial. Miss Hyer said that her brother-in-law had told her four years ago that incompatability of temper made it impossible for him and his wife to live happily together and that he proposed to seek a divorce.

Oil Trade Revelations

Findlay, O., Oct. 12.—Evidence was brought out by the state in the trial of the Standard Oil company of Ohio for conspiracy against trade, showing the ownership of the Manhattan Oil company of Ohio to be in the General Industrial Development company, limited, of London. Also that the Manhattan, which buys and pipes crude oils, does not compete with the Standard, but does compete with independent companies.

Strike Settlement Looked For

Washington, Oct. 12.—There will be a conference between President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists and the officials of the Southern railway regarding the strike of nearly 1000 machinists of the system for more wages and O'Connell expresses his belief that all the differences between the railroad and the striking machinists will be satisfactorily adjusted.

Not Too Old to Kiss

Towson, Md., Oct. 12.—Denying her allegation that he was "too old for kissing and hugging," Rev. Edward B. Waltz, a Baptist preacher, 68 years of age, being sued for $25,000 for breach of promise, at the trial was overcome and court had to be adjourned for the day. He told the court that "a designing mother" was the cause of his troubles.

Bread Supplied by Military

Budapest, Oct. 12.—The journeymen bakers of Budapest voted in favor of a strike and immediately after 2000 of them announced their intention of quitting work. Tulsa, I. T., Oct. 12.—Charles E. King, a real estate dealer, threatened to kill Congressman Scoggy of Xenia, O., in the latter's winter home in this city, but was prevented by neighbors, who took the gun from him. A feud of long standing existed between the men, dating from political trouble in Ohio years ago.

Tired of Husband at Fifteen

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 12.—No younger wife ever made application for a divorce in the Luzerne county courts than Mrs. Mary Pisane, aged 15, who was married a year ago, and who requests a divorce. She declares her husband, who is 24 years old, treats her in a shameful manner.

Four Fishermen Drowned

BOUND FOR VENEZUELA

Detectives' Opinion as to Destination of Absconder Silveira

New York, Oct. 12.—Cablegrams to all ports in the world have been sent out asking the authorities to keep watch for Manuel Silveira, the Havana banker, who is accused of having absconded with more than $1,000,000, thereby causing the assignment in this city of the banking and commission house of Juan M. Ceballos & Co., which failed on Wednesday last with liabilities of between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

It is announced here that Silveira is not on board the steamer Carmelina, in which he and his family sailed from Havana. It was said that the present whereabouts of the Carmelina are known and that the destination of the other steamer, to which it is said Silveira and his family were transferred two days out from Havana, has been ascertained.

William V. Rowe, receiver of the wrecked firm, says that every effort is being made to apprehend Silveira, who, he says, was a close personal friend of President Castro of Venezuela and had important financial relations with the head of that South American republic. Detectives have been employed to run down Silveira, Rowe says, and their opinion is that the Cuban banker will strain every nerve to reach Venezuela.

It is understood that detectives have already sailed from New York to Havana, from which city they will take up the search for Silveira.

Hughes and Hearst Busy

Canandaigua, N. Y., Oct. 12.—C. E. Hughes made an address at Geneva yesterday afternoon and another here last evening. He dwelt with particular emphasis upon importance of electing the right sort of men to the state legislature. He declared he was glad that his opponent's appeal to passion came at a time of prosperity, when the people are not looking for work or food.

Corning, N. Y., Oct. 12.—"Ovation" is not too strong a word to describe the welcome that the Corning people gave last night to W. R. Hearst. Hearst declared that he was not opposed to rich men whose wealth was honestly gained and used in the service of the people, but was opposed to those who destroyed competition, built up monopoly and used their power to exploit the people.

An Anti-Clerical Battle

Madrid, Oct. 12.—Upon the reassembling of the cortes, Oct. 20, the Vatican and the Liberal government of Marshal Dominguez will cross swords over the church issue. While the actual question of the separation of church and state in Spain, the stronghold of Catholicism, is not to be immediately raised as in France, the democratic program of the Liberals is distinctly anti-clerical, and if it progresses successfully is sure ultimately to lead to an open fight for the severance of the ties which bind the Vatican and the Bourbon dynasty.

Was a Month Overdue

St. Johns, Oct. 12.—The sealing steamer Adventure, which left here Aug. 3, conveying Major Moodie, Canadian governor of Hudson bay, 15 northwest police and supplies for the Canadian government posts there, has returned here a month overdue, the delay having been caused by stormy weather The vessel was forced to bring back 210 tons of coal which she was unable to discharge.

Serious Damage by Storm

Buffalo, Oct. 12.—The storm of snow and sleet, which swept over this part of the country Wednesday night and yesterday, was the worst in many years. Telegraph, telephone and trolley lines were prostrated in all directions. The storm covered a wide area, including Ontario, western New York and northern Pennsylvania. The damage to the rich fruit belts is incalculable.

Moran's Mysterious Silence

Boston, Oct. 12.—It was the same story yesterday as it has been since District Attorney Moran, Democratic nominee for governor, returned from New York. No one was permitted to give out an official declaration as to Moran's intentions. Moran kept his room at the Hotel Navarre all day. It was reported on Tuesday that he would appear at his office, but he did not so appear.

Thorn In Newfoundland's Flesh

St. Johns, Oct. 12.—The cabinet met last night to consider the advisability of a policy of pronouncement against the modus vivendi between the British and American governments relative to the Newfoundland fishing grounds. Leading fish merchants also met last night and adopted resolutions adverse to the modus vivendi.

A Long-Felt Want Supplied

New Orleans, Oct. 12.—For the first time since this city was founded, 188 years ago, a modern sanitary and underground sewage system was put into operation last night. The pipes connected are part of a $24,000,000 sewage, drainage and water system, building of which began eight years ago.

Red and Blue Teams Rally.

Last evening was made lively at the Y. M. C. A. by two groups of boys who have determined to raise money to furnish their new rooms.

Reports show the Reds in the lead by $41.65, having raised $90.35, against $48 secured by the Blues, and $27 by persons not members of either of the teams. On October 3d, the Red team had added to their credit a premium of $5 for raising the largest amount between Sept. 29 and Oct. 3. The Blues received a similar premium Oct. 6. Last evening the Reds again were in the lead by over $20.

A novel feature of the evening was a mock interview. Mr. Bently agreed to receive boys from each team and try to scare them away. He utterly failed. A more earnest appeal for funds was never made than did James Hill and Gilbert Booth make to him. It was agreed that the fellow who could put up the the best argument should have added to the credit of his team a reward of $2.50. A close ballot resulted in favor the Blue team; Gilbert Booth their representative.

The boys resolved they would all take a new hold and lift even if it meant "pull."

After the business was disposed with the fellows enjoyed apples, peanuts and ghost stories.

THEY FIND IN URIC-O A PERMANENT CURE

Rheumatic Sufferers Rejoice in Receiving such Splendid Results from Uric-O.

If a convention could be held of all the Rheumatic sufferers who have been cured completely by the use of Uric-O, there would be such a rejoicing as to convince every skeptic that there at last been found the true "Fountain" of health, and yet this would be a decided error, for Uric-O is not a "cure all," but simply a cure for Rheumatism and Rheumatism only.

Every sufferer of Rheumatism who wants to be rid of the sleepless nights, the nerve binding, muscle twisting hours of pain, should lay aside all other forms of treatment, get a bottle of Uric-O and start rejoicing on his way to health. It matters little how long one has suffered from the trouble nor how intense the suffering, Uric-o will cure it. Cure it completely, cure it permanently and cure it to stay cured. Muscular, Articular and Inflamatory Rhematism yield at once to this mighty healing agent. Druggists and physicians everywhere are gladly recommending Uric-O for Rheumatism because they know its wonderful curative propertives cannot be exaggerated.

Uric-O acts directly upon the blood, muscles and kidneys. It neutralizes the uric and rheumatic acid poison, and drives it from the blood.

The store of E. J. Murphy is the "Home of Uric-O" in Quincy and he sells and guarantees it for 75 cents and $1.00 a bottle. We know you can be cured by Uric-O and if you only try one bottle you will thank us from the bottom of your heart for having made you acquainted with this marvelous remedy. Don't delay. Don't put it off. Try it and try it today. Ask Mr. Murphy about it and learn from him the many cures Uric-O has effected right here in your own town. If you desire, you can test and try it free of charge by sending your name and address to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y., and asking for a sample free.

ADVERTISE

NEGRO VICTORIES

They Have Been Gaining by Calmness and Patience

REASON SHOULD GOVERN

Booker Washington Gives Warning to Northerners Against Intemperate Utterances--Credit Due to Many Southern Whites

New York, Oct. 12.—The annual session of the National American council, which has been in progress here, was brought to a close last night. Booker T. Washington made the principal address. He took for his subject, "The Requirements of Citizenship." Washington said in part:

"In the season of disturbance and excitement, if others yield to the temptation of losing control of their judgment and give way to passion and prejudice, let us, as a race, teach the world that we have learned the great lesson of calmness and self-control; that we are determined to be governed by reason rather than by feeling. Our victories in the past have come to us through our ability to be calm and patient, often while enduring great wrong.

"Again, I am most anxious that our race everywhere bear the reputation of a law-abiding and law-respecting people. If others would break the law and trample it under foot, let us keep and respect it and teach our children to follow our example. Every iota of influence that we possess should be used to get rid of the criminal and loafing element of our people and to make decent, law-abiding citizens.

"To the members of my race who reside in the northern states let me utter the caution that in your enthusiastic desire to be of service to your brethren in the south that you not make their path more thorny and difficult by rash and intemperate utterances. Before giving advice to the negro in the south, the negro in the north should be very sure that what he advises is that which he, himself, is willing to go into the heart of the south and put into practice. Be careful not to assist in lighting a fire which you will have no ability to put out.

"Some may think that the problems with which we are grappling will be better solved by inducing millions of our people to leave the south for residence in the north, but I warn you that instead of this being a solution it will but add to the complications of the problem.

"While condemning the giving of prominence to the work of the mob in the south, we should not fail to give due credit to those of the white race who stood manfully and courageously on the side of law and order during the recent trying ordeals through which this section of our country has been passing. During the racial disturbances the country very seldom hears of the brave and heroic acts of a certain element of southern white people whose deeds are seldom heralded through the press.

"The indiscriminate condemnation of all white people on the part of any member of our race is a suicidal and dangerous policy. We must learn to discriminate. We have strong friends, both in the south and in the north, and we should emphasize and magnify the efforts of our friends more than that of those who wish us evil.

"I have said we must differentiate between white people at the south. We cannot afford to class all as our enemies, for there are many who are our friends. The country must also learn to differentiate between black people. It is a mistake to place all in the same class when referring to labor, morality or general conduct. There is a vicious class that disgraces us; there is also a worthy class which should always receive commendation. Further, we must frankly face the fact that the great body of our people are to dwell in the south, and any policy that does not seek to harmonize the two races and cement them is unwise and dangerous.

"Creation-construction in the material, civic, educational, moral and religious world, is what makes races great. Any child can cry and fret, but it requires a full-grown man to create, to construct. Let me implore you to teach the members of our race everywhere that they must become, in an increasing degree, creators of their own careers."

The Minnesota, which is about completed at the yard of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company, will be tried on Oct. 24. Then comes the Vermont from the Fore River yard at Quincy, and the Kansas from Camden, N. J., and the Washington, also built at Camden.

THE FISHERY ROW

Washington Considers the New Treaty Very Fair

IT STIRS NEWFOUNDLAND

A Strong Sentiment of Hostility Toward the Agreement--Some London Papers Denounce It as a "One-Sided" Bargain

Washington, Oct. 9.—The news that the modus vivendi had finally been signed was conveyed to Secretary Root in a cablegram from Ambassador Reid announcing that the British government had accepted the terms of the modus vivendi relating to the Newfoundland fisheries.

Some facts in relation to the Newfoundland government and the fisheries were stated in which it appears that the British government has been very much embarrassed during the negotiations on account of the demands of Newfoundland. The Newfoundland government is under the control of the merchant fishermen of the island, those who buy, cure and sell the fishing products. They oppose any American fishing rights, including those guaranteed by the treaty of 1818, and are dissatisfied with arrangements that the British government makes to carry out the terms of that treaty.

The real fishermen of the island are not in harmony with the restrictions of the Newfoundland government, such as denying the privilege of selling bait and of allowing fishermen to take employment of the American fishing vessels. The fishermen themselves desire these privileges, but it interferes with the plans of the merchant fishermen.

The Newfoundland government has no real responsibility in the way of carrying out obligations. That devolves upon the British government. Great Britain, it is asserted, would not coerce any of her colonies to remain under the British flag if they were determined to withdraw, but at the same time desires to keep all the colonies and to keep them on terms of amity with their neighbors.

The whole course of Great Britain in this matter is commended by the American authorities as being fair and reasonable, but all negotiations have been hampered by the Newfoundland government.

REMINISCENCES OF CUTTER

"Poet Lariat" of "Innocents Abroad," Who Wrote Rhymes.

As the original of the "Poet Lariat" of Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad" the late Bloodgood H. Cutter, the lovable old "Farmer Poet of Long Island," was placed among the immortals years ago, says the New York Sun. His other claim to fame is the collection of verses he has written for many years, doggerel fired at any object in sight at the drop of the hat and read with amusement all over the country. Also there was a romance in his life, but that happened so long ago that few are left to tell of it.

A famous traveler and friend of monarchs, he had filled the old Cutter home at Douglaston with interesting mementoes of his wanderings. There, too, was a collection of one horse shays and other vehicles that antedated the civil war by many years, and it was amid these old relics of early days that the farmer consciously or unconsciously added to the gayety of things by sending forth his verses.

Pens and ink were not necessary to the poet. Even in the white heat of anger he would stop to saddle Pegasus. Only those who knew his thriftiness and frugality can appreciate his anger when he once discovered several small boys stealing the incomparable Cutter apples. Nevertheless, in the middle of his wrath over the theft he did not forget his gift of poesy, but thundered forth from the orchard fence these memorable lines, of which he was not the author:

He who takes what is not his'n
Surely shall be sent to prison.

Disaster did not daunt him. On one occasion the horse he was driving along a Long Island road grew skittish. The ramshackle buckboard was too debilitated to stand the strain to which it was being subjected, and just as Mr. Cutter was passing a field in which were working two German farm hands the carriage broke down with a crash. From amid the wreckage of the old buckboard the poet sang to the Germans:

Here, ye lovers of sauerkraut,
Come here quick and help me out.

When Mr. Cutter accompanied the famous Innocents abroad he amused the travelers during the journey by reading nightly epics on anything that had happened since the last effusion, from peeling potatoes to a storm at sea. Twain offers this sample of the poet at his best:

Save us and sanctify us and finally then
See good provisions we enjoy while we journey to Jerusalem.
For so man proposes, which it is most true,
And time will wait for none, nor for us too.

This is one of the few examples of the poet's verse in which the verbs are not preceded by the word "did." He wrote thirty stanzas about Mrs. Mackay's election to the Roslyn school board. He wrote 100 separate "poems" on the subject of George Washington's coach, which he owned.

CANAL CONTRACT

Of Greater Advantage Than Building by Government

TERMS ARE MADE PUBLIC

Bidding Not Limited to American Contractors--Commission to Retain Control of Engineering Work and Other Features

Washington, Oct. 10.—Invitations for proposals to complete the Panama canal have been issued by the canal commission, and the form of contract under which the work is to be done was made public by Chairman Shonts, who also gave out a letter written to the secretary of war, giving the commission's reasons for contracting the work.

The contract provides that each bidder must undertake the entire work of construction. No bar will be offered to corporations associating in the undertaking, but they must be legally organized into a single body with which the government can deal. Bidders will not be considered who do not have available capital of $5,000,000. A certified check for $200,000 is required with each proposal and a bond of $3,000,000 will be required from the successful bidder.

The bidding is not limited to American contractors. All proposals are to be in before noon of Dec. 12, when they will be opened. Proposals are to be expressed in terms of percentage upon the estimated cost of construction, which is to be fixed by a board of five engineers, three representing the government and two representing the contractor. The chief engineer of the canal commission is to be chairman of the engineering board.

The engineering board will also estimate a reasonable time for the completion of the canal, and will agree upon a system of premiums and penalties to be paid to the contractor according as the work is completed within or beyond the estimated cost and time. All the government plant for actual construction work, including the railway, is to be placed at the disposal of the contractor and is to be maintained by the government.

The contract specifies that the commission is to retain control of all engineering work in connection with the construction of the canal, also all municipal engineering, the police, sanitary, hospital and commissary departments, mess houses, quarters, construction and maintenance of buildings, operation of the Panama railway, and auditing to which contractors' accounts are to be open and a department of materials and supplies.

Sixty days after the signing of the contract actual work is to begin on the isthmus and the contractor is to take over all employes on the isthmus which the commission does not wish to retain. No American employe is to work more than eight hours.

In support of the commission's position that the canal can be contracted to a greater advantage than it can be built by the government, Shonts' letter says that "because of the unprecedented and greatly extended industrial activity of the time and the consequent violent competition for all classes of superintendents, foremen, sub-contractors, skilled mechanics, and even ordinary laborers, it would take the commission years to secure men and build up departmental construction organizations which would equal in efficiency those now controlled by the leading contractors of the United States."

Chairman Shonts says in his letter that the commission carefully considered letting the work in sections to contractors, and decided that complications would arise which could not be overcome in case this plan were adopted. The letting of the work to one contractor on a basis of unit prices was also considered and was believed by the commission to be a plan which would be more expensive than the percentage system.

Strike of Carpet Weavers

Thompsonville, Conn., Oct. 11.—Ninety-five brussels carpet weavers struck at the Hartford Carpet corporation's factory here, giving as a reason the company's departure from the past system of carpet weaving apprenticeship. The old system was for a person to work up. The new system is the employing of an experienced weaver as an instructor. The first person to be instructor is a Polander. He began Monday. The strikers claim it is not his nationality they object to, but because he has not worked up in the regular way.

Know Not What She Did

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 11.—Acting on specific instructions from Judge Roraback, a jury in the criminal superior court brought in a verdict of not guilty, on the ground of insanity, in the case of Mrs. Bertha Magersuppe of Danbury, charged with having killed her infant son. She was committed to an insane asylum for a term of two years.

Lightning Landed In Kitchen

Jonesport, Me., Oct. 11.—During a thunderstorm which passed over this section lightning struck the house of John Alley on Wass island, passed down the chimney and instantly killed Ashton Alley, 18 years old, who was sitting in the kitchen. OUR FIRE COMPANIES MAKE RECORDS.

CENTRAL FIRE STATION

Fine weather was provided for the firmen this afternoon for the parade and review and City Square was alive with people to see the exhibitions.

Not only were residents of Quincy present, but there many firmen and others from surrounding towns. A special invitation had been extended by Chief Litchfield to Mayor Thompson and the City Council to be present, and the Mayor and most of the Councilmen responded.

It was 2—2—30 when Mayor Thompson pulled the hook inside of Box 26. This was a signal for the ten pieces of fire apparatus to start for City Square. At the same time, the relief wagon started for Houghs Neck to cover that district during the absence of Combination, No. 3.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

The Art of Adjusting a Hat—Dressmaking Hints—Pompadour Silks.

In putting on a hat or taking one off it should never be grasped by the front or back brim so that all the weight is suspended from a single point, for this is likely to make the brim sag. Instead the headgear should be lifted with the finger tips placed on either side of a hat and as lightly as possible to hold it firmly.

When making a coat and skirt of a whole dress the bodice should not be cut out first. The skirt takes the long lengths and there is usually more or less left from the widths to help in cutting out the fronts of the bodice and even sometimes the whole back may be secured out of the waste widths.

Paris is sending over quantities of pompadour silks and is insisting upon their being used for Louis coats and slips under mousseline and chiffon evening frocks.

Neatness of coiffure is an essential of good dressing. The way to do the hair is to wave it by rollers overnight or marcel on a hot iron. After this is done the whole hair is drawn tightly to the top of the head, where it is caught in a flat figure 8, which is pinned down close to the head.

Empire styles have invaded the realm of the dressing jacket. The picture depicts a charming matinee in this style. A modish note is struck in the exceptionally long skirt which reaches almost to the knees.

Uncle Sam to Miss Cuba.

Um! I told you, little sister, when you started out alone
That I'd watch you like a brother, though I'd troubles of my own.
I expected that you'd find it, when you'd tried your hand a spell,
Not as pleasant or so easy as you'd figgered on, but—well,
What's the use o' goin' over all that old flapdoodle now?
The great question that's before us is to help you out somehow.

Little brown, impulsive sister, don't you give up now and cry.
I'm a-standin' here to help you, and I'll do it or know why.
'Tain't so bad, though, as it might be. Come, cheer up and smile once more!
Many a case far worse than this one has been fixed up heretofore.
Little Cuby, little Cuby, don't you let yourself forgit
That old Uncle Sam's a doctor and 'll cure your troubles yit.

I remember when you started that you had a haughty way,
And I rather thought that mebbe you'd get over it some day.
While I wished you all the good things, I'd a sneakin' notion still
That you'd some day need the doctor—never mind about the bill.
I'd suspicions, as I've told you, that your job 'ud make you sick,
But I swear I didn't hardly think 'twould happen quite so quick!

Moran Accepts Democratic Nomination For Governor

PURELY A STATE FIGHT

Is Attached In No Way to Either Bryan or Hearst--Contest In Which Wealth Should Not Merit Ballot's Favor

Boston, Oct. 13.—District Attorney John B. Moran late last night formally announced his acceptance of the nomination for governor tendered him by the Democratic state convention. For several days there has been considerable doubt as to whether Moran would remain in the field.

He sent out the letter of acceptance to John P. Feeney, chairman of the Democratic state convention, and to the delegates to that body. The letter says:

"I accept the nomination tendered me by the Democratic state convention and now express my appreciation of the high honor the Democracy of the state has conferred on me in placing its standards in my care. Your platform of principles coincides with that published by me in July. Every plank in it was known to the Democrats who in caucus elected delegates instructed in my favor and for the platform.

"The unanimity with which you nominated me demonstrates your faithfulness to the people whose representatives you were. Upon some non-essentials in the present campaign you differ. I have no quarrel with you upon that. Every man is entitled to his own opinion as to whom is the most suitable candidate for the presidential contest in 1908.

"I believe it to be too early to make a choice and therefore exercise my right to remain neutral until the proper time for a choice arrives. I am attached in no way to either Mr. Bryan or Mr. Hearst. Mr. MacFarland and Mr. Williams know that I vetoed the suggestion that Mr. Bryan speak for me in Boston. Mr. MacFarland and Mr. Eddy know that I vetoed the suggestion that Mr. Hearst speak for me in Boston.

"This is to be a state fight, not a national one. Bryanism and Hearstism must be eliminated from the contest. The struggle is to be one for our principles against those of our common enemies, the present organization of the Republican party.

"Let us keep this issue always in mind. Let past differences be forgotten. With a united party, with undivided loyalty to each other, fighting, each of us to the limit of his strength, shoulder to shoulder against our foes, success for our entire ticket is within our grasp.

"This is a contest for the rights of the people. We must make no compromise with their enemies. We must accept no pecuniary assistance from corporations. We must purchase by usual political methods no adherence to our cause. In recent years, even by our own party, the ballot's benefit to a candidate has cost, in extravagant advertising, from $50,000 to $100,000. By this system of campaigning the wealthy man has an advantage over his poorer neighbor.

"This is an evil which we must eradicate. Manhood, not wealth, should merit the ballot's favor. I regret my inability to pay all reasonable, necessary expenses for an economical and properly conducted campaign, but, so far as I am able, I shall contribute. There should, of course, be a speaking campaign. Let all Democratic speakers have equal opportunities. There must be no discrimination. My own weakened physical condition unfits me for such platform service as I have in the past given in contests in which I took part."

"An occasional speech is all that I can promise, my physician tells me, without permanent injury to my already broken health. In addition to this sufficient reason, I am not forgetful of the obligations which, as district attorney, I owe to the citizens of Suffolk district. This obligation I must perform. Unfaithfulness in that would not be a recommendation for higher honors.

"Victory lies within our grasp. Our opponents are divided. We are united. A long pull and a strong pull together will place our entire list of candidates in office. With renewed assurances of my appreciation of the honor you have conferred on me, I am, yours respectfully, "John B. Moran."

Mr. Moran said last night that he had never thought seriously of retiring from the contest. "The petty struggles of the Bryan and the Hearst factions, the unloosed ill-feelings existing between the Boston factions, and the mistaken but honest efforts of my friends to aid my candidacy, have caused me little and only temporary annoyance," he said. Moran said he might lose the contest, but nevertheless he proposed to make a vigorous campaign.

Possible Lockout of 50,000

Chicago, Oct. 13.—A lockout of 50,000 building trades employes is threatened as the result of numerous sympathetic strikes on various buildings now being erected in the downtown district. At a conference between union representatives and several contractors no solution of the difficulties was reached. At the close the contractors issued an ultimatum, which was in effect: "Return to work or stay away forever."

HELD FOR MURDER

Harry Wood Cut His Throat Before Being Arrested

Winchendon, Mass., Oct. 13.—Harry E. Wood, aged 33, suspected of having shot and killed his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ira E. Wood, at her home here, was found in bed at his home with his throat cut. Fourteen stitches were taken in the wound, which the attending physician says will not prove dangerous. Wood was arrested on the charge of murder. Near the bed stood a loaded shotgun. In the road between this house and Ira Wood's residence the chief of police found a shell which fitted this gun.

Harry Wood was arraigned before Justice Evans yesterday afternoon on the charge of murder. He pleaded not guilty. He was held without bail for appearance Oct. 19 and was taken to Worcester jail last night. After being arraigned the accused said: "I don't think I did it and if I did it I don't remember it."

After the autopsy by Dr. Sawyer the medical examiner gave the cause of death of Mrs. Wood as shock and hemorrhage. He said the front of the face was torn away by No. 7 birdshot.

Long In the Cotton Business

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 13.—Richard B. Borden, a leading cotton manufacturer who had been engaged longer in the industry than any man in this section, died last night after a protracted illness. He was born in Fall River in 1834. For many years he was treasurer of the Troy and Richard Borden corporations, a director of the Merchants' and American Linen mills and Fall River bleachery, and was connected with financial and insurance institutions.

Injunction Against Union Dissolved

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 13.—Judge Bitting has dissolved the temporary injunction issued to the National Builders' association against the Bricklayers and Plasterers' union, the Stone Masons' unions and the International Protective association, all of this city, to prevent them from interfering with non-union workmen employed in Bridgeport. The union claims that this is one of the most important victories they ever won in this state.

Carpet Weavers' Strike Ends

Thompsonville, Conn., Oct. 13.—A compromise agreement by which the Brussels carpet weavers will furnish men for all the looms in the Brussels department by Jan. 1, 1907, and by which the company agrees to discontinue the new system of carpet weaving apprenticeship, brought to an end the strike in the Hartford Carpet corporation's plant, and in which about 100 men were involved.

Odd Fellow's Sudden Death

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 13.—Lyman C. Converse, aged 77 years, died suddenly while attending the dedication of the Odd Fellows' new hall. As one of the oldest members of the Hampden lodge he had been given a seat of honor on the platform. A few minutes after the exercises had commenced he uttered groans and was taken immediately into an ante-room, where he died.

Fell Down Stairs With Hands Tied

Providence, Oct. 13.—John Hetherman, a freshman in the Burrillville high school, was seriously injured by falling down stairs after his hands had been tied behind his back by some of his schoolmates. Little information has been given out as to the exact manner in which the boy was hurt, except the bare statement that he had fallen down several steps in the building.

Ex-Mayor Fined For Liquor Selling

Salem, Mass., Oct. 13.—Ex-Mayor John F. Hurley was yesterday fined $150 by Judge De Courcey in the superior court for the illegal sale of liquor. This case was an old one and came up at the last term, Hurley pleading nolo contendere. On Thursday Hurley was fined $100 for the illegal sale of liquor on Aug. 12.

Held on Arson Charge

Cornish, Me., Oct. 13.—T. L. Johnson of Boston, who was arrested in that city on the charge of arson, was held for the grand jury in the sum of $1500 after a trial here. It is alleged that Johnson made a clever arrangement which started a fire in his summer home at East Parsonfield on Sept. 22. He furnished bail for his appearance.

Young Hunter Killed

Under the commissioner's ruling the anthracite miners are entitled to a 4 percent increase over the last award.

Witte Will Never Take Office

Paris, Oct. 13.—Count Witte, when questioned in the matter of the St. Petersburg reports of a movement in Russia to induce him to resume the direction of Russian finances, said: "Never, never will I return to power. I have had enough. You cannot make that statement too emphatic."

Modus Vivendi Objectionable

St. Johns, Oct. 13.—The colonial cabinet, at its meeting to discuss the fishery situation, decided, it is understood, to resist to the fullest possible legal extent the enforcement of the modus vivendi arrived at by the British and the American governments.

THE PLAIN GIRL.

A Course of Treatment That Made Her Quite Attractive.

The plain girl was "tired to death" of being mentioned as "that plain girl over there" and looked long and scrutinizingly at her figure one day in the glass. After this scrutinizing process she determined to kill the faults of "plain Mary Brown." First of all she began some exercises for rounding out her figure. The one she used most frequently was this:

Stand erect, with the head held easily, arms at the side. Taking in a full breath very slowly, lift the arms shoulder high, at the same time rising on the toes. Now bend the knees very slowly, keeping the body in a well poised position, then rise very slowly, still on the toes. Then sink back to position.

This exercise she found developed a habit of walking, standing, sitting and rising correctly, straightened the shoulders and rounded out the hollows. Bending the knees did away with the stiffness, and with that the awkwardness disappeared.

Her face, neck and arms she bathed in very hot water every night, rubbed in a good cold cream and rubbed out every suggestion of a line or wrinkle. In the morning she washed her face with hot water, making a lather of soap on her hands, not touching a cloth to her skin. This was followed by a good dashing of clear hot water and that in turn by a vigorous spatting with the fingers dipped in cold water, says Woman's Life.

She practiced smiling to make the corners of her mouth turn up, and soon she found the forced smile had become a natural one; that the contented spirit within generated by the "smiling habit" was beginning to show itself in a happy expression, brightened eyes and an utter routing of all the old lines that erstwhile marked her face.

THE NURSERY.

Care of the Room Devoted to the Use of the Children.

Never sweep the nursery with an ordinary broom, as it raises too much dust. A soft hair broom should be used or else a flannel bag put over the regular broom. At least every other day the rugs should be taken up and shaken outdoors and the floor wiped up with a damp cloth, adding a few drops of carbolic acid or some other mild disinfectant to the water in which the cloth is damped.

Never under any circumstances use a feather duster in the nursery. All the furniture, woodwork and pictures should be dusted every day with a damp cloth, being careful to dust behind the pictures as well as the other parts. Every week or two dust down the walls with a damp cloth tied on to a broom. Cover the crib and bed with a large sheet when the room is swept and remove all the lighter pieces of furniture after they have been wiped off while the room is being cleaned.

At least twice a day, even in the coldest weather, the nursery windows should be opened both top and bottom for fully half an hour and the room fairly flooded with fresh air and sunshine also if you can get it.—New York Mail.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Soaking handkerchiefs all night in strong salt water will greatly facilitate their washing.

A little salt placed in the starch will prevent it from blowing out of the clothes on a windy day.

If hooks and eyes have rusted white goods put the garment into water in which has been dissolved a little cream of tartar and boil for a few minutes.

In washing the flannels should be attended to first, then muslins and fine pieces, while towels, dusters and rougher things should be left until the last.

The value of wringing clothes well cannot be overestimated. A good laundress squeezes out the last drop of soapy water and again rinses the garment well after she has thoroughly rinsed it.

If you are doubtful whether a muslin or print dress will wash well preface the washing by soaking it for ten minutes in a pail of tepid water, into which a teaspoonful of turpentine has been stirred.

The Important Kitchen.

In furnishing a house or choosing a flat much thought and care should be expended upon the kitchen. Here is the crux of the family happiness, the source of health and good spirits—too often its beauty and convenience are matters of little forethought—an airy, bright, well ventilated kitchen, with shelves, drawers, tables and stoves in positions which are the triumph of perfection as far as convenience and time saving are concerned. There is no reason why a kitchen should not be a pleasant place, yet it is usually the junk shop for all the old, broken down furniture and utensils in the house. Dingy, dirty brown walls, ugly tin and granite dishes on the walls and behind the stove dirt and dampness make a happy hunting ground for beetles and bugs. This is the horror of neat housewives with sanitary ambitions.

Crushed Velvet.

The following way of restoring the pile of velvet is said to be excellent: If it is only slightly crushed treat it in the same way crape is treated—by steaming it on the right side until heated through. If very much crushed wet it on the underside, let some one hold a hot iron bottom side upward and pass the wet side of the velvet slowly over the flat surface. When the steam rises thickly through the right side it will raise the pile with it. Dry without handling.

OUR HOSPITAL

INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, Timothy Reed, Adams St., Quincy, or the Treasurer, Richard D. Chase, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

THE
Young Men's Christian Association
OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, William F. Cummings, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernest G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

E. A. Kimball Contends That It Cannot Logicaliy Be Rejected

Under the auspices of the First church of Christ, Scientist, of Braintree, a free lecture was given last evening by Edward A. Kimball, C.S.D., of Chicago, who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the First church of Boston.

There was a large attendance of people, scientists and of other denominations, that came from miles around to hear Mr. Kimball and get enlighten ment on Christian Science.

Part of Mr. Kimball's remarks were as follows:

"In order that you may most readily appreciate the import of this address, you are asked to contemplate for a moment the scene upon which Christian Science has made its entrance.

The history of the human race may be classified as a tragedy. If it were to be epitomized then one long monotone of protest against the misery, one pitiful appeal to God for relief, and one final moan of defeat would tell the story.

The people of earth, unreconciled to what seems to be an intolerable fate, have turned in every conceivable direction in their effort for deliverance from evil, and they have failed thus far, to find the way. There are still the same tears, broken hearts, beds of pain—the same havoc of outrageous fortune. Men continue to live, sicken and die according to a philosophy of doom which declares there is no salvation this side of the grave, no way out of the hell on earth but to die out.

To this same stricken people, and in this very age, comes Christian Science to declare that they can get out, naturally, lawfully, scientifically; it comes as a message of hope and promise to a race which is in supreme need.

We submit the proposition that humanity which prays for different results should also consistently pray for and expect a different way, and we contend that Christian Science, which promises and produces the prayed for results, cannot logically be rejected simply because it also discloses a different way.

By means of literature, teachers and lecturers, explanation has been made concerning the points of agreement between Christian Science and other forms of religious and scientific belief, but it is my purpose tonight to emphasize the fundamental differences also and thus enable you to make comparisons for yourselves.

It is self-evident that certain things have existence. It is generally known that they have cause, origin and basis, by reason of which they exist. Some people declare the cause to be a blind force; others that it is some sort of intelligence, and theology affirms that it is a conscious intelligence or entity which may be designated God.

"A concensus of enlightened belief concerning God is that He is one supreme, infinite, self-existent, all-inclusive, spiritual individual, conscious being—the sole creator of all that has actual existence. Also that God is Good, Life, Truth, Love, omnipresent, omniscient, and omnipotent; that He is the only lawmaker and holds in His grasp the destiny of all men.

"In her effort to enlarge the human concept of the infinite God, Mrs. Eddy has added somewhat to the technical definition of deity, and affirms, among other things, that God is divine Mind and that this Mind is good.

"The science of Mind declares that to the extent that man is governed by the divine Mind, he will manifest perfection, health, life, welfare, prosperity—the ampleness and completeness of harmonious existence. It was this Mind which was also in Christ; which overcame temptation and sin, healed the sick, raised the dead, raised Jesus from the dead, and overcame 'the world, the flesh and the devil.' 'To be carnally minded is death.' Sin and disease are the offspring of this carnal mind; they are no part of the nature or of the procurement of the divine Mind.

"God is good in nature, design, power, action, substance and operation. All that He has made and done is good. His laws are good, and He has already done everything that is essential to the supreme welfare of man.

"Conversely we repudiate the effort to solve the mystery of evil by assuming that any part of it has been instituted by God, or that He needs to involve Himself in or with evil in any way or for any purpose, or that He does so involve himself.

"God is not only life, but has ordained life and is the law of life and health for man. The theology of Christian Science is consistently parallel throughout with this declaration. It also declares that God has created man that he might have being, and not for the purpose of inflicting upon him inveterate agony and disease.

"We repudiate all assumption that His law is the law of sin and death. Sickness is contrary to God, and God is contrary to it. God is the natural healer of the sick and is able, willing, and ever ready to save mortals from the evils imposed upon them by an utterly perverted sense of existence.

The supposition that God has induced the pangs and horrors of disease and death engenders a fear of him—a fear and alarm concerning the author and the law and the destiny of human life; a fear concerning the very foundation of existence. We Christian Scientists are no longer afraid of God or of His heaven, which we are learning is with us to the extent that we are governed by the mind which was in Christ.

If instead of regarding evil as a mysterious entity, men had understood the science which detects and correctly designates the phenomena of evil, such misconceptions of Christian salvation would have long since been dissipated.

If Jesus came to save from one then he came to save from both. He could not possibly save from one without saving from the other. He clearly indicated this to those who heard, though they could not understand it. When Jesus healed the sick, did He destroy the work of God or devil? Was it the mission of Jesus to destroy the work of God? If sickness is the work of the devil, then is God for or against it? If God is against and contrary to it, are His laws for or against it? If His laws are against it are they available to man? Has God created a man who is without possible resource to His law and power? If he has, then why pray for an impossibility?

Mrs. Eddy answers all these questions and hundreds of others in her text book, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures,' and thereby reconciles reason to God, and dispels the mystery which has obscured the science of life.

Some day the world will know all this and render tardy justice, and meanwhile the tender loving woman knoweth that a million people many of them once dying, who have been rescued from unspeakable depths, and who know that for a generation she has stood as the lone rock stands far out against an angry sea, are thankful that in spite of every contention against her she has been faithful to her trust."

Automobiles Fire Apparatus

Editor of the Daily Ledger:

May I suggest through you to your readers, and especially to those who are in authority, that the automobile be employed in saving the horses from the extraordinary and cruel exertion they are called upon to make when an alarm of fire is given in Quincy.

Notwithstanding the many well grounded complaints against the automobile, I was particularly impressed by what I saw in your city a few days ago of the very great relief it might be made to afford the poor animals and ourselves in case of fire alarms.

Respectfully yours,
Henry A. Johnson.

Braintree High School Association

The meeting of the Braintree High School Alumni Association, which was announced in the Observer, was held on Thursday evening, October 11th, in the Monatiquot building. The attendance was very encouraging and tends to show that the interest in the association is increasing. In the absence of president and vice-president, Miss Alice I. Moir, secretary, called the meeting to order and addressed same.

The matter of Dr. A. E. Oliver's resignation as president of the association was voted upon and accepted with much regret, but Dr. Oliver was forced to resign on account of his arduous duties which keep him out of the state.

No one was appointed to fill the resigning president's place, that matter being left over until the next meeting which will be held in the Monatiquot assembly hall on Thursday evening, November 1st, 1906. In the meantime, notices are to be sent out to as many of the past graduates as possible with the hope that the next meeting may be very successful and beneficial.

The wish has long been expressed for a Braintree High School Alumni Association, therefore let every past graduate show his interest in same by being present on Thursday evening, November 1st, 1906.

For the convenience of those who are unable to attend this meeting, Miss Alice I. Moir, Secretary, Braintree, will gladly receive names for membership and furnish any desired information.

It is reported that Thomas Lacey of Grand View avenue will be a candidate for the School Committee from Ward Five at the coming municipal election.

BRIDGE ASSESSMENT

City of Quincy Called Upon to Pay One Third of Cost Before Dec. 1

Mayor Thompson was notified this this morning of the special commissioners appointed to apportion the cost of the bridge over the Weymouth Fore river between Quincy and Weymouth, which contains a revolving draw with two 100 foot openings.

The special act of the Legislature originally limited the cost to $100,000, but was afterward amended to allow the commissioners more pay, and because of the delay there are large additional items for maintenance and interest, so that the aggregate is now $127,442.29. This the commissioners decree shall be paid before Dec. 1, 1906, with interest from Oct. 8.

The percentages and amounts in the decree are as follows:

	Per Cent.	Amount.
City of Quincy,	33	$42,055.95
Norfolk County,	20	25,488.46
Old Colony St. Ry.,	15	19,116.34
Hingham,	11	14,018.65
Weymouth,	10	12,744.23
Cohasset,	6	7,646.54
Scituate,	2	2,548.85
Hull,	2	2,548.85
Marshfield,	1	1,274.42

The Quincy assessment of $42,055.95 is a large sum for the city to pay and it is given but seven weeks, but the city cannot find much fault with the amount. Fortunately the city has leeway enough made for its debt limit to meet this assessment, and also the one for the Atlantic bridge which is weekly expected, but all other improvements must be postponed until 1907.

The worst feature is that the bridge must soon be rebuilt. The foundation of the draw needs attention; a new pier should be built, the bridge needs painting, and should be equipped with electric power.

The Mayor of Quincy and the chairmen of the Selectmen of Weymouth and Hingham are named as the trustees of the bridge, and it is probable that the county, city, towns and street railway will contribute on the same basis for maintenance.

Stonecutters Assault Case.

The trial of Manuel Belluchi, for assault with a dangerous weapon on Francesco Sacchetti, on the afternoon of Sept. 27, was held at the district court this morning.

Both men worked for John L. Miller. On the day in question the men had a dispute in the granite yard. After leaving work Belluchi claims that Sacchetti came at him with a hammer and he defended himself.

The court found Belluchi guilty and imposed a fine of $25, and put him under $200 bonds to keep the peace for three months.

The Social Realm

A little love, a little trust,
A soft impulse, a sudden dream,
And life as dry as desert dust
Is fresher than a mountain stream.

So ready for new hope and joy,

Worcester Extends Cordial Greeting

Worcester people of all protestant denominations says the Worcester Gazette, will throw wide open their doors to welcome the thousands of Christian Endeavorers who will visit the Heart of the Commonwealth on the occasion of the annual state convention of Christian Endeavor, which is announced to take place Oct. 25-28, inclusive.

Plans are being made for the biggest convention in the history of Christian Endeavor in the old Bay State, and it will not be the fault of the Worcester phalanx which is arranging the details, if that is not the case. For weeks and months committees have been arranging the spiritual and physical, the educational and recreation diet upon which the Endeavorers will dine while they are under the hospitable roofs of the Worcester hosts, and no expense, no amount of energy, have been spared in elaborate efforts to bring about a grand climax to the many great conventions which the Endeavorers have taken part in during the last quarter of a century in the state of Massachusetts.

There are several strong features in connection with this convention, which will make "Worcester '06" the mecca for all Endeavorers throughout the state. First and foremost is the most attractive program which has been arranged. Then there are the equally attractive features in this old city of churches, the fact that it is the Heart of the Commonwealth.

The royal blood of the Endeavor movement, which pulsates through the Heart of the Commonwealth, reaches through its many arteries into the most widely settled section of the state. Transportation is rapid and sure, and the accommodation is limited only by the royal fellowship and friendship of the people.

The speakers for such a convention are always a strong feature, and this is no exception in the case of Worcester. Gov. Guild heads the list, among the most prominent of the orators. Rev. Dr. W. H. P. Faunce, president of Brown university, himself a Worcester boy, is on the program. Among others who will speak and take part are Mayor John T. Duggan who, though a Catholic in creed, is sufficiently broad in his catholicity to extend a warm welcome to the delegates to Worcester; President George E. Copeland of the State Christian Endeavor, another Worcester boy who has attained the pinnacle of fame in state Christian Endeavor work; and many others.

Lehneman, Smuggler of Chinese, Is Taken Into Custody

HE ADMITS HIS IDENTITY

Well Supplied With Funds and Will Resist Extradition--Immune From Prosecution, According to Washington Officials

Halifax, Oct. 13.—James B. Lehneman, for whom the United States immigration officials have been searching in connection with Chinese smuggling, was arrested here. He was a passenger on the steamer Silvia, bound from Newfoundland to this port, and had registered as "J. F. Hearn."

Lehneman boarded the steamer at St. Johns and as the vessel near this port it was noticed that he was making preparations to reach shore at the earliest possible moment. The arrival of the custom house officials and the detention of all passengers, however, upset his plans and, giving his coat and baggage to a companion, he left the group of passengers in the forward part of the ship and hurried to the stern, from which place he jumped ashore in an effort to evade arrest. After he had been placed under arrest Lehneman was turned over to the chief of police, who immediately notified the United States consul general and the United States immigration officials. The prisoner will be held pending the arrival of instructions from these officials.

Lehneman after his arrest admitted that he was interested in the schooner yacht Frolic, which was used to transport 42 Chinamen to Providence. The prisoner said that he was at Placentia when the Frolic sailed away with her contraband cargo of human freight, immediately after the departure of the vessel he left for St. Johns. He was not aware, he said, that the Frolic had been captured when he took passage on the Silvia.

At the time of his capture he was well dressed and had $1100 in his possession, in addition to two diamond rings and four diamond pins. His brother was arrested at Providence Wednesday in connection with the Frolic expedition.

Lehneman has engaged counsel and will resist extradition, on the ground that he has not committed any crime against the laws of Canada. He is angered at the newspapers and blames the publicity in the press for the capture of himself, his brother and the Frolic.

In a statement to Chief of Police Power, Lehneman said that his capture in Halifax was a great surprise to him, inasmuch as he had successfully evaded the immigration officials in the United States. He told Power that Goodman Phillips of Boston is the leader of the band engaged in smuggling Chinese in the United States. According to the prisoner, Phillips is now on the ocean bound for London, having sailed from St. Johns on the steamship Dahome of the Furness line.

The first intimation that the alleged smugglers had regarding the search for the Frolic were the dispatches published in the Newfoundland papers. Phillips and Lehneman then left St. Johns hastily.

Passengers who were on the steamer Silvia and who came in contact with Lehneman said that during the passage to this port from St. Johns he appeared to be well supplied with money, which he lavished on all sides. One of the passengers stated that Lehneman placed $5000 in the care of the chief officer of the steamer.

Offense Not Extraditable

Boston, Oct. 13.—According to opinions given by officials in the state department at Washington, James B. Lehneman, who was arrested at Halifax, is immune from prosecution. The authorities quote certain treaties to show that if Lehneman wishes to fight extradition he cannot be brought to this country to face the charge of conspiring to smuggle Chinese into the United States. The fact that it is no crime to bring Chinese into Canada is the great factor in the conclusion that the offense committed is not extraditable.

Federal officers have seen nothing of Captain Colby, who disappeared as soon as the first of the Chinese were landed. It is reported that his wife in South Boston has received a letter from him and that he is in this vicinity, but not in Boston.

Police Chief Has His Way

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 13.—The Schreck-Hart fight, scheduled for last night, was called off. VALUE OF GNOMES.

Colonel Olcott Believes They Make the Men Who Make Money.

Gnomes, the funny little creatures with round, floppy ears and pointed red caps, are the actual financiers of the world. John D. Rockefeller is said to be simply jammed full of these imps, and every man in Wall street who is successful is simply beset by them. Such is the doctrine recently set forth by Colonel Henry Steele Olcott, the octogenarian chief of the Theosophical society, says a Chicago dispatch.

"Gnomes, sylphs, undines and salamanders are the spirits of the earth, air water and fire, respectively," said Colonel Olcott in his address to the theosophists, "and unless there is an ablebodied sylph in a person's system he will have no success as an aeronaut, slack wire worker or flying machine inventor.

"Unless the man who undertakes to control money, oil, diamonds and other treasures of the earth has a few gnomes to pilot him he might as well go into bankruptcy before he lands in a madhouse.

"If a farmer boy out in Minnesota awakens some morning with an uncontrollable desire to go to sea, he is beset by an undine. Salamanders obsess those who climb fire escapes, sell coal, members of the fire department and those who conduct fire sales."

The colonel's subject was "The Danger of Psychism," and he pointed out how clairvoyants and spiritualists could use their occult powers in very dastardly manners.

"But much good has been done by spirit influence," he said. "In India I began a series of successful healings. I believe the miracles of the Bible can be duplicated today."

That certain imps of thieving propensities obsess society women who steal in department stores is the colonel's belief. He also declared that he had personally witnessed how a Hindoo put his hand into space and commanded certain spirits to place a bottle of whisky in his hand. The man got the whisky until one day the spirit had a grouch and threw the bottle at the head of the conjurer.

BRAGG ON CUBAN REVOLT.

Both Sides Afraid, but Bound to Fight When Hard Up, Says the General.

General Edward S. Bragg, according to a dispatch from Fond du Lac, Wis., once said, "You might as well attempt to make a whistle out of a pig's tail as to try to make anything out of the Cubans."

He seems to be of the same opinion still.

"The uprising in Cuba," said the "little general" at his home the other night, "was bound to come. Whenever the Cubans get hard up they are bound to fight. Both sides are afraid of each other and would rather run than engage in a pitched battle. They will continue this mole of warfare until Uncle Sam takes a hand, and they will do it after that.

"You mark my word, if this trouble is not settled at once the insurgents will continue their work of pillaging and burning plantations, buildings and villages.

"The Cubans will fight and there will be a rebellion every time there is a tobacco crop failure or the sugar crop goes wrong. The money lent to them after the Spanish war has now been used up, I believe, in providing for a few of the patriots.

"In my opinion, Cuba should have been purchased by the United States years ago. I believe that we made a great mistake when we let it go.

"The insurrection will finally be put down, and the republic will run along for awhile, but another revolution will come later."

NOT FOR SHAW, THANK YOU.

Playwright Says He Fears to Visit Us, Lest He Be Elected President.

Marc Klaw of the firm of Klaw & Erlanger, who made the contract with G. Bernard Shaw for the reproduction of his satirical historical comedy drama, "Caesar and Cleopatra," which will be presented at the New Amsterdam theater, New York, on Oct. 29 by Forbes Robertson and Gertrude Elliott, has been endeavoring to induce the Irish author to come to America to be present at the production of his play, says the New York Times. Among other inducements Mr. Shaw was assured that he would have "a royal time."

Mr. Klaw recently received this postal card from Mr. Shaw:

Coast of Cornwall, Sept. 2.

It is just that royal reception that makes it impossible for me to come. If I could come quietly, without convulsing America, without delivering a hundred addresses to enormous crowds, without a salute of 101 guns, without the risk of being forcibly naturalized and elected president and subsequently seized and imprisoned by Mr. Comstock, then I might come.

As it is, I prefer the quiet and retirement of London. Besides, I am writing a new play—an astonishingly good one. I had no idea I had so much left in me. It has delayed my reply somewhat, but you will forgive me. G. B. SHAW.

A Plea For the Dictionary.

Oh, Roosevelt, spare that book;
Touch not a single bough!
In youth it succored me,
And I'll protect it now.

I sat upon its pile
At table when I ate;
So came within my reach
The dainties of each plate.

I sat upon it, grown,
Where letters' feast was spread;
So came within my grasp
Strong Shakespeare's meat and bread.

So prithee cut it not
Nor its dimensions carve,
For were its bulk reduced
We all of us would starve.

NOTES OF THE RAILWAYS

Coral For Ballast Used by Road Through Florida Keys.

GREAT ENGINEERING PROJECT

Western Pacific Railroad to Build Tunnels to Enter California—Forty-five Bores to Be Made—Pennsylvania Cabooses to Have Whistles—Mexican Wood For Ties—Warning Laborers by Megaphone.

There is a section of the United States where coral is exceedingly popular as ballast for railroads, says the New York Tribune. American railroad builders have used nearly every conceivable material for roadbed, from solid granite to the shifting sands of the great southwestern desert, held together by growing vines. But it remained for the Florida East Coast railway to construct a roadbed out of material which, according to a fashion note, is growing in popularity as jewelry.

The portion of the Florida road upon which it has been found feasible to use coral as ballast is in the extension from Miami to Key West, along the Florida keys. The reason for such use is patent to the student of geology. The keys through which the road runs are composed of it. Coral rock is the only thing obtainable except by long transportation. Many of the islets are a long way from the mainland. But a beautiful and exceedingly substantial roadbed is being constructed out of the coral rock. It is glistening white, like a great band of satin ribbon, on which the little islands, with their luxuriant tropical growth, are strung like a necklace of emerald beads. It is more truly a gem studded bond, uniting Key West to the Florida shore.

The road, which was conceived in the mind of Henry M. Flagler as a part of his plan to join Cuba with the United States by an all rail route, is remarkable in more than one particular. Much of the roadbed is being constructed in water thirty or more feet deep. Forests of trees are being used for piling, and tons upon tons of concrete are being dumped on top to form a substantial highway through the ocean.

When this unique railway is done the traveler will, in places, be speeding along entirely out of sight of land. He will practically go to sea in a railway train. Nothing will greet his eye at times but the wide expanse of blue waters where the Atlantic and the gulf meet. The new line will cost from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 to build. It is expected to be completed in three years.

The Western Pacific railroad is perfecting plans to enter California, and when the road is completed it will be one of the greatest railroad engineering feats in modern times, says a San Francisco special dispatch to the Brooklyn Eagle. The engineers in charge have instructions to keep one object in view—the straightest line with the least grade. To accomplish this forty-five tunnels will be bored in eastern California between Oroville and Beckwith pass. Instead of going around mountains the Western Pacific is going through them.

The longest of the tunnels is that at the head of Spring Garden, twelve miles east of Quincy. This is cut under the ridge dividing the north and middle forks of the Feather river. It will be more than 7,000 feet in length when completed. The next longest tunnel on the road will be the one under Beckwith pass. This will be over 4,000 feet in length, and it is being bored at both ends. The third tunnel will probably be the most difficult engineering feat of all, as it will be cut through solid rock for a distance of 1,200 feet. This will be north of Quincy, on Spanish creek.

The Pennsylvania railroad is to equip two freight cabooses on each division of the system with a compressed air whistle, similar to those on passenger trains, as an experiment, and if it works well all freight cabins will be similarly equipped, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. The purpose is to make it possible for a flagman to signal his engineer when he has caught up to his train after having been back to give warning while his train was at a standstill. The caboose whistle will also be used for signaling when a stop is desired.

Arrangements have been completed at New Orleans by a company of the City of Mexico to ship 1,000 railroad ties a day to New Orleans for the use of the various railroads which are building there. The ties will all be of the zapote wood, which is harder than mahogany and which is not affected by water, says the New Orleans Picayune. Dr. Lorenzo Syper, who is representing the company, said that the wood had been tried in Mexico for ties, and it had been found that the minimum life of a tie of this wood was fifty years.

With the work that is going on along the tracks of the New York Central road in installing the electric system comes a new development of the use of the megaphone, says the New York Press. Attached to every gang of laborers who are at work on the tracks is a boy who is armed with a fine megaphone, who watches for the approach of a train. As soon as one gets as near the gang of track men as is safe he shouts a warning to them, and they pile out of the way. These boys are always Italians, and they seem to enjoy hugely the authority that is invested in them with the wide mouthed speaking trumpet.

HUSBAND UNDER ARREST

Woman Supposed to Have Been Killed by Carbolic Acid

Willimantic, Conn., Oct. 13.—Majoba Berberie, an Assyrian peddler, whose wife was found dead in bed yesterday at her home here with her mouth badly burned by a poison which the authorities say is carbolic acid, was captured last night at the house of Nathan Mains at Quarryville by Captain Richmond of the local police force.

Berberie left his wagon at Vernon Thursday night and came home by train. Yesterday he returned to Vernon by train and started in his wagon for home. On reaching Quarryville he put up at the house of Mains, intending to spend the night there. When arrested Berberie claimed not to know that his wife was dead and told the police that he had supposed her uncle, Michael Casey, who he had called, would look out for her.

It is learned that Tuesday night, when Berberie reached home, he sent for the police, saying that there were two men with his wife and that all had been drinking. The police are now looking for the two men. It has also been disclosed that the bottle which is said to have contained carbolic acid bore the label of H. P. Buell, a druggist, but that the label was blurred, as if it had been carried in a pocket for some time. Buell does not remember making the sale.

Slavery In Turpentine Fields

New York, Oct. 13.—Alleged abuses in the turpentine fields of Florida were brought out in a hearing before the commissioner of licenses. Sigmund S. Schwartz, an employment agent, was charged with having shipped Samuel Fink and about 50 other men from this city to Florida, where they were put to work under conditions of practical slavery. Fink testified that under an armed guard and a negro foreman he was compelled to perform the hardest kind of labor. Twice he attempted to escape. The first time he failed, he said, having been caught by armed men. The second time he said he contrived to elude the guards and made his way after several weeks to New York.

Record Volume of Trade

New York, Oct. 13.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says that lower temperature brought out much business in seasonable lines of wearing apparel and most reports from wholesalers tell of the largest volume of trade ever transacted. Shipping departments are limited in activity by inadequate railway facilities, and this difficulty is becoming aggravated by the free movement of grain and coal as the season advances.

OUR CUBAN POLICY

Taft Explains It to Committee of Revolutionists

WITHDRAWAL FAR OFF

Peace Commissioners to Build Up Conditions For Stable Government--Must Be Assured of Honest Elections

Havana, Oct. 13.—The United States, through its peace commissioners, is not ready to announce when it will withdraw from the island of Cuba and surrender the reins of government to the Cubans, but this action cannot be taken until the time arrives when fair elections are assured. This statement was made by Governor Taft as a sort of valedictory address to the revolutionists' committee with which the American commissioners dealt in inducing the rebels to cease hostilities and negotiate peace.

The committee had a conference lasting an hour with Governor Taft, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and Charles E. Magoon, who is to succeed Taft as provisional governor, and at its conclusion expressed satisfaction with the position taken by the provisional government.

Headed by Alfredo Zayas, the committee visited Taft for the avowed purpose of requesting him to declare the policy of the United States toward Cuba and the policy of the provisional governor concerning appointments to public offices. The Americans listened carefully to all the representations of the committee and then Taft replied pointedly that he could not outline the policy of the United States more clearly than was done in his proclamation establishing a provisional government for the island. He added that, as the representative of the United States, he was just as anxious to surrender governmental affairs to the Cubans as the Cubans were to regain them, but the peace commissioners were under the responsibility to build up conditions which would make the Cuban government a stable one.

Governor Taft would not predict when such a satisfactory condition would be reached, but he said the Cubans themselves could hasten that time if they were disposed to do so. A fair and honest election, on the results of which the Cuban people were willing to abide, Taft declared, was necessary before the United States would feel justified in withdrawing from the island.

Messrs. Zayas, Garcia and Gomez hastened to assure Taft that it was not their personal ambition to obtain public office. They declared, however, that the interests of their party demanded that the government should not be continued in the form against which they had revolted. Assurances were given the committee by Taft that Magoon would consider complaints against any official, investigate them and remove persons found unfit to hold positions of responsibility or trust, but that capable men with good records would be retained. The committee informed Taft that they intended to dissolve at once.

Last evening a committee representing many Americans in Cuba presented Taft and Bacon with an address expressing appreciation for the great services they had done for all residents of the island.

The disarmament commissioner sent to Santa Clara province have returned here and report to Taft that they have disarmed and disbanded all the forces in that province. More than 8000 men have been disbanded and 1000 rifles surrendered to the provisional government.

Only one transport, the Sumner, was available at the time the order was issued for the expedition to sail and the troops to take part in it were scattered as far west as Vancouver barracks, Wash.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Owing, it is alleged, to unpromising investments, the Ontario bank is in difficulties and arrangements have been made whereby its assets and goods have been taken over by the Bank of Montreal. The noteholders and depositors are amply secured, but the shareholders are said to stand in danger of losing a considerable amount.

Victory For Deck Officers

Baltimore, Oct. 13.—The tie-up of the steamboats of two railway companies was brought to an end late last night. LOSES HIS BIG PLANT

Moonshine King Accumulated a Fortune In Mountains

Richmond, Oct. 13.—Wayne R. Gooch, known to the revenue officers as "King of the Moonshiners," pleaded guilty in the United States circuit court to indictments charging him with conspiracy.

Judge Waddill fined him $1000 and confiscated the distillery. Gooch is said to have accumulated a fortune of $200,000 by the manufacture and sale of illicit whisky. He owns thousands of acres of land in Mecklenburg county, and maintained an armed guard around his place.

For 12 months the revenue men hovered about the outskirts of the Gooch place before they secured evidence. Gooch kept inquisitive neighbors off by riding around the outskirts of the estate every night heavily armed and firing his rifle in the air. The distillery seized had a capacity of 600 gallons.

Not Agreed as to Pure Food

Washington, Oct. 13.—Differences that may prove serious have developed in respect to the adoption of the pure food regulations. The commission formulated the proposed regulations under which the pure food and drug act is to be administered after many weeks of investigation. The commission submitted the regulations to Secretaries Wilson, Shaw and Metcalf, by whom they must be approved. It is known that some of the regulations do not meet the entire approval of all the secretaries and it will probably will be necessary to modify them.

A Conscience-Stricked Preacher

Washington, Oct. 13.—Conscience stricken, Rev. James R. Slayton, Jr., presented himself to the navy department and asked that he be arrested for deserting the navy five years ago. Slayton said that his conversion to religion and service as a minister of the gospel caused him to see the wrong he had done in leaving the service. He was ordered to report at the Washington navy yard and surrender himself to officers there. At the navy yard the commandant told Slayton he could not be held because of the statute of limitation.

Brouwer Prosecution Rests

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 13.—The prosecution has rested its case against Dr. Frank Brouwer, charged with having poisoned his wife, and the defense has begun the presentation of testimony. The state endeavored to establish that Mrs. Brouwer came to her death from the effects of arsenic administered by her husband, while the line of defense mapped out by counsel for Brouwer will be that the woman died from ptomaine poison in food she had eaten.

Switchmen's Strike Unlikely

Cleveland, Oct. 13.—P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in discussing reports that a strike of switchmen from the Pacific coast to Buffalo was contemplated, said that the talked of strike is very improbable. The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen represents a large majority of the switchmen in large switching centers and these men will not recognize a strike call from the Switchmen's union.

Republicans May Be Too Confident

New York, Oct. 13.—Chairman Woodruff, in an interview, has reiterated his fear of over-confidence on the part of Republicans in this state. He said that reports from Washington indicate that President Roosevelt is also in fear of Republican over-confidence. Woodruff declares himself much concerned about Republican registration, because it is yet far short of that two years ago.

Blind as a Bat

By Martha McCulloch-Williams

Copyright, 1906, by Ruby Douglas

Eastbrook opened its eyes very wide and caught its breath over the Taunton girl when she swept through it riding cross saddle. To be sure, the town had been reading this long time about the divided skirt, but then the town was also not exactly sure in its mind that riding its streets even upon a proper sidesaddle was not rather bold.

Of course in the country it was different. The very best young women rode there. Moreover, it had come to be a sort of proverb among the plantation folk that the hardest and most reckless riders were town girl visitors. Very few of them had any mercy upon the beasts luckless enough to carry them—this not because they were hardhearted, but from sheer ignorance and the pure animal delight of finding themselves unfettered for a time. They fretted not a little, these town bred riders, when the country folk checked speed at hills or insisted that a horse should have a chance to blow a bit after a hard gallop.

Possibly envy, the least touch, gave edge to their disapproval of Edith Taunton. Edith had a fortune and three fine saddle horses. As if that were not enough, Billy Drayton fell into a way of sharing her early gallops.

Until she came back to the old homestead Billy had not seen a sunrise once a year. It was provokingly significant, this change in him. He had been the despair of the town matchmakers. He was a governor's grandson, rich, good looking, good humored. Further, he was a squire of dames so nobly impartial nobody ever yet had been able to establish a claim to him. The people he regarded most and was readiest to serve were meek old ladies who had known his mother and very little girls.

Edith was, he insisted, only a big little girl, very lone and lorn in her big empty house. What he did not say was that he thought her coming back to it something so fine and brave he was bent on helping her fight down the loneliness and make her own social place.

This in the beginning—until the town gossips took to craning the neck, shaking the head and drawing aside the least bit when the girl came among them. Billy saw the head shaking, the drawing back, a long time before she did. She was open and unsuspicious as daylight and had no thought of treading on the corns of town propriety in anything she did. But, being also full of quick intuitions, after awhile she understood.

And then? Then only she really did set out to horrify the good gentlewomen. She drove tandem through the middle of the square, sitting up very straight, looking neither to right nor left, but pulling up at the corner by the bank to pick up Billy and take him away with her. Next week it was a card party—wholly masculine in composition, except for Edith herself and the colorless cousin who served as her companion. There were wine and cigars and a supper afterward—a very late supper.

The town thrilled with the horror of it. But not as it did a little later, when everybody knew that thereafter, upon Sunday evenings, Edith meant to be at home to her friends.

If Billy had known in time that never would have come to pass. But he had gone away for a fortnight right after the night at cards, first making Edith promise to have no more such assemblies until he was there to give her countenance and protection.

When he came back and found the mischief done, he was in a sad taking.

"I see just one way out of it—you have got to marry me, else you won't have a rag of reputation left," he said, pretending to shake her hard.

Edith made a mutinous mouth at him. "Suppose we try some other sacrificial lamb. Aren't you most too old and tough?" she asked, her eyes dancing wickedly.

Billy grinned cheerfully. "You can have carloads of 'em for the taking, nice white baa lambs, but I don't believe they'd be the least effectual," he said. "You see, what you need, really, is not a sacrifice, but a scapegoat. I'm strong enough to have your sins confessed over my head and thenceforth imputed to me."

"But scapegoats have to be sent away, out into the wilderness. I learned that much at Sunday school, and I can't have you go away," Edith protested. "Besides, I am not doing anything horrid. I shall go to church mornings just the same. As for the evenings, you know yourself other girls go to church then, mainly to have somebody see them home and stay all hours afterward making love to them. I really feel like a missionary—the boys can come here and rest or talk or do anything they please. As it is now, they have no choice at all—they must either mope at home or go out and court somebody—and that must be dreadfully wearing."

"It is," Billy said fervently, his eyes reminiscent. "But, my dear girl, you had better give it up. Get a telegram calling you away. I'll send it if your conscience is against fibbing"—

"My conscience is not against anything necessary, and you know fibs are necessary," Edith interrupted. "But I have much more conscience against backing out of anything just because I'm afraid of some old tabby cats and young ones."

"Tabby cats have claws," Billy said oracularly.

Edith looked at him doubtfully a minute. "I know. They try even to scratch you," she said. And then quickly, her eyes flaming, "They actually came here, three of them, to tell me about your past"—

"They did?" Billy's voice was deadly quiet. "And you?"

"I said it did not interest me to know about it; all I was concerned with was your future," Edith answered, her voice trembling a little, although her eyes were brave.

Billy got up and stretched himself.

"That settles it," he said. "Name the day, right off, so I can go order wedding cards."

* * * * * * * *

Edith did name the day, but not until she had stood out against him a week. She might not have given in even then but for the ordeal at church. Not only was she cut right and left—the minister preached at her—not by name, of course, but in a fashion more than unmistakable.

Billy was there, across the aisle, glum and furious. After service he half led her out, and walked away with her, his head high. But even that did not hurt like the furtive yet swaggering airs of the three men who called in the evening. There was further something of patronage about them.

Altogether they made Edith hate them, but not as she hated herself. She was full of quick kindness and had not meant hurt or affront to anybody—at least not in the beginning. Dully she wondered why her townsfolk would not understand she had come back to them because her interest lay among them and had been eager to help in all good works if only she had been permitted.

But she held up her head and laughed and jested till the latest of her callers took himself away. Then silently she held out her hand to Billy. He understood and announced an early wedding day.

It was a church wedding, with the house jammed to the last inch. After it the newly married settled back into their old ways, going a pace that kept them the talk of the town.

They were very gay and desperately unhappy. Edith could not get away from a sense that Billy had married her wholly out of chivalry. Billy? Billy was old enough to know better, but he was proving the adage that love, which may make a fool a wise man, may likewise make a wise man a fool. He tormented himself with the thought that he had taken advantage of Edith's extremity. She must know he had loved her from their very first meeting, but she was shy and proud and high with him, notwithstanding she was his dutiful wife.

He left her much to herself and took pains to make her know that she was as free as ever. Edith resented the freedom. Billy ought to understand that she wanted to obey him—make him at least that poor recompense for his sacrifice.

Thus they ate out their hearts in cross purposes, cross miscomprehensions, until Ashbel Clare came to visit them. Ashbel was reputed a dangerous person—tall and slight and handsome, with deep seeing eyes. A glamour of romance hung about him. After the first day Billy wondered, with catching breath, if he had been quite wise to fling a man like Ashbel across Edith's path.

She was clearly fascinated by him. They were forever walking about the big, scrubby garden or along the strip of lawn in full sight of passersby and all the while absorbed in talk. Edith was brighter, too—quite her old, winsome self. Ashbel seemed equally captivated. He roused himself as Billy had not seen him since they were lads together.

So the days went by, mounting into weeks, at last into a month, and Billy was in torment. He had made a grim and mannerly third for the most part of the time. Still he was sure the two had some secret understanding. He had made up his mind to endure to the end. There was no danger of dishonor. Dishonor and Edith could not come together in his mind. But when he was quite sure—if he were quite sure—he would find a way out of it. His father had died of heart disease. There were ways of ending yourself without making a scandal. He would make an end of himself gladly if only that way lay Edith's happiness.

The first thing was to make his will. Ashbel Clare surprised him at it. Billy was glad. He wanted Ashbel to know, to understand how entirely he had trusted his wife and his friend. So he thrust the paper into Clare's hand, saying gruffly:

"Read that! You see I've some decent instincts if I am half a savage."

"I see. Everything, great or small, to your wife," Ashbel said, then, with a whimsical, half dreamy smile, "Do you know that she's the most fascinating creature alive?"

"Just what she says of you!" Billy growled, signing his name with a blurred flourish.

Ashbel bent over him, laughing softly.

"The perception does credit to her mind," he said. "As for her heart, Billy, you brute, that knows no better than to belong to you wholly, and you won't see it, you blind, blind bat!"

A soft, stifled sob, the patter of swift, light feet, sounded at the door. Billy followed them, caught his wife in his arms and said, with his lips on her forehead: "Darling! Darling! If you really do love me"—

"Hush!" Edith said, with her hand over his lips. "You were a blind bat. Even jealousy could not make you see."

Mrs. Langthorne, known here as Hattie Dalton, was taken to the Quincy hospital last week from blood poisoning resulting from getting tacks in her hand while putting down a carpet. She had just moved into the house owned by Charles Jordan, near the Weymouth station. Lock jaw was feared but it is now expected she will recover and be at home shortly.

The Republican town committee announces that feeling bound in honor to fulfil the agreement entered into by the committees of Braintree, Holbrook and Avon, that the nomination for Representative should be made by Holbrook. At a joint meeting of the committees of the three towns held at Avon on Thursday, Oct. 11, it was unanimously voted to support Louis E. Flye of Holbrook for representative from the Eighth Norfolk district.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

In line with the superlatively excellent vaudeville shows of the past few weeks at Keith's will be the program arranged for next week. It will be headed by two features of more than ordinary interest—George Evans and Master Gabriel and company. George Evans stands today as the leading monologist on the stage, a burnt-cork comedian whose humor is keen and of the most enjoyable kind. He has recently made a record at Keith's theatre, Philadelphia, that has never been equalled in America. Master Gabriel, who first won fame in the varieties as a member of the team of Lamar and Gabriel and later became a star in musical comedy as the original "Buster Brown," is to appear in a new sketch called "Auntie's Visit." He plays the role of "Buster."

BOSTON THEATRE.

At the Boston Theatre, for two weeks, beginning next Monday evening and including Wednesday and Saturday matinees, Messrs. Sam S. and Lee Shubert will offer their big New York Casino success, "The Social Whirl." a musical comedy that has been playing to immense business throughout the entire spring and summer at the Casino, coming to Boston with the original cast and production. The cast will include all the New York Casino favorites who helped to drive dull care away from the sweltering New Yorkers all summer. In addition to Adele Ritchie, Charles Ross, Maude Raymond, Ada Lewis, Frederic Bond, who have the principal parts, there are such well-known artists as Walter Fairman Dyett, Irene Hobson, Williard Curtis, Elizabeth Brice, Mark E. Heisey, Edward Cravin, Charles Halton, Caroline Locke and a Casino beauty chorus of eighty. The musical construction of the piece is of the strictly metropolitan style, with plenty of dash and character to liven the melodies.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

For the third season under the management of the Boston stage society, the Castle Square Theatre has begun its new year most auspiciously. As the leading home theatre of Boston, it is the only playhouse in that city with a repertory drawn from the best and most popular drama of all ages, and the ability of its stock company, the perfection of its stage management, and the careful attention to all artistic details, is gradually bringing to it and securing for it the patronage of all theatre goers. Although its productions are staged merely for a single week, they are put on with as great care and expense as if they were to run the season through. The plans for the next few weeks at the Castle Square have just been announced, and the list of plays reveals extraordinary variety. It runs as follows: Oct. 15, A Temperance Town; Oct. 22, Sardou's Theodora; Oct. 29, Julius Caesar; Nov. 5, Trilby; Nov. 12, Monsieur Beaucaire; Nov. 19, Quo Vadis.

TODAY'S COURT.

John Hill was sent to the State farm for drunkenness at Milton.

GRAND FIRE EXHIBITION

Quick Time Made In Raising Ladders And Laying Lines of Hose

Seldom, if ever, has there been a larger crowd in City Square, at one time, than on Saturday afternoon. The cause of the assembling of this large crowd was to witness the parade, review and exhibition of the Quincy Fire Department. That they were well repaid for their visit was very manifest. It was one of the best things of the kind ever held in the city. It also showed to the citizens of Quincy that they have a Fire department of which they may well feel proud, as well as a department whose efficient services may be depended upon in case of fire.

It has been several years since the whole department was assembled in City Square at one time, and it was a surprise to many to learn that the city had such a large fire fighting force. The firemen showed themselves to be a gentlemanly force of men, and that while a good natured rivalry existed between the various companies, they would work in harmony in case their services were demanded to extinguish a fire.

The crowd began to gather a little after 1 o'clock, and an hour later the square was black with people. In front of City Hall was Mayor Thompson and most of the members of the City Council, while scattered about the square was Chief of Police Burrell, Lieut. McKay, Sergeant Barry and practically all of the permanent Police force, They did good work in keeping the crowd back and in preventing anyone from being run down and injured by the prancing horses of the department.

It was exactly 2 minutes and thirty second after 2 o'clock when Supt. of Wires Gavin snapped in one round of Box 26. This was a signal for all of the apparatus of the city to start for City Square. Everybody supposed they were to make the run against time, and hundreds of watches were pulled out to time them. Chief Litchfield, however, had given orders for the drivers to take it easy and not to speed their horses until they entered the square. This was a wise move for it allowed the different pieces to enter the square in a spectacular manner.

Chief Litchfield and his driver were the first to appear. They came leisurely down Hancock street. Closely behind him came Engineer Packard. Chief Litchfield drew up in front of City Hall and Engineer Packard took a position on the opposite side of the street, in front of the First church.

The first piece of apparatus to arrive was Combination 1 which was followed thirty seconds later by the Steamer and Combination H. & L. 1. As the Central station Combination H. & L. dashed by City Hall going north, Combination H. & L. 2 dashed by going south, the two passing each other in front of City Hall. Then came H. & L. 3 and Hose 3 of West Quincy, Hose 2 of Wollaston, Hose 4 of Quincy Point and Combination 2 of Atlantic. All had now arrived but Combination 3 of Houghs Neck.

Closely following the central station apparatus was a relief hose wagon, which after passing City hall turned down Coddington street and went to Houghs Neck to cover that district while its piece of apparatus was absent. At 2.20 or 17 and one-half minutes after the sounding of the box, the last addition to the fighting force, Combination 3 from Houghs Neck drew into the square.

Chief Litchfield had announced that he would present blue ribbons to the best one, two and three-horse hitches, and at the last minute he selected Fred F. French, Calvin Fletcher and Dr. Francis Abele as judges. They announced their awards as soon as all the apparatus had arrived. For the one-horse hitch the ribbon went to Hose 4 of Quincy Point; for the two-horse hitch to Combination H. & L. 2 of Wollaston, and the three-horse hitch to the Steamer team.

The next move on the program was the parade. The line formed on Chestnut street in the following order:

Lieut. Police, D. R. McKay
Officers Goodhue, Kelliher, Boutin, Johnson, Crooker, Lyons, Holloran and Bishop
CHIEF AMOS L. LITCHFIELD
Engineer Nylen
Engineers Packard and O'Brien
Combination Hose 1
John Faircloth, driver
Steamer 1
James Connell, driver
Combination H. & L., 1
Lieut. William H. Corcoran, driver
H. & L. 3
Edward Flaherty, driver
Hose 3
Jeremiah Lyons, driver
Combination H. & L. 2
Frank Genero, driver
Hose 2
James E. Dinegan, driver
Combination 2
Faxon Billings, driver
Hose 4
A. L. Mead, driver
Combination 3
James Malone, driver

The parade was a short one. The apparatus passed City Hall turned into Washington street, thence into Temple street to Hancock street.

LADDER DRILLS.

Then came the drills. The first was raising 45-foot ladders by Combination H. & L. 1 and 2. No. 2 had the first trial. At the sound of a whistle the ladder was pulled from the truck and raised on the First church and ladderman Fred Bent placed on the top round. The time was 42 1-2 seconds.

No. 1 did not do the trick as quick, for it was 58 3 4 seconds before Murdock Martin reached the top round. This company had hard luck with its ladder caused by the poles becoming twisted.

The next exhibition, and the most thrilling one of the day was by H. & L. 3 of West Quincy. They raised an old fashioned 65 foot Bangor ladder. At the sound of the whistle the cumberson ladder was pulled to the ground. As soon as it was placed in an upright position John J. Joyce sprang up the ladder like a cat. By the time the extention had been drawn up in position he was near the top. The ladder was then in a upright position not having been placed against the church. Joyce was then nearly to the top, and the now top heavy ladder begun to sway back and forth and there were some who expected to see him dashed to the ground. A skilled crew were handling it, however, and it went against the church. The next instant Joyce took off his hat and waved it from the top round, while the crowd cheered. The trick had been done in 59 seconds.

Brooms tied with a bright red ribbon were presented to Combination H. & L. 2 for making the quickest time, and to H. & L. 3 for its fine exhibition.

QUICK STREAMS.

Then came the trial of speed in laying two lines of hose and getting water through them. The apparatus was stationed in front of City Hall, and at the sound of the whistle would dash down Hancock street to the hydrant opposite the south gateway of the Hancock cemetery, lay 100 feet of hose, break coupling and lay 100 feet north, couple on the nozzles and get water on both lines.

This was one of the best exhibitions of the afternoon. The dash down the street at top speed was very thrilling, and the whole thing called for rapid work as well as skilled men.

Hose 4 and Combination 2 had hard luck. The former had made excellent time in laying its first line and stood a good show of winning the broom. By the rules the company was supposed to uncouple its 100 feet of hose after it fell from the wagon. As the second line dropped from the wagon the hose dropped apart of its own accord. This disqualified them.

The hard luck of Combination 2 was that Driver Billings did not have the right location of the hydrant. The first time he drew up his horses north of it, and the second time he ran by it. This lost the company several valuable seconds.

Combination 3 was also a little unfortunate from the fact that the water was sent through the second line of hose before the nozzle had been coupled on.

The best time at this trial was made by Driver Faircloth and the members of Combination 1. They gave a fine exhibition. He had hardly turned his team about after laying the first line to make the run laying the second line, when water was going through the first line.

All of the drivers showed remarkable skill in handling their horses, a noble looking set of animals, who showed that they were well cared for.

The time made by the several companies at this trial was as follows:

Combination 1, 54 seconds.
Hose 4, 58 3-4 seconds.
Hose 2, 1 minute, 5 1-4 seconds.
Combination 3, 1 minute, 17 seconds.
Hose 3, 1 minute, 27 seconds.
Combination 2, 1 minute, 27 seconds.

The broom for the best time at this trial was given to Combination 1.

Everything had now been tried out but the steamer. She was taken to the hydrant and gave an exhibition of long distance playing.

The trials came to an end shortly after 4 o'clock, and at 4.08 the recall sounded, and the pieces of apparatus left City Square for their several stations.

Everyone expressed themselves as highly pleased with the afternoon's exhibition and went home with a better feeling of security against fire than they ever had before.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

Lamp Overturned And Woman Burned

Mrs. Mary Sullivan of Brackett street is at the City Hospital suffering from severe burns about the arms and breast, caused by a lamp being overturned at her home early Sunday morning. The overturning of the lamp according to the story of the police was due to her son James who came home drunk.

It is alleged that the son came home in the care of two young men, and that soon after he entered the house the lamp was overturned. The lamp was on the table, and near it Mrs. Sullivan stood partly dressed. When the lamp was overturned her clothing took fire. The young men who had taken the son home rushed into the house and extinguished the flames, which besides burning Mrs. Sullivan had communicated to the furniture.

Officer Bishop was notified and he called the patrol wagon. City Physician Hallowell was also called and after dressing Mrs. Sullivan's burns sent her to the City Hospital. The son was locked up for drunkenness. Dr. Hallowell said if the shock was not too severe for her age that she would recover.

The son says that he does not remember anything about the lamp being overturned. In court this morning Sullivan was fined $15 for drunkenness and was committed in default of payment. Should his mother's injuries prove serious he will probably be arraigned upon a more serious complaint.

Mrs. Dickey Passes Away.

Mrs. Abby Brackett Dickey, wife of Parker Dickey, passed away Saturday evening at her home, 12 Thayer street, after a long illness, aged 35 years. Mrs. Dickey, who was formerly Miss Abby Brackett, was for many years connected with the Assessors department at City Hall, where she received the highest praise from the State authorities for the neat, careful and accurate way in which her books were kept. Mrs. Dickey was the daughter of the late Charles C. Brackett and was married just after the close of the war with Spain to Parker Dickey, who during the war was in command of a revenue cutter along the coast of Cuba. She leaves a husband and one child. Funeral services will be held from her late home on Thayer street, Wednesday afternoon.

After twenty-two years absence from this city Warren Rogers, now of Allston, renewed old acquaintances in this city on Saturday and with his wife and son witnessed the firemen's parade.

—Georgia will spend $30,000 on her representation at the Jamestown Exposition.

—June 6, 1907, will be Massachusetts day at the Jamestown Expostion.

Death of Old Harvard Graduate

Rev. Robert H. Harlow, a retired Baptist clergyman, died Sunday evening at the residence of Capt. Samuel J. Higgins, 74 Lincoln avenue. Mr. Harlow sustained a shock Saturday morning, a week ago. Since that time he failed rapidly, although at one time he seemed considerable brighter.

Mr. Harlow who was born in Boston in May, 1817, and was the eldest of eight children of Asa and Sarah Warren Harlow. He was graduated from Harvard college in the class of 1841 with Col. Thomas Wentworth-Higginson, the only surviving member of that class.

After graduating he became a tutor in the family of Hon. Amos A. Lawrence and other well known Boston families. Later he entered the Newton Theological School where he was ordained a clergyman. He was pastor of a parish on the Cape and at several other places for brief periods. His last parish was in Calais, Me., from which he retired nearly forty years ago.

Mr. Harlow was a highly educated man, and was the master of seven languages, and he was also particularly fond of astronomy. He came to Quincy nineteen years ago, and has made his home here ever since. During the first of his residence in Quincy he made his home with his brother, the late Dr. Harlow of South street. He remained with him seven years and then removed to Wollaston.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Think of New York being governed by the Evening Journal!

In New York all mankind is divided into two classes. Those who think Murphy owns Hearst and those who think Hearst owns Murphy.

Those who made their weekly visit to the High school building on Sunday noted some progress, but at the same time the outlook was discouraging. Who is to blame? Will the city ever have a High school building?

Now that it is decided that the city must pay $42,055.95 and interest from Oct. 8 as its part of the cost of the Weymouth Fore River bridge, the City Council should meet the obligation promptly, and if a loan is necessary, make it for a short time. Even five years' interest will add $7,000 to $8,000 to Quincy's part of the cost of the bridge, and postpone other improvements.

One hundred dollars a day for the commissioners appointed to apportion the cost of the Weymouth Fore river bridge comes pretty near being robbery. It is not surprising that at election time we hear considerable about government of irreponsible commissions, graft, etc. The State should be able to secure capable men who would consider it an honorary appointment to serve on a commission, and would be content to have expenses paid; say $10 per day.

The towns at interest have other grievances in this case, for they are called upon to pay a large interest charge for an unnecessary delay. The commission could have done all its work as satisfactorily in a month's time. The total cost of the bridge is therefore $127,442.29 instead of $100,000.00.

The stores in City Square report a good business on Saturday, the parade of the Fire department attracting a large number of people.

A leak was discovered in the gas main on Granite street Sunday afternoon and a gang of men was promptly set at work to repair it.

W. A. Bradford has been successful in securing the contract for the plumbing work at the new Telephone building on Merrymount road.

After an absence of seven years in New Mexico, Ernest Dunn is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. James C. Dunn of Washington street, Quincy Point.

Bids will be opened by Commissioner Burke this afternoon for supplying furnishings for the High school. Thursday bids will be opened for constructing the new school building at Atlantic.

The alarm from Box 32 at 9.38 Sunday night was a false alarm. As one of the firemen was running to the box he met a man running away from it. Who he was the fireman did not know. It is thought that he was the party who gave the alarm. The recall was quickly sounded.

SHOT IN BREAST

Game Warden Probably Fatally Wounded While on Duty

GUN FIRED POINT BLANK

Tragedy Results From Attempt to Arrest Two Men For Violation of Law--Assailant Says He Acted In Self-Defense

Rowley, Mass., Oct. 15.—Adam Rausch, an Essex county game warden, residing at Lawrence, was shot and, it is thought, fatally wounded, while attempting to arrest Patrick Cahill for violation of the Sunday game laws in the woods in the northerly part of this town. Cahill, who claims that he shot in self-defense, and that he did not know Rausch was an officer, was arrested.

Quail and partridge abound in these woods and the game wardens have had much trouble, especially on Sundays, with hunters who have come from nearby towns and cities in search of this game in violation of the law, which prohibits hunting of any kind on Sunday. The woods are on the estate owned by Richard B. George, by whom Cahill was employed.

Warden Rausch and Warden W. W. Nixon were patrolling the woods when they came upon Cahill and Israel Manchester with guns in their hands and having in their possession a rabbit and a squirrel which they had shot. Nixon soon placed Manchester under arrest, and Cahill, who was about 15 feet away, was told by Rausch to consider himself under arrest.

Turning quickly, Cahill raised his gun and fired point blank at Rausch, the charge of birdshot tearing a hole in his right breast. Nixon ran to Dummer academy, a short distance away, and summoned assistance, also notifying the authorities of Newburyport and Rowley of the shooting. Dr. Snow was soon at the side of the wounded man and, seeing his critical condition, ordered his removal to the Anna Jaques hospital at Newburyport.

Upon realizing that he had seriously wounded the warden, Cahill ran to the George farm, a mile or more distant, and told the people there that he had shot a man. He then remained about the premises until the arrival of the officers from Newburyport, by whom he was taken into custody and later to the jail at Newburyport. He offered no resistance, and claimed that he had acted in self-defense. He said that the wardens had no uniforms on, and that he did not know they were officers; that one of the men flourished a revolver at him and he thought his own life was in danger.

Manchester was also taken to Newburyport jail, charged with violation of the game laws, and it is probable that he will be held as a witness in the shooting case.

Cahill is about 32 years old, and has worked on the George estate about two months, coming there from Worcester. He is unmarried. Rausch has a wife and two children in Lawrence.

Deputy Warden Nixon says that he (Nixon) showed his badge and called on the two men to submit to arrest and that while Manchester did so quietly, Cahill put his gun to his shoulder and fired. Nixon denies that Cahill was threatened with a revolver. Manchester was bailed out by his employer.

Couple Found Dead In Boat

Detroit, Oct. 15.—The bodies of Steven A. Stuart and Mrs. Harry Cadwell, his sister-in-law, who had been missing since they left Ecorse on a fishing trip last Wednesday, were found yesterday in their boat in a marsh. Dr. Drouillard, who examined the bodies, said that although he could find no external evidence of poison to bear out any suspicious signs of suicide, the couple were so warmly clad he did not think they could have perished from exhaustion.

Rebels Stocking Up Arsenals

Warsaw, Oct. 15.—Shortly after a consignment of several thousand revolvers, purchased by the Russian government in Berlin, arrived at the Warsaw freight yards, an artillery officer and a squad of soldiers appeared, presented the bills of lading and an authorization to receive the weapons, which were loaded upon a wagon and carried away. It later developed that the soldiers were disguised revolutionists and the documents forged.

Car and Fire Patrol Wagon Met

New York, Oct. 15.—Seven firemen were seriously injured, two of them, it is believed, fatally, when a trolley car struck and upset a fire patrol wagon last night. The injured men were members of the salvage corps. The captain and his six men were thrown violently to the pavement. All were removed to a hospital.

Russians Seize Another Sealer

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 15.—Advices from Japan report the seizure of another Japanese sealing schooner by the Russian cruiser Kolima for illegal sealing at Copper islands. The Tafuka Maru and Toyo Maru were previously seized by a cruiser and confiscated.

New Orleans, Oct. 15.—A wireless message from Bluefields, Nic., to The Times Democrat, says that a severe hurricane in Port Limon, C. R., has done $2,500,000 damage to rubber and banana crops, besides other property damage.

FIRE ON STEAMER

Several Hundred Chinese Either Burned to Death or Drowned

Hong Kong, Oct. 15.—The fire on the steamer Hankow, which was burned at her dock here early Sunday, with the loss of the lives of several hundred Chinese, was brought under control only after the shell and hull of the Hankow remained. The fire-fighters recovered 75 corpses. Many of them were huddled together and only singed, while others were incinerated beyond recognition. A large number of the 2000 Chinese aboard are supposed to have been drowned by jumping into the bay. Of the cargo, 200 bales of raw silk were saved, but badly damaged by water. The remainder of the cargo was totally destroyed.

There are many theories as to the cause of the fire. The first is that the fire was caused by the overturning of the lantern of a Chinese boarding house runner, who came aboard seeking customers. The second was that an opium smoker accidentally set fire to matting. The third is that it was caused by the crossing of electric wires. A fourth theory, and one that is considered the most probable, is that the fire was incendiary and was the outgrowth of the boycott against British river boats.

A majority of the victims were women. The company owning the Hankow lost three other steamers during the recent typhoon.

Return Must Be Compulsory

Halifax, Oct. 15.—James B. Lehnemann, the Boston man who was arrested here in connection with the Chinese smuggling cases in the United States, has refused to return to the United States unless his return is ordered by the Canadian government. Chief of Police Power states that unless the United States government takes some definite action in the case of Lehnemann, the prisoner will be set at liberty today.

Murder of Family of Five

Houston, Mo., Oct. 15.—Barner Parsons, a farmer, his wife and three children were murdered near Licking, Mo. Joda Hamilton has been arrested and is said to have confessed to the murder. Parsons had sold his farm and crops to Hamilton, and it is alleged that the men quarreled over the terms of the sale. Parsons was found shot to death and the mother and three children had been killed with a club.

Britain Reducing Naval Expenses

London, Oct. 15.—The Standard says the government purposes, before the end of this year, to remove 20 efficient ships from active duty in order to economize for an active fleet. These ships will be placed in home reserve, each with the nucleus of a crew on board. The entire royal sovereign class, eight fine vessels, will be placed in reserve without crews, and four armored cruisers will be laid off.

Woman Carried Out Her Threat

Covington, Ky., Oct. 15.—Dr. Fred W. Kolthoff was shot and mortally wounded by Mrs. Ada M. Mahaffey at the home of Walter Unger in a suburb of Covington. Mrs. Mahaffey previously had threatened to kill Kolthoff, whom she claimed had ruined her health by giving her wrong medicines. Mrs. Mahaffey was taken to jail. She said she was glad she had done the shooting.

Undelivered Order Caused Disaster

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 15.—Three railroad men are dead and another will die as the result of a head-on collision between a through fast freight and a light engine near Winnsboro. PLANS OF MAGOON

Solely Responsible For Affairs In Cuba For the Present

SELECTION OF A CABINET

Appointment of Officials Is Indefinitely Postponed--Liberals Give Peace Commissioners a Hearty Farewell

Havana, Oct. 15.—Charles E. Magoon's first day as governor of Cuba passed busily, but quietly. The palace was singularly still, compared with the eventful days of the past regime.

Governor Magoon says that he is looking forward with confidence to a peaceful administration. He expresses the warmest appreciation of the work accomplished by Messrs. Taft and Bacon, both in the pacification of the island and laying the foundation for a smooth and successful system of provisional government. The governor sees no reason to anticipate further sudden changes in the situation or any especially sensational incident.

Governor Magoon has announced his decision to postpone the appointment of cabinet officers indefinitely. His intention is to consider thoroughly the conditions and needs of each department, and this can be better accomplished at the outset by having the subordinate heads report direct to himself. By this method he believes he will be better enabled to select the ministers best fitted for the respective posts.

Asked whether he was likely to permit partisan political expediency to influence cabinet or other appointments, Magoon replied that such considerations might rule to some extent, since it certainly would be impolitic to appoint to high office men to whom a considerable portion of the people was opposed. Efficiency and suitability, however, would be the main considerations.

There will be kept a strict accounting of the expenses incurred by the American army of occupation as are chargeable to Cuba. These will include only such expenses as would not have been incurred but for the coming of the troops to the island.

General Bell intends to distribute a battalion of engineers throughout the island for the purpose of verifying, correcting and completing the large army map of Cuba begun during the former intervention, but not completed except for the provinces of Havana and Matanzas.

Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, President Roosevelt's peace commissioners, completed their labors here Saturday and in the afternoon departed for the United States on board the battleship Louisiana. They were followed to sea and acclaimed by many Liberal and ex-revolutionary leaders, but the former government officials showed no disposition to join in the farewell, either collectively or individually, and no prominent Moderates appeared at the palace or the wharf to participate in the leave-taking.

The principal event of the day preceding the departure of Taft and Bacon was the taking over of the government by Magoon, which was done by the issuance of a proclamation declaring that he had entered upon and would discharge the functions of government as directed by President Roosevelt by virtue of the authority of the Platt amendment.

The Louisiana passed out first, thundering a salute of 21 guns to the Cuban flag flying at her mainmast, with her white-clad crew manning the rails and the band playing the Cuban national hymn. The salute was returned by the Cabanas fortress.

In the wake of the flagship came the Virginia, carrying General Funston, and then the New Jersey. Afterwards came the army transports Niagara and Seneca and a flotilla of gayly decorated launches, carrying mostly leading Liberals and ex-rebels, flying Liberal banners. The battleships were escorted to the harbor mouth, where the flotilla whistled farewells, the warships responding, and Secretary Taft and his party waving their hats and handkerchiefs.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The marine hospital service has been advised of the appearance of three new cases of yellow fever at Havana and of a case at Cienfuegos and another at Guines.

Explosion on Yacht Kills Three

New York, Oct. 15.—A steampipe exploded on the steam yacht Colonia, owned by Frederick G. Bourne, as she lay in Oyster Bay cove. All five sailors aboard the yacht were frightfully scalded by escaping steam and three died soon after being taken to a hospital. The other two will probably survive. The explosion occurred just as the Colonia was about to go out of commission for the season.

Stoessel Becomes a Civilian

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—An imperial order giving notice of the retirement of Lieutenant General Stoessel on the ground of ill-health has appeared. The trial of Stoessel for surrendering Port Arthur to the Japanese has been going on since Sept. 29. It has been asserted that he would resign from the army because he preferred to face the court martial in civil garb instead of in uniform.

WOOD'S GARRISON

Barely Enough to Defend Manila Against Serious Attack

WOULD HAVE MORE MEN

Widespread Lawlessness and Resistance to Government Exists In Samar--Report on Conditions In the Philippines

Washington, Oct. 15.—An argument against the reduction in the number of troops in the Philippine islands is made by Major General Wood, commanding that division, in his annual report. The total garrison on June 30 last numbered 20,043 men.

"In case of foreign disturbance," says Wood, even with all our troops concentrated at Manila, the force available would be barely sufficient to defend it from serious attack. Moreover, a strong garrison should be maintained here until conditions pertaining to the civil government are well established and the animosities and disappointments incident to the building up of a local government under new and perhaps strained conditions have passed away."

General Wood suggests adding some artillery to the present garrison and sending to the Philippines one squadron of each of the cavalry regiments in the United States. The policy has been adopted of concentrating white troops in the immediate vicinity of the large Moro centers and holding small outposts with scouts, rendering it possible to move comparatively large commands into hostile country without uncovering a number of posts, and, at the same time, providing the white troops with good barracks and quarters.

The department of the Viscayas has been in good order except in the island of Samar, through most of which have operated a large number of ignorant fanatics of a low type, known as Pulajanes, whose principal object seemed to have been to destroy the coast towns and people "in the most ruthless and brutal manner."

General Wood says the movement originated in the unfair treatment of the people of the interior by traders and people of the coast towns. A widespread condition of lawlessness and resistance to the government exists in this island. Seventeen companies of scouts and a number of companies of infantry are now carrying on the campaign and the Pulajanes are operating in small bodies, seldom making any serious attempt to resist troops, so it is believed their operations will soon be brought to an end.

General Wood points out that there are many officers in the service who entered during the war with Spain and later and are not a type desired in time of peace. Also there are many field officers too old for their positions. A man past 50 years of age in a subordinate position, he says, will not fill very efficiently an important position involving responsibility in his remaining years of service. Deserving colonels having less than five years to serve should be promoted and retired, for the policy of making general officers of men with only a year or two of active service ahead of them would take the initiative and energy out of the best army ever created, he declares.

General Wood, while commending the present administration of the quartermasters' department, severely criticises the past administration, saying that great embarrassment and much delay in construction resulted from the confusion which existed as to barracks and quarters fund account, for which there was no excuse whatever.

The emergency ration has not been a success in the Philippines. The great bulk of those sent there have been condemned and the men will not use them unless under great emergency. A reduced ration of bacon, hard-tack and coffee is recommended.

General Wood recommends repeating shotguns and ammunition, four for each company, advocates buckshot as used by the constabulary against bolo rushes and service in the brush; supplying troops with bolos when engaged in the jungle country to hack their way through the heavy vines and bush. Hand grenades are also much needed in service against the Moros. The battalions are being made tribal, with the double purpose of having only one dialect for the commanding officer to learn and to insure the loyalty of the scouts by assigning them to service among other tribes.

General Wood recommends the creation of a militia artillery to man the seacoast defenses at short notice; the substitution of the back-pack instead of the blanket roll and the dispatch of a number of officers to Japan and China to acquire the language there. "It is highly probable," he says, "that our position in the Philippines will render it important that we should have a number of officers familiar with these languages."

WORLD CHAMPIONS

Chicago Americans Wrest Victory From Their Local Rivals

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The Chicago club of the American Baseball league became the champion of the world by winning yesterday's game, 8 to 3, against the local club of the National league. The game was the sixth of the series and the fourth victory for the Americans.

On top of their regular share of the receipts, the champion Sox were $15,000 richer 10 minutes after the game ended. President Comiskey wrote out a check for $15,000, which he handed to Manager Jones to divide among his men. Comiskey paid Jones and his men a glowing tribute.

For the six games 90,855 paid admissions were registered, and it cost the fans who saw the games just $106,550. Each club is richer by $31,246 and the National commission is $10,654 to the good from the series.

The greatest baseball crowd in Chicago's history came out to see the game. The throng which surged around the White Sox grounds and stormed the gates and fences was estimated at about 50,000. Less than half of that number could be accommodated, and two full hours before the game began the gates were closed.

When the last Cub was retired the scene that presented itself simply beggared description. The fans who had been half crazy during the game lost themselves altogether.

Double Murder by Highwayman

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 15.—Two men were murdered early Sunday by a highwayman. Conductor Samuel and Motorman Tenny were sitting inside their electric car and Samuel was counting his night's receipts, when a man, with a handkerchief tied over the lower part of his face, entered the car, carrying a revolver. Tenny struck the bandit over the head with his controller. The robber thereupon shot Tenny and escaped in the darkness. While searching for the robber the dead body of William P. Trubody, a night watchman, was found nearby. He had evidently tried to stop the fleeing highwayman.

Madison Square Church Dedicated

New York, Oct. 15.—The new Madison Square Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Dr. Parkhurst is the pastor, was dedicated with impressive ceremonies. In his dedicatory sermon Parkhurst paid high tribute to the genius of Stanford White, the architect, whose final achievement was the designing of the new church. He made no reference to the tragic death of White. The new edifice is flanked by a 15-story office building on one side, while a short distance away rises the lofty tower of Madison Square Garden. The church is built of buff brick and terra-cotta upon a base of white marble.

International Balloon Race

Berlin, Oct. 15.—In a breeze blowing 15 miles an hour, 17 balloons started in the international race for the cup offered by Emperor William. They were sent up from Tegel, six miles from Berlin. Fully 100,000 persons assembled to see the race. The balloons will probably land in Silesia or beyond. The victory will go to the cleverest handler of ballast.

Folk Converted by Bryan

Farmington, Mo., Oct. 15.—Governor Folk, who has given public expression of his opposition to government ownership of railroads, has come out in advocacy of a policy of government supervision similar to the present control of national banks by the federal government. Folk traveled with Mr. Bryan and spoke from the same platform.

Taking Nothing For Granted

Washington, Oct. 15.—Speaker Cannon and Representative Watson of Indiana had an hour's talk with the president last night. They told the president that the Republicans will have a comfortable majority in the next house, adding, however, that they were taking nothing for granted, but were working for it.

Meyer Leaves St Petersburg

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—American Ambassador Meyer has left here on a flying trip to Odessa, Sebastopol and the Crimea. He is accompanied by Major Gibson, the military attache, who will inspect military conditions in Russia. Meyer's trip is devoid of political significance.

MAN WITH A RIFLE

Sought the Life of One Charged With Assault on Woman

Presque Isle, Me., Oct. 15.—While Deputy Sheriff Muson was waiting at the railroad station here for a train for Houlton with a prisoner named Joseph Baker, who was arrested for a brutal assault on a young woman, a determined attempt was made to kill Baker.

Indignation over the assault for which Baker was arrested has run high and there was a crowd of people at the railroad station to see the prisoner and George Wright was seen pushing his way through the throng armed with a rifle.

Wright is said to have threatened to kill Baker and to have tried to level his rifle at him, but bystanders assisted the deputy in overpowering the man and took away the rifle. In the scrimmage the officer's hand was slightly injured and a bystander received a cut in the face. Baker was finally landed in the train and started for the jail in Houlton. Wright was placed under arrest and locked up.

Baker was captured at his home an hour after an assault had been committed on Miss Daisy Sloat. She was on her way home, walking through an unfrequented street, when she was attacked and knocked down several times by an unknown man. Her screams finally attracted the attention of persons living in a nearby house and her assailant fled. Baker was later identified as the author of the assault, and in court was bound over to the grand jury, probable cause being found.

Champions Make It Seven Straight

The champion Four River team continue their unbroken record of victories in the Merrimac Valley league, having seven to their credit now. They played at Lynn on Saturday and shut out the home team by a score of 8 to 0. For 25 minutes the Lynn team played a good defensive game, but after that they were at the mercy of the visitors, who had no difficulty in securing eight goals. Mr. Connor of Andover was referee.

At Lowell the Bunting team was defeated by the Riverdales 2 to 1.

Another Victory For McGregors

The McGregor football team won again on Saturday in the Merrimac Valley league by defeating the Bostonians on the Ward Three playgrounds. The match was closely contested, even closer than the score shows as the home team is indebted to Fairweather, one of the visitors, for one goal, when he accidentally put the ball through the goal. The other two goals for the McGregors were made by Tom Robertson and Roe who played left outside. Leive, the left outside of the Bostonians, made the only goal for his team. Mr. Campbell of the Fore Rivers was the referee, and the linesmen were Smith and Johnson.

Pacific Coast Rates.

Until the end of October only, the Canadian Pacific Railway will sell Colonist tickets to Pacific Coast points at low rates, for example, $49.90 from Boston, with correspondingly low rates from other stations in New England;

Tourist cars are run weekly to the North Pacific Coast, accommodating passengers for the Northwest, British Columbia, Washington and Oregon. Also to Chicago, where direct connections are made for California points.

An exceptional opportunity is thus offered anyone contemplating a transcontinental trip in the near future, and they will make no mistake in using the improved tourist car service of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Full details regarding tourist car accommodations, rates and train service, can be obtained upon application to F. R. Perry, Dist. Pass. Agt, 362 Washington St., Boston.

Colonial Hall Party.

About fifty boys and girls had a delightful time early Saturday evening at Colonial hall, being the guests of Paul and Maurice Blackmur, sons of ex-City Solicitor and Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur of Elm street. The hours were 4.30 to 8.30. The young people found the hall prettily decorated with United States flags and flags of the international code. The children were mystified by feats of sleight of hand, and enjoyed dancing and games. Refreshments were served. The event will long be remembered with pleasure.

Dancing School.

Miss Corlew will have two classes in dancing at Wollaston this season; one for beginners to open tomorrow afternoon and one for advanced class to open on the evening of Oct. 25. His Bride the Queen Of the Prairies

The consumation of an old romance took place Friday, Oct. 12, at the "Little Church Around the Corner," New York, when Mr. Arthur H. Paterson of Milestone Sack, Canada, formerly of Quincy, Mass., was married to Miss Marguerite I. Corning of Whoop Up, Alberta, Canada. Miss Corning is the youngest daughter of J. Corning, the largest ranch owner in the Canadian North West. Three weeks ago Mr. Paterson took charge of fifteen car loads of stock consigned to England, and landed them all safely in Jersey City, a feat seldom performed by the oldest cow-puncher in the business.

Miss Corningis known as the "Queen of the Prairie" on account of her expert horsemanship and is revered by all the "cow punchers" on the ranch. On his last western trip President Roosevelt said she was the greatest horsewoman he had ever seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Paterson started on their honeymoon Sunday. They will visit Dutch Guiana and Brazil, and will make their home at Carlsbadt, Montana.

Free Connections Not Free Stoves

Manager Nichols of the Citizens Gas Co. says that the statement that the gas companies in the suburbs of Boston furnish gas stoves free to customers is incorrect. He says that some twelve years ago, during the gas war between the Boston and Brookline gas companies, some stoves were furnished consumers without cost. Since that time, however, a charge has been made for stoves by all companies, and that today there is not a company in the state that furnishes free stoves. This company does however made connections with houses within thirty feet of the street line free.

Mr. Nichols further said that it was the desire of the Citizens Gas Co. to give the very best service possible. The company has a corps of skilled men in its employ, and all complaints were promptly investigated. It desired that at any time when stoves or lights were not working properly that they be reported immediately.

Fine and Sentence For J. H. Fisher

The continued cases of John H. Fisher, who created a disturbance on a railroad train a week ago, was heard in the district court this morning. The evidence showed that Fisher was drunk when he left Boston and that besides assaulting the rear brakeman he destroyed the rear signal lights of the train and behaved in a disorderly manner.

He was arraigned upon four complaints; disorderly conduct on a railroad train, assault of William Good the brakeman, assault on Officer Goodhue, and for destroying train tools.

The court said that it was sorry that the statutes did not provide any penalty for destroying train tools, and this complaint was dismissed. The complaint for assault on Officer Goodhue was placed on file. The court then imposed a fine of $15 for assault on brakeman Good and imposed a sentence of thirty days in jail for disorderly conduct on the cars. He appealed.

Premeditated Murder Of Quincy Woman

Alexander McEwan, aged 30 years until recently employed at the Fore River works, entered the restaurant on Bulfinch street Monday afternoon, and fired three shots into the body of his wife, Annie, who was employed in the restaurant as waitress. She was seriously wounded.

After shooting his wife he turned the revolver upon himself, but it failed to discharge.

The McEwans came to Quincy about a year ago. They quarreled frequently, and last June she had him in court twice for assault, and he was put under bonds to keep the peace.

In July he caused his wife's arrest on a charge of using profane language, but she was discharged. They then separated, Mrs. [illegible] as a waitress.

It is claimed that Saturday night he called to see his wife and threatened to kill her unless she brought their child to him.

Monday afternoon he entered the restaurant and demanded to know the whereabouts of his boy.

Mrs. McEwan refused to tell him. Upon that he drew a revolver and fired three shots into her body. A crowd rushed in and he was held until the arrival of the police.

When searched a letter was found on his clothes, directed to his mother. In this letter McEwan said he was about to kill his wife, son and himself. He inclosed a $10 bill.

Brisk Blaze At South Quincy

The alarm from Box 32 at 11.04 this morning called the department to a brisk fire in the rear part of a house at 130 Franklin street, owned and occupied by William L. Birnie.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove in the shed adjoining the kitchen. Mrs. Birnie was heating the burner preparatory to lighting the stove when it exploded.

The flames set fire to her clothing and her hands were burned in trying to extinguish the flames. Neighbors rushed in and tried to extinguish the fire with a lawn hose, but were unsucceasful.

In the meantime an alarm had been sounded. When the fire department arrived the shed and kitchen were a mass of flames and the draft from the shed door had carried the smoke through the house filling all the rooms.

The fire did not get beyond the kitchen, although there was more or less damage to the main house by smoke. The kitchen and shed were badly gutted. The loss is estimated at $800.

—George H. Pollard, for several years manager of Dreamwold the Lawson farm at Scituate, was married to Miss Margaret J. O'Donnell, a former bookkeeper at the Lawson farm, Monday evening. The Rev. James Riley, pastor of St. Anthony's Church, Cohasset, officiated.

VETO OF LICENSE.

The Mayor returned without his approval the order granting permits to transport liquor of John Fitzsimmons and Antonio Petta for the following reasons:—"I believe a great sufficiency of permits are now granted. If I interpret correctly the spirit of the law it is mainly intended to apply to and control local conditions in the transportation of intoxicating liquors. In our city of great temperance convictions, in granting these permits, it is not expected we shall construe the law so as to induce and to grant to other than common carriers whose legitimate business is the expressing of commodities incident to the every day transaction of the people. As these persons whose permits I do not approve are so engaged, I herewith return same."

The veto was sustained, Councilmen Donovan, Flaherty and Ferguson however voted to pass the order over the [illegible]

TRUCK REPAIR BILL.

The Committee on Ordinances reported correctly engrossed order 168, appropriating $800 to pay bill for repairs of the Wollaston H. & L. combination.

The bill for the job was rendered by the Combination Ladder Co. and Rhode Island Coupling Co., of Providence, R. I.

Councilman Nichols asked to have items of bill read, which was done by the clerk.

Councilman Polk—This matter has been before the committee all the year. The committee thought the bill exorbitant. Have endeavored to have it cut down. Personally he did not think order should pass.

Councilman Stone—It seems like an exorbitant bill. It should not have cost near as much.

Councilman Nichols. The first bill was for a lump sum for repairs. At that time is was considered exorbitant. that the bill looked large. [illegible] was made to have a bill in detail. Unless the Executive believes it a just bill he saw no reason for passing it. He believed it an unwarranted bill.

Councilman Hull asked the Mayor if there was any contract made for the repair of the truck.

Mayor Thompson replied that the matter was in the hands of the Chief Engineer of 1905. He was never informed that a contract had been made. It was approved by the ex-Chief and came to the auditor this year for payment. There was no money to pay it, and the City Auditor sent the bill to the Council.

He had corresponded with the company and they had replied in a manner that was very improper. The city was accused of an attempt to defraud them. In the middle of the summer the itemized bill came. He was not in favor of a law suit if it could be averted, and he was not in favor of being hoodwinked. It would perhaps cost less to settle than to go to law.

Councilman Hull—As the bill is exorbitant and no contract was made, the bill ought not to be paid.

Councilman Nichols asked if it would not be possible to get an expert opinion of the bill.

Mayor Thompson replied that he knew of no expert to whom it could be referred. If it comes to the courts expert witnesses would have to be employed.

Councilman Nichols moved to lay the order on the table, and that the Mayor be requested to submit the bill to some person of experience, and report the result to the Council.

Councilman Gilson did not object to laying order on the table, but thought Mayor should be authorized to make the company an offer.

Councilman Hobbs asked for a division of the motion.

The motion to lay on the table was the latter part of his motion.

Councilman Stone moved to take the order from the table. Voted.

The order was then put on its final passage and failed to pass 15 voting in the negative and four in the affirmative as follows:

YES—Deacon, Hobbs, Hunter Sawyer—4

NO—Bass, Beal, Chase, Donovan, Flaherty, Ferguson, Gilotte, Gilson, Gross, Hull, McGilvary, Moir, Nichols, Polk, Stone—15

ABSENT—Cannon, Crane, Spargo

NOT VOTING—President Piper.

OTHER REPORTS.

The Committee on Streets reported leave to withdraw on the petition for street lights on Water street, Ward Six, the street in question not being a public way of the city. Accepted.

Makaria Frolic Business Meeting

Last night in the chapel of Bethany church the Makaria Fraternity held their regular business meeting and frolic.

President Forsyth was in the chair, and it was voted to form a Makaria Fraternity Athletic Association with special officers and special dues. A committee was chosen to have general charge of the second annual banquet, on Tuesday, October 30, being selected provisionally as to date. Several new members were formally welcomed, and there was a visiting delegation headed by "Sam" Melville from the Quincy Point church.

The entertainment began with a group of song by Mr. James S. Whyte one of the Makaria fellows. Mr. Whyte has a strong voice and one of unsual depth and richness, and his singing was most enthusiastically received. Miss Fanny Ellsworth of Quincy gave a group of four songs, the last being a particularly touching one entitled "The Proposal." Miss Ellsworth was the soloist at the Sunday meeting of the Fraternity, and the fellows were evidently particularly pleased to hear her again.

A Makarite and a Quincy Pointite then had an eating and drinking contest, one having to drink a glass-full of water with a spoon, the other merely to eat an ordinary cracker. The Quincy Point fellow chose the cracker, but somehow it seemed rather dry and a bit hard to swallow and the water chap won.

After some other similiar contests, which kept everyone in a gale of laughter a peanut race was tried. Here the peanut or peanuts had to be carried on a knife around a chair in which Miss Ellsworth was seated, and this proved to be an even more uproarious stunt than the other. Three times the Quincy Point fellows won, and were duly rewarded by being introduced to Miss Ellsworth.

Next there was another group of songs by Mr. Whyte and another by Miss Ellsworth, concluding with the [illegible] and then came [illegible] Dornan) in his bewildering and clever tricks—some new ones too, unless we are mistaken. He performed as usual with complete poise and marked success.

After partaking of ice cream, cake, crackers and candy, the frolic was over.

More Delay.

The award made by the Commissioners on the Quincy Point bridge must be approved by the court before it becomes in force. When the matter comes before the court, parties at interest will have an opportunity to appear.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

It seems to be pretty generally conceded that President Palma was simply a good-natured misfit.

Secretary Root went to South America on the Charlestown, and came back on the Columbia. That ought to prevent any undue feeling of jealousy between the two South Carolina towns.

If the Governmont insists on making the packers print on the label the contents of the can, the corned beef hash can might just as well be accompanied by the dictionary.

Mr. Cleveland has been very busy this summer superintending the erection of several new buildings on his farm, as well as the removal of some old ones. The way he neglects his fences, however, is very noticeable.

It is gratifying to know that the City Council will make inquiry relative to the delay in completion of the High School building. The inquiry, like the building, has been too long delayed, and it is surprising that parents of High School pupils have been so submissive. Some of the pupils now receive only ninety minutes of school per day, or seven to eight hours per week. Some of these go to school at 3 P. M. and go home after dark. This loss by the children at the critical time in their school life, will be a serious blow to many, and they will never make the mark in life that was possible under perfect conditions that the inquiry order passed by the City Council must go to the Mayor for approval, but it is not probable that the executive cares to take the responsibility for the delay. He should promptly sign the order and encourage the fullest inquiry.

If the special committee succeed in finding out when the addition will be completed, and can report at the next meeting of the Council, they will accomplish something. The citizens will look for a prompt report. The committee should set example.

IN HIS OWN WAY

How Moran Intends to Conduct His Campaign

FUNDS FOR THE BATTLE

None Should Be Accepted From Gratters, Corporations, Stock Brokers, Gamblers or Liquor Interests--Would Limit Sum For Political Advertising

Boston, Oct. 16.—District Attorney Moran, who was nominated for governor by the Democratic, Prohibition party and Independence League, last night issued a statement, addressed to the three parties, in which he announced that he proposed to conduct his campaign in his own way and would not be held responsible for the utterances of any of the speakers attached to the three organizations. He also outlined his policy regarding campaign contributions. His statement is in part as follows:

"As I have accepted the nomination of each of your parties, clearly stating in my letters of acceptance my position as to each plank in your platforms, and as there is, concerning some of these planks, a diversity of opinion among you; and as your speakers will of necessity disagree with each other upon some topics, and as I must not and will not consent to be held responsible for the utterances of others, nor for their personalities, nor for their associations with corporations or grafters real or suspected, it is necessary that I be in no way involved in the holding of your rallies, in the selection of your speakers or in the securing of or expending of campaign funds. I may from time to time speak, when invited, at your rallies with the express understanding that I am free from all connection therewith as above outlined.

"No campaign funds should be accepted from grafters, from corporations, their agents or attorneys, from stock brokers, from horse racers or pool sellers, from breweries, liquor distilleries or liquor dealers or from any person or combination of persons liable to have a personal interest in legislation.

"It has been shown to me that by making confidential statements as to my public policies when elected that from $50,000 to $100,000 would be raised by these various interests for this campaign. My answer was that I [illegible] against great and small and by my pledges to the people as embodied in my platform of principles published last July. In consequence I find myself opposed by this powerful combination of interests.

"The gambling fraternity, the grafting combinations, and other violators of laws may own servants of the public now, but that ownership will terminate in January or they will hold their future conferences inside of the jail doors.

"Ten thousand dollars, instead of $75,000 or $100,000, is a reasonable sum to be expended by any political party in the state for the purpose of expounding its principles and properly presenting them to the people. I am opposed to the expenditure by any political party of more than that sum and I am in favor of the enactment of a law making it criminal and depriving the candidate elect of the office thereby secured.

"Each of the three above mentioned political parties must conduct its campaign for its own candidates in its own way, subject, however, to the provisions of law and subject to such restrictions as I have above set forth. I will accept no office to which I may be elected by means disapproved by me.

"The nomination campaign committee, consisting of John P. Feeney, Granville S. MacFarland and Alonzo D. Moran, having faithfully and successfully performed the duties for which it was organized, is to wind up its affairs, file the account provided by law and cease to exist. I have no use for campaign committees nor for press agents.

"As I desire to no longer suffer the annoyance of newspaper misrepresentation, I will refuse to grant interviews except in writing over my signature.

"From this date to election day I will manage the personal end of my campaign without advice or assistance from any man. I realize the obligations I owe to the citizens who nominated me and I will meet them as well as I am able to. But I also realize that there is less pleasure in being a dead governor than in being a live district attorney."

Brouwer on the Witness Stand

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 16.—Dr. Frank L. Brouwer, on trial for the murder of his wife, took the witness stand and denied that he had told his sister-in-law that he intended to divorce his wife. He also denied that he had struck his wife or that he had said that he had no respect for Mrs. Brouwer. He said that his wife was sometimes irritable as the result of nervousness and that they had quarreled, but their differences were not of a serious character.

TWO JOHN MARTINS

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 16.—An alleged fraudulent pension case, involving $4000, is listed for the superior court. John Martin of Marlboro, who was a member of company F, Fourth Massachusetts cavalry, in the Civil war, is accused of having received a pension rightfully due John Martin of Uxbridge, who was a member of a company of the same regiment.

The Uxbridge Martin has been in Aberdeen, Scotland, since 1877, and returned to this country last June, at which time he made an application for a pension. It is alleged that during the investigation of his claim it developed that the other John Martin was receiving the pension to which the Uxbridge man asserted that he himself was entitled.

John Martin of Uxbridge was shot in the hip during the war, and the other John Martin is accused of having based his own claim for a pension on this wound. John Martin of Marlboro made application for his pension in 1879 and received $1000 back pay and $18 a month, it is said. The accused man is 68 years old and has been bedridden for some time, suffering from a shock of paralysis.

Shot Wife and Tried Suicide

Boston, Oct. 16.—In a fit of jealous rage, and angered because he had been outwitted in a battle for the possession of their child, and because of domestic differences, Andrew McEwan, 30, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife, Annie McEwan, 23, while she was at work in a restaurant on Howard street. After firing three shots into the prostrate body of the woman, McEwan attempted to fire a shot into his own head, but was prevented from so doing by the jamming of his revolver. McEwan was placed under arrest, charged with assault and battery with a loaded revolver with intent to kill.

To Check Young Rowdies

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 16.—In an effort to suppress the continuance of recent acts of rowdyism, City Marshal McLaughlin has decided to enforce the curfew law, which was adopted many years ago and has since been allowed to lie idle, and boys under 21 years of age who are found on the city's streets without good reason after 9 o'clock at night will be arrested. This step has come as a result of the increasing number of juvenile cases in the city court.

Carbolic Acid Bought by Berberia

Willimantic, Conn., Oct. 16.—At the inquest into the death of Mary A. Berberie, wife of an Assyrian peddler, who was found dead in her home here last Friday, the husband of the dead woman was examined at length, during which it was brought out that he had procured the bottle of carbolic acid. The peddler said that a Lebanon woman gave it to him for his horse. Berberie, it is said, had previously denied all knowledge of the bottle.

Think Woman Was Murdered

Providence, Oct. 16.—In a hut off the main highway between Wakefield and Matunuck beach was found the dead body of a colored woman, widow of A. Robinson, who had been living with a negro named J. R. Champlin. It is believed that the woman met with foul play, and the Wakefield constabulary are on a hunt for a man suspected of being responsible for her death.

The petition in bankruptcy was filed April 4, 1905, by Boynton, scheduling his liabilities at $106,101.32 and his assets at $1.

An agreement was reached after a week of conferences which resulted in the national union and "the closed shop" being recognized.

Guilty of Intent to Murder

Boston, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Jennie C. Long listened without emotion to a verdict of guilty which a Suffolk county jury returned against her husband, Robert H. Bad Check Passer Goes to Prison

Boston, Oct. 16.—Judge Bond imposed an indefinite sentence at the Concord reformatory in the case of D. W. Faulkner, formerly a druggist, who, with Fannie E. Thomas, was accused of passing numerous bad checks upon business men. A few days ago the Thomas girl confessed and was placed on probation.

Thrown From Cart and Killed

Gilbertville, Mass., Oct. 16.—William E. Ducey, 17 years old, a teamster, was plucking at branches of trees, the rustling of which frightened his horses. They started suddenly, threw Ducey from the cart and a rear wheel passed over his skull, crushing it. The boy died in the office of Dr. Leach.

FAITH IN LIBERALS

Magoon Does Not Think They Are Seeking Office

JOB FOR COMMISSIONERS

New Laws, Civil Service and Claims For Damages to Be Considered--Sewering of Havana Will Cost $15,000,000

Havana, Oct. 16.—"I have thus far seen no reason whatever to believe that the Liberal leaders are other than sincere in their declarations that they are not seeking office," Governor Magoon said in the course of an interview last night. He added that the representations made by Liberals concerning offices all referred to local posts. There had been many complaints regarding mayors and requests that these officials be ousted on account of their misdoings. The complaints, however, had been simply presented to the governor for investigation.

In addition to the question of appointing cabinet ministers, which is held in abeyance, Magoon is considering the appointment of a commission on new laws, another on civil service, and a third to hear the claims for damages arising from the insurrection. The commission on laws probably will be composed equally of Americans and Cubans, and when decided upon they will be promulgated by Magoon in the form of decrees.

In reply to a question, the governor said he had no expectation that congress would assemble until after a general election had been held.

The proposed civil service commission will consist of three Americans from the department at Washington and six Cubans. It will consider the laws and practices hitherto followed in Cuba and formulate a system suited to Cuba, based in part on American practices. This system will aim to ensure efficiency and at the same time protect employes from removals, except for proper cause. Whatever Americans it may be necessary to employ will be selected from among the civil service employes at Washington.

The claims committee doubtless will be entirely composed of American army officers, but there may be also some officers of the Cuban rural guards.

Asked whether the provisional government would undertake the long pending and neglected question of the sewering of Havana, Magoon replied that he was aware the United States had repeatedly and insistently urged this question upon ex-President Palma and that Palma had in turn urged it upon the Cuban congress, but nothing had been accomplished of any great importance. The governor said he did not feel like rushing into a matter which involved a contract amounting to $12,000,000 or more without first consulting fully with the Washington government.

The local political parties are showing signs of resuscitation. The reorganized Moderate party, which its leaders have renamed the Republican party, already has issued a lengthy program setting forth aims similar to those held by the Moderates.

The distribution of American troops throughout the island is proceeding gradually. Marines have been placed at many points.

REHEARING IS REFUSED

Imprisonment and Heavy Fine For Former Senator Burton

Washington, Oct. 16.—The supreme court of the United States denied the petition of former United States Senator Burton of Kansas for a rehearing in the case in which he is under sentence of imprisonment and fine on the charge of accepting an attorney's fee in a case in which the government was interested while he was serving as a senator. The effect of the decision will be the immediate imprisonment of Burton unless his attorneys devise some other means of postponing the execution of the sentence.

The case of Senator Burton has been before the court since 1903, when he was indicted in St. Louis on the charge of accepting a fee for representing the Rialto Grain company of that city in an effort to debar it from the use of the United States mails. He was found guilty and sentenced to serve six months in jail and pay a fine of $2500. On appeal to the supreme court the decision was reversed on a technicality, and a second trial was ordered. The second verdict was identical with the first and it was affirmed by the supreme court. The motion for rehearing was then filed.

KILLED HIS WIFE

Fitchburg Man Became Enraged Over a Trifle

HE ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Murderer's Quarrelsome Disposition Made Worse by Debauch of Several Days--Boarder Narrowly Escapes Being Killed

Fitchburg, Mass., Oct. 16.—An overturned cup of tea changed Henry A. Smith, 37 years old, and a driver of a coal team, from a quarrelsome to an infuriated husband and led to the murder of his wife, Hattie A. Smith, 27 years old, whom he shot twice, and then, a few minutes later, used the same weapon to end his own life at the house of his sister, nearby. One of the bullets struck Mrs. Smith in the jaw and as she raised her right arm a second crashed into her side. She died in 20 minutes.

The family were at the tea table when Smith jumped up and began shooting. His little 10-year-old son, Henry, a niece named Alice Smith, and a boarder, Arthur Harding, rushed from the room. Smith sent a third bullet after Harding, but missed him. The fourth he used to end his own life and when the weapon was found there was still an unexploded cartridge in it.

Smith had been drinking heavily for several days and had frequently quarreled with his wife over trivial affairs. Sunday night he chased her about the house with an axe in his hand and she was obliged to seek refuge at the house of her sister-in-law, whose name is also Mrs. Hattie Smith.

Mrs. Smith was employed in a shirt factory during the day and last night she arrived home at the usual time, shortly after 6 o'clock. Her husband came in a few minutes later and half an hour after the family, including the two children and the boarder, sat down to the tea table.

According to Harding, Smith was very irritable and quarreled continually with his wife, who seldom answered him. Someone overturned a cup of tea and this seemed to provoke Smith almost to madness, for he jumped up, drew a revolver from his pocket and fired at his wife. The bullet struck the end of her jaw. She shrieked and put up her hand to her wounded face. As she did so Smith fired again and the second bullet passed into the body beneath the right arm. The others at the table ran out crying "murder," which seemed to further infuriate Smith, for he sent a bullet after Harding, which missed the boarder by a few feet.

The family live at 32 Summer street, while Smith's sister, Mrs. Hattie Smith, lives a short distance away at 32 Winter street. Before anyone in the neighborhood realized what had occurred Smith left the house and went to that of his sister. Going up into one of the chambers, he sat down before a looking glass and ended his life.

When the neighbors rushed into the Smith house they found the unfortunate woman standing beside the sink bleeding profusely from her wounded jaw. She weakened rapidly and died a few minutes after being placed upon a lounge. It was not known that she had been shot in the side until Medical Examiner Lyons and two physicians had been called.

Friends of the family stated after the tragedy that the family had not been a happy one, owing to the habits of the father, and the quarrels especially during the past week or two had been quite frequent. Mrs. Smith was highly spoken of by all who knew her.

DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR

As a reliable family tonic, in all complaints of the stomach, liver or bowels, especially constipation, Dr. True's Elixir stands without an equal; it is a pure vegetable compound with a wonderfully successful record since 1851. Adults as well as children are troubled with worms. The symptoms are: Indigestion, with a variable appetite; foul tongue, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy and dull, itching of the nose, short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth, starting during sleep; slow fever, and often in children, convulsions and bed wetting.
A few doses of Dr. True's Elixir will expel the worms if there are any; if not it acts as a gentle laxative tonic, clearing the stomach and bowels of all waste matter, leaving these organs sweet and clean—it increases the appetite, causing pure life-giving blood to flow through the body, thus invigorating the whole system with rugged, robust health. If taken regularly it will prevent coughs, colds, fevers and worms.

River Spook

For a long time, Quincy people have been wondering, who the man is, that takes a walk along the marshes on the banks of the Neponset river every evening toward midnight. He is attired only in a long flowing gown like a night robe and he wears only thin slippers. A fact that makes the people more curious is when a person approaches him he hastens away. No one seems to know him and he shows no desire to enlighten anyone.

TWENTY-FIVE KILLED

Two Hundred Entombed Miners Will Eventually Be Rescued

Durham, Eng., Oct. 16.—As a result of an explosion in the Wingate colliery, near here, at about midnight Sunday night, 25 miners have been killed and 200 are temporarily entombed. Only a small portion of the 1000 men employed in the mine were down when the explosion took place. The cause is supposed to have been firedamp. The explosion was one of terrific force.

Soon after the news of the disaster became known crowds of half-clad people were rushing toward the mine and there were heartrending scenes at the mouth of the shaft among those whose relatives were below. The first report represented the disaster to be worse than subsequently was found to be the case.

By daylight signals had been exchanged with the bottom seam, where a majority of the men were entombed, to the effect that they were safe. As the morning advanced the bodies of the dead were slowly brought up. The first to appear were mostly of old men who had been employed as shifters and stonemen. The work of rescue was continued throughout the day with every energy. Eighty men were brought out alive. Many of these, however, were in a critical condition. Later, supplies of coffee and sandwiches were passed to the entombed.

Essen, Prussia, Oct. 16.—In the presence of Emperor William and 140 guests, Bertha Krupp and Gustav von Bohlen Und Halbach were married in a little improvised chapel adjoining the bride's birthplace, the Villa Huegel, by the pastor of the neighboring village, where the Krupp family had long worshipped. Bertha Krupp and Von Bohlen, before the wedding, announced their joint gift of $250,000 to the Workmen's Invalid fund, and Mrs. Krupp announced the gift of another $250,000 to the same fund and 125 acres of land on which to build economical model dwellings for the workmen.

Indians Making Trouble

Washington, Oct. 16.—Governor Brooks of Wyoming has been practically notified by Secretary Hitchcock that he can secure the assistance of the United States troops in the matter of the removal of the renegade Ute Indians, whose home is in Utah, if he so desires. There are about 300 of the Indians encamped near Gillette, and the governor reports that they are drinking insulting the people, and stealing. The government does not feel disposed to act in the absence of a specific request.

Would-Be Rescuers Helpless

Salem, Mass., Oct. 17.—"If you are an Irishman, save me," was the cry which two men who were passing over the bridge between Salem and Beverly heard early this morning. Looking over the rail of the bridge, they could dimly discern a man struggling in the water. One of the men happened to have a rope in his wagon and this was thrown to the unfortunate one in the water, but after making several ineffectual attempts to catch it, he sank and was seen on more.

The Cooking Of Vegetables

Red Cabbage—Cut in slivers, and cook like string beans, in butter, salt, pepper and minced onion, without water, for one hour. Add vinegar just before serving.

This was one of the four dishes demonstrated on Monday afternoon at the second of the cooking lectures of Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln for the benefit of the Wollaston kindergarten. To cook cabbage and lima beans in their own juice, and to cook cabbage like string beans, was novel to most of the 75 ladies in attendance. But all can attest that it was a success from samples served.

Neapolitan tomatoes and sweet peppers were also cooked. The ladies learned how to cut peppers, how to seed them, and what could be used for stuffing; in fact most anything in meats which happened to be in the house. Mrs. Lincoln used lamb and rice.

Mrs. Lincoln has been ill for a week, and asked to be excused from talking as far as possible, but nevertheless she gave many little hints which the ladies appreciated, and at the close showed how an egg could be fixed when something was required because of exhaustion, and took her own medicine.

During the last ten years Mrs. Lincoln has not used a coal range for cooking, relying wholly on gas. As an improvement she suggested that every gas range have at least one solid cover the same as a coal stove, as it would hold the heat better. For these demonstrations the Citizens Gas Light Co. furnish the range and gas free and pay rent of hall.

The third demonstration next Monday afternoon will be on "Eggs, fish and meat substitutes." The interest in the course is increasing.

New Neponset Bridge.

Holbrook, Cabot & Rollins, have nearly completed the six stone piers for the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. in the Neponset river and are preparing the foundation for the stone abutment at the northerly end. WHAT SHALL I GET FOR DINNER?

is what the wife asks her husband just as they have finished breakfast. He, feeling that he never will want to eat again, cannot suggest anything, and she is disgusted. Frequently a row follows. All this can be avoided by taking the Boston Daily Globe, which has a nice bill of fare for three meals each day. This bill of fare is always timely and has with it lots of practical recipes.

October Weddings

Two well known young people were united in marriage on Tuesday evening, Miss Minnie A. Heffernan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heffernan of 148 Washington street, and Mr. Gerald A. Sullivan, son of Mr. Timothy Sullivan of 50 Botolph street, Atlantic. Rev. Fr. John J. Coan of St. John's church solemnized the marriage at half past seven.

The bride was attended by Miss Nellie A. Bennett of Dorchester, and the best man was Edward J. Sullivan of Atlantic, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents from eight until ten o'clock. The ushers were John, Edward and Harry Hefferman, brothers of the bride and Timothy, William and Joseph Sullivan, brothers of the groom. In the receiving line with the bridal couple were the bride's parents, the groom's father, and sister, Miss Mary Sullivan.

The bride was beautifully gowned in Liberty brilliante over taffeta, cut en traine, and trimmed with Irish point lace. The bridesmaid wore a pink chiffon over pink taffeta, trimmed with baby Irish lace and wore a gold bracelet, a gift from the bride. The best man was presented with a K. C. charm by the groom.

Potted plants, palms and autumn foliage arranged by Derringer made the house most attractive.

A wedding supper of salads and ices was served. There was a display of many beautiful and costly gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan are to spend their honeymoon in New York and Philadelphia.

Bagen—Langley.

A pretty and quiet wedding took place Tuesday evening when Mae, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Langley of Washington street, was united in marriage to Charles Henry Bagen of Chicago, Ill., by the Rev. E. C. Butler. Only the two families were present. They were attended by Miss Florence Adele Landers of Dorchester as bridesmaid and William T. Bagen of Baltimore, Md., as best man. The bride looked handsome in her traveling suit of pearl gray nuns veiling.

A reception was held from 8 to 10, Mr. and Mrs. Bagen being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Langley, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bagen, Miss Landers and W. T. Bagen. The presents which were numerous, were handsome, expensive and useful.

At eleven o'clock, amid a shower of old shoes and confetti, they left on a short wedding trip. On their return they will reside at 81 Washington street, this city, and will be at home after Nov. 1.

Dolan—Collagan.

Miss Sara Collagan, daughter of Mr. Edward Collagan of Gilmore street, and Mr. William Francis Dolan of Fall River, were married at St. John's Rectory Tuesday evening, Rev. John Coan officiating. A reception followed at the home of the bride's father. Mr. and Mrs. Dolan left immediately on a trip to New York and Washington. On their return they will reside in Chelsea.

Lead Pipe Stolen.

The unoccupied house of W. H. Faxon, situated on Hancock street near Beach street, was entered by burglars Tuesday and stripped of all its lead pipe. The information reached the police through Hyman Katz, a junk dealer. He informed the police that he had purchased 125 pounds of lead pipe from two men, which he believed to have been stolen. Mr. Katz did not know the men from whom he purchased the lead but would recognize them again if he saw them.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The following is well and strongly put in the women's column of the Somerville Journal and seems as applicable to Quincy as to Somerville:

There is a movement on foot among the women of the city to have some of the members of the school committee for the coming year chosen from the progressive women of the city who have done and are doing so much for educational and philanthropic work. The advocates of the plan think it quite the proper and just thing that at least three women should be on the board, and Somerville has scores of educated, refined, practical women who are thoroughly qualified for the duties. Take fifteen men and fifteen women, which group would give the most careful attention to the duties of school committee work? Which group would have the most time to visit the schools? Are mothers more interested in their children's education than fathers? Which would see and complain of dirt first? What is the standing of the men and women in our busy city morally and intellectually? Are our churches filled with men or women? That does not prove them morally stronger but it does prove that women are more willing to exert themselves to try and do right and set a good example for the young. As Mrs. Decker, president of the G. F. O. W. C., says: "Is the influence of women doubtful when we can prove two-thirds in the church and one-fifteenth in crime?"

After the summer vacation season the Friday club is to resume meetings on Friday when they will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Coddington street. The executive board has the program in charge and it will be a business and social session to arrange the year's work.

Rev. Ernest W. Hunt addresses the Wollaston Women's Alliance this afternoon in the vestry of the Unitarian church, taking as his subject, "A forward movement." The meeting on the 31st will be a sewing meeting.

Regular monthly meeting of Junior Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. will be held in Association building Friday afternoon, Oct. 19, at 3 P. M. Miss Edith M. Lovejoy will have charge of devotional exercises. Further plans will be made for the fair to be held at the Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Florence Peltier Pope who is to address the Quincy Woman's club at its next meeting, Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 23d, will take for her subject, "Literature for Children." It is a subject with which Mrs. Pope is entirely at home, as no one can doubt after reading her many short stories in St. Nicholas and other magazines. Her little Japanese stories are fascinating. She writes under the pen name on Florence Peltier. The meeting will begin promptly at three o'clock.

Liberal religion in India and Japan is the subject of a paper by Miss Edith Randall at the meeting of the Alliance on Monday afternoon the 22d, in the parlor of First church. It is the second meeting of the season and a large attendance is hoped for.

The day for the next meeting of the Junior Friday club has been changed from Monday to Wednesday the 24th and will be at the home of Mrs. Lawrance H. Sturtevant, Presidents hill, at three o'clock. Mrs. Walter E. Burke will have the literary program in charge. Several new members will meet with the club for the first time.

Mrs. William E. Alden gave an interesting talk on Thomas Moore, illustrated by songs by Mrs. Frank J. Moore, on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Russell park. About fifty were present. It was given under the auspices of Membership Ten of Unity Circle of King's Daughters.

May. 14. Annual meeting. Election. Music. Tea and social.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson who did so much in helping form the Quincy Women's club and has in various ways shown her deep interest in its work, has resigned the chairmanship of the educational committee, owing to ill health. Her resignation was accepted with much regret. Mrs. Florence Peltier Pope of Atlantic was elected to fill the vacancy and has entered upon her duties.

Another committee has been added to the standing committee that of Hospitality with Mrs. Charles K. Crane of Wollaston as chairman. There will be ushers at each meeting and an effort made to make everyone acquainted and interested in all club matters. It is hoped to create neighborliness among club members from all villages of the city and thus create united strength for future club undertakings.

N. E. WHEATON CLUB.

The Wheaton club met for the first time on Saturday at the Vendome, Boston; nearly one hundred ladies were present. Mrs. Stebbins in the chair greeted the club in a most delightful manner. The subject at the business meeting was the memorial to Mrs. Wheaton, who has died during the year. A long discussion followed and a committee was chosen to report at the November meeting. Miss Julia Osgood gave a loving tribute to the memory of Miss Clara Webster and an expression of sympathy was voted to be sent to her sister. Also Mrs. Mary Ames Tucker, a former teacher at Wheaton, has died, and Mrs. Alden of Foxboro. It was voted that all members who have died, should be remembered in the year book hereafter and letters of sympathy be sent the nearest friends.

Mrs. E. M. H. Merrill gave her lecture on "The Value of the Bible in the Home," and was listened to with closest attention by mothers and aunties who are called upon for stories to amuse the children. She said the Bible could be made most interesting to the youngest child and it was deplorable the ignorance of the people in general. She told of the laughable answers to ten questions given to a class in a high school

GIRLS FRIENDLY SOCIETY.

The society met in the parish room of St. Chrysostom's church, Oct. 12. The Chaplain of the society, Rev. A. Edwin Clattenburg, opened the meeting with a short devotional service and then spoke of how favored the G. F. S. was to have two such persons to address them as the president, Miss Isabelle G. Whipple, last week, and Mrs. C. T. Whittemore of Ashmont this week.

Mrs. Whittemore proved a most interesting speaker. She began by saying she considered it a great thing to address the G. F. S. and then gave a full definition of the two words of the society, "Purity and Friendliness." The society is not a Guild, it means more, it is a huge organization of strength and members, with a large backing headed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the House of Bishops in this country. She spoke of how as children we had all played with acorns and their cups; how Mrs. Townsend planted the acorn in 1875 and the oak tree grew, roots spreading to America in 1886.

Mrs. Whittemore said—the acorn is purity and friendliness, the two central councils; the trunks and large branches, the diocesan councils; the small branches the parochial branches; the little twigs the associates, and from the twigs are the leaves which represent the members, the beauty of the tree. As the tree drinks in from the world sunshine and air thus getting life for itself so the members must take in air and sunshine putting life into the organized society. She told how they could always have the right to wear the badge.

In speaking of books and theatres she said, "a good novel is a good thing, and a good play is a good thing," and then gave the test for renunciation.

She spoke of the help which the associates could give the members, and that the fresh love and intercourse which only the young can give was well known.

In speaking of dutifulness to parents she said, daughters sometimes say, "mother would not understand." Mrs. Whittimore said most emphatically "mother does understand, trust her." An associate is not to take a mother s place.

Mrs. Whittemore extended an invitation to the society to visit the branch of All Saints church, Ashmont, at an early date. Six more girls signified their intention of becoming members. Mrs. H. D. Fowler was appointed as another associate.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Some say that if there is an inquiry into the delay on the High School enlargement, that it will be a sorry day for the School Committee; but what have the School Committee to do with the construction of school buildings? Nothing but the approval of plans.

Others say it will be the architect who is held responsible. Possibly.

Then there are the contractors and sub-contractors.

Some criticise the Mayor, but it is the Commissioner of Public Works "who shall have cognizance, direction and control of the construction, alteration, repair and care of public buildings." The City Charter, however, says "the executive powers of the city shall be vested solely in the mayor."

Many look to the City Council, the delegates of the voters, to see that city officials conduct the business of the city to their satisfaction.

Gentlemen of experience in building work have told the Daily Ledger that it was a physical impossibility to have the building completed on Sept. 10, and that now seems pretty near the truth; but September has passed and October has nearly gone, and there are no prospects of occupying any part of the building at an early date. Surely it was possible to have part of the building ready on Oct. 1, or Nov. 1, or Dec. 1. When will it be ready?

TICKET IS RATIFIED

Great Crowd Hears Moran Enunciate His Principles

A KNOCK AT "REGULARS"

Douglas and Quincy Both Are Scored Along With Republicans--Candidate Faints as He Completes His Address

Boston, Oct. 17.—The Democratic state ticket, headed by John B. Moran, who a year ago was elected district attorney of Suffolk county, was ratified last night by a gathering that so far exceeded the limits of Faneuil hall that two overflow meetings were necessary, and these were held in the streets and among the market wagons. Messrs. Moran and Williams occupied most of the time, the former speaking for 55 minutes and the latter for 45. Each dealt with the Republican party and its leaders in Massachusetts in no uncertain terms. At the close of his speech Moran had a fainting attack.

In his address Moran took up the principal planks of the Republican and Democratic state platforms and in doing so criticised the acts of the Republican governor, the legislature and the party leaders, and did not spare two leaders of his own party, former Governor Douglas and Josiah Quincy, former chairman of the Democratic state committee.

Of the former he said that, while Douglas was traveling in the west for his health, he nevertheless seemed ready to return in case he (Moran) should withdraw. Of Quincy he said that he should either bolt the ticket or come out openly and speak for it, and then, turning to Mayor Fitzgerald, the presiding officer, Moran said, "and I ask you, Mr. Mayor, to excuse him from the duties of the job which you have just given him so that he can do so."

Mr. Moran spoke in favor of punishment of monopoly by imprisonment, of a new law governing abortion, making the district attorney the defending counsel in divorce cases, to the release without bail of persons charged with misdemeanors, of making lobbying a crime, giving the district attorney power in cases of insanity and limiting the expenditure of money by campaign committees. He criticised, as did several other speakers before him, the action of Governor Guild in appointing President Dana of the senate as judge of the superior court.

In closing, Moran said that he had promised to speak any time this week and during the next if he was able. "You have heard my policies and doctrines. There is not one of them that is unjust or dangerous. I am not a Cossack, but only an American citizen appealing to your reason and not to your passion."

Mr. Moran reeled as he uttered his last words and Mayor Fitzgerald and G. F. Williams caught him as he seemed about to fall. They placed him in a chair and for some seconds he seemed unconscious. He revived, however.

Mr. Williams criticised Governor Guild's statement that liberty had become a license and said that license had been given to certain persons to prey upon the people. He denied Guild's statement that the state had been well governed and endeavored to show by reference to the action of the legislature on the overtime bill, the appointment of President Dana of the senate to the superior court bench, the failure to give district attorneys more power to prosecute offenders, the creation of the lobby and several other matters that the government of the state by the Republican party had not been a success.

"I have conceived of a governor who will drive lobbyists from the state house and I have conceived of a legislature who cannot be bought," he said. "We are beginning now to bring that kind of a government to Massachusetts, and our candidate is accepted by all Democrats and by a great many others who believe that he will be the wedge that will split the log of corruption."

In closing Mr. Williams said: "We have found an honest man. Everyone laughed when he was elected district attorney, now he is a candidate for governor. He is the first politician that ever made good on his promises."

Mayor Fitzgerald was the only speaker who mentioned the name of William J. Bryan or William R. Hearst. The former was cheered slightly, while there was no response at the mention of Hearst's name.

When Moran came out of the hall he found a crowd of more than 1000 awaiting him. He paused long enough to tell the crowd that he would not be able to speak and thanked them for their warm greeting. He was assisted into a carriage and driven to his hotel.

Carey Asks For Public Debate

Boston, Oct. 17.—James F. Carey, Socialist candidate for governor of Massachusetts, has challenged Governor Guild and John B. Moran to a public debate on the following question:

Resolved, That the Socialist party in its platform sets forth the only true principles upon which the working class can obtain the product of their labor, or permanently insure a proper standard of living.

DEATH OF MRS DAVIS

"Widow of the Confederacy" Succumbs to Pneumonia

New York, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the president of the Confederacy, who had been ill for a week at the Hotel Majestic in this city, died last night. Death was due to pneumonia, induced by a severe cold. At the bedside when death came were Mrs. J. A. Hayes, the only surviving daughter of Mrs. Davis, and other relatives.

Mrs. Varina H. Davis was born in Natchez, Miss., in 1826. Her father was William B. Howell and her grandfather Governor Richard Howell of New Jersey. In 1845 she was married to Jefferson Davis of Warren county, Miss. When Davis was elected United States senator Mrs. Davis accompanied him to Washington, where she took a prominent position in society from 1847 to 1861. When Davis became president of the Southern Confederacy Mrs. Davis took up her residence at the executive mansion at Richmond, where she remained until the close of the war.

During the second year of her husband's imprisonment at Fortress Monroe Mrs. Davis obtained permission to be with him and upon his release accompanied him abroad. She acted as her husband's secretary in compiling his memoirs, and was herself the author of a book covering the public career of her distinguished husband. Mrs. Davis performed other literary work and was a frequent contributor to magazines.

After their return from abroad Mr. and Mrs. Davis took up their residence in Mississippi. After Davis' death in 1889 Mrs. Davis moved to New York, where she has since resided.

Chicago Newspaper's Generous Acts

Chicago, Oct. 17.—The Chicago Clearing House association has sent to James Keeley, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, a check for $5000, the amount of the reward offered for the capture of Paul O. Stensland, the former president of the Milwaukee Avenue state bank. The check was at once turned over to the receiver of the bank, to be included among the assets. The Tribune, which bore the entire expense incident to the pursuit, capture and return of Stensland, has also made a present to the taxpayers of Cook county of the total amount expended in the undertaking, which amounted to another $5000.

Bandits Hold Up Colorado Train

Leadville, Col., Oct. 17.—Two armed men boarded the engine of a passenger train at Malta last night and at the point of revolvers compelled the engineer and fireman to uncouple the express and baggage cars. They then forced the engineer to pull the cars several miles up the road. Then the bandits went to the express car and, covering the messenger with their weapons, attempted to blow open the safe. They succeeded in getting only $50.

Says Home Rule Is Near at Hand

New York, Oct. 17.—T. P. O'Connor has returned to this city from a visit to Canada. He says he found not only enthusiasm for the cause of Irish freedom, but the Canadians subscribed liberally for the work. "Never since the days of Parnell did I see such feeling toward Ireland as there is in this country today. I have met no American who does not hope that the last hour of Ireland's affliction is at hand. We are going to win, and win soon."

Wolcott Meets His Match

Chelsea, Mass., Oct. 17.—Honey Melody of Boston was given the decision over Joe Wolcott, the welterweight champion, at the end of a 15 round bout here last night. While the bout does not actually settle the welterweight championship, it is generally conceded to have an important bearing on the possession of the title. Nearly 8000 people witnessed the contest. The men weighed in at 145 pounds.

Capture of Mexican Conspirators

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 17.—United States marshals arrested at Del Rio, Tex., four men charged with fomenting a revolution and supplying arms for revolutionists who recently captured the officers of Jiminez, Mex., and held the city until driven out by troops. These men were at the head of a plot to overthrow the Mexican government.

From Pool to Billiards

St. Louis, Oct. 17.—John Morgan, champion continuous pool player of the world, last night formally surrendered his title and returned the diamond championship emblem to the honor. An open tournament will be held to determine Morgan's successor. Morgan's interest in billiards caused him to give up the pool title.

TEN FEVER CASES

Epidemic of Yellow Jack In Havana Is Admitted

IT IS WIDELY DISPERSED

Underground Cesspools Prove Prolific Breeding Places For Mosquitoes--Health Measures Needed In Many Cuban Cities

Havana, Oct. 17.—While there is some apprehension with regard to yellow fever, the situation is not regarded as especially dangerous. The number of cases under treatment in Havana is 10, making a total for October of 13. There is at present one case at Cruces and two at Cienfuegos. Dr. Finlay, chief of the department of health and sanitation, says that while the fever in Havana is epidemic, the situation is not one to cause serious alarm and that there is every expectation that the spread of the disease can be controlled.

The wide despersion is a most serious feature. This is due to the fact that most of the patients are Spanish laborers, who continued their avocations after infection. There have been no American cases.

Major Kean of the medical department says that the work of mosquito extermination is progressing vigorously and effectively and that general sanitary work is being undertaken on a larger scale than before. He believes that the sewering of Havana is an important necessity in this connection, as the cesspools, although underground, are prolific breeding places for mosquitoes, the insects escaping through the air tubes. Kean regards the impressing upon the various municipal authorities the need of carrying out health measures as one of the principal problems in Cuba.

Governor Magoon yesterday afternoon received the diplomatic corps, the judges of the supreme court, the mayor and the city councillors of Havana, the various consular representatives here, and a delegation from the academy of sciences. The judges suggested the enactment of laws securing the greater independence of the judiciary by a more permanent tenure of office. The delegation from the academy of sciences urged the carrying out of a project for the removal of the leper hospital to some remote island, and the importance of sewering Havana City. The governor heard his visitors courteously and promised to consider their suggestions.

Reports received here from all over the island show that agricultural operations are being gradually resumed. There are no further signs of discontent, with the exception of complaints that some of the Moderate officials ought to be removed. The Liberals are talking about the displacement of certain of the more offensive partisan officials from high government positions, but no moves in that direction have been made by the leaders.

The strongly Moderate partisans continue to be dissatisfied and assert that the peace commissioners, while here, should have consulted more with the representatives of conservative business interests. A great majority of these men, however, believe that in any event American intervention was bound to come.

Ex-Rebels Like Colwell

Havana, Oct. 17.—Several hundred ex-rebels have signed a petition to Governor Magoon asking him to use his influence at Washington for the retention in Havana of Commander Colwell, captain of the cruiser Denver, throughout the period of American intervention. This request is made on the ground that Colwell is more completely identified, through the early arrival of the Denver and the landing of her sailors, with the peace efforts than is any other American commander of armed forces in Cuba and also because he is better known to and more popular with the Cubans.

Bonuses For Chicago Nationals

Chicago, Oct. 17.—The members of the Chicago National league baseball team were guests of the Chicago Board of Trade last night. President Murphy stated that about $7000 had been divided among the players, in addition to the losers' end of the money in the world's championship series.

WILL PAY DUTIES

Washington Will Not Dignify Action of Newfoundland

STORES FOR NAVAL TUG

Remission of Duties Was Only a Matter of Courtesy, Which Colonial Government Has Seen Fit to Reject--Bond Is Angry

Washington, Oct. 17.—"A mere pin prick," is the manner in which the officials here characterized the refusal of the Newfoundland authorities to admit duty free supplies for the United States naval tug Potomac, now at the Bay of Islands.

This remark was based upon the belief that the Newfoundlanders had resorted to this form of resentment for the conclusion of the fisheries modus vivendi against their will.

Consequently there is no disposition or intention on the part of this government to dignify the incident by official notice. The duties will be paid on such stores as the Potomac needs during her winter sojourn in Newfoundland waters, for the remission of these duties is only a matter of courtesy and not of right in the case of naval vessels. This is contrary to the position of French ships, which have a special treaty arrangement admitting free of duty naval stores intended for the French station at Miquelon.

Meanwhile Professor Alexander, the fish commission expert on the Potomac, will continue to warn American fishermen in Newfoundland waters against infraction of the local law and to study the fishery question, practically with the purpose of aiding this government in the conclusion of a definite treaty to replace the modus vivendi.

Bond Expresses His Views

St. Johns, Oct. 17.—Premier Bond, in an interview, declared that the statements of the American press to the effect that the colony was a party to the modus vivendi is a tissue of falsehoods. The premier asserts that the colony has conceded nothing, that she insisted upon her rights and had besought the imperial government to support them. The modus vivendi, he says, was concluded against the protests of the colony of Newfoundland, and the government did not sanction any of the concessions granted Americans, but had exhausted every resource it could command in opposing the agreement, which attitude of firm opposition is does not intenden to abandon, regarding the measure as derogatory to colonial rights and laws.

American Fishermen at Fault

Washington, Oct. 17.—The controversy which has been waged between the American and Canadian lake fishermen for the past 20 years has been placed in an entirely different light by a report made to the state department by Captain Chaytor. The report shows in substance that the American fishermen have been transgressors and that they have been treated with the greatest consideration by the Canadian fishing patrol.

Cannot Shut Off Gas Supply

Albany, Oct. 17.—The court of appeals handed down a decision holding that the supreme court of the state has the right to issue an injunction restraining the Consolidated Gas company of New York city from shutting off the supply of gas to consumers who refuse to pay more than 80 cents per thousand cubic feet and affirming orders granting injunctions in the test cases brought.

Paint Adds Value to Property

For every dollar's worth of paint—good paint—you put on your house, you add several dollars to its value, for the difference in price which property in good repair will bring over a shabby building is by no means measured by the actual cost of the improvement.

In this calculation we have not included the insurance feature—the saving of the property from decay.

Good paint looks well, protects well, lasts well.

There are many imitations of paint which do none of these things, yet cost as much or more than straight white lead and linseed oil, the best paint.

Salem Pure White Lead

(Made by the Old Dutch Process)

is the acknowledged standard. See that it is used on your house.

WOUNDS PROVE FATAL

Mrs McEwan's Husband Will Have to Answer to Murder

Boston, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Annie McEwan, who, it is alleged, was shot on Monday by her husband, Alexander McEwan, died at the relief hospital last night. The woman was shot three times in the abdomen.

The McEwans, who had not been living together, had a dispute regarding their child, which was in Mrs. McEwan's possession, and when husband and wife met in a Howard street dining room McEwan drew a revolver and shot his wife. He attempted to kill himself, but was overpowered before he could turn the revolver upon himself. McEwan formerly lived in Lawrence.

In court yesterday he was held in $10,000 for the grand jury on a charge of assault with attempt to kill. It is expected the grand jury will act on a charge of murder, which will probably be preferred.

Cut In Price of Gas

Holyoke, Mass., Oct. 17.—Municipal ownership of public utilities was given a boom in this city when formal announcement was made that the gas and electric lighting departments of the city will, on Dec. 1 next, reduce the price of gas to $1 per thousand cubic feet. The city of Holyoke has been in control of the gas and lighting facilities of the municipality for four years and the reduction makes a gross decrease of 40 cents and a net decrease of 35 cents since the department was established.

Delegates From All Nations

Boston, Oct. 17.—With a representation from every quarter of the globe—from "Darkest Africa" to the frigid zone—the triennial convention of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union, which will open in Tremont temple tomorrow, was prefaced this morning by devotional exercises at the Park Street church. That the convention will mark an epoch in "white ribbon" work is already assured, for the number of distinguished delegates from all climes has forecasted this fact.

Wads Removed From Body

Newburyport, Mass., Oct. 17.—Dr. Mixter, by an operation on Adam Rausch, the deputy game warden, who was shot while atempting to arrest Patrick Cahill in Rowley, has successfully removed two of the wads which were blown into the warden's body. No shot have been removed as yet. No ether was administered, and Rausch stood the operation wonderfully well. His condition is much improved, and there is now some hope for his recovery, unless septic poisoning sets in.

Shaun Kelly Within His Rights

Boston, Oct. 17.—Shaun Kelly was discharged from custody by Judge Wentworth. It was decided that while the police were acting properly in interfering with the Harvard boys on the night of the frolic on the common, the defendant did not commit an assault upon the policeman, as he was unaware that Officer Fraher in civilian's clothes was other than an ordinary citizen, and the defendant was properly within his right in resisting him under this misapprehension.

Smuggler to Fight Return

Boston, Oct. 17.—Following the refusal of United States District Attorney French to offer immunity or any terms favorable to James B. Lehneman, alleged smuggler of Chinamen, if he would return from Halifax, Attorney O'Hern, counsel for Lehneman, said last evening that his client was prepared to fight the case in the Canadian courts, and would in all probability appeal to the supreme court of the Dominion of Canada on habeas corpus proceedings.

Decision Against Mrs Ingersoll

Ingersoll, widow and administratrix of the estate of the late Robert G. Ingersoll, the agnostic and lawyer of New York, against Joseph A. Coram and others. The action was to recover a fee of $100,000 for services rendered by Ingersoll in the contest over the will of Andrew J. Davis, the Montana mining king.

Dog's Bite Causes Death

Greenfield, Mass., Oct. 17.—Mrs. A. W. Esleeck, aged 56, died here last night of hydrophobia. Some weeks ago Mrs. Esleeck was bitten in the lower lip by a small dog. Her husband is a textile manufacturer.

OUR HOSPITAL

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy)

INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams St., Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

THE
Young Men's Christian Association
OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title—Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

FOURTEEN LIVES LOST

French Submarine Disappears While Being Tested

Biserta, Tunis, Oct. 17.—The French submarine boat Lutin, while engaged in plunging experiments in the bay, failed to reappear after one of her plunges, and is now lying on the bottom in 130 feet of water. Her crew of 14 men undoubtedly suffered a horrible death such as overtook the crew of the Farfadet last year.

Soon after it was seen that the submarine had disappeared for good the accompanying tug, aided by torpedo boats, began to drag in the vicinity, and one boat reported having encountered an obstacle at a depth of 130 feet. Soon afterward, however, the sea became so rough that salvage operations had to be suspended, and this ended all hope for the imprisoned crew, who undoubtedly became suffocated in the course of a few hours.

The loss of the submarine Lutin recalls the catastrophe to the French submarine boat Farfadet July 6, 1905, at the entrance to the port of Sidi Abdallah, Tunis. Fourteen men perished. The submarine eventually was raised. Her machinery and hull suffered no serious damage.

On March 18, 1904, the British submarine A1 was run down by a steamer while submerged near Portsmouth. All her crew were lost.

On Feb. 5, 1905, the British submarine A5 sank off Queenstown, only one of her crew being saved.

A third British submarine sank off Plymouth June 8, 1905, after an explosion on board. Fourteen of her crew were killed.

Jerome Springs a Surprise

New York, Oct. 17.—There was a revival of interest in the case of Harry K. Thaw, charged with the murder of Stanford White, when District Attorney Jerome intimated that there might be other indictments in the case. The statement by Jerome was made in the course of an argument before Recorder Goff against the writ of prohibition restraining the district attorney's office from further preliminary action in grand jury proceedings in the murder case.

Facts Concerning Railroad Travelers

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 17.—John J. Byrne, assistant traffic passenger manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, in an address before the American Association of General Passenger Agents, said he found that 10 percent of travel was for health, 40 percent for business and 50 percent for pleasure. He said in France the travel is 20 percent greater than in this country, while England is also ahead of us.

Mrs Holmes Sent to Asylum

New York, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Elizabeth M. Holmes of Brooklyn, who was arrested in Washington last January while attempting to secure an interview with President Roosevelt, has been ordered by Judge Crane to be committed to Bloomingdale asylum. Mrs. Holmes believed that government officials were implicated in a plot to protect a lawyer by whom she believed she had been swindled.

Fifteen Years For Shooting Daughter

Providence, Oct. 17.—Judge Tanner imposed a sentence of 15 years in state prison on William B. Salisbury for assault with intent to kill. Salisbury's victim was his daughter, Lina B. Salisbury. Salisbury quarreled with her because she threatened to leave home. He fired a charge of buckshot into her side. The girl has now recovered from the effects of the wound.

Meat Investigation Resumed

Burlington, Vt., Oct. 17.—The Chittenden county grand jury resumed its deliberations today on the sale of diseased meat in this state. The Burlington Rendering company, a concern involved in the investigation, will produce its books and papers. At the first session of the grand jury the company declined to allow its books to go before that body.

Mormon President's Great Power

Salt Lake, Oct. 17.—President Smith of the Mormon church cannot be enjoined from using the funds of the church in commercial enterprises, nor can he be compelled to render an accounting of the tithing fund in his care as trustee of the church. Decision to this effect was rendered by Judge Morse.

Soldiers as Fire Fighters

Sturgis, S. D., Oct. 17.—Soldiers from the Sixth cavalry at Fort Mead have been sent to assist in fighting a prairie fire which started about a mile from Tilford and which has burned over a large expanse of country. Many farmhouses and grain stacks have been destroyed.

No One Responsible For Grounding

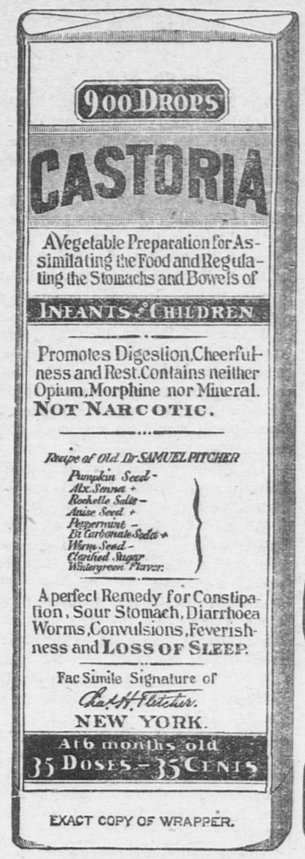

Washington, Oct. 17.—Secretary Bonaparte holds that no one is to blame for the grounding of the cruiser Boston in Puget sound during a dense fog early last September. He therefore approves the judge advocate general's recommendation that there be no further proceeding.

Negro Artist Successful

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Henry O. Tanner, a negro artist, was awarded the N. W. Harris prize of $500 for the best painting at the 19th annual exhibition of American painting at the Art institute. The painting is entitled "Two Disciples at the Tomb."

CLUB NOTES

CLUB NOTES.

The Woman's Charity club of Boston is holding special meetings in the interests of the Tambola or Japanese bazaar which they are to give next month.

The New Hampshire Daughters open their club season on Saturday afternoon at the Tuileries, Back Bay, Boston. Reports of the biennial; the field meeting of the N. H. State Federation, and a reception to the officers will make up an interesting program.

A pleasant feature of the opening meeting of the Dorchester Woman's club was the Hallowe'en tea. The decorations were autumn leaves and flowers and the banquet hall was lighted by hundreds of jack-o'lanterns made from pumpkins.

The Melrose Woman's club maintained a vacation school for six weeks this summer, caring for 225 pupils.

W. C. T. U. members are all interested in the seventh triennial convention of the World's W. C. T. U. which opens tomorrow in Boston. The World's Institute will be held at Tremont Temple on the 22d and 23d. About 400 delegates are expected and from all over the world.

The Newburyport Woman's club celebrated its tenth anniversary on October tenth.

"The Curve of Social Progress," is the subject of Rev. Edward Cummings talk to the Old Colony club of Weymouth on Thursday afternoon the 25th, and Miss Maud Townsend will contribute songs.

The annual State conference of the D. A. R. will be held at Worcester on Oct. 25 and 26. A reception will be given the delegates on the evening of the 25th by Mrs. Theodore C. Bates, vice president general for Massachusetts. The reception will be at her home 29 Harvard street. On the 26th the Col. Timothy Bigelow chapter will give a tea for the State society.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, president of the federation of Women's clubs, said a short time ago "women are losing in the business world and all around simply because they don't read the papers. I am devoted to newspapers." Sir James Crichton-Browne, an expert on nervous diseases, recently stated that the newspaper is the antidote to corroding egotism and gives a world wide horizon to the purblind and short sighted and that many a man has been saved from melancholy and fatuity by his daily paper. "Suppress your newspapers" he says "and you will have to enlarge your lunatic asylums."

Frisco.

Frisco was the god of peace and pleasure among the ancient Saxons.

Memory.

Scientists have discovered that the memory is stronger in summer than in winter. Among the worst foes of memory are too much food, too much physical enterprise and, strangely enough, too much education.

Bagatelle.

The game of bagatelle was invented about the year 1815.

"Demicked."

If an American student of etymology should travel through Yorkshire he would be surprised and puzzled at hearing the natives say, "Them taters is demicked." By diligent inquiry he would find out that when the first potato blight came the farmers heard it called an "epidemic," and that since then they have readjusted the word to their own uses.

Violins.

Violins vary more with weather than any other musical instrument.

Knighthood.

Knighthood was intended to serve as a mark of distinction for deeds of renown and merit. Knight properly signifies a person who, for his virtue and martial prowess, is raised from the rank of gentleman into a higher class of dignity and honor.

Greatest Alpine Avalanche.

The greatest Alpine avalanche was that which in 1827 swept away the town of Biel and killed nearly ninety persons.

Lord and Lady.

Lord and lady are the modern forms of hlafdian and hlaford, bread giver and breadwinner. The term scarlet is a modification of the Persian word for a bright red, sakarlat, applied to the garmaz, or cochineal, from whose dried body a vivid red dye is obtained.

Elections.

The earliest election of which the numbers polled have been preserved is that at Lincoln, England, in 1547. At this eighty-four "voices" were cast.

Haitian Diplomacy.

Once upon a time a president of Haiti, being in doubt as to how to deal with two Swiss subjects, inquired of his foreign minister, "Has Switzerland any navy?" On being answered in the negative the two Swiss were cast into prison forthwith.

The Alabama.

The famous Alabama was afloat twenty-two months. In that time she destroyed fifty-one vessels.

BOSTON LETTER.

How the Federation of Labor Was Dragged Into Politics.

GERRY BROWN'S SELFISH AIMS.

Why Did Moran Go to New York to See Hearst?

The Massachusetts branch of the American Federation of Labor has, during the past week, been holding a convention in the city of Lawrence. Some things done at that convention are extremely significant.

It has not been in past years the policy of labor bodies, as such, to take an active interest in politics. Members of labor bodies have exercised their rights as citizens to take such individual action as they saw fit on political matters.

The state branch of the American Federation of Labor, however, has for the first time in its history taken a deliberate plunge into politics, and from evidence at hand it seems apparent that Democratic leaders have tried to force it into the Democratic party.

One of the most striking things about this convention was the fact that one of the delegates was E. Gerry Brown of Brockton, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor in this commonwealth, and that Mr. Brown used his utmost efforts to embroil the federation in the contest between the two great parties for the lieutenant governorship. It was particularly notorious that Mr. Brown, as the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, should enter a labor convention and endeavor to put that convention on record as conspiring for the defeat of the Republican candidate for the same office. There was an extremely sharp fight over this issue, and Mr. Brown led in the fighting for the passage of a resolution calling on the Federation of Labor to undertake the defeat of his Republican competitor for the office of lieutenant governor.

Selfishness Splits the Federation

Such an exhibition has seldom been witnessed in this commonwealth. The evident anxiety of Mr. Brown to make a personal use of the labor movement to defeat his rival for the lieutenant governorship shows a selfishness which has split wide open the ranks of labor in this commonwealth.

From all parts of the state labor men have raised their voices in protest against such rank selfishness and such willingness to embroil the Federation of Labor in a political contest. It will probably not benefit Mr. Brown as much as he thought it would. The delegates of the American Federation of Labor in this state can vote to take the Federation into politics, but it is another thing to drag the individual members at the chariot wheels of the Democratic party. A great many members of the American Federation of Labor in various parts of the commonwealth have signified their intention to vote as they see fit, regardless of the attempt made at Lawrence to tie them up to the Democratic party.

What made it extremely evident that unscrupulous men there had planned to capture the American Federation of Labor for the benefit of the Democratic party was the action of the convention in considering the cases of congressmen in this commonwealth. The cases of 11 congressmen were acted upon and two of them were indorsed, both Democrats, while nine were censured, all of them being Republicans. It is extremely significant that some of these Republican congressmen had been hearty workers in the interests of measures demanded by labor organizations, and had always been considered friends of labor. Some of these congressmen had voted on labor measures almost identically as had one of the Democratic congressmen who was indorsed.

It is true that a number of the delegates to the Lawrence convention deprecated any such action as was taken, feeling certain that it would be followed by injury to the labor cause, but those who were insistent upon dragging the labor cause, as represented by the Federation, into politics, could not be deterred from their purpose. It was quite evident that the whole thing had been prearranged and that it was a deliberate effort to align the Federation of Labor on the side of the Democratic party in the present political contest.

Concealing Their Partisanship

It was called to the attention of some of those engaged in this transaction that it would be very apparent that the move was wholly political as the matter then stood; therefore, for the purpose of concealing the partisanship of the whole transaction, it was decided to censure a Democratic state senator for his action on one of the measures defeated in the legislature at the last session, so that the utter partisanship of the convention might be slightly relieved.

The questions, however, will still be asked: "Why did the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Lawrence indorse none but Democratic candidates and, with one exception, censure none but Republicans?"

"Why did E. Gerry Brown of Brockton, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, seek to enlist the American Federation of Labor in his fight against Lieutenant Governor Draper of Hopedale?"

"Was it the best interests of the American Federation of Labor in Massachusetts which was sought by Brown and his allies, or was it a purely selfish interest which had no regard for the welfare of the Federation or its members?"

Nemesis on Moran's Trail

When John B. Moran started out to secure an election as district attorney of Suffolk county and succeeded, he declared to his friends, it is said, that he would do something to get his name in the newspaper headlines every day of the year. He succeeded extremely well, but the time has come when he is not so desirous of publicity as he was then. For the last several months he has been pursuing publicity with a determined step. At the present moment publicity of an undesirable sort is pursuing him as relentlessly and as determinedly as the bloodhound on the trail of his victim. Retribution is on his trail. It is evident that a man may have too much even of a good thing, and certainly Mr. Moran feels that he has too much unpleasant publicity at the present time.

It is quite a different matter when your own ox is gored from what it is when it is merely your neighbor's ox. Mr. Moran has summoned a great many men before the grand jury, but although such publicity has been unpleasant, that has usually been the end of the matter. His habit of bringing people before the grand jury was well hit up the other day when one of the Boston newspapers said it was a matter of as little import to be called before the grand jury of Suffolk county as it was to be called to the telephone.

Chaos Is the Situation

At the present moment a state of anarchy seems to exist on the Democratic side. The only man Mr. Moran feels entirely safe in trusting is John B. Moran. All the others who surround him are believed by him to be either spies of the enemy or men who wish, themselves, to occupy the position of leadership now held by him if, indeed, a man can be called a leader whose following is wholly a matter of conjecture. Mr. Moran is supposed to have lost confidence in both the Coakleys, Timothy Wilfred and Daniel H., and also in their brother-in-law, Joseph A. Dennison. He is not quite sure of the sincerity of George Fred Williams since Mr. Williams stampeded the Democratic state convention with that resolution indorsing William Jennings Bryan for the presidential nomination in 1908, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Williams himself declares that he and Moran are on the most friendly terms. He is a little uncertain about the loyalty of Granville S. McFarland and in his sleep he has bad dreams in which he imagines that John B. Feeney carries a stiletto in his inside pocket.

As a matter of fact he has had occasional moments in which he is doubtful whether to trust himself to run for governor. Taken all in all, it is a situation which has never been paralleled in the political history of the state of Massachusetts. When prominent Democrats wake up in the morning they are accustomed to ask themselves whether Mr. Moran is still a candidate, or if he has declined to run on the Democratic ticket and given way to Whitney or Douglas.

Moran and Hearst

"Why did John B. Moran go to New York and see William R. Hearst?"

That is a question which the politicians are busy asking today. Is he a personal representative of Mr. Hearst in the fight of the latter for the Democratic nomination to the presidency? Does he represent the same type of politics as is represented by Mr. Hearst? Is he a Democrat or a Hearstite?"

The most absorbing question, however, is the first, which is: "Why did Mr. Moran go to New York to see William R. Hearst?"

Democrats throughout the state would like to have this question honestly answered.

The Moon of Goldenrod.

In the moon of goldenrod
All the land with langor fills,
Dreamily the cricket chirs,
Drowsily the locust whirs,
Ceaselessly the katydid,
In the dusky branches hid,
All the night long shrills and shrills
In the moon of goldenrod.

In the moon of goldenrod
Every grass blade on the lawns
Bears its cobweb streamer fine,
Shimmering in the lazy shine;
Fairy hammocks, spider spun,
Lightly swaying in the sun,
Dewdrop jeweled, grace the dawns
In the moon of goldenrod.

In the moon of goldenrod
Orchard branches, laden all,
Droop to touch the orchard grass,
And the harvest winds that pass
Pluck the fruits that mellow there,
Purple plum and yellow pear,
Fling them to the lap of fall,
In the moon of goldenrod.

In the moon of goldenrod
Palely blue the asters blow;
Here and there amid the green
Of the sumac thicket seen,
Autumn's crimson banner tells
That the summer's citadels
Weaken to their overthrow,
In the moon of goldenrod.

Ah, the moon of goldenrod!
Butterflies go drifting by
On their gorgeous painted wings,
Lovely, idle, aimless things—
Careless they that summer goes,
Heedless of impending snows;
Lovers of today—as I,
In the moon of goldenrod.

Sandwich Filling.

A delicious sandwich mixture for afternoon tea or luncheon is made of an equal amount of cold chicken and tongue chopped up very finely in a bowl. To this add a dozen large olives, stoned, and half a dozen hard boiled eggs. Chop this until it is as fine as possible, and then mix in enough mayonnaise to make a thick paste. Spread this upon thin white bread and butter, and you will confess it is as good as

NOTABLE FUNERAL

Col. Higginson Speaks of Old Classmate R. H. Harlow

The funeral of Rev. Robert H. Harlow was held Wednesday afternoon from the Baptist church, Wollaston, at 2 o'clock. Several prominent people and clergyman were present. These included Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, of Boston, Rev. W. G. Babcock of Dorchester, and Judge John S. Keyes of Concord, three of the six surviving members of the class of '41, of Harvard University; Rev. Dr. T. S. Barber of the Baptist Mission societies, Rev. Rufus B. Tobey and Rev. Edward Norton.

The services were conducted by Rev. E. D. Webber, pastor of the church, who met the funeral party at the entrance of the church and chanted "I am the Resurrection," as it proceeded down the aisle, while Mrs. Chandler W. Smith played softly on the organ.

On the casket was a large picture of surviving members of the class of '41, taken on its sixtieth anniversary.

The church bell was tolled for fifteen minutes previous to the services and the deacons of the church, H. B. Bailey, C. E. Goodspeed and G. E. Thomas, acted as ushers.

During the services the Adelphi quartet sang, "Crossing the Bar," "Passing out of the Shadow," and "Now the Laborer's Task is O'er."

The pastor read the scriptures and then briefly sketched the life of the departed one. He said that he was a constant church attendant. His figure was a familiar one on the street, yet to a great many he was completely unknown. The veil of years was drawn as he retired to live the days that had gone. He was a man of another day put forward into our day.

Rev. Mr. Webber then spoke of the early history of the Harlow family, which was one of the first of the country. Also of Mr. Harlow's early life and of his career since being graduated from Harvard.

In his latter years, the book and lamp were his attractions, and he made vast attainments as a student and cultivated his memory until the very last. In closing he spoke of his fondness of children and animals.

Col. Higginson after referring to the touching musical selections said:

"There have been greatly missed for the last year or two from the Harvard commencement processions, two figures well known to the eyes of every Cambridge citizen. They were two brothers who seemed as inseparable as the Siamese twins, graduates of the class of 1841, who for more than 60 years had rarely, if ever, missed an attendance on that ceremonial. These were the two brothers, Harlow originally from Boston, of whom the elder had belonged for a time to the class previous to ours but had dropped a class as if to preserve a twinship with his younger brother.

"The elder brother practiced medicine in Boston for many years; the younger chose for his profession the Baptist ministry, was trained at the Newton theological institution, graduating in 1847, was setiled as a preacher at Paris, Me., on Cape Cod, and elsewhere. Both of them, however, in later life retired from the active service of their respective professions and finally took up their abode in Wollaston where the elder brother died three years since, and the younger has now followed him.

"Turning back to their college life, they did not enter the class of 1841 until its sophomore year, always roomed together in the college buildings, and lived in the simplest and most blameless way, practicising I have no doubt, much economy. The students at that time, quite unlike the present day, were almost wholly either Unitarian or Episcopalians, and I well remember that the Harlows held so faithfully to the faith in which they were reared and yet talked of it so liberally that it disarmed for once for all my own boyish prejudices against the Baptist body.

"Not myself being a dweller in the college yard, but at my mother's house in Cambridge, I should probably have seen little of them, but for the fact the initial letters of our names brought us near together in our recitations and that we were also not far apart in our grade of scholarship, they graduating fourth and fifth and I not far off.

"They took no part, that I can remember, in games or athletics, belonged to no societies except the closing Phi Beta Kappa, but were always on kindly and cheery terms with all. It is a proof of this that they gradually came to being called by their familiar name from the words of a song then much sung, and were often spoken of as the 'Billy-Barlows,' or even as the 'two Billies,' and had the good sense to be only amused by it.

"My statement so far may seem only commonplace, if not trivial, but college life then, like all human life, was full of surprises and every man in the class was one day astonished by seeing the younger Harlow, that one for whose sake we gather today, pluck wholly unexpected laurels in quite a new direction. We had in those days regular exercises in declamation, every man taking his turn under Prof. Edward T. Channing (grand uncle of the present Prof. Edward Channing), and of Richard H. Dana, later to be distinguished himself as an orator.

"The very first competition proved that we had among us two men who seemed what might be called natural orators. These men represented in several respects the two extremes of the class, one being a young fellow from Louisiana, and the other being the grave and modest recluse, Harlow the second. Orne, the southerner, recited before us Byron's fine lyric, 'The Isles of Greece,' and I remember it as if it were yesterday; while Harlow the second startled us even more by the impressive and even powerful way in which he declaimed, I think, a passage from Webster, or some similar source.

"It is to be remembered that public oratory has grown steadily more and more direct and simple during these later years, in the pulpit and out of it, and I do not know how our deceased friend's manner might have struck me 20 years later. At one class meeting in later years, and one only, I remember him as giving us in what seemed a slightly overstrenuous manner, an impassioned religious appeal, which I have no doubt did us good, and I am told that even in the years of his infirmity, he still gave most faithful exhortations. With what fine endurance he bore his physical affliction we all know; and can well imagine the way in which he welcomed his release into some higher realm of existence, and listened for the verdict: 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'"

CHURCH WEDDING

And Reception At West Quincy Organist Married At Braintree

Quincy people as well as guests from Brockto , Weymouth, Braintree, Boston, Newton, Somerville and Springfield were interested in the wedding Wednesday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church, West Quincy. The bride was Clara May Thorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thorne of Douglas place, and the groom Charles Edmund Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas of Bunker Hill street.

The church was artistically decorated with palms, ferns, rubber plants, autumn leaves and hydrangeas, in charge of Mrs. Fred L. Badger and with the brilliant lighting made a pretty setting for a wedding.

At eight o'clock the organist, Leslie Mehaffey of Wollaston, played Lohengrin's wedding march, and the bridal party entered the church. The order of procession was a chorus of twelve girls, members of the bride's Sunday school class; the ushers, Ernest and John Williams, Joseph Francis, Arthur Dunstan, Herbert Fuller and William Shirley all of West Quincy; the groom and his best man, David E. Thomas; the two bridesmaids, Maude Estella Hodgkinson of West Quincy and Grace Estelle Mehaffey of Wollaston; the maid of honor, Irene Gertrude Graham of West Quincy; the little ring girls, Miriam Eleanor Tyler and Sarah Lois Fuller; the flower girls, Grace Day Thorne and Julia May Thorne, nieces of the bride, and lastly the bride and her brother, Henry William Thorne, who gave her in marriage.

Rev. A. B. Tyler, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The bridal party left the church to the inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the vestry which had been decorated with ferns and autumn leaves by the Epworth League in charge of Mrs. A. B. Tyler.

The best man, maid of honor and bridesmaids assisted the bride and groom in receiving their friends; a wedding supper was served. Helen and Lettie Burke, Belle and Lizzie Philip, Rose Schatzel, Maggie Scott, Jennie Crowell, Olive Grant, Margaret Shirley, Hilda Francis, Frances Burke, Catherine Hodgkinson, Beryle Hannant, Amy Miller, Ada and Annie Belle Scott, present and former members of the Epworth League, assisted with the refreshments.

The bride's gown was white silk with mekland lace and she wore a pearl necklace. The veil was caught with lilies-of-the-valley and the bridal bouquet was of roses. The maid of honor wore a silk batiste trimmed with val lace and carried a bouquet of Lawson pinks, white canrations and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaids were dressed alike in silk batiste and carried bouquets of Lawson pinks and maiden hair fern. The groom presented the bride with a handsome brooch and his best man with a stick pin, the maid of honor had from the bride as a souvenir of the happy occasion a brooch of horse shoe and wishbone symbols of good luck and best wishes.

The wedding presents were numerous and beautiful, consisting of silver, cut glass, china, furniture, linen, etc.

Higgins—Kelley.

Amid autumn flowers, chrysanthemums, laurel and palms, Miss Sara Moulton Kelley, daughter of Mr. Hiram A. Kelley of Braintree, became the bride of Mr. Henry Davis Higgins of Hyde Park.

The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride on Wednesday evening at half past seven, Rev. Alfred Ray Atwood of the Congregational church, Quincy Point, officiating.

In the bridal party were the best man, Mr. Olstin Higgins of Hyde Park, and two bridesmaids, Miss Marion Rogers of Lexington and Miss Ruth Niles of Brockton. The ribbon bearers were the little nieces of the groom, Marion and Blanche Higgins, and there were two ushers, Robert Walker of Hyde Park and Benjamin Phillips of Dedham.

It was a very pretty grouping under a floral arch. The bride wore a gown of white messaline satin, cut en traine and trimmed with lace. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley, and the long tulle veil was caught with the same sweet flower. Her only ornament was a pearl and diamond brooch, a gift from the groom. Both bridesmaids were dressed alike in white organdie over pink silk.

An informal reception followed the ceremony the young people receiving most hearty congratulations and good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins are making a two weeks' tour of the Berkshires and Adirondacks. They are to make their home with the bride's people at 490 Washington street, Braintree, where they will be at home to their friends after January first.

Mrs. Higgins has many friends among the attendants at the Quincy Point church, where she has been organist for several years, and is held in high esteem.

GIRLS RUNOVER

One Probably Fatally Injured By Automobile On Washington St.

A serious if not fatal accident occurred on Washington street Wednesday afternoon, when two little girls were runover by an automobile. The girls were Elizabeth Wightman, the 6-year-old daughter of John Whightman of 10 Broadway, and Annie Banhan, the 6-year old daughter of Charles G. Banhan of 32 Broadway.

The accident happened just after school closed. The two little girls after coming from the school yard started down Washington street banging on behind a coal team. Suddenly they stepped from behind the coal team into the street, directly in front of an automobile coming toward Quincy.

The chauffeur tried to stop his machine, but the distance was so short that he could not, and they were run over. The automobile was stopped and the occupants in the machine rendered all the assistance possible.

The injured children were immediately taken to the house of Mrs. William Caldwell. Dr. E. H. Bushnell was quickly on the spot. A hasty examination showed the Wightman girl to be unconscious, and Dr. Bushnell ordered her removed to the City Hospital where she was taken in the police ambulance. The Banhan girl's injuries were not so serious, and she was taken home in the automobile. After taking her home the machine came back and took Dr. Bushnell to the hospital.

At the hospital the injured girl was attended by Drs. Dion and Bushnell. It was found that she sustained concussion of the brain and up to a late hour at night had not regained consciousness. The Banhan girl was severely bruised and shaken up, but fortunately no bones were broken.

The car, which was numbered 16,173, is owned by Lewis Rothenburg of 14 Claremont park, Boston, and the number shows it to be a recent purchase. Mr. Rothenburg was not in the car at the time. The car had been in Quincy undergoing repairs and the owner's brother had come out after it, and was taking it to Boston when the accident happened.

In the car at the time were Abram Rothenburg of 42 Canal street, Boston; George P. Hildreth of Cambridge, the chauffeur, and Albert R. Jardine of 16 Edison park.

The occupants of the automobile said that as they came up the street they saw that school was just out and that they were running slowly.

After an investigation of the circumstances the police found that no blame was attached to the occupants of the automobile.

At the City Hospital this morning it was said that the Wightman girl was still unconscious.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Tomorrow will be the anniversary of the birth of President John Adams at Quincy. It should be a flag day for the City of Presidents.

A new feature of the Saturday eight-page Daily Ledger for the next six weeks will be an illustrated column with suggestions for making Christmas presents at home. They will be useful articles which any woman can make, combining sentiment with utility. It is a timely feature, for it is time to be thinking about Christmas.

The city receipts from water will be larger this year than in 1905, but not because of water meters, because meter rates for the new meters are not in effect. Up to Oct. 1 the City Treasurer reports the water receipts of 1906 to amount to $94,332.88, against $88,464.10 on Oct. 1 last year, and $94,578.07 for the twelve months of 1905.

For some reason the water receipts of 1905 did not show the average increase, being less than $1,000 larger than in 1904, while the average increase for the preceding four years was over $9,000. To keep up the average (1900 to 1904,) the water receipts for the year 1906 should amount to $112,124.34. Perhaps they will.

The receipts and increases since 1900 have been:

Year.	Commissioner.	Amount.	Increase.
1900	Knowlton,	$57,154.86	——
1901	Knowlton,	63,938.23	$6,783.37
1902	Knowlton,	73,650.12	9,712.89
1903	Knowlton,	80,303.57	6,653.45
1904	Knowlton,	93,801.20	13,497.63
1905	Burke	94,578.07	776.87
1906	Burke	*94,332.88	——

* To Oct. 1.

The above amounts are, in each case, for the current year, and do not include the collection of old bills of previous years. In 1904, for example, the Commissioner collected old bills to the amount of $3,018.19, which was additional to the $93,801.20. In 1905 Commissioner Burke collected old bills to the amount of $260.98, and thus far this year has collected old bills to the amount of $1,208.26 to Oct. 1.

The appropriations for water this year were as follows:

Maintenance	$12,000 00
Interest	26,722 50
Maturing debt	39,500 00
Metropolitan assessment	46,314 16
	$124,536 66

Without meters the receipts were increasing $7,000 to $10,000 per year on an average, and the Water department would soon have been self supporting. The Metropolitan assessments to be sure have increased, but have now reached the maximum as construction is practically completed. What effect the introduction of meters will have, remains to be demonstrated.

HEARST THE ISSUE

Guild Sees Deliberate Deception of the People

"A REAL YELLOW PERIL"

Moran's Opponent Takes Up "Nine Specific Falsehoods" In a Single Issue of a Boston Newspaper and Refutes Them

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 18.—Governor Guild, accused of defeating the women's and minors' overtime bill in the senate, scored his accusers in city hall last night, and came out flat for the bill, even urging national legislation. Guild said in part:

"My antagonist has stated that the contest between us is not on national issues. It is impossible to confine this campaign to local issues. The issue that will not down is: Shall Hearst and Hearstism control the government of the separate states and of the United States? Shall this reckless young millionaire, who neither in the gold mine that pays his bills nor on his California ranch, practice what he preaches to other employers of labor, supplant Theodore Roosevelt as the sort of person that the American citizen most delights to honor?

"I do not know which is the more demoralizing to good government—a campaign based on money or a campaign based on slander. A second issue in the campaign therefore is: "Will Massachusetts rebuke or support a campaign based on the deliberate deception of the people? On Wednesday, Oct. 10, the Boston organ of the ruling faction of the Massachusetts Democracy stated: 'Mr. Guild does not believe in union labor.'

"This is falsehood No. 1. The Commercial Bulletin is, and has been since I assumed control, a union office on the eight-hour basis.

"The organ says: 'The work on the dome is being done under the direction of the governor.' This is falsehood No. 2. The statutes of Massachusetts delegate this duty and all repairs to the sergeant-at-arms.

"The organ says: 'The governor made a contract with a firm which does not employ union men.' This sentence includes falsehoods No. 3 and 4. The governor made no contract. He has had no authority to do so. The firm to which the sergeant-at-arms, who is elected by the legislature, awarded the contract, did and does employ union labor, and union labor is at work on the dome now.

"The organ says: 'Before this work was begun a committee headed by Martin T. Joyce, president of the Boston Central Labor union, called on the governor and acquainted him with all the facts.' This is falsehood No. 5. I have had no conversation with any committee in regard to the subject of the dome.

"The same issue of the organ declared that I had been condemned by the A. F. of L. by a vote of 94 to 38. This is falsehood No. 6. Yet when correction was demanded by the labor unions the only correction made was not a retraction of the statement that I had been condemned, but a statement that resolutions with regard to Mr. Draper had been 'incorrectly reported.'

"The same issue of the same newspaper, Oct. 10, on its last page stated that I was especially satisfied with the defeat of the 'overtime bill.' This is falsehood No. 7. I never asked or intimated, directly or indirectly, that I desired any man to vote against that bill. I feared no more to face the 'overtime bill' than I feared to face the eight-hour bill.

"The same article insinuates that I might constitutionally have revived the overtime bill after its defeat. This is falsehood No. 8. The overtime bill had been definitely defeated so far as that session of the legislature was concerned. There was no way possible under the Constitution for the executive to have revived it.

"My opponent's principal organ states that Judge Dana was rewarded for voting against the overtime bill by a seat on the bench of the superior court. This is falsehood No. 9. The overtime bill was defeated on March 23. The first intimation that Dana received in regard to the judgeship was long afterwards. He was confirmed as judge on June 20. He never knew I was considering his name. His appointment, now attacked, was at the time commended by legislators in both branches of the state legislature. In one single issue of the organ of the opposition I have exposed to you nine specific falsehoods. I cannot, of course, hope to correct every falsehood aimed at me in the campaign.

"If we ask for continuance of power it is because we believe that as the policy of this administration has not been, and will not be, dictated from the office of any corporation inside or outside the commonwealth, so it has not been dictated or influenced, directly or indirectly, by William R. Hearst, the real Yellow Peril of the United States. Let Massachusetts be governed, not from New York, but by the people of Massachusetts."

Moran's Questions to Guild

Fitchburg, Mass., Oct. 18.—John B. Moran, the Democratic candidate for governor, opened his campaign outside of Boston with a rally in city hall last evening. Moran spoke for an hour and repeated many parts of his speech Tuesday evening in Boston, his only divergence being the propounding of two questions for Governor Guild to answer, one being as to his attitude on the abolition of the lobby at the state house and the other on the repeal of the abortion laws. Every seat in city hall was occupied and several hundred crowded the rear of the hall.

Moran Again Collapses

Gardner, Mass., Oct. 18.—John B. Moran, G. F. Williams and E. G. Brown addressed a largely attended rally in the Gardner theatre last night. Moran urged his hearers to vote according to their principles He said he had been a Democrat in good and regular standing for many years, but he had bolted the ticket a dozen times because the men put up by the Democrats were not fit for office. At the conclusion of his address Moran sank to his seat exhausted, while his physician, Dr. Stewart, who is accompanying him, administered a restorative.

Hearst In Kilburn's Home Town

Plattsburg, N. Y., Oct. 18.—W. R. Hearst continued his campaign tour yesterday, passing through five counties. Five speeches were made by Hearst. The reception accorded to him at all points was hearty, and at Watertown and Malone it was decidedly enthusiastic. A feature of the day was the invasion of Malone, the home town of Superintendent of Banks Kilburn, whom Hearst has declared he will remove if he is elected governor, and whose administration has been one of the special targets of the Hearst campaign.

Cannon Says People Are Satisfied

New York, Oct. 18.—Speaker Cannon called at the headquarters of the Republican congressional campaign committee in this city. Cannon afterward said: "There is no great enthusiasm in the campaign, but it seems to me the quiet of earnest conviction. The people are satisfied with present conditions and when a man is satisfied he is not very demonstrative. I am satisfied that there will be a Republican house to support President Roosevelt for the remainder of his administration."

Hearst a Follower of Bryan

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 18.—A large audience greeted Speaker Cannon here last night. In his speech Cannon did not mention any candidates except at the close, when he asked the young men not to vote for Hearst. He said a young man who desired to do what was right could not with due regard to his conscience cast a vote for Hearst, who was a follower of Bryan.

Hughes Talks In Manhattan

New York, Oct. 18.—Charles E. Hughes continued his campaigning last night in Manhattan, where he delivered five speeches before audiences that were large and demonstrative. He emphasized his contention that the issue was good citizenship and honest government as opposed to pretense and personal aggrandizement.

Thayer For Attorney General

Boston, Oct. 18.—John A. Thayer of Worcester was nominated for attorney general by the executive committee of the Democratic state committee to fill the vacancy in the state ticke caused by the refusal of J. W. Coughlin of Fall River to accept the nomination tendered by the state convention.

Boston Has 112,505 Voters

Boston, Oct. 18.—Registration for the state election closed in this city last evening, and the total reached 112,505, which is 674 greater than last year. The registration was the heaviest in those wards which usually go Republican.

Shift In Wind Checked Fire

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 18.—The Ayer house, an historic old hotel, and the general store of G. A. Robie & Son in the village of Hooksett were destroyed by fire last night. The fire started from a defective chimney in the cellar of the Ayer house. There is no fire-fighting apparatus of any kind in the village, and but for a fortunate shift of the wind other buildings would probably have burned. The total loss is about $10,000.

Coffee Crops Alone Suffer

Washington, Oct. 18.—Attorney General Feulle of Porto Rico, who called at the White House to pay his respects to the president, said there had been unprecedented prosperity in the sugar and tobacco industry of the island and a consequent increase in the foreign trade. He said the coffee crops had been very poor since the great storm of 1899.

Standard Oil Case Goes to Jury

Findlay, O., Oct. 18.—After a trial of seven days the fate of the Standard Oil company of Ohio, charged with conspiracy against trade, was placed in the hands of the jury last night. The defense submitted 14 points of law for incorporation in the charge of the court to the jury, all but two of which were rejected.

BROUWER IS FREE

Jury Finds Him Not Guilty of Murder of Wife

CHEERS IN COURTROOM

Crowd Filed Past Acquitted Man and Shook His Hand and Extended Congratulations--Affecting Scene at His Home

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 18.—After a trial that had lasted since Oct. 3, Dr. Frank L. Brouwer, indicted for murdering his wife, Carrie Brouwer, by the use of poison, was acquitted yesterday afternoon. The evidence was all in Tuesday and yesterday the arguments were made, followed by the judge's charge. The jury retired at 4:25 o'clock and brought in a verdict of "not guilty" just one hour later.

The courtroom was crowded when Judge Hendrickson ascended the bench to hear the verdict of the jury. Brouwer was brought in, looking a trifle pale, but showing little sign of nervousness. The jury then filed into the box and the foreman was asked if they had agreed on a verdict. He promptly replied: "We find a verdict of not guilty."

Instantly the courtroom was in an uproar. Men and women cheered and applauded in spite of the rapping for order and the court constables had all they could do to suppress the noise. Finally, when quiet was restored, Brouwer was formally discharged. He was so overcome that he could scarcely speak.

At this point the applause was renewed and women waved their handkerchiefs, while scores of Brouwer's friends crowded about him and offered their congratulations.

When the excitement had died down somewhat Brouwer shook hands with his counsel and, turning to Judge Hendrickson, thanked him for the impartiality of his charge to the jury. Brouwer then asked permission to address the jury and when it was granted, said:

"I am thankful, very thankful for the way you have treated me, and I hope that none of you will ever be placed in such a position as I have been."

The doctor then shook hands with each juror. As he turned from the jurymen, men, women and children again pressed about the acquitted man, who finally backed up to the wall of the courtroom and grasped each extended hand as the crowd, shouting its congratulations, filed past him. Once free of the courtroom crowd Brouwer was hurried by his counsel to the street, where another crowd that had been waiting cheered and followed him as he walked rapidly towards his home.

As Brouwer came within sight of his home his aged mother and his little boys appeared in the doorway. The boys quickly ran into the arms of their father, who, catching them up, one on each arm, ascended the steps to the house. As his head reached her level, his mother threw her arms about the three. A moment later Brouwer turned to the crowd which had remained at his heels throughout the affecting scene and briefly expressed his thanks for the evidence of good will.

Dr. Brouwer, one of the best known physicians in Ocean county, N. J., was charged with the murder of his wife, Carrie, at their home in Toms River, after a married life of nine years. Mrs. Brouwer died a week after she became ill, and soon rumors as to the cause of her death led her brother and an insurance company, in which Mrs. Brouwer's life was insured in her husband's favor, to begin investigations. These investigations resulted in Mrs. Brouwer's body being exhumed and an autopsy being performed. Eventually Brouwer was indicted for murder. At the trial the state sought to show that Brouwer gave his wife arsenic and strychnine, with intent to kill her.

A New Roosevelt Painting

Washington, Oct. 18.—President Roosevelt yesterday had a view of the life-sized picture of himself seated on his favorite saddlehorse, Blithstein, as the horse is in the act of jumping a fence. The painting was made from a snapshot taken several years ago. The painting, which is eight by twelve feet, is said to be an excellent portrayal of the original.

Leopold Fears Investigation

Rome, Oct. 18.—King Leopold of Belgium is using his personal influence to prevent the proposed international conference regarding the existing conditions in the Congo Independent state. He has even asked the assistance of the Vatican to this end, but his request has not yet been granted. Italy is in favor of such a conference.

Messenger and Tramp Killed

Pueblo, Col., Oct. 18.—Express Messenger Murdock and a tramp were killed and a score of passengers were injured in a head-on collision between express trains near Manzanola. Both locomotives were demolished, as was a baggage car.

The shoes worn by the natives in China are made with leather or cotton cloth soles, above which is a layer of rags or paper or feathers, with cotton cloth next to the foot. The uppers are made of cotton sheetings or shirtings, Italians, satins or velvets, dyed either black or blue. Such shoes cost from 25 cents to 70 cents a pair, in gold.

NATION'S MENACE

A Remedy Must Be Found For Lynching Negroes

MANY INNOCENT SUFFER

Race Which Was Poverty-Stricken Forty Years Ago Has Accumulated Over Half a Billion Dollars--Ever Loyal to the Flag

Chattanooga, Oct. 18.—United States Senator Foraker, in an address, before the Army of the Cumberland here last night, reviewed at some length the great struggles of the Civil war and some of the results growing out of that conflict, and then continued:

"It seems incredible that the government that is all powerful to accomplish the long list of splendid achievements that have been wrought at home and abroad is yet, nevertheless, incapable of protecting at home, on our own soil, under our own flag, in the enjoyment of all his constitutional and political rights, our humblest citizen.

"It is our boast, and has been for 40 years, that we abolished slavery and lifted the negro up out of his degradation to a plane of political equality with all other citizens, in the presence of our Constitution and our laws. With the encouragement and inspiration thus given him, the black man has, during these 40 years, made a great deal of progress. The four and a half millions of negroes of 1860 owned nothing. Nearly all of them were owned by somebody else.

"And yet, while we have seen their population barely doubled, we have seen them accumulate property, which they today own in their own right to the amount of more than $500,000,000. We have seen them, while struggling up out of poverty, yet seeking and finding education, until where probably not one man in a thousand could then read or write, today less than half of them are illiterate. We have seen them establishing schools and colleges and universities of their own and successfully conducting them.

"They have ever been loyal to the flag, and yet it would seem as though this very loyalty and patriotism and progress they are making are today militating against their happiness and their security north as well as south. If this violence were aimed at only the guilty it would be a great crime against society and that law and order upon which the safety of our institutions depends, but too frequently it strikes down the innocent and takes on the hideous form of brutal and indiscriminate murder that shocks and deadens the moral sensibilities of the whole nation.

"To talk about eliminating the black man by deporting him to Africa or some other foreign country to be acquired by us for that purpose is the veriest nonsense. The thought of exterminating him is a thousand times worse, and mere talk about it, no matter how idle it may be, is a shocking moral crime.

"All attempts by lynching or other forms of violence to reduce him to a servile condition will be found, if persisted in, just as odious to the American people of this day as was slavery to the American people of 1861-65. None of these suggestions will answer. Some other remedy must be found, and it must be one consistent with the recognition of his manhood and with his just rights as a citizen of this republic. I criticise nobody, but I earnestly appeal to everybody, north and south, white and black, Democrat and Republican alike, to help in the great work of freeing us from this menacing trouble.

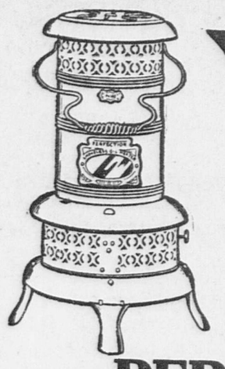

"It is as important as regulation of trusts and railroads and business corporations, on account of which we have been invoking the powers of the federal government and with respect to which powers the president has recently announced in public speeches that they are hampered and hindered by decisions of the courts that he does not hesitate to say are, in his opinion, erroneous and which should be, therefore, I presume, in some manner reversed or avoided, to tend that the work he has specially undertaken and for which he has so conspicuously labored may be carried beyond anything he has yet accomplished.

"If I understand what decisions are referred to, I do not believe that they were erroneous and I do not like the veiled suggestion that they should be reversed, for I am less afraid of the greed of avarice than I am of the greed of power. I would like to see both restrained with the constitutional limitations our fathers wisely provided.

"But if such a change should be wrought, it may be that under the new constitution thus to be established and promulgated by judicial construction, there may be found a way at the same time more fully to protect the life, liberty and political rights of the American citizen as well as his property and commercial rights. If so there might be some compensation for the numerous embarrassments and evils that I fear would follow in other respects. But, however all this may be, I have an abiding faith in the patriotism and saving common sense of the American people."

FIREARMS AND STEAM

Weapons to Fight Off Receivers of a Vermont Quarry

Rutland Vt., Oct. 18.—Twenty-five armed men are on guard at the Eastman marble quarry in West Rutland to prevent the receivers of the Columbian Quarry company, if necessary, from taking possession of the premises under an order granted by Judge Powers at Montpelier. The order of Powers is designed to allow the receivers to use the machinery of the quarry for the purpose of taking out marble which it is alleged the Eastmans were under contract to the Columbian company to furnish for filling certain orders.

In addition to the firearms with which the guards stationed by the Eastman company are said to be equipped, a steampipe has been arranged in a position where steam can be used effectively upon any force attempting to carry the place by storm. Deputy Sheriff Tolly was at the scene to preserve order, but there has been no conflict of any sort. The representatives of the receivers were also there, and were being hospitably treated, though the representatives of the Eastman company persisted in their determination not to turn the plant over to them.

Were Given Up as Lost

Boston, Oct. 18.—So numb they could scarcely move, exhausted by their long continued struggle for life, faint for food, of which they had not tasted for 18 hours, two fishermen of the schooner Rose Dorothea were rescued off Chatham by the crew of the schooner James and Rose just as they were about to give up their battle against a stiff gale and mountainous seas. A few hours before the James and Rose reached port the Rose Dorothea, with her flag at half mast, arrived at T wharf. When the two members of the crew who had been given up as dead boarded her there was a mighty cheer sent up by their mates.

Resignations and Expulsions

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 18.—As a result of the report of the special commission which recently investigated the Lynn water board and the Walden pond work, two members of the board, Messrs. Littlefield and Nichols, have resigned, and S. W. Dearborn and James Burns were expelled last night at a meeting of the common council. The commission, in its report, stated that while no actual dishonesty had occurred in the work, the purchasing of a second-hand pumping engine and other matters of like nature showed a tendency toward graft.

Murder Charge Against McEwan

Boston, Oct. 18.—A new warrant, charging murder in the first degree, was sworn out in the lower court against Alexander McEwan, who is now in jail charged with shooting his wife in a Bulfinch street restaurant on Monday afternoon. The charge made against McEwan when he was booked at police headquarters was an assault with intent to kill. Since the death of his wife Captain Dugan decided to change the charge.

Would Abolish Bridge Tolls

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 18.—The abolition of the payment of tolls for the crossing of all bridges over the Connecticut river between this state and New Hampshire is recommended in the report of the commission appointed to represent Vermont in regard to the toll bridge matter. There are 27 towns bordering the Connecticut river on the Vermont side and 27 bridges span the river. Of this number 10 are toll bridges.

Gathering of Temperance Workers

Boston, Oct. 18.—With the draped portraits of Frances E. Willard and Lady Somerset above them, many hundreds of delegates to the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union gathered in Tremont temple at a banquet last night and listened to a message of greeting from President Roosevelt and addresses by ex-Governor Long, Mrs. K. L. Stevenson, Mrs. M. N. Stevens and several others.

Grand Jury Examining Books

Burlington, Vt., Oct. 18.—The grand jury of the Chittenden county supreme court devoted an entire day to consideration of the books of the Burlington Rendering company, which, under the new law just passed by the present legislature, was required to allow its books to be inspected in connection with the grand jury's investigation of the company's dealings with the Vermont cattle commission.

May Be an Elopement

Auburn, Me., Oct. 18.—Leaving a note to her husband, a wealthy sawmill owner, that she had committed suicide by jumping into the river, Mrs. Henry M. Young is supposed to have eloped with her husband's driver, Alton J. Timberlake, who in turn is thought to have forsaken his wife and four children. Mrs. Young was prominently known, and the affair has caused a sensation.

Trial Ended by Insanity Decision

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 18.—Roy Mullen, charged with killing Fred Batchelder, was found not guilty by reason of insanity by the jury sitting upon the case. The government had contended that Batchelder, who was a fellow-boarder of Mullen, died as a result of eating sandwiches containing arsenic poison, and alleged that the food had been given to him by Mullen.

GRANTED REBATES

New York Central Road and Its Traffic Manager Found Guilty

New York, Oct. 18.—A verdict of guilty of granting rebates on sugar shipments was returned by a jury in the United States court here against the New York Central Railway company and Frederick L. Pomeroy, the company's general traffic manager. Sentence was deferred until Friday to permit the attorneys for the defense to file motions with the court.

The charge against the New York Central and Pomeroy was based upon indictments found by the United States grand jury after many months of investigation. It was alleged that the defendants entered into an arrangement with the American Sugar Refining company whereby Edgar & Son of Detroit were favored by a reduction of 5 cents per hundred weight on sugar shipments from New York to Detroit from the regular traffic rates.

According to the provisions of the Elkins act, under which the convictions were secured, the maximum penalty is a fine of $20,000. As both the Central and the personal defendant, Frederick L. Pomeroy, are convicted by the decision of the jury on all of the six counts charged in the indictment, the total fine for each can be $120,000.

Some Unrest In Cuba

Havana, Oct. 18.—While there remains some unrest in Cuba, which Governor Magoon describes as the "mere ripples of the receding tide of disorder," the adjustment of the charges against the mayors and chiefs of police of various towns is progressing satisfactorily. The governor regards the settlement of the claims of rival candidates to the office of mayor as important, as they mark the first step in the complete reorganization of the government. The few cases still remaining under investigation soon will be disposed of.

Trace of the Missing Silveira

New York, Oct. 18.—The steamship Carmelina, with Manuel Silveira, the Cuban banker, whose recent disappearance from Havana was said to have brought about the failure of Ceballos & Co., his wife and two children, steamed into Curacoa a week ago last Sunday, according to several of the passengers and crew of the steamship Zulia, from Curacoa and Venezuelan ports.

Indians Creating Disturbance

Washington, Oct. 18.—Replying to a telegram from Governor Brooks of Wyoming, requesting that federal troops be sent to that state to remove the renegade Ute Indians, Secretary Hitchcock has advised the governor that his application should be made to the president. Brooks reports that the Indians are beyond the control of the state authorities.

McGovern-Corbett Bout a Draw

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—Terry McGovern and Young Corbett met for the third time last night and put up six fast rounds to a draw. The fight was one of the bloodiest ever witnessed in this city. McGovern was weakened by Corbett's blows, and the latter, who carried at least 20 pounds too much weight, was very weary from his own exertions.

Mrs Garner Denies Report

Bristol, Tenn., Oct. 18.—Mrs. R. L. Garner, wife of the student of the monkey language, says in regard to the report that Miss Quimorton of New York was about to join Professor Garner in the jungles of Africa for the purpose of studying the monkey language, that Garner is in ignorance of Miss Quimorton's proposed trip to Africa.

Boy Billiardist Defeats Wizard

New York, Oct. 18.—Willie Hoppe of this city, the boy billiardist, has again proved his right to the title of world's champion at 18-inch balk line, one shot in, which he won nine months ago. Hoppe was challenged by Jake Schaefer of Chicago, and won by a score of 500 to 472 in 47 innings. The match was for the championship and $1000.

French Ministry Likely to Resign

Paris, Oct. 18.—The recent fears that a ministerial crisis might occur before the next session of the chamber of deputies has developed to almost a certainty. It is the firm conviction in well informed circles that Premier Sarrien will give up his portfolio at the cabinet meeting to be held next Friday.

Disastrous Explosion and Fire

Celina, O., Oct. 18.—Four persons were killed and 100 wounded, most of them by glass, as the result of an explosion of gasoline in a store at Fort Recovery. Fire followed the explosion, destroying buildings worth $100,000. What caused the explosion is not known.

Visit From Deputy.

One of the most enjoyable evenings of the season, was that at Wilson's hall last evening, when Maple Lodge, K. and L. of H., initiated one candidate in the presence of D. D. G. P. Lottie Eldridge and others from Silsby lodge of Brockton About fifty members were present. The degree team, under the captainship of M. Lizzie Furnald performed the work in almost letter perfect manner and was highly praised by the D. D. G. P. At the close of the business of the lodge, Mrs. Laura F. Tirrell took charge and an entertainment consisting of songs by Miss Hazel Morey, Harold Curtis in costume, dancing by little Zeta Pitts and instrumental music, was highly enjoyed by all, closing with a general good time. At the next meeting there will be a pound party under the management of Mrs. Rose A. Reed.

Vaudeville Night.

There was a large attendance of members at the Granite City club rooms Wednesday evening. The attraction was a pleasing vaudeville entertainment. The artists were all stars in their particular line and were from out of the well known vaudeville circuits. The program included tricks in ledgerdemain and vocal and instrumental music. There were six artists in the troupe. The tricks were very mystifying and the vocal selections were largely parodies on familiar airs. A lunch was served after the entertainment.

Steampipe Ready To Keep off Receivers

The situation at a quarry in Vermont remind Quincy people of the time when the Road Commissioners got the steam fire engine to prevent the city of Boston laying water pipe at Squautum. A dispatch of Wednesday to the Herald says:

Twenty-five armed men are on guard at the Eastman marble quarry, West Rutland, tonight, to prevent the receivers of the Columbian Quarry Company from taking possession of the premises under an order granted by Judge H. H. Powers of the supreme court at Montpeler Tuesday.

The order of Judge Powers is designed to allow the receivers to use the machinery of the quarry for the purpose of taking out marble which it is alleged the Eastmans were under contract to the Columbian company to furnish for filling certain orders. The Eastman company has a steampipe in a position where steam can be used upon any force attempting to carry the place by storm.

Deputy Sheriff Tolly is at the scene to preserve order, but there has been no conflict. Two representatives of the receivers are also there.

Funeral of Mrs. Dickey

The funeral of Mrs. Abby Brackett Dickey was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home on Thayer street. Mrs. Dickey had a host of friends and many of these were present to pay their last tribute.

The services were of a simple nature, and were conducted by Mrs. E. E. Morgan, first reader of First church of Christ, Scientist, of Braintree.

During the services the Mendelssohn trio, composed of Mrs. Irene C. Tirrell, Mrs. Emma S. Moore and Miss Alice Gertrude Coe sang two selections. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston.

The Delineator.

The November Delineator treats of the established styles of Autumn both in dress and millinery, and also devotes much space to the accessories of dress which women find so alluring. The spirit of Thanksgiving season is preserved in a poem by Theodosia Garrison, a football story by Violet Coen, and an old-fashioned Thanksgiving story by Harriet Prescott Spofford; and the Kitchen department is stocked with suggestions for a variety of Thanksgiving feasts ranging from "A Rational Thanksgiving Dinner" to "A Vegetarian Thanksgiving Dinner." For the feminine fingers that grow so busy preparing Christmas gifts between November's and December's great feast days, there are numerous suggestions for practical and ornamental gifts in the Needlework department. In the children's department "The Doll's Dressmaker" will help educate the little mothers in the fashioning of garments for their dollies.

Bids were opened by Commissioner Burke on Thursday afternoon for the erection of the twelve-room brick school building at Atlantic, for which the City Council has appropriated the sum of $63,000.

There were seventeen bids received, several of which were from Quincy contractors. There were but two bids, however, under the appropriation, these being submitted by Marr Bros. of Quincy and P. H. Jackson of Brockton.

Marr Bros. bid was $60,895 and P. H. Jackson $62,267. The other bids ranged from these figures to $79,900. Commissioner Burke took the bids under advisement. The several bids were as follows:

Marr Bros., Quincy,	$60,895
P. H. Jackson, Brockton,	62,267

Groom Formerly Of Wollaston

A pretty wedding took place Thursday at the home of the bride's parents, 4 Oakman street, Neponset, when Dr. Cutter, pastor of the Unitarian church, Neponset, united in marriage Miss Addie May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eben J. Ruggles and John Haley Lingley of Boston, formerly of Wollaston.

The couple entered the room to strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by an orchestra.

The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, hydrangeas, chrysanthemums, asparagus vine, and red berries. Only members of the two families were present at the ceremony but a large reception followed—from 8 until 10 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Lingley receiving, assisted by the bride and groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eben J. Ruggles of Neponset, and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lingley of East Orange, N. J. The ushers were Messrs. Nichols of Neponset, George Knox of Watertown, Arthur Tuttle of Savin Hill and Herbert Thompson of Melrose. The groom's gifts to the ushers were stick pins, gold dragoons with emeralds.

The bride wore a princess gown of white silk mull lace trimmed, tulle veil held by lilies of the valley and a necklace with a pearl and sapphire pendant, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of bride roses. During the reception an orchestra rendered several selections. The couple departed mid a shower of rice and confetti. After a wedding trip of three weeks which includes New York and a visit to the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lingley will reside at 17 Bullard street, Dorchester.

Pretty Wedding And Anniversary

A double event was celebrated on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. Jones, West Howard street, East Braintree; the thirty-second anniversary of their marriage, and the wedding of their son, Frederick Tirrell Jones. The bride was Miss Annie G. Williams of Plymouth, formerly of Quincy, daughter of Mr. William S. Williams. Rev. Edwin N. Hardy of Bethany church, Quincy, performed the ceremony at half past two.

The maid of honor was Miss Emily G. Moyle of Quincy and the bridesmaid, Miss Annie E. Johnson of Plymouth. Mr. John M. Stewart of East Braintree was best man.

The bride wore a pure white point d'esprit with lace trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. Miss Moyle wore blue silk and all over lace, and carried white carnations and asparagus fern. Miss Johnson also carried carnations. Her gown was a white lansdowne with blue panne velvet trimmings and blue French knots. The house decorations were carnations, ferns and autumn foliage.

In the evening a joint reception was held from seven until ten o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. Jones assisting the young people in receiving. Mr. Henry Steward of East Braintree and Mr. Arthur A. New Warships And Big Ones

Possibly the Fore River shipyard will get some of the government work which is planned. A Washington dispatch to the Transcript says:

At the next session Congress will be asked by the Navy Department for funds to build mighty fighting ships to rival the new British battleships. Secretary Bonaparte has directed the Board of Construction to investigate, not only the now famous Dreadnought, but more particularly the Inflexible, the Indomitable and the Invincible, which were thought to be armored cruisers, but prove to be battleships of a new and formidable type.

To meet such a ship as the Dreadnought the Bureau of Construction has been engaged for a year in planning a monster battleship. Much progress has been made, and the department expects to have complete designs ready to back up a request to Congress for the necesrary money.

Great Britain's newest coup will probably result in the abandonment of the plans adopted by the department. In her three new ships Great Britain has vessels that will have less displacement than the Dreadnought, but which will have greater speed and as great a battery. The American plans contemplated a battleship of 20,000 tons displacement, with a broadside to excel that of the Dreadnought.

The new problem to be solved is to obtain a ship of less displacement than this, capable of greater speed, without sacrifice of fighting strength. This is the task Secretary Bonaparte has placed upon the Board of Construction.

In the event of success, the next Congress will be asked for funds for the construction of at least two, and possibly three, of the new class of ships evolved by England from lessons of the Russo-Japanese war. It had been planned to have the Government build the single monster.

The new developments will mean that private concerns will be asked to bid on all of whatever number of ships may be authorized, except one, to be Government built. This phase makes the action of Secretary Bonaparte especially interesting to Quincy, Philadelphia, Newport News and the few other great warshipbuilding centres. The plans of the department will ba fully revealed in the recommendations to be submitted to Congress this winter.

The Secretary's attitude, however, is eloquently indicated in his instructions to the Board of Construction, and it is expected in naval circles here that Great Britain's new fighting wonders will be equalled if not excelled, by the resulting product of the department's skilled designers.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF

False Alarms Rung from Box 57 at Wollaston Park

Some maliciously inclined person put the city to considerable expense Thursday evening by tampering with the fire alarm, and it is safe to say that if apprehended they will be punished to the full extent of the law.

At 8.05 one round from Box 15 sent the department to Germantown. It was supposed that the reason but one round of the box sounded was because of trouble on the line.

Fifteen minutes later or at 8.20 one round was sounded from Box 34.

This was taken by the West Quincy and Atlantic companies to be the same as a second alarm, and they responded.

By this time it was evident something was wrong with the wires, and the superintendent of wires went out to locate the trouble.

The circuit repeater at the Central station showed him in what direction to go, and it was soon located in Box 57. This box is on the corner of Beach and Willow streets, at Wollaston Park.

It was found that both the outer and inner doors of the box had been opened, and the alarms had been sounded by pressing the key on the inner box.

Box 57 is one of the break glass kind so that the outer door was opened. Just where the parties secured the key for the inner door remains to be seen.

It may be that those in the automobile at Quincy Point this week, which run over two children, are not criminally liable, but we do not know the story. The children of our public schools should have as much right in our streets as out-of-town automobiles. We agree with the suggestion of a Quincy parent, that the speed of automobiles near schoolhouses should be limited to four miles an hour. This is demanded especially at the hour when the children are dismissed. If fatal accidents continue at the present alarming rate, the life of automobiles may be short.

Drift of Opinion.

When you go to Boston be careful to not expectorate on the sidewalk, for Commissioner O'Meara has ordered the police to arrest all sidewalk spitters on and after next Monday. Tobacco chewers should take notice, and if they must spit let them step to the curb and expectorate on the roadway. Such a police order enforced in Lynn would give us much cleaner sidewalks, and the women would be more than pleased.—Lynn Item.

MURPHY'S CHARGE

Accuses Independence League of Demanding Money

HE EXONERATES HEARST

Tammany Leader Receives Notice to Appear Before Grand Jury and Tell What He Knows In Relation to the Matter

New York, Oct. 19.—The most startling development in the present political campaign in this state came when Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, publicly charged that money had been demanded by representatives of the Independence League in consideration of the withdrawal of their candidates in certain districts, and when Murphy was served with a subpoena to appear before the grand jury in a "John Doe" proceeding and testify as to his charges. The subpoena was issued by District Attorney Jerome after a conference with Judge Rosalsky of the court of general sessions.

In his statement Murphy charged that certain Independence League men had demanded money for the withdrawal of their candidates in congressional, senatorial and assembly districts where a third ticket had been put in the field. He added, however, that William R. Hearst, the Independence League and Democratic candidate for governor, knew absolutely nothing of what was going on in this connection.

The Independence League headquarters last night made a positive denial of Murphy's charges, adding that if any one connected with the organization had attempted to "hold up" candidates they would be glad to know of it.

The Independence League, which was promoted by Hearst, held its state convention in this city Sept. 11 and named a full state ticket, with Hearst and Chanler heading it as governor and lieutenant governor, respectively. Subsequently the league named a complete judicial ticket for the first judicial district, which comprises New York city and county. At Buffalo, on Sept. 26, the Democratic state convention nominated Hearst and Chanler for governor and lieutenant governor, respectively, and endorsed John H. Whalen for secretary of state, who had also been named by the Independence League convention. Hearst's campaign throughout the state has been made under the joint management of the Democratic and the Independence League state committees.

The subpoena served upon Murphy cites him to appear before the grand jury and tell that body what he knows of the alleged irregular actions of the Independence League men. Jerome himself will conduct the examination of Murphy by the grand jury and Judge Rosalsky probably will be present.

Judge Rosalsky's connection with the case is merely incidental. According to the published interview with Murphy, it was brought to the attention of the Tammany leader that the Independence League had filed a nominating petition with the name of Rosalsky upon it for the court of general sessions, and Murphy is said to have exclaimed, "Well I suppose he got his money." Rosalsky, who is a Republican judiciary candidate, denied that he was a party to any agreement.

"Stupid Campaign Falsehood"

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 19.—W. R. Hearst last night was shown a press dispatch which stated that Charles F. Murphy had said that certain representatives of the Independence League had demanded money for the withdrawal of league candidates. Hearst said:

"About as much weight should be given to this statement by Murphy as would be given to a similar statement by Woodruff. In many instances the league has endorsed Democratic candidates. On the other hand, in many places the league had nominated independent candidates. Where these independent candidates are in the field they are likely to be elected and consequently it is natural that the managers of either one of the other parties should seek to oppose them by every campaign trick or discreditable method. If Murphy has any reason to sustain such a charge it is his duty to administer the most stinging rebuke possible at the polls to the guilty parties. But if he has no such evidence the statement is unworthy of belief and should react upon its author.

"I sincerely hope the grand jury will investigate fully so that complete justice may be done. I have complete confidence in the integrity of the representatives of the Independence League and I consider this attack a stupid campaign falsehood."

Guild and Liquor Legislation

Boston, Oct. 19.—Governor Guild's attitude on liquor legislation at the recent session of the legislature was attacked and John B. Moran's campaign for governor commended at a meeting of the state committee of the Prohibition party last night. Moran is the party candidate for governor, as well as that of the Democratic party and the Independence League.

The action of the Prohibition state committee last evening was provoked by a letter which was read at the convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union from Superintendent Davis of the anti-saloon league of the state which was submitted to the convention by Mrs. Stevenson, the vice president, just before she introduced Governor Guild. Davis in his letter commended Guild for his attitude on temperance legislation and claimed that he acted in favor of the temperance interests.

In a statement issued by the Prohibition state committee last night it was claimed that the governor had acted against the temperance interests in all measures which had been brought before him.

Moran Replies to Guild

Marlboro, Mass., Oct. 19.—John B. Moran, E. G. Brown and ex-Congressman Williams were the principal speakers at a Democratic rally here last night. Part of Moran's remarks were in answer to the speech of Governor Guild delivered at Lawrence. "I will tell Governor Guild," said Moran, "that this is not a fight in favor of Roosevelt or in favor of Hearst, but it is a contest between Moran and Guild. When you say that I am affiliated in any way with Hearst or Bryan, you say that which is not true. If I am elected governor and re-elected the next year, then I will take a stand in relation to presidential candidates."

Weaver Breaks With Advisory Board

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—The committee of prominent citizens, known as the mayor's advisory board, has been dissolved by Mayor Weaver. The advisory board was created by Weaver soon after his rupture with the Republican organization in May of last year. When the reform party at its recent convention failed to nominate Shoyer, the mayor's candidate for district attorney, there were rumors of friction between the executive and the members of the board.

Standard Oil Jury Still Out

Findlay, O., Oct. 19.—The jury charged with declaring the Standard Oil company of Ohio guilty or not guilty of conspiracy against trade entered upon its second night's vigil with no indication of a verdict. The 12 men have wrestled with the problem before them since 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night. There are indications that Judge Banker will consider 48 hours not too long a time for deliberation, after which, if no agreement is reached, the jury probably will be discharged.

Shortage In St Louis Sub-Treasury

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—Chief Wilkie of the United States secret service has taken charge of the investigation into the alleged shortage of $61,200 in the funds of the St. Louis sub-treasury. It will take two weeks to count the funds in the sub-treasury and not until then will it be ascertained whether a clerical error has been made or whether there is an actual shortage.

Soldiers Should Learn to Cook

Washington, Oct. 19.—In his annual report Brigadier General Sharpe, commissary general of the army, recommends that each militia camp have a school of instruction in baking and cooking during their annual encampment. Sharpe states that the superiority of fireless cooking in the army has been thoroughly demonstrated.

Alleged Graft at Boston

Boston, Oct. 19.—For approving the payroll of an employe of the city who has been bedridden for two years, Benjamin J. H. Green, a foreman in the street department, was arrested last night on a charge of larceny of $1048 from the city of Boston. The money had been drawn each week by the daughter of the workman.

He held 46,000 acres of land in Illinois, 60,000 in Nebraska, 50,000 in Kansas and 40,000 in Missouri. He owned a house in Washington and had lately become naturalized. Trapp was his American agent.

Football Reformer's Son Hurt

Simsbury, Conn., Oct. 19.—When Walter Camp, the Yale football advisor, framed the new rules, he made a code under which his own son, Walter Camp, Jr., has broken his collar bone. The boy was playing halfback for the Westminster school, Simsbury, and was tackled hard and fell, causing the fracture.

Got Cabinet but No Jewels

Venice, Oct. 19.—Thieves entered the house of Paul Nash, the American consul here, and carried away a large cabinet in which Nash is in the habit of keeping a collection of jewels. Fortunately the jewels had been removed and the thieves had the cabinet, valued at about $100, for their pains.

He Swiped Town Funds

Hamburg, Oct. 19.—The Hamburg police have identified the swindler at Coepenyek as Adolf Millner, against whom the police here have proof of numerous crimes. Millner, in the disguise of a military officer, secured the town funds after arresting the town officials.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Captain G. E. Tyson, who had an extensive experience in the Arctic seas whale fishing and searching for the North Pole, died here, aged 78. His last effort to reach the pole was with the Hall expedition, sent out by the United States in 1871.

A REPORT ON CUBA

Taft Places Facts In Possession of President

RESULTS OF THE MISSION

Difficult and Dangerous Situation Successfully Handled--Uncertainty as to Length of American Occupation

Washington, Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt had a long conference with Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, who made a full report of all that occurred in Cuba since the United States government intervened.

The condition of affairs in the island and the views of the officials as to the future were taken up with a view to a thorough understanding of the situation by the president. The financial feature of the intervention also was talked of and the question of appointment of a fiscal agent for the United States in Cuba discussed. It is expected that some responsible banking institution will be selected for this purpose. Neither the president nor those who conferred with him were willing to make more than a general statement regarding the conference.

Speaking generally of the results of his mission to Cuba and the prospects for the political future of that island, Secretary Taft said that success had been attained in one important point at least, namely, the fighting had been stopped and he did not believe that it would be renewed even after the withdrawal of the American forces. It had been a difficult and dangerous situation for a time, as the commission had to deal with an undisciplined force of perhaps 20,000 men under arms and scattered about the island, making it difficult to reach them. It was the real purpose of summoning General Funston to Cuba to assist in this work, for which he was peculiarly qualified.

Secretary Taft said that General Bell understood the methods of doing business with such people so thoroughly that the secretary felt he was the best representative he could have in Cuba at present. The secretary hoped to recall Bell in the course of a month or two. The report that General Pershing would succeed in command of the American forces in Cuba was erroneous, according to Taft, as the command was too large for a junior among the brigadier generals.

When the question of the length of time of American stay in Cuba was brought up, Taft said it was not possible now to make any prediction. When the bad feelings stirred up by the revolution had subsided and there was ample assurance that elections could be held without violence, and with fair dealings on all sides and with a disposition to abide loyally by the results, then, and not before, would the retirement of the American forces be in order. Certainly they would not retire before the elections. In answer to the question as how long it would take to install the new government after the election, the secretary said he believed three or four weeks would suffice.

Relative to the disposition of the military and naval forces in Cuba, he said there was a force there now of about 2400 marines and all but about 400 or 500 were to be withdrawn. As the marines were called away they would be replaced by troops and the number of these, originally fixed at 5600 men, would probably be increased to about 7000. The secretary declined to state what proportion of the expense of this army would be charged against the Cuban revenues, but said that matter would be treated in a special order.

There was no longer need for maintaining a naval force of any amount in Cuban waters, so he had recommended to the president, who had approved the suggestion, that all of the warships now there be withdrawn, with the exception of two or three of the small gunboats. The necessary orders to this effect were given out at once. The army transport service, however, will be maintained.

Secretary Taft said that he now believed it would be impossible for him to make the projected trip to Panama, which he had planned in company with the president. The president, however, would go as originally planned. As to the administration of the canal zone, left in an anomalous situation through the withdrawal of Governor Magoon, Taft said the expediency of making Stevens governor as well as chief engineer had been canvassed and there was much to be said in favor of this plan, which would be in the line of centering responsibility in one capable person. The animating purpose of having both minister and governor was rather to diminish the importance of the office of governor, while enlarging those of the American minister to Panama, whose name is not announced.

A HOMICIDAL KING

Ruler of Cochin-China Descends to Cannibalism

HAD WIFE'S BODY COOKED

Compelled Attendants to Eat It For Dinner--Others Boiled In Oil and Thrown Into Cages of Wild Beasts to Be Devoured

Marseilles, Oct. 19.—King Than-Thai of Annam has been made a prisoner by the French resident, who entered the royal palace at the head of troops. Dr. Dumas of the colonial staff at Saigon pronounces the king insane.

The mails which arrived from Indo-China yesterday brought this news and also describe the crazy king's descent to cannibalism.

He killed one of his wives, who was young and tender, it is reported, forced his cooks to cook her body, had it served for dinner and compelled his attendants, under threats of instant death, to eat it.

In obedience to his orders some of Than-Thai's wives were boiled in oil, others were thrown into cages of wild beasts, which devoured them while their widower looked on.

Many of the women bore marks of torture; their faces were slashed, or their tongues cut out, or they had been hung up by huge pincers, which, to add to their sufferings, gripped the fleshy parts of their legs.

Annam, sometimes called Cochin-China, has been a French protectorate since 1884; Than-Thai was proclaimed king of about 6,000,000 in 1889, when he was 10 years old. He has a weakness for wives and for killing them.

He had a bad attack of homicidal mania last August, when he ordered seven of his wives put to death and looked on while they were slowly tortured.

Temperance Women Busy

Boston, Oct. 19.—Much business was cleared up at the first day's formal sessions of the triennial convention of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union in this city. The welcome of state and city was extended by Governor Guild and Mayor Fitzgerald. Reports of officers and of the executive committees were presented and the remainder of the day was given over largely to the presentation of greetings from other organizations and to the introduction of the leading representatives of many countries at the convention. Late in the afternoon the governor tendered the delegates a reception and the mayor tendered them a tea. Last evening there was a public meeting in Tremont temple.

Maine's Men Break Gunnery Records

New York, Oct. 19.—The battleship Maine has reached port from the Massachusetts coast, where she engaged in target practice, breaking all gunnery records. It is said 29 out of a possible 39 hits were made in firing a port broadside of six-inch guns at a target two miles distant. The target was 60x30 feet and was knocked down, it is stated, by the 39th shot.

CUT OFF BY STORM

No Wires Working In Southern Florida and Western Cuba

New York, Oct. 19.—Cable communication with Havana has not been restored and the Western Union Cable company is unable to get into communication with Maimi, Fla., or Key West, the land lines throughout southern Florida having been prostrated by the storm that raged in that section during yesterday morning. It is impossible to get information that would give any basis for an estimate of the damage done in Havana. The cable lines on the western Cuba end are connected with the city of Havana by land wires extending a considerable distance, and the presumption is that these wires have been put out of commission by the storm.

A single dispatch from Santiago de Cuba states that the weather there is clear, which would indicate that the storm that has cut off communication between Havana and Florida had not touched the eastern end of the island. This dispatch came by the way of Bermuda, but Santiago de Cuba, which is nearly 500 miles distant from Havana, reports that all wires connecting Santiago de Cuba with Havana are down and communication is impossible.

Hundred Houses Blown Down

Fort Pierce, Fla., Oct. 19.—The conductor on a train just in from Miami reports terrible destruction there by the hurricane. Fully 100 houses were blown down and the city is in a demoralized condition. The handsome churches of the Episcopal and Methodist denominations were both blown down The concrete wall was leaning with danger of turning over and the prisoners had to be removed. The car sheds are down and the top was blown off the Peninsula and Occidental steamer sheds. A two-story brick building completely collapsed.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 19.—A severe storm raged on the east coast of Florida, but the wires are down and it is impossible to obtain details. Just before the wires failed, the operator at Miami reported an unusually high tide with water two feet deep in the telegraph office and the low streets flooded.

Sunken Submarine Located

Bizerta, Tunis, Oct. 19.—The sunken submarine boat Lutin was located by the tug Cyclops. Hope of rescuing her crew alive, however, has been practically abandoned. Indeed, the impression there is that the crew were probably immediately killed or rendered unconscious by the accident. The naval officers believe that when Lieutenant Fepoux ordered the boat to be submerged the helmsman depressed the rudder too much and the Lutin pitched to the bottom, overturning her accumulators and suffocating the crew with the fumes of the acids before they had time to release the safety weights or the telephone buoy. The crew of the Lutin consisted of two officers and 14 men.

Pittsburg, Oct. 19.—Laura Biggar Bennett, widow of Millionaire Bennett and a former actress, who is being besieged here by a horde of deputy sheriffs and other officers, each anxious to serve papers on her in a suit brought by a Scranton attorney for fees, has issued a statement, saying she wished to be set right with the public. She laughs at the officers, saying she has been going right by them and enjoying herself. She intends to continue this, and defies them to get her.

Boston, Oct. 19.—Trinley Burrows of Lacolle, Que., arrived here last evening and identified a quantity of watches and jewelry, taken from two prisoners, as part of the plunder which robbers took from his store, after holding up a clerk at the point of a revolver on Sept. 24. Joseph Navolini and Dominic Fulcinit were recently arrested here on suspicion of robbing stores in Canada. Extradition proceedings will be begun.

Strangely-Mated Robbers

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Florence Neagle, nearly 80 years of age, and William Church, 17 years old, were arraigned in court here on the charge of burglary and grand larceny. The woman stated that she alone committed the crime and she desired to exonerate the boy. The prisoners were indicted for the robbery of the residence of R. K. Warren.

Pythian Women to Consolidate

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—The Pythians' convention has decided to consolidate the Pythian sisterhood, having a membership of 7000, and the Rathbone Sisters, which has 125,000 members. A new name, that of Pythian Sisters, will probably be adopted. The act of the consolidation is set for April 13, 1907.

TO FILL OLD ORDERS

Columbia Company In Possession of the Eastman Quarry

Rutland, Vt., Oct. 19.—After spending Wednesday night and part of yesterday in guarding the Eastman marble quarry at West Rutland from the approach of representatives of the receivers of the Columbian Quarry company, the armed employes of the Eastman company were relieved from duty late yesterday, and the victory in the controversy rested with the receivers of the Columbian company. During the day the receivers obtained from Judge Miles of the supreme court at Montpelier injunctions restraining both John E. Eastman and his son, George P. Eastman, from opposing the operation of the Eastman plant by the receivers, and when the papers in this proceeding were served the Eastmans capitulated and their armed guard was withdrawn.

The injunction makes it possible for the Columbian Quarry company receivers to operate the plant of the Eastman Quarry company long enough to fill orders for which the Eastman company contracted, before the failure of the Columbian company, to furnish material. The employes of the Eastman company are to be hired to work for the receivers of the other concern at the same wages they now receive until the contracts are filled.

Doctor Charged With Manslaughter

Providence, Oct. 19.—The victim of criminal surgery, barely able to reach her home on a street car, accompanied by her lover, Agnes Harrison, 27, died after lingering in great agony for two weeks. Before her death she is alleged to have confessed who it was that performed the operation, and the police have been looking for the man ever since. Detective Haran yesterday arrested Dr. William H. Travers, one of the oldest physicians in the city, on the charge of performing an illegal operation and manslaughter. The accused man was locked up.

SARTORIAL NEWS.

Turbans the Modish Headgear—Brown and Gray a Smart Combination.

Turbans are to be the fashionable fall and winter hats for general service. They are smartly trimmed at the back with wide, outstanding bows.

Many of the new coats show postilion backs. This is a style that looms up on the modish horizon every few years, but it is not taken up with much enthusiasm.

If you want to have a smart costume this winter let it be in tones of brown and gray. The combination is not alluring or wildly becoming, but it is very fashionable.

Lace will be used quite as much on gowns this winter as it has for the past few seasons. There is a leaning in favor of Spanish laces, due to the popularity of the new queen of Spain.

Pink is a popular shade just now, and there is one shade of very pale pink that is charming on the red haired blond, and she may also wear a deep wine red, dark green, navy blue, lemon color and pale green. Piping will appear on many of the winter suits. This trimming is particularly attractive on mixed cheviots and tweed costumes.

Bolero jackets and jaunty little coats of black lace are to rival the same effects in white lace that have been so smart for several seasons. Then there are all kinds of fancy yokes, fichus and chemisettes carried out in black Spanish lace.

All the fall tailor mades have a touch of dressiness about the bodice or coat in the form of inset appliques or fancy braids.

Navy blue broadcloth makes the attractive gown in the cut. The plain skirt is stitched in several rows at the footline. The bolero has a design of black braid in geometrical pattern. About the U shaped neck is a dainty finish of plaited white mull. The flaring cuffs on the short sleeves show this plaited edge. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Pipe in Culvert.

Residents along Town brook are surprised that the Commissioner of Public Works should have allowed the Gas Company to place a large pipe in the Biglow street culvert. It reduces the size of the culvert considerally and at the time of a freshet will cause the brook to overflow. At present the pipe is about two feet above the water; but the water occasionally rises to the pip level.

Turkey Supper Of Boys' Club

The Boys Club of the Quincy Point church was honored at its second annual reunion on Thursday evening by the presence of Mayor Thompson several clergymen, and Mrs. Hattie B. Goldwaithe of Maine, who is making a specialty of boys' work in her state.

At the reception at 6.30 there were in line Mr. William E. Lee, the leader; Hon. James Thompson, Mayor of the city; Rev. Dr. Hardy, of Bethany church, Rev. H. C. Alvord of the Old South church at South Weymouth, Rev. T. H. Vincent of the Pilgrim church at North Weymouth, Mr. H. D. Adams, Mr. T. B. Pollard, Mrs. Hattie B. Goldwaithe of Maine, Mrs. E. H. Bushnell, Mrs. Charles A. French, Mrs. Percy H. Holman, Miss Ella M. Freeman and Miss Margaret Thomas.

There were three matrons Miss Etta Lapham, Mrs. George Bailey, Mrs. T. B. Pollard and Mrs. H. D. Adams.

A turkey supper was served at 7 o'clock with abundance of the Thanksgiving bird, also cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes, turnip, squash, onion, celery, olives, rolls, cheese, pies in great variety, grapes, coffee, etc.

These young ladies of Mrs. Pollard's class served as waitresses: Miss Helen Sherburne, Miss Elsie Kirby, Miss Christine Moody, Miss Eleanor Crane, Miss Bertha Smith and Miss May Oliver.

Before the banquet the boys sang "Bless be the tie that binds," and Rev. T. H. Vincent offered the blessing.

Mr. Lee opened the after dinner speaking and introduced Charles M. French, one of the boys, as toastmaster.

The addresses were as follows:

Welcome to Our Guests, Rev. A. R. Atwood.

Greeting from a Sister Church, Dr. E. A. Hardy.

The C. E. the Recruiting Station of our Church, President Fred Barnard.

The Ladies Aid, the Society's Sheet Anchor, Mrs. Percy H. Holman.

"The Baracas" Our Companions in Camp, Rev. H. C. Alvord.

"The Huscarls," Rev. C. S. Bates.

Our City. the kind of boys who make the best citizens, Mayor Thompson.

A Mile stone in our Progress, Mr. W. E. Lee.

Dr. Hardy was particularly pleasing, as he had several stories for the boys. But he also had good advice.

Mayor Thompson spoke of advantages which boys have today, of their duties to father and mother, and to the city. He advised the young to discard some of the sensational daily papers which picture the worst side of life, and hoped that by no possibility that Hearst would be elected Governor of New York.

All the speakers were entertaining, and set high ideals for the boys.

Besides the speakers there were present: Herbert C. Harting, Alfred Artis, William Thayer, Roy Wales, Harry Brown, Harry Sloane, Irving Hayden, William Artis, Daniel MacQueen, David Melville, William R. French, Davis Newcomb, Russell Oliver, H. D. Adams, T. B. Pollard, F. F. Prescott.

Weston Knight, James C. McNeil, Wm. R. Staples, Forrest E. Hayden, Miss Margaret L. Thomas, Miss E. M. Freeman, John Knight, Mrs. E. H. Bushnell, Mrs. C. A. French, E. D. Lee, Percy E. Wood and Mrs. Hattie B. Goldthaite.

—The old Alden homestead at Duxbury passed on Thursday into the hands of the Alden kindred of America, the organization of the descendants of John and Priscilla Alden, which proposes to keep the homestead sacred to the memory of the Pilgrim couple of history and romance. It is the intention of the organization soon to erect a suitable memorial to John Alden, but details of the plan have not been formulated.

Harvest Supper By Atlantic Men

The harvest supper given at the Memorial Congregational church, Atlantic, by the men of the society, on Thursday evening, was a very successful affair. About one hundred and seventy-five sat down to a bountiful supply of good things with which the table was laden, and having partaken of the viands with good cheer becoming to such an occasion, an informal and pleasing entertainment followed, consisting of piano solos by Miss May Young and Miss Mabel Drew, who is always greeted with favor by an Atlantic audience. There were two groups of songs, Miss Abbie Green accompanying most acceptably. Miss Mildred Scott Whitney of Boston was most welcome and entertaining in monologue recitations. Everyone joined in pronouncing it one of the best social evenings of the year.

Resignation of City Officials

Dr. Ross K. Whiton, secretary of the Board of Health, has tendered his resignation as a member of that board to Mayor Thompson. Dr. Whiton's reason for resigning is because of his appointment as one of the school medical inspectors. Mayor Thompson has not accepted the resignation, but will hold it in obeyance for the present.

TORTURED DAY AND NIGHT

Rheumatism Crazes the Mind.

An Internal Blood Treatment Called Uric-O is Widely Recommended to Cure it.

Every sufferer from Rheumatism who wants to be rid of the sleepless nights, the nerve binding, muscle twisting hours of pain, should get at once a bottle of Uric-O, the marvelous specific for the cure of Rheumatism. It matters little how long one has suffered from the trouble nor how intense the suffering. Uric-O will cure it. It cures by its direct action upon the blood, muscles and kidneys; it neutralizes the rheumatic acid poison and drives it from the system. Druggists and Physicians everywhere are recommending Uric-O because they know that at last there has been a remedy prepared which actually cures the trouble and cures it to stay cured. It has stood all kinds of tests and never been found wanting. Uric-O is a cure for Rheumatism and for Rheumatism only. Mr. E. J. Murphy is the agent for Uric-O in Quincy, and he would be glad to meet all sufferers from the disease and explain the action of Uric-O on all forms of Rheumatism. The Smith Drug Co., of Syracuse, N. Y., are the makers of Uric-O, and will be glad to send any rheumatic a sample of this marvelous specific on request. They sometimes send a full sized bottle to people sending for samples.

Heads or Tails For Love

[Original.]

Alice Wren was a witch. It's singular that when we apply the title to an old woman we mean a hag, and when we apply it to a young girl we mean something fascinating. Alice was a young girl. She had no end of lovers and was always trying to see how far she could go with any of them without being caught in a matrimonial net. She did not draw them by her wiles; there was no necessity for that; but she would agree to marry them on impossible conditions. The consequence was that when she at last met a man who inspired her with at least uncertainty, she had formed a habit of toying with lovers that made her only more reckless with this one.

When Walter Trask proposed he was treated the same as the others. He was not refused outright. He was laughingly given a conundrum to solve. If he solved it he had won; if not he had lost. He coldly admitted that he had no brains for puzzles, and since the task was impossible he must give up the prize. Not being accustomed to have her suitors give her up so easily, Alice was piqued, but as Trask did not bite at any of the baits she held out to him she found no opportunity for revenge. Finally, when, her eyes snapping with mischief, she told him she would decide for or against him by spinning a coin, he declared that that was a proposition he could understand and assented. Taking a penny from his pocket, he asked her whether "heads" or "tails" meant "yes," but she declined to use any coin for her decision except a silver dollar that she had long kept in her treasure box. She went for it, and showed it to the applicant for her hand to prove that all was fair. Walter looked it over and, seeing nothing unusual about it, handed it back to her.

"If it falls head up," she said, "I am yours; if tails, I am not yours."

Going to a highly polished table, she removed everything from it and set the coin spinning on it. It whirled for a long while, then gradually settled down tails up.

"Best two in three," said Walter.

"Anything to please you," she replied, and spun it again. It settled down as before.

"Best three in five," he pleaded.

The operation was repeated, and again the reply was "no."

Walter begged for one more chance, or best five in nine. She granted his request, declaring as she did so that another spin, if tails, would be a final decision. She twirled the coin, and tails it was. Walter asked to examine the coin again, but she refused him and took it away.

That afternoon Bobbie, Alice's brother, aged nine, came along whistling "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and Walter agreed to give him a dollar bill if he would exchange a silver dollar for the one his sister kept in her treasure box. Bobbie proved doubly corruptible. He accepted Walter's bribe, but not being able to get into the box offered to divide with his sister if she would unlock it. Then he accepted a bribe from her to take her coin to her lover and keep her knowledge of it a secret. Walter on receiving the silver dollar tested it to see if it were loaded, but found it an honest piece of money. Then he brought a microscope to bear on it and discovered that a fine file had been drawn lightly over the beveled edge on the head side. This caused it when spun on a smooth surface to slip on this side and throw tails up. Walter bribed Bobbie to take it back to the box and say nothing.

The lover's next object was to persuade Alice to make a new decision on the fall of a coin furnished by him. He expected a refusal, but was surprised at a granting of the boon on condition that Alice should be permitted to examine the coin. Walter showed her a new silver half dollar. She examined it and, handing it back, said:

"Tails you win; heads you lose."

Walter's face fell. He had filed the coin so as to throw heads up. Not caring to acknowledge the fraud, he spun the coin, knowing that he must lose, and he did lose.

If Alice Wrenn had known whether she wanted Walter Trask or not she might have acted accordingly. Not knowing it, she permitted herself to be drawn on in a game that two could play. Walter, not feeling equal to the task (or being too lazy), consulted a professional gambler. The gentleman gave Walter two silver dollars. Walter left him feeling that he was quite capable of using them to advantage. Nevertheless he went home and spent a good two hours practicing changing one for the other.

The next time he went to see Alice he bantered her to let him make a final trial with a silver dollar of his own to decide if the fates decreed that he was to lose her. She consented. He showed her a new silver dollar, and she examined it.

"Heads you win," she said, handing it back. It appeared to be a genuine coin that had not been tampered with. She was ready to give him even chances.

Walter suddenly started and looked out of the window. Alice looked the same way. He changed the coin, spun its double, and every time it came heads. He had won.

Alice tried to snatch the coin, but in the struggle Walter got her in chancery and took a betrothal kiss. Then she agreed to keep her contract if he would tell her how he had done the trick. He produced three silver dollars, one from the United States mint, one a spurious double header, the other a spurious double tailer. The last would have been used if "tails" were to win.

Express Raid And the Sequel

A wagon load of drinkables of the kind that exhilerates, an electric car, a gang of Atlantic hoodlums, and a patrol wagon full of officers were the characters in an affair that started at 6 o'clock last night and ended a little after midnight.

It was just before 6 o'clock when one of Flannagan's express wagons, loaded with liquors for Quincy Point thirsty people was coming toward Quincy on the street car tracks. Just before the wagon reached Barry's corner on Hancock street, an electric car came up behind. The motorman did not see the wagon in time to prevent an accident.

The two met and the driver of the team was thrown off and the horse injured. The driver started for a physician to have his injuries dressed. As he left the scene a gang of toughs surrounded the team. Kegs and cases of beer began to disappear rapidly, and in a twinkling a good part of the load had disappeared over fences and up Squantum street.

The injured animal was cared for and the team minus a good part of its load resumed its journey toward Quincy.

All was then quiet until about midnight when a telephone message was received at the police station that a gang of drunks was having a great time in a field off Squantum street.

The gang was having the time of their life. There were songs and dances rivaling the famous scenes of Morton at Merry Mount during the early days in Quincy's history.

Sargeant Barry sent a wagon load of officers to the scene. In the party were Officers Cahill, Holloran, Boutin, Milford, Curtin, Crooker and Donovan. When the wagon reached Barrys corner the lights were extinguished and it proceded at a walk toward where the gang was having their party.

The rubber tires on the wagon prevented its approach being known so that the gang was surrounded by the officers before they had an opportunity to realize what had happened. There was a short scuffle and the whole gang, six in number, were on their way to the police station.

They were booked as Michael McCarthy, James Gillon, John Clifford, Richard Sullivan, Dennis Sullivan and Charles E. Bevis. The remains of their liquid refreshment was also taken to the police station.

The gang was all arraigned in court this morning for drunkenness, and held in $200 each until Monday.

THE CITY CAMPAIGN

Only Eleven Days In Which to File Nominations For Caucuses

Before the first of November all nominations for the Republican City caucuses must be made, so that municipal politics cannot be set aside for the State election. In fact there are only eleven days including Sundays in which to circulate and file nomination papers for Mayor, Councilmen, School Committee and Ward Committees of nine men.

Mayor Thompson is a candidate for a third term, and the City Hall people are confident that he will have but little opposition. Personally the Mayor has given good satisfaction, but there has been considerable criticism of his department officials. Those who would like to have a change have not apparently united upon a candidate.

Friends of ex-City Treasurer Gray says his candidacy is being taken up and actively pressed by many representative and conservative business men in the different wards of the city, but thus far there has been but little enthusiasm. Mr. Gray's well known conservatism, not being a politician in any sense, and his familiarity with the business of the city, cause some to feel that he would, if elected, give the city a thorough business administration.

Many other names have been mentioned, but none seem to be willing to become candidates. The list includes Councilman Walter F. Nichols, Councilman Lewis Bass, Jr., Councilman W. M. Chase, ex-Senator Eugene H. Sprague, John L. Miller, Nathan G. Nickerson, Henry L. Kincaide, Charles C. Hearn, Dexter E. Wadsworth, Emery L. Crane and others.

In the City Council there will be many changes, as several members have expressed a desire to retire. It is important to select if possible more business men, that this branch of the city government may be improved.

On the School Committee too, which elected three new men last year, there will be two or three new men elected this year, as two decline reelection. Thus a majority of the board will be changed in two years.

Many feel that the greatest need of a change is in some of the Ward committees. In years past voters at the caucuses have had no choice because only one list of names were filed, but it is proposed to have more than one list this year.

The Fat Salaries Of Commissioners

It cost $6,750 to assess the cost of the bridge built over the Weymouth Fore River, this sum being demanded by the special commissioners. These same commissioners, because of unnecessary delays, rolled up an interest charge of $17,461.29, of which Quincy alone is required to pay $5,762.22.

The board determine the compensation required to pay to themselves to be as follows:

Est Henry P. Moulton,	$1,600
Est. John J. Flaherty,	2,075
Ernest H. Vaughan,	2,450
Prescott Keyes,	525
Alden P. White,	300
	$6,950

The construction was begun in 1902 and finished in 1903, but with this the above commissioners had nothing to do they were merely to assess the cost.

—Thursday was Thanksgiving day throughout Canada. Business was generally suspended.

"Daredevil" Bell, Chief of Staff

Brilliant Career of the Army's "General Manager" and Military Adviser to the President

An All Round Handy Man Who Has a Habit of Getting There First. So Dashing In His Fighting Tactics That His Regiment Was Called the "Suicide Club"—Thrilling Instances of His Quick Action In Emergencies

By ROBERTUS LOVE.

RECENT orders for the dispatching of troops to Cuba have called public attention again to Brigadier General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the United States army, who also has been ordered to Cuba himself. Most of the newspapers have stated that these orders for the movement of troops were issued by General Bell. The truth is that they were issued through General Bell. There is quite a difference. The distinction between "by" and "through" as used in this connection indicates the difference between what General Bell's position as chief of staff really is and what the public has come to believe it is.

Doubtless at some time since last April, when General Bell was detailed—mark the word—as chief of staff, you have read that this estimable officer is "the head of the army." But he isn't. No doubt also you have read that he is "really in command of the army." But he isn't.

"But," you may say, "General Bell is the officer of highest authority in the army, and now we have you. Aha!"

Again, he isn't.

The chief of staff is not a matter of rank. President Roosevelt did not raise General Bell's rank in the least when he detailed him as chief of staff. He was the senior brigadier then, and he still is. Half a dozen major generals and a lieutenant general outranked him then, and with slight changes due to retirement and advancement by seniority they outrank him still.

COPYRIGHT, 1906 BY CLINEDINST, WASH. D.C.

BRIGADIER GENERAL J. FRANKLIN BELL.

An Assignment.

The position of chief of staff is not an appointment nor a promotion, strictly speaking. It is an assignment. The president of the United States details an officer to fill the place. The law gives the president that privilege, and he may select any officer of the brigadier grade or above. The chief of staff, contrary to popular belief, does not hold his position until he drops out of it by dropping out of the army at the compulsory retirement age of sixty-four. The law distinctly requires that the chief of staff must tender his resignation when a new president comes into office. The new president may accept or decline the resignation, as he chooses. This provision is made because it is desired that the president have at his hand, in close touch, a military adviser in sympathy with his administrative ideas.

The chief of staff, then, is military adviser to the president and the secretary of war, and he is the vehicle that carries or the channel through which flows the general and specific orders to the American army. Three men not in the army, but of it, are always above him—president, secretary of war and assistant secretary of war. He takes the orders of these three men and transmits them to the army. Naturally, if he possesses any initiative, as he must to hold that position, he uses his brains in figuring out the details. If by any chance the present chief of staff should get into the field for active service as a field officer he would be ordered about by Lieutenant General Arthur MacArthur, the real head of the army, so far as official rank goes.

Nevertheless the chief of staff has a tremendous responsibility, and in case of war operations he must be the right man in the right place. President Roosevelt appears to have taken this view last spring, when, kicking aside precedents as one kicks aside a worn out shoe, he determined to assign as his chief of staff a man still young enough to work like a thoroughbred and one whose retirement by age limit was still so far off that in all reasonable probability he would remain in the position long enough to get used to its duties and carry out some definite ideas. Three or four of our preceding chiefs of staffs have been in turn the lieutenant general who was just about to retire on account of having reached the age limit of active service. Mr. Roosevelt simply concluded to quit complimenting his veteran "heads of the army" by giving them a few months hard work as chief of staff before retirement. He glanced about, and his eye fell upon Frank Bell, as the army people used to call him. For several years the president had been sitting up and taking notice of Bell. Here apparently was a man after his own heart—a strenuous sort of individual who could swim a swamp with a knife between his teeth and go after the enemy without stopping to dress.

General Bell is just that sort of chap. That is how he happens to be chief of staff. Back in 1897 a first lieutenant in the Seventh cavalry, already forty-one years of age and with twenty-three years of service behind him, wrote in a letter to a friend:

"Unless I succeed in getting promoted to one of the staff corps I will probably have to retire as a captain after forty-six years' service—from boyhood to old age."

Fought Filipinos Five Years.

The writer of the letter was Lieutenant James Franklin Bell. Seven years before he had resolved to retire from the army because of the provoking slowness of promotion and go into mining. But just then the Indians broke out in a fresh spot. Bell made a dash for the battle of Wounded Knee and liked the excitement so well that he stayed in the service. As his letter shows, however, he was becoming disgusted again when the Spanish-American war broke out. That was Bell's chance. He went to the Philippines with the first soldiers and stayed there for five years, a longer period than any other officer or soldier in the army spent in the islands. He was Lieutenant Bell when he went over. When he came back he was Brigadier General Bell and had been so for three years.

"Use rifles, not spades," said Bell. His idea was to fight instead of intrenching. He pursued that theory throughout his many months of fighting in the islands and also pursued Filipinos most of the time.

Bell's career in the Philippines smacks strongly of the unusual. He was an all round handy man. He started in as a volunteer major of engineers, but very shortly he became chief of detectives to the army. They called him head of the bureau of information, but he was really in charge of the detective work, and he served strenuously and picturesquely as a sleuth. That was before Spain had capitulated. It was desirable that the army know something about the defenses of Manila. Detective Bell went and found out. He dived into moats and swam up a tidewater creek right under the snouts of the Spanish guns. Then he made a map of the lay of the land, and this aided materially in taking Manila.

Chief of Scouts.

Bell was wounded the very day that the Filipino outbreak occurred, but a scouting department had been organized, and he was made chief of scouts. Here his twenty years of frontier work came in handy. He took to horseback and stayed there for about fourteen months. Once he had occasion to make a report to General MacArthur, commanding. There was a mucky swamp between him and the general, and the matter was important. Bell stripped off all his clothes except his hat, buckled his cartridge belt about his waist, mounted his horse and plunged through the swamp. On the other side he climbed up the bank, lathered with mud, and approaching General MacArthur saluted, saying, "Sir, I have the honor to report," and so on to the end of his story, while the general gasped in amazement.

One of his troopers tells another story of Bell's quick action in an emergency. It happened after the rising officer had become colonel of the Thirty-sixth volunteer infantry and was pounding Porac periodically. Porac is a town in Luzon.

"The colonel didn't have men enough to garrison Porac," says this trooper, "and do outside fighting, too, so we had a habit o' hikin' into Porac about ever' other day an' capturin' the town, an' nex' day the Gugus 'uld come in an' capture it back. We used to say when things wuz slack-like, 'Well, we'll go in an' capture Porac before breakfast for exercise.' One day we wuz stripped, swimmin' in a crick, and a lot of Fillies begins operations on our right. Colonel Bell, who was swimmin' with us, jist buckled his belt an' holster aroun' his waist, mounted his hoss an' tuck out after them Gugus, firin' as he rode. They thought he wuz a whole army, I reckon, for they scattered like a bunch o' bay steers."

The "Suicide Club."

So dashing in his fighting operations was Bell that the other soldiers called his regiment the "Suicide club." The colonel was dubbed "Daredevil" Bell. At Manila a war correspondent announced his intention to go out and get with Bell's forces.

"You're foolish to do that," said an old army officer. "You just stay here in town and commit suicide. That will save you the trouble of the long trip, and the results will be the same."

General Bell—he soon got to be a brigadier general of volunteers and then a regular army brigadier—believed that the way to fight the Filipinos was to go after them and hit them hard. They wouldn't stand up and fight, he said. Accordingly he instructed his officers in his theory of fighting, and they put it to practice. One result was that more medals of honor and more promotions for meritorious service or gallantry in action came to Bell's troops than to any other troops in the Philippines. Bell himself while still a volunteer colonel received a medal of honor through congress at the suggestion of his commanding general and the president of the United States. In a fight near Porac he rode far ahead of his command, chasing all alone two Filipino officers and five privates. He captured a captain and two privates and brought them into camp. General Elwell S. Otis in commending him to the war department for distinguished bravery in battle remarked that Bell repeatedly had done things like this, "and the wonder was that he was still alive."

This recalls a little story that is told of General Bell since he returned to the United States. In the army maneuvers at Fort Riley during a sham battle General Barry told his cavalrymen to keep a sharp eye out for General Bell. "He will be sure to expose himself to danger," said Barry, "and you must get him."

General Bell did expose himself, the cavalry swooped down, and he was forced to flee precipitately. The umpires formally decided that Bell had been captured. Bell objected with emphasis.

"Possibly I was killed," he said, "but I wasn't captured—never!"

And so the man who at forty-one was disgusted because he expected to retire at sixty-four as a captain is now at fifty the chief of staff. According to popular conception, General Bell is giving orders to his superiors—the six major generals and Lieutenant General MacArthur. As a matter of fact, an age long precedent has been overturned here, Bell being the first officer in the army even to have the appearance of giving orders to his superiors. In one sense this is turning military traditions topsy turvy, though when the situation is properly boiled down there is found to be much more fuss than feathers in the pot. Other interesting facts are that General Bell is the first man without civil war experience to be chief of staff and the first West Pointer to hold that post. In fact, the general seems to have a habit of getting there first.

Captain Bell's promotion to general without stopping at way stations was one of several recent instances of rapid transit to high rank which in their cumulative effect have tossed army traditions to the winds, and the brigadier's assignment to the highly important post of chief of staff was another. This new order in our army means promotion by merit instead of by seniority, or, to put it another way, it means the selection for high position and important work of officers who have shown their fitness for such selection by deeds done when opportunity offered, as in the case of this Kentuckian, who may be called the Francis Marion of the American army in the Philippines.

OUR HOSPITAL

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy)

INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams St., Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

THE

Young Men's Christian Association

OF QUINCY, MASS.

(Legal Title – Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

Courtship should be a court of inquiry established by mutual consent of both parties.—Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters, Baptist, New York.

Building of Character.

Salvation is a gift received by faith, but character building depends on our thought, will and effort. Like the chiseling of the sculptor, we are producing it day by day.—Rev. Josephus Stephan, Methodist, St. Louis.

A Value of Suffering.

God knows best how to tie up a people in the company where they morally, religiously and patriotically belong, and ofttimes suffering is the only way it can be done.—Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, Presbyterian, Pittsburg.

Modern Culture.

The culture of the times is dictating to Christianity rather than being molded by it. Gigantic commercial enterprises are growing at the expense of law, justice and the Golden Rule.—Rev. F. H. Stilwell, Baptist, Cleveland, O.

Two Important Steeds.

Care for self and care for others are the two steeds which should draw the chariot of a regenerated life to the highest human attainment and to the final approval of God.—Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, Presbyterian, Washington.

The Glorious Ideal.

Jesus Christ is manna to our famished souls. He is food for intellect, heart and soul, the glorious ideal, the flower and consummation of the human race, the all sufficient Saviour.—Rev. Dr. A. Lincoln Moore, Baptist, New York.

Home Training.

Children cannot be trained for God in an unhappy home. We need to purify the spiritual atmosphere of the homes of our country so that the children may learn to know God and be trained for his service.—Rev. A. R. Holderby, Methodist, Atlanta, Ga.

Justice and Mercy.

God is just; therefore sin cannot go unpunished. But God is also merciful, for he knoweth the frame of mortal man, and mercy pleads before God for the mitigation of the sinner's sentence. Thus justice and mercy become reconciled by the institution of the day of atonement.—Rev. A. Guttmacher, Hebrew, Baltimore.

A Potent Factor.

The character of the family determines the character of the nation, its possession, its length of life, and in the family the most potent factor is the mother. God has so made the mother that the little child gathers from her from the very inception of its life the elements of its character.—Rev. H. G. Weston, Baptist, Wayne, Pa.

True Reformer.

To hurl anathemas at existing wrongs is not to reform them. If one do no more than find fault he had better keep his mouth shut, for fault finding only engenders bitterness and hopeless discontent. The true reformer not only calls attention to society's wrongs, but leads the way to better things.—Rev. Robert Hopkins, Congregationalist, Cleveland, O.

The Personal God.

Religious ideas are the dominating forces in this world, and he who is without such ideas takes long strides toward barbarism. Eliminate from our literature the idea of the personal God, and the loss is beyond calculation. Without that idea there can be no interpretation of human history, and moral science is gone forever.—Rev. A. H. Herries, Presbyterian, Union City, Pa.

Man and the Art of Life.

Wealth is a reward or an accident. Poverty is an inheritance or a misfortune. Both are but a little while. Neither is a fixture for even this life, and neither goes beyond death. But the man—the man is the thing. The man makes wealth. The man masters poverty. The man outlasts the world. The man is a spirit, and spirituality is life. How much life a man has at last is how much soul the man has. The art of life is the building of a soul.—Rev. Dr. N. McGee Waters, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

Heaven's Halos.

The end of the life of the kingdom is not to get into it ourselves, but we get into it only when it gets into us. We enter it by the credential of service. The halos of heaven are not for solitary saints, for isolated pietists, for pilgrims who trudge alone the way to pearly gates. They are made by the smile of God shining through the tears we have dried, by the gleam of heaven we have brought into tried and darkened hearts here. Selfishness sends no bright threads ahead for the eternal loom to use in weaving halos. Service means self sacrifice, and this means that we have earnestness enough to crucify ourselves.—Rev. Dr. W. C. Bitting, Baptist, St. Louis.

Take Lessons From Nature.

In these days when the craze for riches and the feverish haste to be wealthy drives so many to wild speculation and the short cuts to fortune we would do well to sit at the feet of old Mother Nature and let her give us a few lessons. Nature says work is the law of life; that if a man wants anything he should work for it. She lifts her sweet voice against gambling and betting. Nature is always honest and pays us back in the kind we give and manifold more than we give her. We sow in handfuls; she gives us wagon loads in return. There is no risk or speculation in her wages. What we sow we reap. Her mighty dumb laws speak out in majesty. The soul that sinneth must suffer, and each man must reap the harvest of his own sowing. What ruin and distress and disgrace we have witnessed in this city because nature's voice and God's law have not been heeded! Young man, be wise, be wise.—Rev. John Thompson, Methodist, Chicago.

HIT BY A CYCLONE

Disaster Overtakes Two Provinces In Cuba

200 KILLED AT HAVANA

Money Loss Estimated at Fully $2,000,000--Tobacco Crops Damaged, While Banana and Plantain Crops Are Destroyed

Havana, Oct. 20.—A cyclone of unprecedented severity, accompanied by a terrific downpour of rain, swept over the provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio Wednesday night and resulted in 200 deaths in this city and the serious injury of a dozen or more persons. The money loss is estimated at fully $2,000,000. The dead are all Cubans of the poorer class.

The United States cruiser Brooklyn dragged her anchor until her stern grounded in the mud off La Regla. She got off yesterday without injury.

The storm caused havoc and confusion among the shipping in the harbor. Many buildings were badly damaged and nearly all the trees in the city and suburbs were uprooted.

The 2000 American soldiers and marines at Camp Columbia were put to great inconvenience by the storm. Nearly all of the 400 tents in the camp were blown down, but there was little actual damage. Harry Fesdick, an army teamster, was probably fatally crushed by a tree which fell through the barracks in which he was sleeping. Two other men were seriously injured.

One hundred and fifty tobacco barns in the Alquizar district have been destroyed. The recently planted tobacco crop also has been seriously damaged. Enormous damage is reported from the Guira section, the center of the banana and plantain growing industry. These crops are said to have been practically totally destroyed. Many small farmers have lost their all and are in great distress.

No loss of life has yet been reported outside of Havana. All street car service in Havana was paralyzed and communication with outside points was impossible. The telegraphic service was annihilated.

The first train to come into the city since the storm was the Santiago express, which arrived yesterday afternoon. Passengers report that the devastation does not reach far to the eastward.

Havana recovered quickly from the effects of the storm and except for the presence of gangs of men replanting uprooted trees and the wreckage in the harbor one would not know that such a severe storm had blown over this end of the island. Last night gay crowds were promenading the streets and lounging in the safes, apparently quite oblivious of the fearful experience through which their city had just passed. Street car traffic was fully resumed yesterday afternoon.

The storm caused the greatest damage and confusion in the harbor. Two coasting schooners were driven high on the rocks at the Malecon. The crew of one managed to get ashore, but the crew of the other, four men, were drowned. The chartered army transport Cubano, from Newport News, arrived here after a terrific struggle with the gale off the Florida coast. One hundred mules and 20 horses were swept overboard and many other animals were injured.

The total number of lighters sunk in the harbor has not yet been ascertained. Many of them were loaded with sugar and other merchandise, upon which the loss will be great.

In Havana city about 50 houses were more or less damaged, but owing to the massive construction of roofs and walls the damages are serious in only a few instances. The light wooden structures over the sea baths at Vedado were badly wrecked.

The principal loss of life occurred in a tenement house on Inquisidor street, occupied by many poor families. The projecting upper portion of this building collapsed first and then the three floors gave way and fell. Eight of the occupants were killed and five were injured. The other fatalities resulted from falling signs and cornices, contact with live wires in the city or by drowning in the harbor.

During the height of the storm there was great alarm among the guests at the hotels. Doors, windows and skylights were blown in and the fierce rain flooded the rooms.

The destruction of trees by the cyclone was a most remarkable feature. Throughout the length of the Prado scarcely one tree remains standing, they being nearly all uprooted. Havana has thus lost one of its chief beauties, for it will be many months before they can be replanted. The parks also were destroyed.

Leper's Heart Falls Him

Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 20.—George Rashid, the Syrian leper who several months ago was driven from various cities in the east because of his affliction, died in a shanty at Pickens, near here, of heart trouble. The body will be cremated. The leper had been located in a shanty built especially for him and a nurse was in attendance.

Wedding Guests Poisoned

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 20.—As the result of eating chickens boiled in copper pots, 85 guests at a wedding celebration were taken ill in Oneida township, two of whom died. Four persons are in a critical condition, but the other guests are recovering.

ALCOHOL IN MEDICINE

Christian Temperance Workers Give Practical Demonstration

Boston, Oct. 20.—An impressive memorial service for members who have died during the past three years was one of the leading events of the second day of the triennial convention of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union. Brief addresses were made in honor of members from various countries who have passed away. A hush fell on the great assembly as a male quartet sang "Lead, Kindly Light."

In delivering a brief address on "Medical Temperance," Mrs. Martha M. Allen denounced patent medicines which contain alcohol and gave an interesting demonstration of the presence of alcohol in two such medicines by heating samples of them in specially constructed lamps and showing to the delegates that the gas thus generated would burn brilliantly.

Following an address on "The Menace of Mormonism," the convention unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing the work of American women in trying to secure a constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy in the United States. A message was read from President Roosevelt, stating that he would be glad to receive the foreign delegates to this convention in Washington on Nov. 7.

Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens of Portland, Me., who had been supported by the British delegates for the presidency of the world's union, has declined to be a candidate.

Concession to American Fishermen

Washington, Oct. 20.—What is believed here will prove a valuable concession to American fishermen has been granted by the governor of St. Pierre-Miquelon. The state department has been informed that under certain restrictions American fishermen may catch fish in the territorial waters of the islands, which belong to the French government. As understood here, the restrictions imposed are not such as to prevent the rights given from being of much convenience and value to American fishermen. The herring fisheries in these waters are at times extremely valuable, depending on the run of the herring.

Japan Facing Financial Crash

London, Oct. 20.—The Tokio correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says there exists an almost complete deadlock between foreign capitalists and the Japanese. Many foreign promoters are visiting Japan, but few of their schemes show any prospects of success. There is much negotiation, but little real business. On the other hand, the Japanese themselves are floating innumerable companies, which are always oversubscribed. The stock market is in a ridiculously inflated condition and some persons predict a serious financial crash.

Open Hatch Explains Disaster

Bizerta, Tunis, Oct. 20.—Divers have continued their work on the French submarine boat Lutin, which went down Tuesday off this port with two officers and 14 men on board, and have fixed a chain under her stern and replaced the rope under her bow to another chain. One of the divers found the principal hatch of the Lutin open. He was unable to open the hatch completely, as he could not reach the handle, which is situated three feet inside.

To Drive Jews From Odessa

Odessa, Oct. 20.—The union of True Russian Men, operating in conjunction with the Black Hundreds, has issued a proclamation calling on the people to maintain a rigorous general boycott on all Jews and insisting that Jews must not be supplied with the necessaries of life, thus compeling them to leave the city in large numbers. The authorities did not interfere with the posting of these proclamations.

Money Squandered In Bucketshops

Pittsburg, Oct. 20.—C. W. Ray and C. S. Hixson, formerly teller and bookkeeper, respectively, of the Union Trust company of this city, who pleaded guilty to embezzling about $125,000 of the funds of the institution, were sentenced by Judge Young to serve eight years at hard labor in the penitentiary. The money taken from the institution was lost in bucketshop speculation.

Lehneman Is Released

Halifax, Oct. 20.—James B. Lehneman is no longer detained in connection with the Frolic Chinese smuggling case. His property, which was retained by the police authorities when he was paroled, has been returned to him, as the police had no power to hold it, and he is now at liberty. He will not return to the United States, and it is said that he may stay in Halifax.

Tax Gatherer Put to Rout

Tangier, Oct. 20.—Natives of the Doukhala district surprised and attacked the camp of Shereef Hahama, who has been charged with the re-establishment of order and the collection of taxes in the provinces. The shereef suffered the loss of 100 men.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Edward Traverse's residence and general store at Errol, N. H., was burned. The loss is $10,000. The place is well known to sportsmen as the western gateway of the Rangeley lake region.

Fire which broke out in the Maine Central freight house at Milford, Me., caused a loss of $6500.

Edward Conway, aged 69, chief of police of Brookfield, Mass., dropped dead. Heart disease was the cause. He had been chief of police since the former chief died suddenly 11 months ago.

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

A New Belt—Charming Are the Latest Gown Fabrics In Coloring.

The latest belt idea for shirt waist gowns is one made of Scotch plaid, the colors so skillfully crossed and combined that there is no tendency to make the waist look larger.

One delightful feature of fall colors is their softness and to this might be added a willingness to consort agreeably with almost any other color. The manufacturers and colorists are bringing us to a point where we can't make violent contrasts.

One of the favorite color combinations of the autumn is dull brown, with a depressed looking green and subdued red.

Pongee of heavy weave is to be very fashionable this autumn, and for a really useful frock nothing beats a good ecru pongee silk. It does not crease or show dust and can be worn with a hat of any color. When the color is not becoming a lace yoke and a touch of color do away with this objection.

There is an effort being made to dethrone the blouse and convert it into a basque bodice. Some models are edged with plaitings of lace and allowed to form a tiny basque over the skirt, which appears all around the belt.

Gray is one of the smart shades of the season. A particularly pretty afternoon frock is made of wool crape in a lovely tone of gray trimmed with knife plaitings of self tone chiffon cloth put on with folds of gray liberty satin to cover the edge. The girdle is of the same satin drawn up a little at sides of front and caught by large buttons covered with satin, hand embroidered in silver and edged by a very narrow plaiting.

Mushroom hats are among the fall showings. The hat illustrated is of this persuasion in a light gray felt simply trimmed with black and white striped ribbon. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE FRENCH HUSBAND.

Always, as a Rule, Anxious to Do the Agreeable Thing.

The French husband has a faculty that amounts almost to a genius for bestowing the delicate attentions which cost little except the exercise of a modicum of tact and thoughtfulness, but which carry joy to every true woman's heart. He not only thinks to take home to her often (in the absence of the means to make a larger offering) a ten cent bunch of violets, pinks or roses from the flower market or the itinerant flower vender's barrow on his route, but he presents them gallantly with the compliment and the caress the occasion calls for, and this makes them confer a pleasure out of all proportion to their intrinsic worth.

He remembers her birthday or fete day with a potted plant, a bit of game, a box of bonbons, a cake from the pastry cook's or a bottle of good wine. He is marvelously fertile in expedients for making the time pass quickly and agreeably for her. He has a thousand amusing and successful devices for helping her to renew her youth. He projects unique and joyous Sunday and holiday excursions. He improvises dainty little banquets. He is a past master especially in the art of conjuring up amiable mysteries and preparing charming little surprises. And in all these trivial enterprises he vindicates the old French theory that true courtesy consists in taking a certain amount of pains to so order our words and our manners that others "be content with us and with themselves."

The American husband is particularly solicitous to do the proper thing; the French husband to do the agreeable thing.—Independent.

The Zebra.

Of all wild animals the zebra would be most useful to man if domesticated. It is not liable to horse fever or tsetse fly.

So Long.

An English correspondent says the expression "so long" is the same as the "sa lange" of the Swedes, which corresponds to the "a tantot" of the French. "Sa lange" as pronounced by a Swede is almost identical, he says, with what you would hear from a Northumbrian if you got him to say the English words "so long."

The Printers' Bible.

The "Printers' Bible" is so called because it contains a curious typographical error in Psalm cxix, 161, which is made to read, "Printers have persecuted me without a cause," instead of "princes."

BEST EQUIPPED TROOPS

American Soldiers Sent to Cuba Have Finest Weapons.

NEW BAYONET IS BUSINESSLIKE

Sharp on Both Edges and Not Intended For Ornament—Latest Army Rifle the Deadliest In Use—Machine Guns With Each Regiment Can Do Very Effective Work.

American troops sent to Havana have been prepared for warlike operations in Cuba with the finest equipment of arms and ordnance that any army of the United States has ever carried, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Globe.

The rifles, machine guns and field artillery of the troops sent to Cuba will represent the highest type of deadly scientific inventions. No European army has ever gone into a campaign with weapons of equal merit, and it is doubtful if any European army today has weapons of equal merit available.

Not a single weapon that was carried by the American soldier of 1898, when he went to Cuba, will be carried by the soldier of 1906 who has been sent to Havana. Everything is more modern, bearing the stamp of latest improvement. Even the revolver used by the officers is a newer type of Colt's manufacture. The troops, infantry, cavalry and all will carry the new magazine rifle, sometimes called the new Springfield. For the first time in the history of the army, infantry and cavalry have the same weapon, the cavalry having hitherto used the carbine, a shorter weapon than the army rifle. The new rifle is considered by experts the deadliest army rifle in use. It is of 30 caliber, has the best features of the Mauser and the Krag, is simpler than the Krag and has a much higher muzzle velocity. The Cuban insurgent, taking refuge behind an eighteen inch tree, will not be safe from its bullet, such is its terrific force. It is fitted out with another ugly weapon in the shape of a sixteen inch knife bayonet. This bayonet is sharp on both edges and is not intended for ornament.

President Roosevelt and high army officers, reading the account of the Russo-Japanese war and finding the bayonet was not obsolete, but still much in vogue in modern warfare, concluded the rod bayonet with which it was at first determined to equip the new rifle would not do at all. Reaching this conclusion, it was decided to devise a bayonet that when used would be effective. The new sixteen inch product is the result.

But the new army rifle is no further advanced in military excellence than the new three inch field gun. General Crozier, chief of ordnance, considers it superior to the field gun used by any other army. It has a recoil cylinder and shoots a fifteen pound shrapnel, having a bursting radius of fifty yards. Long range and great accuracy are other features of the weapon. The recoil arrangement is so perfect that an artilleryman can set a glass of water on a wheel of the gun and fire twenty shots a minute without spilling the water. A sheet of steel is arranged to shield the gunners.

The mountain guns are also new and powerful weapons. They have a 2.95 inch caliber and shoot a fifteen pound projectile, but have a lower range than the field gun proper. The piece itself is carried on one mule, the carriage on another and the ammunition on other mules. The artillerymen walk. A mountain battery can be carried over trails almost inaccessible and through mountain paths where men hesitate to venture.

Then, too, for the first time the army is entering a campaign with a machine gun detachment for each regiment. Hitherto there has been no system to the handling of the machine guns. Under the new arrangement a detachment of twenty-one men is detailed to each regiment to handle the machine weapons. These are Vickers-Maxim guns of the same caliber as the new army rifle. They are mounted on tripods when in use and are so effective that an experienced man using one can saw a board in two at a half mile.

Army officers are much interested in the question of just what arms the Cubans have. Ten thousand Winchesters of the same caliber as the Krag rifle have been sent to Cuba since the present trouble, and through third parties this government has sold a large supply of Krag cartridges to the Cubans, presumably for use of government forces there. This government disposed in this way of a number of old machine guns of 45 caliber, the same caliber as the old Springfield rifle, and ammunition for these guns. If all these weapons are at Havana, where they can easily be taken over by the American forces, there will be no difficulty.

In the present disorderly state it might happen that some of these weapons got into the hands of elements hostile to this country, and the result would not be calculated to aid in the movement to bring peace and order to the island. Until it is definitely known what has become of all this equipment army officers will not be entirely easy in their minds. A few thousand magazine rifles out in the Cuban provinces in the hands of a lot of irresponsible revolutionists might prove a serious menace to a regime of quietude.

Prize Fruit.

At the annual fall shows of the Mass. Horticultual Society, held last week in its magnificent building on Huntington avenue, Boston, Dr. W. G. Kendall was awarded twelve prizes on his exhibit of apples, pears and grapes.

Although Dr. Kendall's estate is a small one it is an excellent example of intensive cultivation, for upon it he raises fruit that wins more prizes than that shown by any other member of the Society, not excepting the professional nurserymen who have a hundred times as many trees and bushes from which to select their exhibition fruit.

Dr. Kendall does not confine his efforts to any one fruit but has a few examples of every variety that will grow in this latitude including apples, pears, peaches, plums, apricots, nectarines, quinces, filberts, grapes, cherries, currants, gooseberries and strawberries.

—A terrific tropical storm along the east coast of Florida on Thursday carried death and destruction in its wake. Thousands of dollars damage was done at Jacksonville and St. Augustine. It was the heaviest rain fall for years, and did much injury. In St. Augustine the tide was the highest known in years. The water front was inundated and many of the principal streets in the oldest part of the town, which includes much of the wholesale district were several feet under water.

—District Attorney Moran, who is so much engaged in politics that he cannot attend to the pressing court duties that require his attention, announced at Natick on Thursday that if he was elected Governor of Massachusetts, he would be a candidate for the democratic nomination for President in 1908. He says he does not affiliate in any way with Hearst or Bryan.

—The State of Indiana appears to have got the ways pretty well greased and is leading Tom Taggart to the top where he can have a good start.—Stoughton Sentinel.

SIDEWALK ASSESSMENTS

Over $1,500 To be Paid by Abutters on Six Streets

Many have regretted that the city has not been financially in a condition to extend the concrete sidewalks. Some of those who have paid large assessments that others may have a good walk, think it would be only fair that concrete walks should be universal that they also may have a good walk on streets through which they pass daily.

Along this line some public spirited citizens have petitioned for gravel sidewalks with edgestone, and some of these improvements carry large assessments as will be seen below. But the improvements are great both to the city and the abutting property, and should be encouraged.

Commissioner Burke reported the cost of sidewalks on six streets at the last meeting of the City Council. The assessment below will pay one half the cost.

POISON SQUAD QUARTERS.

Pleasant Dining Room Being Prepared For Wiley's Experimenters.

A new kitchen and dining room are being provided for the poison squad of the bureau of chemistry, which will begin operations in a few days to experiment with the effect of saltpeter in foods, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune. Dr. Wiley, under whose direction the squad is eating, intends to have the experiments made with the best of arrangements, and the kitchen, which is being especially built for the squad's use, is to be of the most sanitary character. The new dining room is bright and attractive, and the poison eaters will have no reason to complain of unattractive quarters.

Dr. Wiley has not yet issued his call for volunteers for the coming year's work, but a number of the old squad who have been at the business of experimenting with chemical food for several years will re-enlist, and the chemistry officials find no difficulty in getting recruits. Most of the men in the squad are young clerks from the bureau of chemistry. They have returned from their vacations prepared to begin the saltpeter diet with zest. The experiment this year is regarded as especially interesting because of the general use of saltpeter in preserving and coloring meats. The results will be surprising to a great many people if it is found that ordinary corned beef put up with saltpeter is not healthful. Nearly all the other preservatives of meats and canned foods have been ruled out by the secretary of agriculture in the meat inspection regulations as a result of the tests made by Dr. Wiley's poison squad.

GUMDROPS FOR PET BASS.

Trained Fish Then Catches Other Fish For His Owner.

Everybody up Mill Rift way has heard of J. Floyd Monlony's trained black bass, says a Fort Jervis (N. Y.) correspondent of the New York Evening World. At present it weighs seven pounds. He caught the bass when it was only three inches long, kept it in a washtub, raised it on a bottle and taught it to attack other fish as well as eels.

Monlony gives a gumdrop to the bass every time it brings in a fish. On the "long track" in the river the other day he fed his pet thirty-nine gumdrops, and then, the supply being exhausted, the bass refused to tackle another fish.

It prefers gumdrops to hojacks, lampers, minnows or angleworms, and during the fifteen years Monlony has owned it the bass has caught more than two tons of fish for its owner.

Any one doubting this story may apply for vouchers to Jim Hayes, H. H. Hazen or Walt Tisdell, Sparrowbush, N. Y.

New Toys Remarkably Ingenious.

American ingenuity is not directed largely to the production of novel toys for children, and most of the inventive genius in that line is developed abroad, says a correspondent of the New York Press. France seems to take the lead in devices for children's amusement. At the exhibition of toys recently held in Paris there were many wonderful things. Some were not likely to make appeal to the childish fancy unless the youngster's mind had been developed to the point where he demanded complexity in playthings, but the exhibition was especially interesting to the adult. In Paris, it is said, one always may gauge popular opinion by popular toys. One of the best liked contrivances in the exhibition was called "the motor car catastrophe." A little clockwork motor car ran finely until something apparently went wrong with the machinery, whereupon the car broke into several pieces and hurled out its passengers. Then there was a war automobile, which carried cannon and fired shots as it went along. A more useful device was an alarm clock that fired off a pistol. The inventor says he will improve it by inventing a lever bedstead in connection with it.

New Form of Lookout.

A new lookout for artillerymen has just been invented by Underengineer Marchand of the fort of St. Miel, near the German frontier. It consists of a metal staff telescoping into the shaft of the ammunition wagon, enabling the officer to raise himself fifteen feet above the earth's surface and direct the fire of the battery.

Tribute to October.

October, month of the noonday
Soft as the summer dawn,
Month of the Indian summer
Poets have dwelt upon;
Beautiful, somber October,
Month of the out of doors,
All of the charms of the autumn,
Glorious month, are yours.

October, month of the azure
Soft as a maiden's eyes,
Month of the hunter's bright moon
Sailing the silent skies;
Wonderful, mellow October,
Month of the bountiful stores,
All of the riches of nature,
Beautiful month, are yours.

October, month of the bobwhite
Piping at early morn,
Month of the provident harvest
Gleaned in the fields of corn;
Cool and delightful October,
Fresh as the winds from the seas,
Month of the spirit of winter
Singing upon the breeze.

October, month of the colors
Painted upon the wold,
Month of the blood red bur oak
And of the leaves turned gold;
Colorful, wizard October,
Painter of shrub and grass,
Making the redbird jealous
Of the bright sassafras.

October, month of the wild duck
Tempting the guns at morn,
Month of inspiriting music
Wound from the hunter's horn;
Out of door, bracing October,
When the soft skies are blue,
No other month is so lovely,
And none is so loved as you.

The opening meeting of the Friday club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Zenas Arnold was of special interest as it was also the fifteenth anniversary of the club. Mrs. George W. Morton, president, was in the chair and Mrs. Frederick A. Tupper had the program in charge which was on Gladstone. The hostess, ably assisted by her sister Miss Edith Randall, had prepared a pleasant surprise in the way of a birthday supper instead of the simple lunch usually served. In the centre of the table was a large birthday cake, surrounded by 15 pink candles with a bouquet in the centre. From this radiated pink ribbons to which each guest found attached a card with quotations from the English authors studied by the club. The quotations were very apt and were jokes on the club and club members. Among the classical bits the following created considerable amusement: "Lost. A bulky, very heavy manuscript of no possible interest to anybody on earth but a member of the Friday Club.—Quincy Daily Ledger." It was a very happy birthday party.

MAY TAKE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO PANAMA.

The battleship Rhode Island, built at Quincy, has been ordered to be prepared to sail on Sunday, Nov. 4, and it is rumored that she may convey President Roosevelt to Panama. The warship is at the Boston navy yard under command of Capt. C. G. Bowman, and has coal and stores aboard, as it was expected she would go to Cuba. It would be an honor to Quincy to have one of her battleships selected.

ACTIVE AT EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS.

Edwin W. Marsh, president of the Quincy Savings Bank, and one of the city's well known and respected citizens, reaches another milestone in his active life on Sunday. It is the 85th. Although having reached a ripe old age he is as smart as many a younger man, and there are but few mornings when he is not at his post at the bank.

TODAY'S COURT.

Mary Kerr was arraigned upon two complaints for larceny at Quincy. Cases continued until Oct. 27.

James E. Harrigan was arraigned for drunkenness at Braintree. Case continued two weeks.

Thomas F. Smith was arraigned for drunkenness at Weymouth. Case continued until Nov. 3.

Michael McCarthy, James Gillon, John Clifford, Richard Sullivan and Charles E. Bevis were arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy and held in $200 each until next Monday.

Larceny of $1,048.

Boston has been paying $12 a week for the services of Patrick Lally for nearly three years past, notwithstanding he has done no work in that period. His daughter, Mary E. Lally of Charlestown, who collected the money, and Benjamin A. J. Green, district foreman of the sanitary department of the city, have been arrested for larceny. The affair shows how loosely the business affairs of cities are conducted.

MONUMENT FOR DONKEY

Marble Shaft to Be Erected Over Its Grave.

DISCOVERER OF RICH GOLD MINES

Jacob Goetz of Coeur d'Alene, Ida., Tells How a Little Burro Was the Means of Locating Two Valuable Mines—Pet of Children and Given Every Luxury For Years.

Jacob Goetz, proprietor of the Coeur d'Alene theater, has given orders for the erection of a marble shaft costing $250 over the grave of a donkey which died a few days ago, says a Boise (Ida.) correspondent of the St. Louis Republic.

Bill, the name that will be inscribed on the shaft, was no ordinary donkey, but was known far and near as the "famous $4,000,000 donkey." Even this title did him scant justice, as he was the discoverer of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan gold mines, estimated to be worth $10,000,000, and the total output of which has already exceeded twice this sum, with a yearly dividend of $2,160,000.

The mines were estimated to be worth $4,000,000 at the time the donkey, while standing in the court at Boise, Ida., marked "Exhibit A," heard Judge Norman Buck hand down the following opinion, which determined the ownership of the mine:

"From the evidence of the witnesses this court is of the opinion that the Bunker Hill mine was discovered by the donkey, Phil O'Rourke and N. S. Kellogg, and as the animal was the property of the plaintiffs, Cooper & Peck, they are entitled to a half interest in the Bunker Hill and a quarter interest in the Sullivan claims."

N. S. Kellogg thereupon bought the donkey for $250 cash and employed a man at a salary of $50 a month to care for the animal the rest of his life. That was twenty-one years ago. Bill was six years old at the time. For twenty-one years he has enjoyed every luxury, has been the pet of children in the neighborhood and honored by visitors from all parts of the world.

A few days ago Bill was called to that place where all good donkeys go, and it was the receipt of this news that caused Goetz to announce that he will erect a monument to the memory of the famous animal.

Goetz and Con Sullivan located the Sullivan mine. Goetz tells of the finding of the famous mine by the donkey as follows:

In the fall of 1885 N. S. Kellogg, a veteran prospector, rode into camp at Murray with samples of ore which he had just discovered. He was in the employ of Cooper & Peck of Spokane, Wash., having been grub staked by them. His employers pronounced the specimens he brought in worthless, whereupon Kellogg showed them to Phil O'Rourke, who saw the value of the ore and arranged with Kellogg to return to the claim. At that time O'Rourke was being grub staked by Goetz & Baer of Spokane. These men supplied the grub stake for both Kellogg and O'Rourke when they started in quest of the claim which Kellogg had located. They hadn't the price of a mule and started with their equipment on their backs.

The second day out, however, they chanced upon the donkey, which had wandered from camp. They transferred their equipment to his back and tramped up the canyon until they reached Mile Creek, three miles from the south fork of the Coeur d'Alene river.

There the donkey wandered away again, and when O'Rourke found him he was browsing on a mountain side, where he had pawed up some moss, uncovering a quantity of solid galena lead and silver ore.

When Cooper & Peck found that their donkey had been pressed into service they claimed an interest in the mine under the grub stake law, and after a long legal battle through two courts, finally established their rights.

Novel Plan to Irrigate Fields.

Senator W. L. Clayton probably has the most unique irrigation system in Colorado, says a Greeley correspondent of the Denver News. It is in the form of three huge storage tanks, made of steel, that have been placed on a piece of dry land just north of Greeley, Colo. The tanks have a combined capacity of 50,000 gallons. For next season's crop Clayton will have a pumping plant installed at each of these tanks, and when filled they will have plenty of water for a good irrigation of the fields. The tanks were first used by Dr. S. R. Oppenheim in attempting to prove his theory that potato starch could be separated from the tubers by the centrifugal method, the same as beet sugar. The system proved a failure, and Senator Clayton and W. D. Bothwell of Racine, Wis., bought the plant and put in the washing system of starch making, which has been in successful operation for two years. The tanks, costing thousands of dollars, were thrown out and lay about as useless scrap iron until Clayton hit upon the idea of utilizing them in his unique irrigation system.

Fence For Big Game Preserve.

E. F. Mitchell of Fort Worth, Tex., is preparing under contract with the federal government to build forty-two miles of wire fence in the Wichita game preserve, says the Kansas City Star. The fence will be six feet high. From the ground the first two feet will be so closely meshed that young quail cannot pass through it. Then will come three feet of two and a half inch wire mesh and then three barbed wires four inches apart. Iron posts may be used.

STORY OF HOLD UP

Tammany Leader Tells It Before the Grand Jury

OTHERS ARE SUMMONED

President Roosevelt May Write Letter Expressing His Opinion of Hearst's Policies, Which He Strongly Opposes

New York, Oct. 20.—Much new interest was injected into the political campaign when Charles F. Murphy, the leader of Tammany Hall, appeared before the grand jury in response to a summons from the district attorney's office to tell upon what he based his statement that the managers of the Independence League were attempting to "hold up" Tammany candidates.

Murphy had intimated that Democratic nominees for congress, the senate and assembly had been approached with a proposition that their opponents on the league ticket might, for a money consideration to offset expenses already incurred, withdraw.

It is understood that Murphy was questioned for 13 minutes and that as a result of his testimony subpoenas were subsequently issued for a half dozen other persons, including Congressman Goulden, W. A. Chanler and Joseph Pendergast. These persons will be questioned concerning an alleged attempt to obtain money from Charles V. Fornes, Democratic candidate for congress in the Eleventh district.

Murphy declined to add publicly to his original charges. Representatives of the league who were seen denied emphatically that anyone in authority in the organization had been guilty of the practices attributed to them by Murphy.

Charles V. Fornes, Democratic nominee in the Eleventh congressional district, last night said that he had been served with a grand jury subpoena as a result of statements by Murphy. He said that he knew nothing about the revelations and, as far as he was personally concerned, was not mixed up with the matter in any way. He had neither made offers to the Independence Leaguers to withdraw nor had been approached by them with a demand for his withdrawal. He could not help out the grand jury in the slightest degree.

Congressman Goulden of the Eighteenth congressional district said that he was entirely incapable of furnishing any information on the matter. He stated that his own skirts were clean, and that he knew nothing of offers of cash consideration for the removal of candidates.

The Sun prints the following from Washington: There was talk here that President Roosevelt might write a letter to Charles E. Hughes, in which the president would have some things to say about William R. Hearst and what he stands for. The care with which Hearst has avoided any attack on the president has not passed unnoticed at the White House. Some of those who are close to Roosevelt believe that by this course Hearst is seeking to create the impression that he and Roosevelt stand for the same policies, and there is considerable irritation over that thought. The idea that Roosevelt endorses the preachings of Hearst, or that their reform programs are virtually the same, is extremely distasteful to those who stand close to the president and know his views on Hearst.

The president, it is understood, maintains that certain policies which he has advocated are made necessary to counteract doctrines preached by Hearst. The president regards his policies of governmental and corporate reform as the antidote for the policies of Hearst. In some of his recent speeches Roosevelt has condemned those who sought to incite the poor against the rich, and this, he believes, Hearst is endeavoring to do for the purpose of furthering his own political ends.

Chanler Says He Chipped In

Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Lewis S. Chanler, Democratic and Independence League candidate for lieutenant governor, said regarding the report that he and his brother contributed largely to the Independence League and Democratic campaign fund:

"I am glad of this opportunity to nail another cheap campaign lie to the counter. I was not asked by anyone, directly or indirectly, for any promise, subscription or pledge before I received the nomination from the Independence League or Democratic party. Last week I sent a check for $5000 to the treasurer of the league, and a check for the same amount to the treasurer of the Democratic state committee. That is all that I, or anyone acting for me, has subscribed, directly or indirectly."

Hughes Asks Democratic Support

Oneonta, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Charles E. Hughes spent the greater part of yesterday amid surroundings in the upstate country which brought back reminiscences of his youth. Hughes renewed his pledges of interest in labor and in clean government, with reform in the state department wherever it should develop that reform is needed. Hughes also devoted much of his speeches to a more direct plea for Democratic support.

Hearst Talks About Gas

Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Convention hall was crowded to its capacity last night with people from all over this part of Saratoga county, who came to hear W. R. Hearst, Democratic and Independence League candidate for governor. Hearst's speech was largely devoted to the gas legislation and litigation affecting New York city and the allegation of Hughes that Hearst's newspapers were misrepresenting the decision of the court of appeals on the 80-cent gas law.

Cannon Draws Big Crowd

New York, Oct. 20.—A rousing reception was given Speaker Cannon of the house of representatives when he appeared here last night to address a Republican rally. Admission was by ticket and when the last seat had been occupied hundreds were still outside. Cannon spoke of a publisher with several papers, "who has the genius to hire the talent to make a bad cause seem good. The same publisher who printed the Sermon on the Mount and the poems of Ella Wheeler Wilcox. This class of men," said the speaker, "have tried to influence the citizens by playing to their passions. He has set one class against the other—citizens who are all sovereigns."

Moran Has Eye on White House

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 20.—John B. Moran addressed an audience in city hall last night in the interests of his campaign for the governorship of Massachusetts. He said, among other things: "I'll see to it that when I am governor there will be no lynching done in Massachusetts, and if in 1908 they want the Massachusetts governor to show them how to stop lynching all over the country, I'll show them how to do it." Many of Moran's auditors took this remark as following out an intimation contained in previous speeches that he might be a candidate for the presidency. Moran reiterated statements he has previously made that the issue in Massachusetts is neither Bryan, Hearst or Hughes. "My interests," said Moran in this connection, "are antagonistic to both Bryan and Hearst."

Two Hymns Barred by Bishop

Newark, N. J., Oct. 20.—Bishop O'Connor has sent an order to all the Roman Catholic pastors in the diocese of Newark, warning them that the hymn "Nearer, My God, to Thee," must not be sung hereafter in any Catholic church in the diocese and that the hymn "Lead, Kindly Light" may only be sung in a church after the service is over, provided the pastor has given his permission. The latter hymn was written by Cardinal Newman before his conversion to Catholicism.

No Decision In Crapsey Case

New York, Oct. 20.—Decision was reserved on a motion to dismiss the appeal of Rev. Dr. A. S. Crapsey, convicted of heresy, when the appeal came up for a hearing before the Episcopal court of review for the second department. It was agreed to withhold decision until the case had been heard in full. It was found at the Rochester trial that Crapsey had denied the Virgin birth of Jesus and impugned the doctrines of the Episcopal church. He was suspended.

Burial of Mrs Davis

Richmond, Oct. 20.—With fitting tributes from a host of representatives of many states in the Southland, Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the president of the Confederacy, was laid at rest in Holywood cemetery, where rests the body of her husband. Details from the local camps of Confederate veterans escorted the body to St. Paul's Episcopal church and from there to the cemetery.

Italy Places Big Order For Artillery

Rome, Oct. 20.—The council of state has approved a proposition to entrust the Krupps with the construction of artillery to the amount of $1,600,000. This will entitle Italy to make use of the Krupp patents in the construction of artillery in Italy. A total of $6,000,000 will be employed in providing new cannon.

New Transport Service

Washington, Oct. 20.—Secretary Taft has issued an order establishing a regular army transport service between Newport News, Va., and Havana. The Sumner will make two trips a month. Newport News will also be the home port hereafter of the transports Meade, Kilpatrick and McClellan.

Cavalry After Troublesome Utes

Washington, Oct. 20.—Upon the application of Governor Brooke of Wyoming, Secretary Taft, by direction of the president, has ordered a troop of cavalry to Wyoming to round up and return to their reservation the Ute Indians who are now causing a disturbance in that state.

More Ships of Dreadnaught Pattern

London, Oct. 20.—The success of the trials of the British battleship Dreadnought has led the admiralty to give orders for the construction without delay of three other such vessels. One is to be built at Portsmouth, one at Devonport and one in a private dockyard.

Suspension of Treasury Teller

St. Louis, Oct. 20.—United States Sub-Treasurer Akins has suspended Marshall B. Ferguson, paying teller, pending the result of the investigation by government experts into the alleged shortage of $61,200 in the funds of the St. Louis sub-treasury.

At the Eleventh Hour

By BEATRICE STURGES

Everything in the room betokened confusion and busy preparation for some event of considerable importance. A pile of notes just finished lay on the desk; two trunks, one already strapped and the other standing open, indicated a journey; several frocks occupied the bed, piles of lingerie filled the chairs, various other feminine belongings were scattered about and a maid was hastily transferring them to the open trunk and the new hand bag which stood on a table. Now and again she addressed some question to the girl who still sat at the desk and who answered in monosyllables and with a preoccupied air.

"Oh, put in or leave out whatever you like, Marie. It doesn't make a bit of difference!" she exclaimed at last impatiently.

Marie, wondering within, obeyed, but presently she came forward with something which she begged mademoiselle to try on.

"Truly, it must be seen if it is what you call all right," she protested, and the girl rose and walked to the mirror.

She was wearing a long, loose gown of yellow silk, and her nut brown hair was caught up loosely on her head. Marie stepped in front of her for a moment, did a little adjusting and patting this way and that, and then stepped back with voluble expressions of admiration.

The girl looked into the glass as if in a dream, and then her heart throbbed painfully. She had put off the full realization of what she was about to do and lived in a vague hope that something would happen to stop it, but now as she looked in the mirror and saw herself at last enveloped in the white mist of a wedding veil the bitter truth came home. The bridal symbol, so sweet and lovely in itself, became suddenly hateful to her, for in all its frailty it brought to her the stern realization that the next day at noon in St. John's church she, Lucy Rutherford, was to be married to a man she did not love.

How different, oh, how different it might have been!

She tore off the veil and threw herself on the bed in a passion of tears. She never would do it, she told herself over and over; she never could do it! What did she care if Marie did see? The whole world might see! It could see tomorrow, and they all could have their presents back—she didn't care. It didn't make any difference what her stepmother said or did or threatened—she could marry him herself. But, as for Lucy, she simply hated Hugh Goring all at once, and she never wanted to see him again.

She sat up presently and bathed her eyes in the water the discreet Marie brought to her and felt better. Then as the maid turned again to her packing Lucy thought miserably of a certain night six months ago when she had quarreled so bitterly with Ralph Anderson and he had left her presence without one backward look and a very vicious slam of the door. Oh, how foolish and trivial a lovers' quarrel seems when six months have gone by! Lucy knew that if she and Ralph once looked into each other's eyes again it must and would be all right once more. But how was this to happen? In the heat and suddenness of his wrath Ralph had rushed away to the vague and indefinable wilds of Texas, and Lucy never knew whether he received that little note she sent him the morning after their quarrel. She had said only: "Dear Ralph—If you are sorry, I am too. Lucy."

Anyhow he never replied, and maybe by this time he was already in love with some horse riding girl in Texas, while she was supposed to be making her last joyful preparations for marrying another man.

"Oh, well," she had said to herself, 'a girl has to do something!"

She rose and went over to the desk again, where from a secret hiding place she drew a photograph—a snapshot of an athletic young man in tennis flannels, with a racket in his hand and a bright smile on his face. Her eyes filled with tears as she kissed it and murmured, "My sweetheart, I shall always love you."

While her lips still pressed the picture a sharp ring startled her.

"You answer it, Marie. It's probably the caterer or somebody asking about tomorrow. Tell them Mrs. Rutherford is out and to call up in the morning."

The surprised maid, knowing well that Mrs. Rutherford was in, stepped out into the hall to answer the telephone. In a moment she returned.

"It was for you, mademoiselle—a gentleman who insisted—so I have turn ze switch."

Lucy sat down again at the desk and took up the receiver.

"Yes, this is Miss Rutherford."

The voice at the other end of the wire was strangely familiar. It made her cheeks burn, her heart throb and her eyes shine. She almost dropped the receiver.

"Why, Ralph!" she exclaimed.

Again the voice spoke rapidly.

"Yes," she replied, "it is a little late for a call.

"What's that? Wanted to answer my note? Well, you've had lots of time to do it in.

"Oh, just received it today? I wrote it six months ago.

"I don't think much of the way they take care of mail at your club, but—

"Well, I hope it's all right now; but, you see—well, it's kind of hard to explain things over a telephone.

"Tomorrow? I'm afraid I'll be busy tomorrow.

"What makes my voice sound so queer? Oh, I don't know. I meant that I had an engagement for tomorrow—until a little while ago. By the way, you didn't say what your answer to the note was.

"Really? And you did think of me while you were gone? And you still care?

"I should think my note told you that. Of course I do. I never stopped.

"Oh," faintly, "you heard just now about tomorrow? Well, I'm not, I'm not. I made up my mind ten minutes before you called up, and when the bell rang I was—I'll tell you when I see you.

"Right away? Why, it's after 12 o'clock.

"Any chances? What on earth do you mean?

"Ralph! I never heard of such a thing!

"Ye-es, I suppose I could. Of course I'd bring Marie. You're sure it's the only way?

"Yes, the bishop's sure to be at home.

"All right, then—in half an hour, when we see the carriage turn in front of the house.

"Yes, sweetheart. I do, I do! And I don't care if central does hear."

The receiver was hung up with a rush. Miss Rutherford flew to the door after the wildly curious Marie, who had been listening outside in the hall to every word, and pulled her in.

"Hurry, hurry, Marie! Just the bag, never mind the trunk. That can wait. Where's my brown suit?"

"But, mademoiselle!"

"That's all right—you're coming too. Here! Wait till I write a note to Mrs. Rutherford. It's too bad for her to miss the show, but she will probably console Mr. Goring without any trouble."

She looked around the room and then at the bag where Marie had stowed everything necessary. From the window she saw a large carriage slowly approaching.

"Marie, Marie!" she exclaimed. "Put this in that big box and bring it along." In her eagerness she lifted the dainty mass of white satin and lace and the filmy veil. The maid opened her lips to protest and then tied up the package.

"Goodness!" exclaimed Lucy as they started down the stairs. "Did you think I could get married without my wedding dress?"

Outside in the carriage Ralph was impatiently waiting.

Carlyle's Doggedness.

Carlyle's dogged Scotch unsympathetic persistency in measuring everything by his own ideas was illustrated by a story which Huxley told of their mutual relations. Carlyle and he were for long good friends, but had a serious difference on the evolution question in the early stages of the controversy. Their personal intercourse ceased in consequence. After an interval of many years Huxley happened to see the Scotchman crossing the street in London and, thinking that bygones might be bygones, went up to him and spoke to him. Carlyle did not at first recognize him, but when he had made out who it was he at once said with his Scotch twang as though he were continuing the last conversation of years ago: "You're Huxley, are you? You're the man that's trying to persuade us all that we're the children of apes, while I am saying that the great thing we've really got to do is to make ourselves as much unlike apes as possible." Huxley, who had hoped that the weather or politics might have been admitted for the sake of peace, soon found that the best thing he could do was to retreat and return to their tacit agreement to differ.

They Needed the Moon.

In a certain New England town there is a medical society which is of some sixty years' standing and has the custom of meeting on the Thursday before the full of the moon. Recently some of the younger members tried to change the time of meeting to the third Wednesday of every month. Three of the oldest members rose up and protested. They gave the reason for the peculiar arrangement. "When this association was formed," said one of them, "there were no electric lights and good roads the way there are now. The society took in the whole county, and it was often a difficult matter for the doctors who lived in the country to drive home after nightfall. So we called the moon to our aid and set the date for the Thursday before the full of the moon. It is bright moonlight at a seasonable hour then, and the doctors could see their way home. I know there is no necessity for such an arrangement now, but this will seem like a new society if we do not meet the Thursday before the full of the moon."

The Saw.

Pliny says that the saw was first invented by Daedalus; but, according to Apollodorus, it was the invention of Talus, who used the jawbone of a crocodile to cut through a piece of wood and then made an iron instrument in imitation of it. The saw is represented on the monuments of Egypt from 2500 to 3000 B. C. As early as A. D. 1322 sawmills driven by water power were in operation at Augsburg, and, it is believed, before this they were in operation in Paris, driven by the current of the Seine. The first sawmill erected in the Norway pineries was in 1530. Sawmills were numerous in Italy in the sixteenth century. They were not introduced into England until 1663, when a native of Holland built one, but was compelled to abandon it by the opposition of the populace, carpenters and other artisans, who saw no good in such a newfangled contrivance.

HUNDREDS KILLED

Great Tidal Wave Said to Have Engulfed Island Off Florida

SAN SALVADOR TEMPEST

Great Loss of Human Life and Destruction of Cattle and Crops --Other Parts of Central America Suffer Severely

Miami, Fla., Oct. 20.—The steamer St. Lucie, Captain Bravo commanding, has sunk off the Florida coast. One of the extension steamers arrived in port last night, bringing 60 wounded, who were taken to the hospital, and it is said there are 28 dead bodies which will be brought up today.

Captain Bravo says that he anchored on the lee side of Elliot's key, 25 miles south of Miami, Thursday morning, and that soon after a tidal wave engulfed the island. He says there were 250 residents on the island, all of whom were lost. A barge containing 100 people is said to have been torn away from its moorings at Elliott key and afterwards picked up near the Bahama islands, 50 of her passengers being reported drowned.

It is believed now that a portion of the Florida Fish and Produce company's fleet were destroyed. Manager Adams sent out one of their boats yesterday to look for the men and boats and on their return they reported no signs of the fleet. The fishing nets were found strewn upon the shore.

San Salvador Sorely Stricken

San Salvador, Oct. 20.—A tempest has raged incessantly for 10 days throughout the republic, flooding the rich valleys, principally that of Majada, and resulting in great loss of life and the destruction of cattle and crops.

The Salvadorean man-of-war Izalco was lost at Acajutla.

The topography of various departments has been changed, buildings have fallen, burying their tenants in the ruins, and the iron bridges over the principal rivers have been carried away. The aqueducts and electric light plants at Sonzonate and Salvador have suffered heavy losses.

The railroads, telegraphs and commerce are paralyzed, but traffic is being restored in some towns of the republic. The water mains at some places have disappeared.

The rivers are bringing down the bodies of persons drowned in the storm and the carcasses of cattle, and the sight of these tend to increase the terror of the people. The losses are incalculable. The government has issued orders that assistance be given victims of the storm.

Guatemala and Honduras also have suffered severely. It is said the losses there will amount to many millions of dollars.

Miami Not Badly Damaged

Miami, Fla., Oct. 20.—The damage here by the hurricane was nothing like as serious as first reported. All the east coast hotels and other east coast points escaped damage; there being no damage of consequence anywhere north of Miami. In this city the greatest damage was to small houses and fences. Three stores were unroofed and awnings and sheds all over the city were blown down.

Out of Hurricane's Path

St. Augustine, Fla., Oct. 20.—This city, beyond the damage done by high tides, was not affected by Thursday's hurricane. Messages received at the wireless station indicate that the storm passed this point about 60 miles to sea.

Railroad Fined For Rebating

New York, Oct. 20.—Judge Holt imposed a fine of $108,000 on the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company for granting rebates to Lowell M. Palmer, who has charge of the transportation for the American Sugar Refining company. There were six counts and a fine of $18,000 was imposed in each case. F. L. Pomeroy, assistant traffic manager of the New York Central, was fined $1000 on each count, a total of $6000. Judge Holt severely criticised the practice of the railroad company.

Lordling Weds American Actress

London, Oct. 20.—Henry L. Bruce, eldest son of Lord Aberdare, and Camille Clifford, an American actress, have been secretly married under a special license in this city. The engagement of Bruce and Miss Clifford was announced from London in July. It was denied by Lord Aberdare, but Miss Clifford persisted in declaring that she eventually would marry her fiance, despite the opposition of his family.

Conviction of Bank Officials

Pittsburg, Oct. 20.—Eight officers and directors of the defunct State Bank of Pittsburg were found guilty of irregularities in connection with the failure of the bank by a jury in the criminal court. The bank failed with a deficit of $125,000. The charge against the accused was receiving deposits knowing the bank was insolvent. Sentence was temporarily deferred.

Tried Suicide by Drowning

New York, Oct. 20.—Patrick Detner, aged 24, of New Haven, was dragged from the East river after he had lost consciousness in the water. He was resuscitated with difficulty and later removed to a hospital, where he was held under arrest on a charge of attempting suicide.

Things to Make For the Christmas of the Baby

BABIES want so little at any time of year that the number of objects available for Christmas gifts to them is small. Rattles are toys that give them extreme satisfaction, and the only other amusement that they enjoy is, perhaps, a worsted ball on a ribbon. As they begin to toddle pretty reins are really liked. With the exception of garments and little toilet dainties there is not much left to make for them that they can use.

The ring rattle is always pretty. It is a small embroidery hoop, ribbon wound and with the same narrow ribbon sewed inside the hoop, so as to make a star extending to the hoop from a small inside square. Little bells outline the square. On a simpler form of the same thing the inside ribbon starts from a single point and forms rays to all sections of the hoop. Any fanciful arrangement of bells can be used on this.

Spoon Clothes Hanger.

Clothes hangers take the place of clothes trees, made conveniently low so that the clothes are easily got at while mother or nurse is seated. Sometimes they are more like a little clothes-horse got up daintily and probably set off with wide bows of ribbon. But a new one, most convenient of all when space has to be considered, is a sort of rack to hang on the wall, one made of burnt wood in the pattern of a silver spoon being particularly appropriate. Brass hooks or crystal hangers finish it. It hangs from a wide ribbon which balances it over a nail or is furnished with brass eyelets and brass headed nails.

Safety Pin Box.

A nest of boxes for safety pins, making a pretty gift for a baby's wardrobe, costs quite a little sum when bought in the stores, yet this dainty affair may be completed at home at very little time or expense. It is made of cardboard, with six little drawers, two in a row, above each other. But instead of taking this trouble you can get the kind that contains powders put up in drug stores from prescriptions which glued in their order together should answer equally well or better. On one end of each tiny brass rings sewed on will form handles and each two boxes will be marked "Small," "Medium," "Large." This complete, a broad white ribbon covers the four sides, and on the top this is tied into a large flat bow entirely covering the top, the ends displaying a spray of forgetmenots, hand painted. There is no back, and, failing the rings in the front doing their duty, the drawers may be quickly opened by gently pushing with the finger at the back. This is a very dainty trifle and suggests other possibilities and usefulness besides holding safety pins.

FOR SAFETY PINS.

Small rosettes in delicate colored ribbons are easily made up and make pretty gifts. They are to be pinned to the little white dress when baby wishes to be especially decorated.

Shawl and Hood.

A fascinating little shawl and hood combined is knitted in nile green yarn, with squares marked off in white silk. The stitch is that employed in making old fashioned afghans or antimacassars. The design shows a deep point in the back, with smaller points over the shoulder, running up gracefully to the neck in the front.

An enticing hood of green yarn falls at the back. It is lined with a cobweb pattern in white silk, showing the green through it. The fringe is of white silk, and white cord and tassels are used for a finish.

The favorite combination is a fine wool yarn, overknit with silk threads all worked in an open, shell pattern and with deep scallop. The silk is in the same tone as the wool thread or with a pale blue or a nile green wool a silvery silk thread is employed, like an overlaying mesh of metal.

EARTHQUAKE IN MAINE

York County Towns Have an Unusual Experience

Biddeford, Me., Oct. 20.—Several York county towns, especially those along the coast west of this city, experienced shocks last night supposed to have been due to earthquakes. Reports of the disturbance were received independently from the towns of York, Wells, Kennebunkport and North Berwick. In each of these places buildings were jarred by three distinct shocks, but no damage was caused. No trace of the disturbance was noticed in this city.

York, Me., Oct. 20.—Several shocks, believed to have been from earthquakes, were felt here yesterday, the first occurring at 11 o'clock in the morning, the second about 3 in the afternoon and a third disturbance, or series of disturbances, last evening. Houses were shaken by each disturbance. It was thought at first that heavy gun firing at Fort Stark in Portsmouth harbor would explain the phenomenon, but later it was learned that no guns were fired at the fort.

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 20.—The so-called earthquake shocks which were felt in York, Me., were not noticed in this city. Within the last year similar shocks have been experienced in the same locality and have been ascribed by scientists to a slight slipping of the rocks of the earth's crust.

No Action Regarding the Frolic

Providence, Oct. 20.—Henry White of Cambridge, Mass., reputed to be the owner of the schooner Frolic, has been in conference with the custom authorities relative to the libel filed against that vessel for being concerned in the recent smuggling of Chinese into this port. No positive action was taken. The three white men arrested for complicity in the alleged smuggling and the 19 Chinamen awaiting deportation proceedings are still in jail.

Fatality In Paper Mill

Brunswick, Me., Oct. 20.—The ignition of sawdust in a conveyor at the plant of a paper mill at Pejepscot caused the death of Samuel Portras and severely burned three other men. All the men were employes of the paper mill, and had gone into the conveyor, which runs from the main mill to the boiler house, carrying sawdust and shavings, to clean it out.

To State Prison For Shooting Wife

Boston, Oct. 20.—A sentence of not more than 15 nor less than 10 years in the state prison was imposed upon Robert H. Long of Chelsea for shooting his wife. On Aug. 28 Long shot his wife and attempted to shoot himself. Mrs. Long, although severely injured, recovered. The two had not been living together and the crime was attributed to jealousy.

Hanged Himself In Jail

Colebrook, N. H., Oct. 20.—George Moore of West Phillipstown, who was arrested on complaint of his wife, who said that he had assaulted her and threatened to shoot her, committed suicide in his cell in the Lancaster jail. His body was found by the jail officers hanging from a bar of the cell door. Moore was 38 years old.

Ontario Bank Crookedness

Toronto, Oct. 20.—President Cockburn and Charles McGill, ex-manager of the wrecked Ontario bank, appeared in police court. McGill charged with having issued false statements of the bank's condition and Cockburn charged with having signed these statements. A week's remand was granted. The losses, it is said, will aggregate almost $1,500,000. For five years the monthly mis-statements of the bank's affairs have been forwarded to the government.

Conviction of Oil Trust

Findlay, O., Oct. 20.—By the verdict of a jury, the Standard Oil company of Ohio is guilty of conspiracy against trade in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law of Ohio. The penalty is a fine of from $50 to $5000, which may be repeated for each day of the offense, or imprisonment of from six to 12 months. The oil company has given notice that it will file a motion for a new trial.

Famous Sloop Reaches 'Frisco

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—The Norwegian sloop Gjoa, in which Captain Amundsen traversed the Northwest passage, arrived here last night. Amundsen, who arrived here several days overland, met the Gjoa outside the Golden Gate and brought her into this harbor. The crew of the Gjoa will go to New York as soon as possible. They will leave for Norway Nov. 8.

Concessions to Russian Peasants

St. Petersburg, Oct. 20.—The government has issued an ukase removing all restrictions regarding employment by the state, making all equal before the law and releasing the peasants from the vexatious communal system. It prescribes also that the peasants are now free to choose their place of residence, and abolishes the poll tax from Jan. 1, 1907.

Nothing For Creditors

New York, Oct. 20.—Schedules in bankruptcy were filed by Albert H. Kingsland, involuntary bankrupt, showing debts of $319,544, with assets of $100. The indebtedness was secured through assignments by the bankrupt of interests held by him in the estate of the late Daniel C. Kingsland.

Steamer Stuck In Delaware Bay

Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—Steamship pilots report the British steamer Carthaginian, from Liverpool for Philadelphia, aground in Delaware bay, about 70 miles below this city. The weather is thick, but the pilots report that the steamer is in no danger.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

A famous military band will make its first appearance in Boston at Keith's next week. It is Amers' Royal Hussar Band, one of England's most renowned musical organizations, said to be King Edward's favorite military band. H. G. Amers, late Lieutenant in the Northunberland Hussars, is the leader and he is credited with being the successor of Dan Godfrey as a director of band music. The band has recently made a positive sensation in Baltimore, where its original engagement of one week was extended to two. The program will also include Lucy and Lucier in a joyous skit, Milt Wood the great wooden shoe dancer, Thomas Keough and company in a protean farce, Murpby and Francis the favorite "real coon" entertainers, Arthur and company in the wordless comedy, "Mum's the Word;" Guertin and Lamb, jumpers; the Ramsdell sisters, soubrettes and dancers; Morton, Temple and Morton, in a comedy trifle; and new pictures shown by the Kinetograph.

BOSTON THEATRE.

"The Social Whirl," which opened at the Boston theatre on Monday night, proved a whirl of pleasure and merriment "Better than a year ago" was the verdict of the audience that filled the theatre and found many standing. When "The Social Whirl" was presented in Boston a year ago it met with instant success. The experience of last season was such that few changes were found to be necessary. A few new songs have been added. Throughout the piece there is lively action from beginning to end, absurd situations and no end of rounds of laughter-provoking dialogue and songs. The stage settings of "The Social Whirl" are unusually attractive, and the comedy work of Adele Ritchie, Messrs. Ross and Bond, and the "coon" songs of Maude Raymond, are certainly of the nature that will live long in the memories of those who hear them.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The popularity of Sardou seems undiminished. Last season, the Boston Stage Society produced at the Castle Square Theatre no less than four of his plays, and a few weeks ago, a fifth, "Gismonda" was presented. Now comes the announcement that his famous "Theodora" is to be given next week with all the splendid scenic equipment of the original production, and a special cast including all the members of the Castle Square Stock Company.

"Theodora" was the first drama that Sardou wrote for Sarah Bernhardt, and it helped to make the reputation of both the dramatist and the actress. As played by her and as it will be played at the Castle Square, it tells a strongly romantic tale of life in ancient Byzantium, and all play goers who remember the fine production of "Cleopatra" and "Gismonda" will certainly not miss this opportunity to see it.

THE ORPHEUM.

At the Orpheum next week Manager Williams announces another strong vaudeville bill which promises to fully maintain the standard he has established since assuming the direction of this theatre. Prominent in the list of attractions is the first appearance here in vaudeville of William H. Thompson, who is to present Clay M. Green's one act sketch "For Love's Sweet Sake." Another notable feature of the week's bill will be the first appearance here of "That Quartet," Sylvester, Jones, Pringle, and Morrell who hase bevn one of the great features at the New York Theatre roof garden during the summer.

One may find himself right to home when at this rink, for the special attention that is shown to beginners would induce the most skeptical person to try roller skating. Nightly, may be seen jolly bands of young men and women enroute for this popular place of sport and amusement. A surfacing machine arrived this morning and is busily engaged in smoothing the floor and leaving a mirror like finish, making it the finest floor in New England.

Y. M. C. A.

The furnishing fund contest that has been waged between two groups of the boys in the Y. M. C. A. came to a lively close Saturday night. From the begining of the contest until the middle of last week the Reds have been far in the lead, but Friday and Saturday brought in such good returns from the Blues that Saturday evening at 8.30 they were in the lead by $1.30. They could not however keep this lead up and at 9 P. M. the Reds had secured the larger amount by $5.19. The total amount raised being $259.43.

This money will be used to furnish the four new rooms that have been added to the Association building for the exclusive use of the boys.

The fellows who have helped raise this fund will be tendered a turkey dinner by the Ladies' auxiliary early in November.

UNCOLLECTED TAXES

A Large Sum With Interest Due City for Back Years

On the first of October there were due to the City of Quincy back taxes to the amount of $69,403.72; that is taxes levied previous to 1906. To this big sum should be added interest in some cases for ten or eleven years, as will be seen by the summary below compiled from the Dec. 31st report of Tax Collector and the Oct. 1st report of the City Treasurer.

Tax of Year.	Uncollected Jan. 1, 1906.	Collected to Oct. 1, 1906.
1894	$690 85	$0 00
1895	984 24	10 40
1896	682 86	128 76
1897	740 74	52 88
1898	1,342 40	67 15
1899	1,954 68	6 16
1900	2,752 31	46 30
1901	3,454 37	342 08
1902	2,018 13	345 00
1903	3,633 38	504 73
1904	31,023 16	27,566 36
1905	180,097 68	131,901 26
	$229,374 80	$159,971 08

The amount of back taxes collected to Oct. 1, is smaller by about $10,000 than was collected to Oct. 1, last year, when the collections amounted to $169,519.95.

In the summary above the "uncollected taxes to Jan. 1" does not mean that the balance of the tax levy was collected, for each year large sums are abated. During the year 1905 taxes to the amount of $18,715.11 for different years were abated. The city not only lost this sum but the interest on the same.

Because of the non-payment of taxes it is necessary to conduct the business of the city on borrowed money, and finances are becoming complicated.

Heavy Fines.

The general public will be glad to learn that the railroad officials are doing all in their power to put a stop to the disturbances that have been taking place of late on the late trains from Boston.

There has been more or less disturbance, especially on Saturday nights, by young men who have filled up with Boston rum and undertaken to run trains to the annoyance of passengers.

Four were arrested last Saturday night when the train they were on reached Quincy.

They were John E. Flynn who was fined $5 for drunkenness and sentenced to thirty days in jail for creating a disturbance on the cars; Charles N. Perkins and Willian E. Fitzgerald who were fined $15 each for creating a disturbance; and William Farrell who was fined $5.

Handsome Store.

The remodelled store of Emanuel the confectioner, in the Walch block was reopened Saturday evening and was the subject of favorable comment from all. The street in front of the store was crowded all the evening. Since the store was closed three days ago the store formerly occeupied by the Meadow Brook Creamery Co. has been thrown into the store of Mr. Emanuel, making an unusual large and attractive place. On the right of the entrance is a handsome soda fountain while the opposite side is devoted to confectionery. In the rear are a number of small ice cream tables for ice cream parties.

There was probably no better illuminated store in the city than was this. Electricity is the light and something over two hundred incandescent lamps are in use. These are encased in colored globes which serves to highten the effect. It is an excellent example of what can be done with electric lights for beautiful effects.

Robbed not Raided.

James P. Flannigan takes exception to the statement that his express wagon was raided by a gang of hoodlums and relieved of its load. He says that the team was not raided but that it was robbed. He further says that the beer was not consigned to Quincy Point.

The special committee of the City Council, who are to investigate the delay in construction of the additions to the High school will meet informally at the High school building Tuesday afternoon.

Death of B. H. Warren

Benjamin Howard Warren, who was well known to many Quincy people died suddenly at his rooms in New York, Saturday of apoplexy.

Mr. Warren was born in Boston and married Miss Elizabeth R. Mitchell of Quincy, who with a son and two daughters survive him.

Mr. Warren was a retired engineer officer of the United States navy, and had also been vice-president of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company of Pittsburg and president of the Allis-Chalmers Company of Milwaukee. Within the past year he had engaged in business as consulting engineer at 60 Wall street in company with A. M. Mattice, a lifelong associate in the navy and in business.

Mr. Warren had a most extensive circle of acquaintances throughout this country and Europe. He was in his 57th year when he died. He was one of the first and foremost members of the Engineers' Club, a member of the University and Lawyers' clubs of New York, of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and of other organizations. His home was at Alberene, Va., and he had planned to return there at the beginning of next week after his business trip to New York.

—Over 4,000 aliens are on their way to this country on transatlantic liners and will be landed in Boston within the next week. Immigration records, which have been broken every month during the past year, will be broken again during the coming week.

Eighth Victory For Fore Rivers

The Fore Rivers added another victory to their record Saturday making the eighth without a break in the Merrimac Valley league series. The game was with the Bostonians and was played on the Pierce field grounds Roxbury. The rain however spoiled the game for visitors. The players frequently fell and spawled in the mud, and during the second half the Bostonians left the field one by one until all had gone. During this time the Fore Rivers had scored four goals and had shut out the Bostonians without a score winning the game by a score of 4 to 0. The summary:

Delegates Attended Convention of Temperance Women

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Countess of Carlisle Is Chosen President, While Mrs. Stevens Is Again Elected Vice President --Woman Suffrage Asked For

Boston, Oct. 22.—Two interesting meetings, one of a devotional character and the other a mass meeting in charge of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union branch, brought the formal proceedings of the seventh convention of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union to a close yesterday. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Harrison Lee of Australia, one of the world's white ribbon missionaries, and the sermon was delivered by Miss Elizabeth W. Greenwood, world's superintendent of evangelistic work.

The following officers will serve during the next three years: President, Countess of Carlisle, York, Eng.; vice president-at-large, Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, Portland, Me.; honorary secretaries, Miss A. E. Slack, Ripley, Eng., and Miss A. A. Gordon, Evanston, Ills.; treasurer, Mrs. M. E. Sanderson, Danville, P. Q.

The matter of the next meeting place was left to the executive committee, consisting of the officers, invitations having been received to meet in Sydney, N. S. W., London and Glasgow.

Members of the union from all parts of the world have attended the convention, which officially opened on Thursday. Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, vice president, presided throughout the convention, in the absence of the president, Lady Henry Somerset of England, and when she was re-elected vice president the delegates gave a remarkable demonstration in her honor, clapping their hands, cheering, waving flags, banners and handkerchiefs for several minutes, and ending by singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Two delegates have occupied a conspicuous place in the convention—the Earl of Carlisle, husband of the new president of the World's W. C. T. U., and his daughter, Lady Dorothy Howard. The convention also has shown a special disposition to show every possible attention to the aged president of the Japanese W. C. T. U., Mrs. Kaji Yajima, who came from her home solely to attend this convention, although she cannot speak or understand English. She has spoken several times in her own tongue, her speeches having been translated by her grand-niece, Miss Okoabo, of Oakland, Cal.

Large sums for W. C. T. U. missionary work in various countries and for other departments have been raised by collection and subscription. Strong resolutions pledging the union's adherence to the principles of total abstinence and prohibition, urging that steps be taken to secure greater individual and national purity, asking the heads of nations to unite in taking every possible step toward accomplishing universal peace and declaring the union's purpose to use every legitimate means to secure the franchise for women on the same terms as men, were adopted. A successful banquet on Wednesday evening preceded the official opening of the convention, and there have been public meetings on every evening since, at which addresses have been made by prominent American and foreign delegates.

The closing day was a busy one. In addition to the election of officers, all of whom, with the exception of the president, were re-elected, and the adoption of resolutions, much routine business was disposed of, and there were numerous presentations of bouquets and other gifts to leaders among the officers and delegates.

Although the convention officially closed late Saturday afternoon, there was a public meeting Saturday evening and there were additional public meetings on Sunday afternoon and evening.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATOR

Alleged Wholesale Check Forger In Custody at Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 22.—J. H. Langdon, who is in custody here on information furnished the police of Baltimore, charging him with forgery, is said to have operated successfully in nearly every large city in the east. He is also said to have swindled many persons in London, Paris, Berlin and Yokohama by forging the names of Andrew Carnegie, President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad and other prominent men to drafts and checks for large amounts. Langdon, according to information furnished by the Baltimore police, is a son of a wealthy business man of Philadelphia.

The prisoner is said to be a college-bred man and a linguist, and through his accomplishments he met and gained the confidence of some of the most prominent American families and was able to pass the alleged worthless paper.

While traveling in Europe Langdon is said to have made the acquaintance of Judson Mealey, son of a Baltimore jeweler. Langdon, while a guest at the Mealey home, is said to have passed a forged check for $125, Charles A. Mealey, a brother of Judson, being the victim. Langdon then represented himself to be the son of a railroad president and was entertained by Eugene Timanus, son of the mayor of Baltimore.

Langdon then went to New York and then to Chicago. He is said to have served a term in an Ohio prison for forgery in 1899. The prisoner told the police that he was disowned by his family after his conviction.

Found Dead In Old Mansion

Norfolk, Oct. 22.—After having been missing for 11 days, E. W. James, a member of clubs of Norfolk, Richmond and Baltimore, and who is said to be worth nearly $500,000, was found dead in a room of the old James mansion here. Death was due to asphyxiation. The police are investigating. No one has slept in the old mansion for about 10 years. A room on the main floor had been used by James for a decade as an office while he was in Norfolk keeping his rental accounts. It is said that James always locked himself in whenever he visited the mansion.

Roosevelt to Assist Guild

Boston, Oct. 22.—A letter from President Roosevelt to Governor Guild, commending him upon his administration, is to be read before the close of the campaign, according to a statement made yesterday by one of the Republican managers. So far Roosevelt has been claimed by Moran, who declared in Faneuil hall that the president had adopted his suggestion for a progressive tax on large fortunes. Guild and the Republican orators have pleaded with the voters to uphold Roosevelt by keeping Massachusetts Republican.

Crew Unaware of Danger

New York, Oct. 22.—Steamship Santurce was submerged until her decks were covered with water at her dock here before a fire in her hold could be extinguished. The Santurce reached here from Jacksonville, Fla., but the fire was not discovered until her hatches were removed. The boat was loaded with lumber and a fire in the cargo had apparently been smouldering for some time, though Captain Griffith and his crew of 28 men were unaware of their danger.

Longworth Removed From Blacklist

Washington, Oct. 22.—The Federation of Labor has marked Nicholas Longworth off its list of congressional targets. In the catalog of those congressmen marked out for destruction at the polls Longworth occupied a prominent place, he having voted against the interests of organized labor whenever he got a chance. That he now escapes is due entirely to the fact that he is President Roosevelt's son-in-law.

Mob Cheated of Its Prey

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 22.—A mob was formed at Mapleton to lynch Claude Fisher, who is said to have confessed to a criminal assault on Miss Minnie Baker. Officers escaped with the prisoner to Ida Grove, where he was placed in jail. The mob dispersed. Miss Baker was found unconscious in a thicket. She is still in a precarious condition.

Boys In Tragedy Due to Drink

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Edward Betanski, 18 years old, was shot and instantly killed last night in the basement of his home by Stanley Loscrynski, 15 years old. The boys, together with several companions, had been drinking. Loscrynski declared the shooting was accidental.

Transport Bug Raised

Sebastopol, Oct. 22.—The transport Bug was raised yesterday. The Bug, with over 500 pyroxylin mines and a great quantity of ammunition on board, was sunk here in 1905, during the mutiny, for fear that she would fall into the hands of the mutineers.

PRIEST IS MAULED

Climax to Strife In a Church at Westfield, Mass

THREE MEN ARRESTED

Discharge of Housekeeper by Pastor of Polish Church Split His Parish Into Factions--Big Crowd In the Final Scuffle

Westfield, Mass., Oct. 22.—Trouble that has been brewing in the Polish Catholic parish of the Church of the Holy Trinity in this town reached a climax last night, when Rev. T. L. Przybylski, the pastor of the church, was severely beaten by a number of his opponents. The police rescued the priest before he had been injured seriously. His head had been cut in many places and he had received injuries to his hands and one ankle.

Following the assault warrants were issued for the arrest of seven of the alleged assailants and three men have been taken into custody. The men under arrest are Thomas Kateurkiewicz, president of the literary society connected with the parish; Michael Kuezynski, who has been in town less than three months and who is said to have been at one time a member of the police force of St. Petersburg, and Anthony Kuczynski, a relative of Michael.

Last July Fr. Przybylski discharged Walerya Dabrowska, a woman who served as his housekeeper. A short time ago the priest had his former housekeeper arrested for attempted extortion. She was bound over for the December term of the grand jury. A week later the Dabrowska woman caused the arrest of the priest on a charge of assault and battery.

The case was heard in the local district court and decision was reserved. As a result of the trouble between the priest and his former housekeeper, the parish was divided into two factions.

A meeting of the literary society of the parish was to have been held last night in a hall underneath the church. Kateurkiewicz, president of the literary society, belongs to the faction which is opposed to the priest and had been ordered by the priest to keep away from the church premises. Last night Fr. Przybylski went to the church and found Kateurkiewicz there. He ordered him away, but the man refused to go.

It is alleged that the priest had a revolver in one hand and a club in the other and endeavored to drive the man from the premises. A scuffle followed, during which nearly everybody in the church participated. The priest was disarmed and badly beaten.

The affair caused so much noise and disorder that the police were sent to the church and rescued the priest. The issuance of the seven warrants and the arrest of three of the alleged assailants then followed.

Insane Asylum Abuses In Cuba

Havana, Oct. 22.—Governor Magoon visited the national insane asylum and discovered a deplorable state of affairs there. Sixteen hundred and sixty persons of both sexes are crowded into filthy and dilapitated buildings with a capacity for 400 persons. They are sleeping on broken cots, relics of the last American occupation. Congress made an appropriation to enlarge the asylum, but the money was never expended. Magoon will take instant steps to remedy the abuses.

Husband Tried to Burn Wife Alive

Pittsburg, Oct. 22.—Screaming with pain and terror, with her clothing ablaze, Mrs. John Doran rushed from her house into the street in Wilkinsburg and after a policeman had extinguished the flames she was taken to a hospital in a critical condition, where she charged her husband with deliberately attempting to burn her alive. Doran is under arrest. According to Mrs. Doran, her husband had been drinking. Her statements are substantiated by a 13-year-old daughter.

Talk of Poisoning Raschid

Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 22.—The body of George Raschid, the Syrian leper, was cremated at Pickens. The shanty in which he had been staying was set on fire and the body was consumed with it. Many people at Pickens say the leper was given poison in his food. Pickens citizens opposed the presence of the man with the loathsome disease.

A Courageous Campaigner

New Orleans, Oct. 22.—Charles Scott today begun a 500-mile horseback ride through Mississippi in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor. He will ride from the Tennessee to the Gulf of Mexico, giving special attention to towns which are not reached by rail. Scott has five opponents for the nomination.

Hunter Accidentally Killed

Danvers, Mass., Oct. 22.—George E. Killam of Boxford, aged 47, who was accidentally shot by a Mr. Brewster of Boston, died from his wounds in the Salem hospital. The two men were hunting in Boxford woods when Brewster's gun accidentally discharged and Killam received nearly all the shot in the side.

MANY PERISHED

Houseboat Occupants Caught In Brunt of Great Storm

WASHED INTO THE SEA

Many Crushed to Death When Boat Went to Pieces--Forty-Nine Men Rescued From Perilous Position by a Steamer

Key West, Fla., Oct. 22.—Survivors from one of the houseboats of the Florida East Coast railway extension along the keys tell a harrowing tale of death and destruction caused by the storm of Thursday.

W. R. Dusenbury, civil engineer in charge of the work on Long Key, who miraculously escaped death, arrived here on the steamer Jennie, with other survivors. He says houseboat No. 4, on which were 150 men, was struck by the storm at 5 o'clock Thursday morning and was driven out into the gulf through Hawks channel. At 6 o'clock the houseboat began to break up, and, as the great waves hit her, men, singly and in bunches of two and three, were washed into the sea and drowned. Some went below decks for protection, but when the top of the boat was carried away the waves rushed in and the boat soon went to pieces, 30 or 40 of the men being crushed to death in the collapse, the others grabbing timbers.

Dusenbury was in the hold, but succeeded in getting a log and floated until Friday night. On one piece of timber 16 men were clinging and nine were hanging to another. The sides of the houseboat were crowded with men. It turned over three times, each time reducing the number.

Steamer Jennie sighted the wreckage and succeeded in rescuing the 49 men who were brought here. Three other steamers with searchlights were picking up dead and live men when the Jennie left the scene.

There was another houseboat with 150 men on board at Long Key which Dusenbury thinks was also swept to sea. There were in all 10 boats at Long Key, mortar mixers, dredges and other boats engaged in the work.

The survivors were furnished food and clothing from the East Coast railway commissary here and were given medical attention. The extension work of the railway along the keys was not damaged.

Salvadorian Towns Destroyed

San Salvador, Oct. 22.—Telegraphic communication with interior points has been restored and news of the disaster wrought by the terrific storm which has swept over the country is being received. Over 100 persons have been drowned in Coatepeque. A vast quantity of sulphur water was thrown out of the Shulo volcano and inundated the town of Panchianalco, killing most of the inhabitants.

From other points also reports of terrible devastation are coming in. Many towns are reported to have been swept away by the floods. The schooner Azelene has been lost. Everybody on board was drowned. The floods have disinterred a number of corpses from cemeteries and are carrying them down the streams. It is reported that the railroads in Honduras have suffered serious damages.

A subscription list to aid the victims has been opened. It is headed by President Escalon with a generous donation.

Houseboat Went to Pieces

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 22.—Steamer Alton, Captain Bell, arrived here with 24 survivors of houseboat No. 4, which was engaged in building the extension of the Florida East Coast railroad to Key West. The rescued men were bruised in their efforts to keep their hold upon the wreckage, to which they had clung after the houseboat went to pieces. There were 137 men on the houseboat at the time. It is believed that at least 20 lost their lives. The houseboat broke up into rafts and to these the survivors clung.

Steamer Ashore Off Cape Henry

Norfolk, Oct. 22.—The steamer George Farwell, timber-laden, from Jacksonville, Fla., for New Haven, is ashore off Cape Henry and will probably be a total loss. All on board were saved. Captain Chisholm and his crew of 15 men were landed from the wrecked steamer by the life saving crews from the Cape Henry and Virginia Beach stations. The steamer, laden with 575,000 feet of cypress timber, went ashore in a gale Saturday night.

Were Carried Out to Sea

St. Augustine, Fla., Oct. 22.—A wireless message from the Standard Oil steamer Lucas, 200 miles at sea, announces that she picked up at sea seven men, all of whom were employes of the Florida Fish and Produce company. Their boat broke loose and they were carried out to sea, where the Lucas rescued them after a thrilling experience.

Serious Damage by Wind

Salt Lake, Oct. 22.—This region has been swept by a wind storm of unparalleled severity. In addition to three serious accidents to persons, property over a wide area has been devastated. Fire, fanned by the wind, obliterated the new $100,000 plant of the Utah Packing company. Ruined buildings, fallen chimneys, broken windows, loosened signs and toppled trees are common marks of the storm, and aggregate a loss of $190,000.

SUPPOSED FEMALE THIEF

Creates Terror Among the Students In Smith College

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 22.—The girls' college here is still in nervous excitement at the yet unaccounted for series of petty burglaries that have been reported now and anon since the opening of the fall term at Smith, and which are almost identical in character to those which stirred student and faculty bodies last year, at the time when a young woman was arrested and charged with the thefts.

As this girl is not at the present time in Northampton, it is very evident that the mysterious thief is of different identity, and this fact only adds to the mystery and fear which pervades the college campus and the buildings which many of the girls use as dormitories.

In one dormitory alone $100 worth of jewelry, bric-a-brac and student room fittings were stolen last week, while from other housing places of the girls come similar reports.

The Northampton police, who are on the lookout for the guilty person or persons, have been unable to assist the college faculty.

Switch Not Properly Set

Waterbury, Vt., Oct. 22.—An express train on the Central Vermont railroad was wrecked at North Duxbury station, the engine, baggage car and mail car being overturned by running into an open switch. The passengers escaped without injury and the engineer and fireman, who jumped just before the locomotive tipped over, were hurt only slightly. A section hand is said to have admitted that he had forgotten to set the switch properly for the express.

Brought From the Far West

Bellows Falls, Vt., Oct. 22.—E. A. Norwood of Redlands, Cal., formerly of Bellows Falls, who returned here with Sheriff Thompson to face a charge of embezzlement, was released on bail of $1000 after a brief hearing at Brattleboro. Norwood turned over the sum of $13,500 to the authorities to cover the amount of his alleged embezzlement, and the criminal charge against him will not be heard until next April.

Human Hand Found In Surf

Winthrop, Mass., Oct. 22.—Winthrop police officials have been unable to solve the mystery surrounding the finding of a human hand in the surf near the Crest. The hand appeared to have been torn off as though it had been gripped by a hawser, and several of the ligaments protruded from it. On account of the fact that the nails were very long and curling, it was suggested it might be that of a Chinaman.

Trolley Car Kills a Lawyer

Middleboro, Mass., Oct. 22.—John C. Sullivan, aged 63, for many years registrar of probate and insolvency of Plymouth county, was struck by a trolley car last evening and killed. Sullivan was standing so close to the track when waiting for a car that the hande on the front platform struck him on the head, fracturing the skull. Sullivan had practiced law in this town for 40 years.

Car Workers' Strike Spreads

Boston, Oct. 22.—The strike of car workers which began in the Allston repair shops of the New York Central railroad as a protest against the introduction of a piecework system has extended and the 200 men in Springfield and the 800 men employed in the West Albany shops struck this morning. This action was the result of an unsuccessful attempt to settle the matter.

Robbers Travel In Automobile

Wellesley, Mass., Oct. 22.—Jewelry valued at $1000 was stolen from the house of Arthur Hunnewell by two men who were seen to make their escape in an automobile. The robbers entered the house through a second-story window. The servants saw them as they ran down the lawn and jumped into their machine. The robbery was discovered immediately after.

To Investigate Woman's Death

Lebanon, Conn., Oct. 22.—The finding of the body of Mrs. Joseph Trzeinski, aged 41, in a wagon by the roadside near here, led to the arrest of her husband and a boarder known as "Mike." It is thought the men may know something about her death. The body shows no marks of violence. An autopsy will be performed.

Recklessly Handled Revolver

Middletown, Conn., Oct. 22.—Louis Shapiro, 15 years old, shot Michael London, aged 12, and is now held pending the outcome of London's injuries. The latter, it is thought, will die. The shooting is said to have been accidental and due to the reckless handling of a revolver in the hands of the Shapiro boy.

Followed Husband's Example

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Abijah J. Wilcox of Westport, aged 75, committed suicide by taking gas while visiting friends in this city. She had been despondent ever since the death of her husband, who took his own life by shooting nearly a year ago.

Two Drowned From Canoe

Lincoln, Me., Oct. 22.—Albert Haskell, aged 18, and Walter Yelland were tipped out of a canoe and drowned in Lake Mattanawcook. Yelland was 22 years old and leaves a wife and infant child. Haskell was unmarried. Both men resided in Lincoln.

Fever Patient Kills Himself

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 22.—Warner Hudson, 19 years old, committed suicide by shooting in the right temple. Hudson was taken a few days ago with typhoid fever and it is believed that he became despondent over the probable outcome of the disease.

Past, Present and Future Paint

The best "past" paint is the paint which has worn down evenly, leaving the surface ready for repainting without the need of expensive scraping and "burning-off."

The best "present" paint is the paint which is applied with least labor, covers the most surface per gallon, and looks the best when on.

The best "future" paint is the paint which lasts without cracking or peeling, affording perfect protection for the greatest number of years.

Viewed in any of these ways,

Salem Pure White Lead

(Made by the Old Dutch Process)

mixed with Pure Linseed Oil is best. Good painters all say so.

BRIDGE COLLAPSED

Experts Will See Whether Earthquake or Overweight Caused It

Boston, Oct. 22.—With premonitory quivers as if shaken by an earthquake, accompanied by roars deep and muffled, which intensified with a reverberating crash which startled lower East Cambridge, more than 150 feet of Craigie's bridge collapsed and tumbled into the Charles river at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, carrying with it a great quantity of heavy and valuable timbers and huge granite blocks piled there by the contractors of the Charles river dam. The ends of the bridge had been partially razed, leaving the middle sections standing.

The engineers today will determine if a slipping of the river bed, due to the chain of disturbances of the earth's crust which caused the bridge accident at Portland on Saturday, or if overweight caused the bridge to topple.

While the earthquake theory is scouted by the engineers, still they wish to be certain before proceeding with dam foundations.

The crash caused great excitement and people swarmed to the scene, attracted by the rumor that an earthquake had destroyed the new West Boston bridge.

Old Messages Turn Up

Buffalo, Oct. 22.—Two buoy messages sent adrift near Franz Josef Land by the Baldwin-Zeigler Polar expedition in 1901 have been found and forwarded to E. B. Baldwin, the founder of the expedition, who is now in this city. The messages were picked up on July 10, 1906, on Moffen island by Captain Strenerson of the Arctic whaler Gottfried and forwarded to the state department, from whence they were mailed to Baldwin. The messages were an appeal for a supply of coal, the lack of which forced the expedition to turn back.

Preparing to Lift the Lutin

Bizerta, Tunis, Oct. 22.—The divers working on the French submarine boat Lutin, which went down off this port Oct. 16 with 14 men and two officers on board, have succeeded in digging a tunnel under her stern, through which a hawser was passed. All efforts to remove the bodies from the Lutin have proved vain. Through the window of the hatch divers have seen two corpses with arms interlocked. This position of these bodies is such as to make it impossible to open the manhole.

Rain Advances Hunting Season

Lancaster, N. H., Oct. 22.—Heavy rain in this vicinity is regarded by hunters with much satisfaction. Hitherto the woods have been so dry that it was very difficult to stalk deer, as the rustle of the leaves gave the game quick warning of the hunter's approach. The rain, besides soaking the fallen leaves and deadening the sound of footsteps, has removed much of the dying foliage from the trees so that hunters may see the game more easily.

Alaska as a Mineral Producer

Washington, Oct. 22.—The story of the development of the mining industry in Alaska during the past decade is attested roughly by the increase in the value of its annual output from $2,400,000 in 1895 to over $15,000,000 in 1905. The gold production of 1905, according to reports of the geological survey, increased probably 60 percent over 1904.

South Dakota Is Snowbound

Aberdeen, S. D., Oct. 22.—What is regarded as the worst snowstorm that has occurred so early in the season since the settlement of northern South Dakota raged Saturday and part of yesterday. Fourteen inches of snow has already fallen. Railroad traffic is blocked, and telephone and telegraph wires are down.

Clemenceau to Build Cabinet

Paris, Oct. 22.—M. Clemenceau, minister of the interior, has been entrusted with the task of forming a new ministry. Clemenceau declares he has not yet offered any portfolio. It will take him four days to choose his ministers and another four or five days for the new ministry to agree on a program.

Trolley Lines For Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Cable cars have ceased to operate in Chicago, electric trolley cars taking the places of the now antiquated cars drawn by underground steel ropes. For several years Chicagoans have been looking forward to the abolition of the cable lines, a hope that was fulfilled yesterday.

Batch of Marines to Leave Cuba

Havana, Oct. 22.—The exodus of the American marines in Cuba begins today. Seven hundred marines will sail today or tomorrow on the cruisers Minneapolis, Newark and Denver. Six hundred will remain at Camp Columbia, while 1200 are still scattered throughout the island.

Mysterious Tragedy at Washington

Washington, Oct. 22.—William McKim Miles, 27 years old, died here after being stabbed under mysterious circumstances at his home in the southwest section of the city. R. L. Groff was arrested later in connection with the case.

Government Officer Arrested

Mexico City, Oct. 22.—Francisco Palafox, general treasurer of federal telegraphs, has been arrested, and sent to prison on a charge of appropriating $30,000 belonging to the head office of the general telegraph department.

The attendance thus far at the Boston Food fair, now being held at Mechanics building, Boston, has exceeded that of any previous Food fair.

John Philip Sousa and his band are giving concerts each afternoon and evening. A very remarkable program has been prepared, one feature of which is that Miss Ada Chambers, soprano soloist of the Sousa band, is to sing at each and every concert during the present week.

The number of samples of food products given away this year is vastly in excess of any previous Food fair. Not only is the fair a much greater event this year than heretofore, but the number of excursions is vastly more numerous.

—Lieut. Gov. Draper says: "For fifteen years I have been an employer of labor and my men have been happy and contented and have had all the independence they want. I think I have done more for labor than he (Jerry Brown) standing on street corners. I say that when he has tried to draw the American Federation of Labor into party politics he has done more to harm the causse of labor than I could ever do."

PRACTICAL PICTURES.

Odd Parlor Ornaments and a Very Substantial Dinner.

There is a practical minded millionaire who has invented a substitute for valuable pictures which it is hoped will not commend itself to others. He has had a large number of bank notes framed, and these are hung upon the wall where the pictures should be.

In the drawing room is one frame that contains a bank note for £100,000, and he says: "There is the money in case I find a picture which is sufficiently valuable to pay that price for it. Meanwhile the note tells its own tale and saves me from explaining to my visitors that 'this picture cost so much,' as most other rich men do.

"The chief pleasure of these collectors appears to arise not from the beauty of the work, but from the cost of it; then why not have checks of bank notes for a large sum hung on the walls, as I do? Besides, I find that it is much more interesting to my visitors, for most of them look long and carefully at the bank notes who would but glance at the work of art."

This eccentric man gave a dinner on the same principle. In the soup plates there was no soup, but sovereigns; for fish were served five-pound notes, for game checks and for sweets shares in a thriving company, and there was not a guest who did not enjoy this entertainment more than any he or she had ever before been present at.—London Truth.

Dean Swift on Spelling.

Dean Swift roundly denounced the poets of his day who had introduced the "barbarous custom of abbreviating words to fit them to the measure of their verses." Swift instances "drudg'd" and "disturb'd" as mortal offenses. The custom so introduced had begun to dominate prose. Another cause—borrowed, Swift suggested, from the clipping process—which he held had contributed to the maiming of the language, "is a foolish opinion advanced of late years that we ought to spell exactly as we speak; which, besides the obvious inconvenience of utterly destroying our etymology, would be a thing we should never see the end of."

Risks In Railway Journeys.

The idea that the man who goes on a railway journey takes his life in his hand and is rather more likely than not to meet with an untimely death at the first curve the train negotiates is scarcely borne out by the fact that the chances against any one passenger meeting his death on the railway are 36,000,000 to 1. This immunity from disaster reflects considerable credit upon the companies, but still more upon engine drivers and signalmen, whose skill and care are the main factors in the safety of the passenger.—London Court Journal.

—Bishop John J. O'Connor has sent an order to all the Roman Catholic pastors in the diocese of Newark, N. J., warning them that the hymn "Nearer My God to Thee" must not be sung hereafter in any Catholic church in the diocese, and the hymn "Lead, Kindly Light," may only be sung in a church after the service is over, provided the pastor has given his permission. The latter hymn was written by Cardinal Newman before his conversion to Catholicism. Bishop O'Connor cites a rigid rule of the church, that nothing may be sung except a part of the liturgical service and that the hymns mentioned do not come under that head.—Boston Journal.

A DAINTY BUREAU SET.

Pincushion, Bureau Scarf, Laundry Bag and Hair Receiver.

A set consisting of bureau scarf, pincushion, hair receiver, work and laundry bags is a mighty nice present. The scarf, made to fit the bureau, is of cream scrim and finished with a one inch hem or hemstitching, depending upon the skill of the sewer. If hemmed, cover the stitches with an inch wide ribbon, then inside of this row run three rows of ribbon in graduated widths. If hemstitched, the sewing should not be concealed, of course, the widest ribbon being sewn on inside. The pincushion is oblong and will be bought ready for covering. This will be made exactly like the bureau scarf and will be held down at the four corners with small rosettes of ribbon. The hair receiver is just three long diamonds cut from cardboard, with three sections of scrim trimmed with ribbon to cover the outside and a colored material the same size for lining. One diamond larger than the other two forms the back, the smaller ones being sewn together and then to the background. Tiny bows adorn all the corners, and the receiver hangs by three ribbons. The workbag is of the old fashioned flat bit of cardboard order, covered on both sides, five square bags made of the scrim and trimmed with four rows of ribbon forming the sides. These are lined and then gathered up with draw strings of ribbon. They are now ready for sewing to the flat cardboard round.

The bag for small soiled articles has a similar piece of cardboard for its foundation, with three sections of scrim, each trimmed with the ribbon sewn together, then joined to the bottom of the bag. Small brass rings sewn on the inside for ribbons to pass through are more convenient than the draw strings, and one knot of ribbon on each seam just at the mouth of the bag where the sections join will be a pretty finish. The lining will of course correspond with the color of the ribbon chosen. Sateen, fine percaline, silkoline and silk will all answer.

DAINTY TRIFLES.

Christmas Gifts That Will Please an Elderly Person.

A new version of the old time reticule to wear at the side is a mighty nice little present for an elderly woman. Two widths of ribbon are used. Five-eighths of a yard of wide ribbon makes the foundation and two yards of one and a half inch ribbon cut up into the fringe like tabs that hang from it. Cut the narrow ribbon into sixteen pieces, an eighth of a yard in each, sew each piece into a point at one end and finish the point with beads or silk ornaments. Sew a clasp—silver if you like—to the top, which has been carefully folded in until it is only half the width of the ribbon. It is very flattering to match the ribbon with a pet gown of the prospective owner.

RIBBON POCKET.

Needlecase.

A pretty clover leaf needlebook is a little more ambitious than a Christmas card, but simple enough to pass muster as a slight remembrance. Cover two cardboards, shaped like clover leaves, with linen after they have been embroidered in delicate shades of pink in clover blossoms. Cut from fine flannel three clover leaves of graduated sizes, buttonhole them and tie them together at the upper lobes near the stem with pink ribbon bows.

ARTIFICIAL WARMTH.

Its Use an Inherited Habit and a Sign of Luxury.

With the big, restless, energetic world outside of this tropical belt, however, the matter of keeping warm is ever present, troublesome and expensive, throughout half of each passing year.

As a matter of fact, the world of humanity dwelling in stoveland never has been in all the ages really and comfortably warm in winter. It is largely our own fault. Mankind is the only animal which employs fire in the effort to survive the cold of the winters. The hardy lower animals do not need it, however much their luxuriously enervated representatives, the dog and the cat, may enjoy it when they have a chance.

Ancient man only got himself rid of his provident coat of hair and his sufficent latent heat when he began to loaf around the family cooking stove and absorb the intoxicating comfort of artificial warmth. This faraway ancestor is responsible for the fact that the present day human being, outside of the belt aforesaid, is obliged to keep close to a thermometer registering nearly or quite 70 degrees F. from October to May, besides which he must needs wear extra clothing. This also is an inherited habit.

A traveler west once asked a half naked Indian in midwinter how he managed to stand the weather. The Indian replied: "Your face no got a coat. It no cold. Indian face all over."—National Magazine.

VIRTUE IN COPPER.

The Metal Is a Death Dealer to All Disease Germs.

"Copper is a marvelous preventive of disease. If we returned to the old copper drinking vessels of our forefathers, typhoid epidemic would disappear."

The speaker, a filtration expert, took a copper cent from his pocket.

"Examine this cent under the microscope," he said, "and you will find it altogether free from disease germs. Examine gold and silver coins, and you will find them one wriggling and contorting germ mass. Yet copper coins pass through dirtier hands than gold and silver ones. You'd think they ought to be alive with micro-organisms. But no. Copper kills germs. Diphtheria and cholera cultures smeared on a copper cent die in less than two hours.

"They have many cholera epidemics in China, but certain towns are always immune. These towns keep their drinking water in great copper vessels. Travelers have tried to buy these vessels, for they are beautiful, but the villagers will not sell them. They have a superstition that their health and welfare depend on their retention. I wish all superstitions were as true and salutary as that."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Joke Was on the Students.

When Dr. Nathan Lord was president of Dartmouth college he used to drive about in a dilapidated, old fashioned contrivance. The students became tired of seeing the concern and, though Dr. Lord knew of this, he clung to the old calash. One night a group of the young men hauled the thing out of the shed where it was kept, took it several miles down the road toward Lebanon and hid it in a spot where it was concealed by dense foliage. They were just about to depart, well satisfied with the tiresome job, when the curtain which completely enveloped the front of the calash was suddenly pushed aside and the well known face of President Lord appeared. "Now, gentlemen," he said, "you may draw me back again."

Homes Under the Ground.

In the salt district in Cheshire, England, the brine has been pumped so continuously out of the earth that the land has settled very considerably. The houses naturally sink with the earth, and in some of the streets in Northwich only the roofs are visible. The houses are inhabited, although the rooms are underground. In a great many cases additional stories have been added, so that by living in the upper rooms the residents may have some light and air. The roadways sink, too, but are kept up to the proper level by the government.

He Laid.

"Don't waste your time in clipping off the branches," said the woodman to his son, "but lay your ax at the root of the tree." And the young man went out and laid his ax at the foot of the tree, like a good and dutiful boy, and then he went fishing. Truly there is nothing so beautiful as filial obedience.—Strand Magazine.

One View of It.

"But if she makes all her own dresses I should think she'd be a good wife for you. It shows she's industrious and sensible."

"Not for me, thank you. It simply shows how poor her father must be."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Hit It.

"You can't guess what sister said about you just before you came in, Mr. Highcollar," said little Johnnie.

"I haven't an idea in the world, Johnnie."

"That's it. You guessed it the very first time."

The Difference.

Tell a women her face is her fortune and she is complimented. Hint to a man that his cheek is his most valuable asset and he is likely to get mad.—Chicago Record-Herald.

When the Bees Swarmed

[Copyright, 1906, by C. H. Sutcliffe.]

Fourteen times the paymaster and his safe and escort passed over his route and returned smiling. When they started out for the fifteenth trip "Mexican Charlie" had his plans all laid. He was a Mexican half breed, and when you have such a man look out for deviltry. He was a hanger on around the stage stations for a hundred miles up and down the line. He was a gambler, a horse thief and suspected of murder, and he had the necessary qualifications to make him a leader of other bad men. He was two months making his plans, and they were laid for the complete wipe out of the entire party. He didn't propose to leave a single man alive to identify him afterward.

When the roundup was completed the outlaw gang numbered an even twenty men, and all were armed with Winchesters and revolvers. The route was gone over and the spot finally settled on for the attack was midway between Forts Davis and Concho. There the rude mountain road wound upward for half a mile, to pitch suddenly into a ravine with walls fifty feet high and its length half a mile or more.

To collect nineteen outlaws together, hide them away for a week, hold them steady and fit out a part of the number with horses and arms was no slight undertaking, but the half breed successfully accomplished it, and that without arousing suspicion. On the first day of a certain July the outlaw band was posted in the ravine, and the major left Fort Davis at an hour to bring him to the spot at about noon. Whites and Indians were at peace and the country quiet, and the paymaster and his escort had not the slightest hint of the reception the outlaws had in store for them.

It may have been known to the mountain Indians that the caves and crevices in the walls of the ravine were inhabited by wild bees, but it certainly was not to the whites. They had bred and swarmed there for years. On this July day there was an angry buzzing high above the heads of the outlaws, but they gave it no attention. The rocks were warming up and the bees getting ready to swarm. Scouts had been sent forth to find other crevices and report, and thousands upon thousands of the hot headed insects were ready to swarm out and follow their leaders to new homes.

Stretched on the shelves or posted behind bowlders, the outlaws were waiting for their prey. They got the signal that the escort was coming across the flat; then that it was tolling up the long hill; then, after a moment's wait, that it was about to enter the ravine. The half breed had told his men over and over to fire to kill, to wipe out every soldier at the first volley, but he told them again. There were twenty bullets for eleven men and every outlaw having a rest for his rifle and a target not twenty feet away.

Of a sudden one of the bee scouts settled down on the bare hand of one of the outlaws. He sought to flick it off, and the insect stung him and flew away. It would seem as if it flew up to the others and warned them of the trespassers and incited them to battle. Within a minute a perfect cloud of them descended. They were angry and excited and looking for a fight. The outlaws could make no defense against such an enemy. In thirty seconds they were almost literally covered and being knifed in a score of places, and just as the two troopers at the head of the escort reached the head of the ravine the ambushers fled down it with shouts and yells of pain and terror.

Their horses were half a mile below. The bees followed the men to the horses and attacked the latter, and in a few seconds there was a wild stampede. Some of the animals came up the ravine, and some went down, and the shouts of the outlaws were echoed and re-echoed by the shrill neighs of the half maddened horses.

The paymaster could not tell what had taken place, except that the wild bees had come out. He was forced to order a retreat, and there was no pause until the outfit had dropped back a full mile. Then scouts were sent forward and after a time made a pretty good guess as to what was up. The bees seemed to be out in millions. The roar of their wings as they buzzed up and down was like a strong wind in the treetops, and as swarm met swarm they fought among themselves until the rocky trail was covered with their bodies.

Not until near sundown did the insects seek their new homes and quiet down and allow the escort a chance to pass unscathed. At the lower end of the ravine were two dead men—outlaws who had been stung to death. Farther down were three men who were blind, helpless and raving. Rifles, belts and camp outfit had been thrown away, and not one of the desperadoes had got away on a horse. Of the horses the escort captured nine. The others had gone tearing over the mountains in mad flight. Of the fifteen men who got away nothing was heard again. All were terribly stung.

The particulars of the plot were learned from the three captured alive, and they got a dose of military law to keep them out of mischief for a long time after. Each one asserted that he would rather have fought three Indians single handed than have encountered the bees. The half breed had planned well, but he had not taken the wild bees into consideration.

Turbine Engines

The trial trips of the steamship Creole, recently built for the Southern Pacific Steamship Company at the Fore River works will be watched with unusual interest not only by steamship owners but by government officials as well. The reason is that her propelling power is turbine engines.

This form of propulsion has been the cause of much study. It forms stupendous engineering problems in designing propelling machinery for the largest vessels of the world.

Many advantages are claimed for engines of this type over the piston form of engines, and if the trial trips of the Creole on this side of the Atlantic and the vessels on the other side bear out the claim it means a revolution in ship building.

There was launched in England last month a gigantic steamship for the Cunard line. She will be equipped with turbine engine and it is claimed for her that she will win the Atlantic record.

—Beginning at sunrise tomorrow morning the new regime against spitting on the sidewalks, which is planned to make unblemished Boston spitless as well as spotless under the new laws being stringently enforced by Commissioner O'Meara, will commence and the public is assured of prompt arrest when the first offender is witnessed by one of Boston's vigilant police.

SCHOOL CENSUS

Increase of 616 Children Ward One Loses 35

Charles H. Johnson has just completed the school census of the city upon which he has been at work for several weeks. He reports that there are in the city 6,902 children between the ages of 5 and 15 years. This is an increase of 616 over the census of last year.

Ward One the centre ward is the only ward that does not show a gain over last year. This ward shows a loss of 35. The largest increase is in Ward Three, the South Quincy ward, the net gain here being 314 increasing the total of the ward from 1,483 to 1,734.

Ward Four made a net increase of 150; Ward Two, 101; Ward Five 48 and Ward Six 38. Ward Three leads the several wards in the total number of children of school age having 1734. Ward Four is a good second with 1633; Ward Two, 954; Ward Six 884; Ward One 880 and Ward Five 817.

Mr. Johnson's figures by wards and ages are as follows:

Ages	Ward 1	Ward 2	Ward 3	Ward 4	Ward 5	Ward 6
5	67	95	141	154	58	68
6	108	90	207	185	81	109
7	85	97	181	153	90	93
8	81	93	200	164	89	92
9	87	98	186	165	80	82
10	95	100	177	173	86	105
11	80	87	165	152	78	90
12	93	101	166	149	76	88
13	92	88	139	149	92	78
14	92	96	172	189	87	79
	880	954	1734	1633	817	884

The greatest number of school children are the six year olds, there being 780 of that age. There is a decrease in the five year column this year's figures being 583 against 673 last year. There are less number of children of this age than any other year.

The following table gives the number of children by ages for the years 1897, 1904, 1905 and 1906.

	Year 1897	Year 1904	Year 1905	Year 1906

Age 8,	536	610	645	722
Age 9,	510	543	617	698

By Sculptor Brooks.

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston does not believe in taking chances in having fame perpetuated by future generations. His motto is: "If you don't make yourself famous no one else will."

Acting on this theory the mayor is sitting now as often as his arduous duties will permit to Sculptor Brooks of Quincy for a bas-relief plaque to be placed in the group of ex-mayors hanging on the walls of the mayor's inner office.

Death of W. R. Polson.

Word has been received of the death in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Monday of W. R. Polson, formerly of Wollaston. He leaves a widow and one daughter. His widow was Miss Abby Whitney, daughter of the late William F. Whitney of Quincy.

—With Gen. Francis H. Appleton, executive commissioner from the Bay state to Jamestown exposition, turning the first sod, ground was broken and the corner stone laid for the Massachusetts building at Jamestown on Monday afternoon. The ceremonies were simple and were witnessed by the Massachusetts commissioners and several officials of the exposition company.

—The will of Daniel O'Day, a partner of John D. Rockefeller, who died suddenly in France several weeks ago, was filed for probate on Monday. Mr. O'Day's entire estate is left to his widow and twelve children. The value of the estate is not named. Under the terms of the will Mrs. O'Day will receive the income of $325,000 during her life, unless she should remarry.

—John C. Sullivan of Middleboro, registrar of probate for Plymouth county was instantly killed on Sunday evening in attempting to board an electric car at North Middleboro. He miscalculated the distance to the rail and was hit by a handle on the side of the car fracturing his skull. Mr. Sullivan was a well known and popular attorney and for 23 years held the position of registrar. He was prominent in town affairs, the Business Men's club, G. A. R., the national, savings and co-operative banks and the Congregational church.

Young Man Missing

The police have been requested to try and locate the present whereabouts of Oscar Larson who has been missing from Quincy since Aug. 24.

Lawson who is a stone cutter, lived with Claes Samuelson at 94 Cranch street. On the above date he left home as usual in the morning and has not been seen since.

It is not thought that his disappearance was premeditated as he left all his effects behind.

He is 24 years of age of light complexion and about six feet tall. He has two sisters who reside in Woburn. It was at first thought that he might have gone to Sweden but one of his sisters who has just returned from the old country says that he is not there.

His friends can give no possible reason for his absence and they now fear that something serious must have happened to him.

Here and There About the City

Monday, Oct. 22, the Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters met with Mrs. Paul J. Baker, 252 Safford street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Prescott are in New York for a few days making the trip both ways via the Berkshire Hills, Albany, and the Hudson river.

Monday night was the first night that nomination papers for the Republican municipal caucuses were ready for delivery at the headquarters in the Adams building. Quite a few were taken out.

B. J. Weeks of Tacoma was in town on Monday and spent the evening at the rooms of the Granite City club. When in Quincy Mr. Weeks was a member of the club and he received a warm welcome from the club members on Monday evening.

The subject for the Unity club, which meets Friday night, Oct. 26, is "Territorial Growth," and is divided into several sub-heads: Treaty of 1783 and acquisitions of territory to 1895; Texas and the Mexican Cessions; Acquisitions since 1850. The meeting will be in charge of Mr. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lingley of East Orange, N. J., who spent last week with Mrs. John G. Thomas of Standish avenue, have left for York, Maine, where they will visit Mrs. Lingley's mother for a week before returning to their home in New Jersey.

—The Berlin police have issued an order forbiddiug public houses to sell "cold drinks" below a certain temperature. They have concluded that such drinks are bad for one's indigestion.

—Hundred of horses and thousands of cattle in the Hawaiian island never take a drink of water. They live in the upper altitudes of the mountain, where the cattle run wild from the time they are born until they are sent to the slaughter house. Except possibly for two or three months in the rainy season there are no streams or pools of water in any part where the cattle roam, but every there grows a recumbent, jointed grass known by the native name of maninia. This is both food and drink.

—The attempt of Gerry Brown, the candidate for lieutenant governor on the ticket with Moran, to array the wage-earners against Lieut.-Gov. Draper will fail, as it ought to fail, because the charges are not true. Nothing could be wider from the truth than the resolution recently passed by a labor union, which declared that "the conditions prevailing at the Draper works in Hopedale are a blot upon civilization and good citizenship." Not long since the representatives of the newspapers of the state visited Hopedale and it was the universal verdict that conditions in Hopedale for the employees of the Drapers, were far superior to those enjoyed by men in the same line of work in any other city or town in the commonwealth.—Lynn Item.

"HEARSTISM" DENOUNCED

Moran Asks Governor Where He Stands on Tariff Question--Says He Is Not Concerned In the New York Election

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 23.—Governor Guild and Lieutenant Governor Draper addressed a Republican rally here last night. The governor devoted a large portion of his address to Hearst. Draper defended his position on the tariff and told of the political record of E. G. Brown, his opponent. Guild spoke in part as follows:

"My antagonist is daily advertised by himself and by the Hearst organization as the friend of labor. What has the district attorney ever done to increase the industries of Massachusetts? What has he ever done to improve the conditions of labor in Massachusetts?

"The past year has been unusually prolific of labor legislation. As it happens it has been possible for me to sign every labor measure that has reached me.

"On Oct. 15 Moran over his signature said: 'It has been shown to me that by making confidential statements as to my public policies when elected, from $50,000 to $100,000 would be raised by these various interests for this campaign.' He intimates that he spurned this offer and adds, 'In consequence I find myself opposed by this powerful combination of interests.'

"Now I want Mr. Moran to explain why he is shielding the men who tried to bribe him. Let us have the names of every man who has tried to secure inaction by bribery.

"Tonight Mr. Hearst's foremost advocate in Massachusetts is advocating in Faneuil hall my defeat and my antagonist's election. The Hearst organization, splendidly organized and amply supplied with money, is working for the same end in order to make Massachusetts Democracy Hearstism, in order to make Massachusetts, through a Hearst victory now, a Hearst state in 1908.

"Every vile calumny, every distortion and falsification of public record that can be invented is being presented daily in Mr. Moran's personal organ to poison the minds of the voters of this commonwealth.

"I ask you to judge by the truth. Act so that with no uncertain voice Massachusetts may declare that never shall the United States commit the crowning infamy of putting William R. Hearst in the chair of the murdered McKinley."

GUILD IS QUESTIONED

Moran Wants to Know It Attitude on Tariff Is Changed

Taunton, Mass., Oct. 23.—John B. Moran opened his campaign in southeastern Massachusetts last night in this city. Moran appeared pale and emaciated when he entered the hall and for the first few minutes of his address leaned heavily on a table. Later the cheers of the crowd seemed to inspire him and he strode up and down the platform and emphasized his remarks with spirited gestures.

The main portion of his speech followed closely that which he made a week ago at Boston, but there was considerable new matter, especially in relation to Governor Guild.

"I care not," he said, "whether it suits all Democrats or Republicans, but if I am elected governor this year and next year I will stand side by side with other leading Democrats of the country. I am not concerned in the New York election. Hearstism, Bryanism and Rooseveltism does not interest me, despite the assertions of my opponent. The simple question is whether Guild or Moran shall be elected governor in Massachusetts?"

Answering Guild's question as to where he stood on the tariff, Moran said that he wrote all the tariff planks in the Democratic platform. "But where does Guild stand on the tariff question?" he asked. "A year ago Guild declared in favor of tariff reform, but this year he declares that he stands on the Republican platform. I would like to ask Guild these questions:

"Do you want immediate tariff revision? Do you want reciprocity with Canada? Do you stand where you did a year ago, or where do you stand?"

In answer to the charge that he had been neglecting his duties as district attorney of Suffolk county, Mr. Moran said that he had not been given the assistance by the legislature which he needed, and what assistants he had in the office were compelled to give their attention to routine matters. He said that he had been obliged to spend the greater part of his salary in hiring persons to help him in the office.

In reply to Guild's statement that he (Guild) did not appoint Judge Dana because of his (Dana's) action on the overtime bill, Moran asked, "why was he appointed?"

Brockton People Hear Moran

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 23.—John B. Moran's managers engaged Hibernian hall for the rally here last night, but twice as many persons as could be accommodated by the 1500 seats applied for admission and it was arranged to hold a second meeting in Canton hall. This hall, which also holds 1500, was well filled. Moran was late in reaching the city from Taunton and was obliged to cut down his speeches. At each meeting he discussed the Republican platform and criticised the state administration. He appeared to be very ill.

Democratic Headquarters Seized

New York, Oct. 23.—W. J. Conners, Democratic state chairman, announced last night that Democratic headquarters at Albany had been seized by certain dissatisfied Democrats of the state, headed by ex-Mayor Osborne of Auburn. A hurried conference was called at the Hotel Breslin. P. H. McCabe, state committeemen of Albany county, stated that a party of up-state Democrats, dissatisfied with the action of the Buffalo convention, and headed by Osborne, had taken possession of the Democratic headquarters located at Albany and declared themselves the rightful possessors. They then announced, he said, that with the headquarters as a base, they intended to pursue an active anti-Hearst campaign throughout the state.

Busy Times For Candidates

New York, Oct. 23.—Political activity was renewed with energy yesterday by the gubernatorial candidates, upon whom thus far has rested the burden of the campaign. Both held informal conferences with leaders during the day and last night they appeared before large audiences. The Independence League had a meeting at Madison Square Garden, where all who could get inside heard Hearst and other candidates of the league and Democratic tickets. Hughes left for Kingston, where he spoke last night. He will be away 10 days. On this trip he will pay particular attention to towns where a considerable Democratic vote is usually cast.

Presidential Boom Launched

Boston, Oct. 23.—Timothy W. Coakley of this city spoke for nearly two hours in Faneuil hall last night in support of John B. Moran for governor, and also advocated his candidacy for president in 1908 and predicted that he would defeat Hearst for the Democratic national nomination. Coakley, although declaring himself a Roosevelt Republican, criticised the president for what he called interference in the Massachusetts campaign.

Woodruff Warns Republicans

New York, Oct. 23.—Chairman Woodruff of the state Republican committee says: "The tone of the Republican press is too confident. We are too sure of winning. This is no time for confidence. It is absolutely necessary that the Republican party of the state get a hustle on. A great many reports that I get from up-state are decidedly unfavorable."

Bryan Stumping Hoosier State

Indianapolis, Oct. 23.—W. J. Bryan wound up the first day of his Indiana tour by speaking before a large crowd at Evansville last night. He will visit a dozen cities in central Indiana. Yesterday's tour was through the southern part of the state.

Boynton Pleads Guilty

New York, Oct. 23.—George Boynton pleaded guilty to the charge of being a party to a plan for counterfeiting silver coins of Venezuela for the purpose of financing a revolution in that country. He was sentenced to six months in the penitentiary. L. M. Thompson and T. B. Wilcox, who were associated with Boynton, interposed pleas of guilty of having in their possession dies for the duplication of the coins of a foreign country and were fined $250 and $100 respectively.

Negroes Must Work or Get Out

Jonesville, Ga., Oct. 23.—A proclamation was posted last night by white citizens warning every idle, indolent negro in the community that unless they go to work at once or leave the community, drastic measures will be taken. The proclamation is the outgrowth of threats made against a farmer by several negroes, one of whom was captured and severely whipped.

Work Begun on Great Sewer System

Baltimore, Oct. 23.—In the presence of a distinguished company, Mayor Timanus struck several blows with a gilded pick and the actual work on Baltimore's great sewerage system was begun. A bond issue of $10,000,000 has been provided to defray the expenses of the work, which will, seven years hence, give the city an elaborate system of sewerage.

Printer Perhaps Murdered

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 23.—Upon investigation, the authorities here have come to the conclusion that the man whose body, with the skull crushed, was found on Friday night at Cranford Junction was murdered. It is believed the man's name was George M. Ford, that his home was in Providence, and that he was a printer.

Passed Upon Canal Contract

Washington, Oct. 23.—A final review of the form of contract for the construction of the Panama canal was completed at a conference between the president, Secretaries Root and Taft and Messrs. Shonts and Rogers of the canal commission. It will be some time before the contract is given out.

Airship L'Orient Traveled 8000 Feet Skyward

Landed 57 Miles From Point of Departure--Centaur Descended After Covering 30 Miles--Followed by Automobiles

Pittsfield, Mass., Oct. 23.—Two balloons, Centaur and L'Orient, which remained here after the race between balloons and automobiles for the Hawley cup had been declared off last Saturday, participated in an endurance contest yesterday which carried them many miles over northwestern Massachusetts and southern Vermont. L'Orient outsailed the Centaur by about three hours, finally landing in the little mountainous town of Jamaica, in Windham county, 57 miles from the start, the Centaur coming down in Bennington, 30 miles from this city.

The two airships rose from here at 10:20 o'clock in the forenoon without accident. The Centaur carried Charles T. Walsh, pilot, and Major Reber and Captain Chandler of the signal corps, U. S. A. L'Orient was piloted by Leo Stevens, who had as his companion Captain Hedge, president of the Aero Club of America. The two balloons were in sight of each other for three hours and after them sped three automobiles, which had entered in the Hawley cup contest last Saturday.

The Centaur was slightly behind L'Orient on crossing the Vermont border line and after getting over Bennington Pilot Walsh decided to land. The descent was successfully accomplished on the slope of Woodford mountain, three miles outside of the town of Bennington, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The occupants of the Centaur stated on landing that they considered their object accomplished and that the trip had been highly successful from a scientific standpoint.

After seeing the Centaur descend, Pilot Stevens of L'Orient decided to keep on, but it was some time before the breeze gave the balloon another start. Twenty-seven more miles of southern Vermont was flown over and half an hour before sunset L'Orient came down in Jamaica.

Mr. Stevens stated after landing that, notwithstanding the fact that L'Orient went 8000 feet into the air, the heat on getting above the clouds was so intense that overcoats, coats and vests had to be discarded. At one time the thermometer registered 106 degrees.

When the two airships started from here the weather was cloudy and the wind was blowing from the northeast. The balloons shot up above the influences of the northeaster within a few minutes and at once felt the prevailing current from the southwest in the upper atmosphere. The first 30 miles carried them a little east of north, while L'Orient was blown due northeast from Bennington.

Twenty-five minutes after the Centaur landed in Bennington an automobile driven by Floyd Knight of this city stopped by the side of the balloon car. A half an hour later an automobile owned by C. F. Bishop of Lenox arrived on the scene. Both these machines had followed the balloons in their three-hour trip, although both airships were out of sight much of the time.

Japs Talking Against Americans

London, Oct. 23.—The Tokio correspondent of The Daily Express cables that the Japanese government is endeavoring to minimize the anti-American sentiment. The ministry of the interior is discouraging mass meetings called in the big towns, and several anti-American agitators have been warned that they will be severely dealt with if they persist in their campaign.

Small Hope of Saving Steamer

Norfolk, Oct. 23.—Steamer George Farwell, which went ashore off the Virginia capes, has been driven further inshore and now lies practically full of water. The joiner work of the wrecked steamer is washing away and the chances of floating her are growing less.

Town's Second Conflagration

Bristow, Ia., Oct. 23.—Nearly all that was left of the business portion of this town was destroyed by fire. This is the second disastrous conflagration inside of a week. Belief that the fire is the work of an incendiary has caused great excitement.

The Lutin Raised Twelve Feet

Bizerta, Tunis, Oct. 23.—The French submarine boat Lutin, which went down off this port last week with two officers and 14 men on board, has been raised 12 feet off the bottom. The work of raising the boat will be continued during the calm sea.

Negroes In Railroad Wreck

New Orleans, Oct. 23.—The derailment of the "Sunset Limited" at Boutte injured 40 negroes, one of whom died. Several others are fatally hurt. The locomotive, the mail and the baggage car and the passenger coach reserved for negroes left the rails.

RECEIVER IS ASKED FOR

Money Deposited With Security Trust Company Alleged to Have Been Held For Advantage of Officers of Insurance Company

Hartford, Oct. 23.—Legal formalities necessary to attach in the sum of $1,000,000, the property of the Hartford Life Insurance company, having an office here, and the Security Trust company, both incorporated under the laws of this state, were carried out by the sheriff yesterday afternoon in the suit brought against these two companies by certain men representing about 20,000 certificate holders of the company in various parts of the country, to compel the distribution of a so-called "safety fund" of the company, which amounts to more than $1,000,000. A receiver is also asked for.

The defendants are ordered to make an accounting and to pay over to the receiver all sums received from certificate holders in connection with the "safety fund." The suit is returnable in the superior court at New Haven on Nov. 6.

The suit had been expected, but action was not begun until the certificate holders, unable, it is alleged, to get a distribution, pooled their interests and secured counsel to bring matters to a head.

The Hartford Life Insurance company, which ceased active business in 1899, was organized on the stock-holding plan in 1867, but since the former date has continued to collect premiums on outstanding certificates as if it were continuing business, it being alleged that in 1899 the outstanding risks amounted to $9,000,000.

Prior to 1880 the company invented a plan of assessment life insurance which was designated as "the safety fund plan," by which $3 was collected on each $1000 of insurance and put into a fund, the surplus of which, when the fund reached $1,000,000, was to be distributed among the certificate holders. This "safety fund" was to be deposited with the Security Trust company.

The plaintiffs in the suit just brought claim that the stockholders, having authorized the collection of the assessment for the "safety fund" since 1899, although the company had ceased to write any more insurance, have thus far failed to make a distribution of the safety fund, and that the intent is to keep that fund for their own advantage through a final wiping out of certificates due to lapses following increased and exorbitant assessments.

The company was chartered originally in 1867 and its charter later changed to meet various forms of insurance. The defendants, it is alleged, own the majority of stock. The writ describes at length the operations of the company and the character of certificates issued and gives excerpts of circulars issued from time to time to promote business, one quotation being the following:

"The safety fund is limited to $1,000,000, because, that so long as that amount of insurance remains upon the books, the premiums, based upon the standard mortality tables, are ample to meet every claim. Should the insurance (now $92,000,000) fall below $1,000,000, it is provided that the safety fund must be used at once for the payment of the face value of every policy outstanding, making the strongest form of policy ever devised."

The writ then says that after the defendant company ceased to do business in 1899 it made the claim, and continues to do so, that the safety fund does not belong to the policyholders, and it continues to assert its right and intention to continue to make a demand for mortuary dues and assessments without limit or number or amount, and also claims the right to levy and demand such dues and assessments and the charges for expenses after the amount of outstanding insurance is reduced below $1,000,000 and on the non-payment thereof the defendant continues to declare the rights of the certificate holders in the fund forfeited and to appropriate the fund to its own benefit.

Furthermore, it is alleged that the defendants, as officers of the company, have had full knowledge of the facts and have accepted benefits of fraudulent transactions, converting the money collected to the payment of dividends to stockholders and for the erection of buildings and for other purposes of benefit to the stockholders. It is also alleged that the company's officers have wrongfully concealed the true condition of the company.

FOOTBALL EXPLODED

Yale Men Thought That Player Had Shot Their Fullback

New Haven, Oct. 23.—Yale seniors formed a scrub eleven yesterday and ran up to Mt. Carmel, where they played a team of giant grangers who were new to the game.

The Yale 1907 players took up a ball which had been used by the varsity and the tussle began. After it had proceeded 15 minutes, without a score, Bowen, the Yale fullback, cut loose from the pile and faced only the Mt. Carmel eleven fullback before the goal. The Carmelite checked the son of Eli with a terrific clutch and a loud report was heard as both men dropped.

"He drew a gun on the Yale man," yelled the crowd. The Mt. Carmel fullback, seeing his victim lie motionless and the crowd making for him, jumped up and sprinted across the field and over fences till he took refuge in a swamp, where he looked back on the crowd threatening to "lynch the murderer."

The crowd turned and went to the relief of the Yale man, who had been simply stunned a moment by the hard tackle. The Yale men looked regretfully at the wreck of a football under his arm. The ball had been exploded by the fierce tackle of the Mt. Carmel fullback and burst with a report resembling that of a pistol.

The granger fullback was called from the swamp, but the game was stopped, as there was no unexploded football left in Mt. Carmel.

Cuban Revolution Exaggerated

Boston, Oct. 23.—Bishop Knight of Cuba addressed the Episcopalian club on the situation in that island at the annual dinner of the Episcopalian club here last night. Knight said that in his opinion the people of Cuba would welcome American rule. He said that the insurrection on that island had been greatly exaggerated, and that the only object of the revolutionists was obtaining the possession of $12,000,000.

Taft "Failed to Undeceive"

Boston, Oct. 23.—James H. Blount, formerly judge advocate in the Philippine islands, addressed the Anti-Imperialist league here last night. He said that Secretary Taft did not deceive the Filipinos, but, declared Blount, he failed to undeceive them and failed to grasp the fact that the people in the islands would never be content with the American administration unless independence were guaranteed.

Paymaster Settled Deficiencies

Boston, Oct. 23.—A. S. Porter, who was pay clerk for Paymaster Tiffany of the battleship Rhode Island, has been formally placed under arrest on that ship on a charge of having misappropriated funds. Tiffany and Porter were relieved about a month ago. It is alleged that Tiffany has paid the navy department nearly $10,000 to cover the deficiencies and has tendered his resignation.

Priest's Assailants Arraigned

Westfield, Mass., Oct. 23.—Five members of the Polish Catholic parish here were arraigned in court, charged with assault, one of them having the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon lodged against him. MANY SUDDEN DEATHS
From Poisonous Rheumatism.

The Disease Has Its Dangers—Should Be Taken in Time.

Rheumatism has long been regarded as a trouble which, while it might be painful, was not necessarily dangerous. Very few persons, it was thought, ever died from Rheumatism. Recent investigation among scientists has proved, however, the utter fallacy of such a belief. Three-fourths to seven-eights of the sudden deaths, heart failures, etc., are due primarily to neglected rheumatism. The Rheumatic Acid Poison is allowed to stay in the system until suddenly one day it grips the muscles of the heart and all is over.

Rheumatism is curable if the proper treatment is used. Liniments, plasters and all local applications may relieve the pain for a short time, but no one ever heard of their permanently curing a case of rheumatism. The only way to cure Rheumatism is the Uric-O way. Neutralize the Rheumatic acid and drive it from the system. That is what Uric-O does. No matter what is the kind or character of the Rheumatism, it is all caused by the same Rheumatic poison. Lumbago, Muscular or Articular Rheumatism yields at once to Uric-O. The store of E. J. Murphy is the home of Uric-O in Quincy, and he can tell you all about its wonderful virtues and the many cures it has made right here in your own city. It sells for 75c. and $1.00 a bottle. If you wish to test Uric-O before purchasing, a letter to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y., will bring you a trial bottle free of all charges.

PICKED UP ON RAFT

Survivors of Long Key Disaster Say 79 Lives Were Lost

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 23.—Steamer Colorado brought here as passengers Joseph Melson, Charles Olsen, Charles Anderson and Otto Brink, who were picked up at sea Saturday 90 miles off Key West. Melson says he saw 79 men drowned from a houseboat which was wrecked off Long key, in last week's storm.

The four men were found by the Colorado's crew standing on a raft made out of six logs and were in the water waist deep at the time. Melson said he and the other men were on a houseboat at Long key when the hurricane struck them and blew the boat to sea. It soon went to pieces and out of the 125 people on board 79 were drowned before his eyes. The other 42 have since been taken into Jacksonville, Fla.

The men suffered terrible hardships. They say that the loss of life was heavier off Long key than any other point. The men were employed by the Florida East Coast railway on their extension work through the Florida swamps from Miami to Key West.

Shot Himself Before Crowd

Boston, Oct. 23.—Dead at the relief hospital is a victim of one of the most sensational suicides that Boston has recorded in months. John Erickson, a Swede, while thousands of persons were passing to and fro through the historic common, and before anyone could prevent him, discharged a revolver, the contents frightfully mangling his fact and head. The man was rushed to the relief hospital, where he died last evening. Severe illness, followed by nervous prostration, prompted the deed, friends of the dead man say. He was 40 years old. For some time since his illness he had been acting peculiarly and had left his wife and child, who reside in Ipswich.

Proposition Appears to Be Sensible

Washington, Oct. 23.—N. F. Thompson of Chattanooga called at the White House last night and suggested to the president that the idle negroes in the south be utilized for labor on the Panama canal. "The better class of negroes in the south," he explained, "would aid the white people in securing this class of labor for that work. It is the idle negro that makes the trouble in the south and reflects on the better class of negroes. The president was impressed with the suggestion and asked me to talk with Secretary Taft and Chairman Shonts on the subject."

Real Winter In the West

Denver, Oct. 23.—Snow, wind and cold extended over nearly the entire country between the Rocky mountains and the Missouri river, causing heavy losses of livestock and of late fruit. Telegraph wires were prostrated and railroad schedules disarranged. The storm is almost unprecedented for severity at this season of the year. While the temperature on the plains has fluctuated from 20 to 30 above zero, it has been much colder at higher altitudes.

Plan to Trip King's Auto

Madrid, Oct. 23.—A report of an occurrence, believed by some to have been a planned outrage against King Alfonso, is published today. Several automobilists yesterday encountered a stout wire fixed across the high road at a point which the king would have to pass on his way back to Madrid. The wire was found shortly before the king's automobile was due to pass.

Burton Begins Jail Sentence

Ironton, Mo., Oct. 23.—Former United States Senator Burton of Kansas arrived from St. Louis last night and surrendered himself to the jailer and was assigned to a cell in the Ironton jail. Mrs. Burton accompanied her husband to the sheriff's office and then went to the cottage, where she will remain until her husband has served his six months' sentence.

Caracas a Safe Refuge

Washington, Oct. 23.—The United states can take no steps to bring about the extradition of Silviera, the Cuban banker, wanted in Havana, and now said to be in Caracas. There is no extradition treaty between Cuba and Venezuela and the United States cannot interfere in any way in the case, according to state department officials.

Car Turned Into Courtroom

Mapleton, Ia., Oct. 23.—Court was held on a Northwestern train here and Claude Fisher, accused of assaulting Miss Minnie Baker, was bound over to a grand jury in $2000 bonds and taken to jail at Onawa. The authorities feared an attempt might be made to lynch Fisher, who was barely saved from a mob.

Removing Cause of Friction

St. Johns, Oct. 23.—In consideration of the fact that the Americans have agreed not to use purse seines to catch herring, the colonial fishermen agree not to fish at night time. Night fishing has been a source of trouble through the men cutting each other's nets. The possibility of friction is thus reduced to a minimum.

MERIDEN, CONN.

DR. J. F. TRUE: I can't get along without your Elixir. I have a child seven years old that had St. Vitas Dance, and she is so thin the Doctor came every day, and last Good Friday he called in two other doctors. They said they could not do anything for her. I saw your medicine advertised. I sent off and got a bottle and never told anyone, and from the first dose she commenced to improve. She is all right now, only very thin yet. She has a fine appetite. Respectfully, MRS. ELIOT.

Hidden Treasure.

Over $200 in gold has thus far been ound by workmen excavating for the sea wall at Deer Island. Tradition has it that a pirate brig grounded near this point and that the pirates buried their treasure which is said to have amounted to $85,000. The money found thus far has been in Mexican dollars.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. FORECAST OF FASHION.

Wide Plaited Skirt In Vogue—Suppleness a Characteristic of Fabrics.

There is more than a hint as to what the fall fashions are to be—in fact, many women have already purchased their autumn suits. The wide plaited skirt to be seen on many costumes looks like an old friend, while the short jacket with long, rounded front was a favorite a few years ago.

Both smooth and rough materials are being used, but in either case suppleness is a characteristic very much emphasized, and duller rather more somber coloring is popular.

Some of the fall suits have waists to match the skirt, making a simple three piece affair, but what is more worn is a silk or cloth shirt waist in the dominating color of the suit.

White or colored mohair is very appropriate for a "dress up" costume to be taken to boarding school by the small student.

Skirts so far are either plaited or circular, although the latter cut will not be so popular on account of its bad habit of sagging. Many of the new skirts are trimmed with circular ruffles, which give the cutaway effect so well liked this fall.

Jackets in most instances are hip length, but few of them hang loose, as the pony jacket invariably does. They have, in a number of cases, tiny vests and short ruffled basque effects.

The hat in the cut is designed for theater wear. The brim is composed of geranium flowers put as close together as possible. The leaves form the crown. Coral colored ribbon is arranged in loops at the back.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

EGGPLANT TOMATOES.

A Basket of Newly Created Vegetables Sent to the President.

From the little town of Dearborn, Mich., comes the latest compliment to the president, says a Washington dispatch to the Kansas City Star. David Beyer has sent to the president a basket of the largest and finest tomatoes that ever made their way to the White House.

Accompanying the vegetables was a note, in which Mr. Beyer confided that, although the vegetable he was sending might properly be called a tomato, as it more nearly resembled that than any other fruit or vegetable, the secret of the vegetable lay in the fact that it was a product of a tomato grafted on an eggplant.

"I wish you would give them a trial," wrote Mr. Beyer to the president, "and if you find them good I desire to have them called the 'Roosevelt' tomatoes."

The basket of eggplant tomatoes was forwarded from the White House to Oyster Bay.

A Queer Fact About Vision.

In the eye itself certain things may go on which give us wrong sensations, which, although not truly illusions, are very much like them. Thus, when we suddenly strike our heads or faces against something in the dark we see "stars," or bright sparks, which we know are not real lights, though they are quite as bright and sparkling as if they were. When we close one eye and look straight ahead at some word or letter in the middle of this page, for example, we seem to see not only the thing we are looking at, but everything else immediately about it and for a long way on each side. But the truth is there is a large round spot somewhere near the point at which we are looking in which we see nothing. Curiously enough, the existence of this blind spot was not discovered by accident, and nobody every suspected it until Mariotte reasoned from the construction of the eyeball that it must exist and proceeded to find it.

The Harshness of Orators.

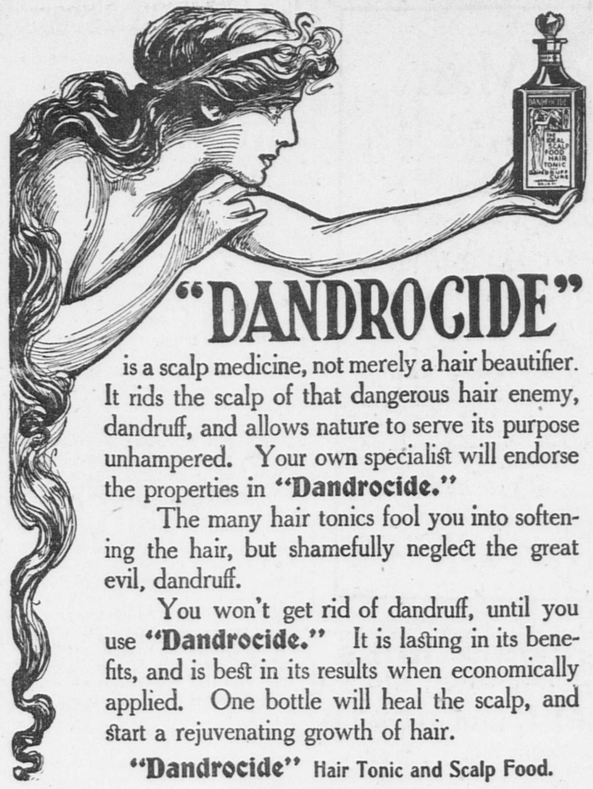

American political orators are often charged with being unduly harsh to the other side. The following extract from a speech of the late Earl of Shaftesbury, published in his memoirs, shows that if our stump speakers exhibit harshness they come honestly by it. The noble earl thus described and prophesied: "When Gladstone runs down a steep place, his immense majority, like the pigs in Scripture, but hoping for a better issue, will go with him, roaring in grunts of exultation."—Boston Transcript.

Noah's Advantage.

Mrs. Noah was complaining that her clothes looked as if they had come out of the ark.

"On the contrary," returned her spouse, "they have just come across the water."

Herewith he congratulated himself on the cheapness of imported gowns.—New York Sun.

"DANDROCIDE"

is a scalp medicine, not merely a hair beautifier. It rids the scalp of that dangerous hair enemy, dandruff, and allows nature to serve its purpose unhampered. Your own specialist will endorse the properties in "Dandrocide."

The many hair tonics fool you into softening the hair, but shamefully neglect the great evil, dandruff.

You won't get rid of dandruff, until you use "Dandrocide." It is lasting in its benefits, and is best in its results when economically applied. One bottle will heal the scalp, and start a rejuvenating growth of hair.

POLICE OF PARIS.

How the Third Brigade Spies Upon the Whole Force.

Vance Thompson describes in Everybody's the famous Third brigade of the Paris police, whose business is to supervise the police. It is composed of an officer de paix, a principal inspector, a brigadier, five subbrigadiers and about seventy-five picked men. About half are assigned to watch the patrolmen. He is a bold policeman who commits any of the little sins dear to the patrolman's heart. There is hardly a chance that he will not be detected in time. Reprimand follows, after that fine and lastly dismissal. There is always a long "waiting list" of candidates, sound young fellows fresh from the army, and the city can choose its new servants among the best.

The other half of the Third brigade is engaged in work of a more typically Latin kind. It investigates all complaints made against the patrolmen by chiefs and citizens, and it maintains a regular system of espionage upon the private lives of all policemen.

"This, of course, is the Latin way of doing things," writes Mr. Thompson. "Wrong as it may be in principle, it serves to weed out the men of bad character and bad habits and bad associations, and it prevents that monstrous alliance of the police and the lawbreakers."

The Third brigade in turn is watched by a smaller body of detectives, who report directly to the prefect of police.

DESERT THIRST.

Its Five Phases, Two of Which Mean Certain Death.

Half of the people dying from desert thirst perish in thirty-six hours, a quarter within forty-eight or fifty hours and all others of which the history is known within eighty hours.

The phenomena of desert thirst may be arranged in three stages—namely, normal thirst, functional derangement and structural degeneration. These three stages are made up of five phases—the clamorous, cotton mouth phase, the shriveled tongue, the blood sweat and the living death. There is hope in saving the lives of the victims whose thirst is diagnosed in the first three phases, but for the fourth and fifth death is certain.

The clamorous phase of desert thirst may be relieved by water, or in some instances fruit acids or similar substances. The second, or cotton mouth, phase should be treated by giving the victim quarts of water taken in small sips and flooding his body. Practically the same treatment may be applied to the third, or shriveled tongue, phase, with the addition of a medicine to counteract the fever and a tonic for the heart. Water would only prove a damage in the fourth, or blood sweat, phase, and even if it were possible to satisfy the thirst of the victim his mental condition would never be clear. Death from thirst is often painless.—Los Angeles Times.

The Valley of Quillota.

"Whoever," says Charles Darwin in his "Voyage of the Beagle," "called Valparaiso the valley of paradise must have been thinking of Quillota." Quillota is a thriving town twenty-six miles from Valparaiso in a northeasterly direction. Any person, he declares, who sees only the country around Valparaiso, barren of vegetation, would never imagine that there were such picturesque spots in Chile. "As soon as we reached the brow of the sierra the valley of Quillota was immediately under our feet. The prospect was one of remarkable natural luxuriance. The valley is very broad and quite flat and is thus easily irrigated in all parts. The little square gardens are crowded with orange and olive trees and every sort of vegetable."

According to Contract.

A man who was very miserly hoarded up his stacks of hay year after year in the hope of making double the price he was offered for them. A well known hay and straw buyer in the district one day asked the price of a stack. An enormous price was asked, which the buyer accepted.

"How about the terms of settlement?" asked the old miser.

"Well, you see," said the buyer, "my terms are to settle when I fetch the last load away."

"That's a bargain," said the miser, slapping the other's hand. The old chap watched every load go away except the last, and that the buyer never did fetch away.—London Standard.

No Salute For a Dirty Prince.

The crown prince of Germany had as a child a great dislike of being washed. The emperor tried various means to cure him, and he at last hit on the right one. The young prince came running to him one day in a great rage, saying the sentry had not saluted him as he passed.

"To be sure," said the emperor. "I gave orders they were not to salute a dirty prince, but only a clean one." The child's pride was hurt, and he took to the bath.

He Must Have Had Faith.

The church was packed, even the aisles lined with chairs. Just before the benediction the thoughtful clergyman, who loved order as he did the gospel, thus admonished his hearers: "In passing out please remain seated until the ushers have removed the chairs from the aisles."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Man often feels himself independent of all the earth, but let the sunshine and rain fail for a little while and he realizes how meanly dependent he is.—Salisbury Democrat.

The returns from the several wards and precincts of the city make a table for some interesting comparisons, and the two years are published below.

Ward and precinct	1906	1905	Increase
Ward One, precinct one	740	720	20
Ward One, precinct two	932	892	40
Ward Two, precinct one	1097	854	243
Ward Two, precinct two	918	783	135
Ward Three, precinct one	806	781	25
Ward Three, precinct two	887	918	31*
Ward Four, precinct one	696	714	18*
Ward Four, precinct two	882	908	26*
Ward Five	1289	1230	59
Ward Six, precinct one	548	537	11
Ward Six, precinct two	513	466	47
	9308	8803

It will be seen by this table that all wards made substantial gains with the exception of wards Three and Four both of which show a loss. Precinct one of Ward Three made a gain of 25 while precinct two lost 31 making a net loss of 6 for the ward. Both precincts of Ward Four show a loss, precinct one losing 18 and precinct two 26 a net loss of 44 for the ward.

The ward to make the largest gain was Ward Two, the Quincy Point ward. Both precincts here made large gains precinct one gaining 243 and precinct two 135, or a net gain of 378 for the whole ward. Ward One made a net gain of 60, Ward Five a net gain of 59 and Ward Six a net gain of 47.

Ward Two carries off the palm of having the largest number of assessed polls with a grand total of 2,015 while Ward Three comes second with 1,693; Ward One, 1,672; Ward Four, 1,578; Ward Five, 1,289; and Ward Six 1,061.

This Morning Fire.

The alarm from Box 25 at 9.42 this morning was for a fire in a house at 61 Canal street, owned by Albert Keating and occupied in part by Mike Rossa. The fire caught from some unknown cause in the bed in the front room.

The mattress blazed briskly and filled the rooms with a stifling smoke. Mrs. Rossa in trying to extinguish the fire had her hands burned.

The firemen threw the burning mattress and clothing out of the window, and extinguished the blaze with hand chemicals.

The house was damaged but little and the total loss will not exceed $25.

Owing to the streets being dug up by the Gas Company the Central station apparatus went by way of Hancock, Maple, Washington, and Wibird streets, and although a round about way made good time.

Fire Alarms.

There were two alarms of fire Tuesday evening one of which was a false alarm. The first alarm was sounded at 8.40 from Box 32. This was for a fire in an oil barrel at a shed at P. J. Williams' residence, on Independence avenue. The barrel had been rolled into the street and the fire put out by the time the department had arrived.

The second alarm was sounded from Box 154 at 9.22. This box is located near the National Sailors' Home. The firemen found the box open but were unable to find any fire and came to the conclusion that it was a false alarm.

Quarterly Meeting Woman's Mission

The quarterly meeting of the Norfolk and Pilgrim branches of the Woman's Board of Missions was held all day Tuesday at the Bethany church in Quincy. There was a very large attendance of delegates from all branches in the district.

The morning session opened at ten o'clock with devotional exercises. Then came a report of the last meeting by Mrs. W. M. Tirrell, the condition of the treasury by Miss A. L. Loud, and one minute talks from the several auxiliaries present.

At 11 o'clock there was a devotional service for half an hour led by Mrs. Lincoln. This was followed by an address by Miss M. L. Gorton on "After twelve years in the Sandwich Islands." At 12 o'clock there was a brief discussion on the pros and cons of Foreign missions which was followed at 12.30 by a basket collation.

The afternoon session opened with devotional strvice led by Mrs. E. N. Hardy of Quincy and was followed by a short business session and roll call of delegates. These were followed by addresses as follows:—"Work with young people" by Mrs. E. S. Tenney of Wollaston; "Missionary" by Mrs. E. G. Tucksbury of North China and "Work and needs in Japan" by Miss M. L. Gorton. Durning the afternoon session there was solos by Mrs. E, D. Gourd and singing by the Sunshine chorus.

Held for Manslaughter.

Timothy J. Delaney, the 17-year old Randolph boy who shot and killed his brother John on Tuesday, while on a gunning trip in the woods at Randolph, was arraigned in court this morning for manslaughter and was held in $1000 until Dec. 6, for a hearing.

The Delaney brothers, with two other young men, were returning from their trip and were discussing which could shoot the quickest.

John Delaney boasted that he could shoot the quickest. Timothy then pulled the trigger of his gun, not knowing, that it was loaded, and the full charge went into the abdomen of his brother John.

A physician was quickly summoned and the injured boy taken to the Massachusetts General hospital, where he died a few hours later.

Chief of Police Haney arrested Timothy. The police are inclined to think that the shooting was purely accidental.

Christian Endeavor Social.

The Bethany Christian Endeavor Society held a very pleasant social in Bethany Chapel last evening. There were about sixty young people present.

The meeting was opened with several hymns, after which games were enjoyed.

During the evening Mr. Charles Dornan entertained the young people with several sleight of hand tricks, and Miss Lucy Newcomb played several piano selections which were enjoyed.

An unexpected feature of the evening was the presenting of the dialogue, "A Matrimonial Advertisement," by Miss Mabel Lovejoy and Henry Taylor. At the finish of the dialogue, the "Bachelors Club" presented these two young people with a beautiful bouquet.

The committee in charge deserve great credit for this social, as it is considerable work to arrange an affair of this kind. The committee was Miss Isabelle Mitchell, chairman; Miss Carrie Parker, Miss Mabel Lovejoy, Miss Helen Troupe, Mr. Albert Prescott, Mr. Edward Hayden and Miss Lucy Newcomb.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

It is hoped there will be a large attendance at the meeting of the Hospital Aid association, tomorrow afternoon at the Women's club house, as the time of the fair for the Nurses' home is drawing near. The fair will be on Wednesday, Nov. 14th, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Morse, Goffe street. Heads of the different booths have been appointed and are busily at work.

A small club which successfully carries through large undertakings is the Shakespeare club of Atlantic. Last year they had an Edward Howard Griggs afternoon which attracted so many that the audience completely filled the hall. This year they have engaged Marshall Darrach for Saturday afternoon, Nov. 24th, for one of his Shakesperian recitals, and already the subscription list is about exhausted. Mr. Darrach's method is to recite the main part of the play from memory, assuming in turn the different characters, giving a pleasing and finished production.

The Social Science and Literary club members held a regular meeting and social at the home of Mrs. Emily T. Turner, 463 Hancock street, Oct. 16th. Current events in relation to social science was discussed, followed by the study of King Henry VI. The next meeting, Nov. 6th, will be at 11 Squantum street, Atlantic.

The next meeting of the Wollaston Alliance will be an all-day sewing meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Page, Winthrop avenue. It will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 30th, instead of the date scheduled in yearly program.

The Quincy City Union of King's Daughters will meet in Bethany chapel, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 27th, at four o'clock. A business session will be held at five o'clock, followed by a social hour. At seven o'clock Mr. Field of the Children's Mission, Boston, will give a talk, illustrated by the stereopticon, which will be of special interest.

A business meeting of the S. Agnes Parker sewing circle will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary A. Fox, Friday afternoon Oct. 26. officers for coming year to be elected.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

That members of the Quincy Women's club appreciate a home talent afternoon was demonstrated Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Florence Peltier Pope of Atlantic, a member of the club, was greeted by a large audience.

The meeting was in charge of the Art and Literature committee, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, chairman. Mrs. Gurney announced that a class in literature was to be formed, the hour and days of meetings to be decided after a conference with the executive board. Any desirous to join the class were asked to notify Mrs. Gurney.

Mrs. Pope was graciously presented to the club and given a cordial greeting. Her paper on "Literature for Children" was listened to with intense interest throughout. Mrs. Pope treated her subject broadly and at times her conception was ideal. Many mothers wondered if they were capable of reaching her standards and resolved to try to. Many ideas advanced were entirely new but worthy of careful consideration. Mrs. Pope's stories for children in St. Nicholas and other magazines and books will hereafter be read by club mothers with a fuller appreciation.

The musical part of the program consisted of groups of songs by Mrs. N. S. Hunting who kindly took Mrs. P. R. Blackmur's place at short notice owing to the latter's illness. Miss Burgess accompanied Mrs. Hunting.

Announcement was made that the Arts and Crafts committee would commence in November the exchange which was so successful last spring. Club members were asked to contribute to the exchange and also to bear in mind that hereafter at the close of the club meetings they can purchase cake, bread, preserves, etc., at the exchange. Members were invited to visit the Arts and Crafts rooms and inspect the rugs made on the loom installed during the summer.

Announcement was made of the State Federation meeting to be held at Peabody on November 7th. Any member desirous of attending can secure tickets of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Wilson Marsh.

The waiting list is still growing showing an ever increasing interest in the club.

The Nov. 13th meeting will be in charge of the Philanthropy committee with Mrs. C. M. E. Rowe as the speaker, to be followed by discussion, tea and social.

Two members of the Hospitality committee are to serve as hostesses at each meeting of the club. This committee will be designated by a yellow and white badge. All the members will gladly do what lies in their power to promote the sociability and good fellowship of the club. Mrs. Warren S. Anderson and Mrs. Edwin S. Bennett will serve as hostesses for the month of November. It has been proposed by the executive board that the assistants at the teas be taken alphabetically from the club members so that all may have an opportunity to serve in that capacity.

The place of visiting nurse made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. May Willis Hatch, has been filled by Miss Estelle Robinson who has been substituting for Mrs. Hatch. Miss Robinson comes highly recommended and is a graduate of the Quincy Hospital. She has a suite of rooms at the club house with telephone connection and is busy attending to the calls of the doctors.

The chairman of the Music Committee desires that all members of the club who are interested in the idea of forming a choral class under the direction of Mrs. Worster of Weymouth, shall send their names and addresses to Mrs. Frank J. Moore, Bigelow street, Quincy. If a sufficient number respond classes will be started at once.

THE QUINCY ALLIANCE.

A cloudy, rainy afternoon did not prevent a large gathering for the regular meeting of the Women's Alliance in First church parlor on Monday afternoon. The devotional and business session was followed by a talk on liberal religion in India and Japan by Miss Edith Randall. It was very interesting and many important and new facts were brought out. The spread of liberal religion in these countries is not only encouraging but flattering to the earnest workers, especially in Japan. Miss Randall could not begin to tell in the short time allotted to her the details of the growth of religion in these far away countries, but made her outline interesting so that one is tempted to personally look further into the subject.

A social half hour followed with the usual light refreshments. Mrs. John L. Gow and Mrs. Emery L. Crane poured chocolate.

The Alliance connected with the First Congregational church in Leominster has invited all the N. E. branches to meet with it tomorrow, Oct. 25th. Trains leave the North Station, Boston at 8 A. M. for North Leominster, returning at 4.18 and 5.46 P. M. The morning session begins at 10.15. There will be a box luncheon at noon, the local Alliance serving hot tea and coffee.

Here and There About the City

The pity is that we could not have more fall days like today.

William Harkins and Benjamin Johnson are in Maine on a gunning trip.

Several candidates were initiated at the meeting of Quincy lodge of Elks on Tuesday evening.

A special convocation of St. Stephen's Chapter, R.A.M., will be held tonight. The work of the evening will be the Mark and Past Master's degrees.

Rev. Dr. E. N. Hardy was a member of the dismissing council at Holbrook yesterday called to dismiss the Rev. J. O. Paisley from the pastorate of the First church. Mr. Paisley assumes the pastorate of the Melrose Highlands church the first of November.

WATER IN TURKEY.

Must Meet Many Conditions to Be a Perfect Beverage.

"Turks are extremely particular," writes a traveler, "in regard to the quality of the water they drink and are willing to be at much trouble and expense to obtain water of the kind they prefer. To be a perfect beverage water must issue from a rock, fall from a height, be of medium temperature, flow rapidly and copiously, taste sweet, spring in high and lonely ground and run from south to north or from east to west. The excellence of any water is accordingly determined by the number of these conditions it fulfills. It is remarkable how much pleasure Turks find in visiting a famous spring in the country, to spend the whole day beside it under the shade of trees, doing little else than drink carafe after carafe of the water as the elixir of life. Resorts of this description abound on the shores and in the valleys of the upper Bosporus under such names as the Water of Life, the Silver Water, the Water Under the Chestnut Tree, the Water Beside the Hazels. The spectacle of the great gatherings there on Fridays, arrayed in bridal colors, seated tier above tier on the terraced platforms built against the green slope of the hill, the women above, the men below, all in the deep shade of the branches meeting overhead, forms a picture beyond a painter's power to reproduce.—Chicago News.

Hot Drinks For Thirst.

It is a mistake to suppose that cold drinks are necessary to relieve thirst. Very cold drinks, as a rule, increase the feverish condition of the mouth and stomach and so create thirst. Experience shows it to be a fact that hot drinks relieve the thirst and cool off the body when it is in an abnormally heated condition better than ice cold drinks. It is far better and safer to avoid the use of drinks below 60 degrees. In fact, a higher temperature is to be preferred, and those who are much troubled with thirst will do well to try the advantages to be derived from hot drinks instead of cold fluids, to which they have been accustomed. Hot drinks also have the advantage of aiding digestion instead of causing debility of the stomach and bowels.

Pearl Shells.

The best and most valuable pearl shells are called "chicken shells." They are about three or four years old and for Torres strait shells they bring 8 per cent more, while for western Australia shells they bring 12 per cent more per hundredweight (112 pounds) than first class shells.

Connemara's Hedges.

In Connemara, Ireland, there are hedges miles in length composed of fuchsias tall as elder trees and covered with blood red flowers.

NEGLECT OF DUTY

Moran's Answer to Charge Not Satisfactory to Guild

DELAY IN GRAND JURY

Governor Says District Attorney Is Responsible For It--Moran Again Speaks Concerning the Presidency In 1908

Boston, Oct. 24.—Governor Guild delivered two campaign addresses in this city last night, one at a smoke talk given by the Roosevelt club at the American house and the other at a rally of negro voters at the South End. In his address before the Roosevelt club the governor said:

"On Saturday last I called the attention of the opposition candidate to his failure to attend to his duty in hunting down those responsible for the failure of the Provident Securities and Banking company last January, by which the people of this commonwealth lost thousands of dollars of their hard earned savings. His response to me is to the effect that he hasn't had time to attend to this matter, and he complains that he hasn't had enough office assistants to do his work properly.

"He has had more assistance than any of his predecessors in the office of district attorney. He has had plenty of time to delay the work of the grand jury by hauling before it, on all kinds of trumped-up charges, men who have dared merely to oppose him in politics. He has had time to interfere in an ordinary police court case and to delay the legitimate work of his own office that he might haul before the grand jury a college boy who happened to be the son of the President of the United States. Yet he claims that he has not had time in nine long months to hunt out and punish those responsible for taking the savings of the poor."

Governor Guild then replied to other statements made by Moran on the stump. He claimed that in certain of his pledges Moran pledged himself to evade the laws of the commonwealth if elected.

Senator Lodge spoke for half an hour, principally in defense of his "Cossack" term as applied to the Democratic candidates. He said that the voters had the question before them of whether the government of the state shall be American or shall be carried on by a band of men who would rule like Cossacks.

He claimed that if the national government should take all the railroads of the country it would increase the public debt eight times, while the service by the railroads would be far below what it is today. He deplored the efforts of the Democratic candidate to "blacken the character of every man connected with the Republican campaign."

AN OVERFLOW MEETING

Moran "Gets Back" at Guild In Two Speeches at Worcester

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 24.—John B. Moran was compelled to make two speeches in this city last evening, an overflow meeting in Lower Mechanics hall being necessary. Moran deviated but little from the speeches which he has already made in the campaign, but some of his new remarks were interesting.

In reference to the presidential fight in 1908 he said that he was not affiliated with either Hearst or Bryan, but that in 1908, if he was elected this year and next, he should go through the state and get delegates for a Massachusetts man for president. He said he refused to stand on that portion of the Democratic platform which mentioned a presidential candidate for 1908, as he had his own views as to who that candidate should be.

In reply to Governor Guild, who stated in his speech at Lynn that he (Moran) had obtained the Prohibition nomination and then repudiated its platform, Moran said that if the person who made that statement had not been Guild he would say that it was a lie, but would now term it a gubernatorial falsification.

In reference to the Schaefer case, regarding which it was charged that he had made no effort to investigate the story that if he had been offered a bribe, Moran said that he called politicians before the grand jury who were both opposed and friendly to him, but that the grand jury refused to take action in the matter. Moran said that he had established a reputation in Boston for his independence and that he was conducting the present campaign in an independent manner.

He reiterated his statement that if he was elected governor he would compel all the district attorneys in the state to enforce the laws against liquor selling and gambling.

Mr. Moran spoke 25 minutes in the upper hall and then went to the lower hall, where he made a shorter speech, but covered practically the same ground as in his first address.

Politics In Empire State

New York, Oct. 24.—Chairman Conners of the Democratic state committee has appointed an executive committee to push the state campaign and Charles F. Murphy, the head of Tammany Hall, has called upon the Tammany leaders to support the party nominees with loyalty and energy.

The grand jury which has been investigating Murphy's recent charges that Independence League representatives were trying to "hold up" Democratic candidates has dismissed the subject as "campaign gossip."

Charles E. Hughes left Kingston yesterday for a half dozen speeches in the counties of Orange, Delaware and Chemung, and closed the day's work with an evening meeting at Elmira.

William R. Hearst spent the day in town, addressing three city meetings last night.

Bryan Says Dreams Come True

Indianapolis, Oct. 24.—W. J. Bryan spoke to a big crowd in the ball park here last night. He devoted the greater part of his speech to a reply to Senator Beveridge's remarks in Nebraska, when the latter spoke of Bryan as a "dreamer." Bryan said that whenever he gets in a tight place he looks to the Bible for authority and the first dreamer he finds any account of was Joseph, whose dreams later proved of great benefit. Bryan said that he might occupy the entire evening in showing how the dreams of Democrats have been coming true. He said that the Democratic dreamers are rescuing even the Republicans from their own blind folly. Bryan then pointed out a number of Democratic policies, which are now, he said, Republican doctrines.

Bryan Predicts Democratic Congress

Washington, Oct. 24.—A letter from William J. Bryan to Chairman Griggs of the Democratic congressional committee says in part:

"The indications are that we shall have the next congress and then our Democratic house can send to the senate remedial measures and join issues with the Republicans if they refuse to adopt them. The Republican leaders are so under the control of predatory wealth that they will not support the president when he attempts to follow Democratic advice and secure some reform. The best way to support the president is to elect Democrats in the place of Republicans, for the record shows that the Democrats have stood by him better in the senate and house than the Republicans have."

Negroes Object to "The Clansman"

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—Mayor Weaver has issued an order suppressing the further production here of the drama, "The Clansman," which was to have been a week's engagement at the Walnut Street theatre. The mayor's action was prompted by a demonstration Monday evening at the theatre by several thousand negroes. A delegation of representative negroes protested against the continuance of the play because of its alleged tendency to arouse racial prejudice and to incite to riot.

Alleged Adulteration of Food

Pittsburg, Oct. 24.—Information will be filed in this city against officials of the Pullman Palace Car company of Chicago as the first step toward a prosecution for violation of the pure food laws on the dining cars run by that company in this state. Inspector Foust of the state food and dairy commission says that 111 samples of foods served on the Pullman cars in this state have been secured and that all the samples of milk and cream had contained formaldehyde.

Murderer of Actress Confesses

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Margaret Leslie, the actress, found dead in her room in the Palace hotel last Thursday afternoon, did not commit suicide, as was supposed, but was murdered. Herbert E. Nicholas, a theatrical manager, arrested on suspicion, has confessed that he aided in the murder, and that George Leopold, a drug clerk, for whom the police are now searching, was his accomplice. The woman's diamonds and money were the motive for the crime.

Valuable Scientific Discoveries

New York, Oct. 24.—Three big expeditions of the American Museum of Natural History have arrived from the Rocky mountain regions, after several months' rough work, bringing nearly two carloads of petrified skeletons of nearly 500 animals, many new to science and which lived on earth from one and one-half to eight million years ago. Among the many rare finds were two dinosaurs new to science, one of which was of immensely huge proportions.

Many Horses Swept Overboard

Havana, Oct. 24.—Steamer Kanawha, which left Newport News Oct. 16 for this port with 600 horses of the Eleventh cavalry on board, has arrived here after having suffered severely in the recent cyclone, in which 112 horses were lost. The steamer sustained damage to her superstructure and had her foremast carried away.

Hundred and Forty Lives Lost

Vladivostok, Oct. 24.—Forty-seven of the passengers and 13 members of the crew of the Russian coasting steamer Variagin have been rescued by Chinese boats. The Variagin struck a floating mine and sank near here last Sunday. It was first reported that only one of her 200 passengers had been saved.

NEW "HOME FLEET"

British Admiralty Makes Important Announcement

CRUISES TO BE FREQUENT

Shift of Center of Naval Gravity From Southern to Northern Waters May Be Due to Rise of Compact German Navy

London, Oct. 24.—With the view, apparently, of meeting recent press attacks on the "starving of the navy" the admiralty has issued a circular to the navy which indicates, though not very explicitly, the intention of distributing the naval strength anew.

The circular announces that a distinct fleet will be constituted from the reserve ships, to be called the "home fleet," under the supreme command of a flag officer with the status of commander-in-chief and headquarters at Sheerness. This fleet will in every respect be organized with the view of enhancing its value as a fighting force. It will make frequent cruises and battle maneuvers will be held.

Continuing, the circular declares that the admiralty will, from time to time, decide the strength of the nucleus crews on a sliding scale so that the vessels first required in war will have the largest complements. The distribution of ships between the Channel, Mediterranean, Atlantic and reserve fleets will be altered to permit of the organization of this "home fleet." The circular makes also the following important announcement:

"No ships will be paid off, no men will be sent to barracks or instructional schools, and no alteration will be made in the proportion of officers and men serving afloat."

The circular does not indicate what ships or how many of them will be withdrawn from the other fleets to constitute the home fleet and merely states that interchanges will be made whenever they conduce to the fighting efficiency and convenience of the service. It concludes by saying that the changes will be carried out gradually and that the board of the admiralty is satisfied that the more active training nucleus crews receive will add to the sea experience of the fleet as a whole.

The Daily Telegraph, in an editorial on the admiralty circular, regards it as most gratifying. "It is realized that the center of gravity has shifted," the paper says, "from southern to northern waters. The Mediterranean has become the scene of a picnic of peace. France, Italy and Austria are all our good friends. By taking ships from this peaceful area of the extended entente cordiale into the home fleet, the country obtains another fleet in three divisions, each under a rear admiral."

The editorial articles in other newspapers are written mostly from the party point of view, or else the paper suspends judgment until further details are known.

The Tribune frankly regards the circular as a further recognition of the fact that the rise of a compact German navy in home waters has made the British home squadron too small, and declares that British naval predonderance in the Mediterranean was clearly excessive.

Liquor Men Aid Salvationists

Newark, N. J., Oct. 24.—The 14th annual convention of the Liquor League of the United States has begun here. A feature of the opening session was an address by a Salvation Army woman who had been engaged in work among saloons in this city for several years. She appealed for funds for the Salvation Army and the delegates present responded with liberal donations. Henry Eberling told of the restrictions of the liquor traffic in Massachusetts in the past 25 years, and said the saloon men's condition had been improved recently.

Special Favors to Burton

Ironton, Mo., Oct. 24.—A half hour of liberty and a stroll to his wife's boarding house and back to his cell varied the monotony of former United States Senator Burton's first day in jail. Pleading that he wished to get some books and papers from his trunk, Burton was permitted by Sheriff Marshall to take a brief recess. Mrs. Burton asserts she will prepare all her husband's meals so that he may not have to subsist on prison fare.

Many Cases of "White Plague"

New York, Oct. 24.—The board of aldermen adopted a resolution asking for $225,000 for the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium at Otisville. The additional appropriation will enable the institution to take care of 200 cases. There are 137,000 cases of tuberculosis in New York city and only 147 beds in the city for such patients.

Lipton May Challenge For Cup

New York, Oct. 24.—Sir Thomas Lipton states that he has not announced his intention of again challenging for the America's cup. He will not deny that he may challenge, but will have nothing definite to say on the subject before his conference with officials of the New York Yacht club.

Bark and Crew Probably Lost

Brunswick, Ga., Oct. 24.—The Spanish bark F. G., which sailed from Havana Oct. 2 for this port, is believed to have been lost in the recent hurricane. She is 10 days overdue and no report has been made of her. The consignees here believe that she has gone down with all on board.

TWO NEW ADVISORS

Meyer and Straus to Enter Roosevelt's Cabinet

OTHERS TO SHIFT ABOUT

Changes Due to Coming Retirement of Shaw and Moody--Appointment of Citizen of Hebrew Faith Causes Surprise

Washington, Oct. 24.—A statement regarding prospective changes in President Roosevelt's cabinet was made public at the White House. It says that on the retirement of Secretary Shaw and Attorney General Moody from the cabinet the following changes will be made:

Secretary of the treasury, George B. Cortelyou; postmaster general, George Von L. Meyer; attorney general, Charles J. Bonaparte; secretary of the navy, Victor H. Metcalf; secretary of commerce and labor, Oscar S. Straus.

The general understanding for some time has been that Moody will retire on Jan. 1 next and that Secretary Shaw will follow him on March 4. On the first of the year, therefore, Bonaparte, now secretary of the navy, will succeed Moody as attorney general, and he will in turn be succeeded by Metcalf, the secretary of commerce and labor, the latter's place being filled by Straus. Cortelyou, now postmaster general, will take Shaw's place on March 4, at which time Meyer is to become postmaster general.

The announcement of the prospective changes in the cabinet was made last night, following a protracted cabinet meeting at which, it is understood, the whole matter was considered fully. The changes contemplate the introduction of two new men in the cabinet, Meyer, who is to be postmaster general, and Straus, who is to be secretary of commerce and labor.

The fact that Meyer was to have a place in the cabinet has been known for some time, but the name of Straus has been mentioned only incidentally, if at all, in connection with the circle of the president's advisors. The transfer of Cortelyou to the treasury, Bonaparte to the attorney generalship and Metcalf to the navy has been generally accepted as among the probabilities for some time, although it has been known that both Bonaparte and Metcalf were for a time loath to leave their present positions because they had become so fully identified with the work of their departments.

Mr. Meyer, who will become postmaster general, is ambassador to Russia, to which place he was appointed on March 6, 1905, having been promoted to that office following his service as the ambassador to Italy from 1900 to 1905. He is a native of Massachusetts.

The appointment of Straus caused considerable surprise, as it will be the first case where a citizen of the Hebrew faith has been made a member of the president's cabinet. He was born in 1850, and is well known as a merchant, diplomat and author. He represented the United States as minister to Turkey on two different occasions and was appointed by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy caused by the death of ex-President Harrison as a member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague.

Children Burned to Death

Washington, N. J., Oct. 24.—Frances and Della Mowery, 14 and 6 years old, respectively, were burned to death, and Jennie, their 2-year-old sister, was probably fatally burned by an explosion of a can of kerosene at their home near here. All three children were enveloped in flames. Frances ran with her small sisters to a spring and jumped in with them. Neighbors arrived and pulled the children out, but Frances and Della died in a short time.

Central American Arbitration

Washington, Oct. 24.—The state department has received an abstract of the treaty between Guatemala, Salvador, Honduras and Costa Rica, negotiated as a result of the Marblehead pact of Sept. 20 last. This provides for the compulsory arbitration of all future differences by the Washington and Mexican governments; for the rechange of natural products, and equal rights for all citizens in the territory of each state.

Murder Charge Against Woman

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—The hearing in the habeas corpus proceedings to secure the release of Charlotte Kelly and Harry Somers, who were held by the coroner as principals in the murder of Mrs. Maurice K. Lewis, resulted in the discharge of Somers, while Miss Kelly was remanded to await the action of the grand jury. Mrs. Lewis was found murdered in the home of Miss Kelly, where she had apartments.

Would Put Drunks on Treadmill

Des Moines, Oct. 24.—A treadmill to which habitual drunkards may be sentenced is the recommendation made by Police Judge Van Metre of Waterloo. The power generated by such a mill could be put to many uses which would serve the municipality and lighten the burden now put upon the taxpayers for the support of these drones of society.

Charged With Robbing Bank

Jasper, Ind., Oct. 24.—Charles Behrens of Huntingburg was arrested last evening, charged with having embezzled $24,000 from the People's bank at Huntingburg, of which he was formerly cashier.

ESCAPED FROM ASYLUM

Slayer of Policeman Is Quickly Captured and Returned

Boston, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Minnie McKenzie, who shot and killed Police Officer Sturtevant when the latter was trying to take her into custody at her home here on Dec. 4, 1904, escaped from the Worcester insane asylum yesterday, where she has been a prisoner, but was captured last evening by local police. She was sent back to Worcester upon the arrival of officers from the asylum today.

Mrs. McKenzie was found at the home of her brother, Frank Cowan, 84 West Concord street. Cowan told the officers that when the woman appeared she was so exhausted that he decided to allow her to remain over night and then turn her over to the police in the morning.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 24.—At the insane hospital here all information of Mrs. McKenzie's escape was withheld, the hospital authorities refusing absolutely to discuss the matter. It was learned, however, that Mrs. McKenzie was yesterday transferred from that part of the hospital where she had been confined to new quarters in the main building, and there put to some light labor. It is said that the woman had no difficulty in walking out of the hospital building onto the public highway. This happened some time between 1:30 and 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The police were notified of the escape about 4 o'clock and in the description of the woman given by the hospital authorities she was characterized as "dangerous," but nothing was said about her being the person who killed a policeman in Boston. How or where she obtained the money necessary for carfare could not be learned here.

Fenders Treated Dummies Shamefully

Newton, Mass., Oct. 24.—There was no one among the spectators of the tests of car fenders which the railroad commissioners conducted here who thought that money could tempt him to take the place of either dummy, even for one trial. The dummies certainly "got theirs," one being decapitated and the other losing its pedal extremities. One or two of the fenders tried had folding compartments calculated to protect a person from being injured after being struck by the car, but, while they might have acted all right with "live bait," they certainly treated the dummies shamefully.

Car Shops Will Not Reopen

Boston, Oct. 24.—Referring to the present situation at the car shops on the Boston and Albany railroad, Vice President Van Etten says that the Allston shops were closed by his order as soon as he learned that the men intended to strike. He says that the Allston shops would have been closed long ago, but there were some old employes which he did not like to discharge. Now that the shops are closed they probably will not be reopened.

Spitting on Sidewalks Prohibited

Boston, Oct. 24.—The recent act of the legislature prohibiting spitting on sidewalks and in public halls and street cars became operative today and a special order for its rigid enforcement was issued last night by Police Commissioner O'Meara. The commissioner decides that smoking cars on the elevated railroads may be considered the same as those on steam railroads, which are not affected by the new law.

Fears For Ship With Rich Cargo

Boston, Oct. 24.—With $2,725,000 in gold in her treasure room, consigned to banks in this city, and a crew of 35 men, to say nothing of a $300,000 cargo, steamer Arabistan, en route from South American ports to this city, is almost a week overdue at San Juan, P. R., and grave fears are entertained that she was overwhelmed in the great hurricane that created such havoc in the Caribbean.

Proposed Meat Probe Sidetracked

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 24.—A joint resolution providing for an investigation by the legislature of the alleged sale of diseased meat in Vermont was killed in the house by a vote of 156 to 54. In the debate it was pointed out that there was at present no state cattle commission, one member having been removed by former Governor Bell and the other two by Governor Proctor.

Shot In Abdomen Proved Fatal

Randolph Mass., Oct. 24.—John Delaney, aged 15, was shot yesterday while gunning in the woods near here. Timothy J. Delaney, a brother of the injured lad, is under arrest. It is alleged that the boys were fooling with a gun in the hands of Timothy and the weapon was discharged, a charge of birdshot entering John's abdomen. The boy died last night.

Storm-Bound Vessels Sail

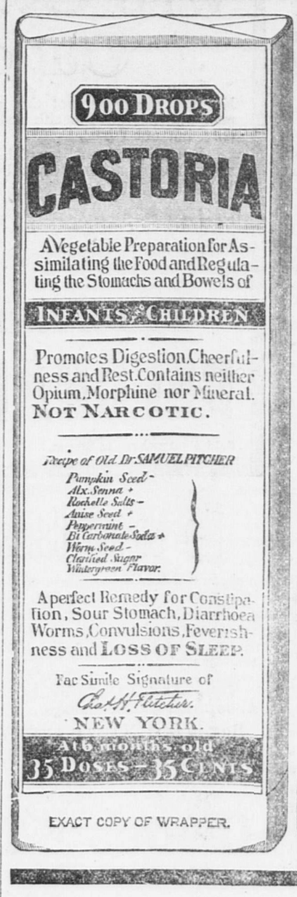

Boston, Oct. 24.—The embargo of the coastwise sailing fleet, which has been in force for the past 10 days through continous northeast winds, was lifted by the breeze hauling to the westward. Forty-four vessels sailed from this harbor, 20 being bound for eastern ports, where their arrival is anxiously awaited to move the potato crop.

Waylaid, Clubbed and Stabbed

Webster, Mass., Oct. 24.—Hugh A. McRoberts was found lying on Merino bridge here in a critical condition just before midnight last night. McRoberts was attacked by two men, who hit him over the right eye with a club and then stabbed him near the left shoulder.

Farrington Claims Self-Defense

Norway, Me., Oct. 24.—The testimony in the trial of Henry Farrington for manslaughter, in connection with the shooting of Eugene Grant in a logging camp, has concluded, the defendant claiming that he shot Grant in self-defense.

ROBBED OF $150,000

Cleveland, Oct. 24.—The police of this city and a detective agency are working to discover the whereabouts of $150,000 worth of property which Anna Held, the actress, reported was stolen from her on a Pennsylvania train while coming into Cleveland. The gems were stolen from Miss Held's stateroom while she and her husband, Florence Zeigfeld, Jr., were temporarily absent from it.

The jewels were in a satchel, which also contained over $6000 in money, and papers, bank books, etc., which the actress said she valued at $100,000. She gave a description of two men on the train she said she suspected and the detective agency reports that they have got trace of one of them in Baltimore. The actress appears grief-stricken over her loss and says the satchel contained her entire fortune.

Grain Trust Evidence

Kansas City, Oct. 24.—Evidence of favoritism to the manager of the Kansas City elevators of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway in reduced grain rates; the existence of a rule in the Kansas City Board of Trade threatening its members with suspension for dealing with "irregular" grain men; a combination of members of that organization to fix prices, and threats by grain dealers' associations to boycott the Board of Trade members who might buy from farmers and others, against whom the associations had issued orders, were some of the points brought out here at a hearing before the interstate commerce commission.

Blizzard's Early Visitation

Denver, Oct. 24.—Eastern Colorado has been in the throes of a blizzard. Snow ceased falling in Denver yesterday afternoon, the storm center having moved eastward. The storm takes rank as the most severe at this time of year of which the weather bureau has record. Snow began falling Friday night and continued about 90 hours. The actual fall here was about 21 inches. In some portions of the state it was four feet or more. Delay of railroad traffic is the principal damage done by the storm thus far.

Secrecy Valued at $5000

Somerville, N. J., Oct. 24.—A woman who was brought to Somerville hospital after being badly injured in an automobile accident on Oct. 14 has sent a check for $5000 to the hospital authorities because they respected her wish that her identity be not revealed. Her motive in wishing secrecy was ascribed partly to her unwillingness to have it known that she had been motoring on Sunday and partly because she did not wish newspaper notoriety.

Combination of Farmers

East St. Louis, Ills., Oct. 24.—The first national convention of the American Society of Equity, composed of farmers, began here with 500 delegates present. The society seeks to regulate values of grain and farm produce by regulating the supply in relation to the demand. If the market is low the society will hold the product until the demand forces up a profitable price, when the goods may be sold.

Hooe Perjury Trial Begun

Pittsburg, Oct. 24.—The trial of Clifford Hooe, charged with perjury in connection with the Hartje divorce case, was taken up in the criminal court after Judge Robert Frazer had overruled a motion to quash the indictment. Hooe was Augustus Hartje's negro coachman, and it is alleged by the prosecution that the accused swore falsely in his statement of his relations with Mrs. Hartje.

Retirement of General Buller

London, Oct. 24.—The retirement of General Buller, who conducted the operations for the relief of Ladysmith during the Boer war, and the promotion of Lieutenant General Nicholson, who was chief British military attache with the Japanese army during the Russo-Japanese war, to the rank of general, are gazetted.

Sentences by Court Martial

Sebastopol, Oct. 24.—The court martial which is inquiring into the military disorders here sentenced two men to 20 years' penal servitude and acquitted seven of the charges against them. The remainder of the soldiers on trial were drafted into the disciplinary companies for three years.

Execution of Mexican Rebels

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 24.—A dispatch to The Republican from Tucson says that a citizen of that place has returned from Nogales, where he was authoritatively informed that the revolutionists recently deported from Arizona were taken to Hermosillo and summarily executed.

Fall Exhibition.

Before a large and appreciative audience which filled the gallery to overflowing the annual fall exhibition of the local Young Men's Christian Association was held in the gymnasium last night.

The program consisted of the following events: A promenade, dumb-bell drill, mystic maze, apparatus work, funny games, etc. The closing feature was a basket ball game between the "Lanks and Skinnies," and the "Fats and Midgets." In this latter sport the "Fats and Midgets" proved the better scoring team, and won by the score of 20 to 12.

—Railroads are unable to handle freight offered them because they can't get the cars. Car builders are unable to supply the cars because they can't get the iron and steel and other material. The iron and steel industry is unable to give them the needed material because orders are piled up ahead of them and deliveries must take their turn and cannot exceed capacity. This is the chain of booming prosperity of the times.

Who Gets the Most Out of Life?

Not the wealthiest, not the most learned, nor the idler—but the man who has good health and works for his living. This truth is trite, but not trivial.

Every man should guard his health as his most valuable possession. The more so because health is easier to retain than regain.

Keep your grip on health by regular exercise, reasonable care in eating and requisite sleep. Take Beecham's Pills occasionally, to tone the stomach and keep the liver and bowels in good working order. And don't worry.

Observe these simple rules and you will agree that the one who gets the most from life is —Secretary Root proposes to send two tariff experts to Germany to discover what defects there are in our administration of the tariff system which can be remedied and make the situation more satisfactory to the Germans. The report that is made by these investigators ought to prove a pretty good starting point for some definite action toward the revision of our tariff policy as regards Germany and some other of our biggest customers.—Haverhill Gazette.

WHAT IS WORN.

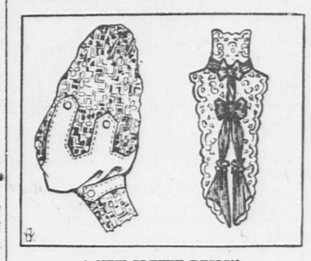

Embroidered Button Fad—Hats For School Wear—New Sash Fancies.

Embroidered buttons are so smart and attractive that many women are embroidering their own little circles of silk, which are afterward used to cover button molds.

Light felt hats are to be modish for early fall wear for school children.

The pretty fashion of wearing fringed sashes, copied from French children, is being taken up by mothers who are just a little tired of the ubiquitous belt. These sashes are made of wide ribbon—the soft, droopy kind—finished with a fringe of heavy silk knotted on in simple or intricate fashion, according to whim. They are worn long enough for the fringe to come to the very edge of the hem or, as in Paris, just below it.

In spite of a strongly increased demand for a larger hat there is a tendency toward a rather greater vogue of the turban. It is a somewhat long shape and like most of the modish hats is built up at the back with a bandeau. The trimming is also massed at the back and it not infrequently consists of several short but fluffy ostrich plumes. Occasionally a large bird with a paradise tail is perched on the back of one of these smart turbans and then one knows that the creation is straight from Paris.

The cut shows a fall sleeve model. The puff and tight fitting cuff are made of fillet net, while the quaintly shaped elbow effect with tabbed ends is of cloth. Most attractive, too, is the lace neckpiece illustrated with its knotted tie of soft silk. JUDIC CHOLLET.

MARINE TURTLES.

How They Are Stripped of Their Shells While Alive.

The shells shipped from the Colon district are taken from turtles caught on the Lagarto and San Blas coasts of the Caribbean sea during the months of May, June, July and August, when they approach the shore to deposit eggs, which are laid on the sandy beaches above high water mark at night. Holes are dug about one and a half feet deep and the eggs deposited therein. Generally about three layings are made during a period of nine weeks. The eggs are lightly covered with sand and left to be hatched out by the heat of the sun. The turtles are caught either while on shore or in the water by means of nets.

As a rule, they are killed immediately after being caught, cleaned and the shell frame washed with sand. But on the San Blas coast the Indians do not kill them, but at once proceed to remove the shell by subjecting the turtles to great heat, afterward throwing the turtles back into the sea. By the application of heat the successive plates of shell come off very easily.

Turtles caught in these waters vary in size from one to four and a half feet long, with a maximum weight of 150 pounds, and the average weight of shell obtained from each is from six to seven pounds. The commercial value of tortoise shell depends upon the thickness and size of the plates rather than upon the brilliancy of the colors.

They Waited Well.

A large audience once gathered in Baltimore to hear Professor Sylvester read a unique original poem of 400 lines, all rhyming with the name Rosalind. He had appended to the poem a large number of explanatory footnotes, which he said he would read first. When at last he had done so he looked up at the clock and was horrified to find that he had kept the audience an hour and a half before beginning to read the poem they had come to hear. The astonishment on his face was answered by a burst of good humored laughter from the audience, and then, after begging all his hearers to feel at perfect liberty to leave if they had engagements, he read the Rosalind poem.

No Mistake.

The editor was apologizing over the telephone for an annoying typographical error in his paper.

"In our account of the meeting at which you were chairman last night, colonel," he said, "we tried to say, 'Following is a detailed report of the proceedings,' but it appeared in print, as perhaps you have noticed, 'Following is a derailed report,' and so forth. Mistakes of that kind, you know, will"—

"It may have been an accident," interrupted the man at the other end of the wire, "but it wasn't a mistake. You sidetracked most of the report."—Chicago Tribune.

Antismoking Edicts.

Strenuous efforts have been made in times past to stamp out smoking. Among the rules of an English school in 1629 it was laid down that "a master must be a man of grave behavior, neither papist nor Puritan, no haunter of alehouses and no puffer of tobacco." In Turkey, where the pipe is now omnipresent, former sultans made smoking a crime, and offenders were punished by having their pipes thrust into their noses, while in Russia a royal edict ordered the noses of the smokers to be cut off.

A Political Issue At West Quincy

A largely attended meeting of the Republican campaign committee of West Quincy was held Wednesday night.

After a business session the matter of street railway accommodation was taken up and caused a lively discussion. Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed at the present service. A committee was appointed to act with a like committee of the Democrats to confer with President Sullivan of the Old Colony street railway in regard to obtaining better street car service on the West Quincy and East Milton line.

It was announced that if the desired service could not be obtained through Mr. Sullivan that an appeal would be taken to the Railroad Commissioners.

The committee appointed were Representative Sandberg, Councilman Ferguson, Commissioner Burke, Chairman Teasdale of the Board of Health and John M. O'Brien.

Mayor Thompson will be requested to act with the committee.

PRESS COMMENTS

On Building Big Battleship To Equal the Dreadnought

Uncle Sam should excel in battleships as well as in everything else. We want size, and speed, and turbines. A few press comments will be of interest:

TOPNOTCHERS.

Minneapolis Journal:—"Imagine the alarm of Richmond P. Hobson when he learns that Great Britain has built two Dreadnonghts disguised as cruisers. He will insist on our building seven Topnotchers disguised as ferryboats."

WITH TURBINES.

New York Sun:—"The force of argument seems to be in favor of the big ship and the single battery of powerful long range guns, especially as with the use of turbines a speed of more than twenty knots can be attained."

SAFE LIMIT.

Boston Record:—"The limit of safe construction for the present seems to have been reached."

"JUMBOMANIA."

New York World:—"The fact that our Bureau of Naval Construction is working on plans for a 20,000 ton battleship to match the Dreadnought and the announcement that American battleships may be built to equal the new English craft in fighting efficiency show the drift toward naval 'Jumbomania' here."

OUTDO THE OTHER.

Boston Globe:—"Every important navy department in the world seems to have caught the war vessel building fever, and each is endeavoring to outdo the other in the production of the most destructive engine upon the high seas."

A LIMIT.

Philadelphia Ledger:—"Of course a point will soon be reached where the depth of harbors will impose a limitation upon the weight and draught of fighting ships. Sea fighting will be reduced more to an exact science, to the application of mathematics and the the operation of machinery, and to the apparent exclusion of that personal element which is the heart of romance."

DELAY DISASTROUS.

Washington Post:—"We want ships as well armed, as well protected and as fast as any that have been built. We may not try to surpass the Dreadnought, but we must try to build her equal. Delay may cause disaster."

Tomorrow the Daily Ledger will print some press comments on submarine boats.

October 25 In History

In 1764—John Adams, the first President from Quincy, married Miss Abigail Smith, daughter of Rev. William Smith of Weymouth. On July 11, 1767, they became at Quincy the parents of a future President of these United States,—John Quincy Adams.

1780—John Hancock, born in Quincy, became the first Governor of Massachusetts under the Constitution. He was annually reelected until 1785, when he retired because of poor health. In 1787 he was again called to the gubernatorial chair and continued to serve until his death Oct. 8, 1793. He was Governor in 1792 when Quincy was incorporated as a town.

The Canal.

Contrary to expectations our citizens will not have an opportunity at the coming election to express themselves on the acceptance of Chapter 532 of the Acts of 1906, entitled "An Act to Incorporate the New York, Brockton and Boston Canal and Transportation Company."

The reason for this is that no work on the proposed canal is to be done in Quincy, although it begins in this city. As now proposed the work will commence between Weymouth and Braintree and the acceptance of the Act will only be submitted to the voters in the cities and towns where it is proposed to do any work.

The places where a vote will be taken on the question are Avon, Berkley, Braintree, Bridgewater, Dighton, Freetown, Holbrook, Randolph, Raynham, Somerset, West Bridgewater, Weymouth and the cities of Brockton and Tauton. Quincy citizens are however greatly interested in the proposed canal and if it is eventually built it can not fail to be of inestimatable value to Quincy.

For the Children.

The school children of Greater Boston are expectantly awaiting the arrival of next Monday afternoon, when they are to see at the Castle Square Theatre a performance of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" arranged especially for their benefit. Following the system inaugurates last season, the management of the Castle Square has arranged with the Twentieth Century Club whereby the educational committee of that organization should offer to pupils and teachers of the high schools and academies of Boston and vicinity a season of five classic plays beginning next Monday and continuing at intervals of a few weeks through the winter.

Opening Reception.

Saturday, October 27, the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association will have their opening reception from 7.30 to 9.30 P. M.

Among the features of the evening will be free bowling and pool, gymnasium exhibition, basket ball and refreshments.

Boys between the ages of 12 and 18 are cordially invited. Tickets of admission may be had by applying to boys' work director.

PILGRIM FRATERNITY

Annual Supper At Quincy Point Several Toasts on The Young Man

The young men's club, known as the Pilgrim Fraternity, composed of young men of the Point church, held a supper and entertainment Wednesday evening. Supper was served to 143 persons and even more were present at the entertainment, which consisted of the following after dinner speeches:

Introduction of Toastmaster, Rev. A. R. Atwood.

Response, S. C. Melville.

The Young Man's Physical Life, H. W. Long.

The Young Man on the Diamond, Capt. F. H. Smith.

The Young Man in Politics, Councilman Stone.

The Young Man in the Home, Mr. Claude Patch.

The Young Man in the Church, Rev. N. J. Sproul.

History of Pilgrim Fraternity, Rev. G. W. Fiske.

Capt. Smith distributed the letters "Q. P." to each member of the ball team. Toastmaster Melville made a number of pleasing remarks; he also presented to the two matrons, Miss Etta Lapham and Mrs. Holman, two bouquets of carnations.

The club has among its members and friends, many of physical, mental, moral and musical ability. Mr. and Mrs. James Melville rendered instrumental music during the supper hour. Mr. R. R. Patch and Miss Christine Johannott as accompanist, sang two appropriate selections. Mrs. Page of Madison avenue rendered two selections and by her winning way and beautiful voice won abundant applause.

We have not room to report in full the addresses, but quote the following from Mr. Claude Patch's address.

You have heard tonight of the young man in physical struggles, in political life and in business and are going to hear of him in church activities. Let me preface my few words about the young man in the home with a quotation from the Christ, "These ought ye to have done and not to leave the other undone."

So while a man has duties toward himself, physically, and toward others in politics, business and church life, he has also duties toward his home. The nation grew from the home and must ever look to the home for its safeguard. Let me quote again from Psalms 11: 3. "If the foundations be destroyed what can the righteous do?" If the home life of this nation is destroyed what can we do to prevent national calamity?

We all know President Roosevelt's strong views on preserving the American home. In a recent article ex-President Cleveland writes, "It is of vital importance that our countrymen should constantly see and feel, in a clear and conclusive way, that watchfulness is well repaid if it keeps secure and sound the simple virtues which make our American homes the abiding places of that love of husband and wife, that dutiful devotion of children to parents and that brotherly and sisterly unselfishness which in beautiful combination keep steady the patriotism of men and teach children the lessons of good citizenship."

There are two homes with which almost every young man has to do. The first is the home of which he becomes a member without his wishes being consulted, the home to which he is born and in which, unless he be unfortunate, he grows to young manhood. The other is the home which he makes of his own choice.

The young man is not responsible for the condition in which he finds the first home, but he is responsible to a certain degree for the condition in which he leaves it, for he must add to its happiness and make it as like as possible to that other home he hopes some day to make the best home on earth. His duty toward his second home, the one for which he will be responsible, starts while he is still a member of his first home.

Happy is he if his first home is such that he has but to copy it. If, however, he sees by comparing with other homes that there is something lacking in his own home life, he should study to find out those traits of character which will supply that lack in his new home and cultivate those traits in his own life.

The young man who looks forward to having a wife and home must make himself worthy of both, and cultivate habits of honesty and simple living which will make that home not only happy but a pillar of strength in the structure of the nation.

I will close with another quotation from ex-President Cleveland: "I know that the minor conscience of thousands of my countrymen will second the appeal I have made for greater simplicity in living and for more real home building throughout our land."

Military Funeral.

The body of Benjamin Howard Warren of Alberene, Va., arrived in Quincy last night from New York city, where funeral services were held at the Church of the Incarnation on Madison avenue on Wednesday. Among the mourners in New York were a large number of the members of the Military Order, Loyal Legion, United States. The interment was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery, at eleven o'clock this morning.

Many naval officers were present at the burial, coming from Boston on the 10.49 train. They met the body at the train and escorted it to the cemetery, where the committal service was given by Rev. William E. Gardner of Christ church.

FACTS AND FAKES

Guild's Text In Attacking the Record of Moran

SAYS HEARST IS BACKER

District Attorney Has Something to Say on the Liquor Question and Asks More Questions of Guild In Speech at Lynn

Newburyport, Mass., Oct. 25.—Governor Guild, at a Republican rally here last evening, attacked the record of John B. Moran as district attorney of Suffolk county. The hall was more than filled. Guild spoke in part as follows:

"My text tonight is facts and fakes. The fake presented is that my antagonist has worn himself out with the duties of his office. The fact is that he has devoted himself chiefly to politics and has paid less attention to the real duties of his office than any man who ever occupied it.

"The fake is that he is a poor man's candidate. The fact is that, as the Hearst candidate, he is backed by one of the richest men in the world.

"The fake is, to quote the gentleman in opposition, that Moran has no sympathy with the violators of the law, that no man is more feared by the criminal element. The fact is that he has not only used his power for a pretty general jail delivery of the hoboes, rounders and toughs in Charles street jail, but driven from the refuge of the Intemperate Women's home unfortunate women there being cured by an expert physician of the habit of intemperance. He not only put these unfortunate creatures back upon the street, but actually furnished them with money with which many of them, in a fair way to reformation, promptly bought liquor and again succumbed.

"The fake is that if governor he could force all district attorneys to enforce the law. The fact is that district attorneys are elected by the people and are independent of the governor. If a governor had the power my antagonist tries to make the people believe he has, I should have long ago forced the district attorney of Suffolk county to attend to the legitimate work of his own office.

"My antagonist flies into the air like a feather whenever I venture to breathe the suggestion that every vote for him is a vote for his backer, Hearst, in his camp of the political unclean beneath the yellow flag.

"He says he cares nothing for Hearst. I ask him, then: Why did you go to New York to see William R. Hearst? What did you say to Hearst? What did Hearst say to you?"

MORE QUESTIONS

Moran Hands Out a Few and Requests Guild to Answer

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 25.—John B. Moran spoke to an audience of 3500 in the City opera house last night, while 1500 others unable to get into the building attended two overflow meetings held in the street nearby. Moran plunged into his speech by saying:

"I come not as a Democrat or a Prohibitionist, not as an Independence Leaguer; not as a mob ruler, not as a czar, not as a Cossack, but as an American citizen born in this state, educated in the public schools and loving his country and its flag more than those who slander me from the public platform. All I ask is that those who oppose me in the Democratic lines should come out in the open like men of courage and fight on the other side."

Mr. Moran said that Governor Guild in a speech in Lynn had declared that he (Moran) had repudiated the Prohibition platform. "From any other man than Governor Guild," said Moran, "that statement would be a falsehood, but from the lips of the man who will cease to be governor after Nov. 6 I may say that it is prevarication. I believe in liberty and am ready to accord to any human being the liberty to use liquor or not."

Still addressing himself to Guild, Moran denied that he had repudiated the Democratic platform. "I wrote every plank in that platform," he said, "and I stand on it now. There are 33 planks in the platform and on every one of which I will send a message to the legislature on Jan. 1 next and if the legislature refuses to act I will go before the people and ask for a legislature that will act."

Mr. Moran then demanded that the newspapers print a series of questions which he wished propounded to Guild. The questions related to the governor's attitude on various issues, including the initiative and referendum, abolition of capital punishment, a drastic abortion law and many others.

Against Government Ownership

Dallas, Oct. 25.—At a banquet given last night by the citizens of Dallas to the Texas legislature, United States Senator Culberson made the first pronounced public utterance heard in this state against government ownership since Mr. Bryan proposed the scheme two months ago. Declaring at the outset that the future of the Democratic party depended on its adherence to its fundamental principles, and especially on its opposition to paternalism and centralization, he said that great as had been the offenses of the Republican party, any single proposal in its history was as naught compared with the policy of government ownership and operation of railroads. Culberson declared that the measure involved the most advanced and aggravated form of paternalism ever offered under a free government. His remarks were generously applauded.

Why Hearst Fought Trusts

New York, Oct. 25.—Demonstrative welcomes were given W. R. Hearst at several meetings addressed by him in Manhattan and Brooklyn last night. Hearst said: "I did not make the fight against the coal trust, in which I spent $250,000, to save the increased cost of coal at my home, but to save hundreds of thousands of dollars in increased cost of the homes of all the people. I did not fight the ice trust and the gas trust to save the increased cost of the ice and gas which I used in my own home, but to save the cost in your home and in all the homes in this city."

Many Aspirants For Office

Boston, Oct. 25.—The nomination papers which have been issued at the Democratic city headquarters indicate that the coming city campaign will be one of the most bitterly contested in the history of the city. More than 300 papers have been issued to men desiring to enter the contest for the common council. There has also been a proportionate rush for papers for aldermanic candidates, as well as for delegations to the municipal convention and for ward committees.

Hughes Interested In Labor

Cortland, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Charles E. Hughes was welcomed enthusiastically in Cortland last night. He made two addresses to audiences which tested the capacity of the halls. He charged Hearst with being "a corporation himself, despite his denunciation of all corporations," and declared his interest in labor and in labor legislation, declaring no cause would receive greater attention at his hands if he were chosen chief executive of the Empire state.

Election Appeals In Court

New York, Oct. 25.—With nearly 100 cases on the calendar, Justices Greenbaum and Dowling of the supreme court devoted all yesterday to the disposal of appeals taken from decisions of the board of elections. In practically all the cases the justices upheld the rulings of the board, thus paving the way for an immediate appeal to the appellate division of the supreme court.

Clark to Quit the Senate

Its victims are first attacked by a high fever and soon red blotches cover their bodies.

Negro Coachman's Story Denied

Pittsburg, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Mary S. Hartje, respondent in the recent sensational divorce suit instituted by her husband, was the principal witness for the commonwealth in the perjury case against Clifford Hooe, a negro, and former coachman of Hartje. Court's Orders Literally Obeyed

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 25.—The federal grand jury has resumed investigation of the charges of rebating against the Santa Fe Railroad company. Pursuant to the court's orders, the Santa Fe caused to be hauled to the courtroom two immense loads of old waybills, and other miscellaneous documents. The jurors and the government officials were somewhat stunned, but Santa Fe attorneys stated that it was merely the response to the cour's orders.

Light Company Negligent

Rochester, Oct. 25.—The Rochester Railway and Light company has been indicted on two counts by the grand jury on the charge of manslaughter in the second degree for the death of Miss Earnie Oppenheimer. Negligence is alleged in installing and maintaining a gas water heater in her home and it is also alleged that the gas supplied contained an excess of a deadly constituent.

Japanese May Boycott Us

Washington, Oct. 25.—It is feared that the feeling of resentment which the Japanese people are exhibiting over the anti-Japanese agitation in California may result in an anti-American boycott in Japan that will dwarf in magnitude the injury inflicted upon American trade in the Orient by the boycott in China.

Satisfies Labor Men

London, Oct. 25.—It is announced that the government has met the views of the labor members of the house of commons on the trades disputes bill. The attorney general has drafted an amendment to this bill which places union funds beyond the reach of attack.

Newfoundland Still Growling

St. Johns, Oct. 25.—A great degree of ill-feeling has been aroused by the action of the American naval tug Potomac, which accompanied three American fishing vessels on Monday to a point outside territorial waters and then later accompanied 100 Newfoundland fishermen who went out to join these vessels. Yesterday the Potomac returned to St. Johns, towing the three American vessels and 40 small boats, which Newfoundlanders had taken out from St. Johns for fishing purposes.

A CAMPAIGN MOVE

Straus' Appointment Thus Regarded In Some Quarters

MAKEUP OF THE CABINET

Preponderance of Easterners Gives Public Men Something to Talk About--Moody For the Supreme Bench

Washington, Oct. 25.—The only surprise in the announcement from the White House relating to the reorganization of the cabinet is that Oscar S. Straus is to enter the president's official family as secretary of the department of commerce and labor. The general impression among public men was that the president would go west for a new cabinet man.

In some quarters the disposition is to believe that the president selected Straus and made the announcement at this time with the hope of influencing the campaign in New York state. It is well known that the Hebrew vote in New York has been tending toward Hearst. Straus, as a leader of his race, may be able, it is suggested, to turn the tide in his state.

Naturally there is some disappointment among westerners here because the president has seen fit to take three members of his cabinet from New York state. With the coming in of Straus the administration is going to be pretty much of an eastern affair. With the president and three members of his cabinet from New York, one member from Massachusetts and one member from Maryland, the Atlantic coast will be in control. Of course, as a matter of fact, this is immaterial and yet it is a thing that public men will gossip about. The other changes in the cabinet had all been forestalled, and they seem to meet with general approval.

It is evident that the president is coming back to William H. Moody as the most available man for the vacancy on the supreme court. Secretary Taft has finally decided that he will not take the place. The president, after looking into the records of several men, seems to feel that Moody fills the bill. He may not be appointed, but the prospect is that he will be.

The announced intention of the president to appoint Moody came as a surprise, as it was generally understood that he had eliminated the attorney general from consideration in that connection because of the fact mainly that Massachusetts already had a representative on the bench in the person of Associate Justice Holmes. Moody's nomination will be sent to the senate when congress convenes, but the general expectation is that he will not take his seat on the bench until about Jan. 1, when, as previously announced, he expects to retire from the attorney generalship.

Mr. Straus has been a Democrat most of his life. In 1900 he became a Republican and voted for McKinley and Roosevelt and in 1904 supported Roosevelt and Fairbanks. In President Cleveland's first administration Straus served as minister to Turkey and he held the same office under President McKinley from 1897 to 1900.

With the entrance of Meyer into the cabinet there will be two men at the heads of executive departments who served as ambassador to Russia. The other is Mr. Hitchcock, secretary of the interior, who was appointed to his present office by McKinley and reappointed by Roosevelt.

Mr. Cortelyou and the two prospective members of the cabinet are comparatively young. Cortelyou is 44, Mr. Meyer 48 and Mr. Straus 55. Bonaparte and Straus are each of the average cabinet age. Cortelyou is the youngest member of the cabinet circle, and the president, who will be 48 on Saturday, comes next. Hitchcock and Wilson, both of whom were members of the original cabinet of President McKinley, are the oldest cabinet officers, each being 71. Taft is under 50 and Metcalf is 53. Root is 61 years old.

Griscom May Succeed Meyer

Washington, Oct. 25.—The fact that Mr. Meyer, American ambassador to Russia, is slated to become postmaster general next March has already led to gossip as to his probable successor to the Russian mission. The name of Lloyd C. Griscom of Pennsylvania, now ambassador to Brazil, has been mentioned as a most likely successor to Meyer.

Too Much "Bother" to Prosecute

New York, Oct. 25.—Mary Chartres, a maid in the employ of Mrs. John H. An attorney who represented Clews in court said that Clews "did not want to be further bothered about the case."

WRONG MAN ANSWERED

Killed by a Bullet Which Was Intended For Another

New Haven, Oct. 25.—Nicholas Ross, aged 24, was shot late yesterday through the head at the home of his brother-in-law, Luigui Florio, and died last night of his wounds. Joseph Martino is locked up, charged with the shooting. Following the death of Ross, Coroner Mix held an inquest, as a result of which a warrant charging Martino with murder in the first degree was issued.

It is said that the shooting was the result of hard feelings over an alleged lumber bill which Marinto claims that Charles Ross, the father of the dead man, owes him, and that the bullet was not intended for Nicholas Ross.

According to the police, a number of persons had been making merry at the home of Florio, and to which Martino came. He was invited in and was asked to have a drink. During his stay, it is said, words passed between him and Charles Ross over the alleged lumber bill. Following this Martino walked out of the house and called for "Ross," which the younger Ross answered, receiving as he opened the door a shot through the head. Another shot was fired which struck the doorpost.

Martino, who is a lightweight amateur boxer, took his arrest coolly.

ON COURT'S ADVICE

Cases Against "Holy Ghost" Sandford Nol Prossed

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Two Trials Resulted In Disagreement of Jury, While a Verdict of Guilty Was Returned In Another, but Set Aside by the Supreme Court

Lewiston, Me., Oct. 25.—All the cases in the Androncoggin county supreme court against Rev. Frank W. Sandford of Shiloh, leader of the "Holy Ghost and Us" society, including one charge of manslaughter and four of cruelty to children, have been nol prossed. Against each of the charges on the record of the clerk of the court has been written the memorandum: "Nol prossed on advice of the court."

Sandford has been tried three times on an indictment for manslaughter, alleging that the death of Leander Bartlett, 14 years old, who was one of the Shiloh colony, resulted from undue punishment inflicted for disobedience of the rules of the colony. It was alleged that the boy was deprived of nourishment and that, weakened by hunger, he was attacked with a sickness which resulted fatally.

The first trial, which was held in the Androscoggin county court in Auburn in January, 1904, resulted in a disagreement. On motion of Sandford's counsel, who thought the state of public opinion in the county prejudicial to their client's interests, a change of venue was secured and the second trial was held in the Franklin county court in Farmington in May, 1904. The jury, after less than an hour's deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty. Counsel for Sandford, however, appealed to the full bench of the supreme court, and the verdict was set aside and a new trial ordered. The third trial was held in the Androscoggin county court at Auburn in September, 1905, and again resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

At the clearing up of the docket of the term of court just closed in Auburn, County Attorney Crockett, who conducted the case against Sandford for the state in the third trial, was advised by Judge Wiswell, the presiding justice, and by other justices who were consulted, that in view of the expense that would be incurred and the difficulty that the state has met with in getting evidence in previous trials, it would be well to nol prosse the indictment. This was done in the case of the manslaughter charge and in that of the cruelty charges also.

Sandford is well known to Boston people, as he has made several attempts to convert that city. The most important try was made in 1900, when he went there with all sorts of trumpetings and heraldings and said that he was to make Boston a clean and pure city in less than a week.

After six years of preaching under roofs, Sandford purchased a big circus tent and began to go from town to town, holding revival meetings. All the time he was accepting gifts, although he had no stated salary.

A trip to the Holy Land gave him more advanced ideas, and upon his return he started the "Holy Ghost and Us" society, of which he is the leader. His first convert was a hard old farmer, who not only became converted, but gave all his lands in Shiloh. Hundreds flocked to Sandford's standard and the money poured in. About this time he claimed to have raised a woman named Olive Mills from the dead and to have cured innumerable men and women of horrible diseases.

A few years ago there was a great uprising against him in Maine and he was charged with many crimes. He was convicted and paid a fine for cruelty to his own child, the fine being $100 and the costs $76.42. From other cases he fled in his yacht, and at one time was thought to have perished in a storm. At present he is in Jerusalem.

Locomotive on River Bed

Pittsburg, Oct. 25.—Running at a speed estimated at 50 miles an hour, a fast train between Cleveland and Pittsburg was side-swiped by the caboose of a freight train near Bellevue station, five trainmen being injured in the wreck, all of whom will recover. A score of passengers were cut by flying glass. The collision with the caboose threw the engine down an embankment and it slid into the Ohio river.

Should Save Our Landscapes

Milwaukee, Oct. 25.—"Tax the billboards out of existence" will be the battle cry of the American Civic association for the next year as a result of plans decided on at its annual convention. Aggressiveness against billboards characterized all the addresses before the convention, it being maintained that the American people must wage war against the desecration of our landscapes.

Both Men Lost Their Rolls

A robbery that is surrounded with mystery took place during Wednesday night at the residence of J. K. Morton on Upland road. The facts as reported are as follows:

T. J. Fitzgerald, a telephone lineman, has a room at the Morton house. Wednesday evening he met a young man from the Fore River who was to leave this morning for Bath, Me.

Fitzgerald agreed to take the young man in for the night. Before going home they visited a restaurant in City Square for a lunch. As they entered one of a crowd outside asked them for some change, and were given some.

After eating their lunch the Fore River man pulled out his roll and paid the bill, and says he saw the crowd outside watching him.

They then went to their room and each placed his money on the bureau for the night.

Fitzgerald had something like $20 and the other fellow $40. During the night it is said they heard a noise of someone moving about, but thought nothing of it. When they got up both rolls were gone.

An examination of the house showed that as far as could be seen the windows and doors had not been tampered with, and the Morton family missed nothing, although there were gold watches and jewelry that could easily have been taken.

Man Killed At Shipyard

Charles Nordquist, aged about 30 years, was instantly killed this morning at the Fore River shipyard. The unfortunate man was at work in the hole of the steamer Creole at the time.

Some lumber was being hoisted aboard the Creole, when it struck an angle iron. Owing to the wet weather the ropes were slippery, and the load fell into the hole, striking Nordquist on the head, causing instant death.

Nordquist lived at 24 Clark avenue, West Quincy. He leaves a widow to whom he was married two weeks ago.

Medical Examiner Jones viewed the body and gave it in charge of Undertaker Hall.

Automobile Wedding

The Union of Manchester, N. H., reports the following marriage of local interest:

Miss Mabel Legg, one of Dover's accomplished and most estimable young women, was united in marriage at noon Oct. 17 to Eugene Demerritt of Quincy, Mass., formerly of Durham.

The ceremony took place in Beverly, Mass., and was performed by the Rev. E. A. Hoyt of that city, formerly pastor of the Pierce Memorial church. Miss Kate Legg, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Harry Legg, a brother of the bride, was best man.

The bridal party went from Dover to Beverly in an auto, leaving at 8 o'clock A. M., and returned at 5 o'clock, P. M. going to the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Abiah Legg, 85 Fourth street, where a reception was held and a wedding repast served.

Mr. and Mrs. Demerrett left on the 7.20 o'clock train for a brief wedding trip. On their return they will reside in Quincy, Mass. They were the recipients of a large number of presents.

SARTORIAL ITEMS.

A New Garment For the Baby—Tartan Plaids Abound.

A dainty little garment considered necessary for baby's needs is the sweetest mite of a chemise made exactly on the lines of a grownup affair. It is of the finest lawn, simply hemmed on the bottom and decorated over the breast with sprays of tiny flowers in white embroidery. The neck is finished with a bit of fine lace threaded with pink or blue ribbon, which ties in a bow on each shoulder. There is no connection at this point, so that when the ribbon is untied the chemise is readily slipped off and on without the slightest discomfort to the baby.

Tartan plaids as usual come in with the first hint of autumn. This year they are the richer colorings in Scotch and gay French effects. As a rule they are used only as trimming or for skirts to be worn with a plain jacket.

Suppleness is still the ruling characteristic of materials of all kinds, and messaline silks are promised as the favorite fabric for evening wear—messaline softer and lovelier than ever.

Square necks are very popular, really no lower than collarless effects. And V necks are even more popular and becoming.

The stunning little hat sketched is of brown felt in a delightfully soft shade of chestnut. The bandeau at the back is slightly raised and filled in with loops of brown velvet ribbon. A brown quill and a bunch of berries are a becoming feature at one side of the chapeau. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Reason.

Reason, reason as much as you like, but beware of thinking that it answers to everything, suffices for everything, satisfies everything. This mother loses her child. Will reason comfort her? Does cool reason counsel the inspired poet, the heroic warrior, the lover? Reason guides but a small part of many, and that is the least interesting. The rest obey feeling, true or false, and passion, good or bad.

—The breach of promise case of Grace O. Colburn of Milford vs. Charles E. Marble of Bellingham is on trial in the Norfolk Superior court at Dedham.

Boys' Supper

The Galahad club of Christ's church gave a baked bean supper Wednesday evening in the parish house. The supper was prepared for and served entirely by the boys, under the direction of the following efficient committee: Chairman, John Spargo, Hammond Pride, James King, Ellis Young, Percy Fox.

At the conclusion of the supper, Prof. Erastus Osgood entertained the boys with inpersonations and banjo solos. All the selections were of the highest order and were so humorous and so well done that the youthful audience was kept in laughter from beginning to end. About fifty boys attended.

—The home missions board of the Presbyterian church in New York City is having constructed for shipment in sections to the Panama canal zone an entire church structure and parish house building for the use of the Presbyterian mission there. The church structure is to cost $10,000.

SUBMARINE SCIENCE

Some Press Views Concerning The Use of Submarine Boats

Mammoth battleships and little submarine boats are the subjects of considerable newspaper comment. Both may be seen at the Fore River shipyard in this city. The battleship Vermont is larger than any warship that has entered Boston harbor. Mr. Spear of the Electric Boat Co. will tell you that submarine boats have passed the experimental stage, and he is confident that the Cuttlefish and Octopus already launched will make good. They are far superior to European submarines.

IN ITS INFANCY.

Rochester Democrat and Chronicle:—"Submarine science, like that of navigating the air with certainty, is still in its infancy."

TO BE ENCOURAGED.

New Orleans Times Democrat:—"As experiments the boats are to be encouraged, but the navy generally is probably correct in not attaching much military value to the type as it has thus far been developed."

COULD NOT OCCUR.

Buffalo Commercial:—"An accident like that to the Lutin could hardly occur to an American submarine. It is expected this will be demonstrated in coming tests in Narragansett Bay."

WHAT MAY HAPPEN.

Philadelphia Inquirer:—"It will not take many more accidents to eliminate the submarine from naval armaments through the impracticability of obtaining crews."

A QUESTION.

Cleveland Leader:—"Are not these craft so dangerous to those operating them that their use should be discontinued?"

NO ADVANTAGE.

Washington Star:—"There is no advantage in exposing human beings to destruction for the sake of the technical approximation of actual service conditions."

UNFAIR WARFARE.

Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch:—"It would seem to be very proper for the next international conference at The Hague to take this matter under consideration with a view to terminating the efforts at unfair warfare by submarine boats."

A Tip to Young Writers.

Young writers aim high. They struggle gamely, but they seldom succeed, for only a few get out of the ruck in each generation.—Cleveland (Ohio) Leader.

No; that is not what ails their "copy" It is that they insist on writing on both sides of the paper.—New York Herald.

Then they crowd the pages too much, not leaving any margin or space between lines. Of course they "were in a hurry" but it is the "pace that kills."

A Good Sportsman.

George F. Elcock is not all the time growing dahlias and hunting rattlesnakes. He shot a fox on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. One of them weighing fourteen pounds. His son, Ambrose Elcock, also shot a very fine one on Saturday last.

Mr. Elcock is very fond of the sport and has one of the best packs of fox hounds it is possible to get, and being a crack shot in the woods the fox he gets after is very lucky if he does not lose his brush.

HUSBAND'S DINNER PAIL.

Another Burden Lifted From the Shoulders of Women.

To put up a luncheon or dinner to be eaten away from home, one that will taste as good as a meal from the home table, is a problem that many wives face with fear and trembling. But wives who read the Household Department of the Boston Daily Globe do not have any trouble on that score.

Order the Boston Globe delivered regularly at your home.

A Presentation By Loyal Ladies

At the last regular meeting of the Loyal Ladies of Clan McGregor No. 1, an occurrence somewhat out of the ordinary run of business took place.

This was the first meeting which Mrs. Fanny Wood has attended since her return from a three months' visit to Scotland, and as Mrs Wood is one of the most popular as well as one of the hardest workers in the organization, the members unanimously agreed that they should show some appreciation of her services for the good of the order by presenting her with some token of their esteem.

After the routine duties had been transacted, President Marjorie Milne, in a few well chosen remarks, in which she commented on Mrs. Wood's long connection with the order, during which she was always ready to respond at the call of sickness or distress, presented Mrs. Wood with an elegant silver service.

Mrs. Wood was completely taken by surprise, but she responded feelingly. She was also the recipient of a beautiful bunch of chrysanthemums from Mrs. William Patterson.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge and the Loyal Ladies' Sextet gave some instrumental and vocal selections.

CHURCH WEDDING

The Bride And Groom Both Well Known In Braintree

Although Thursday was showery, the evening was pleasant, the moon sending forth her silvery rays to bless the union of Miss Frances Elizabeth Dike and Mr. Merton Leslie Emerson of Braintree, who were married at 8 o'clock at Christ church, Quincy.

Before the appointed hour the church was completely filled with guests from Braintree, Quincy and surrounding towns. The ushers were Rollin McCulloch Gallagher, Harvard '05, of Concord, Mass.; Currier Lang, Tech '04, Detroit, Mich,; Dr. Clayton M. Marstin, Braintree; Charles Fuller Stoddard, Boston; William Withington Gallagher, Harvard '03, Braintree; and Leonard Wheeler Newell, Boston.

Wendell Luce, at the organ, played while the guests were gathering, and at eight o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party entered the church, preceded by the choir boys of the church. First came the ushers, the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Loring Dike of New York, sister of the bride, and the bride with her uncle, Dr. John Dike of Melrose, who also gave her in marriage.

At the chancel was the groom, attended by his brother, Carleton Murray Emerson of Braintree, as best man. Rev. William E. Gardner rector of the church solemnized the marriage using the full impressive Episcopal service.

After the ceremony the bride and groom lead the way down the broad aisle to the resounding notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride looked particularly charming in a princesse gown of white chiffon over silk, with yoke and bertha of princesse lace. The tulle veil was caught with a wreath of fragrant orange blossoms and the bouquet was of lilies of the valley. Her sole ornament was a necklace of pink topaz and diamonds. In delicate contrast was the maid of honor in a pink crepe de chine, trimmed with Irish lace. Her bouquet was of pink chrysanthemums.

The church decorations were pink chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

Among the guests were many of the groom's classmates and young friends of the bride. Also were noticed Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Porter and Miss Elizabeth Porter of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robbins, Jr., of Cambridge, Mrs. John H. Whitney, Miss Mary Wardwell of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. George O. Wales and many others from Braintree.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ellen Loring Dike of Braintree, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Emerson also of Braintree. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Emerson are to reside at 575 Washington street, Braintree.

High Tribute by Former Pastor

Thursday afternoon, at four o'clock, brief services were held in the chapel of First church in memory of one of the former residents of Quincy, Mr. William R. Polson. He was known and respected by many of our townspeople and will also be remembered as having married Miss Whitney, the only daughter of the oldtime merchant, William F. Whitney of the firm of Whitney & Nash.

The chief services were held in Brooklyn, N. Y., Wednesday evening. The beautiful home of Mr. Polson was crowded with the relatives, friends and business associates of the deceased who were moved in an unusually deep degree by the unexpected passing of one whom they so greatly loved and respected. Their feelings were expressed in a measure through their floral tributes which were in beauty and multitude, beyond anything most of those present had ever seen. Services impressive for their simplicity were conducted by the Rev. D. M. Wilson, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Cadman of Brooklyn.

The services here in Quincy were also conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wilson. Friends and relatives were present from Boston and neighboring towns as well as from our own city and the floral contributions were numerous. After the reading of a brief selection of scriptures the Rev. Mr. Wilson made a short address, speaking in substance as follows:

We are pausing for a moment dear friends before we committo its kindred dust the remains of a son of Massachusetts and a former resident of Quincy. Here in the heart of the old town so familiar to him, here in this sacred place which has been the church home of many of us and of those dear to us, we commune together, before we go on our separate ways, in the memory of the beloved husband, brother, friend. In the old homestead which used to stand in sight of this temple I united him in marriage just twenty-four years ago tomorrow, to one born into this church. How happy that union proved! how rich in love and hospitality the home thus founded!

Just twenty-four years ago he departed for New York, full of hope, ambitions to work out a career. And how well he succeeded. How rapidly he forged to the front and all by virtue of his own native abilities and sterling character. His clear judgment, his remarkable grasp of details, his industry, commanded attention and won for him promotion.

He became one of the chief managers of the largest printing firm in the country and its treasurer; he was chosen director of one of the important Brooklyn banks, and one of the beneficient hospitals of that city, and served as trustee and trusted official of other kindred organizations. He filled a large place in the social and business life of that community. But he was not only widely trusted; he was widely beloved. Everywhere he made friends, because he was so loyal, unselfish and friendly himself. He aimed to be a man; to treat every man in a manly fashion, and to live an honest, clean, high-hearted ife; and he succeeded.

His was a successful life in character and achievement; a full life though death came untimely. It was because of its fullness, because of his too generous acceptance of responsibilities, because he shirked nothing and gave the strength of soul and body to every duty, that his days were shortened. But he is now at rest. With us he lives and will live as an inspiration to all that is generous, large hearted, friendly and faithful.

After the services the remains were interred in the Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Will Improve Property.

The purchase of the Fallon property on Cottage avenue by Henry L. Kincaide means that the property will be improved at an early date. The lot contains about 7,000 square feet and fronts Cottage avenue and Hancock street. Mr. Kincaide says that his plans for improving the proberty have not assumed definite shape as yet. It is probable, however, that he will erect a business block on the site with stores on the street floor and tenements overhead. There is an urgent demand for tenements in Quincy and as this location is a central one he will have no difficulty in letting them.

Moran Collapses at a Meeting In Fall River

LEGISLATION ON LIQUOR

Three-Party Candidate Criticises Governor For Signing Certain Measures--Guild Says His Opponent Has Failed In Duty

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 26.—After speaking at two rallies last evening, one a densely crowded affair in the Academy of Music, and the other an overflow meeting in Anawan hall, John B. Moran collapsed and stimulants had to be administered to revive him.

Mr. Moran spoke for an hour in the Academy of Music, following closely other speeches made during the campaign. He then walked over to Anawan hall, a short distance away, and talked for 20 minutes, practically repeating his first speech in a condensed form. At the conclusion he sank into a chair, his head fell forward on the table and two physicians jumped to his assistance. A glass of water with a powder in it was given him and he revived sufficiently to walk to his carriage. He spent the night in this city.

Mayor Coughlin presided at the meeting in the Academy of Music and G. F. Williams spoke for nearly an hour before the candidate arrived. Moran was greeted with cheers that lasted for a minute or more. He took up the various issues of the campaign, dealing particularly with the liquor legislation at the recent session of the legislature. He said that the action of the legislature in passing and the governor in signing the special measures for the protection of the liquor dealers, the so-called Touraine bill, the 12 o'clock bill, the pony express, and the pharmacy bill, is destructive to political government and incites political corruption.

"I wrote practically all the planks in the Democratic platform and after Jan. 1 in my inaugural address I shall advocate their enforcement. Before the contest is over Guild will realize that he stands on one side and that I stand on the other and that he will have all he can do to answer the questions that I shall propound.

"I have no political affiliation with Hearst and no affiliations with Bryan, but before we are through with this campaign they will hold me responsible for what happened in the Garden of Eden."

Mr. Moran again attacked the appointment of Dana as a superior court judge, claiming that he had no experience in court affairs and that he had never tried a case. He denounced the lobby as a crime and said that lobbyists should be driven from the state house. He closed by saying that Guild was pleading for everyone's vote, while he (Moran) only asked people to vote as their conscience dictated.

REPOSE IN PIGEONHOLES

Cases Against Trusts Are Neglected, According to Guild

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 26.—Governor Guild was the principal speaker at a Republican rally in Court Square theatre last night. The theatre was filled and a crowd of people outside endeavored to gain admission. Guild said in part:

"One of the fictions of this campaign—and I exposed a number of them at Newburyport last night—is that my opponent is a great social reformer driven to death's door by battling against the trusts in the interests of the people. But the Boston Globe this morning at last announces the fact.

"The fact is that Mr. Moran has been taking cough mixture for a hoarse cold, occasioned by talking politics while notoriously neglecting the real duties of his office; and that the only trust matter ever touched by him lies forlorn, neglected, and unacted upon in his office pigeon-holes. The district attorney of Suffolk not only has never secured a verdict against a trust, he has never tried a case against a trust. The public has yet to learn that he has even tried to try a case against a trust.

"Last night at Lynn he proposed a game of 'twenty questions' with me, only he makes the number now 13. The game is impossible to play with him. No human being can answer the first preliminary question, for you can't tell whether his campaign is animal, vegetable or mineral. Hearst for president; Bryan for president; me—Moran for president; promises of a violation of his oath of office to support the Constitution in the matter of sending messages to the legislature if elected; pledges that he will disobey the statutes by evading them in regard to the making of appointments if elected. The records of his office prove that he has failed utterly in achievement, and that the only thing he has dared to do is to dare to advertise."

Governor Guild addressed a series of questions to Moran bearing on his administration of affairs as district attorney. He asked Moran why he had failed to use the unlimited power given him for the prosecution of serious crimes. He demanded to know why Moran had not prosecuted a member of the state legislature who was expelled for taking a bribe or why he did not get after the men suspected of bribing him.

"I want you," said Guild, "to tell the people of this commonwealth why you have abandoned 100 more criminal cases than were not prossed by your predecessor. I want you to tell why, of the criminals who pleaded guilty or were convicted, 60 percent more were released on probation than were released by your predecessor."

The governor also asked the district attorney why he had failed to prosecute the persons responsible for the failure of a Boston bank.

Roosevelt Worried Over New York

Washington, Oct. 26.—There is a good deal of quiet talk here to the effect that the president is not satisfied with the management of the New York campaign. The departure of George B. Cortelyou for New York has increased this talk. It is not understood that the administration is displeased with the work of Herbert Parsons, the president's representative in New York city, but, rather, that the criticism is directed against the management of things by Timothy L. Woodruff, the state chairman. As nearly as can be learned Cortelyou has gone to the state at the request of the president to find out if he can just what the situation is and what needs to be done during the next 10 days.

Candidates on the Jump

New York, Oct. 26.—With Hughes in Ithaca last night and Hearst at Madison Square Garden in this city, the gubernatorial campaign of the respective candidates was carried on at widely separated points and with unabated vigor. At Madison Square Garden there was a great gathering of union labor to ratify the nomination of Hearst by the Democratic and Independence League parties and three speeches by the candidate. The crowds were enthusiastic and demonstrative. Hughes began his speech-making at Binghamton, with two talks to large crowds. He traveled thence to Ithaca, where he spoke twice last night.

Predicts Hearst Landslide

New York, Oct. 26.—Chairman Conners of the Democratic state committee last night said that he thought that there would be a "landslide" for Hearst. He said that the tide had turned towards Hearst during the last 48 hours and that in his opinion he would have a plurality of from 150,000 to 200,000 in the state.

Cubans Have Dueling Fever

Havana, Oct. 26.—Two duels, in which three of the combatants received injuries which disabled them, were fought in Havana yesterday. City Councilman Mendoza alleged offensive editorial expressions by Eduado Alonzo, an editorial writer on El Mendo, and they fought with broadswords, each sustaining a severe cut in the arm. Dr. Secades fought Captain Poey because of an alleged personal insult during a political discussion. In this fight Poey was badly wounded by a sword thrust in the leg.

Money or Life Wanted

New York, Oct. 26.—Frederick O. Bowers of Watertown, Conn., who six years ago was adjudged insane and sent to a sanitarium, which he left two weeks ago, appeared in the office of the Lawyers' Title and Guarantee Trust company in Brooklyn and threatened to kill everyone present unless he was granted a loan at once of $1400. The police were notified and Bowers was arrested on a charge of vagrancy.

Switchmen Stick to Demands

Chicago, Oct. 26.—A compromise of 2 cents an hour increase in wages offered by the railroads was rejected by committees representing the Switchmen's union all over the country. The men are holding out for a minimum scale of 42 cents an hour for firemen, 38 cents for helpers and an eight-hour day. Both sides express the belief that there will be no strike.

Warships' Presence Not Necessary

Washington, Oct. 26.—The collapse of the rebellion in Santo Domingo will make unnecessary the presence of a number of warships there and it is expected that orders will be issued in a day or two for the withdrawal of about one half of these ships. It is expected that it will be possible to withdraw the remaining half before the end of the current year.

Bad Meat Seizures In London

London, Oct. 26.—Replying to a question in the house of commons, President Burns of the local government board said that of 418 tons of meat seized and condemned at the Smithfield meat market, London, between July 19 and Sept. 13, 24 tons came from the United States and 232 tons from Argentina.

Another Great Strike Reported

St. Petersburg, Oct. 26.—A telegram from General Kaulbars, governor general of Odessa, reports that an extended strike has broken out in southern Russia. The entire body of workmen in the railroad shops in three cities, numbering more than 10,000, have quit work and are raising the black flag.

Many Victims of Fire

Kansas City, Oct. 26.—Four persons are known to be dead, eight others are missing, two are fatally injured and 50 are suffering from hurts as the result of a fire which destroyed the Chamber of Commerce building in Kansas City, Kan. It is thought that the total dead will be about 10.

Woman Suffrage Up to Senators

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 26.—The woman suffrage bill passed the house of representatives by a vote of 130 to 25. The bill is intended to give women the right to vote in town and city elections. It has not yet come before the senate.

TO PLACATE JAPAN

Washington Will Endeavor to Show Her Friendliness

BOYCOTT MUCH FEARED

Trade Blow Would Be One of Utmost Seriousness--Outline of Incidents Leading to Anti-American Agitation

Washington, Oct. 26.—The administration is taking notice of the anti-American agitation in Japan and will do all it can to convince the Japanese that there is the friendliest feeling on the part of the United States toward the Japanese government and its people.

Investigation reveals that a series of incidents is responsible for the somewhat widespread feeling in Japan that the United States is unfriendly. The killing of the Japanese fishermen caught poaching in Bering sea was the first of these incidents. Recently the city of San Francisco decided to compel the Japanese children to attend separate schools, and following that, information went to Japan that the Pacific coast states were moving to secure legislation to prevent Japanese immigration into this country. And then came the resignation of Asahi Kitigaki, a midshipman at the United States naval academy at Annapolis.

The administration is now endeavoring to clear up misapprehensions with respect to this series of incidents. It is said officially that there has been no friction over the killing of the Japanese poachers and that none is anticipated. The action of the school authorities of San Francisco is a matter with which the federal government, of course, has nothing to do.

As for the effort to prohibit the immigration of Japanese it can be stated authoritatively that such a movement is not under consideration by the administration, and if congress should enact such a law, of which there is no probability, the president would veto the bill.

Now as to the Japanese student at Annapolis: It is officially said at the navy department that the young man left the naval academy because he failed in his studies. The notice that he had failed came to the department in the regular way through a report by Admiral Sands. The navy department turned the report over to the state department, which notified the Japanese minister that the young man was deficient in his rating. The ambassador expressed regret and said he would request the midshipman to resign, which he did. In his communication the Japanese ambassador thanked the department for the consideration it had shown Asahi Kitigaki. The navy department says the young man left the academy under the same conditions that every year compel young Americans to leave the school.

This government is anxious to have that friendship continue. It will do its utmost to have Japan so understand. It feels confident that the Japanese government realizes that President Roosevelt and his advisors have no sympathy with the California movement, but it is concerned that any of the Japanese people should entertain the mistaken notion that a few agitators on the Pacific coast represent the popular sentiment of this country.

Something will be done soon to show the attitude of the government, and it is understood that the extent to which the administration deprecates the attempt to discriminate against Japanese residing in America will be made clear. The administration, however, finds itself almost powerless to prevent misunderstanding in the present crisis in its relations with Japan.

No doubt need be entertained that the administration in Washington will continue to co-operate with the government in Tokio for the maintenance of the friendship so highly prized by both. The fear in this capital is, however, that the people of Japan will not be able to distinguish between the attitude of the government of the United States and the attitude of a few agitators.

The most hopeful sign in the present embarrassing situation is that no formal protest has come from Japan concerning the exclusion of Japanese children from San Francisco schools. This indicates that the Tokio government has not been carried away by the agitation against the United States, but still has faith in the friendliness of its western admirer.

The Feeling In Japan

Tokio, Oct. 26.—It is believed here that the anti-Japanese feeling existing in America is confined to the labor element in California. The tone of the Japanese press is sobering down. Thoughtful Japanese believe that if the country allowed itself to be carried away by a momentary excitement against America, this would only play into the hands of those who are anxious to alienate foreign sympathies from Japan. It is generally felt that the friendship between America and Japan is too deep rooted to be sacrificed through local animosities.

Railroad Discharging Conductors

Montreal, Oct. 26.—There is a wholesale dismissal of Grand Trunk railway conductors under way. Fourteen men were dismissed yesterday on the run between Toronto and Portland. In all about 50 will probably be dismissed. No official statement can be obtained as to the reasons for the dismissal.

BATTLE IMPENDING

Single Troop of Cavalry Facing Defiant Ute Indians

BIG BLIZZARD PREVAILS

Reinforcements Being Rushed to Aid In Subduing Rebellious Redskins, Who Are Camped In the Famous Bad Lands

Gillette, Wyo., Oct. 26.—On the Little Powder river, but a few miles from the famous battleground where Custer fought his last battle, a single troop of United States cavalry is holding at bay 300 defiant Ute Indians, while from Fort Robinson, Neb., and Fort Meade, S. D., reinforcements are racing against a blizzard to the assistance of the federal troops.

Troop M of the Tenth cavalry, under the command of Major Grierson, are the troops which are standing in the path of the Utes, who refuse to return to their reservation, and Major General Greely has dispatched two more troops to the prospective scene of battle under rush orders.

At the present time the terrible storm which has been raging, but which is now rapidly subsiding, has been the only hindrance to the Indians, who are waiting for an abatement before they make the move which may mean another Indian war.

Little Powder river, where the Utes are now camped, is one of the most dreaded regions of the famous Bad Lands and is a territory every foot of which is known by the crafty redmen.

This region, in the heart of Crook county, is a short distance from the reservations of the Rosebuds, in the Nebraska, and the Shoshones to the west.

With the abatement of the storm the Indians are sure to move, and if the reinforcements fail to arrive at the scene, troop M will have to face the ugly Utes in an endeavor to drive them back to their reservation to the southeast.

If the reinforcements arrive before the Indians attempt to move, the force will be sufficiently large to handle the situation, although there is absolutely nothing which will prevent bloodshed except the unconditional surrender of the Utes, and this they have flatly denied.

Reports of an engagement between a small body of the Indians and a number of cowboys, some miles to the west of the Indian camp, indicates that the Utes have made an endeavor to reach the Shoshone reservation, presumably for the purpose of enlisting that tribe in their warfare.

The meagre reports which have reached this city fail to state whether or not the Indians were successful in getting a detail past the cowboys, but it is feared that they have done this and in case the Shoshones favor the proposition, one of the worst Indian outbreaks in years is imminent.

The location of the present threatening situation is about 50 miles north of this city.

The Indians in this locality are peaceful and inoffensive, and no trouble is expected from that quarter unless the Utes secure the assistance of the Shoshones and there is a general engagement.

"Velvet" For Telegraph Operators

Topeka, Oct. 26.—The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway announces that all station telegraph operators who handle Western Union messages will henceforth be given 10 percent of all the revenue derived from this class of work. About 750 operators are affected. Six weeks ago the Santa Fe increased the pay of 1000 operators, and the aggregate increases in income for the employes a year is $65,000.

Posse Captures Bank Robbers

Cadiz, O., Oct. 26.—After a desperate encounter between a posse of armed citizens and officials on one side and six alleged bank robbers on the other, the latter were rounded up at Jewett and brought to this place and placed in jail. The men are charged with having dynamited the safe of the First National bank at Bowerston. The robbers, who escaped on a handcar, were pursued by the posse, who captured them.

Views of Liquor Dealers

Newark, N. J., Oct. 26.—Prohibitionists and anti-saloonists were criticised in resolutions adopted at the convention of the National Liquor League of the United States. The resolutions declared that "anti-saloon agitators promote evasion and disregard of law and indirectly the commission of crime."

Fire Destroys Arms Factory

Paris, Oct. 26.—The Barriquand & Marres arms factory in this city was destroyed by fire last night. This factory was one of the most important in France. The losses are placed at many millions of francs. A number of firemen were injured and a woman died of fright during the fire.

Barkentine and Two Men Lost

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 26.—The barkentine Skagit, for Port Gamble, drove ashore on the Vancouver Island coast. Captain Ross and the cook were drowned. The mate and seven men reached shore. The Skagit is a wreck.

Hundreds of Lives Lost

CORONER SAYS SUICIDE

Body of Woman Recently Missing Found Floating In Bay

Brunswick, Me., Oct. 26.—The body of a woman believed to be Mrs. Lucy A. Carleton of Southbridge, Mass., was found late last night floating in the water of Merrymeeting bay. This discovery followed the finding early yesterday of a dress suit case containing the clothing of a woman and other articles which apparently belonged to Mrs. Carleton.

Although the identity of the body has not been absolutely established, the coroner says he has no doubt, from the description, that it is that of Mrs. Carleton. There were no marks of foul play on the body and the coroner is of the opinion that it is a case of suicide. The fact that the body was found floating, notwithstanding that the woman was seen alive Wednesday morning, occasioned surprise, but the coroner says that would not necessarily conflict with the theory of suicide.

Jurors Dismissed From Service

Boston, Oct. 26.—After they had brought in a verdict of not guilty for Thomas F. Burns of South Boston, who was charged with illegal liquor selling, and after their foreman had explained in answer to Judge Bond's questioning that the evidence of police officers in the case had been regarded as unreliable, 12 jurymen were dismissed from further attendance at the present term of the superior court. They filed from the room amid a buzz of comment from the spectators. The trial was the outcome of Burns' appeal from a $50 fine in the South Boston district court.

Exceeded Contract Requirements

Boston, Oct. 26.—Battleship Minnesota, a product of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company, had a very successful four-hour endurance trial off the New England coast, maintaining an average speed of 18.86 knots an hour. Her contract speed is 18 knots an hour. The trial, which followed Wednesday's screw standardization test in Penobscot bay, was made under particularly adverse conditions, the big battleship plunging into a very heavy head sea all the way from start to finish.

Ownership of Ponds Questioned

Nantucket, Mass., Oct. 26.—The fact that the state of Massachusetts has finally decided to assume control of the great ponds of Nantucket is made public, and it is probable that the proprietors of the common and undivided lands, who for 200 years have claimed the ownership of the ponds, will contest the decision in the courts. The ownership of the ponds is of vital importance to Nantucket, especially to the cranberry industry.

Tried to Smuggle Aliens

Boston, Oct. 26.—Tito Faggione, steward in the officers' quarters on the steamship Romanic, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with willfully attempting to smuggle aliens into this country and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment in jail by Judge Dodge. The sentence was reduced in view of the fact that the defendant had already spent nearly two months in jail awaiting trial and had pleaded guilty.

Heavy Trading In Wool

Boston, Oct. 26.—The volume of business concluded in the Boston wool market for the past week, which aggregated 25,000,000 pounds, approaches, if it does not exceed, the record of trading for this market. The bulk of the business was in territory and fleece wools. One consumer alone purchased in the neighborhood of 20,000,000 pounds of wool, a large percent of which was Montana.

To Improve Railroad Service

Waterbury, Conn., Oct. 26.—President Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, in a speech here last night, said that when the railroad improvements now under way in this vicinity were completed he hoped to see through trains from Boston to New York, giving the Naugatuck valley the service without change of cars to which its business and population entitles it.

Maine Schooner Wrecked

Machias, Me., Oct. 26.—Schooner Glenullen of Machias, owned and commanded by Captain Mitchell, is ashore on Ram island. She will be a total loss. Mitchell and the crew of three were taken off by the crew from the Cross Island life saving station. The schooner, which was bound from Boston to this port, misstayed while working through the narrows in a heavy southeast wind.

Used Cannon to Kill Himself

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 26.—A toy cannon was the weapon used by Joseph H. Gifford, aged 28, a real estate agent, to end his life. Gifford had been despondent, due partly to financial troubles. Gifford filled the miniature cannon with a double charge of powder and gunshot and held it on his breast, with the muzzle pointed at his throat. The charge caused death instantly.

Killed While Robbing Henhouse

Tyngsboro, Mass., Oct. 26.—An unknown man who was caught robbing the henhouse of Constable Cummings here last night was shot and killed by the officer. The man had just emerged from the henhouse, carrying two birds with him. The dead man appeared to be a foreigner, either an Italian or a Greek.

Congressman Hoar Grows Weaker

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 26.—The condition of Congressman Rockwood Hoar continues critical. His physician says that there has been very little change, though, if anything, the patient has grown weaker.

A VERMONT MYSTERY

Mentally Weak Boy Suspected of Killing a Man by Mistake

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 26.—Harrison Corless, 17 years old, is under surveillance in North Fayston on account of the death of Henry Tracy, aged 30, a sawmill employe, whose body, riddled with bullets, was found lying by the with bullets, was found lying in the road at North Fayston.

The circumstances of the shooting are a mystery, but the officers who investigated the affair say that Corless does not deny that he fired the fatal shots. Corless is considered somewhat weak mentally and it has been difficult for the officers to get a connected story from him.

Tracy left the house where he boarded for a short drive Wednesday evening. Half an hour later residents of another part of the town heard shots, but no investigation was made, although the horse which Tracy had been driving returned to the boarding house stable late at night, drawing the empty carriage. Search was made for Tracy Thursday and his body was found lying in the road. There was a bullet hole in his head and three similar wounds in his body.

The theory held by the authorities is that Tracy fell from his carriage. It is supposed that Corless happened along and committed the fatal shooting, mistaking Tracy, whom he could see in the darkness only indistinctly, for a wild animal. Corless has not been arrested, but is under surveillance of the county officers.

District Attorney Suspended

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—Acting Mayor Gallagher has suspended District Attorney Langdon from office. Langdon was notified to appear before the board of supervisors and show cause why he should not be removed from office. He is at present a candidate for governor on the Independence League ticket. Gallagher charges Langdon with neglecting his duty in absenting himself for more than 30 days from the county to go on a campaign tour, while the city was suffering from an invasion and depredations of criminals.

Legal Lights In Runaway Crash

New York, Oct. 26.—Justice Dowling of the supreme court and Charles W. Dayton, Independence League and Democratic candidate for the justice of the supreme court, were the principal figures in a runaway in Manhattan last night. Dowling was not injured, but Dayton sustained severe lacerations when he was hurled through the glass door of a cab. At a blockade the driver of the vehicle left his seat. The horse took fright and ran several blocks, the cab overturning and throwing the two occupants to the street.

Wireless Telegraphy In Army

Changtefu, Oct. 26.—A notable feature of the autumn maneuvers of the Chinese imperial army has been the presence in the field of a portable wireless telegraphic apparatus, carried upon light wagons, and so adjusted that it can be erected in less than 30 minutes These stations were operated by Chinese officers belonging to the telegraph corps. The maneuvers, which cost $500,000, came to an end yesterday, with victory for the northern army.

Challenge Coming From Lipton

New York, Oct. 26.—At a dinner last night given in his honor by the Brooklyn Yacht club, Sir Thomas Lipton declared that he "hoped" he might be privileged to challenge for the America's cup and intimated that he would issue a challenge next year for a race, possibly in 1908 or 1909. In expressing favor with the New York yacht racing rules, he said they contemplated building of yachts and not mere racing machines.

Man and Two Children Killed

New York, Oct. 26.—Three persons were killed and three more or less seriously injured in a collision at Woodside, L. I., between a railroad train and a coach which was returning to New York from a funeral. The coach was occupied by Patrick Healy, his wife and two children. Edgar J. Griffin drove the vehicle directly in front of the train. Healy and his two children were instantly killed.

Alleged Starvation of Babies

Pagosa Springs, Col., Oct. 26.—G. C. Rose and Mrs. Minnie Wheeler, leaders of the Brotherhood of Light, who conduct a home for poor children on a farm, were arraigned on charges of manslaughter in connection with the deaths of six babies on the place. They waived examination and were remanded to jail until they can furnish bail. It is alleged that the children starved to death.

A Remarkable Achievement

Washington, Oct. 26.—The Pensacola wireless station kept in constant communication with the fruit steamer Preston from the time that vessel left New York until it arrived at Honduras. The Pensacola station also received messages from the Preston while she was entering New York harbor, where she was undoubtedly bathed in electric waves from other stations and ships.

NEWS IN BRIEF

It is understood that Civil Service Commissioner Cooley has been offered the position of assistant attorney general, made vacant by the appointment of Mr. Robb to the court of appeals for the District of Columbia.

Portrait of Hancock Presented to Boston

The anniversary of the inauguration of John Hancock as the first Governor of Massachusetts under the Constitution, was observed on Thursday in Boston, when John Hancock chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, presented the Hancock grammar school with a life-sized portrait of Hancock, who was born in Quincy, Jan. 12, 1736-7.

It represents John Hancock in his rich inaugural suit of dark blue velvet ornamented with white lace and gold buttons, with a white stock at the throat. His powdered white wig, so famous in Boston in his time is faithfully represented.

Mayor Fitzgerald, in accepting the portrait in behalf of the city, said:

"There are many reasons which I could give for saying that I am more than ordinarily gratified to take part in your exercises commemorative of the first governor of Massachusetts, John Hancock.

"A Boston Latin school boy, a graduate of Harvard college, his business was spent in this part of the city, and his public life was bound up with the history of Boston, where his great career was culminated, while he was governor of Massachusetts.

Selectman of the town of Boston, representative to the general assembly of the province, president of the provincial congress of Massachusetts, a signer of the declaration of independence and governor of Massachusetts, his devotion to public affairs, although the richest man in the province—devoted even to the detriment of his private affairs—is a lesson in patriotism and civic virtue which should not be forgotten.

"He realized the obligations which a man owes his country, and carried into practice the ideal he expressed in his speech delivered after the Boston massacre on State street, when he said: 'I have, from my earliest recollections of youth, rejoiced in the felicity of my fellow men; and have considered it as the indispensable duty of every member of society to promote, as far as in him lies, the general prosperity of his species, but more especially that of the community to which he belongs; and also, as a faithful subject of the state, to use his endeavors to detect and defeat whatever traitorous plot its enemies may devise for its destruction. I am a friend to government, to a righteous government, founded upon the principles of reason and justice, but I glory in publicly avowing my eternal enmity to tyranny.'

"So must you, the children of a great city, emulate the example in public life of John Hancock. When you look upon his portrait, think of all that was best in his life. Think of how he thought first of his country, and placed it always before self. Think of the gratitude you owe to your city for the education it provides you with, to your country for the security and happiness it assures you, for the freedom and liberty it extends to you and your fathers.

"Think of the opportunities that are before you. Remember that all are equal in the eyes of the American constitution; that the opportunities of America are not for any particular race or creed, but for those who show the ability to grasp them. And, revolving these thoughts, determine to become good men and women; to be good citizens of a great republic, and to pay your debt of gratitude with that coin most welcome and most desired by the fathers of the country—good lives."

Municipal Court Is Proposed

It is reported that the criminal court now held in Quincy will cease to be a district court, at an early date, and become a municipal court. A very large part of the criminal business now transacted is from Quincy and the establishing of a municipal court here would mean that a district court would be established in one of the neighboring towns of the county.

GREW THIS HAIR.

And we can PROVE IT

Testimonial No. 570.

MRS. ANNIE E. SHEEHAN, Weir City, Kansas.

You must remember that falling hair and dandruff are signs of decay, or a diseased condition of the scalp, and you must not delay treatment. To do so simply means more loss of hair, and a greater impoverished scalp, and finally no hair. The wise thing to do is to correct it in the start. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It will quickly regenerate the enfeebled tissues, and make your hair grow more beautiful than it ever was. NOW at all druggists, three sizes.

BOSTON LETTER.

Moran's Record Shows That He Has Not Made Good.

JUST A RECORD OF FAILURE.

Unfulfilled Promises Mark His Career as District Attorney.

The state campaign is now at its height, and both candidates for governor are on the stump. John B. Moran claims that on his record as district attorney of Suffolk county he has a right to ask to be chosen governor, but his own party leaders declare him to have made a decidedly poor record, and assert that he is an unfit man to occupy the gubernatorial chair.

Evidently what the people at large want to know is what Mr. Moran has done. They wish to see certain abuses corrected and they are asking themselves whether Moran is the man to correct them.

There is a little verse current which hits off what Boston thinks of Moran:

"Count that day lost whose low descending sun
Sees by Moran no new crusade begun;
Count that day gained wherein the self-same sun
Sees something that John B. has really done."

The Sum Total Here.

The sum of Mr. Moran's performance is contained in his conviction of Proctor and Borges—both cases which in the ordinary course of events might have come before the courts—the indictment of two jurors in the Crocker will case, and the discharge of the inmates of the Massachusetts Home for Intemperate Women.

The indictment of the two jurors is a very different thing from a conviction, and there is good reason to believe that the two jurors in the Crocker will case will not be convicted, the only witness having now disappeared.

The Massachusetts Home for Intemperate Women is a private charitable institution, to which the court commits, with the consent of their relatives, intemperate women. The district attorney ordered the summary discharge of these poor women, several of whom were almost immediately found again, drunk in the streets.

Many inquiries into the action of public bodies and many prosecutions have been threatened by the district attorney during the 10 months of his incumbency. It may be well to review briefly these various actions and see what has come of them.

The Record as it Stands.

1. Proceedings were instituted against the Hotel Touraine and most of the leading hotels of Boston, either for violation of their liquor license or for the maintenance of screens.

In the case of the Touraine, the legislature, with the concurrence of the representatives of the temperance people, passed an act correcting a technical violation of the law by the Touraine.

In the cases of illegal screens, the only hotel which tested the matter in the courts was the Hotel Essex, and the Hotel Essex won.

It is to be noted that no action was taken by the district attorney against ordinary barrooms which maintained screens in violation of the law.

2. The inquiry into the corruption of the legislature has never gone any further in spite of Gethro's alleged confession. The district attorney has never substantiated his and Lawson's allegations of bribery. It is not unreasonable to suppose that if anything substantial had materialized the matter would not have been allowed to drop.

3. Grave charges of misappropriation of public moneys were first made more than a year ago by the Good Government association in the case of the Fenway contracts. The matter was carefully investigated by United States District Attorney Asa P. French, who discovered many interesting facts which were placed at the disposal of the district attorney. Mr. Moran has never used the evidence submitted to him and no public action has been taken.

4. In the Chelsea aldermanic charges the indictment was badly drawn, through the fault of the district attorney's office, and failed.

5. In the case of the ice dealers, 17 dealers were indicted, charged with conspiracy to fix the price of ice, but the case has never been tried.

6. In the Normal school case, investigation showed that the foundations of the Normal school were much stronger than the contract requirements.

7. In the Provident Securities and Banking case, the governor acted without the assistance of the district attorney.

8. In he matter of the dealers who used short weights, nothing has been done.

9. Mr. Moran introduced into the legislature a bill for the better detection of illegal operations, but the bill was so loosely drawn and so faulty that it was immediately rejected by the house.

A List of Broken Pledges.

Mr. Moran promised to investigate the actions of the city officials of Boston in various cases.

He promised to investigate the allegations of aldermanic bribery in the dock trust case. No public action has thus far been taken.

He promised to investigate the alleged pay-roll frauds at city hall. No public action thus far.

He promised to investigate the Fenway graft cases. No public action thus far.

He promised to investigate the deal by which Charles M. Draper resigned the chairmanship of the board of aldermen in favor of Alderman Cauley. No public action has been taken.

There were besides charges made against Mayor Fitzgerald by Congressman McNary; and charges that Mayor Fitzgerald, through a weekly paper controlled by him, was coercing city employes.

Mayor Fitzgerald has never been indicted. The mayor's paper supports Moran. The mayor presides at the opening Moran meeting in Faneuil hall. Every man may make his own deductions from these facts.

Mr. Moran promised in his campaign for district attorney to put Thomas W. Lawson and H. H. Rogers in prison for perjury alleged to have been committed in the gas trials. Rogers and Lawson are still at large. Lawson is an ardent supporter of Moran.

How Moran Is Regarded.

If Mr. Moran were the man he paints himself to be, he would deserve the support of all honest people, but one cannot find a reputable man who knows the conditions at the court house who believes Mr. Moran is honest in his pretensions.

A careful consideration of his record and an analysis of the reasons behind his actions cannot fail to lead an impartial observer to believe that the office of district attorney has not been conducted for the benefit of the people.

The last grand jury was discharged because Mr. Moran was on the stump. And yet there are still many cases which Mr. Moran has promised to bring before them.

This is characteristic of Mr. Moran's general attitude toward the duties of his office.

It is easy to make promises. With a little cleverness it is not difficult to advertise ones-self. And if one cares not for the opinion of reputable men it requires no courage to "dare."

Most men "dare" not affront the judgment of posterity and the dictates of honor. Evidently Mr. Moran cares nothing for these as long as he is successful at the polls.

NIGHT ROBES.

They Were Once Very Gorgeous and Worn In the Daytime.

In the middle ages night robes, as a general thing, were unknown luxuries.

Under the Tudors royalty and nobility had them made of silk or velvet, and, as the old books say, "hence no washing was necessary."

A night robe of black satin bound with black taffeta and edged with velvet of the same color was daintily fashioned for Anne Boleyn.

More luxurious still was one owned by Queen Bess. It was of black velvet, fur lined, and greatly offset by flowing borders of silk lace. And in 1568 her majesty gave orders that George Brodigman should deliver "threescore and six best sable skynnes, to furnish us a night gown." Four years later her highness orders the delivery of "twelve yards of purple velvet, friezed on the back syde, with white and russet silke," for a night gown for herself and also orders the delivery of fourteen yards of murry damask for the "makynge of a night gowne" for some one else.

Night gowns for ladies of a later period were called "nyght vails." In Queen Anne's time it was the fashion to wear them over the customary dress in the streets in the daytime, when out on a pleasure walk. And, as was fitting, ladies who indulged in nightcaps had them also made of silk or velvet, with "much pretty garnishing of lace and glittering cords," and the fair ones made presentation of costly caps to each other as tokens of respect or affection.

As the Boy Saw It.

An Englishman tells the story of a boy who saw an exceedingly bowlegged man standing in front of a hot fire. Finally he could restrain himself no longer and said, "Hoy, mister, you'd better get away from there; you'se warpin'."

Politeness.

The greatest thing in the world is politeness. And no schooling is necessary to be agreeable. Simply have a little consideration for others and be quiet and modest.—Atchison Globe.

There is no virtue in the Sunday that makes children say, "I wish it was Monday."

Three Used Middle Names.

There were fifty-six signers of the Declaration of Independence, and only three had or used a middle name—Robert Treat Paine of Massachusetts and Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee of Virginia. The Lees were both natives of Stratford, Va. Robert Treat Paine was six years older than Tom Paine, the publicist. The former was a Bostonian. The latter was born in England.

The Beet.

The beet has more nourishment in it than any other cultivated root except the potato.

The Real Glutton.

Benevolent Old Lady (to little boy in street)—Why—why, little boy, how did you ever get such a black eye? Small Boy—Me and Sammy Jones was fightin' for an apple in school, an' he smashed me. Benevolent Old Lady—Dear, dear, and which glutton got the apple? Small Boy—Teacher, ma'am.

Rheumatism Badly Cripples A Baldwinsville Farmer

URIC-O Quickly Cured Him.

Treated 2 Years With a High-Priced Physician With No Success.

Mr. Frank Howe, a prominent farmer in the town of Van Buren, says: "I visited the best Physician in Syracuse, who treated me for about two years for rheumatism. I spent in that time several hundred dollars and seemed to grow worse instead of better each day. Being on crutches and forced to drive to the train and hobbling to the doctor's office became very discouraging, let alone the sleepless nights and fearful hours of pain. I was advised to quit doctoring and try Smiths' Specific Uric-O. I purchased a seventy-five cent bottle, took it home and used it that day as directed.

"Those fearful sciatic pains left me, my blood seemed to let loose and flow freely. I felt different and knew the next morning I had found a cure, as I slept and rested well all that night, something I had not done before in two years. I used in all six bottles of Uric-O and have never felt a return of the disease, had no use for crutches or cane since the first day's treatment. I know that Uric-O does not contain Alcohol or opiates and that it works in a wonderful way on the blood, bladder, muscles and kidneys and is the only way on earth to cure rheumatism."

Atlantic Men Fined For Drunkenness

The cases of John Clifford, Richard Sullivan, Dennis Sullivan, Charles E. Beris, Michael McCarthy and James Gillon for drunkenness and larceny at Quincy were heard in court this morning. These were the case when the defendants are alleged to have robbed the express wagon of James P. Flannigan after it had been struck by an electric car on Hancock street, Oct. 19.

The police found the gang in the woods off Squantum street later that night and arrested the whole bunch.

There was no evidence to connect the defendants with the larceny of the liquor, and they were discharged on those complaints. A fine of $10 each was imposed on the gang for drunkenness.

—A tidal wave on Thursday, Oct. 18, engulfed Elliot Key, an island twenty-five miles south of Miami, Florida, sweeping to a fearful death everyone of the 275 residents, destroying every building and uprooting almost every bit of vegetation. The wave was nearly fifty feet high, and as it swept inward it crushed and destroyed everything.

Nearly $4000 For the Hospital

Last year the final aunouncement of the Hospital Week Collection was made on Saturday, November 2. This year an earnest effort was made to have a short, sharp canvass, and it was hoped that today the final result might be given, but though the returns are almost complete, there are still one or two collectors to hear from, so the final result will be given next Saturday.

The Hospital Week committee would again ask any who have not been given a chance to contribute, to send the money direct to the treasurer, R. D. Chase, at the Savings Bank Building. And do not hesitate to send it in even though the amount is small, for all sums, no matter how small are gratefully received.

It is indeed gratifying to note that three of the wards have surpassed the splendid record of last year—Ward 2, Ward 3, and Ward 6.

Here are the returns to date:

Ward 1	$1,308 30
Ward 2	468 12
Ward 3	532 73
Ward 4	184 45
Ward 5	810 02
Ward 6	319 95

ANTHONY COMSTOCK, SUPPRESSOR OF VICE

Side Lights on a Relentless Veteran In the War Against the Indecent and Obscene.

Self Constituted Censor of Public Morals, Who Has Started a Lively Fight Against an Art Students' League, Has Been a Fighter From His Youth. Under Fire Third of a Century—How He Won an Enemy's Friendship.

By ROBERTUS LOVE.

ANTHONY COMSTOCK is an institution. He is chartered under the laws of the state of New York. As an individual he was merged long ago into the New York Society For the Suppression of Vice. Comstock is the society. While he is called secretary and special agent of this society and there are other officers and directors, he is about as nearly the whole thing as any one man can be. The society, in the first place, was founded to fit Comstock. As an unofficial suppressor of vice as he views it, Comstock antedated the society. Of his own initiative he created the job which he has held for thirty-four years, and the society was merely added unto him.

The latest episode in which Comstock figures is somewhat different from the thousands of others that have brought him into notoriety. He appears in court to prosecute a young girl of nineteen, a sort of bookkeeper or clerk in the Art Students' league office in New York, on the charge of distributing copies of a prospectus issued by the league containing pictures of the nude human form. The prospectus was issued for the benefit of students in the life classes at the league school of art and was mailed to them and to prospective students. Comstock seized and confiscated several hundred copies of the publication, which he declared to be "obscene and indecent."

A Fight For Art's Sake.

American artists are up in arms. They resent this act of Comstock with a resentment that flashes fire and spits brimstone. They declare that they will fight him to the finish. It will be a fight for art's sake. American art, say they, shall not be Anthony Comstocked. The case is still pending, and the issue is in the balance.

Incidentally this latest arrest and confiscation brought down upon the head of Comstock a storm of abuse and vituperation and scorn. But he is used to that and apparently doesn't mind it. Probably no man living has been the target of so many shafts of abuse as have been shot at Anthony Comstock during the past thirty years. He has been under fire a third of a century. If a man is shot at once it frightens him, but after he has stood amid the bullets for a generation without being seriously hit he doesn't get excited.

Comstock probably has more personal enemies than any man in America. On the other hand, it has been said that there are a million good citizens in the city of New York who are ready to arise any day and fight for him. It is largely a matter of viewpoint. Some persons think that everything Comstock does is perfectly right and proper; others seem to believe that everything he does is detestable and ridiculous, while a third section of society admits that he has done a great deal of good, but that he sometimes makes mistakes like other humans.

What has Anthony Comstock done?

Had Thousands Arrested.

Well, up to one year ago he had caused the arrest of 2,970 persons, confiscated 93,000 tons of book plates, printed matter and pictures and suppressed books of 316 titles.

Among the persons arrested were some green goods swindlers, lottery operators and other gamblers and a great many who were charged with possessing, publishing or circulating books, pictures or other works held to be indecent and obscene.

Whether or not one agrees precisely with Comstock's point of view regarding the "indecency" of the nude or nearly nude figure artistically limned or drawn, nobody can deny that the man himself is a fighter. He has been a fighter from his youth. His brother Samuel was killed at Gettysburg. Anthony, who was nineteen years old, volunteered to take the place of his dead brother in the ranks. He enlisted in his brother's Connecticut regiment and served until beyond the end of the war.

Wanted to Be a Great Merchant.

In 1867 young Anthony quit his Connecticut home and proceeded to New York. He had $3.45 and an ambition to become a great merchant. For a week he wore out sole leather in search of a job. Finally he became a porter in a wholesale house and then shipping clerk. After several years he came to be a dry goods salesman at a salary of $1,500 a year. He married, paid down $500 on a little house in Brooklyn and continued his efforts to become a second A. T. Stewart. Meanwhile he took an interest in Y. M. C. A. work.

In the store where he worked Comstock observed that some of the young men and boys were reading a very bad book. He read it himself and pronounced it bad. He discovered that it was on sale a few doors away. He notified the policeman on the beat, seeking the officer's co-operation in having the bookseller arrested and punished. The policeman straightway notified the bookseller that he was in danger, a young man named Comstock being after him. Comstock straightway had the policeman dismissed from the force. Then he caused the arrest of the bookseller, his punishment and the confiscation of his stock of objectionable literature.

It was then and there that Anthony Comstock became an institution. That was in 1871, and the Society For the Suppression of Vice was not organized until the next year. Comstock shortly became so deeply interested in running down the publishers and venders of bad books and pictures that he forgot all about his ambition to become a great merchant. The publicity resulting from his work as a self constituted censor of public morals attracted the attention of influential citizens, who felt that there was great need for such work. They raised funds, created the society and put Comstock on a salary. Since then the dry goods business has known him no more.

Terror of the Night.

There can be no doubt that Comstock mistook his calling when he went into the dry goods line. He was born to be a suppressor of vice. His aptitude for this work is disputed by none, least of all by his inveterate enemies, who have had high reason to know his efficiency. To thousands of persons who have dealt or desired to deal in publications prohibited by law Comstock has been a Nemesis, a hobgoblin, a terror of the night. They have awaited in fear and trembling his swooping down upon them. He is sure to swoop sooner or later if he gets a clew to an offender in his direction, and he never lets up until he bags his game. An admirer has said of him, "It is enough to say that when on the trail of an offender Anthony Comstock hunts him with all the skill that a ferret exhibits when upon the track of a rat."

There was no general law prohibiting the sending of obscene matter through the mails. Anthony Comstock went to Washington in 1873 and lobbied through such a law against the most violent opposition. Then there was nobody to see that it was enforced. Comstock had himself appointed a postoffice inspector with the special duty of detecting and prosecuting violations of the Comstock law. At his own request he was appointed to serve without pay, and for more than thirty years he has held this position with no remuneration from the government.

Arrested One Man Seventeen Times.

Literally and figuratively the bullets began to fly as soon as Comstock was well launched upon his real career. He has been shot at a number of times by men whom he has caused to be imprisoned for dealing in green goods or obscene literature. Once in City Hall park, New York, he was stabbed by a man whom he had arrested sixteen times for sending obscene matter through the mails to fourteen states. Comstock arrested the man for the seventeenth time, turned him over to a uniformed officer and went and had his wound dressed.

One day at his home in Summit, N. J., he received through the mail a package containing some vile smelling rags. An expert to whom the rags were submitted found that they were covered with smallpox scabs and virus of the most malignant kind.

At another time Comstock was the recipient of an infernal machine. He still keeps it as a souvenir, though he has disposed of the bundle of rags.

Comstock carries a revolver. Many times he has observed men shadowing him, and upon having them arrested it has been discovered that they were walking arsenals. As a rule, they are men whom Comstock at some time or other has sent to prison. On one occasion Comstock was walking down Nassau street when he came face to face with a man who had threatened to kill him at sight. This fellow had dealt in bad literature, and Comstock had sent him to Sing Sing.

"I did not propose to take any chances," Comstock said in relating the incident, "so I just held my revolver in my coat pocket ready for instant action. The man stopped right in front of me and said that he wanted me to help him out of trouble. He stated that he had been arrested in Brooklyn charged with a crime of which he was innocent. He was out on bail. He told me that I had convicted him fairly the time we met before, and he believed me to be square. He thought I could help him. I went over and investigated the case, found that the man was innocent, caused the arrest and conviction of the actual criminal and made a firm friend of my former enemy."

But One Judgment Against Him.

Damage suits aggregating claims of more than $250,000 have been brought against the vice suppressor by persons aggrieved because of his confiscation of photographs, paintings, statuary or "literature." There has been but one judgment against him, and that was for 6 cents. He is an international encyclopedia of information about court decisions upholding his view of what is improper and unlawful in art and literature. When Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke, recently made head of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, expressed high indignation because of Comstock's action in raiding the Art Students' league the raider said:

"Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke may snort and sneer at the enforcement of law in the interest of public morals in this country. If he will consult the records of the higher courts in England he will find that the very principle which governed our action in the Art Students' league case was established by the lord chief justice and a full bench in the queen's court, England, in 1867."

Just how the artists are going to come out in their fight against Anthony Comstock, Chartered, is a question, but there is no question at all that it will be a lively fight, for Comstock is only sixty-two years of age and very vigorous.

MORGAN'S CHERRY TREE.

Canes to Be Made of One Where Confederate Raider Surrendered.

John H. Morgan's surrender took place about seven miles south of New Lisbon, O., under a cherry tree, which is a few hundred yards from the farmhouse of John Hepner, says the Toledo Blade. Morgan was crossing from the Steubenville to the Wellsville roads when intercepted.

The famous old tree under which the Confederate raider surrendered to General Shackelford is to be cut into memorial walking canes under direction of Starr post, G. A. R., of Lisbon and sold, the proceeds to be applied toward the cost of a county G. A. R. memorial building in Lisbon.

The old tree was struck by lightning three years ago and killed, and some step is necessary to save the rapidly decaying wood.

Airship That Startled Farmers.

Farmers and other residents of New Fairfield, Conn., a town five miles north of Danbury, were startled the other day by the appearance of a strange object in the air, which many thought was an airship, says the New York World. There did not appear to be any persons aboard, and no one observed anything like a basket or car suspended from it. The object first attracted attention, as reported by members of the family of Mrs. O. D. Taylor, by a noise like an automobile. It went through the air very swiftly, and in shape it resembled a big naval torpedo. It was near enough to be seen quite plainly.

Man and Woman Meet Tragic Fate In a New York Hotel

New York, Oct. 27.—Murder and self-destruction ended last night the lives of a man and woman who were registered at the Hotel Griffon, a downtown hostelry, as Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair of Burlington, Vt. The woman had been shot through the breast and the man died from a bullet wound in the head. The right hand of the man clasped a revolver of 38-calibre.

Little is known of the couple, although they had been frequent guests at the house and nothing in their effects served to identify them further than that they were known to the hotel employes. Both were fashionably dressed, but their baggage consisted of a grip only.

The body of the woman was stretched across a table. She was partially dressed and blood was flowing from a fresh wound in the breast. The man lay on the floor in front of the dresser. There was a bullet wound in his mouth and a 38-calibre revolver was clutched in his right hand.

Nothing in the room indicated a struggle. The grip lay near the bed, unpacked, and a bottle half-filled with wine had been placed on the mantle. The man was about 55 years of age, with iron gray hair and mustache. The woman was probably 35 years old and a brunette. On her left hand she wore a diamond ring. A coroner took charge of the bodies.

War Suggestion From Louisiana

Washington, Oct. 27.—Secretary Bonaparte has received a letter from a resident of Louisiana, suggesting that the United States should force "all the toughs, bootleg desperadoes and bad characters generally" into a war with "some vicious nation" in order that the undesirable elements referred to might be killed off. Bonaparte, in replying, called attention to the fact that it had been the experience in war that the percentage of desirable citizens killed was larger than the percentage of bad characters removed by the casualties of an armed conflict.

Youngest Veteran of Civil War

Washington, Oct. 27.—The controversy as to who was the youngest soldier of the Civil war probably has been settled in favor of Perry Byan of Seattle, Wash. He enlisted as a drummer boy in the Twenty-Fourth Iowa volunteers on Aug. 22, 1862, at the age of 9 years, 10 months. After serving nearly a year he was honorably discharged on a surgeon's certificate of disability. The pension office has investigated Byan's papers and found that his representations are correct. He will receive a tidy sum as back pension.

Discontented Fishermen

St. Johns, Oct. 27.—A new trouble has been injected into the fisheries question because of the fact that the American fishermen who have just arrived at Bay of Islands refuse to be bound by the compact entered into by their countrymen who preceded them to Newfoundland waters and the colonial fisher folk, under the terms of which the Americans agreed not to use purse seines and the colonials contracted not to fish at night.

A Much-Married Woman

New York, Oct. 27.—A pretty young woman who, as "Miss Bannerman, cook," married four men, was arraigned before Magistrate Steinert in the Tombs police court, charged with bigamy. She readily admitted her several matrimonial ventures and explained: "They were all so nice and sweet to me that I loved them all. Besides, they pestered me so that I just had to marry each one in order to get rid of him."

To Drop Plain Clothes Men

New York, Oct. 27.—A new police order has been issued by Police Commissioner Bingham, under which every plain clothes man in the city will don a uniform at 6 o'clock tonight and in the future the power of captains in assigning any man to plain clothes duty will be limited. Many retirements from the force are looked for on account of the order. Many men have been on plain clothes duty for several years.

The Annapolis Incident

Tokio, Oct. 27.—The allegation that the retirement of Midshipman Kitigaki from the naval academy at Annapolis was due to the request of the Japanese embassy at Washington is deemed here to be impossible, as the Japanese government has carefully avoided anything likely to provoke the United States. It is believed his retirement was entirely voluntary and in no way connected with the situation at San Francisco.

Indemnities Must Be Paid

Tangier, Oct. 27.—The American mission has decided to remain in Fez until the sultan takes steps for the payment of the indemnities demanded for outrages upon American citizens. The government declares it has not sufficient funds to meet these demands. It is rumored here that Dr. Rosen, the German minister to Morocco, has arranged to make a small loan to the sultan.

Over 13,000 Net Gain In Membership For the Year--President Stevens Makes Several Important Recommendations

Hartford, Oct. 27.—A new crusade slogan of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was born here at the opening of the national convention of that body. It emanated from a criticism made during the world's convention in Boston that the organization was weak in its plauditory outbreaks, but after yesterday's demonstration such a claim will have no basis in fact. This new cry, say the delegates, is destined to echo around the world.

Led by a gray-haired woman, the 400 delegates and their friends arose in Parsons' theatre and after a little coaching filled the auditorium with "White Ribboners; White Ribboners; Hurrah." This outburst was twice evoked, first when it was announced that the net gain in membership for the year was 13,408 and again when Mme. Kaji Yajima, president of the Japanese W. C. T. U., bade farewell to the convention.

At last night's session addresses of welcome were made by Governor Roberts for the state, by Mayor Heney for the city of Hartford, by Rev. R. H. Potter for the churches, and by several others.

The chief features of the day's business exercises were the reports of the president, Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, and those of the secretary and treasurer. Their keynote was progress all along the line. The address of the president contained some important recommendations, among them the following:

"On election day, whenever any temperance measure is to be voted upon, the W. C. T. U. should hold a prayer meeting during the voting hours and have the church bells rung each hour.

"We should give our influence towards bringing about better conditions for the native population of the Congo basin in Africa.

"We should voice our convictions that for the nations to allow the situation in the Congo to continue unremedied is a failure in Christian duty and we should urge our government to do everything in its power to bring to an end this crime against God and humanity.

"We should be alert to notice and report any infringement of the section of the United States law which prohibits the Unites States mail from carrying impure literature.

"That in each state earnest persistent efforts shall be made for state prohibition to make way for the highest ideal.

"Each state Women's Christian Temperance Union should exert all the means within its power to secure the passage of the Hepburn-Dolliver-Littlefield bill at the next session of congress.

"Where there is no supply of drinking water for the public, I recommend that the W. C. T. U. erect a fountain or some suitable place free to all where cold water can be easily obtained, and do not forget to provide for the horses and dogs."

Secretary Fry reviewed the work of the year in the various states, her report giving details of the victories won by the W. C. T. U. forces, including the fight against polygamy, liquor laws and patent medicines.

The report of Treasurer Brand showed receipts of $61,878.04 and a balance after all expenses had been paid of $1,127.36.

One of the recommendations made by the executive committee which was adopted was that the W. C. T. U. have an exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition, and $250 was appropriated for that purpose.

Hearst Would Be For Lincoln

Albany, Oct. 27.—Nowhere in his upstate campaign trips has William R. Hearst had a more enthusiastic welcome than that which he received here last night. One of the most effective things said by Hearst, which aroused all of the audience to enthusiasm, was this: "Mr. Hughes asks, if Lincoln were here, would he be for Hearst? And I say to Mr. Hughes, that is not the question. If Lincoln were here, whether or not Lincoln was for Hearst, Hearst would be for Lincoln."

Maxim Gorky In Italy

Naples, Oct. 27.—Maxim Gorky, accompanied by Mme. Andrieva, arrived here from New York on board the steamer Princess Irene. Questioned regarding the present situation in Russia, Gorky said he had good reason to believe that the Russian situation had been exaggerated in the foreign press. He plans to help the Russian people with his literary work.

Marriage.

Marrying well does not necessarily mean marrying wealth and position, which are too often sought after rather than conpatibility and character. Every step of the way should be marked with prayer, for "blessed is the house that is established in prayer."—Rev. C. M. Meldon, Methodist, Providence, R. I.

Life's Watchwords.

Life is not speculative. It has to dc with stern things. Its great watchwords are love, duty, service, and the humblest have opportunities for these, and with these is the character attained that God approves.—Rev. M. A. Breed, Congregationalist, Monticello, Ia.

An Unknown Christ.

Every pleasure that the world offers becomes more and more commonplace to us as we return to it. But such is not the case in the joy that Christ offers. As years come and go we know more of him, and the more we know the more we realize that there is yet much to be known. You who have served this Master for years find more joy in your service today than you have ever found. While it is true you know more of him today than you have ever known, it is also true that you are more and more conscious that he is an unknown Christ.—Rev. Edward C. McCown, Presbyterian, Mount Lebanon, Pa.

Necessity of Prayer.

Prayer is of almost incalculable worth in keeping man ever cognizant of his dependence upon God and thus insuring a careful use of the gifts he has already received from him. Operating against a constant tendency which is in every man to draw him away from God, prayer impels the creature to God. It teaches him to master his faculties more easily, whereas if everything should come to hand unsought God might be soon and totally forgotten. It is a natural impulse for human creatures to depend on some one of a higher station and to look up to him for assistance, and thus it should be with all men in respect to God. As the child finds it advantageous to hug closely to its parent when it is anxious for some favor, so mankind, while kept conscious of their dependence on God, will also stick rather close to him and communicate with him perhaps through the medium of prayer.—Rev. Ignatius Fealy, Roman Catholic, Washington.

Keeping Things In Repair.

Like a beautiful temple now gone to wreck, its carving and statues mutilated, its roof fallen in, but which, kept in repair, might have survived a joy forever—such is the wreck left behind of many a once loyal and tender friendship. No signal act of violence, no thunderbolt from the sky nor volcanic outburst of human passion wrought the ruin. All came of neglect—of that fatal neglect that leaves so many of earth's fairest temples, whether builded of stone or builded of the spirit, naked to the destructive influences of rain, frost, fire or of the rank overgrowths rooting in every crevice and there steadily expanding, wedging and tearing asunder the once closely cemented stones. Nothing survives in this world but through the element of tender, devout, loving worship, hallowing, idealizing and sanctifying its object. Neglect, then, if you will, the graves of the dead; neglect the beautiful shrine till it is rent with frost and green with mold; neglect the gracious statue of nymph or naiad till it stands there weather stained and mutilated, but, for the soul's richest life, neglect not the deeper living relationships of flesh, blood and spirit God has given you here below, or, at least, begun to give you. Keep their shrines, at any cost, in thoughtful, reverential repair. And with what material of repair? With ever fresh spiritual supplies of sympathy, confidence, interest, hearty congratulation and tender compassion; with every watchful resolve to root out the weeds of selfishness, sloth, low moods that would bury the once blessed relationship under their rank overgrowth. — Rev. Francis Tiffany, Unitarian, Cambridge, Mass.

KEOKUK DAM A MARVEL

Structure Across the Mississippi to Be 6,000 Feet Long.

THIRTY-FIVE FEET IN HEIGHT

Its Cost Estimated at $10,000,000. Total of 211,500 Horsepower, Greater Than That at Niagara Falls, Will Be Generated—A $5,000,000 Canal Is Doomed.

Hugh L. Cooper, the Wall street engineer who solved the problem of how to harness the waters of Niagara and who drew the plans which made it possible to accomplish that greatest of all feats in the line of electrical development, proposes to build a dam 6,000 feet long across the Mississippi river at Keokuk, Ia., at the foot of what is known as the Des Moines rapids, says a special dispatch from Keokuk to the Chicago Record-Herald. Here where the forces of the father of waters are the strongest and wildest, for a distance of twelve miles he has evolved a plan to build the immovable in front of the irresistible, and the old question of the ancient Greek physicists will be answered in the changed commercial conditions in the heart of the American nation.

Large dams have been built before, albeit none so large as the proposed dam at Keokuk, which, it is expected, will be built within the next two years. The great Niagara falls proposition was so enormous that for a time the country laughed and said that it was not possible to so control the mighty forces there as to get 200,000 horsepower for commercial purposes. But when the world's greatest dam at Keokuk is completed the immense power house, 1,863 feet long, will contain 47 immense generators, with a capacity of 4,500 horsepower each, or a maximum capacity of 211,500, to be utilized in operating the industrial wheels in many cities.

There was a time not so many years ago when the wise ones said it was as impossible to dam the Mississippi at Keokuk as it would be to try to stop the flow of the tides or to change the course of the moon in its orbit. The force of the rapids is so strong that practical engineers have figured that 41,000,000,000 gallons of water pass over them in twenty-four hours. Until 1877 it was impossible for steamboats to go any farther north than Keokuk because of the rapids. All freight was unloaded there and hauled twelve miles up stream, where it was transferred to other boats and the interrupted trip to St. Paul continued. Thirty years ago the government built a great canal at Keokuk in the interest of navigation, so that river traffic would not be impeded, the cost being $5,000,000.

Now Uncle Sam has agreed to let Mr. Cooper and the syndicate back of him destroy this $5,000,000 improvement, and the president has signed a bill giving the right to condemn any land needed which cannot otherwise be acquired.

The great dam and water power electric plant will cost at least $10,000,000 to complete. Over $1,000,000 of this will be paid to the owners of the land which will be overflowed above the dam. Careful investigation during the past year has determined the feasibility of the project, and nearly $100,000 has already been expended in preliminary work. Surveys have been made from Keokuk to Burlington, and it has been determined that in the neighborhood of 9,000 acres of valuable farming lands will be under thirty-five feet of still running water, the overflow extending thirty-five miles up stream. Options on a large part of these lands are already secured, and the work is continuing as rapidly as possible.

The great dam, which will be thirty-five feet in height, will extend in a grand curve across the river from the end of the power house. In order to admit of the passage of boats there will be one lock on the Iowa side instead of three, as in the canal, which will be drowned deeply, while the government will save $40,000 a year in operating expenses alone.

As soon as the exact cost of the work can be computed the syndicate of Canadian capitalists who provided the money for the work at Niagara will make their decision. They have already said that they want to build the dam, but they will not give out the positive statement as to the date when the work will be started until they know exactly what the cost is going to be.

They are profiting by the experience gained at Glens Falls, Pa., where they built a dam across the Susquehanna, but began the work before they had acquired possession of all the land necessary. The result was that they encroached on the rights of the owner of a little island which the owner bought for $100. But when it came to squaring matters with this man they had to pay him $30,000 before he would be satisfied. That is why they are so careful to have all the preliminaries out of the way before they turn loose their 2,000 men at Keokuk.

Pensions For Scavengers.

The service of men and women charged with keeping the streets and promenades of Paris clean during the fine season has been reformed, says the Le Petit Journal. These modest functionaries, known as the "prefect's lancers," number about 4,000, forming divisions and brigades, and the average salary is 5 francs a day. To this has recently been added by the municipal council the right to a pension.

HOW CUPID FOILED OIL KING.

Wedding Balks Plan to Add Melin's Land to Rockefeller Estate.

John D. Rockefeller has not sent neighborly congratulations to John Melin of Pocantico Hills, near Tarrytown, N. Y., who married pretty Miss Annie Oleson, formerly of Stockholm, the other day, says the New York World.

John Melin dispenses refreshments for man and boy in Sleepy Hollow. If the man is thirsty Melin will sell him a glass of ale or something stronger. If the boy likes sweets he can buy a stick of candy from Melin. For years Mr. Rockefeller has been trying to rid himself of Melin as a neighbor. For years Mr. Rockefeller has been adding to his fine estate on the Pocantico Hills.

But Melin said: "Here I was before Rockefeller came; here is my home; here I earn my living, and here I will remain." Then Mr. Rockefeller issued an order to his employees boycotting Melin; told his 300 gardeners and grooms and ground keepers that if they drank strong drinks at Melin's they must go work for some poorer man. Melin's profits fell off, but he stayed. Then death intervened, and in favor of the richest man. Melin's wife died. His sister went to keep house for him. She fell ill and died.

"I can't bear to stay here longer," he told his customers. The news spread. Agents went to Melin and offered a good price for his land. He told them he would think it over for awhile. Two hours before the agents were to return John Melin stood in his doorway looking down the road. A girl approached.

"Well, if this isn't Annie Oleson!" Melin cried. "I haven't seen her for ever so long. I'm glad to see you, Annie," he exclaimed, giving her an awful handshake. "When you used to visit my wife I thought how much you two were alike. Married, eh?"

"No," said the blushing Annie.

"Would you—er—would you like to be?"

"You mean—to you—and live up here?"

"Of course."

"I think it would be nice," said the fair haired Annie, surveying the scenery.

Thrifty, they wasted no more words nor time, but went to the village parson.

"I've changed my mind," Melin told the agents when they returned. "I will not sell. You see, I am married. I never saw a finer day, did you? Have a drink on me, gentlemen."

Death favored, love foiled, the richest man.

NOW CANNING "HOT STUFF."

Preparing Chili Peppers For Market a New Industry In Los Angeles.

A new industry was started in Los Angeles, Cal., recently, that of preparing for the wholesale market Mexican canned foods and dainties in which the chili pepper forms an important item, says the Los Angeles Times. Such foodstuffs have never before been put up in this way for the market.

"Hot stuff" is getting popular in all sections of the United States, and as about the "hottest stuff" is a chili pepper there is a greater demand for the red pod than ever before and greater than can be supplied.

One reason put forward for this growing demand for the chili pepper from so many quarters is that tourists coming to Los Angeles acquire the taste for Spanish dishes and securing recipes reproduce the tasty dishes at home and pass along the recipe to their neighbors. But whatever the cause there has suddenly developed this extraordinary demand for the "hot stuff," and there are carload orders from many parts of the country which cannot be filled.

Naturally the price of chilis has boomed. Last spring the rate wholesale for red peppers was 10 cents a pound. Now it is from 12 to 13 cents and not enough at this price. Farmers in all parts of Southern California are beginning to turn their fields to the cultivation of the chili, but the home of the chili at present is about Anaheim, Fullerton and Santa Ana.

Near Santa Monica is a rancher who raises what is called the black chili, which has a thicker skin and a sweet flavor, though just as hot as the old fashioned kind. This is the only ranch of black peppers known of near Los Angeles. Ranchers raised about a ton of chilis to the acre and received over $200 a ton for them evaporated.

HATS OFF AT THE ASTOR.

Theater Tickets With Contract For Women to Remove Headgear.

Every woman who buys a ticket to the Astor theater in New York enters into a contract to remove her headgear, be it ever so glorious to gaze upon, says the New York Times. Wagenhals & Kemper, the managers of the playhouse, have been greatly annoyed by the persistence with which some of the women among the spectators have refused to take off their hats when requested to do so.

New tickets have been ordered, and on the reverse side of each seat coupon is printed:

"This ticket is sold with the understanding and agreement that if a lady uses the same she will remove her hat upon request of any employee of the managment."

A theater ticket, according to recent decisions of the courts, represents a contract between the purchaser and the management. The question that remains to be answered is, Who gets the damages if some woman is still obstinate? Is the management to profit or the man who has passed his evening in the shadow of a hat?

GOOD AFTERNOON.

The late Benjamin Warren was one of the few who first represented the Quincy Village Improvement Society in 1884. He was one of the committee in in South Quincy, and the late Mr. Patrick McGrath was another. Mr. Warren took an especial interest in the objects of the society, which were, first, the planting of trees, afterward the instituting of Arbor Day, and lastly the erection of the public drinking fountain in City Square. Of three hundred and fifty members of that society then, a small number is living, and each year one or more of those old friends and helpful workers, joins the great majority.

West Quincy should have better electric car service, but was it not a singular issue for the Ward Four Republicans to raise? And then, as though a little shaky, to ask the Democrats and the Mayor to cooperate. Either they are hard up for an issue, or else they wish to divert attention from real issues. A movement for better car service ceases to be a political issue when the two parties cooperate, and it does not matter which candidate is elected. Perhaps the failure to obtain better service reflects on the party in power.

Representative Hultman's Record

Very little interest has been manifested so far in the State campaign in the city, and perhaps everybody has made up his mind as to how he is going to vote on the Gubernatorial question. An unsigned, and therefore illegal circular, purporting to give Representative Hultman's record on labor matters in the House, has been circulated, and if his opponents can not come any nearer finding fault with him, even with the false statements made in this circular, they must be pretty hard up.

This circular starts in by calling the attention of the working man to the fact "as a member of the last Legislature, he voted no on every bill in the interest of labor, and yes on all bills favoring capitalists," and this to a man who had charge of the Public Opinion bill in the House in regard to whose advocacy of that measure Practical Politics of April 14, 1906, had the following to say:

"One man who, more than any other perhaps, has had a big hand in the forwarding of the public opinion bill has been Representative Hultman of Quincy. To the majority of the Republicans this measure had quite a socialistic flavor, and there were many ready to shy stones at it. But Hultman maintained, and with considerable force, that whether it had that flavor or not he believed in it, and insisted that it would be vastly better for the whole people if they had more of a say in legislation before it was forced on them. It was his tenacity on the matter that helped to save the day on it."

The circular goes on to say that according to the Journal of the House, page 557, Mr. Hultman voted a certain way on a bill for an excise tax. On this page, (557) the only topics of interest are laws regarding gray squirrels and other game protectionist measures. As a matter of fact an account of the proceedings in regard to this bill are in an entirely different part of the House Journal, and the measure was so clearly unconstitutional that a man with any knowledge in regard to it must have voted no.

Another item mentioned is House bill 1104, relative to use of injunctions in the case of labor disputes, which the circular says Hultman voted against. This bill was ruled out of the House, without even coming to a vote, on a point of order, an account of which is on page 643 of the House Journal.

Again, Hultman is accused of voting no on the Bucket Shop bill. This is another case of misleading people either intentionally or willfully, as the House Journal says that Hultman voted no on the roll call on the amendments offered to kill this bill, he being in favor of closing the bucket shops.

The bill to provide a system of old age pensions, which Hultman is accused of voting no on, provided for an expenditure of some $30,000,000 a year by the State. Such a joke as this can hardly do Hultman any harm and will only occasion a laugh among people who understand what was really done in the Legislature of last year.

It is rather laughable that there should be any objection by any Socialist or labor candidate to a man who advocated with all his might and main the public opinion bill in the House, as well as taking a great interest in the passage of the bill enabling truant officers to go into factories and take children under age and put them in school, as well as from the play ground as was provided by that statute.

We understand that Mr. Hultman also took a great interest in the eight-hour bill, and in fact, the only so-called legislative measure that he voted against was the so-called Picketing bill which seemed an interference with the enjoyment of peace and quiet by any man employing labor.

Church Fairs And Advertising

Editors of the Daily Ledger:—

In Wednesday's edition of your paper, was a "Notice to the public" which says in part. "The merchants of Quincy * * * have discontinued the practice of contributing to fairs, purchasing tickets, or placing advertisements in programs, etc.

Some one has said to the the man in business:

"If you would succeed, be wise,
Look pleasant and advertise."

It is said of John Wanamaker that he started in business with about $100 worth of goods and spent $10 for advertising while his contemporaries ridiculed. The result is that Wanamaker is still selling his goods and advertising.

The writer knows of a crockery store in this city, recently loaning some dishes for a church-supper, as a result secured a lot of trade that otherwise would have gone to a Boston store. The writer knows of a furniture store, recent publishing a menu for a church-supper and as a result secured considerable trade that otherwise would have gone to Boston.

The question is, can our Quincy merchants afford to discontinue the practice of contributing to fairs, purchasing tickets and placing advertisements in church programs, without a certain financial loss to their own business? With Boston prices on meats, groceries, furniture, clothing, etc., fully as low as Quincy prices, and free delivery in Quincy from Boston stores, do not our merchants, to increase their trade, need to advertise more thro' fairs, tickets and church programs?

I consider our city merchants to be men of foresight and wisdom. A word to the wise is sufficient.

"If you would succeed, be wise,
Look pleasant and advertise."

(Signed) A Quincy Buyer.

Woman Shot and Killed in Pasture

Mrs. Bridget Kaine of Gloucester, whose son Timothy Kaine, is employed on the Quincy electric cars, was accidently shot and killed at Gloucester yesterday. She went to Young's pasture near her residence, and two young men, Chester Stewart and George Peters were in the vicinity gunning.

An arm of the pond makes up into the rear of the pasture, flanked on both sides by rising ground. The boys were on one side of the arm on a ledge in the open, and Mrs. Kaine on the opposite side 50 yards away in a thick underbrush. She had a white scarf tied over her head. As she stooped, the boys caught a glint of the white head-dress against the black dress, and thinking it a skunk in the bushes both fired together. One shot entered the upper portion of the left arm of the woman, and the other entered the neck near the collar-bone, and it is believed this second bullett found its way to the heart. There was no blood on the body.

The woman's husband was killed at Cheever's granite quarry in 1898 by a falling derrick.

The son Timothy Kaine has been in Quincy but a few weeks and is a conductor. He was notified last night by telegraph and left for Gloucester.

Sergt. W. H. Carney Hero of Fort Wagner

In view of the presence of Sargeant Carney, the hero at Fort Wagner, at the Men's Club of the Wollaston Congregational church next Tuesday evening, the following account of his brave deed has been compiled by Arvin Page, Arvis Tobey and Edward Park, members of the eighth grade of the Wollaston school.

William H. Carney came to New Bedford from the South, where he was mustered into the fifty-fourth Mass. Regiment of Volunteers. He was in Company C. The fifty-fourth regiment was the first colored one raised in United States.

The assault on Fort Wagner began the 17th of July, 1863. At first the Confederates did not fire, but when the Union troops came to a narrow defile, where the line was broken, the men in the fort began to fire on the troops who started for the fort on the double quick. When they got to the wall they found a deep ditch. The color bearer went down and Sergeant W. H. Carney caught up the flag and ran to the head of the column. There he stayed.

When the men got to the ditch they hesitated only a minute, then they went through the ditch and up the parapet. A hand-to-hand struggle took place inside the fort, but the fifty-fourth were slowly driven back to the wall, where they made a stand, and shot all the enemy who showed themselves above the parapet.

Sergeant W. H. Carney carried the national flag to the top of the works and kept it there until all hope of success was gone, then carried it safely away, at the cost of severe wounds in the head and leg. He was taken to Beaufort Hospital where he recovered and joined the regiment in December.

The fort did not surrender until Sept. 7, 1863. Sergeant Carney with three others were mentioned as worthy of special merit and afterwards received the "Gillmore medal."

Pipes for Quincy Cause Accident

Four persons received slight injuries and a horse was killed as the result of a collision between an express wagon and a North station car on Dorchester avenue, opposite Howell street, South Boston, last evening, says the Herald.

George M. Bacon of 32 Oakland avenue, Arlington, received bruises on the hand and head, Frederick E. Snider of 3 Saxton street and P. J. Slane, Jr. of 6 Sagamore street, Dorchester, bruises and a shaking up, and Thomas Regan of 1518 Hancock street, Quincy, driver of the express team, received a number of cuts and a probable sprained ankle.

Regan was driving his team along Dorchester avenue to Quincy, and had on board a number of iron pipes about 20 feet long, which protruded about six feet in front of the wagon. For some reason, the team turned slightly toward the car and the iron pipe smashed through the vestibule of the car. Bacon, Snider and Slane were standing on the front platform with the moterman, and, seeing their danger, dropped to the bottom of the car. All but Bacon got out of the way. He was struck on the side of the head. The force of the crash smashed the vestibule and the windows in the front of the car and the pipes broke through the front door.

Before the car could be brought to a stop the wagon was turned over and the driver thrown under his load. He crawled out with a number of slight injuries. The horse received a broken back and was shot.

Dr. Osborne of Mayfield street was on the car and attended the injured. There were about 12 persons inside the car, all of whom escaped without injury.

It was the Bruce & Myatt express wagon. Reagan was taken to the Emergency hospital.

Crotty Held For Grand Jury

The cases of the six young fellow who, it was alleged relieved Michael McGrath, a Wollaston stable keeper, of money and checks to the value of over $300, were heard in court at Quincy this morning.

McGrath took them to the Brockton fair Oct. 4. On the way back he fell from his seat and when he came to he was in the City Hospital. Then he missed his money which he had in a roll with the checks outside.

The next day the checks were returned to him by Edward L. Desmond, to whom they had been given by John J. Crotty. It is alleged that Crotty first said that he had found them on the floor at the hospital and had taken them for safe keeping, and that he later said that he had found them in his pocket. How they got there he did not know.

The court found probable cause to believe Crotty guilty and held him in $300 for the grand jury. The other defendants were discharged.

BRAINTREE.

Antietam Camp 32, Sons of Veterans held a camp fire Tuesday evening in G. A. R. hall in place of their regular meeting. Comrades from the G. A. R. and eligible sons were present besides the members of the order.

E. S. Grover of Tremont street has returned from La Crosse, Wisconsin, where he went to accompany his mother and the remains of his father, Dr. J. M. Grover to Brookfield, Mass., where the deceased lived and practised dentistry for over forty years.

Reports from the Massachusetts General hospital state, for the information of interested friends, that James T. Stevens is improving in health and is able to take the air in a wheel chair.

The Kroweldeen club met Tuesday evening with Miss Alice Thayer of Randall avenue. Mr. Clayton Freeman lectured on Jewels, giving a most interesting and instructive talk. The guests passed the evening with sewing and music. Refreshments were served.

Alonzo Dyer of Washington street suffered a severe shock while attending to his duties, Monday. For some time Mr. Dyer has been in rather poor health but his sudden sickness was a great surprise to his many friends. Although a great suffer, it is thought by his physician that he will soon be about again.

Michael Griffin of Hancock street fell at his home, Monday and dislocated his shoulder. It seems particularly sad that this accident should so closely follow Mr. Griffin's recent severe and prolonged illness. All hope he may be speedily restored to health.

F. Edgar Morris is at Plainsboro, N. J., where he has gone to look over work done for the Walker--Gordon Laboratory according to plans which he has drawn for the concern. Herbert J. Kelloway, a landscape arcihtect with whom Mr. Morris is connected, will accompany him.

Members and friends of All Souls church enjoyed their first monthly supper of the season last Wednesday evening. A harvest supper was served by the following: Mrs. D. G. Doane, Mrs. W. R. Drake, Mrs. J. I. Tozier, Mrs. J. F. Perry, Mrs. G. H. Arnold and Mrs. Eben Prescott. A pleasing entertainment presented entirely by members of the parish, followed.

Master Workman, James B. Poore, and Recorder, I. Wendell Gammons of Blue Hill lodge, No. 208, A. O. U. W., paid an official visit to the home of the late Andrew J. Spaulding, Friday, and deposited with Mrs. Spaulding a check for $2000. We consider that a prompt payment of insurance.

At the wedding of Mr. Bert West last week, Mr. Ralph W. Loud of Quincy avenue was an usher. Mr. West's friends from this vicinity were remembered with invitations. He formerly lived in East Braintree. His uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Jordan, and Mr. Stuart Jordan were guests.

There were twenty-nine voters registered at the registrars' meeting in East Braintree, Thursday evening.

Clayton E. Freeman and family leave this Saturday for Dorchester, where they intend to board until spring.

Wallace Gibson of South Braintree who is 25 years and married, met with a serious accident at the Campello car barn Wednesday morning. He accidently fell into the car pit and forced a sharp chisel which was in his right hand, into his neck, cutting the external jugular vein. At the Brockton hospital they say he may recover. Mr. Gibson was to move to Brockton next Monday.

Last Thursday evening, Oct. 25, a merry party gathered in the Town hall, the occasion being the first annual dancing party given by Blue Hill lodge, No. 208, Ancient Order United Workmen. There were about seventy-five couples present and all voted the affair a success in every way. The floor was in excellent condition and Cuff's orchestra of five pieces discoursed sweet music; the kind that made this orchestra famous hereabouts.

Mr. Chris Healy of London, England, correspondent for Everybody's Magazine, who has recently been inspecting the schools of Chicago, visited Grades 7 and 8 of the Jonas Perkins school, October 12. In the near future he intends to write a series of articles for this magazine, which no doubt will be highly interesting and instructive.

Several members of the Dorchester Driving club live in Braintree and own speedy horses. Last Saturday in the trot on Franklin field, Dorchester, India Panis, owned by George A. French took first prize in class A, and Mermaid, Harry Thayer's promising colt took the first prize in class D. Early risers may see Harry Thayer out training Mermaid. Messrs C. S. Hannaford and George A. French have had several brushes this week.

To relieve the crowded rooms in our public schools a few important changes are being made. At the Noah Torrey there will be 38 scholars of grades one and two sent to the Southwest school, Miss Clara Shay, teacher. There will be a class room opened in the Pond for grades one and two. At the Jonas Perkins there will be an assistant for grades one and two, Miss Elizabeth S. Hall of Weymouth. At the Union a part of grade three will go into the room with grade two, Miss Whelan, teacher.

Mrs. Helen Cuff Mansfield, who has been filling a vacancy at the Penniman will teach at the Noah Torrey.

Miss Ethel Portman Becomes Mrs. Kaplan

The marriage of Miss Ethel Portman of Boston to Samuel Kaplan of Quincy took place Sunday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 57 Oswego street, Boston. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Fletcher, a friend of the groom.

The house was tastefully decorated with ferns, potted palms and pink chrysanthemums. The bride was attired in a beautiful creation of white liberty satin and Duchesse lace and her veil of rare old lace was caught by a diamond star, the gift of the groom.

The bridesmaids, Miss May Smith and Miss Tina Eranio wore pink mousseline de soie over taffeta silk, cut princesse and trimmed with cream Valenciennes lace, each wearing a pearl necklace, gifts of the groom. Miss Jennie Gerstel and Miss Annie Goldberg were flower girls. Popular Ned Kerrigan of Atlantic acted as best man. The ushers were Louis Barry, Dick Haley, Joseph Kerrigan, S. Berchowitz, S. Schwatz, all of whom received a signet ring from the groom.

After a reception in the drawing room, at which the bride's mother assisted, the couple assembled their guests in the dining hall where an elaborate collation was served.

During the evening the following contributed towards entertaining: Buck and wing dancing by Gus Mulanson and Charlie Fitz. A recitation by the genial Mike Daley, the popular Quincy insurance man, was highly appreciated. A selection from a popular opera entitled "Put Me In My Little Cell" was cleverly sung by Messrs. Clifford and McCarthy, as was the cornet solo by Louis Barry. Mrs. Louis Gerstel presided at the piano.

Many costly gifts were presented the happy couple, the most notable of which were a substantial check from the bride's father, a handsome silver game platter from the best man and a magnificent silver service, the gift of the Quincy friends of the groom.

Among those present were:—Mrs. Louis Gerstel, Miss Annie Brown, Miss Annie McGuinnsss, Miss May Smith, Miss Tina Eranio, Miss Nellie McGuinniss, Miss Gertrude Golden, Miss Jennie Gerstel, Mrs. Michael Haley, Louis Barry, Michael Haley, William McGuinniss, James McGuinniss, Joseph P. Kerrigan, Edward Kerrigan, Thomas Farrell and Daniel Golden.

After a brief tour the couple will reside at Barry's corner, Atlantic.

Express Wagon Struck by Car

One of Murphy's express wagons, driven by William Nelson, was struck by an electric car on Willard street early last evening. The team was on the car track near the corner of Rogers street when the car came up behind. Owing to the slippery rail the motorman was unable to stop his car in time to prevent a collision. The car struck the wagon throwing Nelson to the ground. He struck heavily, dislocating his right hip and breaking his right leg below the knee. The injured man was taken to the City Hospital. The team was but little damaged.

The Lawrence And Macdonough

While the second torpedo boat flotilla was in Newport waters recently its record for torpeda target practice is reported to have excelled anything of the kind ever attempted by a torpedo boat flotilla of the U. S. navy, says a dispatch to the Herald.

The destroyers Lawrence and McDonough (built by the Fore River Company,) the Hopkins, Truxton, Whipple and Worden under the command of Lieutenant Commander Edwin A. Anderson, fired 10 torpedoes at moving targets with the destroyers racing at various speeds and made an average of 8 out of 10 hits.

The flotilla recently sailed from Newport to the League island navy yard for slight repairs. These completed, the flotilla will sail for southern waters to continue manoeuvers and practice for the winter.

The Norfolk club will hold a banqnet in Boston next Saturday to be addressed by Congressman Weeks and others.

PRODDING MORAN

Guild Calls For Accounting of Stewardship

ALLIANCE WITH HEARST

District Attorney Accused of Running After "Pots of Gold" at End of New Yorker's Rainbows--His Record Assailed

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 27.—Governor Guild addressed rallies here and in Easthampton last night, his audience in each case filling the hall. He was given an enthusiastic welcome. Guild said in part:

"My antagonist stated last night that he proposes to assume that I am opposed to every reform affecting the protection of labor, popular freedom and morality, that he chooses to endorse, even in regard to matters upon which I am on record as favoring, unless, as he says, I permit myself to be diverted from the real issues of this campaign as he would like to divert me. I am sorry to hear him make that statement. I say to you, though, Mr. Moran, I am not going to allow you in any such manner to evade giving to the voters of Massachusetts an account of your stewardship in the great office of the district attorney of Suffolk county.

"The method you now announce, however, is the Hearst method. You say you are not allied with Hearst and care nothing for him. Is it not a fact that, though you have repudiated Prohibition, though you have repudiated every plank of the Democratic platform that you did not yourself write—is it not a fact that you have never criticised or repudiated any part of the principles of Hearst and the Hearst league?

"Do you imagine that you are fooling any considerable number of the voters of Massachusetts by your continued effrontery in claiming that you have no alliance with the Yellow Peril of the Empire state?

"I do not propose to copy the Hearst methods in this campaign. Come up and face me, John B. Moran, with your record in the office of district attorney. Why are you afraid to discuss it? Whether you discuss it or not, it is bound to follow you like a shadow; you cannot avoid it by running after 'pots of gold' at the end of Hearst's rainbows."

Mr. Guild devoted the remainder of his address to a discussion of Moran's record as district attorney and to his own acts since he has been chief executive of the state. He said:

"It was John B. Moran who deliberately loosed again upon the community the round-up of small criminals from the Charles street jail.

"It was John B. Moran who turned the unfortunate inmates of the Intemperate Women's home into the street and gave them money with which they immediately proceeded to buy more liquor.

"It is John B. Moran who has failed to keep his promises of investigating the padded payrolls at Boston city hall.

"It is John B. Moran who, as an officer sworn to prosecute bribery as well as other crimes, is now inventing excuses that he may not prosecute the man openly accused of bribing legislation in connection with the bucket shop bill.

"It is John B. Moran who fears to face his own record as district attorney."

Met Democratic Sympathizers

Marlboro, Mass., Oct. 27.—In addressing a Republican rally in this town last night, Lieutenant Governor Draper was several times annoyed by interruptions. When Draper quoted a statement by John B. Moran to the effect that before appointing any person to office with the exception of a judge or a clerk of the court he would have that person's resignation in his pocket, there was loud applause. Turning aside from his argument, Draper remarked: "Well, gentlemen, if you want to applaud that, the Lord have pity on you. You are no better than Moran."

The mention of the name of ex-Congressman Williams was the signal for another round of applause. During the latter part of Draper's speech, however, he was accorded respectful attention.

Cost of Political Fights

Boston, Oct. 27.—Eugene N. Foss spent $8800 in an attempt to secure the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, according to the statement filed by him at the office of the secretary of state. For a renomination by the Republicans, Lieutenant Governor Draper spent $6000. John B. Moran's expenses amounted to $1250, while Governor Guild's nomination this year entailed no expense to the candidate. Congressman Ames' expenses totalled $6035.68. William F. Lehman of this city, a candidate for the state house of representatives, said in his statement: "Paid U. S. mail 2 cents for over-weight postage, due on letter sent by secretary of the commonwealth of Massachusetts."

New May Get Chairmanship

Washington, Oct. 27.—Postmaster General Cortelyou will retire from the chairmanship of the Republican national committee before he becomes secretary of the treasury. Harry S. New, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, it is expected, will assume the duties of the chairman when Cortelyou retires.

MOVING NORTHWEST

Ute Indians May Be Overtaken by Cavalry by Sunday

Sheridan, Wyo., Oct 27.—Word has reached here that the Utes are now moving and are headed northwest toward the northern Cheyennes, whose reservation lies about 50 miles east of Fort Custer, Mont. It is said that their purpose is to induce the northern Cheyennes to join them in a raid.

Last night 1200 rounds of ammunition was shipped from Fort McKenzie to Major Grierson, who is in command of the Tenth cavalry. To reach them he will move down the Little Powder river.

Colonel Rogers, in command of the Sixth cavalry, from Fort Meade, has not been heard from since leaving the post, but it is expected that as early as Sunday afternoon the two commands will reach the Indians, where co-operation is expected between the two regiments. In the two commands there are 10 troops of cavalry—about 500 men, besides the officers and teamsters. Additional supplies have been forwarded to each regiment.

Reward Spurs Woman Hunt

Middleboro, Mass., Oct. 27.—Spurred on by the reward of $100 offered by the selectmen of Middleboro, an anxious search is being made by every available person for the missing Mrs. Wortman of Fallbrook. Pools of water and streams have been carefully examined, but no vestige of a clue has been found. The search is extending toward Cape Cod, and if the woman is not discovered in the next few days a large party will be organized to make a thorough and more systematic search.

Hooe Says He Was "Coerced"

Pittsburg, Oct. 27.—The testimony offered yesterday in the trial of Clifford Hooe, a negro, charged with perjury in connection with the recent Hartje divorce case, was the most revolting since the Hartje domestic troubles were brought to public attention. Hooe reiterated the charges of intimacy against Mrs. Hartje made in his first deposition and said he had been coerced into making a second deposition, which is an absolute denial of the first.

Registered by Wholesale

New York, Oct. 27.—Having promised to tell at whose instigation it was that he registered here 15 times for the coming election, James Haggerty, a youth, after pleading guilty before Judge Rosalsky in general sessions court, was sent to the Tombs. Mr. Jerome explained to Rosalsky that his office believed that Haggerty knew a great deal about a wholesale attempt to pad registry rolls. The boy was remanded until Nov. 8.

Sacrificed His Life For Others

Spartansburg, S. C., Oct. 27.—Newton Tillotson, 56 years of age, for 22 years in the employ of the Southern railway, was killed by plunging in front of a passenger train to save the lives of an aged man and woman who were crossing the track in a buggy. He was successful. Tillotson's act was cheered by a number of eye-witnesses, unaware for the moment that his heroism had cost him his life.

Further Postal Accommodations

Washington, Oct. 27.—Hereafter the delivery of mail by rural carriers will be permitted to persons residing not less than one quarter of a mile from postoffices at unincorporated towns or villages, provided such persons will erect boxes conforming to the requirements of the postoffice department on rural routes as officially laid out. This will apply at both distributing and intermediate offices.

Journey Is Cut Short

Chicago, Oct. 27.—John Hoag, assistant cashier of the Aetna Banking and Trust company of Washington, was arrested here last night on the charge of having conspired with other officers of the bank to wreck the institution. Hoag, accompanied by his wife and daughter, were en route to Spokane, Wash. The arrest was made as he was about to board a train for St. Paul.

Rural Guards Going After Marauders

Havana, Oct. 27.—As a result of continued depredations by numerous small bands of ex-insurgents in Santa Clara province, General Bell has ordered the Fifteenth cavalry to occupy five towns, taking the places of the rural guard garrisons, which will then be released to pursue and scatter the marauders.

The Samaritans

By C. B. LEWIS

Miss Duella Mims, as her cards read, was an elocutionist and quite willing to help others over the same road for pay. So long as her ambition was kept within bounds and her prices were not too steep her native town of 5,000 inhabitants supplied a fair number of pupils, and the local press now and then referred to her in a way that was pleasing.

One unfortunate day Miss Mims decided that elocution such as hers should have no limits. The village boy who fell into the frog pond decided that if it was good for him it ought to be good for the whole United States. Miss Mims reasoned after the same fashion. She collected her bills, packed her trunk and set out for the metropolis, and never was a young woman more sanguine.

In a week she was surprised. In a month she was tired. In two months she had decided to drop elocution and look for a place as a typist and stenographer. Her mind was fully made up on this point, and yet she could not let go of elocution with a bang. She must part from it by degrees and make the parting less painful.

Miss Mims sat at the open window of her boarding house and dallied with elocution. In her well modulated voice she went over three or four of her choicest gems and then brought out "The Wanderer."

She had always made a hit in this. It was about a lovely girl who left her village home for a great city, and after using up all her money and pawning everything that her uncle would advance on she committed suicide, and the landlady found her dead when she went in to collect her week's rent in advance.

In elocuting this pathetic appeal Miss Mims had to simulate discouragement, sorrow, grief, appeal, resignation and several other things calculated to arouse human interest, and she had an audience without knowing it.

On the floor above was a young man who had been in the boarding house almost as long as she had, but they had not been introduced and had taken very little interest in each other. He was the audience on this night. Miss Mims' voice floated up to him, and he listened and became interested. Gradually he found his sympathies aroused. From what he could make out she was clean discouraged and ready for the deadly fumes of charcoal. She was even hungry for food at that moment, and there was no one in the great city to whom she could turn.

The young man was deeply affected. Here was a case right under his nose where sympathy and cash were required, and only that evening he had dodged the landlady when he came in. He was perturbed and upset for a few minutes, but finally reasoned it out that if the poor girl stuck to her programme and died it would save her being disappointed in love in the future.

When a long silence had followed her tearful appeal to heaven he brought out a manuscript and began to read aloud. He was no elocutionist. He might have been one had he not become a dramatist at an early age. The manuscript in his hands was a play written by himself. It is needless to give it a name, but it may be said to have been pathetic. It had a hero, and the hero went through trouble enough to swamp a canal boat within five miles of Troy. He kept hoping and hoping, but it was no use. As soon as he came in sight of a good thing it vanished. He hung on and hung on until the beef trust made its last raise, and then he starved to death with the same dignity that he had lived.

What the dramatist was reading was the soliloquy of the hero when he had abandoned all hope and decided that mince pie was no longer for him. The reverie of the elocutionist below was broken by his reading and raving. She listened, and tears of pity came to her eyes. She had thought the world was harsh to her, but here was a worse case than hers. She hadn't gone hungry yet, but here was a young man literally starving to death. She had heard him say that even the mice had abandoned his room and that, unable to find another morsel of food, the cricket no longer sang for him.

Miss Mims did what a practical young woman should do under the circumstances. The hour was not late, and she put on her hat and went downstairs and hunted up a delicatessen store and bought some smoked tongue and crackers. These would keep the spark of life in the young man over night, and next day things might turn for the better with him.

When the dramatist had concluded reading his hero's soliloquy—it was the millionth reading—his thoughts turned once more to the young woman below. He still had a couple of dollars left and he could not see her die for want of sustenance. In handing in the sustenance he would also hand in his sympathies and encouragement. If he found her obstinately determined to die he might even promise her a leading part in his comedy drama when it was finally put on the road.

He did the only sensible thing he had done since he spelled down a country school and got the idea therefrom that he was born for a dramatist. He put on his hat and went down and went to a saloon. He bought a bottle of beer and from the remains of the free lunch he gathered up some cheese and pretzels. Beer, cheese and pretzels, as he had read in a medical magazine, will keep a young woman alive for a whole week after she has determined to die.

The two Samaritans did not happen to meet at the door of the boarding house or on the stairs. They went to their rooms for a moment and then emerged on the errand of mercy. They met in the lower hall. The dramatist was the first to speak.

"My dear Miss Mims—you see I have heard your name," he began—"I have learned quite by accident that you are in a bit of trouble and need a friend. I have here some beer and cheese and pretzels, and if you could manage to make them do for a lunch this evening we will talk matters over in the morning."

"You—you are also in trouble, I learn," she stammered in reply. "I have some smoked tongue and crackers here, and if you can get along with them this evening"—

"My dear Miss Mims"—

"My dear Mr. Davis"—

"You surely don't think I'm starving?"

"And you can't think I have fasted all day?"

They sat down on the stairs and compared notes and soon got at the right of things and then sat down on the window seat at the end of the hall and formed the two lunches into a trust. As they ate and drank they learned each other's history. When they had finished she asked:

"How long have you been trying to place your play before the public?"

"Five years," he sighed. "How long have you been trying to get the people of this town to elocute?"

"Two months," and she sighed as well.

"Miss Mims," said the dramatist as he sought to take her hand, "I have known you but a brief half hour, but during that time"—

"Yes!"

Then the landlady appeared and said that altogether too much gas was being used throughout the house and it must be cut off in the halls; also that it was against the rules of the house to leave cracker crumbs around.

Next morning Miss Mims got a place with a hardware firm, and two days later Mr. Davis was seen bareheaded and with a pencil over his ear in front of a shoe store where they sold manufacturers' samples only—every pair warranted as represented or money refunded. The elocution, the dramatic, the sentiment, were there, and the landlady is expecting an announcement any evening.

Mixed Metaphors.

A minister said to his congregation, "Brethren, the muddy pool of politics was the rock on which I split."

An orator is credited with a peroration in which he spoke of "all ranks from the queen sitting on her throne to the cottager sitting on his cottage."

"My client acted boldly," said the counselor. "He saw the storm brewing in the distance, but he was not dismayed. He took the bull by the horns and had him indicted for perjury."

A Hindoo journalist, commenting on a political disturbance, said, "We cannot, from a distance, realize the intensity of the crisis, but it is a certain thing that many crowned heads must be trembling in their shoes."

An old negro woman whose needs were supplied by friends never failed to express her gratitude in original language: "You is powerful good to a pore ole 'oman like me, wid one foot in de grabe an' de oder a cryin' out, 'Lawd, how long, how long?'"

No one could imagine what a speaker meant when he said, "Biddy, diddy" and then stopped and after a moment of confusion said, "Diddy, biddy," and then, with a scarlet face and coldly perspiring brow, gasped out, "Diddy, hiddy, biddy doo?" Then he had to sit down and rest awhile before he could say, "Did he bid adieu?"—Christian Register.

The Shah and the Asparagus.

When Muzzaffar-ed-Din, shah of Persia, paid his first visit to England he was the guest of King Edward VII., then prince of Wales. On the evening of his arrival a banquet was held at the palace, and on the menu was asparagus. As it happened, the shah had never heard of, much less tasted, asparagus till that evening. When the dish was brought on he helped himself to half of it, picked each stalk up in his fingers, nibbled gingerly at the head and then threw the stalk on the carpet. To have let it remain on his plate would have been a breach of Persian etiquette. All eyes turned to the Prince of Wales. What was he going to do? The prince, tactful as ever, glanced at those about him, then at his plate; then he picked up stalk after stalk, ate what he wanted and threw the balance on the carpet behind his chair. A moment later thirty people in that room were eating asparagus in Persian fashion, and the attendants, who are trained to look more serious than ever on such occasions, never moved a muscle.—Black and White.

A Starveling Greyhound.

One rarely hears of a stray dog found practically starving in the streets of a city rising to fame and bringing fortune to its benefactor. Such, however, is the history of the celebrated dog Brigadier, which many years ago, after being hustled about the streets of Manchester, found a sympathetic friend in the late Mr. Foulkes of that city. Finding the dog in the streets homeless, Mr. Foulkes took it home, and with it, after careful training, succeeded in winning the Waterloo cup. With the money thus won Mr. Foulkes purchased a hotel at Withington, a suburb of Manchester, which he renamed the Waterloo hotel. In a quiet spot of the hotel grounds stands a tombstone erected to the dog's memory.—London Graphic.

Cabinet Officer Is Sent on Mission to San Francisco

TREATY RIGHTS OF JAPS

Alleged Violation by Discrimination In Schools--Boycotts Against Japanese Restaurants --President Deeply Interested

Washington, Oct. 27.—President Roosevelt last night directed Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor to proceed to San Francisco and make a thorough and complete inquiry into the situation affecting the expulsion of Japanese children from the schools provided for white children and the determination to place Japanese pupils in separate schools.

The president is anxious to obtain at first hand from a cabinet officer full information affecting every phase of the subject, to the end that whatever action is taken by this government may be after an accurate understanding. The president feels that every effort within the power of the administration should be exerted to see that all the treaty rights claimed by the Japanese for its people residing in the United States should be respected and protected.

The determination to send Metcalf to San Francisco was one of the results of the request made by Viscount Aokai, the Japanese ambassador, who asked, in behalf of his government, that the Japanese subjects in California be accorded their full rights under the treaty of 1894, including that of the children to attend the public schools of San Francisco.

This request was the subject of very long and earnest discussion at the cabinet meeting yesterday, when the conclusion was reached that the best thing to do was to send Metcalf to California to secure personally all the data which could have any possible bearing on the situation. The dispatch of a cabinet officer on such a mission, it was argued, would demonstrate to the Japanese the evident sincerity of this government in dealing with the whole subject and its desire to show that every effort is being made to get at the facts.

Mr. Metcalf will leave Washington today. Every facility will be put at his command to make his investigation as thorough as possible. It is hardly likely that any report from Metcalf will be available before the president leaves on his Panama trip, although Metcalf may send some of his information by telegraph soon after he arrives at San Francisco. It is hoped by the administration officials that the expressed desire of the administration to secure the treaty rights of the Japanese will tend to allay the anti-American feeling in Japan until the whole matter is diplomatically adjusted.

During his investigation Metcalf will, if he finds it necessary, communicate with Governor Pardee of California, the acting mayor of San Francisco, and with the authorities of the school board who have direct charge of the schools in which the Japanese pupils have been denied admission. He also will consult with the Japanese consular officers in San Francisco and other sources of information.

The inquiries to be instituted by Metcalf are supplemental to the steps initiated in San Francisco by direction of the department of justice to compel the authorities to receive Japanese pupils into the public schools. Such information as the United States district attorney at San Francisco may furnish to the department bearing on the subject will be made use of in connection with that secured by Metcalf in any further steps that may be taken by the United States government.

Incidental to the inquiry into the school question, Metcalf will pay some attention to the charges made by Viscount Aoki to Secretary Root that Japanese restaurant keepers in San Francisco have suffered indignities. These reports, the ambassador says, come from consular officers of the Japanese government in San Francisco.

At least seven or eight reports have been made concerning a boycott inaugurated against these restaurants and these reports state that agents have been posted to prevent patrons from entering the restaurants and in several instances stones have been thrown and windows broken. The Japanese officials in Washington say they realize that these demonstrations and the exclusion of the school children are acts local in character, but they say it is hard to convince the people of Japan that the central government is not responsible for them.

Administration officials do not hesitate to express privately their views of the present anti-American feeling growing out of the wrongs which the Japanese declare they have suffered, and one member of the cabinet said after the meeting that the general opinion of the cabinet was that the situation was exceedingly grave and would require the most delicate treatment to prevent an open rupture.

New York May Use the Newark

Washington, Oct. 27.—The cruiser Newark arrived at Norfolk from Havana with a number of marines on board. She proceeded at once to New York, where the vessel will be put out of commission. It is said to be the purpose of the navy department to loan the vessel to New York for the use of the naval militia of that state.

Christmas Presents Which Are Easily Made at Home

THERE are reminders all about of the near approach of Christmas, but I wonder how many women have their present list anything like filled out! Of course we all intended this year to take "time by the forelock" and failed, perhaps, as usual.

A hatpin case is a useful present for the woman who travels, as it keeps the pins together and prevents their loss—a great consideration in these days of elaborate and expensive hatpins. The case may be carried out in any material you like. Its measurement is that of the ordinary hatpin, allowing an inch for the reception of any extra long ones. The design in the cut shows the case open and closed, and as it may contain as many pins as you like your own discretion must be the guide as to its width. A ribbon strip inserted down the middle and divided into sections serves as a receptacle for the pins, which are prevented from slipping out by the flaps on the ends. The top comes down over the case when folded and is fastened with a small button and loop. The edges are bound with ribbon, silk cord or braid, according to the material used for the case. The initials of the owner and the word "Hatpins" embroidered on the front give a pretty finishing touch to a charming little gift.

Handkerchief Box.

Among the vast number of homemade presents there is none likely to be more useful than a dainty box to stand on one's dressing table in which to throw handkerchiefs and veils. Such a box requires only patience and neat fingers to be turned out very quickly. In the first place, four strips of rather substantial cardboard are cut to the size required, for the front, back and sides of the box, as well as two squares for the bottom and lid. These are then duplicated, the second set of pieces being cut a fraction larger than the first. Cover the pieces of cardboard with Louis brocaded silk—a design with a large figure placed in the center of the cover is most effective. Cover the inner pieces of cardboard with a pretty plain silk. The silk is glued to the cardboard. When thoroughly dry the two sets are fitted together back to back and slipstitched to one another, so that a neatly lined box is the result. Unless the inner strips are a little smaller than the outer ones they will not fit properly. The lid is covered first with a padding of cotton sprinkled with sachet powder.

Attractive Doilies.

Plain butcher's linen or the richer damask makes the prettiest plate doilies if a pretty scallop is worked around with mercerized or the dull finish embroidery cotton.

Get the plain damask, as good a quality as you can, and have several stamped, or make circles by drawing a pencil around a plate and apply or adjust a single scallop to it, repeating until you come out even all the way around.

Padded scallops are prettiest. If you pad with the same sort of cotton that you use for the embroidery your scallops will show off better after laundering, even if the threads separate a little in the rough handling they must necessarily receive.

Two Pretty Gifts.

The cleverest way of marking handkerchiefs is to embroider the whole of the first name, as if it were written on, copying the signature of the person for whom you are doing it as nearly as possible. Embroider over a thread for padding.

A new opera bag may be made of gold or silver cloth, gathered at the top with square rings, crocheted in gray for silver, yellow for gold, green for green colored, silver or gold cloth, and so on. In a very short time this may be decorated with a small design of silk and bead embroidery.

New Handkerchief Bag.

Have you seen the handkerchief bag? It is just shown in the shops. To make it for Christmas requires two flat disks crocheted of silk and beaded, about three inches in diameter. Join these flatly together, leaving an opening at the top. This quaint little affair, which looks like an exaggerated beaded watch and may be any color desired, is swung from the belt, with my lady's little lace handkerchief tucked therein. And, in truth, tiny as the kerchief is, it just fills the bag.

BOY FULL OF LIQUOR

His Arrest Reveals Queer Doings of a Youthful Gang

Greenwich, Conn., Oct. 27.—Through the finding by Dr. L. P. Jones of a 9-year-old boy said to have been at the time very much under the influence of liquor near Rock Ridge, and which the doctor reported to the police, the authorities have discovered that a party of small boys have been using the summer home of C. B. Reed, a New York publisher, as headquarters.

Dr. Jones says he took the lad to his office and revived him. The boy was then placed under arrest. His name is Frank Martin. Another boy, Albert Holland, 10 years old, was later arrested. When questioned by the police the boy, it is said, accused almost every other small boy in town of belonging to the band. The authorities say that to all appearances the band of boys have been occupying the place for some time and have done damage estimated at between $1500 and $2000. A rigid investigation is being made.

Money Lost on Custom Houses

Eastport, Me., Oct. 27.—Residents of the seacoast cities of Maine are interested in the report that a movement for the abolition of custom houses in many of the smaller ports of the country will be pushed at the next session of congress on the ground of excessive cost. At Bangor last year it cost the government 7½ cents to collect each dollar, whereas at Boston the average cost of collection was but 3 cents. At Machias the cost of collecting each dollar was $4.32; at Castine, $1.95; at Wiscasset, $5.37; at Frenchman's Bay, $8.58, while at York, where the receipts were but $5, the cost of collection was $28.37 per dollar.

Investigating Tracy's Death

Waitsfield, Vt., Oct. 27.—The autopsy over the body of Henry Tracy, who was found dead by a roadside in North Fayston with four bullet wounds in his head and trunk, was held yesterday. The examination did not show conclusively that the man's death was due to the bullet wounds. It is believed that while driving along the road in a wagon, Tracy became stupefied by liquor and fell from the wagon near the farmhouse of the father of Harrison Corless, 17 years old, who is under arrest for the shooting.

Endeavorers Elect Officers

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 27.—The principal business session of the convention of the State Christian Endeavor association was held late yesterday afternoon when George E. Copeland of Worcester, the state president, was accorded the honor of a re-election. Other officers chosen are: Vice presidents, Rev. W. T. McElveen, Boston; Rev. C. H. Moss, Malden; Rev. J. S. Voorhees, Adams; general secretary, Miss Emma Nichols, Lexington; recording secretary, H. M. Belt, Melrose, and treasurer, G. M. Loggie, Somerville.

Victim of Young Hunters

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Kaine was accidentally shot and killed by two boys who were out gunning in the village of Lansville. The lads, Chester Stuart, 17, and George Peters, 16, were brought to the police station, where they are held on the charge of manslaughter. Mrs. Kaine was a widow, her husband having been killed in a quarry accident six years ago. She was 65 years old.

Swift Revolving Machine Burst

Sanford, Me., Oct. 27.—Two workmen were seriously injured by the bursting of a machine in which water is extracted from cloth at the Sanford mills. The machine was revolving at the rate of 2000 revolutions a minute. Blair Legere lost a leg, which was nearly cut off by a piece of metal and was later amputated, and John Leblanc was terribly injured on the chest.

Alleged Dormitory Thief

Gardner, Mass., Oct. 27.—On suspicion of being implicated in the larceny of jewelry and clothing from Harvard university dormitories, Lester Lake, employed in a toy factory here, was arrested at the request of Cambridge officers. Lake accompanied Cambridge officers to that city last night. He denied knowledge of the thefts.

Didn't Live to Reach Hospital

Vanceboro, Me., Oct. 27.—R. E. Mellyn, United States inspector of immigration here, accidentally shot himself in the head while handling a revolver and died on the train while on the way to Bangor, where it was intended to place him in a hospital.

One Year For Manslaughter

South Paris, Me., Oct. 27.—A sentence of one year in the county jail here was imposed upon Henry L. Farrington, the Civil war veteran, who was convicted of manslaughter for the shooting of Eugene Bryant in the Hartford lumber camp.

Defrauded a Bank

Boston, Oct. 27.—Bertram Garsten was sentenced to serve not more than five nor less than 2½ years in the state prison here. Garsten pleaded guilty to a charge of defrauding the National Exchange bank by means of a worthless check.

Congressman at Death's Door

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 27.—Congressman Rockwood Hoar's illness took a turn for the worse shortly before midnight, so his physicians have abandoned hope, expecting death within a few hours.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Keith's Theatre.

There have been many military bands heard in concert programs in Boston during the past few years, but never a better one than that under the leadership of the brilliant young British bandmaster, H. G. Amers, at Keith's this week. Mr. Amers and his men scored a positive triumph on Monday and they have repeated their success at every performance since. The programs include both popular and classical selections and are changed at every show. Will Rogers, with his wonderful rope work; Lynn, Faye and Young, three chic comediennes; Violet Black and company in a sketch called "A West Point Regulation;" Josephine Gassman and her cute pickaninnies; Dave Nowlin, "The Man of Many Voices;" Cherry and Bates, comedy cyclists; the three Mitchells, in ragtime revelries; the Mozarts in a dancing novelty; Dechunt and his trained terriers, and the Kinetograph will complete the bill. Another concert in aid of the Daly Industrial school will be given next Sunday evening. Mrs. Langtry and her company will appear within the next few weeks.

Castle Square Theatre.

The first Shakespearan production of the present season at the Castle Square will be "Julius Cæsar." It will be staged with all the elaborateness of scenery and attention to the artistic detail that characterized its presentation at this house last season, and it will be acted by a splendid cast of players selected from the membership of the Castle Square stock company. It is unnecessary to enlarge upon the dramatic power of "Julius Cæsar," one of the greatest of historical tragedies ever written. It has had associated with it the names of many celebrated actors including Booth, Barrett, Beerbohm Tree and many others. The scenery at the Castle Square will be especially designed by Frank Chouteau Brown, and the cast will include Howell Hansel, Charles Miller, Ben Johnson, John Waldron and Miss Thais Lawton.

Boston Theatre.

Andrew Mack in an elaborate and artistic revival of Dion Boucicault's emerald gem, "Arrah-Na-Pogue," comes to the Boston Theatre next Monday evening. The booking is for one only, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees. The greatest personal hit that has yet been credited to Andrew Mack was made in "Arrah-Na-Pogue" several years ago, and its revival seems likely to enhance this young Irish singing comedian's popularity. In "Arrah-Na-Pogue" one finds a play that fairly abounds with genuine Irish humor and Irish sentiment. Its scenes are laid in the neighborhood of County of Wicklow in the Province of Leinster, and they include the ruined abbey of St. Kevin, Wicklow Castle, Arrah's cottage, the courtroom in Wicklow Castle and the roof of Wicklow jail, overlooking the sea. Associated with him in the cast will be Miss Mae Stevenson, Miss Alice Gilmore, Georgie O'Meare, Earl Simmonds, Thomas O'Malley, J. J. Hylands, J. Palmer Collins, Thomas E. Jackson and Augustus Carney.

The Orpheum.

Those who recall the remarkable success made by Fred Karno's company of pantomime artists in "A Night in an English Music Hall," at the Orpheum a few weeks ago will look forward with pleasant anticipations to the appearance of a similar comedy at the Orpheum next week. The coming organization has made a great success in London in "A Night in the Slums of London," a pantomime in two scenes, in which they will appear for the first time here with exactly the same stage settings and accessories as were used in the London performance. An extra feature of next week's bill will be the appearance of the famous comic opera star, Della Fox, who will contribute a repertoire of new songs to the programme.

Men's Meeting.

Do you like to sing? Do you like to hear a good talk? If you do you are sure to go to the Young Men's Christian association on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 28, at 4 P. M. Why? Because Rev. A. F. Pierce of Brockton is going to speak at the Men's meeting. His topic will be "What has a man's name to do with his character? If you want to know the answer to this very interesting question be sure to be on hand at four o'clock.

An informal song social will be held in the Association parlors at 3.30 P. M. Drop in for a little while and enjoy some good music.

Dr. Pierce is a popular speaker at meetings for men, and a large number should be present to hear him. The local association is very fortunate to obtain such an able man to speak to us.

TODAY'S COURT.

H. F. Healey was fined $15 for larceny at Holbrook.

Thomas F. Smith was fined $10 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Mary Kerr was arraigned for larceny of a set of drawing instruments and a suit of clothes at Quincy. She was found not guilty and was discharged.

The continued cases of John Clifford, Richard Sullivan, Dennis Sullivan, Charles E. Bevis, Michael McCarthy and James Gillon for drunkennness and larceny at Quincy were heard. They were fined $10 each for drunkenness and discharged on the larceny complaint.

The continued cases of John W. White, John Foy, Jeremiah Donovan, John J. Crotty, Norman Everson and Thomas Connelley for larceny from Michael McGrath of Quincy were heard. Crotty was held in $300 for the grand jury. The other defendants were discharged.

KING'S DAUCHTERS

Meeting of City Union Shows Much is Being Accomplished

The annual meeting of Quincy union of King's Daughters, which takes place on the final Saturday of October, was held in Bethany chapel on the afternoon and evening of Saturday.

The hour from 4 to 5 was devoted to the reading of reports. Miss Saville, leader of the union, opened the meeting with silent prayer, followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in chorus. Everyone joined in the hymn "Blest be the tie that binds," after which Rev. E. C. Butler and Dr. E. N. Hardy in turn offered a petition to God. The song, "Sweet Hour of Prayer" was appropriately introduced by the leader and then Dr. Hardy, pastor of Bethany church, rose and gave an address of welcome.

In the opening paragraph, Dr. Hardy regretted that his intention to give the King's Daughters a warm welcome was offset by the chilly atmosphere of the chapel. He furthermore emphasized the possibility of the King's Daughters doing away with church sects which are as traitorous to the God they follow as the whole-hearted spirit of the King's Daughters is loyal.

Dr. Hardy's welcome was responded to by an address of thanks by Mrs. Wilson Marsh for the use of Bethany chapel. Mrs. Marsh also made a good point in voicing splendidly the mission of the King's Daughters in a poem on kindness.

Rev. E. C. Butler told the story with his commanding eloquence of Jesus of Nazareth giving sight to a blind beggar of Jerusalem from which act the spirit of the Daughters of the King was born. Mr. Butler was roundly applauded.

The hymn, "Laborers of Christ Arise," was followed by the report of the Whatsoever Circle of Wollaston. It is interesting to the public to catch a glimpse of the modest charities of these tens. The Whatsoever Circle has had an increase of 14 in its membership during the past year. Pond Home, a refuge for the aged and dependent almost wholly on charity, was aided by a box valued at $9.00 including $2.00 in money at Thanksgiving, and at Christmas a gift was sent to each of the inmates. Local charities were sought out and upwards of $75.00 expended in this way. In January an urgent appeal from Pond Home was answered by sending $50.00 and at the fair held Oct. 3, $150 was added to the Home fund. Miss Ethel Roberts, secretary of the Whatsoever Circle closed her paper by expressing the hope that the motto "Lend a Hand" might be sensed at its fullest by each member of the Circle. By their joint work it would seem that this is already true.

Mrs. James Kent read her report as secretary of Unity circle of Quincy which numbers 162 active and 12 honorary members. This circle has sent to Pond Home a total of $82 during the year; to the Day Nursery $25, and $10 including pictures and gifts to Ingleside, and $10 for the tuition of a little deaf mute at North Hampton. These charities do not include the almost countless acts of local kindness and financial aid. The late Henry H. Faxon and the late Mrs. Richards were both members of this Unity circle and their death the past year removed two valuable and generous helpers.

The Reaper's report was then read, and the paper of the Charitable Tens who were on the entertainment committee for the afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Saville recited the "Legend of Saint Francesca" a beautiful poem of reward for true devotion.

After the offertory there was five minutes intermission. Mrs. E. Ryder then read the secretary and treasurer's report of last year's meeting both of whichwere approved. The balance on hand caused much laughter amounting to the dignified sum of $1.03.

Officers for next year were then selected by a committee nominated by the chair. Miss Hatch of the Unity circle was elected secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Frank Davis was elected president.

The afternoon meeting was closed by a rising vote of thanks to last year's officers.

A social hour followed during which coffee, cake and sandwiches were served by the Charitable Tens.

Mr. Parker B. Field, superintendent of the Children's Mission of Boston then gave a wonderfully interesting stereopticon talk on his work among the little ones and cases where help lifted the boys and girls from a home of horror to a pleasant life in the country. Mr. Field solicited questions from the audience and his talk was unusally realistic owing to the pictures taken from life of his little beneficiaries.

School Attendance.

Supt. Parlin's report of the public schools for the four weeks ending Oct. 5 shows 5,857 children enrolled, and 5,513 in daily attendance. The Wollaston and Massachusetts Fields building led in percentage, but have some close rivals. The Gridley Bryant had the fewest cases of tardiness, and the High the fewest dismissals. Eight buildings reported cases of truancy:

ADAMS QUINCY

Tablets Unveiled At First Church To Col. Quincy And C. F. Adams

The auditorium of the First church, which has been closed for several months, during which a number of improvements have been made was reopened to the public on Sunday.

The principal improvements have been to the wall between the church and chapel. The temporary wood work which took the place of the old windows, has been removed and replaced by a solid wall.

The low doorways that lead from the church to the chapel have been changed to a high doorway, adding greatly to the architectural beauty. Handsome mahogany doors now take the place of the old door.

Another noticably change is the removing of the side pews on either side of the pulpit.

On the wall on either side of the pulpit there have been erected two handsome marble and cain stone tablets which were presented to the church by Hon. Charles Francis Adams.

That on the right of the pulpit is dedicated to the memory of Charles Francis Adams, minister to Great Britain, and that on the left to Col. John Quincy, for whom the city is named.

The tablet to Col. Quincy has at the top the family coat of arms and the motto "Sine Macula Macla," and is inscribed as follows:

In Memory of
COL. JOHN QUINCY
of Mount Wollaston.
Born in the North Precinct of Braintree, in 1689,
He there Died July 13, 1767.
A Prominent Public Man of the Provincial Period.
Twenty-Eight Years Representing Braintree in the General Court of Massachusetts Bay
And
Speaker of its House of Representatives
From 1727 to 1741.
Colonel of the Suffolk Regiment
And Long a Member of His Majesty's Council.
In His Honor This Town of Quincy was Named 1793.

The Adams tablet reads:

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS.
1807—1886.
Legislator, Publicist, Diplomat.
Insistent for Freedom.
Throughout the Great Civil War
Minister of His Country
At the Court of Great Britain,
He There Sustained Its Cause,
1861—1868.
He Served as Its Representative
In the Geneva Tribunal,
1872.

There are five other tablets in the church dedicated to John Adams, second President, and his wife Abigail; to John Quincy Adams, sixth President, and his wife Louisa Catherine; to Rev. Peter Whitney, Rev. William Parsons Lunt. D. D., and to John Wheelwright.

SLAVES TO HOUSEWORK.
Short Cut to Woman's Emancipation From Household Drudgery.
Housekeepers have reason to complain that although man's work is from sun to sun, woman's work is never done. At least such is the case with those housekeepers who do not read the Household Department of the Boston Daily Globe. One of the popular features of that department is practical instruction in the art of saving yourself while doing housework. Every woman owes it to herself to take advantage of the Globe's Household Department, where they can have the best possible advice on housework, written by New England housekeepers who have had years of experience.

Dr. E. E. Hale Coming to Quincy

The Makaria Fraternity has been very fortunate in securing as one of its speakers for its annual banquet tomorrow evening the Rev. Edward Everett Hale.

REV. EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The veteran philanthropist and author is now in his 85th year, having been born in Boston, April 3, 1822. As early as 1846, he was settled as a Unitarian minister at Worcester. Two of his most noted books are: "A man without a country" and "My double and how he undid me."

The Two Teams Closely Matched

The Quincy High football team met defeat on Saturday at the hands of the Roxbury High team at Merrymount Park. The Quincy boys, however, held up their end well and for a time it looked as though it would be a tie game.

Moran scored a touchdown for Roxbury. It was the only touchdown during the game. Both teams played a good game of two fifteen minute halves.

CRAP SHOOTERS

Arrested at Sunday Game Heavy Fines Are Imposed

Lieut. McKay, accompanied by Officers Goodhue, Milford, Crooker, Broberg, Olson, Bishop and Hultman, raided a room on the first floor of the Keating building at the corner of Washington and Canal streets at 2 o'clock Sunday morning and arrested fifteen young fellows who were charged with gaming or being present at a game of craps.

The officers approached the rear door of the room and demanded admittance. The door not being opened it was smashed in with a hammer and Lieut. McKay entered, closely followed by the officers. They found a room full of men gathered around a cloth covered table upon which were a number of dice.

As soon as the officers entered the room, someone put out the lights, and there was a rush to escape. Some may have succeeded in getting away, but fifteen of them were placed under arrest, as will be seen by the court record.

Of this number one man was locked up on the charge of running a gaming place, three for engaging in a game of craps on the Lord's day, and eleven were arraigned for being present at a game on the Lord's day.

One of the crowd jumped through a window and landed in the canal where he was fished out.

The police seized the tables and nearly 100 dice, some of which were loaded.

All the men were arraigned in court. Some pleaded guilty and fines were imposed ranging from $5 to $75.

One of the fellows, Henry Gobert, pleaded guilty to engaging in a game on the Lord's day, and was fined $25. Later he told the court that he had misunderstood the warrant and wanted to retract his plea of guilty. This he was allowed to do. The officers then testified to finding false dice secreted in his stocking and other dice in his pocket. The court then made his fine $50. He appealed.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

It is a little difficult to understand why Wall street should be so worried about "money to move the crops," while Kansas and Nebraska banks in the heart of the grain districts are refusing to accept deposits, pleading that they have more money than they can use.

Quincy people have a high respect for their neighbor, Asa P. French of Randolph, who is United States District Attorney, and he is in a position to know whereof he speaks relative to the enforcement of laws. We quote from his speech at Beverly on Friday evening.

"District Attorney Moran has disappointed every expectation that I had of him. I believed that he was entering upon the responsible duties of his important office with a high ideal of its responsibilities, and ambitions only to perform its duties and to serve the people faithfully. As a matter of fact, he has used the tremendous power entrusted to him, not for the purpose of serving the people, whom he has deceived and disappointed, but himself. It has been apparent from the outset that the office of District Attorney was to John B. Moran only a means and not an end, an instrument to serve his own monstrous ambition, just as it is apparent from his recent utterances that he proposes to make of the Governorship only an instrument by which to attain the Presidency.

"I say to you that the principles announced by the mongrel party of which William Randolph Hearst and John B. Moran are bandit chiefs are a menace to this great nation and that unless they are throttled and crushed at their inception, will involve, not this year, nor perhaps in this decade,—but ultimately and soon, be irrevocable destruction of the fair land which we prize above everything else in the world.

"John B. Moran stands upon a foundation of promises unfulfilled, of duty neglected, of power abused, and of trust violated. Always theatrical, always spectacular, always seeking the glare of the footlights and the sensation of the headlines, a megalomaniac, that is to say, a poor deluded believer in his own greatness, and a believer in nobody or nothing else on earth or in Heaven. There never was a more pitiable figure upon the stage of history."

Drift of Opinion.

☞It is the local press which serves you in every emergency. There you go in trouble. It is there you go in prosperity. If you want to boom any manufacturing enterprise, any railroad project, for the development of your town, for your lodge to increase your influence, or if your lodge desires to add to its membership or to erect a new hall or in any way advance its interests, the local press is immediately appealed to for help. So it is with our churches. If it is a picnic or a festival, a new carpet or an organ, the local press is found to be useful in furthering every good object. If a raid is to be made on sin by the ambassadors of Christ, the columns of the local paper are used freely and gratuitously in advertising the revival or protracted meeting. The candidates and politicians find also the importance of the local press.

Clearly there are many reasons why the local press should be cultivated. Yet in spite of all these facts the people most interested in the local paper are sometimes the last to give it their support and are frequently known to take several metropolitan papers and shut out their local paper altogether. If there is anything in the argument about the advantages of home trade, surely it makes a strong appeal on behalf of the local press, because the money for the labor is always expended where the paper is printed, and it paid out with one hand for subscription, advertising or job printing it comes into the other hand, and thus remains with you. If by any means you freeze out your local paper and leave yourself at the mercy of the foreign, you would find out more fully than words or arguments could explain why the local paper should be cultivat-

GUILD AND MORAN

Will Continue Aggressive Fight Until Election Day

GUILD STRONGLY BACKED

Has Support of Party Orators, While Moran Has but Little Assistance--Rallies Are Unusually Well Attended

Boston, Oct. 29.—The two most prominent aspirants for the highest office in the state, Governor Guild, the Republican candidate, who is seeking a re-election, and John B. Moran of Boston, district attorney of Suffolk county, the candidate of the Democratic and Prohibition parties and the Independence League, will round into the home stretch this week, each confident of the result at the finish a week from tomorrow.

The campaign so far has been an unusually vigorous one on the part of both candidates and has developed several interesting features.

The campaign for re-election of Guild has been conducted by the Republican state committee and the candidate has had the support of the party orators, principally Lieutenant Governor Draper, who has been obliged to defend himself against the attack of his opponent, Senator Lodge and a number of congressmen.

Mr. Moran has apparently the support of no political machine. The Democratic state committee has not been in evidence since its organization shortly after the state convention. The Prohibitionist state committee has been heard from once through the newspapers, while the managers of the Independence League have done considerable quiet work and have held one rally.

The opposition to Guild has centered entirely in Moran, whose speeches have been the most strenuous heard on the Massachusetts stump for many years.

The Boston district attorney began his campaign by a speech in Boston on Oct. 15. At that time he took up the Republican platform plank by plank and dissected it, and then followed by presenting the strong features of the Democratic platform which he claimed to have written. Since that time he has spoken almost nightly and it has been seldom that he has not shown evidence of exhaustion at the close of each speech. He has spared neither Republicans nor Democrats in his attack upon what he has termed political corruption, and he has been particularly bitter against corporations, the lobby and the Republican leaders, including Guild. He has arranged to speak every night during this week, beginning today with a two days' tour in the western portion of the state.

Governor Guild has not shrunk from the attacks of his opponent, and, although he has declined to answer him on the same platform in a joint debate, he has not only replied to many of Moran's most pointed questions, but has hurled back a number of equally vigorous ones on his own account. Guild will speak every day except Wednesday and will close the week with a tour of Cape Cod.

The rallies this year have been unusually well attended, especially those at which Moran has spoken, when in nearly every case overflow meetings have been necessary.

The Democratic organization has afforded very little assistance to congressional candidates, but nevertheless several who desire to go to Washington have been waging strong campaigns and feel confident of success.

A somewhat unusual feature is the fact that two of the Republican congressmen seeking re-election, Rockwood Hoar in the Third district and Augustus P. Gardner in the Sixth, are confined to their houses by illness and will not be able to appear on the stump in the present campaign. Gardner is conducting his campaign entirely through the newspapers.

Rallies during the present week cover a greater portion of the state and the campaign will, as usual, close with meetings in nearly every ward in Boston.

Elections of Next Week

New York, Oct. 29.—A week from tomorrow there will be elections in 42 states and three territories. Oregon, Maine and Vermont have already elected state officers and members of the Sixtieth congress. In 23 of the states a governor and other state officers (in 20 of them, also, a legislature); in 10 minor state officers or justices of the supreme court; in two, congressmen and a legislature, and in seven congressmen only are to be elected. Oklahoma is to vote on a state constitution, and Arizona and New Mexico on joint statehood.

The terms of 30 United States senators—15 Democrats and 15 Republicans—expire March 3, 1907. Of the 22 states in which is to be chosen Nov. 6 a legislature that will elect United States senators, 14 are now represented in the senate by Republicans and eight by Democrats.

A national house of representatives is to be elected—the Sixtieth congress, with 386 members. The present house is composed of 250 Republicans and 136 Democrats. Maine has already elected four Republicans, Oregon two and Vermont two.

The Socialists have tickets in 25 states, the Prohibitionists in 23, Socialist-Labor in 4 and the Independence League in 3, while "Public Ownership" has a ticket in one state.

Campaign In the Empire State

New York, Oct. 29.—In New York state this week W. R. Hearst, the Independence League and Democratic candidate, and C. E. Hughes, Republican nominee for governor, will make rapid speech-making trips through the state. Up to the present time each of the candidates has been greeted by good-sized crowds and all signs point to a continuance of the keen interest taken by the public in this year's contest.

Besides his canvass for the gubernatorial chair Hearst has on his hands a serious legal contest as to whether about 70 of the candidates of the Independence League for congress, senate and assembly from New York county may have their names printed on the official ballot at the coming state and congressional election. This point will probably be decided definitely this week.

Says Statements Are Spiteful

Warren, Mass., Oct. 29.—Wilson H. Fairbank, the member of the Lewis and Clark Exposition and the Jamestown Exposition commissions from this state, against whom charges were made by James M. Perkins, secretary of the Lewis and Clark Exposition commission, in an affidavit read by John B. Moran at a political rally in Boston Saturday night, says that Perkins' statements are due to personal spite because he (Perkins) had not been chosen secretary of the Jamestown Exposition commission.

Not In State Politics

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 29.—Delegates to the quarterly conference of the New England Association of Sheet Metal Workers held in this city attempted to have the conference pass resolutions favoring the Independence League candidates in Massachusetts and otherwise dabbling in political matters, but met with complete failure. The conference put itself on record as opposed to interference with state politics, because it was an association extending over all New England.

Publicity on Campaign Funds

Washington, Oct. 29.—Perry Belmont of New York, executive chairman of the publicity bill committee, has mailed to James S. Sherman and James M. Griggs, chairmen, respectively, of the Republican and Democratic congressional campaign committees, a letter suggesting that within a "reasonable" time after the coming elections the two committees make public a statement of their receipts and expenditures during the present campaign.

Think Hickey Fairly Elected

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 29.—That Thomas B. Hickey of this city and Charles P. Murray of Lynn have been honestly and fairly elected general president and general vice president of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union of the United States, Canada and Porto Rico, and that the attempt of the general executive board to declare the recent election invalid is wholly without justification, was the expression of over 2000 shoe workers from 30 cities and towns at a mass meeting in this city. Further, it was the sentiment of the gathering that all attempts to nullify the election of the two leading officers be fought to the end.

Took Poison In Church

Kansas City, Oct. 29.—Miss Nettie Brown, aged 25 years, said to be the daughter of D. C. Brown of Lincoln, Neb., came to Kansas City about three weeks ago and registered at a leading hotel. Later, going to another first-class hotel, without funds, she asked the clerk to telegraph to her "guardian" in Omaha. The answer from the Omaha man brought no money and Miss Brown was requested to leave. Yesterday she attended services at the Catholic cathedral and took carbolic acid, dying in a pew.

To Fight Modus Vivendi

St. Johns, Oct. 29.—The colonial legislature will meet early in Jauary for the purpose of considering the American fisheries difficulty. This is nearly two months prior to the usual time of assemblage. The legislature will appeal to Canada, Australia and other colonies to support the colony in insisting upon her power to legislate respecting her own people. It is held that the modus vivendi tramples upon this power.

Met a Horrible Fate

Bizerta, Tunis, Oct. 29.—Six bodies of the crew of the French submarine boat Lutin were removed from the vessel yesterday. The Lutin sank off this port Oct. 16 with 16 men on board. The work of removing the dead continues. The bodies of five men were found clustered amidships, six bodies were found in the stern and the others in the bow. All were in a horrible condition, owing to the action of acids.

Hotel Destroyed by Fire

Pittsfield, Me., Oct. 29.—The Lancey house, a four-story hotel in this village, was almost entirely destroyed by a fire which started in the pastry room on the lower floor. Thirty guests who were in the house at the time escaped without injury and secured most of their effects. The Lancey house contained 60 rooms. It is believed that a defect in a cooking range was the cause of the fire.

Bell Gets Close to Washington

Havana, Oct. 29.—The signal corps has completed a wireless telegraph station at Camp Columbia and is exchanging messages with Key West promptly. This puts General Bell's headquarters at hommediate communication with Washington.

OBEYING THE LAW

Defense of Separate Schools For Japanese Children

IS FOR BEST INTERESTS

San Francisco Board of Education Ready to Correct Mistake If Any Has Been Made--Want Matter Settled by Test Case

San Francisco, Oct. 29.—"When Secretary of Commerce and Labor Victor Metcalf arrives to inquire into the action taken by the board of education of the city and county of San Francisco, in providing a separate school for Japanese children, we will meet him more than half way," was the statement made by President Alton of the board of education.

"The position taken by the board," continued Alton, "was for the best interests of the public schools of San Francisco, and in strict conformity with the state laws. We believed that the best interests of schools should be subserved by sending children of Japanese parentage to a separate school. If we have erred, and can be shown whereby we have done so, the board will be more than pleased to correct its mistake, if any has been made.

"Without receding from our position, the board holds that the fault, if any exists, is with the legislative body of the state. In plain and unmistakable language, that particular section of the state statutes under which the board acted states that all children of Oriental parentage shall be placed in a separate school. The board would like to have the constitutionality of the state law tested in the courts."

School Superintendent Ronconveri said the coming of Metcalf was not necessary, as the exclusion of Japanese from the schools provided for white children is required by law.

"Many of the so-called Japanese school children, said Ronconveri, "are men of 20 to 25 years of age. They have no right to attend schools established for our boys and girls and we would not allow white men of the same age to go to the schools. These pupils are largely of the Japanese servant class, working for their board and lodging. They are to be commended for so working, but they are not entitled to go to schools with boys and girls.

"We do not deny Japanese any educational right, but there are separate schools for them and those they must attend. Before the fire there were between 400 and 500 Japanese students in the public schools. Of course, if the United States declares our state law in conflict with a treaty, that's another matter. But, at present, we are guided solely by California law."

Roosevelt's Fairness Appreciated

Tokio, Oct. 29.—The course of action pursued by the United States with the view of protecting the treaty rights of the Japanese has been somewhat effective in soothing the feelings of the Japanese people injured by the San Francisco school incident and in accentuating the confidence of the people in President Roosevelt's fairness. It is altogether unlikely that the Japanese will boycott American goods.

Wholesale Execution Probable

Mexico City, Oct. 29.—Minister of War Cosio, acting under orders of President Diaz, has dispatched a corps of artillerymen, together with two machine guns and 20,000 rounds of ammunition, to Torreon, on the United States frontier, to there await orders. It is rumored that all of those persons captured and convicted of complicity in the recent revolutionary action are to be summarily executed, and that the artillerymen have been sent to the scene to prevent possible trouble.

Storm Causes $500,000 Damage

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 29.—Two breakers were blown down, hundreds of homes damaged, dozens of persons injured and scores of trees and telephone polls uprooted and blown down in a storm which swept through the Lackawanna valley. The damage will be close to $500,000. It will require six months to repair both breakers and during that time fully 2000 men will be thrown out of employment.

Two Deaths From Explosion

Topeka, Oct. 29.—Two persons were killed, one man is missing, four were seriously injured and 20 more were hurt in an explosion of natural gas that demolished five two-story brick buildings at Coffeyville. It is supposed that the gas escaped from a main somewhere in the block. A fire broke out after the explosion, but the flames were quickly extinguished.

Climbed Through Wrong Window

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—Mistaken for a burglar, Clayton B. French, aged 24, was shot and probably wounded by W. C. Audenreid at the Montgomery inn at Bryn Mawr. French had lost his key to the hotel and was endeavoring to gain an entrance through a window which opened into a room occupied by Audenreid. Audenreid is prostrated by the affair.

Shot Down In a Clearing

Carthage, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Otto Schrann of New York, while out hunting with a party of New York men in the Cranberry lake region, was mistaken for a deer by a woodsman and shot and killed. Schrann was seated on a log in a clearing when the tragedy occurred.

JUMPED A TRESTLE

Train of Three Electric Cars Plunged Into a River

AT LEAST FIFTY DEAD

Indications That Death List May Reach Seventy-Five--Condition of Rails at Variance With Statement of Bridge Tender

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 29.—By the wrecking of a three-coach electric train on the West Jersey and Sea Shore railroad, at least 50 passengers perished and the list may reach a total of 75. While crossing a drawbridge spanning the waterway known as "The Thoroughfare," which separates Atlantic City from the mainland, the train left the track and plunged into the water.

The passengers in the first two coaches, with one or two exceptions, were drowned. Forty-four bodies have been recovered.

The disaster occurred about 2:30 yesterday afternoon. The train, made up of three heavy vestibuled electric coaches, which left Camden at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, carried, probably, 88 passengers, as that number of tickets is held by the conductor. That official is uncertain, however, just how many passengers were aboard, and, until the bodies have been taken out of the submerged coaches, it will not be possible to give even an approximate estimate of the dead.

The cause of the wreck has not been established. It was probably due either to defective rails or the breaking of some part of the superstructure of the first coach. It has already been suggested that the drawbridge, which had just been closed after a passage of a yacht, may have not properly locked the rails. All theories, however, are purely speculative as to the cause.

While running at a speed said to have been moderate and not unusual, the first coach left the rails and dragged those following it over the ties for a distance of 50 feet. Suddenly swerving, the first two coaches plunged over the side of the bridge into the water, 15 feet below. The third coach struck a heavy abutment, broke its couplings, and, for a brief time, hung perilously suspended over the water. Brief as was this period, however, it gave more than a score of passengers an opportunity to escape by the rear door. Then the car slid off and followed the other two into the water. It is believed every one in the rear or third coach escaped alive, although all were more or less injured.

The accident was witnessed by many persons on shore and assistance was promptly sent from Atlantic City. Little could be done, however, toward saving the lives of those imprisoned in the submerged coaches. The water, at the point where the train plunged in, was not deep enough to cover the coaches at first, but, as they quickly settled in the mud and as the tide rose, they were hidden from sight except for the trolley poles. Divers were sent down to try to reach the dead bodies in the coaches, but as darkness set in and as the tide ran more swiftly, they were unable, for a long time, to reach them.

Late in the evening a wrecking crew arrived on the scene and with their aid and the use of a derrick a dozen or more bodies were taken out and brought to this city. Of the 44 bodies about 20 have been identified, and, it is believed, no difficulty will be experienced in establishing the identity of the others.

General Manager Atterbury of the Pennsylvania railroad has arrived on the scene and will make a thorough investigation into the cause of the accident. Until this investigation shall have been made, Atterbury declined to make a statement.

"I arrived at the drawbridge," said Coroner Gasgill late last night, "shortly after the accident occurred. With Mr. Atterbury, I made a thorough inspection of the track. The railroad officials claim to be at a loss to explain the cause of the wreck. Several important facts were brought out by our inspection. I found the end of the drawbridge tracks higher than the ends of the other track. Consequently it was impossible for a train traveling fast to avoid jumping and being in danger of leaving the rails. That the wheels of the train had hit the end of the rails with terrific force was shown by the battered conditions of the rails.

"The condition of the rails, however, is at variance with the statement made by the bridge tender. According to Atterbury, the bridge tender told him that the bridge had just been closed, and that he had gone to either end of the draw to remove the danger flags, which had been placed there when the bridge was about to be opened. The bridgeman told Atterbury he was positive the tracks were perfectly locked. My investigation shows this not to have been the case.

"My attention has been called to the fact that there are no guard rails of any kind on the bridge. Had there been they might have prevented the train plunging into The Thoroughfare, even after it had jumped the tracks. I will find out if the law requires protection of this kind. I will not be in a hurry with the investigation, as I want to get all possible information. I shall name a jury of exceptional merit at once and begin the investigation. It is impossible at this time to ascertain how many persons lost their lives, but from what I am told I fear the number will be in the neighborhood of 75."

MRS EDDY NOT DYING

Other Statements Are Refuted by Christian Science Leaders

Boston, Oct. 29.—The Post says: Alfred Farlow, head of the Christian Science propaganda in this city, denies the declaration of the New York Sunday World that Mrs. Eddy is at death's door, suffering from a cancer; that she was "doped and galvanized" for identification last week; that she and the $15,000,000 she is said to possess are wholly dominated by her secretary, Calvin Frye; that Mrs. Pamelia J. Leonard of Brooklyn dresses in the ermine and velvet of Mrs. Eddy and impersonates her on the daily exhibition drive through Concord streets, and that a Boston specialist is constantly in attendance at the Eddy home.

The World's story caused a tremendous sensation in Christian Science circles all over the country. The astonishment was most manifest at the Boston or "Mother" church, where a hasty conference was held.

Leaders of the organization were speedily summoned into executive session, and protracted long-distance telephone conferences were held. After a two hours' talk over the telephone with Concord, N. H., the Boston conferees, headed by Alfred Farlow, issued the statements as outlined above.

Middleboro, Mass., Oct. 29.—After a four days' search, and when it was thought she was dead from exposure or suicide, Mrs. Emma Wortman, the missing Fall Brook woman, was found alive and comparatively well. She was near the top of Barden hill, where she had made a retreat, believing herself secure from the persons she thought had designs upon her life. Mrs. Wortman has little to say about how her time was spent, but states that she did not have a morsel to eat. She slept under a tree. Her clothing was in as good condition as when she left home.

The finding of Martin under the influence of liquor led to the discovery that several youths had made the Reed home their headquarters for some time and an investigation revealed a deplorable state of affairs. Other arrests may follow.

Paint Which Lasts

Painters, and all others who understand paint, know that white lead and linseed oil make the best paint. Good, lasting paint cannot be had if either pigment or oil is adulterated.

Many of the so-called white leads sold now-a-days have barytes, rock-dust, silica, gypsum, etc., in them, and little real white lead.

Linseed oil is also frequently adulterated. Such mixtures are dear at any price.

Salem Pure White Lead

(Made by the Old Dutch Process)

is absolutely pure, and makes lasting paint.

CLEMENCEAU'S AIM

Paris Thinks New Premier Plans a War on Germany

Paris, Oct. 29.—Is war with Germany the aim of Clemenceau? Is the destruction of the German empire in revenge for the national humiliation of 1872 the goal of his ambition? Is a dictatorship the means by which he seeks to bring all this to pass? These are the questions that all Paris is asking today. These are the questions which, with volatile spirits, the French people are answering in the affirmative.

The elevation of General Picquart to the ministry of war, the well known hatred of Germany by the premier, his closer drawing of the tri-partite bond between England, the United States and France, and his daring in setting gayly out to govern in troublous times without a single man of the first rank in the cabinet, all point to but one thing, says Paris—war with Germany. And while the jingoists are supremely happy, the conservatives are worried as they have not been for many years.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—The embalmed body of a 6-months-old girl in a dress suit case was found at the Adams Express company's office in this city by inspectors who were going over unclaimed articles preparatory to having them sold within a few days. The case has been in the possession of the express company since July 1 and was received from Newark, N. J. It was addressed to M. Jones, 1879 Bainbridge street, Philadelphia, which number does not exist. The bag was sent from the main station in Newark.

Shot Woman Who Rejected Him

New York, Oct. 29.—Kura Osten, 23 years of age, was shot and, it is believed, mortally wounded while riding in a cab with Louis R. Brown on Broadway last night. Her companion, who is 21 years old, was arrested. According to the police, Brown, following the shooting, attempted to kill himself. At the police station Brown is alleged to have said that the two had quarreled over the woman's repeated refusal to marry him. Both are members of prominent families of East Orange, N. J.

May Have Been a Murder

New York, Oct. 29.—Clinton C. Clark, 21 years old, a sailor on the battleship Indiana, was arrested when he was found asleep on the grass in Riverside park. Nearby was the lifeless body of an unidentified woman. Five of the woman's ribs had been broken and there were bruises on the shoulders. Clark was held as a suspicious person. He said that he had been drinking and could not remember having been in the company of the woman.

Quincy Endeavorers Were Prominent

Many cities and counties have been represented by large delegatious, but no ward, no union, no city and no county has had its name so prominently set before the people as the Washington Street society of Quincy Point, the East Norfolk C. E. Union, the city of Quincy and the Norfolk County union, at the State C. E. convention at Worcester.

For the Washington street Congregational Junior society had the largest increase of a new society in members during the six months' campaign started by the Massachusetts society. For this it was commended publicly by the chairman of the State committee on Junior Work, Rev. George F. Kenngott.

The same society received two certificates of recognition from the state for reporting the largest proportionate number of Endeavors Confessing Christ as Lord in church membership, and reporting the largest proportionate increase in membership—82 per cent.

The C. E. society of Bethany Congregational church of Quincy received honorable mention for reporting a gain of over ten per cent. increase in membership.

Certificates for ten per cent increase in membership were also given to the societies of the Atlantic Memorial church, the United Presbyterian of South Quincy, the First Congregational of Milton, and the Clark Union.

The next State convention will be at Lynn.

Election Count Will Be Late

Under the law passed by the last Legislature amending the election law, it will now be impossible for election officers to begin counting votes until the close of polls at 4 o'clock. Heretofore election officers began to count at 2 o'clock.

Ward Three Method.

A meeting of the Ward Three Republicans to select candidates for the City Council and Ward Committee to be voted for at the caucus Nov. 13, and to endorse the candidacy of Mayor James Thompson, will be held tonight at Dobles hall. These meetings have been held annually for several years and more harmony would be possible if similar meetings were held in other wards.

Some Progress At High School

Those who visited the new High school building on Sunday to see what progress had been made during the week, found windows and temporary doors in, which would have kept them out, but a watchman allowed some adults to enter.

Considerable progress has been made. All the building is now roofed in, and only a part of the hall roof remains to be shingled. Several of the rooms have been skincoated, and in some the work of finishing has commenced. The plumbing is nearly completed. No fires have yet been started but may be this week.

It was announced to the High school pupils recently that some of the rooms would be ready Nov. 12, but the Daily Ledger predicts that it will be Dec. 3, or later. The pupils, especially the class of 1907, are great sufferers.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

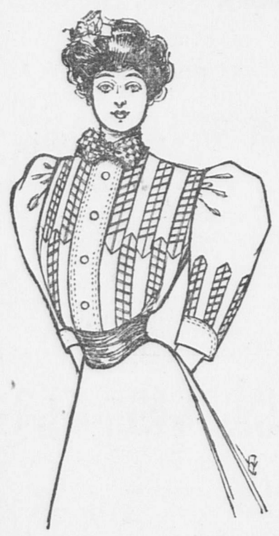

Taffeta Silk Is Making Smart Fall Waists—Dainty Swiss Matinee.

Soft taffeta silk in plain effects and checks is making charming shirt waists to be worn with coat and shirt suits. Plain silk waists are piped with check, and vice versa. For example, a green and white checked waist is given character by a yoke trimming in the form of a two inch bias band of the waist material edged with corded pipings of plain green silk set with small silk covered buttons.

A particularly smart matinee of the lingerie order is made of dotted swiss. The petticoat is simply finished, the three flounces having embroidered scalloped edges, under which are set little frills of narrow valenciennes lace. The sack hangs straight and slightly full from a little yoke and is finished with a scalloped border and lace frill. A dainty feature is an oddly shaped collar embroidered by hand in a simple design.

Some of the fall cloth walking suits have a suggestion of the Norfolk and pony jackets in their coats. But the new coat fits closer than the spring pony jacket.

Several narrow bias ruffles about two inches wide, with a hem stitched on the right side, trim many of the new veiling skirts. They are arranged in five or six rows around the bottom or in a graduated scallop pattern beginning six inches above the hem.

In some of the new checked materials there is an introduction of dots in a deeper color than the material. They are grouped in little set figures, which give the checks a world of character.

The blouse pictured is a fall design of the severe type. The material is soft finished taffeta in a gray brown tint. The bands are of checked silk and the buttons enameled affairs in gold and brown tones.

Three Alarms But Little Fire

The fire department was called out once Saturday and twice Sunday.

The alarm Saturday was from Box 24 at 3.30 and was false. This box is situated near the City Hospital and although but one round of the box was sounded the department made a quick run.

When the department arrived the firemen were informed that the box had probably been pulled by some small boys who had been seen running away from the box.

The first alarm Sunday was from Box 32 at 5.03, and was for a grass fire off Independence avenue near the residence of John Q. A. Field. The recall was promptly sounded.

The second alarm Sunday was from Box 43 and sounded about 10 P. M. This was for a fire in a small building off Buckley street, used by some boys as a club house. A stream from the chemical put out the blaze.

Dr. Everett Is for Guild

Editors of Daily Ledger:

As several of my friends, whose opinions are greatly to be respected, and who are more or less associated with the democratic party have announced their intention of voting for Governor Guild. I wish to say that I expect to do the same on account of his admirable conduct in the Tucker case, if for no other reason. Such an exhibition of untiring industry in investigation, firmness in maintaining the law, and reserve in exercising a very perilous prerogative is rare indeed.

As many citizens think otherwise, I should like to ask what evidence there is that Mr. Moran would make a better governor in this—or any other—department of the duties of the executive.

Boys' Reception At Y. M. C. A.

Saturday evening over 250 boys enjoyed the hospitality of the Young Mens Christian Association. From 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock pool tables, bowling alleys and game rooms were thrown open to the boys of Quincy. The boys on their part were there in full force to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent possible.

The program, which was very informal, consisted of the privilege of one free game of pool, one free string on the bowling alley, one ticket for refreshments, etc. Mr. Drew, county secretary, made an address to the boys.

A gymnastic exhibition was given by a class of juniors under the leadership of Mr. Long. Two basket-ball games were played—one beween the Intermediates and Employed Boys, and the other between two picked teams of Juniors.

Mr. Reed, the new boys work director, welcomed the boys to the building and outlined the work for the coming season. It is hoped that many more boys will take advantage of the privileges afforded by the association, and will help to make Quincy one of the best associations in the state.

Fair Advertising Is Simply Graft

Editors Daily Ledger:

I have read with much interest the unfair criticism of "A Quincy Buyer" on the recent stand taken by certain merchants of this city in deciding to discontinue the practice of contributing to fairs, purchasing tickets, placing advertisements in programs, etc. Presumably, not being a Quincy merchant, he is to be excused for a one-sided expression of opinion, for if 97 out of 100 merchants by actual count have agreed that the time has come when a halt shall be made in this constant drain in resources, it is fair to believe that there is reason in their action.

I admit there are worthy causes and worthy charities and these cases will undoubtedly be met by the merchants in the future as they have in the past with reasonable response. There are however unreasonable requests, and every merchant of any prominence is met with hundreds of such requests each year not only from local organizations, clubs, societies, churches, individuals, etc., but from those of all adjoining towns who find the merchants in the most thickly populated localities easiest to get at to lay their claims.

Not only this—but much lack of judgment has been displayed in the larger number of cases in the running of fairs, and it is not uncommon for a merchant to receive three of four calls for the same fair from various ladies who have individual tables, all working for the same object, but anxious to get all they can for their own table.

That the merchants have been submissive for so long is really a wonder. In the large cities throughout the state, merchants associations have been formed and absolutely nothing is given for such purposes, and the people know it is useless to ask. In the city of Holyoke not one cent is given in this manner, and cases that are considered worthy are referred to the Business Men's Association, investigated, and if the investigating committee recommends, a contribution is made from the Association which represents the entire merchants of the City.

Advertising is a business proposition, and should be treated as such, and the man who has not the courage to stand up for his rights and refuse to do a thing he knows to be glaringly wrong, even if he offends a few, is usually a man who has never made a huge success of his business. If a merchant spends $500.00 a year in contributions, that $500.00 immediately becomes a part of the expense of doing business, and the buying public must pay back this amount to the merchant in the price they pay for goods, or he cannot do business. Without this graft a merchant knows where he stands; can figure profits accordingly, and the public get the direct benefit in lower prices.

One who knows.

WARD THREE

Republicans Hold Old Time Caucus To Make Nominations For City Caucus

The annual gathering of the Ward Three Republicans was held Monday evening at Doble's hall. There was a large attendance of voters, and the meeting was an enthusiastic one. Addresses were made by Mayor Thompson, Representative Eugene C. Hultman, candidate for reelection; and Edward B. Callender, candidate for Congressman from this district.

Harry S. Nicol called the meeting to order. Alexander Falconer was elected chairman and Oscar Frisk secretary.

It was at this time that Mr. Callender and Mr. Hultman entered the hall and they were given an enthusiastic reception.

Representative Hultman, upon being introduced, spoke briefly in regard to the misstatements as to his labor record. His opponents had given him credit for voting against labor measures that never came to a yea and nay vote, and the whole statement was false. He spoke of the many so called labor measures before the Legislature last year and said that he voted for them all.

He was particularly active in pushing the "public opinion bill" through the House. The circular that had been issued, stating that he had voted against all labor matters, he branded as a lie.

Mr. Callender, when introduced, said that he was the one that drafted the so call overtime bill. He believed that it should have been a law years ago. The speaker said from what he knew of Hultman's record he was a loyal, devoted and unselfish friend of the laboring man. He has been of great advantage to the labor interests of the State. Labor men of Quincy will make no mistake if they send him back.

Mr. Callender then spoke of the old-time vaudeville show that the Moran Democrats were now giving. Moran's talk he likened unto superheated air.

As for himself, he was on record as favoring the Merchant Marine subsidy bill long before the advent of the Fore River shipbuilding industry. He also briefly outlined the many advantages that Boston harbor possessed.

The speaker then said, that during his six years in the legislature and two years in the senate, his record was the only one the American Federation of Labor did not assail.

He felt that the laboring man knew they had no enemy in him, but a warm friend and he therefore asked for their vote.

A brief suspension of business was then declared to give the voters an opportunity to meet Mr. Callender.

Resuming business the meeting then made its nominations of candidates for the city caucus.

Councilman Spargo declined to again be a candidate and he was given a vote of thanks for his long and faithful service.

These nominations were made:

For Ward Councilmen,—William H Deacon, George Hunter, J. Winthrop Pratt, Alexander Falconer, John H. Collins, Christopher Talickson.

For Councilman-at-large,—Walter E. Piper.

School Committee-at-large,—John E. Sprague.

For Ward Committee of nine,—Angus Karl, Robert B. Craig, Alexander Falconer, William H. Deacon, John Masson, Andrew Johnson, Stephen Tinney, Walter E. Piper, Thomas C. Smith, J. Winthrop Pratt, John L. Miller, William J. Spargo, George Hunter, Alexander Booth, Alexander Emslie, George A. Bolster, Alexander M. McGregor, William A. Smith.

The meeting by an unanimous vote endorsed the candidacy of Mayor Thompson for reelection.

His Honor was then introduced and received a rousing welcome. He said that no one thing was as pleasing to him as this very endorsement. He believed the policy of the Ward Three Republicans to be the proper one. It was a good thing for the citizens to get together and discuss the qualifications of candidates. A public office is only the

Turbines for New Battleships

The 20,000 or more ton battleship which experts of the Navy Department—to say nothing of those outside of the department—are making plans for, will probably carry turbines instead of ordinary reciprocating engines as the motive power, says the Washington correspondent of the Boston Transcript.

This is the result of information which has come from England lately regarding the Dreadnought. The reports indicate that the turbines operated on the English vessel with great success, and convinced the experts that they could be run economically with the ship going at low speed.

This has been the principal block in the way of adopting the turbine for our own large ships of war, but the naval engineers are now so far convinced of the efficiency and economy of the turbine that it is realized it would have been a decided advantage to have had turbines on the battleships recently contracted for instead of reciprocating engines. The change cannot now be made, of course, since it would involve many questions with other bidders who proposed to furnish turbines and whose bids were rejected.

It is still a question whether the choice will be between the Curtis turbine or the Parsons-Westinghouse turbine the latter being described as an improvement on the English type used on the Dreadnought and manufactured in this country. It is certain, say the naval engineers, the turbine has come to stay, and must be taken into account in equipping the next big ships planned for this Government. The new destroyers which are being designed will carry turbines.

INTERESTING EVENTS

Annual Games of Adams Academy In Observance of Founder's Day

The annual founders' day games of the Adams Academy Athletic Association were held this morning on the school grounds.

There were thirteen events on the score card and each had a goodly number of entries so that there was an individual interest in each event.

The field was in good condition and the several events run off promptly.

Owing to the rawness of the day there were not as many spectators as usual.

The several events and the winners are as follows:

The 70 yard dash with over 20 entries was run in three heats. The first heat was won by Thayer, the second by Whitmarsh and the third by Wigren. The final heat was won by Thayer; time, 8 1-4 seconds.

There were thirteen entries for the running broad jump. Wigren was the winner; his jump being 15 feet 9 1-2 inches.

The 220-yard dash had eight entries and was won by Thayer, whose time was 25 3-5 seconds.

The course for the bicycle race was from the Academy, via Adams street, Newport avenue, Beale street, Adams street to starting point. The course was not a measured one but was something like five miles. Blake won the race in 16 minutes.

The potato race furnished as much sport as ever, and of the dozen entered McLaughlin won out.

The quarter-mile challenge cup race is always an interesting school event. There were over twelve entries. Thayer won out, his time being 1 minute, 30 seconds.

The obstacle race was the funniest event of the day. Starting from a given point the twenty or more starters had to crawl three times under a low bar, then run backward a short distance, crawl through a barrel, then between the trees and fence to near the finish line, then crawl on hands and knees. Howley won the race in 2 minutes, 25 seconds.

The mile run for the challenge cup was a close race between Thayer and Blake. The two men were close together throughout the whole race. Thayer led at first and then Blake took lead and held it until near the finish when Thayer spurted by and won out. Time 6 minutes and 4 seconds.

The sack race had half a dozen starters, and was replete with tumbles. Curley won in 24 seconds.

The three-legged race was scheduled to be fun in heats. Instead of that however it was run in one heat. Thayer and Wigren won in 11 1-2 seconds.

The class relay race was a contest to see which class possessed the best runners. Five from each class were selected, each running one lap. The second class was an easy winner.

The basket ball game was played in two halves, one of 7 and one of 8 minutes. During the first half neither side scored. Early in the second half Capt. McKenzie's team scored two baskets.

Then Capt. Nolan's team braced up and tied the score. The play was then sharp and two more baskets were secured by Capt. McKenzie, and the game ended with a score of 8 to 4 in favor of Capt. McKenzie's team.

The last event was the tug of war. This was run off in three heats or pulls. The first pull was between the third and fourth classes, was won by the third class by 7 feet.

The second pull was between the first and second classes, and was won by the latter class, by 14 feet.

The final pull was between the second and third classes and the second class was an easy winner by 12 feet.

The judges were Hon. L. A. Frothingham, the speaker of the Massachusetts House in 1904 and 1905; Dr. W. L. Sargent, Dr. D. B. Reardon, Mr. T. L. Bramhall, Mr. J. D. Kent, Jr.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

Foremost in temperance legislation in the Legislature has been Robert Luce of Somerville, but he does not believe temperance will be advanced by the election of District Attorney Moran. We quote from his speech at Northhampton:

"News has come to us in Boston that sundry citizens in the western part of the State, who have been accustomed to vote the prohibitionist ticket, cannot swallow Moran and will this year vote for Guild. There is every reason why this report should be true, and indeed why every man who hopes for practical results in the way of temperance legislation should this time at any rate vote the Republican ticket. The election of Moran would absolutely stop, for the time being, all progress in the restraint of the liquor traffic.

"In every other field of moral and temporal progress,—of reform, if you want so to call it,—the election of Moran would be a calamity in the eyes of any man who has served in the Massachusetts Legislature and seriously desires sane advance. For instance, take the matter of direct nominations, in which I believe, and to the progress I may in some slight measure have contributed. It is one of Moran's planks. Yet no experienced legislator will fail to testify that his commendation of it will suffice to cast suspicion about it, and that whatever ought to be the case, the practical result of his recommendation of it as governor would be to retard it by years.

"That was exactly what happened when the Democratic party took up the income tax, admitted by all students of taxation to be the most equitable and reasonable of all taxes. Its advocacy by the Democratic party retarded its application in the United States by probably a generation. We may theorize twenty-four hours in the day that these things ought not to be, but if we want results, we must recognize what is and in this case the fact is that no good reform advocated by Moran would fail to be retarded if he were to become Governor."

THE BIG GRAFTERS

Guild Asks What Moran Has Done Toward Prosecution

MAN WHO DARES TO TALK

But Governor Says His Opponent Fears to Act--District Attorney Introduces New Features In the Campaign

Boston, Oct. 30.—Governor Guild made two political speeches in the suburbs last evening, one at Brookline and the other at Watertown. In each he propounded a number of questions to his opponent, and answered the affidavit of James M. Perkins, making charges against Wilson H. Fairbank, a state commissioner at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, which affidavit was read by Moran in his speech on Saturday night. Guild's remarks at both Brookline and Watertown were in part as follows:

"Mr. Moran advertises himself as a law-enforcer, opposing graft and lawbreakers. He has convicted one small grafter. What has he done about the big grafters?

"On Dec. 28 last an official report filed at city hall showed apparent graft to the extent of $385,205.43. The investigation showed that the form of contract used 'is readily adapted for use as a means of distributing political patronage at the expense of the city.' The report further stated a belief that such contracts were in fact resorted to in these instances largely for that purpose. The statement was further made that 'names of men appeared upon the payrolls who were paid, but did not work at all.'

"This is no unsupported oral allegation which the man who made it refused to reduce to writing. This is an official report with serious and formal charges which you have had before you for nine months. You pledged yourself to action.

"You have shown yourself to be the man who dares to talk. Are you the man who fears to act?

"You dared to talk against the Ice trust. I believe that away back in the hot days of August you got some indictments against members of the Ice trust. Why have you not pushed the Boston Ice trust case, Mr. Moran, to a finish? Is it because you are afraid to do so, or because you haven't had time in the midst of your political campaigning and your trips to New York, or because you and your assistants are so inefficient that your indictments are worthless?

"You 'dared' to talk against the bribe givers in bucket shops. Do you fear to try that case at all?

"You 'dared' to promise searching investigation of padded payrolls at city hall. Do you fear to make that promise good?

"You 'dared' to promise investigation of bribery in the dock trust cases. Do you fear to probe in that case, too?

"You 'dared' to denounce those accused of robbing the depositors in the Provident Securities and Banking company. Do you fear to hunt the rascals out?

"You 'dared' to release a swarm of little criminals from Charles street jail. Why don't you put some big criminals in jail?

"On Saturday night my antagonist read an affidavit made before his friend, Timothy W. Coakley, by one who was, but no longer is, an employe of the commonwealth. The affidavit concerned certain transactions connected with the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland. It was insinuated that important evidence affecting the disbursement of moneys in connection with that exposition was being held back by me for political motives. There is no evidence in my possession which is not and has not been public property. I could not conceal any such evidence if I would. I would not if I could.

"The Lewis and Clark Exposition commission was authorized in 1904. The exposition closed in 1905. The alleged incident which forms the basis of the attack by James M. Perkins on Commissioner Fairbank, but which Fairbank asserts never took place, occurred, if it did occur, not later than last spring.

"On Oct. 22 I laid the matter before the attorney general and requested him to examine into the facts. On Oct. 24 the attorney general notified both Perkins and Fairbank to come before him with their papers on Oct. 29 at 2 p. m.

"That hearing, arranged at my request, has been held. A stenographic report was made of the entire proceedings. I am entirely willing that every word of it shall be given to the public. So is the attorney general. The representative of the district attorney, however, who was present, requested that it should not be published. A copy of the whole proceedings will be furnished the district attorney's office at once.

"There has been, there will be, no attempt to conceal or suppress any evidence of any kind in connection with this matter or with any other public matter, as far as I have power to produce such evidence."

GUILD AND M'KINLEY

Moran Says Governor Was Paid For Eulogizing Late President

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 30.—John B. Moran spoke at three rallies in Connecticut river cities last night, beginning at a meeting at the Court Street theatre in this city and then going to Chicopee and Holyoke.

He brought out three new features, one of which, the presentation of $100 to Governor Guild a year ago by the McKinley association in this city for a eulogy at the monument, caused a sensation here.

Mr. Moran said that Guild had always spoken highly of President McKinley and never lost an opportunity to speak of the virtues of the late president. This did not prevent him, he said, from taking $100 in payment for his eulogy at the unveiling of the memorial in Springfield a year ago.

Mr. Moran again attacked Wilson H. Fairbank, who is at present a member of the state commission on the Jamestown Exposition and was also a member of the commissions at the Lewis and Clark and Louisiana Expositions. Moran claimed Fairbank had in his possession at his home in Warren between $2000 and $3000 worth of the state property. The speaker called upon Guild to send a member of the state police to Warren at once and take the state property to Boston.

In connection with the recent trial of Robert G. Proctor, private secretary of Senator Lodge, on a charge of larceny from John G. Bestgen, Moran said that, in addition to $225 which Bestgen gave Proctor, presents were made by Bestgen to Chairman Talbot and Treasurer Reynolds of the Republican state committee, consisting of knives, razors, scissors and other cutlery. Bestgen is a cutlery dealer in Boston.

Mr. Moran's speech at Chicopee was short, but at Holyoke he spoke for nearly an hour and emphasized particularly that portion of his speech criticising Governor Guild for the appointment of Judge Dana.

Hughes and Hearst Hard at Work

New York, Oct. 30.—Refreshed by the over-Sunday lull, the state candidates yesterday pitched in for the finahardest week of the campaign. Mr. Hughes spoke at Dansville and Syracuse and Mr. Hearst made addresses in Auburn and Syracuse. Hughes pleaded for sane judgment on big business interests and urged Republicans and Democrats alike to vote for a sincere administration of public affairs. Hearst assailed the corporations and bitterly arraigned the board of elections before whom many league nominating contests were heard. He asked his audiences to free themselves of state officials controlled by money interests.

Evidence Not Made Public

Boston, Oct. 30.—An objection by Assistant District Attorney Dwyer prevented the making public of the testimony in the private hearing on the charges against Wilson H. Fairbank of Warren, a member of the Lewis and Clark Exposition commission from this state. The charges figured in a political address made by John B. Moran, Dwyer's superior. Unless the objection is removed or Attorney General Malone, who gave the hearing, changes his mind, none of the evidence will be made public until after election.

Union Labor to Organize

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—At a secret meeting of the board of supervisors it was decided to form an organization "to champion the cause of justice and fair play, refute the slanders of corporations and millionaires" and resist attacks on union labor administration. Four thousand city employes have been called to assemble, and bring five friends each, making the total strength of the organization about 24,000 men.

Bailey's Estimate of Hearst

Dallas, Oct. 30.—In a speech at Brownwood Senator Bailey excoriated Mr. Hearst. "He is a political Ishmaelite with his hand raised against every man and every man's hand raised against him," said Bailey. "He is so bad that his candidacy would disease any electorate, his elections would disgrace and office, and his leadership would destroy any party. He is a moral pervert and a political degenerate."

Alleged Registration Frauds

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 30.—Enormous registration frauds are found, it is said, in the daily comparison of the registration lists with the names on what is known as the great register. "I am sending about 400 names daily to the county clerk for cancellation from the great register," said Secretary North of the non-partisan organization.

Another Arrest In Hartje Case

Pittsburg, Oct. 30.—The trial of Clifford Hooe, a negro, charged with perjury in connection with the Hartje divorce case, provided a sensation in the arrest of William de Costa, a negro tailor, immediately after he had testified that Mrs. Hartje had frequently visited his establishment for the purpose of meeting Hooe. A charge of perjury will be made against De Costa.

TO CLEAR MYSTERY

Mrs Eddy Ready to Meet Boston Newspaper Men

NOT DYING OF CANCER

Housekeeper Leonard Denies That She Impersonated Christian Science Founder In Daily Drives--No Drugs In the House

Concord, N. H., Oct. 30.—Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy today is expected to clear up all the mystery concerning her health and circumstances of life, when the swarm of newspaper men have been told that they may see her, in the flesh, and, possibly may talk to her, that they may assure the public that she is not "dying of cancer," is not a "prisoner," in the hands of persons who are handling her resources, and that she is not being impersonated on her daily drive.

Mrs. Eddy has practically agreed to meet the Boston newspaper men some time today in order that they may be satisfied as to her identity and condition.

Mrs. Leonard, the housekeeper, who, it was charged, has been impersonating Mrs. Eddy for months on the daily drives, said: "I can only repeat my denial of ever having in any way, shape or form impersonated Mrs. Eddy.

"Since coming here the last time on Feb. 19 I have not passed through the gates of Pleasant View more than four times and never have I been, or even looked, inside her carriage.

"To my personal knowledge Mrs. Eddy has been driving every day except one since I have been here. That exception was early in the spring when the roads were in a very bad condition and there was neither sleighing nor wheeling.

"I have always been here when Mrs. Eddy took her drives and any caller at Pleasant View might have seen me on these occasions.

"Relative to the stimulants and drugs, the odors of which were said to have permeated the rooms, I can state that with the exception of alcohol, which was used in an alcohol lamp, there has never been anything of the kind in the house since I have been here.

"We do not even use anything in the nature of stimulants in the cooking, and tea and coffee are never used in the house."

While to a casual observer Mrs. Leonard might seem to have a slight resemblance to Mrs. Eddy because of her almost snow white hair, in reality the two women are quite different. Mrs. Leonard is about the same height as Mrs. Eddy, but very much stouter. While Mrs. Eddy is described as quite slight, Mrs. Leonard is plump of figure, and at least 20 years younger than the founder of the Christian Science faith.

A CHILD WITH CRAMPS

should have immediate attention, as cramps are positive proof that there is some foreign substance in the stomach or bowels that nature cannot get rid of unassisted, and in most cases the trouble proves to be worms. Worms are the cause, either directly or indirectly, of the majority of childhood ills, and in a great many cases adults are also sufferers.

DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR

the only safe, sure, entirely vegetable worm remedy ever compounded, has been working wonderful cures for over half a century, and stands without a peer in in all complaints of the stomach, liver or bowels—especially constipation and worms. The familiar symptoms of worms are disturbed health, deranged stomach, furred tongue, variable appetite and bowels, increased thirst, itching of the nostrils, bed-wetting, wind colic, irritability, restlessness, grinding of teeth, slow fever and often in children, convulsions.

When any of these symptoms are noticed, do not delay, but give Dr. True's Elixir at once and restore the patient to perfect, robust health. A few drops of the Elixir taken occasionally will guard against worms, and if present will expel them.

Sold by all dealers, 35c, 50c, $1.00. Write for free booklet, "Children and Their Diseases."

Fifty-One Bodies Recovered From Electric Train Wreck

CORONER'S JURY AT WORK

Railroad Manager Says Cause of Disaster Is a Mystery Which May Be Revealed When First Coach Is Carefully Examined

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 30.—The total number of dead in the wreck of the electric train, which, on Sunday afternoon, loaded with passengers, plunged into the waterway separating this city from the mainland, is now placed at 53. Of these, 49 bodies have been identified, two remain unclaimed in the temporary morgue and two persons are known to have been drowned, but their bodies have not as yet been recovered.

Monday was a day of unceasing activity, of gruesome scenes and pathetic incidents. Wrecking crews with derricks succeeded in bringing one of the two submerged cars to the surface and divers, working in relays, brought up bodies until their fearful task was completed and they reported that no more dead remained either inside the second car or in the water and mud anywhere in the vicinity.

Interest now centers in the work of the coroner's jury which made a careful inspection of the scene of the wreck and the drawbridge at which the train left the rails. The jury met at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and, accompanied by Coroner Gaskill, Prosecuting Attorney Abbott, City Solicitor Wootten and several other city officials, proceeded to the scene of the tragedy. At the bridge they were joined by Mayor Stey and General Manager Atterbury of the Pennsylvania railroad.

After the forward car of the two submerged coaches had been hoisted to the surface and the divers who had been at work on the wreckage all day had made a final examination of the second car without finding any more bodies, Atterbury, who, with several of his assistants, had been on the scene since Sunday night, expressed his belief that the total number of dead would not exceed 53.

"There is a bare possibility that one or two others may have been killed," he said, "but I feel confident that the number of victims will remain at 53. I cannot believe that any of the unfortunates were carried out to sea by the ebbing tide."

On returning from the drawbridge Atterbury discussed the accident freely, but when asked to give his theory as to the cause of it, he replied that it still is a mystery to him. "I still believe," he declared, "that there was nothing wrong with the rails of the bridge. I am inclined to think that the cause will be ascertained when the first coach is examined."

Mr. Atterbury himself showed the jurors how the bridge is operated and explained in detail the manner of opening and closing the draw. On their return to this city the jury decided to hold the first session of the inquiry Thursday.

Although reasonably certain that the narrow waterway into which the train fell had been relieved of all its dead, the divers continued their work late into the night and maintained a diligent search. The wrecking crew was also kept busy preparing for the hoisting of the second car. The debris of the last car, which struck and was held fast by an abutment, has not yet been removed, an effort in that direction resulting in half the coach sliding into the stream.

Yeomen and Money Missing

Havana, Oct. 30.—Captain Nazro of the cruiser Brooklyn has requested the police to arrest two deserters, Charles N. Fernald and David A. Harman, both yeomen. These men left the Brooklyn in charge of a mail pouch in which there were registered letters containing $1800 for transmission to the United States. The crew of the Brooklyn had just been paid off, and the men were sending money home.

Signal Corps Sent Against Utes

Omaha, Oct. 30.—General Wint, commanding the department of the Missouri, returned yesterday from Newport News and at once took charge of the campaign against the Utes in Wyoming, his first order being for the dispatch of Captain Wildman with 30 men of the signal corps from Fort Omaha to the scene of the military operations, taking with them all necessary field apparatus.

Suit For Five Cents Damages

Columbus, O., Oct. 30.—Attorney Lloyd has filed a suit for damages against the Columbus Street Car company for the sum of 5 cents, the smallest suit for damages ever filed in this city. Lloyd alleges he was refused a transfer to the Westerville line, though the franchise of the company explicitly declares that a transfer shall be given.

Train Went Through Bridge

Hugo, I. T., Oct. 30.—A train ran through a bridge at Camden, killing the engineer and fireman and fatally injuring a brakeman. New stringers were being put in the bridge and it is supposed that this caused the accident.

Robbers' Big Haul In Cash

Kazan, Russia, Oct. 30.—Two mail wagons were attacked near here by a band of 30 armed men. One of the wagons got away, but from the other the robbers secured $12,500 in cash and much valuable property.

Grist of Resolutions Adopted by Temperance Women

Hartford, Oct. 30.—Resolutions denouncing King Leopold II of Belgium as the author of conditions in the Congo Free State which are characterized as "atrocities;" calling for the exclusion of Reed Smoot from the United States senate, because of his relations with the Mormon church; opposing the sale of beer or other intoxicants at army posts; advocating the making permanent of the temporary prohibition of the sale of beer at national soldiers' homes; protesting against the issuing of liquor tax receipts in prohibition territory; declaring for the highest standards of purity for men and women alike, and declaring in favor of the right of suffrage for women, were adopted by the National Women's Christian Union convention.

Would Abolish Shiloh Colony

Portland, Me., Oct. 30.—The conference of local ministers with Mrs. Alice Phelps of Kansas City, who is anxious to remove her daughter, a former school teacher, from the influence of the Holy Ghost and Us society at Shiloh, but has been unable to do so by persuasion or other means, resulted in a decision to circulate petitions asking Governor Cobb to find some way in which cruelties and sufferings alleged to exist at Shiloh may be eliminated. It is suggested that if nothing is accomplished by the petitions, the matter will be taken to the legislature and an attempt will be made to secure the passage of legislation affecting this colony.

Plot to Destroy Building

Boston, Oct. 30.—The police and fire departments spent considerable time last evening in investigating what was apparently an attempt to blow up or burn a large building in South Boston, a portion of which is occupied by the Boylston Manufacturing company. Officers of the company reported that in making an unexpected return to the building last night a large number of gas jets were found turned on, the gas filling the building. There were candles near the door. The investigation has not disclosed the person who turned on the gas or the object in doing so.

Wreckers Misplaced Switch

Brunswick, Me., Oct. 30.—An extra freight train of eight cars from Bangor was wrecked inside the Brunswick yard limits. No one was injured, but the engine and seven of the cars were demolished and a part of a consignment of four carloads of potatoes was lost. Railroad officials say that the accident was the work of train wreckers who deliberately misplaced a switch. An express was the train which the wreckers sought to derail.

Record Cargo of Apples

Boston, Oct. 30.—With a record far in excess of any European liner leaving this port during the fall season, steamship Ivernia left at 8:30 o'clock this morning for Queenstown and Liverpool, with 26,000 barrels of apples as part cargo. The nearest approach to this vast quantity of fruit left here on the Bohemian for Liverpool, on Oct. 9, when that vessel took out 13,446 barrels, just a trifle over one half the quantity the Ivernia left with today.

Gulls Feasting on Eels

Nantucket, Mass., Oct. 30.—Thousands of dead sand eels, averaging five inches in length, have been thrown upon the beaches during the past two days, furnishing a feast that has attracted thousands of gulls. Some of the birds must have come a considerable distance, for they seemed somewhat exhausted when they arrived. The flock along the beaches is a tremendous one and the winged army is constantly being reinforced.

Treasure Ship Safe In Port

Boston, Oct. 30.—The Arabistan, a week overdue, arrived here today with $2,735,000 in specie. She sailed from Montevideo Sept. 15. By some error her arrival at St. Lucia, where she touched Oct. 12, was not cabled, and after the destructive Caribbean hurricane of Oct. 17 fears for her safety were felt. The gold is in $10 eagles and is consigned to Boston and New York bankers.

Italian Cruiser at Boston

Boston, Oct. 30.—The protected cruiser Fieramosca, the first Italian armored vessel that has been in Massachusetts waters for many years, dropped anchor in Boston harbor last night. Today she came up to the city and by courtesy of the American government was provided with a berth at the navy yard. It is expected that the Fieramosca will remain here for some time to make repairs.

SCRAMBLE FOR LAND

Opening of New Reservation May Be Declared Invalid

Thorne, Nev., Oct. 30.—With the firing of a blast of dynamite from the top of Grant peak, the Walker Lake Indian reservation was opened to settlers at noon yesterday. At the signal hundreds of searchers for gold hurried helter skelter over the boundary lines and before the smoke from the dynamite explosion had drifted away a spectacular race of launches, automobiles, horses and all sorts of vehicles was on.

Those who had waited for the signal before rushing into the reservation found, it is asserted, that all the more valuable claims in the vicinity of creeks emptying into Walker lake had been taken up by men who had unlawfully gotten in Sunday night. It is said many miners flocked in during the night, overwhelming the Indian police, of whom there were only 14 to guard 75 miles of territory.

Special Land Agent Parks says that there is a possibility that the present opening may be declared invalid and a new one called for. Sub-Agent Robert Lovegrove says that United States engineers, who were sent here to carry out reclamation work on a portion of the Walker lake reservation that has been allotted to the Indians, occupied their time in placing launches on the edge of Walker lake to participate in the rush, contrary to the law, which states that all persons shall keep off a reservation until the time fixed for its opening.

Charged With Assaulting Priest

Westfield, Mass., Oct. 30.—Seven members of the congregation of the local Polish church were arraigned in the district court, charged with an assault on Rev. T. L. Przybylski. All the men are charged with simple assault, while Michael Kuoznski is accused also of assault with a dangerous weapon. The assault is alleged to have resulted from a factional quarrel in the church. The hearing is unfinished.

Controversy Over Locomotives

Rome, Oct. 30.—The Italian press is stirred up in the matter of the 20 locomotives ordered from the Baldwin Locomotive works of Philadelphia for use on the state railroads and which arrived in Italy Aug. 13. They have not yet been used, and the newspapers declare they are too heavy for the Italian roadbeds. The state declares it has not yet had time to assemble the engines.

Hustled to Port With Coal

Portland, Me., Oct. 30.—Five big coal schooners, each hurrying to be the first to reach this port, and all coming in within a half hour of one another, brought an aggregate of 17,068 tons of coal yesterday. All five vessels reported rough passages. The Oakley C. Curtis and Mary Palmer started from Philadelphia together and dropped anchor here within 10 minutes of each other.

A Schaefer-Hoppe Contest

Baltimore, Oct. 30.—Jake Schaefer last night won the first half of a 900-point 18-2 billiard match from Willie Hoppe, scoring his 500th point in his 23d inning. Hoppe's score was 325. The remaining 400 points will be played tonight.

As Viewed By a Lawyer

Editors Daily Ledger:—

Although not a Moran supporter, I come within the generalization of those "who think otherwise" which appeared in the letter of Dr. William Everett anent the Tucker case, and therefore feel entitled to be heard in answer to the question which your correspondent has propounded.

The doctor wants to know what evidence there is that in the matter of hearing petitions for the commutation of the death sentence John B. Moran would prove a better governor than the present executive. The answer to that is that there isn't any evidence at all, one way or the other; and it would be unfair to call upon Mr. Moran's friends for evidence of something which is not susceptible of proof.

Evidence, like knowledge, is of things we see—the things that are and the things that have been. Concerning the things that may happen, we would speculate and hope and trust and have faith, but we cannot adduce evidence.

The opponents of Moran must be hard pressed for arguments against him when they demand that his friends produce evidence on hypothetical cases.

The Choice of Democratic City Committee For Mayor

William T. Shea, who is probably one of the best known Democrats in the city, will be the nominee of that party for the office of Mayor at the coming municipal election. This was decided upon at a meeting of the Democratic City Committee held Monday evening.

Mr. Shea when informed of the action of the committee decided to permit his name to be used. The necessary nomination papers will be circulated today.

For several years Mr. Shea has been a member of the Democratic State Committee, and was a delegate to the Democratic National convention at St. Louis in 1904.

He is prominent in Catholic societies, being a past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, and an ex-President of the St. Mary's C. T. A. S.

Mr. Shea was born in Quincy, is in 49th year, and for several years has been a general contractor of high standing.

URIC-O CURED HIM.

Rheumatism Tortured and Crippled Mr. Theo. D. Hadley of Kennett Square, Pa.

Dear Friend:

You will remember of my writing you some time ago regarding Uric-O for rheumatism. I took your advice and purchased three bottles from my local druggist and began its use at once. Favorable effects were experienced and day by day I improved. I have used the three bottles and can truthfully state that I am a well man.

Uric-O has cured in me as bad a case of rheumatism as ever existed. My suffering for months was intense, some nights not able to get one moment's sleep, could not raise my right hand to my head had to do all with my left. I could not even dress myself for over three months. My trouble being inflammatory rheumatism had settled in my right arm and shoulder, crippling, as I thought, permanently. This is the third letter I have wr oen, a thing I hardly expected to be able to d again, as I did not think I could possibly recover from the terrible effdcts of the disease, as you know I am past the four score year on the way to the "New Jerusalem." I am happy to state that after suffering so long with the most painful forms of rheumatism, that Uric-O has cured me and nearly normal conditions exist. My former strength is improving, and yet for all I am 85 years old, sleep well again, eat well and as hale and hearty as a man at the age of fifty. I thank you again most heartily for recommending Uric-O to me. I can now recommend it to my friends.

Theo. H. Hadley, Kennett Square, Pa.

This marvelous specific is sold at 75 cents a bottle, two weeks' treatment, a blood cure for all forms of rheumatism, acting alone on the blood, muscles and kidneys. Uric-O is a liquid taken in spoonful doses three times daily and must be used for rheumatism only. Ask your druggist for samples and circulars explaining the treatment.

The store of E. J. Murphy is the Uric-O store in Quincy.

WARD THREE

position of a public servant to carry into effect the expressed wishes of the citizens.

There was a great deal of misinformatio n about this time. Often but one side is given. All sides should be presented. There are many things before the city government, but it is only possible to obtain a limited number.

The High school has been a long drawn out matter. It was presented to the city government five years ago. There had been a difference of opinion up to last year. The City Charter says no appropriation shall be made for school buildings until the matter is approved by the School Board. The School Committee have interpreted the approval of plans to include specifications so that all that remained for the City Council and Mayor was to raise the money. There had been but one plan and one set of specifications approved.

The contract was let to a supposed reputable builder and he had not changed his mind, as yet, as to the honesty of the man. The contract was signed to have the building completed ready for occupancy Sept. 1. He was given under the contract to have the old assembly hall changed until Oct. 20. The architect was present when the contract was signed. A bond for 15 percent of the contract price was given. There was also a forfeiture clause for every day beyond the date of completion.

There were two Quincy men who were the lowest bidders for the granite to be used. The specifications say that the granite shall conform to that in the old building. The lowest bidder could only furnish Cape Ann or State of Maine granite so the contract was awarded to the other Quincy man. Nearly all parts were sublet, but he did not offer this as any excuse. He was satisfied that any contractor to have finished the building on time would have been several thousand dollars higher.

There was no option in the awards. The change as far as the city is concerned are not a single cent beyond what was agreed to. There is no claim on the part of the architect up to the present time. The builder says that he is tired of making changes.

It was found when the foundation was put in that a stronger cement had to be had, and we agreed to fifty cents per thousand for this. A wall on the Butler road side was found in bad condition. Certain iron beams had to be put in but up to date we have not exceeded the $1,000 we set aside for that purpose.

The Mayor then spoke of the new school building for Atlantic and said that the contract for the building of that building was practically signed with Marr Bros.

Returning to the High school matter, he spoke of the wall that was torn down on the front. When they came to make the changes here it was found that this wall was very unsafe. There were no ties between the bricks and the wall was very dangerous. The only thing to do was to take the whole wall down.

The Mayor then spoke on the Fore River bridge. He was sorry to say that a great amount of money had got to be expended on the bridge. The water approaches have got to be rebuilt. The concrete piers are going to pieces. Last year it cost $5,000 to pay the expense of maintaining the bridge and operating the draw. The piers have got to be rebuilt.

In closing he said he could hardly find words to thank the meeting for the honor they had given him and that there was no pledge he could make. He would do the best he could as honestly as he could in the interest of all the people of the city.

Mayor Thompson was followed by several other well known citizens of the ward.

QUINCY KNITTING MILLS, 41 Baxter St., Quincy

July 30. tf

Quincy was honored last evening with a visit and address by Rev. Edward Everett Hale, the veteran and beloved philanthropist author and clergymen. He came to speak at the second annual banquet of the Makaria Fraternity of Bethany Congregational church held in the chapel of the church.

Dr. Hale arrived by carriage from Boston about 6 P. M. accompanied by his secretary.

There was a brief reception in the larger chapel the receiving line including Dr. Edward Everett Hale, President George D. Forsyth, Dr. Edwin N. Hardy, Vice President Richard Jones, Secrerary Lawrence E. Pratt and Treasure., Charles W. Laing.

Those who assembled included as many again as those who later sat down to the tables. They were presented by the following members of the Makaria Fraternity, who acted as ushers: Stanley F. Duncan, Matthew S. Nicoll, Harold L. Keene, C. O. S. Howard, Howard Andrews, J. Gilbert Miller, William J. Wyllie, Charles J. Hart, John Tomkinson and William E. Tarbox.

Then an adjournment was made to the smaller chapel, but there was an overflow, many remaining to hear Dr. Hale's address. Both chapels were resplendent and attractive with Japanese lanterns and colored light. Back of the head table was the large flag of the Makaria Fraternity, with the letters "M F," and at the foot of the chapel was the flag of the Y. M. C. A., with the triangle within a circle. On the side wall was a mammoth American flag, and there were countless other flags, pictures of Dr. Hale and others.

On the tables were reminders of Halloween, in grotesque figures on toy pumpkins.

That Dr. Hale might return to Boston early the usual order was changed. Dr. Hardy the pastor of the church offered a fervent blessing, and then came the introduction of the honored guest.

In introduction of Dr. Hale, Delcevare being the toastmaster, said:

Ladies and gentlemen:—It is related that in a little hotel in a back country town there is on the walls a picture of Dr. Hale, and the woman who kept the house was asked about that picture and she said, "When travelers come here and asked for lodgings I ask them if they know who that is, and if they don't, I suspect there is something wrong with them, and I won't trust them."

It is good to be a great man; it is great to be a good man, and what shall we say when one is both great and good? I have the honor to introduce to you the most widely known and best loved minister in America, Dr. Hale.

Dr. Hale's was enthusiastically received and spoke as follow:

When I was a boy they said praise to the face was always a disgrace. Your president, Mr. King, offered me two great pleasure together: he offered me the opportunity of speaking to the Makaria Society and he offered me the pleasure of having a nice supper here tonight. Well, two things of that sort are rather too many, and my doctor likes to put me to bed and cover me up at nine o'clock every night, so I said I would do the speaking and do without eating, and I am now going to speak to you.

I asked one of the gentlemen if I might speak ten minutes and he said I might speak as long as I would like to. I would like to speak seven or eight hours; that would bring it around to two or three o'clock in the morning, but I can't do that.

But speaking seriously, I am not going to speak now of the eternities, faith, hope and love. I hope every day you pray for more faith, more hope, more love. Your Bibles will show you how to have more faith in God, more hope in an infinite future and more love like the love of the dear Saviour's love for us all.

I am here tonight with the intention of impressing, if I can, three practical everyday rules which I crowd down the throats of the people who come to me, practical working rules for Wednesday and Thursday and Friday and Saturday and Sunday and Monday and Tuesday and around into Wednesday again. I gave them a dozen years ago to some boys up at Amherst, and it is rather satisfactory to me now to find that those men come and tell me they have lived every day by those working rules.

The working rules then are these:

First, live in the open air all you can. Live in the open air all you can.

The second is, touch elbows with the rank and file. The boys used to drill in my day out here. I don't know whether you drill now, but in touching elbows with the rank and file, the sergeant reaches out and touches elbows with the one next him, and he touches elbows with the one next him, and the whole line of forty people move with one movement and think with one mind. That is the second rule: Touch elbows with the rank and file.

And the third of these practical rules oflife is: Speak every day to some body you know to be your superior. Speak every day to somebody you know to be your superior. Now, I am going to ask you to repeat these rules and then I will explain them.

Those assembled repeated in unison the rules.

Now the first: You girls will say that you have nothing to do with that. You ought to sit at home and play on the piano and knit and paint pretty things, but in spite of those you ought to go out. I will tell you a story of the most charming woman I ever knew, and she had great big boys, boys twenty years old, and she looked seventeen or eighteen, and I said to her: Mrs. Champerdon, (that was not her name, but we will call her that,) what is the rule for living fresh and young forever?

And she said, "To be in the open air every day of your lise." Then she said, "When she was married to her husband, he took out 75 cents and said, I will give you 75 cents every day you walk as far as from our house to the railroad station, which was one and a half miles. She said it was all tomfoolery and nonsense, but she couldn't tell how many times she had done that because her husband told her to, and so she walked her three miles every day out in the open air; and instead of being pale and wizened and all dried up and having nervous prostration, she was in this splendid condition. That for the girls.

Now for the boys. You will be going into life and someone will ask you to go up into his ninth story at eight every morning and stay there until six in the afternoon, and he will pay you three and one-fourth cents a minute, or an hour, for doing it, and you will come down and find a letter from your uncle in North Pottstown in Lincoln county in Maine, and he will say to you, "Come down and lumber with us for three months this winter." And don't you go up in that man's attic, adding up his figures for him. If you get that chance to live in the open air you do that.

I assure you, my dear friends, that we are what we are, and Mr. Hardy is what he is, and Mr. King is what he is, because we come from a race of open-air people. Those forefathers of ours wouldn't have had them by saying 9 times 9 equals 81, 9 times 12 equals 108, etc. It wasn't that way at all. I hope the school master isn't here. We are not in school anyway, and we are going to treat these muscles of ours and these tongues of ours and these teeth of ours well. We are going to live in the open air the more we live in the open air the more we live close to God; the more we know what he is doing and how he does it.

Now comes,—touch elbows with the rank and file. I don't know whether I should say this to you, but that I had an experience way off in southern California. I was at a most charming meeting, a most interesting meeting of 400 or 500 very spirited teachers, men and women from all parts of California, and I tell you their systems of schools are quite as good as ours in Massachusetts and in some respects better. It did you good to be there.

They had a little fellow who had come down lately from some where, I don't know where. He had graduated from some King's college, or Queen's college, I don't know what, and he was mightily pleased with himself because he had this parchment which said he was a Bachelor of Arts, and no one would have suspected it if he hadn't told it.

Mrs Eddy Shows Herself to Newspaper Reporters

"INTERVIEW" CUT SHORT

Briefly Answers Three Questions and Abruptly Leaves For Carriage Drive--Mrs Leonard Also Makes Her Appearance

Concord, N. H., Oct. 31.—A woman reporter who interviewed Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy, head of the Christian Science church, 10 years ago, went to Mrs. Eddy's home yesterday and was granted another interview by the same woman.

The interview, which lasted less than a minute, which was granted to half a score of newspaper representatives who had assembled in this city after the publication of sensational stories in connection with Mrs. Eddy's health, was arranged by H. C. Wilson, head of the Christian Science publishing committee, at the request of the reporters.

When the newspaper representatives assembled at Mrs. Eddy's home, Pleasant View, they were escorted to the double parlors on the east side of the house. A moment or two after they had been seated Mr. Frye, Mrs. Eddy's secretary, announced Mrs. Eddy. The leader of the Christian Science faith walked to the woorway and stood before her interviewers. She did not approach further than the threshold of the door, and when it was seen that she would not enter the room for a prolonged interview a woman reporter who had previously interviewed Mrs. Eddy was delegated to talk to her.

Just three questions had been asked by the interviewer when Mrs. Eddy turned, spoke a word to her secretary and started for her carriage, with Frye escorting her on one side and Louis C. Strang, her publicity agent, on the other. The interviewers were left in the parlors with numberless questions on their lips but without an opportunity to ask them.

The brief interview consisted of the following questions and answers:

"Are you in perfect physical health, Mrs. Eddy?" was the first question asked after Mrs. Eddy had made her appearance.

"I am," was the brief reply.

"Have you any other physician than God?"

"No, indeed," answered Mrs. Eddy, and then she added slowly and solemnly: "The everlasting arms are around and above me, which is enough."

"Do you take a daily drive?" was the next question asked, to which Mrs. Eddy replied as briefly as she did to the first question. "I do," she said.

It was at this point in the interview, and as the spokeswoman was about to continue her interrogations, that Mrs. Eddy unexpectedly indicated that the interview was at an end, for she turned, without another word, and walked to the porte cochere at the front of the house, where her carriage was awaiting to convey her on her drive. She was assisted into the carriage by Strang, Frye in the meantime, garbed in a footman's uniform, having mounted the driver's seat alongside of the coachman. Mrs. Eddy was then driven away, while the newspaper representatives were escorted through her home.

It was apparent to the most casual observer that the details of the interview had been arranged with the utmost care. The visitors at Pleasant View were not able to see whether Mrs. Eddy walked from her apartments on the floor above to the parlors without assistance, for they had been seated in a portion of the room which made such a view impossible. Their first glimpse of the leader was when she appeared in the doorway, gowned in a beautiful cloak of ermine, which hung loosely from her shoulders, and which nearly touched the ground. She wore, also, a hat and gloves.

As if to dispose of the allegation that a member of her household had on many occasions impersonated her, Mrs. Eddy, or some member of her household, caused to be present at the interview Mrs. Pamelia J. Leonard of Brooklyn, who, it has been said, had been in the habit of driving in Mrs. Eddy's carriage. The contrast between the two women was so great that it was at once apparent that one could not possibly attempt to pose for the other without detection. There was but one similarity to be noted, and that was the abundance of snow-white hair which adorned the heads of both women. At that point the resemblance ceased.

Mrs. Eddy shows her age, 85 years. She is about five feet four inches in height. She is frail and weighs not more than 100 pounds, and although her cheeks are not full, they do not show any signs of emaciation which could not be produced by advanced years.

Jane's Financial Embarrassment

By HELENA SMITH - DAYTON

"Violets!" sniffed Jane, opening the lavender box with none of the enthusiasm she usually displayed on such occasions. "Of course it never would have occurred to the extravagant unknown admirer to send 50 cents' worth of postage stamps instead!"

Jane glanced toward her desk, where a neat pile of brown envelopes stared her reproachfully in the face.

"An entire week's work held up because the brilliant young writer, Jane Gaylord, lacks the necessary postage!" she groaned. "As it's all timely stuff—and special orders—I may as well destroy it unless it goes today. I may as well give up looking for that check and do something desperate." Jane paced up and down the apartment trying to think of a method to obtain the trifling sum at once.

"Ask your mother for 50 cents to see the elephant jump the fence," she repeated for the hundredth time. The silly jingle refused to be dislodged from her head. "There I go again. If it were only $50 I could hustle around and get it—but 50 cents!" It seemed as if a mocking voice echoed, "To see the elephant jump the fence!"

"Of course," she went on sarcastically, "I might waylay little children and steal the pennies from their moist palms, or I could make these violets into small bunches and sell them on the street corner—flower girl in a tailor suit and Paris hat would be a novelty! There must be some way of raising 50 cents without selling my possessions. I never approved of getting the pawnshop habit—it's hard to shake, once acquired. I don't like to let a little fifty-cents-to-see-the-elephant get the best of me.

"Why, I won't need another penny until my check comes. My board is paid in advance, and before anything is due there'll be lots of checks. But I must have 50 cents to see"—

Jane stopped impatiently, and, as if the narrow confines of her own room were stifling her, she opened the door and stepped into the hall. She paused as voices from the upper landing floated down to her. She always paused when she heard Peter Gleason's deep tones.

"Here's a dollar," he was saying. "Run over to Carter's and buy me three or four magazines. Haven't seen one for a month, so anything you get will be new to me. And you may keep the change, John."

"Thank you, Mr. Gleason," came John's squeaky answer. "I'll be back with 'em in a jiffy." He came down the stairs two at a time.

"John!" called Miss Gaylord softly.

"I'm on an errand for Mr. Gleason, but when I get back"—

"Yes, yes! It's about that!" she interrupted. "I want you to do me a particular favor, John. It's all right, but rather unusual. I have some new magazines—the very ones Mr. Gleason would like. I've more than I can read. It would save you a trip out in the storm—the magazines are really just as new as you could buy at the store. Would you—buy them from me?"

It was out at last. Jane never had felt so shy of any one in her life as she did of the astonished little hall boy.

"Sure, Miss Gaylord," he said without hesitation. "I'd do anything for you. It's on the level, ain't it?"

"Yes, John, strictly on the level," she answered, with a little laugh that suggested tears.

"Have 'em ready when I come back," he whispered.

"You are a dear boy!" cried Jane.

She fled back to her room in a panic of nervousness at what she had done. She selected several magazines of recent issue and was back at the door long before the return of the boy.

"If I was back with the books too soon he'd get on to it," was his naive explanation.

"And, John," she pleaded in a voice that shook, "please give him this box of violets. Don't tell him who sent them. But he has been so ill, poor man! You see, it will give good measure for the 50 cents."

John nodded wisely and took his way upward.

"Good boy, John," she heard Gleason say a moment later. "Couldn't have made a better selection myself. Violets too? No name given? You won't tell? Very well if you promised not to, of course."

Back in his study Gleason tossed the violets carelessly on a table already loaded with flowers and took up a magazine eagerly.

"I hope my little Jane has a story in this month," he said, scanning the table of contents. He passed his own name, but Jane's was not there. He took up another, and again was he disappointed, but in the third magazine Jane's name headed the list. He was turning to her story when a sheet of paper fluttered out. On the closely written page his own name caught his eye. Naturally he read every word, though it was obviously part of a letter.

"You remember," it ran, "how I used to rave about Peter Gleason and his work? Strange that he should come to board at Mrs. Stuart's and be taken so ill almost immediately after—and that I should have the privilege of assisting his trained nurse when he was unconscious. Yes, he is all I imagined him—and more. If you must know the worst, I—no, I can't write it to even you, Mollie. But put romantic ideas out of your head, just as your silly old Jane must, for Peter Gleason is indifferent, and I'm very busy, as usual. But — That was all.

"Bless her!" whispered Peter over and over. "And I thought her too wrapped up in her work to give me a thought. Helped to nurse me, did she? My little Jane! And she must have sent these magazines—and the violets! And John, the scamp, never told me! But, on the other hand, John is such an honest little chap he wouldn't have kept that 50 cents. If he really bought them, how came that letter between the pages of a magazine from Carter's?"

Then in spite of himself a doubt flashed into his mind. Was it a clever ruse—was the letter placed there by design? Peter was not cynical, but there had been so many traps laid for him! Slowly he placed the paper on the coals in the grate and watched it burn.

"If she didn't intend me to see that, it would break her heart if she knew. And when I tell her I love her she might think it was only pity because I had discovered her secret. I won't believe it was a plot, little Jane!"

Two days later a timid tap came at the door of Gleason's study.

"Ja—Miss Gaylord!" he cried enthusiastically. "Why haven't you been up to see an invalid before this? Such rank neglect!" He took her hand and refused to let it go for some moments. "Aren't you sorry?"

"Here's your 50 cents," she began desperately. "My check just came and"— Looking up suddenly, she met his questioning eyes. Recklessly she explained the humiliating details of the transaction. "I would so gladly have given them to you," she ended up, with a scarlet face. "And I shall be very unhappy unless you take the 50 cents."

Peter was radiant. Unconsciously Jane had vindicated herself from suspicion regarding the letter.

"But you sent violets," he reminded.

"I sent the violets along to take the curse off," she admitted, "but some one—I know not who—sent them to me first."

"Merely to take the curse off?" he queried. "Not because you had a little sentiment for the invalid? Then you deserve to be punished with the truth! I sent those violets to you!"

"Oh!" cried Jane, hiding her face. "Oh!"

"But hereafter," he said sternly, "I want the right to furnish your blessed postage stamps!"

"Oh!" murmured Jane.

Wise Ostrich.

The stock illustration of what a fool will do is the habit which ostriches have of sticking the head into the sand, leaving the body exposed, but the author of "The Gold Diggings of Cape Horn" says that this habit does not seem foolish to one who studies the ostrich in its desert home. On the contrary, it is nature's wise provision for the safety of the bird in a region where hiding places are scarce. The male ostrich hatches out the eggs, looks after the brood, keeps his eye open for men, beasts and birds, and sounds a loud snorting, warning call when he sees an enemy. The brood, when warned, fades out of sight. Each chick squats motionless, its head in the sand and its body so near in color to that of the sand and scant herbage as to deceive even an experienced hunter. Its body looks like a gray desert bush, and the gauchos—the cowboys of the pampas—when searching for young ostriches examine every bush within many rods of the spot where a brood disappears. Often what seemed a bush is found to be in part or wholly a young ostrich. With its head up the bird would be at once detected. With its head in the sand it often escapes even the keen eyed fox.

Whistler Tamed a Russian.

When James MacNeill Whistler went to Venice to make those fourteen famous etchings of his he became so intoxicated with its beauty that he made seventy pastels first, leaving his etchings till the last few days. These pastels made a tremendous sensation. All the art world of Venice was carried away with enthusiasm excepting a Russian painter, who declared them tricks, betting a basketful of champagne he could paint six not to be distinguished from them. Mr. Whistler amiably gave some of his paper and six pastels, which were finally mixed up with those by the Russian and submitted to a jury which had seen none of them. Mr. Whistler's pastels were unmistakable, and the Russian lost. A few days later the two met on the Rialto, and Mr. Whistler laughed a little about the bet. The Russian was furious. "You forget, sir," he said, "that I'm a Russian, and if you scratch one you find a Tartar underneath." "Oh, no, you have it wrong," said Mr. Whistler; "you have it wrong. I scratched an artist and found an amateur."—Philadelphia Record.

Written on Glass.

Miss Harriet Auber's beautiful lines, "Our Blessed Redeemer, Ere He Breathed," were written by the authoress on a window pane in her house at Hoddesdon. A dealer in curios tried to purchase this interesting and peculiar manuscript from the owner of the house after the death of Miss Auber in 1862, but he was unsuccessful. The pane of glass was subsequently stolen, and it has never since been found or its fate discovered.

Centuries ago Theodulph, bishop of Orleans, while in prison at Metz composed the hymn, "All Glory, Laud and Honor," which he wrote on the window of his cell. As the usual Palm Sunday procession passed through the town the emperor heard sounds of singing proceeding from the prison. He thereupon liberated the bishop, whose hymn was afterward regularly used on each succeeding Palm Sunday as a processional, the choir taking up each quatrain and the public joining in singing the chorus.

GUILD EXPLAINS

Acceptance of Fee as Orator Was Perfectly Legitimate

FAIRBANK IS DEFENDED

Saved State Money by Storing Property at Warren--Moran Says He Will Be Governor and Presidential Candidate--Wants State Auditor Discharged

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 31.—Governor Guild and Congressman Lawrence addressed rallies in Canton and Grand Army hall here last night. Guild devoted a large part of his address in each hall to charges made by John B. Moran. He spoke in part as follows:

"I suggest to my antagonist that if he has run out of material, there yet remains a few days before election for him to attempt an explanation to the people as to why he has neglected one important duty after another to which I have called his attention. I regret that his campaign has reached the level where he has found it necessary to descend to the kind of attack made for the first time by him last night. By insinuation and innuendo he sought to prove that I had taken money improperly in connection with the monument erected in Springfield to the memory of President McKinley.

"It is perfectly true that, not only on this occasion, but upon several other occasions, I have accepted a fee as orator of the day for the preparation and delivery of a historical address. Mr. Moran omitted to state that on this occasion, as on others, the fee usually paid was also paid to the officiating clergyman. I had expected no fee whatever for this service. I should have given my services gladly, as I have repeatedly again and again given them on other occasions. Some weeks after the delivery of the speech, the committee voted me a fee, which I at first declined, until they told me that a surplus existed of the funds and that every possible expense had been met. All this is perfectly true. What of it?

"Mr. Moran put forth the statement last night that Senaor Fairbank had at his place in Warren between $2000 and $3000 worth of Massachusetts property which he has no right to keep. He called upon me to send the district police to Warren to recover the property. The plain intimation is that Senator Fairbank had stolen property from the commonwealth of Massachusetts. This is the first time, I think, on record where a prosecuting officer with alleged evidence of the locality of alleged stolen property has published the fact to the world, giving thereby ample opportunity to its possessor of disposing of the alleged property before it could be found or seized.

"Well, Mr. Moran, I have not ordered the district police to raid Commissioner Fairbank's premises at Warren and I will tell you and the public why.

"No information of the character exploited by Mr. Moran last night has ever been brought to my attention by Mr. Perkins or by anybody else. This morning, accordingly, I investigated this charge. I find that so far from having taken state property for his own use, Mr. Fairbank is in reality saving the state money. The property is being stored at Warren because it can be and is being stored there free of any expense to the commonwealth, which is thus actually saving money by the courtesy of Mr. Fairbank. If Mr. Fairbank had intended to steal anything, is it not strange that he should have left long ago a complete inventory of all the articles at the auditor's office?

"The claim is made for my antagonist that he is a better friend than I to those who work with their hands. His only proof of this is his promises."

Governor Guild then told of a number of measures in the interest of the working people which he had signed. He concluded his address by accusing Moran of neglecting to do his duty as district attorney.

Demands Discharge of Auditor

Greenfield, Mass., Oct. 31.—Washington hall was crowded last night when John B. Moran appeared here. He spoke for an hour and a half. Among the new features was his demand that Governor Guild should discharge State Auditor Turner for the failure of the latter to produce one of the vouchers which Commissioner Fairbank had filed in connection with the Lewis and Clark Exposition, which voucher was one which Moran referred to last Saturday as bearing the forged signature of an Oregon transportation company.

Mr. Moran defended his action in ordering the release of a number of women from the home for inebriates in Boston and claimed that he personally assisted some of the women to get homes. He advocated the monthly release of prisoners held in the jails.

Sure of Being Governor

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 31.—In the course of a 15-minute speech before an assemblage which taxed the capacity of city hall here last night, John B. Moran rehearsed what he had accomplished as district attorney, dwelling particularly on his action toward the Boston hotels that had been violating the liquor laws. He followed this with a severe criticism of Governor Guild for receiving a check for $100 in payment for his address at the dedication of the McKinley memorial at Springfield.

Referring to Guild's refusal to participate in a joint debate with him, on the ground that it was below the dignity of the governor, Moran said: "Will it be beneath Governor Guild's dignity when, on the first of January, he will be obliged to walk arm in arm with me at the state house when I am inaugurated governor?"

After repeating his charges against Commissioner Fairbank of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, Moran stated that he himself was a Democrat and not a Prohibitionist or a member of the Independence League. He said that he had been accused of being a Cossack and a disturbing element in the political field. "What will they say if two years from now I take the field for the highest office in the country?" he queried, adding that he intended to do so if his strength continued.

Campaigners Brave Bad Weather

New York, Oct. 31.—Snow failed to chill or rain to dampen the enthusiasm of thousands who turned out yesterday to hear and applaud the heads of the state tickets as they hurried through the western section of the state. A variety of weather as bad as possible for outdoor speaking was encountered by the candidates, but they completed their day's program, winding up with night speeches, Mr. Hearst at Rochester and Mr. Hughes at Oswego. In every instance the speakers attracted audiences that greeted them heartily and sent them away with rousing cheers. Political meetings were held throughout this city last night and were about equally divided in point of numbers and attendance among the Republicans, Democrats, Independence Leaguers and judiciary nominators.

Independence League Victory

Albany, Oct. 31.—The court of appeals last night decided that the making of independent nominations by multiple petition was not contrary to the election statute and affirmed the right of the Independence League to made such nominations. The court also decided that in the case of judicial nominations, the certificate filed first had prior claim and that the Independence League had a right to designate its own candidates. As a result of the decisions several Tammany candidates will be placed in the Independence League column on the official ballot.

"Victory For All the People"

Rochester, Oct. 31.—Mr. Hearst, when informed of the court of appeals' decision, expressed his gratification, declaring that he had made the fight for the rights of the citizens of this state to nominate by petition. The victory is for all the people. The newspapers and our opponents who have been making false statements about a 'deal' must feel rather foolish in view of the earnest efforts we have made to win this battle for the people, and of the success we have achieved. I am glad that the first encounter has been won."

Japanese Will Be Satisfied

Washington, Oct. 31.—Merriam C. Harris, missionary bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church for Japan and Korea, talked with the president about the feeling created in Japan by the refusal of the San Francisco authorities to admit Japanese children to schools with white children. Harris has been in Japan 33 years. He says the Japanese will be fully satisfied with what has been done by the president.

No Wrong Done the Japanese

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—President Altman and his fellow members of the board of education are now busily engaged in preparing data to be presented to Secretary Metcalf relative to the separation of white and Japanese children in the public schools. Arguments will be presented to show that the board of education cannot legally permit Japanese to attend school with white children.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The Independent telephone interests have leased the telephone franchise of the Illinois Tunnel company, thereby securing an entrance into Chicago. This marks the beginning of the telephone warfare between the Chicago Telephone company and the new independent company which has been threatened so long.

Hooe Convicted of Perjury

Pittsburg, Oct. 31.—Clifford Hooe, a negro, formerly coachman for Augustus Hartje, was convicted of perjury in connection with a deposition against Mrs. Hartje and which formed the basis of the recent sensational Hartje divorce trial. Only one ballot was taken.

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy)
INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams St., Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

THE
Young Men's Christian Association
OF QUINCY, MASS.

The Directors of the YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

Tonight at 7.30 is the last hour for filing nomination papers of all candidates for Mayor, Councilmen, School Committee and Ward Committees of the Republican, Democratic and Socialist parties to be voted for at the caucuses Nov. 13.

A complete list of all candidates will be published in Thursday Ledger.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

A Tennessee grand jury has returned 1,525 indictments against the Standard Oil Co., and it wasn't one of the jury's particularly busy days, either.

Perhaps Mr. Croker is coming to America to set the style in English suits of whitewash. Hope no one will be so rude as to ask him "Where did he get it?"

Our parks seem to be in very good hands and are well looked after. Merrymount park is beautiful most all the year around and each year is used and enjoyed more and more by our people especially on Sundays. The Park Commissioners go over the parks frequently and keep in touch with the requirements. Very sensibly they keep close to nature both at Faxon and Merrymount park. This year some of the underbrush has been cleared out as a protection from brush fires, and all through Merrymount park clumps of pine trees have been set out as well as maple and other varieties. A particularly good piece of work done this fall was setting out a row of trees on the southerly side of the main driveway through the park, continuing the line which is so thrifty at the entrance from Hancock street.

A few seats of heavy planking with backs, would be appreciated by those who enjoy the fine water view, in fact there are fine views in most every direction inland or seaward and a few seats judiciously placed would be a benefit as would also a bench in the pavilion. As the Park Commissioners drive through the park perhaps the question of seats does not seem as needful to them as it does to the pedestrian. They are faithful to their duties and spend the money judiciously, never extravagantly, and Quincy is fortunate in their selection.

Did Much for Charity.

Mrs. Mary Field, widow of Mr. Joseph Brown Lawton, passed away this morning at her home, 19 Foster street in her 74th year.

Mrs. Lawton had been in poor health for a number of years and has been a great sufferer. Mrs. Lawton had long been identified with the First church, and was always an earnest worker for its welfare.

For years also she took an active interest in charitable work, and was a member of the Quincy Charitable society.

In addition to that she devoted much of her time and private income to philanthropic work. The general public knew little of these, as she did her work in this line in a quiet manner. She leaves one son, Perry Lawton, the civil engineer.

Another Launching At the Shipyard

Another launching at the Fore River shipyard is scheduled for next Monday, when the steamer Ogeechee, the second of the fleet being built for the Brunswick Steamship Co., to operate between New York and Brunswick, Ga., will take her maiden dip.

The launch will be a private one, only ticket holders being admitted to the yard. The launch will take place at 1.30 P. M. A special train for the company's guests will leave the South Terminal at 12.25 and run direct to the yard.

The Satilla, the first of the fleet was launched Aug. 21.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

Mrs Lawrence H. Sturtevant who is now most pleasantly located in her new home on Presidents hill entertained the Junior Friday club on Oct. 24th. Three new members were made welcome, Miss Clara Leavitt Baxter of Greenleaf street, Mrs. George F. Hall of Woodward avenue and Mrs. William Whitney of Wollaston. Mrs. Walter E. Burke had charge of the afternoon's program which was on the American writer, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Mrs. Arthur W. Hall of Upland road will be the hostess on Nov. 5 and Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield has the program in charge with John Greenleaf Whittier as the subject.

The Social Science and Literary club of Atlantic will meet on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 6th at the home of Mrs. Thompson, 11 Squantum street.

Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps admitted three new members at its last meeting.

The November meeting of Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, will be held on Monday afternoon at three o'clock, at the birthplace of President John Adams. It is hoped there will be a large attendance of members to discuss plans for the winter meetings.

On Tuesday afternoon at the Women's club house, Presidents hill, will be held the regular meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association. There will be an election of officers to fill vacancies, and other business, therefore there should be a large gathering of members. Three o'clock, Nov. 6th, is the hour and date.

An executive board meeting of the Quincy Women's club will be held Thursday morning at the club house at ten o'clock. Names on waiting list will be acted upon so that they may be used if vacancies occur.

The Friday club holds its second meeting of the season on Friday afternoon, Nov. 2d, with Miss Alice Putnam, Adams street. Mrs. Emery L. Crane has the program in charge with Mrs. Anne Isabella Ritchie and George Edward Saintsbury as the subjects. The club is continuing its study of English writers.

The monthly meeting of the Mothers will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 7th. It will be in the evening at quarter to eight instead of in the afternoon as usual. It will be a parents' evening and fathers are particularly invited. Dr. Hardy will lead the devotional exercises and there will be an address by A. D. Dimmick. The music will be by a quartette. It promises to be a meeting of unusual interest for parents and a large audience will doubtless assemble in Bethany chapel at the hour of meeting.

The subscription list to the Marshall Darrach dramatic recital of "The Merchant of Venice" at Atlantic Music hall on Nov. 24th was closed last week by the Shakespeare club but so great has been the demand for tickets that 100 more have been printed. The low price of the tickets and the excellence of the entertainment attracted a great many subscribers, and the club is pleased that it is able to enlarge its list. At some future date the Shakespeare club hopes to establish a reading room in Atlantic, as it is something very much needed, the public library not maintaining one there.

A meeting of the Needle Work Guild is to be held on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 7th, at the home of Miss Abigail Baxter Wood, School street. All members are cordially invited to attend and to bring articles to contribute to the work. This Guild is formed for the purpose of making and having on hand a supply of new things to contribute to the sick and needy, as in many cases new things are so much more of a blessing to the recipient than any thing second hand could possibly be.

The New England Women's club held its first reception Monday evening in its spacious and tasteful quarters on Clarendon street, Boston. The parlors were beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums and jacqueninot roses, the frappe table was trimmed with pink dahlias and ferns, and the dining room and table was charmingly arranged. From Quincy were Mrs. W. E. Alden and Mr. Charles H. Hardwick, Mrs. W. T. Babcock, Mrs. M. L. Livingstone, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parker.

The program of the Milbury Woman's club is very tastefully arranged. The cover is green and gilt tied to printed sheets by a green silk chord. The club year is divided, into social service, art, household economics, social, literature, education, science. Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr., is very active in this club.

HOSPITAL AID ASSOCIATION.

At the meeting of the Hospital Aid association at the club house last week, plans were about perfected for the fair in aid of the Nurses' Home. It is to be held on Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 14th, from 2 until 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Joseph C. Morse, 215 Goffe street. Those in charge of the fancy and bag table are: from Ward One, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann Mrs. Luther Glover, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon; Ward Two, Mrs. Joseph L. Whiton; Ward Three and Four, Miss Emily C. Wild; Ward Five, Mrs. Richard Freeman; Ward Six, Mrs. Frederick J. Peirce.

Mrs. E. W. H. Bass and Mrs. Wilson Tisdale of Ward One will preside over the jelly table; Mrs. Francis Corey and Mrs. Thomas Lacey of Ward Five will look after the ice cream and cake; Mrs. Walter T. Babcock will have a flower booth; the King's Daughters are to provide the sweets and there will be plenty of home made candy. Besides these there will be a household table, mystery, tea and sandwiches, grabs, dolls, etc., and each table is to have a large corps of assistants.

Any one desiring to contribute articles to any of the tables or to help along the cause in any way, are asked to confer with the committee in their ward. Those who cannot attend and help by their presence can secure a ticket and thus contribute their mite.

GIRLS' SOCIETY.

The Girls Friendly Society met for their weekly meeting on Friday evening in St. Chrysotom's Parish Room as usual. The service cards are appreciated, and the G. F. S. is much favored in being able to have their chaplain with them long enough each meeting so far to lead the devotional services. After Roll Call, an associate read a short article written by Mrs. C. T. Whittemore of Ashmont on "Why the G. F. S. asked Queen Victoria in 1880 to consent to be their Patron."

There was also read the first of a series of "Talks to Probationers" entitled "Dues" the definition of which was given as "a debt, something due or owed," and the necessity of a careful obedience to second central rule by each individual was fully given, and shown that it was not honorable to receive the benefits and pleasnres of the G. F. S. method without paying to it was is due

Two more girls signified their intention of becoming members.

Mrs. A. Edwin Clattenbury and Mrs. David L. Jewell were appointed Honorary Associates.

CLUB NOTES.

By invitation of the Peabody Woman's Club the Massachusetts State Federation will meet in Peabody on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the South Congregational church.

The morning session will open at 10.30 o'clock, and will be devoted to reports of the St. Paul biennial. The afternoon session will begin at two o'clock. Mr. Enos A. Mills the famous Long's Peak guide and State forester of Colorado, will make an address on "Our Friends, the Trees."

Members of clubs belonging to the Federation can secure the necessary green tickets of admission of their club secretaries. Luncheon tickets at fifty cents must be obtained be obtained before Nov. 6th of Miss Frances A. Porter 44 Washington street, Peabody. The order must be accompanied by an addressed stamped envelope.

The sewing school started by the civics committee of Brockton Woman's club is proving more popular than anticipated. The first Saturday in spite of the rain, over two hundred girls of fourteen years and under gathered at the schoolroon eager for instrntion, Two rooms, seating ninety, and two teachers were ready, but over one hundred had to be sent home, though twenty-five were on a waiting list in case of vacancies. Superintendent Russel of the Brockton public schools is much interest in the work, and is ready to assist ln any way. Such a demand has been shown for the class, it may prove instrumental in having sewing taught in the schools.

Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln recently gave a very interesting lecture before the Norumbega Woman's club of Charlestown on "The Reciprocal Duties of Hostess and Guest." The speaker laid especial stress upon the necessity of fulfilling one's social obligations, but earnestly urged that the entertainments which were given should be in accord with the family income and manner of living. To affect a lavish display in imitation of some wealthy friend was not only in poor taste, but a perversion of the real meaning of hospitality, the dictionary definition of which word is "kindness and generosity towards strangers and guests, without hope of reward."

On Monday afternoon, Oct. 29, Professor Walter Bradley Tripp began a course of lectures on "Shakspeare," before the Jamaica Plain Tuesday club. The subject of the first lecture being, "Shakspear, the man; brief outline of his life and work."

Nov. 5th Paul Pearson gives a lecture-recital on "The leaven of Life," before the Brockton Woman's club. It is also supply afternoon for the Visiting Nurse association when generous contributions are anticipated.

The November Federation Bulletin will have an article on the subject of Arts and Crafts by Mrs. Mary W. Overholser, chairman of arts and crafts committees, that will be exceedingly interesting as well as informing on this many-sided subject.

The first regular meeting of the season of the Daughters of Massachusetts will be held at hotel Brunswick, Boston, on Thursday afternoon Nov. 8th at three o'clock. Mrs. Carl Dreyfus will read from her own writings and an informed reception will follow.

Gentlemen's night of the Monday club of Weymouth was a great success and attended by over four hundred. Music was furnished by an orchestra during the reception and for dancing, which closed the evening's festivities.

The Education Committee of the Dorchester Woman,s club recently gave the club an interesting afternoon when the speaker was Miss Annie Beecher Scoville, United States Supervisor to the Indians, the only woman who has ever held that position. She had in charge three thousand people, Omahas, Nebraskas, Winnebagos and Dakotas, and so could bring to her subject, "The Education of a Wild Sioux," all the personal knowledge which made the talk instructive and entertaining. The School of the Tent or the training that the parents give in order to perpetuate the race is no one-sided education. Brain, heart and sinew have an equal share. In the boys are inculcated policy, endurance, sacrifice and warfare, while the girls are taught the home making virtues. The fundamental thing that they must all learn is to be one with nature. In nature they find their life, their safety and their God. At the close of the lecture Miss Scoville showed many interesting articles.

"Moran is Unfit"

Read What Leaders of John B. Moran's Own Party Say of Him:

"We feel obliged to state our conviction of the fundamental unfitness of Mr. Moran to fill the high and dignified office of governor of Massachusetts. The obligations of good citizenship are superior to those of partisanship; we are citizens of an honorable commonwealth charged with our share of the duty of maintaining and advancing her standards of government even before we are Democrats."—J. A. Sullivan, Josiah Quincy, Arthur Lyman, J. C. Burke, E. L. Arundel, Nicholas J. Skerrett.

Mr. Moran as a Leader.

Congressman John A. Sullivan, a member of Mr. Moran's own party, says that Moran's assumption of leadership is certainly ominous of consequences, and he likens it to being whirled madly about in the delirious circles of the tarentella while in the grasp of a political acrobat.

DO YOU WANT A POLITICAL ACROBAT IN THE GOVERNOR'S CHAIR?

Mr. Moran as a Public Official.

Speaking again Mr. Sullivan says: "If his manner of conducting grand jury proceedings is to be taken hereafter as the official standard in Massachusetts well may those honest citizens who value reputation above all things else exclaim: 'God Save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.'"

The secretary of the Boston Bar Association shows that during Moran's term as district attorney the cases pending have more than doubled, the indictments pending have more than trebled. His predecessor reduced the number of cases pending more than one-half. He has released 100 more criminals than his predecessor. Many less cases have come to successful conviction. The expenses of the office have been increased 30 per cent.

DR. HALE.

He said, "We graduates of the University, we don't look down with any contempt upon you people; we are very sorry you did not have the facilities of the University, but everyone can't have everything, and we graduates ourselves unite and give you the right hand of fellowship."

The people wanted to say: "Who in thunder are you?" And I may as well say that you are hes under very remarkable advantages to grow up in your City of Quincy. I believe it is a city. Among the institutions of this church among the institutions of the public schools. It is an advantage. I don't pretend it isn't. It is an advantage. You are going out into the world where there are all sorts of people. I met within three months a poor woman—poor as the poorest—who had come from a country where the Lord Jesus went and came. She was the only person I happened to know well who could speak the same language He spoke. And she was as poor as a rat, and friends of mine who got hold of her and were taking care of her took me down to see her.

Now you have great advantages in Quincy, but it may be that you would get something from a woman who was born in Bethsaida. She could speak the language of the Saviour, and she had seen the ocean and knew what the ocean ad to teach. It may be she had seen God as you haven't seen Him. And you had better cultivate the habit of touching elbows with the rank and file, so that you may get all they have to teach.

The Apostle says: Be not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. We all like to brag a little. I am not above that myself. I bragged in my day too; and I am going to brag now about one of my friends, the nobleman-- a nobleman with sixteen quarterings. You boys in the High school know what sixteen quarterings mean. I am so well acquainted with the nobleman that when I went to England with Mrs. Hale a few years ago I found a letter in London requesting me to visit him in his palace on the Danube, and telling me I would be welcome if I did.

I tell you how I made his acquaintance. I was sitting on my front doorsteps in Worcester and there came up a pretty seedy looking man and he asked me if I had a pair of old pantaloons I could give him. I said I didn't know; I had a good many old pairs of pantaloons and I would ask Mrs. Hale, and I said, "Have you dined today," and I told him I could find some cold mutton if he would like to have some, and he said he would, our colored girl Rosella brought out some cold mutton and some cold potatoes and bread and butter and cheese, and he departed quite gratified.

That was the nobleman who subsequently asked me to go to his palace on the Danube, and I don't suppose he is alive now, but his children live in that palace on the Danube. That is what is meant by the entertaining of strangers. The people you don't know to speak to whom you meet in the city on the street. You want to speak to the Greek, the Syrian and the Mesopotamian. You want to touch elbows with the rank and file, and you want to speak every day; This is the third rule, speak every day with someone you know to be your superior.

I don't see Winthrop Lee here. He is a first-rate youngster, a friend of mine. He has heard me say this. I say it to my Sunday-school boys once a year. He came around and said, "You say, speak every day to someone I know to be my superior. I know what you mean by touching elbows with the rank and file, but as for speaking to someone my superior I don't know why I ought to. I get up at six o'clock every morning and we march out. I drill and can't understand what they say, the dirty critters, and we work together ten hours, and then to lunch at noon. You don't mean to say they are my superiors; they are not my superiors."

I said, I am not so sure of that, Winthrop. If you get mad with one of them and he keeps his temper he is your superior and you are not his. I said, I didn't say morally your superior; I didn't say he could talk English better than you can. I said somebody your superior.

If when your washerwoman brings in your wash Friday night you get into a quarrel with her and she doesn't get into a quarrel with you, she is your superior, and the quicker you find out she is your superior the better.

Then you say you get home at 7 o'clock in the evening, raining guns, and you don't want to go out and you can't go out and hunt up your superior.

I said, "You have got him on the shelf, you have got St. John. He will come in if you want to talk to him; St. Paul, if you want to talk to him. You have got the Saviour to come in if you want to talk to Him. You had better talk with them awhile And I said, out by the trench as you are coming in in the evening, in the rain, you have got the good God by you and take care that whenever you feel weak in the course of the day you have a little talk with him, and then that day you will have talked with someone you know to be your superior.

These then are the three rules. I said to those Amherst boys,—I believe it was in the year 1894,—I said, if they would practice these three rules and make them a part of their lives, at the end of ten years they might write to me and say so, and I would give them three more. You may write me ten years hence and tell me how they work.

I am very much obliged to you for giving me one of the two pleasures. The other one I must postpone or the doctor will make a row because I am not in bed at nine o'clock. I hope you will all have a good supper.

THE MENU.

The supper was served by Mr. Porter, the new landlord of the Greenleaf, and gave good satisfaction. The menu follows:

Hot Bouillon
Cold Meats
Turkey Tongue
Ham Beef
Cranberry Sauce
Celery Pickles
Potato Croquettes
Ice Cream Cake
Chocolate

The following well known young ladies acted as waiters: Mrs. Minnie Miller, Mrs. Cora McKenzie' Mrs. Florence Teppernick, Miss Dula Miller, Miss Emma Spaulding, Miss Stewart and Mrs. F. J. Leonard.

During the reception and banquet some excellent music was rendered by the Colonial orchestra, which was frequently applauded.

THE SPEAKERS.

Toastmaster King opened the postprandial exerises by reading a list of those present at the first banquet, to see if the fellows had the same girls. It cause great merriment.

The speeches were admirable, being both entertaining and uplifting. Among those who responded to toasts were: George D. Forsyth, the president; Dr. E. N. Hardy, the pastor; Matthew S. Nicholl, for base ball; Will A. Hillard, Baraca class of Dorchester; Eben E. Craig, superintendent of Sunday School. Also Edwin P. Gaffiney, for the Page Class of Roxbury; Stanley F. Duncan, for the Athletic Association of Makaria Fraternity; William Shepp, Jr., for the Young Men's class of Dorchester; Ernest G. Gay for Y. M. C. A; Rev. William E. Gardner for the Galahad Brotherhood; William E. Tarbox, for the ladies; Samuel Melville for Pilgrim Fraternity of the Quincy Point church; and Theophilus King, to say good night.

WON'T SURRENDER

Ute Indians Prepared to Show Resistance to Troops

STRONGLY ENTRENCHED

Fears That Redskins Will Work Vengeance Upon Settlers In Event of a Clash--Cheyennes May Be Drawn Into Battle

Billings, Mont., Oct. 31.—A telephone message from Arvada, Wyo., says that the renegade Ute Indians are entrenched in a strong position in the hills adjacent to Arvada and that troopers of the Tenth and Sixth cavalry are reconnoitering the country preparatory to closing in on them.

Apparently the object of the troops is to awe the Indians with a display of superior force and thus secure a surrender without bloodshed. The Utes are determined not to give in to the soldiers until they are compelled to, believing that if they surrender it will mean their return to Utah, where they say they cannot secure enough to eat.

The Utes procured a supply of ammunition and food at Cheyenne and Gillette, and if the temper of the leading tribesmen can be taken as an indication, they propose to fight, or at least make a show of resistance. By this means they hope to secure concessions from the soldiers and be permitted to make their way to the Cheyenne reservation and remain there pending a disposition of their case at Washington.

Last night the campfires of the Indians were blazing brightly. The Utes are not painted, nor are they dancing.

Advices from Moorehead state that a panic is on there and that women and children are being sent away. It is feared that in the event of a clash between the soldiers and Indians, the latter will scatter and work vengeance upon the settlers. The ranches are being converted into fortresses.

Cheyennes May Aid Utes

Sheridan, Wyo., Oct. 31.—A hurried change in the disposition of troops of the Tenth cavalry, under Colonel Augur, disclosed that the real danger now lies in the anticipated junction of Cheyenne Indians with the Utes. A portion of Augur's command was hurried on to Sheridan, where supply wagons were started northward.

From C. C. Rousculp, a guide, it is learned that the troops under Augur, reinforced by two additional companies from Fort MacKenzie, will proceed today to Ashland, 80 miles north of Sheridan, to meet the troops coming overland from Fort Keogh. Troops from Fort Keogh should arrive at Ashland tonight, but Augur cannot arrive there before Thursday.

Rousculp was with General Crook in 1868 and knows the Cheyennes well. He says that there are between 700 and 800 warriors in the tribe and that they are the best armed Indians in the west.

Luther Dunning, who lives on Otter creek, has just arrived from the Indian camp, where he met and talked with Chief Kannapah, who says his people will fight rather than be taken back to Utah. When Dunning visited them the Indians were on the Bear creek, a small tributary of Hanging Woman creek, the latter flowing into Tongue river.

This is the latest reliable information concerning the location of the Utes, and at that time they were 70 miles from Sheridan and making westward to Tongue river. From this point they will follow Tongue river northward to the Cheyenne reservation unless stopped by the soldiers.

Smallpox In New Brunswick

Moncton, N. B., Oct. 31.—An alarming situation has been created by a smallpox outbreak in certain sections of Kent county. There are probably 100 cases in two or three parishes. In one house 13 persons have the disease, while it was not uncommon to find from two to five cases in other families. There appears to have been little precaution taken against the spread of the disease. Schools are closed on account of the outbreak.

Fish Scarce at Portland

Portland, Me., Oct. 31.—Fish is scarcer in this city this season than for many years. Outside of one or two good catches that only temporarily tided over the market, conditions the past two weeks have been very bad for the dealers. Large dealers were forced to send to Boston dealers for their supply and to pay fancy prices.

Shot at Crowd and Killed Boy

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—Angered at a number of young men who had been making a disturbance in front of his place of business, Anton Dazello, a barber, rushed from his shop last night wffith a shotgun and, firing into the crowd, shot and instantly killed Charles McEwen, aged 14 years.

Charges Fall Flat

New York, Oct. 31.—The grand jury closed its investigation of the somewhat indefinite charges of irregularities against certain members of the board of city magistrates which have recently been made public without returning either indictments or presentments.

Russian Steamer Lost

London, Oct. 31.—The Hamburg correspondent of The Tribune reports the foundering of the Russian steamer Jessica in the Gulf of Bothnia. The captain of the steamer and 30 men were drowned.

"WHITE SLAVE TRADE"

Temperance Women Asked to Fight For Its Suppression

Hartford, Oct. 31.—"There are 10,000 young women in Chicago who are obliged to work at $5 a week, and there are 5000 saloons there, too," said Mrs Lurinda B. Smith of Kansas, at the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, in presenting the difficulties with which the rescue workers of the organization have to contend. Mrs. Smith made a spirited appeal for the efforts of all the delegates from all parts of the country to put a stop to the white slave trade.

The speaker cited instances of young women held in captivity and sold at auction in New York and asked that if after 40 years after the Civil war had been fought for the liberation of the black slaves, why was it that slavery of young women should be tolerated in this country. She said that one of the most hopeful signs of the times was when the 17 nations recently banded together for the suppression of this awful vice.

Maine Stirred Over Shiloh

Portland, Me., Oct. 31.—All Maine is talking about Shiloh and the Holy Ghosters, because of the terrible story told by Mrs. Alice Phelps of Kansas City, who in vain tried to rescue her daughter from the elders, who it is alleged now have the girl concealed and imprisoned in the colony itself, or have spirited her away to some place where the society has friends. Absolutely nothing is known of the whereabouts of Miss Phelps except by the presiding elders of the Shiloh colony. Elder Jewell told Mrs. Phelps that her daughter had gone to Boston, and that is all the clue she has.

Vermonter Runs Amuck

North Adams, Mass., Oct. 31.—Alfred P. Hall of Readsboro, Vt., came to this city last night, armed with a 38-calibre revolver, and after threatening a waiter in a local hotel took charge of a trolley car, with the result that all the other passengers and the conductor fled. Hall then abandoned the car, boarded a slowly moving freight train, and drove the railroad employes from the caboose. The train was stopped and several officers who were summoned overpowered Hall and locked him up. The police say that Hall's actions were apparently due to the use of liquor.

Accidentally Shot Herself

Keene, N. H., Oct. 31.—Sheriff Lord, who investigated the shooting of Miss Lillian Paine in Westmoreland, reports that, in his opinion, in was a case of accidental shooting and that no facts were disclosed to give the slightest suspicion of foul play. Miss Paine left her home, taking a rifle with which to shoot squirrels, and later was found semi-conscious in the woods with a bullet wound in her head. The girl's condition is still very critical.

Unique Divorce Suit Ended

Boston, Oct. 31.—Judge White, in the divorce court, dismissed the libel of Frederick W Peabody, the Boston lawyer, who was suing his wife for a divorce on the grounds of desertion. Judge White intimated that Peabody could file a new libel, if he so desired. The dismissal of the libel ended one of the most unique divorce cases ever heard in this county. Peabody conducted his own defense.

Apple Crop of 1906

Boston, Oct. 31.—According to the New England Homestead's final report of the apple crop of the United States, the total is 36,120,000 barrels against 24,000,000 barrels in 1905, and rather more than 40,000,000 barrels in each of the three preceding years. The figures arrived at are the crystalization of returns from correspondents in every apple producing section east of the Rocky mountains.

Explosion In Woolen Mill

Webster, Mass., Oct. 31.—The explosion of the steam cylinder of a slasher machine in the dressing room of the woolen factory of S. Slater & Son caused the death of Urich La Roche, aged 26, serious injury to three others, while a score or more others received hurts of a minor nature. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

Another Try For the Cup

Boston, Oct. 31.—Sir Thomas Lipton arrived here last night for a three days' visit, during which he will be the guest of the city and of the local yachtsmen. In speaking of a possible challenge for the America's cup, Lipton said that he had decided to send another challenge, but could not say whether it would be next year or in 1908.

Suicide In Woods

Mansfield, Mass., Oct. 31.—The body of an unknown man, beside which was a bottle marked poison, was found in the woods here. In one of the pockets was a note which stated that the man's name was Charles Vinal and that he was born in Arkansas in 1860. The medical examiner gave the opinion that death was due to suicide.

More Big Coal Cargoes

Portland, Me., Oct. 31.—All coal records for the year were broken yesterday when four more large schooners came into port and joined the fleet of five big coal-laden vessels which arrived Monday. This fleet of nine schooners brought an aggregate of 33,820 tons.

Frolic Remains Confiscated

Providence, Oct. 31.—Herbert H. White, the owner of the schooner yacht Frolic, captured here a few weeks ago for participating in Chinese smuggling, has returned from Washington to New York. He unsuccessfully attempted to prevent the yacht from being confiscated.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

David Warfield's first experience in a theater was in the capacity of a programme boy at the Standard in San Francisco.

Mr. Mansfield will restore the Russian play, "Rodion, the Student," which he has not presented for a decade, to his repertory this season.

Mme. Rejane is said to be negotiating with James Forbes for the French acting rights of his comedy, "The Chorus Lady." Miss Rose Stahl is playing it in this country.

Charles Frohman says that the play he has so successfully produced in London at the Duke of York's theater with Cyril Maude, called "Toddles," which was adapted from the French by Clyde Fitch, will be produced in New York after the holidays.

James K. Hackett while in Paris completed details with Maurice Maeterlinck regarding "L'Oiseau Bleu," the rights of which Mr. Hackett controls for America, England and the provinces. It will see its first presentation in this country probably about Feb. 1.

Miss Marlowe and Mr. Sothern are announced to "play next spring one night engagements in Paris, Brussels, Rome, Vienna and Berlin, winding up with a performance of 'Hamlet' at Elsinore, the Danish town made famous by Shakespeare in that tragedy."

THE ROYAL BOX.

The emperor of Austria scarcely ever shakes hands, even with the most exalted visitors or privileged persons. His usual form of greeting is a courtly bow.

The national gift of Denmark to King Haakon and Queen Maud on their succession to the throne of Norway consisted of five pictures and a service of silver plate of 150 pieces.

Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria is a big bearded man of forty-five and was elected the ruler of stormy Bulgaria in 1887. His consuming ambition is to become king, but, despite his affability, his reign is not popular, and he lives in constant dread of assassination.

King Edward disburses a good deal of money in tips every year. Each visit to one of his subjects costs him from $1,000 to $3,000. At shooting parties the game beaters get $15 each and the gamekeepers $25 or $50 each. When he goes abroad he does still better. On the occasion of his recent visit to the kaiser he gave away nearly $10,000 in this way.

SCIENCE SIFTINGS.

It is computed that the distance traversed by the earth every year is 569,680,703 miles.

Aldebaran is an enormous sun, so bright that it emits 160 times as much light as our own sun and so distant that its light requires twenty-eight years to make the journey to us.

The London physician's discovery that scars may be prevented or removed by cutting the skin slantwise instead of vertically is pronounced one of the most important of recent advances in surgery.

Sir Andrew Noble has reached the highest point of temperature in terrestrial thermometry. He has accomplished this by exploding cordite in closed vessels with a resulting pressure of fifty tons to the square inch and a temperature of no less than 5,200 degrees C.

WOMAN'S PROGRESS.

In New Zealand women have exercised the full franchise since 1893.

In Crell's "Chemische Annalen" of the year 1784 reference is made to women students attending lectures on chemistry in Berlin.

A number of women, both in this country and Europe, are successful heads of large manufacturing establishments, although there are said to be more in proportion in France and Belgium than elsewhere.

The woman movement takes different forms in different countries. In Japan, although recent, it is in full swing, as may be surmised by the action of a number of girl students in Tokyo who recently flatly refused to marry unless permitted to get acquainted with their prospective husbands first.

GLEANINGS.

Japanese poetry has no rhyme.

A cable length is 120 fathoms, or 720 feet.

Russians pay only 9 cents a word for telegrams to Vladivostok, while the English have to pay 50 cents a word to India, 1,500 miles nearer the sender.

The most popular bathing place in England is the lake in Victoria park, London. Thousands of bathers may be counted there before 8 o'clock on a summer morning.

The Manufacturers and Liberal Arts building at the Chicago World's fair was the largest building ever erected. It covered thirty and a half acres, was 1,700 feet long, 800 feet wide and 240 feet high.

FLOWER AND TREE.

Before it produces bark of commercial value a cork tree must be fifty years old.

Air is essential to growing plants. Peas deprived of air under the receiver of an air pump die in three days.

Carnations should be slipped in the fall, kept growing through the winter and set in a rich soil in the spring. Keep the buds pinched back until they get well started.

Some plants are affected by chloroform, just as animals are. Sensitive plants, which shrink from the human touch in ordinary circumstances, lose their irritability in air charged with chloroform vapor.

Throat Coughs

Ask your doctor about these throat coughs. He will tell you how deceptive they are. A tickling in the throat often means serious trouble ahead. Better explain your case carefully to your doctor, and ask him about your taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Then do as he says. Get the best medicine, always.

WEATHER WONDERS

Great Achievements of the Government Experts.

FORECASTS MADE AWAY AHEAD

Farmers Will Soon Be Able to Pick a Propitious Harvest Week Far In Advance—American Weather Maps Now Being Prepared Which Will Record Conditions Through Siberia.

Beginning Nov. 1 the United States weather map will practically be extended over the entire northern hemisphere, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Globe.

Maps are now being prepared for use by the forecasters of the government which will include Irkutsk, Tomsk and Ekaterinburg, in Siberia. In addition, the "Icelandic Low," which means the area of low winter barometer of the north Atlantic, will soon begin making reports by cable. The opening of cable service to Iceland, recently announced, will make this possible.

Already the weather bureau receives reports from western Europe, including London, Paris, Hamburg and a half dozen points in Great Britain. Every morning a cable from the Azores covers conditions in the south Atlantic region, including Lisbon, and arrangements are now nearing completion for daily reports from the "Bering Sea Low" barometric area. In the summer storm season the West Indies region is well reported.

Broadly speaking, the northern hemisphere will after Nov. 1 report daily on its weather conditions to the weather bureau at Washington. There will still be large gaps, as, for instance, the Aleutian island chain from Alaska across to Siberia, which will have to be covered later by governments for wireless reports or for reports from steamships crossing the Pacific by the "great circle" route. Nome, Alaska, will for the time being be the extreme report from American territory to the far northwest. As soon as possible—which means when observers can be engaged—reports from interior Alaska will be secured.

And beyond this, in the not distant future, there will be an international weather reporting arrangement, just as there is now an international postal agreement, by which the world's weather conditions will be reported in co-operation, and forecasts will be made covering long periods of time.

"But how long?" was asked of Chief Forecaster Garriott at the weather bureau.

"We shall be able," he replied, "to at least notify the Kansas farmer of the outlook for weather long enough in advance to enable him to pick a propitious harvest week. It is not only important to tell what the weather will be, but to tell how long it will last; to forecast a rainy week and a fair week

"We will be able to advise people when they will be safe in cutting their hay and allowing it to cure on the ground or to advise the farmer whether a coming week will be safe for cutting hay. A state fair management will be able to learn at the beginning of its week of entertainment whether the weather is likely to be good or whether a postponement would be desirable."

Areas of low and high barometer chasing one another over the earth determine weather. In winter the continental areas, being colder than the ocean areas, constitute the areas of high barometer, while the great water areas constitute the lows. In summer these conditions are just reversed, because in summer the lands are warmer and the oceans colder.

It all relates back to the ancient principle that heat expands and cold contracts.

The air above a great land area under a July sun extends, rarefies, becomes light, and, therefore, its weight will sustain a less column in the barometer. So in summer, because it is hotter on land than on the seas, the "low" areas in general are above the land areas. In winter, because it is warmer over the oceans than the lands, the atmosphere over the oceans is lighter than over the lands. So conditions are reversed, and the "high" areas are the land or continental areas, and the "low" are the oceanic areas.

This is the basis of the whole business of weather forecasting.

The greatest land area on earth is the immense continental plain from St. Petersburg east to the Pacific—7,000 miles in extent. This area has more to do with making weather than any other like area on earth because land is subject to greater extremes of heat and cold than water. Hence, to forecast weather, it is desirable to know conditions prevailing over this greatest land area. It is this which the weather bureau has now arranged to do.

The arrangements recently closed with the Central Physical observatory at St. Petersburg will secure reports from the points named in this great area of land expanse. With them the whole realm of possibilities of weather forecasting will be vastly enlarged. Washington will for the first time be able to reckon intelligently with world conditions, and as the experts become familiar with these conditions in detail they will make accurate forecasts for a far longer time than ever before.

FIFTY-EIGHT DEAD

Number of Victims of Atlantic City Disaster Increases

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 31.—The contention of Coroner Gaskill that a number of persons who lost their lives in the electric train wreck on The Thoroughfare bridge may be buried in the mud where the cars plunged was borne out when the bodies of three women were recovered from under the third car. This car hung from the abutment in the centre of the bridge, with its nose in the mud, and when the workmen were trying to lift it from the water the bodies worked loose.

The finding of these bodies increases the official identified dead to 51 and the total number of bodies recovered to 54. There are still known to be four more among the dead, which makes the certain number of dead in the wreck 58, there still remaining three unclaimed bodies. The second of the cars was raised yesterday afternoon and it is expected that several other bodies will be recovered when the last car is entirely out of the water.

Concerning the Monroe Doctrine

Washington, Oct. 31.—The sentiments expressed by Professor Burgess, the first incumbent of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship of American history and instruction at the University of Berlin, in which he declared that the Monroe doctrine is almost obsolete in the United States, are not those held by the administration. At the White House it was said that Burgess' observations regarding the Monroe doctrine were simply an expression of his own personal views, which are diametrically opposite to those held by the administration and the American people.

Atlanta Police at Fault

Atlanta, Oct. 31.—In its presentments the Fulton county grand jury declares that had the city police "opposed a determined front to the mob at the incipiency of the riots of Sept. 22, all serious trouble could have been averted." The jury in the case against G. W. Blackstock, charged with assault with intent to murder a negro woman, returned a verdict of guilty yesterday. Sentence was deferred. Blackstock was declared to be the leader of the mob of Sept. 22, when several innocent negroes were killed.

Rabid Anarchists In Custody

New York, Oct. 31.—Emma Goldman and nine other persons were arrested at an anarchistic meeting here last night. Julius Edelson, who was speaking, was charged with inciting to riot and the others with disorderly conduct. According to the police, Edelson, in his speech, declared, among other things: "No matter how much Czolgosz has been damned for his good work, we know that he was a great man. He was a true hero. American laws are all made for bluffing."

For Betterment of Conditions

New York, Oct. 31.—The railroad men of the great trunk lines of the east have within the last few days joined hands with the workmen on the western lines for a readjustment of the wage scale and the hours of labor. Well informed railroad men are of the opinion that every important road on the eastern seaboard will be confronted with demands for increases in wages or a readjustment of the schedules of hours of labor before the week is out.

Laborer Killed In Tunnel Riot

New York, Oct. 31.—The police were called upon late last night to suppress a riot among the 40 laborers employed in lock No. 3 of the East river tunnel. Before they could reach the scene one man was fatally injured and more than a dozen others suffered slight hurts in a free fight. The fight started between two laborers over a personal matter and the others took sides. A man who fractured the skull of a fellow laborer was arrested.

Police Strictly Accountable

Paris, Oct. 31.—As a result of intimations coming from very high clerical quarters that Catholics purpose to carry off religious objects from the churches before the application of the separation law, the government has sent a circular to all the prefects of police in France, pointing out that they will be held personally responsible in the event of the disappearance of such objects.

Day Without Disturbances

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The first anniversary of the proclamation of the manifesto giving a constitution to Russia passed in undisturbed quiet. Disorder and bloodshed were averted. The workmen of St. Petersburg complied absolutely with the orders of the labor organizations and abstained from any celebration or demonstration.

Probing "Coffee" Shipments

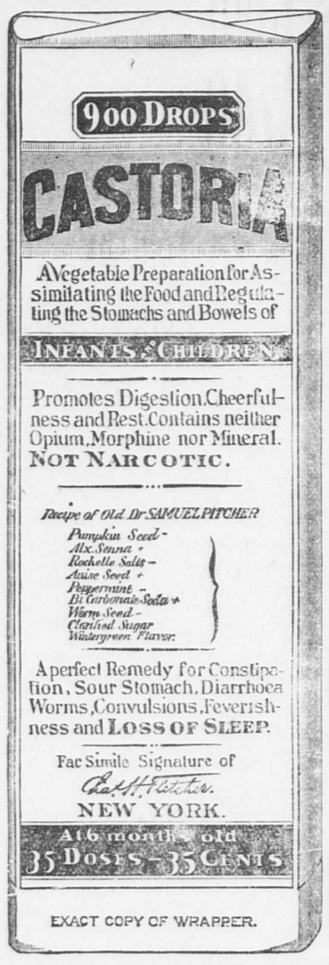

Washington, Oct. 31.—Inferior grades of coffee put in ships' manifests as peas and beans and shipped from this country to Porto Rico and then reshipped from there to other countries and, in some instances, back to the United States, as high grade Porto Rican coffee, is being investigated by the department of commerce and labor.

FOR CHRISTMAS.

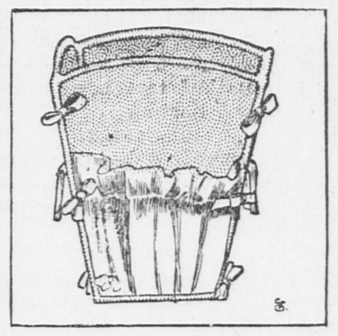

Useful and Dainty Little Gifts—How They Are Made.

Somewhere tucked away in the bureau of that prodigy whom the rest of us long to believe purely mythical—the girl who is always ready for every occasion—are the first of her Christmas gifts, carefully laid in tissue paper, with some delicate, sweet smelling powder as accompaniment. For the foolish virgin who is apt to put off her gift making until the last moment the following suggestions may be of value:

A Bureau Basket.

A bureau basket is one of the collapsible creton covered wastebaskets in miniature. It is not more than three inches high, and both sides and base are made and finished separately and joined by narrow ribbons. The basket is left empty for the various little things or is partly filled with tape measure, scissors, thimble and emery.

On one side (outside) is a pocket, gathered on an elastic; on another is a fat pincushion, and a third has a needlebook. The fourth is left plain so that the basket may be set flat against the back of the bureau.

Like a number of other things, they may be quite elaborately got up of silks ornamented with tiny flowers and fitted out with all the tiny belongings or they may be made of bits of creton, small patterns being best.

Kodak Film Case.

A unique and at the same time very useful souvenir which one may make to give to a kodak faddist is a film case. Use four pieces of cardboard, 6 by 8 inches, and cover them with brown linen. On the outside of one cover embroider the word "Films" in attractive script and with effective colored silk. Upon the reverse side outline a graceful spray of blossoms and work the monogram of the prospective recipient. To these ornate covers tie six envelopes with a harmonizing shade of ribbon, threading it through the flaps, also acting as a hinge to hold the covers. These envelopes should be lettered separately with water color paints upon the address side. "Contents," "Dates," "Incidents," "Scenes," "Persons," etc.

Workbag Apron.

For the woman who is expert at embroidery a workbag apron is just the thing. A square of muslin or china silk is trimmed all around with a narrow edging of lace, preferably valenciennes. In the center a large circle is outlined with beading, run with ribbon. When the worker is ready to put away her embroidery she drops the articles in this circle, and when the strings are drawn a dainty workbag is the result.

WORKBAG APRON.

Baggage Tag Case.

Have you ever been able to locate baggage tags when you most wanted them? Save your friend from a misfortune of this kind by making her a case in which to place the tricksy pests. In shape this case reminds one of a rather large, old fashioned watch pocket, except that it would be square were it not for a point at the top of the case. A slightly stiffened coarse tan canvas goes into its manufacture. One piece about eight inches long and four inches wide is pointed at the top. A pocket half the depth of this foundation piece is attached, and both pieces of canvas are bound with half inch satin ribbon. Tied into the pocket with baby ribbon are a half dozen baggage tags. On this pocket flap and on the top of the foundation are sprays of flowers done in water colors. The particularly pretty case is made of tan canvas, bound with lavender ribbon and adorned with violets. Loops of ribbon are sewed at the top as a hanger.

BAGGAGE TAG CASE.

A Bachelor's Pincushion.

Fill a brier or cherry wood pipe with cotton wool or bran and over this gum a little piece of velvet. Next take three yards of baby ribbon and wind it carefully round the pipestem, tying a small bow at each end. Stick some pins in the cushion part, and the result is a dainty trifle, very novel and easy to make for the bachelor's Christmas.

THE DRAPIER LETTERS.

Dean Swift's Battle For the Rights of Ireland.

The Drapier letters, six of which, signed "M. B. Drapier," appeared in a Dublin newspaper in 1724, mark an era in Irish history. They were the work of Dean Swift, the author of "Gulliver's Travels." The occasion calling them forth was the grant of a patent in 1723 to William Wood, an English man of Birmingham, to coin halfpence and farthings to the extent of £108,000 to be current in Ireland, where there was a deficiency of copper coinage. Public feeling in Ireland was in a state of irritation at its treatment by England, and Swift took advantage of this coinage business to advocate the rights of Ireland. Under the mask of a plain, honest, patriotic tradesman he counseled all true patriots not only to refuse to take the new coinage, but to refrain from using any English manufactures whatever. The result was tremendous. No one would take Wood's money, and associations were formed for refusing the currency. The publication of the first three letters had so roused the temper of Ireland that it was now easy for Swift to come to the real point of issue. In the fourth letter he accordingly treats of the royal prerogative. The government instantly took alarm and offered a reward of £300 for the discovery of the author of this fourth letter. Its printer was thrown into prison. But all was in vain. The government yielded to the storm. Wood's patent was surrendered, the patentee being indemnified by a grant of £3,000 yearly for twelve years. Thus, through the force and animation of Swift's arguments, victoriously terminated the first grand struggle for the independence of Ireland.—London Tit-Bits.

SANITARY CONCRETE.

Building Material of the Future and Its Advantages.

The advantages of concrete on the mechanical side are these: It is proof against fire, wind and water, rats, insects and dry rot and the danger of electricity. It needs no painting or repair. Fire or water overflow inside can do only local damage to the contents of a room and no more.

It becomes stronger and harder with age, which is, of course, an advantage, except when additions or alterations are made, involving hard work to cut the walls and floors. There are no leaky roofs, no damp or cold east or north rooms. There is great economy of heating. Being a firm mass throughout, like a house made of baked clay, there is no vibration, and in case one spot of the foundation should be undermined the well knit structure might not show so much as a crack. It is practically earthquake proof.

Concrete is healthful because it leaves no fissures for dust or for insects which spread disease. It is cool in summer and warm in winter, and with a minimum of exertion can be kept sweet and clean. On the artistic side, as the house beautiful, it lends itself to sculpture and painting, and as an object on the landscape it can be made a joy to the eyes.—Country Life In America.

Red and White Wine.

"A misapprehension about the strength of red and white wines exists," said a vine grower. "Because red wine has a darker, richer look people think it is more intoxicating. The opposite, really, is the case. Red wines are made by fermenting grape juice, skins and seeds together. White wines are made by fermenting juice alone. In the skins and seeds there is a lot of tannin, and red wine contains much tannin, while white wine contains none. This tannin, an astringent, closes the pores of the stomach and prevents the alcohol in the red wine from entering the blood freely and going, as the saying is, to the head. White wine, champagne for instance, has no tannin, and hence its intoxicating properties are much more keenly to be feared than those of the tannin filled red wine."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Industrious Chinese Children.

The Chinese are a wonderfully industrious people, and their children learn very early to make themselves useful. In the streets of a Chinese town it is no uncommon sight to see two children who are so young that they can hardly talk trotting along with a bamboo pole on their shoulders, by which they are carrying home a pail of water. If one child is stronger than the other the pail is hung near his shoulder, for thus he takes the "heavy end of the pole."

A Collector of Snuffboxes.

The only expensive personal fancy of Frederick the Great, it is said, was his hobby for collecting snuffboxes, of which he left as many as 130, approximately valued at $1,300,000. Lord Malmesbury says that one could hardly approach the king without sneezing. Two thousand pounds weight of Spanish snuff had always to be kept in store, but smoking, on the other hand, was an abomination to Frederick.

CIVIL WAR

Experiences Told by Sergt. Carney At Wollaston

The Men's Club of the Congregational church of Wollaston held its annual meeting and a supper Tuesday evening and elected as officers O. W. Hull as President, E. W. Taylor, as vice president, Mr. Hathaway as secretary, H. R. Osgood as tresurer, and C. L. Seavey as chairman of the benevolence committee.

Sergeant Carney, of the 54th Massachusetts, the first Negro regiment of the war, came before the cluo and gave a very graphic description of his war experiences. Sergeant Carney will be remembered as the man who seized the falling colors of the 54th Mass., carrying them forward in the charge on Fort Wagner, and returning them hours afterward although badly wounded to the remnants of his regiment. Upon being praised for his devotion he originated the expression now everywhere quoted; "I but did my duty; the old flag never touched the ground."

It was in this chasge that Colonel Robert Gould Shaw was killed, and his gallantry has marked by the magnificlent Shaw monument now standing on Boston Common just opposite the State House.

Sergeant Carney's tribute to his colonel, and touching stories of Colonel Shaw's leadership will be remembered by those who had the opportunity to hear him.

Chicken Pox Not Small Pox

A case of what was supposed to be smallpox was reported to the Board of Health late last evening by Dr. Middleton.

The Board of Health acted promptly and placed an officer on guard at the suspected house.

This morning, Dr. Shea, the expert of the State Board of Health was called in.

Dr. Shea said the case was not small pox but a severe case of chicken pox, but that it was not at all surprising that it had been taken for the dreaded disease.

ATLANTIC CITY HORROR.

Brave Deeds That Marked Wrecking of Pennsylvania Electric Train.

The recent disaster on the drawbridge at Atlantic City caused by the wrecking of a three car train on the Pennsylvania railroad's new electric system was not without its stories of heroism, says an Atlantic City correspondent of the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Brakeman Wood of the train crew showed remarkable presence of mind and proved himself a hero. When the train left the rails and was bumping over the ties Wood ran to the rear door of the last car, threw it wide open and held it for the passengers to escape. He held the door open until the car slid off the bridge, and he went into the water with it. He then swam to the shore. His action in holding the door open probably saved many lives.

Harry C. Deemer of Philadelphia says that it is wonderful that even the few who did escape from the last car were able to do so. Many of them owe their lives to Deemer. He and his wife are in the Atlantic City hospital. The husband is suffering from bruises and cuts from jagged glass received in effecting his own escape and in breaking a way out for others. Wrapped in bandages, Deemer told the story of how he and his wife were saved. He said:

"We were riding in the last car, and every window was closed. Suddenly we felt the jar when the train jumped the track. I looked from the window and saw the first car as it splashed into the water. The second car followed, and then the front of our car plunged from the bridge and came to an abrupt stop. Most of the passengers were thrown into a heap in the lower end of the car, which was submerged. It immediately filled with water.

"I bobbed to the surface and all at once thought of the windows. I struck at one of the panes of glass with my fist, but the first blow I gave it failed to break it, and then I used my elbow and jabbed a hole in the pane. The hole was not very big, but I managed to squeeze through. When I had got a good breath of air I turned to look for my wife. I then crawled along the car, breaking in the windows with my fist, which was bleeding profusely by this time.

"While doing this I heard my wife's voice crying out to me: 'Save me, Harry! Save me, dear!' I hurried along until I found her. Then I reached through one of the broken windows and grabbed her arm. She cried out with pain: 'Don't, Harry! It's broken!' but I held on to it, and with the aid of another man, who had come to my rescue, we managed to pull my wife through the car window to freedom."

One of the rescuers at work on top of a submerged car discovered a woman's jeweled hand sticking through the roof ventilator. He worked heroically to get her body and finally succeeded in drawing it through the aperture.

NEW USE FOR CIGARS.

How a Minneapolis Man Saved His Diamond Pin With One.

Boxing, jiu jitsu, savat and wrestling as methods of defending person and property have been put down and out by a new system devised by Captain Hudson, who lives at University avenue and Twenty-seventh avenue southeast in Minneapolis. All that is needed is a cigar, mild, strong or medium, as suits the taste of the user, and a little presence of mind, says the Minneapolis Journal.

While riding on the platform of an interurban car Captain Hudson found himself jammed in so closely that he could not raise his hands. At the same time he noted that one of his neighbors, who was more at liberty, was reaching toward the "stone" which adorned his tie. Some men would have called for assistance in such a situation, but not the captain.

Just as the thief's fingers touched the pin Captain Hudson ducked his head and brought the hot coal at the end of his cigar in contact with the back of the pilfering hand. The result was instantaneous. No further attempts were made on the captain's jewelry. The would be annexationist was too busy nursing a badly burned hand.

Hereafter the captain, who is now past the three score and ten mark, will turn a deaf ear to any one approaching him with a lecture on the evils of smoking.

Tiny Monkey Newest Auto Pet.

Now that a jungle king has taken an airing in a motor car through the streets of Johnstown, Pa., it no longer seems strange that women insist upon taking animals automobiling, says the New York Press. Word comes from Paris that the toy terrier, who has been madam's companion on her afternoon drive, will find his place usurped by the lemur. A Parisian dealer in animals says: "We have sold many lemurs recently, but the ringtail monkey is the one women like best, because it quickly becomes accustomed to its surroundings and is playful and harmless. The Diana monkey also is being sold as a pet, as are small marmosets." Owners of these pets are having pictures taken with the animals in motor cars as proof they really are carried about. Often the lemur looks more at ease than do his owner and the driver.

Love In a Nutshell.

Announcing a betrothal in walnut shells, tied with white ribbons, was the novel feature of a Larchmont dinner party the other night, says the Boston Herald. Love in a nutshell is a sort of tabloid to be expected from a society devoted to sports, accomplished whips and golf players.
